May the future hold in store for all of our membership, past, present, and future, the same degree of courage and persistence portrayed in these pages, courage and persistence which has made a strong national fraternity and produced as one of its concomitants a group of leaders who are dedicated to the spirit of the brotherhood of educators and the equality of man without discrimination for race, creed, or color.

Within these covers there is evidence of struggle, of a constant striving at times against what seemed to be insurmountable odds. These very hardships encountered and overcome in the furthering of an ideal have been responsible for the emergence of many leaders, who can, in part at least, credit their fraternal associations and resulting inspiration for a small measure of their later successes.

It is to be hoped that our next fifty years will be as fruitful, and that we will ever go forward carrying the message of Kappa Delta Phi for the sole purpose of giving our fellow man an opportunity to be a better man.

The Golden Year
Since the beginning of time men have found it helpful and enjoyable to gather together for many reasons. Lodges and clubs have been found in all walks of life from the knights of old to the military and political men of today. Fellowship has indeed been one of the basic needs of the individual. Therefore, it is only natural for groups of college men to meet together in Greek letter societies all over our great country and the world.

The first Greek letter society was formed at the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg, Virginia, in 1776 as Phi Beta Kappa. This fraternity began as a social society but is today known as a scholarship honor society.

The Kappa Alpha Society was established at Union College, Schenectady, New York, in 1825 and is recognized as the oldest social fraternity in existence today. At the same institution Sigma Phi and Delta Phi were established in 1827, and these are called the “Union Triad”. These were secret societies. Many refer to Union College today as the “Mother of Fraternities”.

Beta Theta Pi (1839), Phi Delta Theta (1848), and Sigma Chi (1855) formed the “Miami Triad” at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio.

Fraternity life was definitely shut off during the War Between the States. However, the first professional fraternity, Theta Xi, (then engineering, now social) was founded at Renselaer Polytechnic Institute during this period.

Phi Sigma Kappa came into being at Massachusetts Agricultural College in 1873.

Since the turn of the century the increase in fraternities has been rapid. Today the total membership of college fraternities exceeds the million mark.

The fraternity has grown from many loose-knit groups to organized bodies under a national governing body. This has enabled the fraternity to last through the years and do so much more for its members.

Fraternity men have been and still are the leaders in colleges and universities. When these leaders leave the campus, they still have the fraternity's interest at heart and are willing to do anything they can to help the undergraduates make progress through good alumni relations.

Why has the fraternity lasted for more than a century?

On any campus you will find groups of students who want to congregate and share common experiences. The college fraternity provides this opportunity.

The college fraternity supplements book learning by setting up a proving ground in which the members may practice what they learn in the lecture hall and help themselves to become a well-rounded individual.

What the fraternity symbolizes indeed appeals to the imagination of youth. These lofty ideals incorporated into the rituals tend to bring real brotherhood so much nearer to the members of a fraternity.

During the college years we have a period of life holding great potentialities for molding a student's future happiness. Some of these relationships last a life-time bringing success socially as well as materially to the brothers of a college fraternity.

Our own Kappa Delta Phi is a professional, educational fraternity in which you will find those unusual benefits which accrue to a membership comprised exclusively of men who have chosen the same profession for their life work. In addition our society will provide all of the advantages of fraternal affiliation.

Our chapters have unusual faculty support because the fraternity offers association with members in their chosen profession from the time the pledge is accepted until death. Through this faculty support the individual finds material aids which will displace that barrier which frequently exists between faculty member and student. This barrier may be the cause of the student failing to develop the proper interest in his professional preparation.

Kappa Delta Phi encourages its members to achieve scholastic excellence that they may be qualified as capable and respected representatives of their profession, Education.

Our fraternity emphasizes the value and necessity of conducting professional and educational programs in addition to their regular undergraduate scholastic work. The types of these projects will vary as chapters vary, but their aims will remain the same, namely to educate and broaden their members and to promote professional attitudes and the seeking of truths within the field of education.

The sponsorship of social events is also an important phase of our professional fraternity's activities as through these functions there is to be found the development of social poise, grace, and confidence which are essential to the progress and success of the real educator.

The opportunity for its members to acquire greater knowledge and mutual understanding is offered by Kappa Delta Phi. It provides experience in professional training and leadership along with a positive type of personality. Experience is provided in working with and getting along with others. Finally the members of this fraternity possess the support and interest of alumni located throughout the country which results in a real benefit to the individual. Knowledge gained under the conditions of concentrated experience in human relations and associations through an educational fraternity is invaluable to the individual preparing to enter the professional world.

Kappa Delta Phi is idealistic as well as practical in its functions. Often it subscribes to a code of ethics higher than those of the profession itself. This is to be found in the stress laid upon our members through our rituals, our programs, and our activities for the adherence to high standards of conduct and practice.

Know thyself! These two words state clearly another aim of our fraternity. Your brothers will evaluate you as you will evaluate them. Your ideas will not always be looked upon favorably. You will have to accept the will of the majority and respect the opinions of the minority. In working side by side with others in the fraternity, you will have a greater knowledge and understanding of your personal assets and liabilities.

Your fraternity's training should guide you well in carrying out the lasting aim of Kappa Delta Phi — perpetuation. You will be called upon to choose the men who are to follow in your fraternity ways. Remember — selection but not discrimination. Every cog in the wheel is important and must be in the best of condition if the whole wheel is to function perfectly. You are a cog in Kappa Delta Phi. Are you in good condition? Is your fraternity functioning perfectly because of you or in spite of you?

Joining Kappa Delta Phi costs more than money. It costs your time and your effort and your loyalty and your cooperation. It has been worth it to thousands of men.

CHAPTER TWO Insignia and Jewelry of the
Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity

PLEDGE PIN

The Kappa Delta Phi pledge pin is lozenge in shape thus giving a family resemblance to our fraternity’s system of insignia.

The top portion of the lozenge divided with a horizontal golden line is of gold and this signifies the GOLDEN OPPORTUNITIES which abound at all times for doing good works.

The base of the lozenge is in black enamel signifying that the SECRETS of the fraternity are not as yet revealed to the neophyte or pledge.

The four corners of the pledge pin are to remind the pledge of his four-fold obligation, namely:

1. To conduct himself as a gentleman at all times and thus reflect honor and credit not only on himself but on his new associates in Kappa Delta Phi.

2. Another corner reminds him that he has promised obedience to all orders from his superiors while a pledge.

3. A third corner stands for bravery and courage which he should display at all times in carrying out his instructions as a pledge in Kappa Delta Phi.

4. The base point stands for perseverance, that quality of tenacity and endurance so necessary to see one’s way over all obstacles.

Together the four points stand for the four-fold obligations of pledgeship.

BADGE

The badge like the pledge pin is lozenged in shape consisting of a diamond shaped panel of black enamel on which appear the three Greek letters of Kappa Delta Phi in vertical arrangement and in gold showing through the enameled surface.

This center panel is bordered with twenty pearls. The pearls in the four points of the lozenge have particular significance. The pearl at the top reminds all members of Kappa Delta Phi of the LOYALTY which is pledged in the bond of his fraternity. The pearl to the left stands for GENEROSITY and the spirit of CHEERFUL GIVING of ASSISTANCE to a Brother in Kappa Delta Phi. The pearl in the base stands for INTEGRITY and that staunchness of character that is essentially honest, sincere, and true. The pearl in the right hand point symbolizes the true FRATERNITY SPIRIT, whereby all members in Kappa Delta Phi unite for common ideals and purposes.

All together the pearls that ornament the beautiful badge of Kappa Delta Phi form a glorified ring or band and they stand for UNITED EFFORT for the glorious achievements of the ideals and purposes of the fraternity.

KEY

Our key is an old fashioned scroll pierced by a quill which forms the key ends. Kappa Delta Phi's crest appears on the scroll. The purchase of this key must be approved through the office of the national secretary.
In regard to the founding of Kappa Delta Phi I wish to quote from "The Normal Offering", the publication by the students of the Bridgewater State Normal School, Bridgewater, Massachusetts, of the year, 1900:

"During the school year just closing, a number of young men in the school, about ten in number, have been in the habit of meeting together for the purposes of social intercourse and entertainment. As associations formed in school are often of the most pleasant and lasting in a person's experience, anything that may further such associations seems both beneficial and proper. In such a spirit this company thus organized itself into a society or fraternity with the above mentioned purposes as its fundamental law. Such a fraternity, the members believe, should be absolutely free from restraint or antagonism; in fact a band of brothers, always ready to stand by each other in time of trouble. To secure such a condition, the members must have mutual regard, thorough acquaintance with each other's individualities, and a bond of friendship forged by constant association. These conditions being seemingly supplied only by those classes who have been in this institution at least a year, membership to this fraternity has been limited to the male members of such classes, in the best judgment of those drawing up this organization. Furthermore, since harmony is best accomplished, and friendship the more firmly formed when numbers are small enough for easy management, the number of members from those eligible has been limited. We regret, of course, that the ladies of the school will not be allowed to enter the portals of this mystic brotherhood, but when the relative number of ladies and gentlemen in this school is considered, I think forgiveness will be forthcoming. The mere protection against bright eyes, rosy cheeks, dimpled chins, etc., really demands a union of forces for humanity's sake (this not to be taken too seriously). In conclusion, we may state that this society is ordained to be perpetual, the vacancies to be filled by others eligible, but the total membership to always be the same. Those now composing the organization are considered charter. members, as it were. The permanent name of the organization has not as yet been definitely determined upon.”

The first constitution of Kappa Delta Phi was submitted by Alfred K. Lowe, chairman, Joseph A. Cushman, and Henry M. Vaughn, and was accepted on June 23, 1900.

November 10, 1900, marked the first banquet of Kappa Delta Phi for newly initiated brothers and was held in the dining hall of the Normal School.

Nahum Leonard presented a financial proposal on March 19, 1901, which was accepted. The “Permanent Fund” of the fraternity thus had its beginning and included the alumni dues and the initiation fee of fifty cents.

Our official badge design was presented on April 13, 1901, by Brother Leonard as prepared with the cooperation of Henry Guild and Son, Jewelers.

Amid general enthusiasm Nahum Leonard was chosen “Father of the Fraternity” on June 21, 1902. Following this in September, 1902, Brother Leonard proposed the Boston Convention which has grown in importance as the years have passed.

The fraternity grip was adopted in January, 1904, namely, press the thumb between the knuckles of the first and second fingers. Then the one who challenges twists the hand slightly to the right. Then the challenged man returns the twist.

In June, 1904, Nahum Leonard was elected with four other brothers to serve on a committee to consider the question of a national organization.

The following amendments to the constitution were accepted in June, 1905:

I. Membership.

B. These graduates shall be admitted in exactly the same way as new members.
C. Dues shall be exactly the same as the Alumni Body.
D. Duties shall be exactly the same as the Alumni Body.

II. Business of the fraternity shall be conducted at Bridgewater under the Undergraduate Body.

III. Convention and banquet shall be held in Boston annually on or before the last Saturday in April.

The fraternity treasurer was empowered to furnish the fraternity with robes in March, 1906.

Mr. Arthur C. Boyden, principal of the Normal School, gave an interesting talk on "Fraternity Ideals" at the first Boston Convention and Banquet held at Young's Hotel on April 28, 1906 with forty-two present.

On September 14, 1906, it was with much gratification that the returning members met in the first fraternity room set aside for this purpose through the courtesy of Principal Arthur C. Boyden. "Decorations simple in nature and appropriate to such a room were placed in position; pictures were suspended near the door; incandescent lights hung from the ceiling. Thus under the most favorable circumstances another year in the history of Kappa Delta Phi was opened."

The fraternity grip was changed in October, 1906, as follows: "(1) grasp as in hand shaking, (2) challenger presses fleshy part of challenged hand twice with fingers, (3) the one accepting turns hand of challenger to left or right, (4) challenger repeats turn in opposite direction."

The Second Annual Boston Convention and Banquet was held on March 2, 1907, at Young's Hotel. Plans were discussed for a closer union of Alumni and Undergraduate Bodies of Kappa Delta Phi. Thirty-five members were present.

April 13, 1907, marked the first observance of the founding of our fraternity. President Boyden emphasized the regular observance of the first meeting. "Whist with the additional stimulus of salted peanuts and Normalibus Fizzoribus furnished the greater part of the evening's amusement. After a repast of ice cream and cake, the evening closed with the fraternity and school yells. Each left with a keen sense of gratitude to the men, who on April 14, 1900, made the occasion possible.

Our fraternity song which was written by Brother Allen Boyden and sung to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne" was featured at the Third Annual Boston Convention at Young's Hotel with President Gammon presiding on April 11, 1908.

With the success of a play presented on December 4, 1908, it was decided to present an annual production.

The fraternity passed a motion in February, 1909, that candidates compose a thesis of between five hundred and a thousand words on "Fraternalism". During the same month the Fourth Annual Boston Convention was held at the Boston City Club with President Frahar presiding. Principal Arthur C. Boyden of the Normal School gave an address on "Development of the Idea of Fraternalism".

In May, 1909, the Fraternity Colors Committee presented a report which was accepted that the colors be gold letters on a black background.

President Charles Fox presided over the Fifth Annual Convention and Banquet held at the Boston City Club on April 16, 1910.

"The Elopement of Ellen" was chosen as the annual production for the year 1910, and was capably presented by the brothers of Kappa Delta Phi. To show appreciation of Miss Brown's assistance with the play, the fraternity presented her with a Kappa Delta Phi pillow. With a balance left over from the play receipts an account was opened with the Bridgewater Savings Bank.

The Sixth Annual Boston Convention was opened by President Lane at the City Club. The advisory board was instructed to consider the matter of a graduate secretary and to meet three times each year, with one meeting to be held at Bridgewater. The Boston Convention Date was fixed as the first Saturday in February.

At the Annual Alumni June Banquet in 1911, it was voted that a Scholarship Fund be established. A committee was appointed to carry out the details. A motion was passed at this meeting that others, not members of the fraternity, might be invited to speak at the Annual Boston Convention.

On September 14, 1911, the brothers of the Fraternity listened to Brother Charles Fox's plans for a Fraternity house.

Brother Curran, chairman of the Scholarship Committee, reported that conditions were unfavorable at that time for the Scholarship Fund and recommended a postponement of the action. This was part of the business meeting at the Seventh Annual Boston Convention in February, 1912, with President Lane presiding.

A discussion of a fraternity house was the leading subject of importance of the Annual June Alumni meeting in 1912. It was voted to give the responsibility of securing a house and the furnishing and maintenance of such to a committee of three comprised of Brothers Fox, F. O’Brien, and Conlon. It was also voted to start a paper among the members to secure pledges for money to enable the committee to act immediately. The Kappa Delta Phi Scholarship Cup was won by Lester M. Lane for the year 1911-1912.

The Eighth Annual Boston Convention was held at the Newsboys’ Club in 1913 during the term of President O’Brien. At this convention it was voted to discontinue the public initiation of the First Degree, that the Second Degree was not to be a test of physical endurance, and that the Third Degree was to be instructive in nature. The Chair appointed Brothers Cushing, Lincoln, and Prario for a committee to consider the matter of establishing a chapter at Salem Normal and at Fitchburg Normal.

Much business was discussed and acted upon at the Annual June Alumni Banquet and meeting in 1913. Brother Cushing reported for the committee for inaugurating new chapters. He had interviewed both faculty and male students at the two schools and both had expressed favorable opinions on the movement. It was recommended that chapters be established at each of the schools and that each chapter have a separate advisory board with a general board made up of representatives from the three chapters. The Annual Boston Convention would be general, but each chapter would hold separate June Alumni Banquets. A committee of five should be elected to visit a member of the faculty and the Principal. Through them the committee would select six or eight men to constitute charter members of each new chapter. An initiation committee of five, selected from both the Alumni and Undergraduates of Alpha Chapter, was appointed to institute the new chapters. A report was heard from the committee which interviewed Mr. Arthur C. Boyden to determine his attitude toward the men at Bridgewater. As a result of this interview it was recommended that the Alumni must have a hand in the selection of candidates for the undergraduate body, especially in regards to scholastic standing. This was to be done through the advisory board. Revisions were recommended for the First and Second Degrees in the initiation to make them more worthy of Kappa Delta Phi. It was further recommended that the undergraduate body formally administer advice and may reprimand erring members. The Alumni should be advised by the President in the instance of erring Seniors.

At the November meeting in 1913, the Brothers of Alpha Chapter with new robes and hats presented a very dignified procession for the Third Degree ceremonies. Mr. Arthur C. Boyden witnessed this degree and gave an interesting and informal talk at the dinner held in the Bridgewater Inn after the induction.

Miss Moffitt was presented with a Fraternity pillow and a book as an expression of appreciation from the chapter for her assistance with the annual play in November, 1913.

Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity, which since the spring of 1899 had been a secret society connected with the Normal School in Bridgewater, Massachusetts, became a general Fraternity by the establishing of Beta Chapter at the Normal School in Salem, Massachusetts, January 17, 1914. The organization of this new Chapter was most auspiciously carried out by members of the original or Alpha Chapter under the direction of Brother Sumner Cushing, with whom the idea of the enlarged fraternity had originated. While a member of the Salem faculty, he saw the promising field for the extension of our local organization and executed the plan in his capacity as Chairman of the Advisory Board.

With this enlarging of the Fraternity, some reorganization became necessary. The Constitution of the original Chapter was made the Constitution of the enlarged body, in so far as it was possible to do so. Such changes as seemed necessary for starting the new organization were made at once and others will be made as necessity demands.

The business of the enlarged Fraternity was placed in the hands of an Executive Committee consisting of the following members: (1) the Chairman of the Advisory Board of Alpha Chapter, (2) the Chairman of the Advisory Board of Beta Chapter, and (3) the General Secretary of the Fraternity.

The Ninth Annual Convention and Banquet, the first to be held by the enlarged body, convened at the Boston City Club on February 7, 1914, with thirty-six members present. The major part of the evening was spent discussing the changes made necessary by the union with Beta Chapter. Nahum Leonard, Father of the

Fraternity, gave one of his interesting talks on the history and ideals of our Fraternity.

At the Executive Committee meeting held in December, 1914 at the Newsboys' Club in Boston, a communication was read from Mr. Thompson, Principal of the Normal School in Fitchburg, Massachusetts, to the effect that the men there did not care to join Kappa Delta Phi.

Called to order by President Lane, the Tenth Annual Boston Convention opened on the evening of February 6, 1915, at the Newsboys' Club. The first annual report of the general fraternity secretary was read and accepted. The banquet followed the business meeting with forty-seven brothers in attendance.

Brother Stanley Thompson of Beta Chapter presented for consideration a form for a certificate of admission into the Fraternity at the Executive Committee meeting on December 18, 1915. Today this certificate is known by the brothers as our shingle. The necessary financing of this certificate was voted at the Eleventh Annual Boston Convention in February, 1916.

Hotel Thorndike was a new location for the Twelfth Annual Boston Convention on February 3, 1917. A subscription list was started to raise a fund for a memorial to our Brother Robert E. Pellissier who was killed in action. Secretary J. Harding Armstrong was instructed to draw up a set of resolutions to be sent to Brother Pellissier's sisters and to be inscribed on the Fraternity records. The resolutions follow:—

ROBERT EDWARD PELLISSIER

Killed in action at the Somme, by Clery, August 29, 1916

Appreciating since his death as never before the true worth of our fellow-member, Robert E. Pellissier, we, his fraternity, wish to place on record the following expression of our esteem for him.

For a period of about fifteen years, Robert E. Pellissier was a loyal member of Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity. To those of us who were his fortunate associates in school and college, his earnest purpose, his strong determination, and his cheery manner were a constant source of admiration and made him a much-sought-for companion. After graduation the fight which he made against disease showed more clearly the strength of character which we knew he possessed. His mental power, too, became more evident as he continued his study and finally won his high degree.
Throughout these years of life he was constantly exemplifying the three-fold purpose of our Fraternity. But, best of all, by giving his life for his native land he has shown every fraternity Brother that to him "Kinship" and "Duty" had a vital meaning. By his departure we have suffered a great loss both personally and as an organization, but his death has been indeed a glorious one and a source of inspiration to us all. His career has been that of the ideal Kappa Delta Phi man, and he will long be a guiding star for the fraternity Brothers he has left behind.

We wish to extend our deepest sympathy to the members of his family who have been bereaved by his untimely death, which brought to a sudden close a life unusually full of promise.

Of him it may be said in the words of the poet:

"Peace be with thee, O, our Brother,
In the spirit land!
Vainly look we for another
In thy place to stand.
Unto Truth and Freedom giving
All thy early powers,
Be thy virtues with the living
And thy spirit ours."

The Thirteenth Annual Boston Convention was covered adequately in the following letter which was composed by Brother Waldron and sent to all brothers in the service by the fraternity secretary:

February 15, 1918

"Dear Brother,

We had such a fine time at our annual banquet and reunion last Saturday night that the fellows thought you brothers in the service would like to know about the doings. First of all we want you to know that you were not forgotten, for at the very beginning of the meeting the names were read of all the boys who have joined either the army or navy. There are thirty of you in all including Bob Pellissier (killed in action, Battle of the Somme, August, 1916) and those of us who are left at home are mighty proud of what Kappa Delta Phi Brothers are doing for our country in this crisis. Then too, we voted not to dun you for dues during war time, so you will be able to buy a block of thrift stamps, or a Liberty Bond or two!"
Our plan of eating in the cafe at the Quincy House worked out very satisfactorily, and the feed was excellent; almost equal to what the government gives you, I suppose. There were forty-six of us grouped about the long table — twenty-nine Alpha men and seventeen Beta. With the exception of the last year when forty-nine were present, this is the largest number we ever had at a meeting.

After dinner we retired to a private room upstairs where, first of all, we held the usual business meeting, President C. Arthur Wheeler presiding. The following Executive Committee was elected for the ensuing year: Brother E. L. Curran of Alpha Chapter, President; Brother C. D. Bresee of Beta Chapter; Brother J. H. Armstrong of Alpha Chapter, Secretary. If any of you brothers can suggest some way in which the fraternity can be of help to those of you in the service, I wish you would let the secretary know at once so that the above committee may get busy. We wish to do something, but we want it to be the right thing, and we hope you will be able to suggest what that is.

The speaking program was of unusual interest. Brother Carroll read selections from the published letters of our brother, Sergeant Pellissier, which were written while in service with the French Army. They were not only interesting, but inspiring as well, for in addition to giving a clear account of his experiences in the army during the first months of the war, they showed very clearly the high ideals of our brother, the first Kappa Delta Phi man to give his life in this great struggle.

Brother Cushing then gave an interesting account of the work done by the committee in charge of the Pellissier Memorial, the plan which was launched at the banquet a year ago. Nearly a thousand dollars ($1,000) has been subscribed for this purpose, about seven hundred dollars ($700) of which has been paid to the American Ambulance Service for the purchase of an ambulance. This organization furnished the amount necessary to complete the equipment of the machine, and about the first of November the Robert E. Pellissier Ambulance went into active service at the front. We hope that none of you brothers “over there” will need to ride in it, but if you should see it send back word. It is a Ford machine and has a name plate on the side.

This report was followed by an interesting talk by Lieut. Richards, of the 301st Infantry at Camp Devens. He told of some of his experiences at Plattsburg and his work with the draft army.
You would have enjoyed the story with which he closed his remarks. By the way, he said he would be glad to welcome at his quarters any of the brothers who are in service at Ayer. Brother Sheehan, who is a private in the 55th Reg. Coast Artillery, then entertained us with some incidents in his army life, and after that Brother Sargent of the Radio School at Cambridge and Yeoman Fox, now stationed at the Navy Yard, upheld the honor of the Navy like seasoned tars. We wish that the rest of you could have been on hand to prolong our enjoyment, but we are already looking forward to the time when it will be your turn to tell us how you did your “bit”. May that time be the first Saturday night in February, 1919.

I almost forgot to speak of the fine reports given by Brothers Ray and Cronin of the activities of the undergraduates during the past year. You Beta men know what good work your undergraduate brothers have been doing, and I am sure you have appreciated it.

In closing this ramble I hardly know how to convey to you brothers the regard which we Kappa Delta Phi men at home have for you. Now, if ever, our fraternity should prove its value and if there is anything that we as an organization can do to help you, let us try to give you a lift. Rest assured that those of us whose duty it seems is to keep the home fires burning in this great struggle are ready to do our utmost to aid you or the folks left behind.

The secretary would like very much to get an occasional message from you so that the individual records may be accurately kept.

The fraternity sends you its heartiest greetings and best wishes for success in your new endeavors.

Fraternally yours,

Another year quickly passed and in 1919, the Fourteenth Annual Convention at the Quincy House in Boston was upon us. During the meeting, presided over by Edward Curran, a Fraternity Secretary was elected for a five year term of office. Brother Charles Fox was unanimously chosen for the position. It was also voted that the executive committee consider the appointment of a Legislative Committee to represent the fraternity in the consideration of the educational bills pending in the State Legislature. Brother M. E. Fitzgerald emphasized the value of the organization (Kappa Delta Phi) using its united influence in shaping the educational legislation which is sure to be considered during the next few years.

In this same year the executive committee required that undergraduates send a report of progress to the Fraternity Secretary at least three times each year.

President James S. Collins opened the Fifteenth Annual Convention at the Boston City Club in observance of the Twentieth Anniversary of the founding of the Fraternity. Superintendent Thompson of the Boston Public Schools and Agent Davis of the State Board of Education were guests at this affair.

Professor Henry M. Holmes of the Harvard Graduate School of Education and Representative Shattuck of the State Legislature were speakers during the Sixteenth Annual Boston Conclave at the City Club in 1921, with President M. D. Carroll presiding. The establishment of a chapter at the Keene, New Hampshire Normal School was left to the discretion of the Executive Committee. Brother Joseph Murphy appealed for money to assist in the erection of a fitting memorial to Professor Kinnayer at Bridgewater. The following resolutions were adopted at this meeting for Brother Cushing:

"ON DEATH OF SUMNER W. CUSHING

WHEREAS:—It has pleased Almighty God in his infinite wisdom to remove from our fraternal companionship our Brother, Sumner Webster Cushing, be it hereby

RESOLVED:—That in the death of Sumner Webster Cushing, our order loses the activity and influence of a most loyal, devoted and enterprising member; the cause of education, a talented, progressive and high-minded adherent and worker; and the world in general a man of remarkable personality, sterling accomplishment and high moral worth.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED:—That in our sorrow we yet take courage from the example of a Brother who realized the ideals of Kappa Delta Phi to an unusual degree.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED:—That a copy of these resolutions be preserved in the archives of this fraternity, that a second copy be sent to the family of the aforesaid deceased Brother, and that a third copy be framed and hung in a suitable place in the school where he labored so well."

It was voted at the Executive Committee meeting in March, 1921, that the establishment of a chapter at Keene, New Hampshire Normal School would "advance the interests of the Normal Schools of Massachusetts" and therefore the application from said school was approved. On Saturday, April 9, 1921, Gamma Chapter of the Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity was instituted at the Keene, New Hampshire State Normal School. Eleven Brothers of Alpha and Beta Chapters journeyed over the road and were joined by two more members at Keene, thus making the degree team consist of thirteen members.

The following candidates presented themselves for initiation in the three degrees of our Fraternity:—

At the close of Degree work Brother Nahum Leonard spoke fittingly of the nature and purpose of Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity.

The Executive Committee met in January, 1922, with the main discussion on the position of sororities in Massachusetts. It was decided to determine the position of sororities and that a resolution be offered at the annual meeting that a committee of six be appointed to assist the Executive Committee in meeting the arguments of Commissioner of Education Smith.

On February 4, 1922, it was voted that the above mentioned committee be appointed for 1922-23 in preparing the case of this Fraternity for presentation to Commissioner Smith. The presiding officer, Brother Bresee, at the Seventeenth Annual Convention appointed Brothers Armstrong, Leonard, C. H. Early, Harvey, Turner and McGlew to serve on this committee.

The Eighteenth Boston Convention was held at the Lodge of Elks in February, 1923 with President Edward Lincoln presiding. The principal feature was the initiation of eight members with the new ritual being used for the first time. President Lincoln reported on his interview with Commissioner of Education Payson Smith relative to the latter's attitude towards fraternities in state schools. A scholarship committee was chosen including Brothers Houghton, Parks, and Barker.

During the Nineteenth Boston Convention in 1924, a unanimous vote was taken for suitable testimonials for both Brothers Armstrong and Fox. These testimonials were to be arranged by Brother Leonard in appreciation of the able and untiring work of these worthy members in the office of General Secretary. Brother Lincoln was elected chairman of the scholarship committee. Later in this same year it was voted by the Executive Committee that Scholarship Funds be deposited where interest may be added, and they extended thanks to Brother Lincoln for such a splendid send-off which he so ably gave to this enterprise. In May, 1924, a draft of the Yearbook review was accepted, and the copy was forwarded to Brother Wheeler for assembly and final binding.

The Twentieth Annual Boston Convention was held at the Hotel Bellevue on February 7, 1925, with President Mahoney officiating. It was voted to write to Brother Vinal inviting Rhode Island Normal School to join the Fraternity, with action to be taken by the Executive Committee. Arrangements were completed for this committee to journey to Gamma Chapter at Keene, New Hampshire for the initiation of fourteen new members.

Inspirational addresses were given by William O'Hare of the Boston School Committee, Brother Franklin C. Roberts, and F. J. Simmons at the Twenty-first Annual Convention, headed by President Brooks, in 1926. Brother M. D. Carroll was elected chairman of a committee to investigate the agreement between the Commissioner of Education and Bridgewater Normal School. In December, 1926, it was voted that the Executive Committee proceed to install chapters at Boston University, under the direction of Brother Roberts, and at Kent Normal School in Ohio, under the direction of Brother Wayne Pomfrey.

On the evening of January 6, 1927, the Delta Chapter of Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity was instituted at the Boston University School of Education. Charter members of this chapter included: H. L. Brooks, A. H. Doucette, A. W. Lunt, J. V. Pasquantonio, V. Sala, R. C. Taylor, and H. H. Wheaton.

President A. W. S. Turner called the Twenty-second Annual Boston Convention to order at Hotel Bellevue in 1927. The gathering ratified the action of the Executive Committee in enlisting membership to the fraternity from schools and colleges other than Normal Schools, where education was the chief motive.

In the following year Kappa Delta Phi held its Twenty-third National Conclave with President Walter Burke wielding the gavel. Brothers Armstrong, Lincoln, and Roberts were appointed to arrange some suitable tribute to the memory of the “Father of our fraternity”, Nahum Leonard, who had passed from our midst.

Brother Porter-Shirley spoke of extending an invitation to the students at Rhode Island College of Education to form a new chapter at that institution.

It was moved and seconded that the fraternity take out papers of incorporation.
During the Twenty-fourth Annual Convention in 1929, it was voted to change the Scholarship Fund to a loan fund and to designate same as the Nahum Leonard Loan Fund. The fiscal year of the Fraternity was established as February first to January thirty-first, inclusive. Brother Roberts of Gamma Chapter was appointed as chairman of the Ritual Committee. It was voted that a fee of twenty-five dollars would be charged for the issuance of charters to new chapters. Brother Argue of Delta was appointed to prepare a shingle or membership certificate.

A meeting of the incorporators of the Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity was held on the 25th day of May, 1929, at 10 o'clock A.M. at Room 47, City Hall, Boston, Massachusetts. A majority of the incorporators was present and the following business was transacted:

James V. Pasquantonio was selected as chairman to preside over the meeting. Charles J. Fox was nominated and elected by written ballot as temporary clerk. Following his election he was sworn to the faithful and impartial discharge of the duties of his office. By unanimous vote the constitution and by-laws of the fraternity were adopted. By written ballot the following officers were elected: Treasurer, Edward A. Lincoln; Secretary, Charles J. Fox; Executive Committee: John J. Sheehan, Joseph J. Cantalupi, Henry C. Dumont, Franklin C. Roberts, and H. Gordon Pilkington.

Charles J. Fox was sworn to the faithful and impartial discharge of the duties of his office as secretary. The meeting adjourned at 10:25 A.M.

An honorary life membership was voted to Brother Arthur Leavitt of Beta Chapter for assistance rendered in the incorporation of the Fraternity. It was voted to present a cup at the next annual convention for the chapter having the best undergraduate attendance record. This cup was donated by Brother James V. Pasquantonio and was designated as the President's Cup.

President Pasquantonio presided over the Twenty-fifth Annual Boston Convention on February 1, 1930, at the Elks Hotel with one hundred and twenty-two brothers attending.

Resolutions on the death of the Founder and Father of the Fraternity, Nahum Leonard, were adopted.

The President's Cup for undergraduate attendance was awarded to Epsilon Chapter at this gathering.

On April 26, 1930, the application for a chapter at Farmington Normal School was accepted by the executive committee.
Hotel Bradford was the scene of the Twenty-sixth Annual Convention in Boston with Brother Cantalupi presiding. The Executive Committee was instructed to make arrangements for compensating the secretary if it were ever deemed necessary.

Zeta Chapter was established at the Farmington Normal School in Maine, on May 7, 1931. In this same year, on December twelfth, Eta chapter was founded at Washington State Normal School in Machias, Maine. This group was known as the Alpha Delta Sigma Fraternity before it became part of Kappa Delta Phi.

Clarence H. De Mar, the famous marathon runner and faculty member at the Keene Normal School, was the speaker of the day at the Twenty-seventh Annual Convention in 1932. President Theodore R. Silva presided at this meeting in the Hotel Bradford. In recognition of services rendered, it was unanimously voted by the delegates to enroll Brothers Fox, Lincoln, and Turner as life members.

The Twenty-eighth Annual Boston Convention was held at the Catholic Union Clubhouse on February 4, 1933. It was an all-day meeting, the first of its kind ever held by this fraternity. Gamma Chapter indicated plans for sponsoring a Spring Meeting of the fraternity in Keene, New Hampshire. During this school year no undergraduate chapter existed at Salem because all brothers had graduated. New members were to be initiated as rapidly as possible.

On May 27, 1933, the Spring meeting was held at Keene, New Hampshire, with six of the seven chapters represented. Following the registration at Gamma House, a reception was held in the Spaulding Gymnasium with messages of welcome from President Wallace Mason and Dean H. Dwight Carle of the Keene Normal School. A program of games and sports followed at the school camp. Ladies of the Swansea Grange served a delicious turkey supper. This concluded the very successful first Spring outing and meeting.

The Twenty-ninth Annual Convention was held again at the Catholic Union Clubhouse in Boston on February 3, 1934. President Henry Dumont presided.

The following is quoted from the Secretary's Report presented at the Thirtieth Annual Boston Convention on February 2, 1935:

"The ensuing year promises to be a crucial and critical one in the life of the fraternity. From reports received by the Executive Committee it is evident that considerable difficulty is being experienced by all of the undergraduate chapters in the conduct of their activities. Unfortunately a somewhat hostile and unsympathetic attitude seems to be developing among the heads of the schools in which chapters exist, not so much against Kappa Delta Phi as an individual organization, but against fraternities in general. In short, the problem which first faced the fraternity years ago, because of the policy adopted by the Massachusetts Department of Education, seems to be taking on wide and general proportions. It would appear desirable that a general consideration and discussion of this development should take place at this meeting.”

Brother Joseph Bevins presided over the Thirty-first Annual Convention at the Boston City Club on February 1, 1936. The main speaker was President “Bob” Quinn of the Boston “Bees”. It was reported that again an active undergraduate chapter was functioning at Salem Normal School. Because of the change which had taken place in the administration of the Department of Education, it was generally felt that an attempt should be made to convince the new Commissioner of Education of the wisdom and desirability of recognizing the fraternity. It was voted that the officers and members of the Executive Committee make arrangements at the earliest possible moment to discuss the fraternity with the Commissioner of Education and endeavor to secure his approval of its existence at State Institutions of Learning.

The Thirty-second Annual Convention was held at Hotel Bellevue in Boston during the year 1937. The presiding officer was William Loughery. Brother Charles J. Fox addressed the group. A gift of a leather envelope was presented to Brother Fox for his earnest and loyal service to the fraternity as a secretary for the past ten years. Another progress report has been taken from the secretaries records at this convention:

“It is a pleasure to be able to report some progress in state recognition of fraternities. Brother Joe Bevins has tried to contact the State House; Brother Fox, Deputy Commissioner Patrick J. Sullivan; and Brothers Lincoln and Silva, Dr. Zenos E. Scott of the Bridgewater State Teachers College. These gentlemen very honestly are trying to solve this gigantic problem, realizing that alumni organizations are the backbone of support and school spirit. How to allow fraternities, keep them democratic, and use them as serviceable units in school life, are some of the lines of thought they are taking. The answer may lie in outstanding achievement in various phases of school activity. Our sincere hope is that we can make the authorities see the need for our fraternity both in school and later life."

Dr. William G. Vinal, an Alpha brother and now a professor at the Massachusetts State College in Amherst, was the principal speaker at the Annual Boston Convention in 1938. This made our Thirty-third consecutive meeting and was headed by President Wilbur Clark at the Hotel Copley-Square. Applications were unanimously accepted for new chapters at the State Teachers College, Edinboro, Pennsylvania and at the State Teachers College in Gorham, Maine. They will be known respectively as Theta and Iota Chapters. A letter of congratulations was sent to Brother Arthur Gould who had been elected Superintendent of Schools for Boston. The responsibility of the Executive Committee was divided this year, so that each representative supervised everything which concerned his chapter.

At this meeting the assembled brothers were most interested in the "Kappa Delta Phi News Letter" published by Beta Chapter. The Executive Committee expressed sincere appreciation to Brother Paul Malbouf for this "brainchild" and for the work he and others of Beta had done on the "News Letter". The Executive Committee was instructed to prepare and issue a "Roll Call", containing the names and addresses of members by chapters.

In May, 1938, Brother Aimee Doucette inducted and became advisor for Theta Chapter in Edinboro, Pennsylvania. During the same month the Executive Committee officiated at the installation of Iota Chapter in Gorham, Maine.

The Thirty-fourth Annual Conclave and Banquet was held at Hotel Copley-Square on February 11, 1939, with President Philip Hallowell presiding. The guest speaker was Reverend John Nicho! Mark. The "Roll Call" was distributed at this meeting. Each Chapter Representative had undertaken the gigantic task of preparing a history of his chapter with an up-to-date list of names and addresses. Many thanks were given to the compiler, Bruce Ogilvie, for his herculean efforts. It was suggested that Chapter Representatives be re-elected at least once for the better guidance of fraternity affairs.

The Thirty-fifth Annual Boston Conclave was held at Hotel Copley-Square on February 10, 1940, with the largest number of delegates ever present at our meetings — one hundred and fifty.
President David Meyers introduced the speaker of the day, Dr. Lloyd P. Young, president of the State Teachers College, Keene, New Hampshire.

Brother Leonard Joll of Delta Chapter reported that he was checking on the possibilities of chapters at the Willimantic and New Britain State Teachers Colleges in Connecticut.

During this same year official trips of the Executive Committee included the chapters of Alpha, Delta, Zeta, and Gamma.

A national honor was conferred upon one of our brothers, Chris J. Agrafiotis, when his treatise on the Constitution, "Preserve, Protect, and Defend", was selected by the National Republic magazine for distribution among its subscribers.

Executive Committee meetings and the Annual Boston Conventions were held at the Hotel Copley-Square until 1950.

The Thirty-sixth Annual Convention in 1941 was highlighted with a talk by Dr. Lucius A. Whipple, president of the Rhode Island State College of Education, on the topic, "Our Responsibility in a Democracy."

A resolution was passed in appreciation of the sincere and diligent services rendered to the Fraternity by the retiring secretary, Theodore R. Silva. A life-membership was presented to Brother Silva.

It was moved and carried that the Executive Committee formulate an active and an inactive membership listing.

President's Day was inaugurated on December 7, 1940, with the undergraduate chapter presidents meeting with the Executive Committee for the purpose of having closer ties between the individual chapters and the national organization.

Another Spring meeting was held at Gamma Chapter on May 20, 1940. During this year Brother Melvin Peach drew up rituals for the installations of undergraduate chapter officers, graduate alumni chapters, and national officers.

The present coat-of-arms was adopted at this time, and the official jeweler was designated as the L. G. Balfour Company of Attleboro, Massachusetts. It was further voted at this meeting that the awarding of the President's Cup be based on the number of undergraduate members present from each chapter on a percentage basis times a distance (from Boston) factor as follows: Alpha, Beta, Delta (1.0); Epsilon (1.2); Gamma (1.5); Iota (1.7); Zeta (1.8); Eta (2.0); Theta (2.3).
Official trips were made to Theta and Zeta in 1941. During that year the first suggestion was made for Kappa Delta Phi to be listed in the World Almanac and Baird's Manual. The second President's Day was held in December.

The Thirty-seventh Annual Boston Convention was held on February 14, 1942 with Irving Heath acting as chairman. "Two Must Face a Third" was the subject of an address given by Reverend Karl Heath Kopf of the Mount Vernon Street Church, Boston.

Amendments to the Constitution were made at this convention affecting membership of the Executive Committee, initiation fee from new members, annual dues from alumni, and life membership payments.

Dr. Roy L. Billett, speaking on the topic of "Wartime Practices and Peacetime Policy in the Secondary Schools", was introduced by President Wallace Sinclair at the Thirty-eighth Annual Convention in 1943.

On that forty-third anniversary of the founding of our fraternity, we faced a situation fully as difficult as any faced by our brothers in years past. Our country was at war. Brothers everywhere were answering the call to the colors. Other brothers were busily engaged in war production, civilian defense activities, or many other tasks imposed upon them as added burdens to their regular duties. Time for all was at a premium, and little of it could be spared for fraternity activity, although there were plenty of evidence that their thoughts were frequently with the organization.

As a result, normal fraternity conditions could not exist. Chapter membership was constantly depleted as men left for the armed services. Active alumni supporters were likewise in training camps or on the battlefields or too busy with other duties. Activities regularly scheduled for years had been abandoned or considerably curtailed. Initiation ceremonies had been rushed through in a number of cases in order to enroll men before they left school. Chapter representatives were unable to keep up their contacts with the chapters. The Executive Committee had to reduce the number of its meetings. Portions of our reserve funds were invested in war bonds.

Brother Paul Bridges made available, through his direct efforts, a life membership card which was designated after Gamma Chapter's card. During 1943, the monthly chapter report forms were inaugurated. In that year it was also voted that each chapter would receive a partial refund on alumni dues paid to the national organization.

The Thirty-ninth Annual Convention was held in 1944, even though only twenty brothers attended.

The Fortieth Annual Boston Convention was held in 1945. The principal accomplishment was that they continued their record of consecutive meetings.

The Forty-first Annual Boston Convention was divided into two sessions. The first session was presided over by Aaron De Moranville on February 9, 1946. Discussions were held concerning national policies and reactivating several chapters after the war.

The second session was opened on May 4, 1946. An amendment to the constitution was passed as follows: "The regular meeting of the fraternity shall be held on the first Saturday in May of each year in Boston. Special meetings may be called by the Executive Committee at any time." William J. Sanders, president of Fitchburg State Teachers College, was the speaker of the day.

During the year 1946-1947, all chapters were operating except Beta and Delta.

The Forty-second Annual Boston Convention was called to order by the retiring National President, Brother Aaron De Moranville, on May 11, 1947. Retiring National Secretary, Brother Melvin D. Peach, gave his report and turned the books over to Brother Paul E. Bridges for the next five years. The address of the day was given by Dr. Michael F. Walsh, Director of Education from the State of Rhode Island. Forcibly and capably bringing to the group his concepts of future educational requirements, Dr. Walsh stressed the challenge brought to us through the current economic upgrading. Charging us with a responsibility shared only with doctors and ministers (we are working with human lives), he showed the need for education of the individual rather than of the masses. The high school diploma could better be a blueprint of the individual (drawn after a twelve years' study of the pupil), showing those activities that could be engaged in with probable optimum success as indicated in the individual abilities, skills, and training.

Chapter Presidents' Day was held in December, 1947. The Executive Committee passed the motion that Key No. 19000-B be accepted as our official key design (Balfour Blue Book). The purchase of this key must be approved through the office of national secretary.
Through the efforts of our National Secretary, Brother Paul Bridges, Kappa Delta Phi was listed in the January, 1948 publication of the “Fraternity Month Directory of Fraternities and Sororities”.

Brother Paul Malboeuf worked during 1947-1948 toward the reactivation of Beta Chapter. Brothers Olin Robbins and William Welton were working with the reactivation of Delta Chapter. Brother Harold Kedian was a great help also in Delta’s reactivation.

New membership cards for undergraduates and life members were approved by the Executive Committee in 1948. In that same year the committee changed the annual President’s Day to the Chapter Secretary’s Day because those men worked closer with the National Secretary and Executive Committee.

The Forty-fourth Annual Boston Convention was held during May, 1948, with Gwilym Roberts presiding. The brothers were addressed by Dr. Howard Wood, principal of Hope High School in Providence, Rhode Island. His topic, “Some Problems in Educating All of the Children of All of the People on the Secondary School Level”, was very enlightening. The Third Degree was given to the men of the newly reactivated Beta and Delta Chapters by an Alpha Chapter Degree Team.

Brother Robert Clemence was chosen as the National Editor in November, 1948. He prepared a letter of congratulations which was presented to Leland F. Leland, on his twenty-fifth year as editor of the Fraternity Month Magazine and as a fraternity publisher.

President Harold Bunker called the Forty-fourth Annual Boston Convention to order on May 7, 1949. Alpha Chapter in the best of tradition became the first chapter to win the coveted National Relations Plaque (a five inch bronze plaque mounted on a fourteen inch walnut shield). The alumni attendance was also to be multiplied by a mileage factor to determine the winner.

Two amendments to the constitution were passed at this convention. One added an Editor and Historian to our National Officers, and the other increased the undergraduate membership fee slightly. For the first time in our history the convention was recorded. Kappa Delta Phi was reported to be included in both the Fifteenth Edition of Baird’s Manual of American College Fraternities and the World Almanac of 1949.

Colonel Joseph A. McCusker, a member of the Executive Committee of the National Interfraternity Conference, spoke to the assembled brothers on the subject, "Today's Challenge to the Fraternity System."

A two-page Salute to Kappa Delta Phi, written by our National Editor, Brother Clemence, appeared in the Fraternity Month publication in October, 1949.

Our first Chapter Officer's School was held in November, 1949. Guest speakers at this school included: Frank J. Licher (L. G. Balfour Co.), E. J. Brooks, Jr. (Alpha Tau Omega), Melvin D. Peach (Delta Chapter), Theodore R. Silva (Alpha Chapter), and Charles J. Fox (Alpha Chapter).

Hats off to Brother Leonard Joll for his interest, his inspiration, and his faith which guided so well a group of men in establishing the first fraternity in the history of Connecticut State Teachers Colleges.

The Executive Committee was indeed proud to install our tenth chapter on March 3, 1950, in New Haven, Connecticut. It was also fitting that in this our Golden Year the brothers of the founding Chapter, Alpha, installed the new officers of Kappa Chapter.

So inspiring was Colonel McCusker's speech at the 1949 Convention that it seems an appropriate ending for our history. May his challenge lead us on to fifty more years of successful fraternity life.

"Mr. Chairman and members of the Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity, I was happy to accept the invitation to speak to you who are assembled here for your 1949 Convention. Frankly, I knew nothing of your fraternity because I have been out of touch with all fraternities due to six years active duty with the army. I was especially interested to learn that you are a Professional Teachers Fraternity. I think we all have things in common. I am convinced of this. Your problems are the problems of the social fraternities particularly if you have houses. Before I go into relationships and something about the National Interfraternity Conference, I would like to talk about a classical example of a fraternity which I think is apropos because we have teachers and potential teachers here today.

About 500 years ago, to be exact in 1469, one of the most highly educated young men of that day in Europe became King of the State of Florence. He already had gained a good reputation as a poet, art critic, scholar, and business man. He was hesitant though about being king. He did not want to be king. However, under pressure, he accepted the load. His name was Lorenzo De Medici. He was twenty-one years of age.

Lorenzo began his reign by asking the people of Florence to look with him into the future of Florence. How, he asked, can people be educated so that they have a better time in life? . . . How can they be educated so that they realize their finer natures? . . . This was a new kind of talk from a king. The people listened and wondered.

But Lorenzo did not stop with talk. Now and then he picked up a bright boy, took him home to his palace, and started him off on an educational road of his own design. Before long Lorenzo had at his palace a sort of school . . . the only one I have ever heard of that turned out one hundred percent of successful Alumni. School I called it, but, more accurately, it was a fraternity. The boys lived in the house where they had their rooms, meals, and work. Lorenzo, a boy and a king, seemed like a regular member, although he did all the rushing and all the bidding and paid all the chapter house bills. Most important he did all the rushing himself. For example, he found Leonardo De Vinci as a boy on a farm. He looked him over and asked him to join. In effect he said to Leonardo, ‘Boy, you must be the glory of Florence. You can do that. Do what you like but be the glory of Florence’. This was a sort of pledge. Lorenzo found Michael Angelo, aged fifteen, as an apprentice to a stencutter. He bid Michael. But he had some argument with Michael’s father before the boy was allowed to join. Then Michael, too, heard about being the glory of Florence. Botticelli and Filippino Lippi were also among the earlier students; later came Raphael, Titian, Andrea Del Sarto, and others.

The initiation and pledge were only the start. Lorenzo frequently ate lunch at the fraternity house and always he encouraged and inspired. You had to be the glory of Florence when he was around. Sometimes he brought distinguished visitors with him to help keep the tension high. On one occasion, the story is told, he brought as his guest the King of France. The places next to Lorenzo’s seat at the table were taken by the boys. They offered to give way to the great visitor King. But no, there was a vacant chair near the foot of the table. The King of France could sit there. He did . . . Think for a moment what it must have meant to those boys to have their King value them above the greatest king in Europe at that time. Would they respond? . . . Would they try to be the glory of Florence? And now let me ask, what was Lorenzo trying to do? . . . He certainly was not being merely sentimental. He was being practical, just as he was in the wool business. As nearly as we can piece the records together, his thoughts were about as follows: First, as he saw it, the people of his land were being absorbed more and more in a struggle for bread, shoes, and money. Second, if they allowed this struggle to become the whole of their lives, they would never know their finer natures. They would never know the joy of living. They would go sour. Third, he realized that people burdened with business routine and limited by it in the range of their attention could not be moved easily toward an ideal. They needed help. They needed encouragement, if they were ever to gain wider, happier life, just as his boys needed encouragement; and these boys, Lorenzo thought, would bring fresh spirit to all the people. His fraternity was his means of providing the help and the encouragement.

Let me give one illustration of how Lorenzo's plan worked. For untold ages, men have found pleasure in the coming of spring. A fresh stir of life flows to them from the flowers, the singing of birds, and sunlight upon little streams . . . The people of Florence shared in this pleasure. That is they thought that spring was a nice time of the year especially for girls and poets. It was good to see, if they were not too tired, but it was not important, like money. Then came a young man named Bottecelli, stimulated and encouraged by Lorenzo to see the values of joy in spring. After a while the young man, with his paint on canvas, animated the joys of spring with such powers and charm that he made his fellow townsfolk feel what he felt, and, in doing this, crowded much bitterness and greediness out of their lives. He gave them their own heritage of pure joy, an ecstasy of life which belonged to them. Leonardo, Raphael, Angelo, and the rest of the fraternity also did their bit, and the result was that these fraternity brothers made Florence the unofficial capital of Europe for the next four hundred years.

Thinking about Lorenzo's plan, I am convinced that we have in our colleges and normal schools today many boys that are quite as alert and as gifted as the ones Lorenzo took into his fraternity. I believe that under strong power to inspire, let's say Podunk College up in Podunk, Maine could become the unofficial capital of the

United States. If that is ever to be true, there will be teachers at Podunk, or at least one great soul, who can say with profound conviction and joy, 'Boy, you must not only be the glory of Maine but the whole world. You can do that' . . . And I think there will be a fraternity at Podunk College that will catch that note of encouragement and keep it alive among its members nearly twenty-four hours a day.

My first suggestion then is that we need teachers who can inspire. We need teachers who are the heirs of all ages, their hearts and heads filled with what is vital; teachers great in scholarship and great, especially, in their enthusiasm to teach. Further, as a part of this suggestion, we need fraternities that will be the very home of inspiration, fraternities that will catch the note of great teachers and hold it twenty-four hours a day.

My second suggestion is merely an aid to the first. It has to do with atmosphere, the harmony of surroundings in which great teaching and great living in fraternities can best be accomplished. If you have a boy at home with a room of his own, do you put into that room the chairs with the broken legs and the pictures that nobody else wants? If so, he will probably say nothing about the matter, but do not be surprised if he leaves home at too early an age.

The same principle about environment applies to college or normal school. We talk about education in America as being the most expensive and most hopeful experiment in the history of the human race. Each boy and girl is to have an opportunity . . . that is the foundation of this country. We have believed in the idea, and we want to see it through. But what commonly happens is that a Professor meets his class in a room which causes both him and his students to wonder about the dignity and the value of the experiment. Often the room is ill-proportioned and drab, maybe in a basement or up in the eaves. The chairs cost about $1.69 and no bargain at that; the professor's desk costs about $4.29 . . . the whole thing is undistinguished and dull, without a symbol of a high purpose in it. The wonder is that we have gotten as far as we have with our plan of education. The need of harmony and environment in the fraternity and in our college is not sentimental stuff. It is basic; it is a necessity for best work. Uglines, you know, is seldom the result of poverty. It is the reflection of minds that are empty and dull. It makes for the kind of atmosphere in which a professor lectures from the same notes year in and year out.

Well, Lorenzo and his fraternity brothers are dead. Many of their ideas about morality are dead too. But the fact remains that they lived intensely, lived with joy and eagerness to create a perfect expression of some external values which they felt in their souls.
They tried to be the glory of Florence. They became the glory of the earth. There is no mystery about the matter, no explanation, I believe, on the basis of genius. There was a happy, long sustained effort under powerful inspiration in surroundings that were in them­selves of such good taste that they contributed to the inspiration
That, I believe, is the answer.

We have colleges, universities, and normal schools, most of them well built. We have today, among the fifty-eight national fraterni­ties which comprise the National Interfraternity Conference, two thou­sand, seven hundred and fifty chapters located on two hundred and fifty campuses and owning two thousand, one hundred and twenty­five fraternity houses valued over one hundred million dollars.
Many of these houses are as luxurious as Lorenzo's fraternity house.
We have over one hundred and fifty thousand boys living in these houses. What we don't have in the fraternity houses is the steady, continued aspiration and the joy to study and work which those Florentine brothers knew.

We believe that a well organized, well operated, properly con­ducted social fraternity is an adjunct to a college or normal school education. We believe that out of social fraternity houses comes the learning how to live into our heritage, creative living, potential atmosphere and harmony that will pick up that intent and hold it and carry it to its top expression.

In this talk I have tried to stay away from details. I have not attempted to point out how to accomplish these problems. There are no formulas for such work. The important thing is to continue to want, to want, and to want; that in dead earnest in our hearts we want to be of help and of inspiration to the end that our colleges and normal schools and fraternities are homes of boys and girls who are finding the joy of life for themselves and are becoming the glory of the earth.

The National Interfraternity Conference has been in existence forty-one years. The President of Brown University, Dr. W. H. P.
Faunce, a great educator, realizing the importance of the social fraternities in college life, took the initiative in calling the first conference. The distinguished editor of THE OUTLOOK, Hamilton W. Mabie, was elected its first chairman. The Conference is an advisory body. It has taken a paternalistic attitude toward all Greek Letter fraternities and has cooperated in working out problems and matters mutual to fraternities. We are today particularly interested in scholarship and good public relations. We are making every effort to substitute Greek Week for Hell Week. We are concerned with the liquor problem and the elimination of bars in fraternity houses. We hold to our belief that a fraternity house is no place for liquor or a bar. I referred to Greek Week. The concentration of initiating pledges in one week with all fraternities participating is an excellent institution and is in great favor with college and university authorities. One objective is to do away with those harmful characteristics associated with hell week which have endangered the life of the fraternity system. Another objective is to get the fraternities working together, to get them in the habit of cooperating in matters of common interest, and the forging of a stronger link between fraternities and college authorities to the end that when matters of mutual concern arise on a campus, the college authorities can turn to the leaders of fraternities and engage in free, frank, and open discussions.

I referred to scholarship. We recognize the importance of fraternity men attaining and holding good scholarship, to at least be on a par with non-fraternity men. We know how important this means over in the Dean's office. Paul, — here on my right, is your Public Relations man and one who has to plead your cause in your expansion program. If you men in your chapters attain good scholarship, it gives Paul one of his best selling points. Paul is handicapped in his efforts because of some of the bad publicity which has come out of some incidents on certain campuses involving fraternity men. If you men in the active chapters in New England will build up a high scholarship and come up with a good clean record on your respective campus, Kappa Delta Phi will flourish and expand as it should, and I hope someday you will have chapters from coast to coast. Good luck and God Bless you."

CHAPTER FOUR

Meet Your Officers and Know Their Duties

Patterned upon democratic ideals with a provision for an elected representative government, the government of the National Body serves as a model for the local chapter.

The National Officers include: a President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, an Organizer, an Editor, and an Historian. Nominations for these officers are submitted by the Executive Committee of the Fraternity for one-year terms at the Annual Boston Convention.

These officers are assisted by the National Executive Committee which is composed of an elected representative from each chapter of the fraternity. These chapter representatives are elected for a two-year term with one-half of the chapters electing representatives on alternate years. This committee together with the National Officers and the immediate past president of the National Body comprises the government body of Kappa Delta Phi.

The National President shall:
1. preside at all meetings of the fraternity, and
2. have the supreme right to interpret the constitution.

Aimee H. Doucette
National President
1949-1950
The National Secretary shall:
1. keep a complete record of all business meetings of the fraternity,
2. keep complete membership records of the fraternity,
3. have printed and sent out all general notices to all members of the fraternity,
4. approve all orders for the official badge of the fraternity,
5. approve all orders for the shingle of the fraternity,
6. submit an annual progress report of the fraternity at the annual convention, and
7. act as chairman of the Executive Committee meetings in the absence of the National President.

The National Treasurer shall:
1. have charge of all fraternity funds,
2. collect all national dues from the chapters,
3. notify all members in arrears,
4. pay all bills approved by the Executive Committee, and
5. submit an annual report of the financial condition of the fraternity at the annual convention.
The National Editor shall:
1. prepare and submit articles for fraternity magazines, and
2. prepare informational bulletins for fraternity members.

The National Historian shall:
1. keep the fraternity history up-to-date, and
2. collect and preserve the fraternity archives.

The Chapter Representative shall:
1. have close contact between Graduate and Undergraduate members within his chapter,
2. sponsor Undergraduate activities,
3. supervise these activities whenever possible,
4. secure an annual list of new members with permanent addresses for the National Secretary,
5. check to see that the annual chapter report is ready for the annual convention and that the National Secretary receives a copy,
6. submit a monthly chapter activity report,
7. be responsible for payment of his chapter's annual dues, and
8. participate in arrangements for the third degree in his chapter.
The National Organizer, with the approval of the Executive Committee, shall handle all details in connection with the institution and organization of new chapters.

The Executive Committee shall have charge of all matters pertaining to the fraternity as a whole. It shall have charge of the annual convention and shall submit nominations for the National Officers each year. The major aim of this committee is to co-ordinate and harmonize activities of the National Fraternity within its many branches.

The individual chapters are led by the President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, Master of Ceremonies, Chaplain, and the Alumni Secretary.
The National Organization issues a Shingle of Membership to every new initiate of the Fraternity. The Shingle is available to members who were initiated before the Fall of 1930 at the price of one dollar.
Chapter Five
The Funds of Kappa Delta Phi

General Fund

The General Fund is the source of the running expenses of the Fraternity. It pays for printing, postage, the expenses of both Executive Board and General Fraternity, meetings, travel of the officers, and some miscellaneous items.

The chief sources of the money in this fund are dues and luncheon fees. Chapter, Alumni and Graduate Dues, and Initiation Fees all go into this general fund. The royalties from the sale of jewelry are also added, and partial payments for Life Membership are held in this fund until the final installment is paid.

Permanent Fund

The Permanent Fund was established by vote of the Fraternity in February, 1930. It consists of the Life Membership payments and was set up for the purpose of providing a way in which Alumni brothers could free themselves from the bother of paying annual dues.

It was intended to invest the proceeds of this fund, and to transfer the income each year to the general fund for current expenses. This transfer has not yet been necessary, so the fund has been left to accumulate and has become a substantial foundation in our assets.

Nahum Leonard Loan Fund

The Nahum Leonard Loan Fund was begun as a Scholarship Fund in 1925. A special appeal was made for a capital fund, and about $250.00 was raised in the next three years. The first Scholarship was a payment of $50 to Brother C. J. Agrafiotis of Gamma Chapter.

In 1929, when the task of raising the capital needed for a substantial scholarship seemed beyond the resources of the Fraternity, it was decided to use the money as a revolving loan fund, named in honor of Father Nahum Leonard.
To further increase the available money for loans, the Life Membership payments of the first twenty life members were added to this fund.

Loans have been made to thirteen different members and to one chapter. Furthermore, there were several years when deficits in the General Fund were temporarily financed by use of the Loan Fund.

Awards of Kappa Delta Phi

THE PRESIDENT'S CUP

The President's Cup is awarded to the Chapter with the highest percentage of undergraduate members present at the Annual Convention. Chapter Annual Dues must be paid for the Chapter to be eligible.

The percentage of undergraduate members present is multiplied by a mileage factor, as follows, for the individual Chapters:

- ALPHA, BETA and DELTA percentage of undergraduates TIMES 1.0
- EPSILON percentage of undergraduates TIMES 1.025
- GAMMA percentage of undergraduates TIMES 1.23
- IOTA percentage of undergraduates TIMES 1.28
- ZETA percentage of undergraduates TIMES 1.456
- ETA percentage of undergraduates TIMES 1.775
- THETA percentage of undergraduates TIMES 2.32
- KAPPA percentage of undergraduates TIMES 1.357

(Mileage factor corrected as of 1950)

PRESIDENT'S CUP AWARDS

- Epsilon 1930
- Epsilon 1931
- Eta 1932
- Epsilon 1933
- Gamma 1934
- Alpha 1935
- Beta 1936
- Epsilon 1937
- Beta 1938
- Theta 1939
- Gamma 1940
- Delta 1941
The National Relations Award of the
Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity

This plaque is awarded to the chapter with the highest percentage of alumni members present at the Annual Convention. The same mileage factor used in determining the President's Cup Award is also used for this award.

Songs and Cheers of Kappa Delta Phi

YE KAPPA MEN

(Tune: Auld Lang Syne)

Hail brothers; Hail we've met again
To renew the days gone by.
To sing once more now we are men
Of old Kappa Delta Phi.

II

Then one for all and all for one,
Enthroning LOVE not HATE
Her name thus to perpetuate
While the sands of life shall run.

III

Her name for truth and virtue stands
In Alma Mater halls.
Her voice is heard in other lands,
Humanity she calls.

Chorus

Ye Kappa men, Ye Delta men,
Ye Phi men, one and all —
Where'er you go o'er crag or fen,
Stand for truth what'er befall.

TO KAPPA DELTA PHI

For Kappa, for Delta, for Phi,
For Kappa Delta Phi we give our all;
We give our all in friendship strong,
We raise our voice in joyous song;
Pledged to help each other,
Friend to every brother;
Then together we all cry
For Kappa, for Delta, for Phi.
All Hail to Kappa Delta Phi!

Words—BROTHER JAMES ATTRIDGE
Music—BROTHER GEORGE MOREY
Beta Chapter — 1941
KAPPA DAY IS HERE AGAIN

(Tune: Happy Days are Here Again)

Kappa day is here again,
The sky above is clear again,
Let us sing a song of cheer again,
Kappa day is here again.
Altogether shout it now,
There's no one who can doubt it now,
Let us tell the world about it now,
Kappa day is here again.
Your cares and troubles are gone,
They'll be no more from now on.
Kappa day is here again,
The sky above is clear again,
Let us sing a song of cheer again,
Kappa day is here again.

ZETA CHAPTER SONG

(Tune: From Cayuga's Waters)

Down where Abbott Pond lies gleaming,
'Neath soft summer skies,
There's a spot above all others,
That in mem'ry lies.
Days of joy and days of sorrow,
As the years flew by,
Here we lived and worked together,
Kappa Delta Phi.

II
Those who've gone before have labored,
We our best must give,
Ever pushing onward, upward,
That their work may live.
Memories of days together,
Never, never die,
To thee we'll be ever loyal,
Kappa Delta Phi.

Words—GWILYM ROBERTS
EPSILON CHAPTER SONG

(Tune: Wiffenpoof Song)

We are Kappa men assembled,
Bound to each by Brotherhood,
So we lift our voices up in wondrous song.
Yes, we sing this wondrous song
For all the world to hear,
How much we love our fraternity so dear.

II
Whether working or at play,
Every hour, every day,
We will give ourselves to those who are in need.
Yes, to those who are in need
We will dedicate our life,
And will do our bit to rid this world of strife.

Chorus
We’re Epsilon men with our goals on high,
Kappa, Delta, Phi.
We aim to excel in all we try,
Kappa, Delta, Phi.

Kappa, Delta, Phi are we,
Doing what we can for humanity,
Brothers we’ll be ’til eternity,
Kappa, Delta, Phi.

We, the brothers of Alpha Chapter, take particular pride in celebrating with you this Golden Anniversary of the founding of Kappa Delta Phi.

The teacher training institution at Bridgewater is distinguished for its many firsts. Here was established the first permanent normal school in America. And here, on April 14, 1900, fourteen students joined themselves together in fraternal brotherhood. As time passed this tiny group recognized the need for a more permanent organization. Therefore, a constitution was drawn up and ratified on June 23, 1900, at which time the following became officers of the pioneer group: Leon E. Maglathlin, President; Herman Gammons, Vice-President; Nahum Leonard, Secretary; and Louis G. Morse, Treasurer.

The year 1901 saw Alpha in flourishing condition and rapidly becoming an important on-campus group. The yearbook of that year, listing Alpha under secret societies, describes the chapter thusly: "Being essentially a mystical brotherhood the inner workings of the organization cannot be revealed, but suffice it to say that the society has a deep and worthy purpose beyond mere fun and frolic. The lighter side that must of necessity exist is the only one known to the public, but there is something beneath it all that makes the organization of some merit.” That same year also saw the introduction of a fifty cent initiation fee.

With the coming of the next year was launched the prosperity that promised to continue throughout all future Alpha operations. Initiation was held in January, 1902, and an active membership of thirty-six gave adequate evidence of how firmly the chapter had taken hold.

A fraternity banquet held at Youngs Hotel in Boston with forty-two members present highlighted the 1903-1904 season. At this time there were grave misgivings that the chapter would be unable to grow unless more men were added to the school’s ranks.

The sixth year of the chapter showed itself to be an epoch-making period in the growth of Kappa Delta Phi. The chapter was broadened to make all men in the school eligible for membership. Provision was also made for the establishment of a higher degree for honorary members. The annual banquet was held at Youngs Hotel at which the forty-two brothers present heard a stirring address by Principal Albert G. Boyden entitled “Fraternity Ideals”. All faculty members were welcomed into the chapter at this time.

President Gammons presided at the third annual meeting held on April 11, 1908, in Boston. The active graduate membership continued to be augmented, but there were too few men in the school to assure adequate undergraduate representation.

Records are extremely hazy regarding the events which took place between 1910 and World War I. It is known, however, that a Beta chapter of Kappa Delta Phi was established at Salem Normal School, Salem, Massachusetts, in 1914. Alpha men instituted this degree.

Alpha Chapter suffered a great loss in the death of Brother Robert E. Pellisier who was killed on the Somme front in August, 1916. A memorial ambulance was donated to the Army in Pellisier’s name, and this ambulance went into service in November, 1918.

From this point on we were unable to locate any information regarding the chapter’s activities except those of so recent origin that they cannot be regarded as of historical importance.
Alpha Chapter, however, points with pride to the accomplishments of some of its illustrious sons: Dr. Edward A. Lincoln; Nahum Leonard, “Father of the Fraternity”; C. Arthur Wheeler, Chauncey W. Waldron, and Theodore Silva. We, the present active members, express our humble gratitude that we are privileged to follow a path which was so tirelessly hewn out for us by those fourteen who were so gifted as to envision what an uplifting force this fraternal organization would be. This truth is brought home to us more strongly than ever in this our anniversary year.

BETA CHAPTER

Beta Chapter of Kappa Delta Phi, founded in 1914 under the enthusiastic leadership of the late Sumner W. Cushing, a member of the faculty at the Salem Normal School, and also a brother of Alpha Chapter of Bridgewater, has held and will hold a very important place in the memory of Salem Teachers College men who have had the good fortune to belong to this organization.

In 1914, a delegation from Alpha Chapter whose desire it was to have the men at Salem share in the spirit of fraternal friendship, initiated a group of eleven charter members: Walter Brooks, James S. Collins, Harlan D. Crowell, William Foley, Joseph M. Gilmore, Myron R. Hutchinson, John J. McGlew, James F. Peebles, Austin M. Rankin, Edmund Richards, and Andreas W. S. Turner.

The following year, Mr. J. Asbury Pitman, the Principal at Salem until 1937, was among the group to be admitted to the fraternity. It was through the efforts of Brothers Pitman and Cushing that the chapter members were granted use of a fraternity room in the college building. Initiations and all chapter activities were then conducted on the school premises and were encouraged by the faculty. It was unfortunate, indeed, when open recognition of the fraternity was no longer possible, and we were forced to hold our meetings elsewhere.

Unknown to many of the hundreds of graduates, our fraternity has lived through these years in spite of opposition because of the splendid principles upon which our fraternity was founded.

For years it has been the spirit of our chapter to bring the male members to a closer understanding “through common ideals and purposes”. The group has sponsored and promoted the highest and best educational practices and finally has created a bond of friendship among its members that makes for excellent fellowship and united effort in a common cause.

From 1920 to 1940, Beta Chapter grew steadily. The boys tried to get together at least four or five times a year and during these twenty years instituted some very worthwhile programs and activities of which Salem will always be proud.

During the period of World War II, our chapter had a slight slumber. Some thought it would never wake up, but when the boys came back again Beta Chapter of Kappa Delta Phi came with them in full force.

During the last two years, we have added seventy-five fine men to our ranks, and we are growing steadily. Meetings are held regularly at the Hotel Hawthorne in Salem, and socials, dances, and outings are all a part of the year’s enjoyment. We have accomplished many improvements around the College and have plans for others.

If the future can be somewhat predicted by this review of the past, then we surely should be grateful for the many pleasant experiences which our membership in Beta Chapter will make possible for each one of us. For in our Fraternity, “the welfare of each is bound up in the good of all”.

DECEASED ALUMNI

NOTE: Dates within parentheses show dates of admittance to the fraternity. These roll calls were made as of January, 1950.
Brothers, before elucidating on the forming and development of Gamma Chapter, I would like to have you in the correct frame of mind. Imagine being one of five men attending a Normal School! Perhaps the novelty of the situation would be pleasant for a while. However, I will wager that you would soon join forces and try to form some means of protection.

Was this situation the reason for founding Gamma Chapter at Keene Normal School? We will never know. Nevertheless, Brothers Nahum Leonard of Alpha Chapter and Franklin C. Roberts of Beta Chapter approached these five men. Both men were instructors at the school and little time was wasted. The green light was flashed by Wallace E. Mason, then the President of the school, and by the National Officers of Kappa Delta Phi.

On May 7, 1921, the five elated young men took the first degree under the auspices of a delegation from Alpha and Beta Chapters. The circumstances were unusual as the young ladies were invited to be present. A banquet was served by the Home Economics Department. We still have the complete loyalty of the "Home Ecers".
The remaining degrees were held in the basement of the Hale Building and thus Gamma Chapter was added to Kappa Delta Phi. Sheldon Barker, Keene, New Hampshire; Albert Brooks, Cambridge, Massachusetts; Henry Dumont, Marlboro, New Hampshire; Edgar Howe, Lebanon, New Hampshire, and Harold Meyette, Greenfield, Massachusetts were the Chapter Officers and charter members. We, of Gamma, are grateful to these five men for recognizing the need for a fraternity. Albert Brooks, Jr. joined Delta Chapter in May, 1948, and this made our first father-son team.

The following year was rather slow as there were only three men in the fraternity. With this handicap it was impossible to accomplish very much. The summer of 1922 looked more promising. Fifteen men were added to our chapter, but the closing of the summer school took many of them away.

In 1923, there was only one new member and the following year was even more bleak! Seven new freshmen were on campus, but they decided to form a men's club.

Albert Brooks, a Gamma man, was elected National President of Kappa Delta Phi in 1924. He was the first Gamma man to hold this post.

A new course was added to the curriculum attracting more men students. This was what is now the Trades and Industry Course. The National Officers visited Keene to instill new life into Gamma. As a result, fifteen men joined our chapter, four of them being honorary members.

Now Gamma began to take part in campus activities. We offered a series of lectures given by educators and politicians of the state and elsewhere. Besides this, we arranged an Inter-High School track meet which finished the very successful year of 1925-1926.

On December 25, 1925, mystery entered college life. The barn which housed the “Mechanic Arts” was burned. After this incident, Gamma men had the chance to show their versatility by planning and reconstructing the old cellar hole into a formal sunken garden. The garden is quite an attraction today, and we wonder how many know that Gamma was responsible for it.

Brother Frederick J. Simmons had a shingle designed and engraved for the men of Gamma Chapter. True to our Motto, “One for all and all for one”, this shingle became national.

The following year we suffered a short depression — man shortage!! Only four brothers were present in September, but the situation was corrected by the increase of twelve men during the year. Since another addition to the sunken garden seemed necessary, Gamma men were called upon to construct a fish pool.

The year of 1926-1927 will never be forgotten — Keene Teachers College was to have a new gymnasium and Gamma was to have a house. These were gifts to the school, presented by Governor Huntley N. Spaulding. Our house was dubbed “Kappa House”, the name we still keep.

September, 1927 was a very joyous month. Gamma men moved into their house, which soon became the center of many teas, socials, and rushing parties.

The boys went all out for furnishing the social room and starting a library. Many articles were donated by members and friends. This year was concluded by another Gamma project, which consisted of lengthening the cement sidewalk from Appain Way to the sunken garden. Along with this our men also helped in the constructing of the greenhouse on Winchester Street.

Gamma once again held a National position when Cleon Heald became the National President of Kappa Delta Phi.

The next year was a gala one. It began with a tea for Governor and Mrs. Spaulding following the dedication of the new gymnasium. It was at this time that Governor Spaulding gracefully accepted our invitation to become an honorary member of our Fraternity.

In the college year of 1928-29, Gamma started the Scholarship Cup, which was to be awarded to the three groups of men on campus, the two fraternities and the non-fraternity men. This cup may be found in our social room.

At last, in the spring of 1929, Gamma had a chance to prove its dexterity! Our men were called out to fight a raging forest fire. They returned victorious, but tired.

A banquet was also held that year to honor Mrs. Dawn Wallace who had been housemother since Gamma received their house. She was leaving to complete her graduate work at Boston University.

The first anniversary party of Gamma Chapter was held in 1930. This anniversary was called “Kappa Day” and at this affair we were honored by the presence of brothers from Alpha, Delta, and Epsilon Chapters. This celebration was climaxxed by our gift of a set of card tables to the school camp.
Since the year 1924, the membership of Gamma had steadily increased until the outbreak of the war.

On April 8, 1933, a Gamma Alumni meeting was held at the school camp on Wilson Pond. Part of the day was devoted to a program of physical contests, which took place on land and water.

Gamma, living up to its reputation of making and accepting changes, added something new to its initiation of pledges. The new requirement was “whiffle” haircuts. All pledges complied with the new rule except one. He will probably never forget the year of 1934-1935, for he had to make a special trip to Paige Homestead Dairy Farm, accompanied by a milk bottle. Past history fails to reveal just what happened.

In the year of 1935-1936, the Ashuelot River decided that it, too, desired an educational degree. It overflowed its banks and joined the student body at Keene Normal.

The annual tea for the year 1936-1937 harbored a surprise to the faculty. Our tea set, presented to us by Brother Frederick Simmons, was first used. This handsome tea service was decorated in the Fraternity colors, with the Fraternity seal.

The next year, the Honorable H. Styles Bridges, Senator from New Hampshire and Walter M. May, Deputy Commissioner of Education of New Hampshire were added to our list of Honorary Members.

Gamma had an unwanted visitor in September, 1938. It was the infamous hurricane, which soon sent Gamma men out to cut up trees and remove debris. Our house was left untouched.

At this time I would like to thank the Gamma men for their work in compiling this history from 1921-1939. It is our only source of past chapter information, due to losing our records and other papers when our house was burned in January, 1943. During this year the Navy had taken over Keene Teachers College as a training center and because of this, the women were placed in the men’s houses. It seems that the women in our house were addicted to smoking against the rules and had the habit of disposing their cigarettes in a barrel in the cellar. Unfortunately, waste in the barrel ignited, and the flames traveled through three floors of partitions. Needless to say, this woman has never been considered a friend of the Gamma Brothers.

From 1939 to 1945, Gamma had been very active in campus life and steadily increased its membership. Some of the ideals we practiced were: closer relationships between college and Gamma Alumni; promoting better inter-collegiate relationships; satisfying the thirst of culture; patriotism, tolerance, and understanding.

In 1943, Gamma activity was curtailed by the government, but Gamma men carried out their jobs in the armed forces with flying colors. In 1944, Gamma lost Brother Hollis Furbush, who gave his life in the South Pacific Area, while serving in the Marine Corps.

After the war, ten Gamma men returned to college and took over the helm to bring Gamma back to its pre-war position. Their objective was “to help develop better teachers”. Since this time, Gamma has regained its past status and once again is on the march for a bigger and better fraternity. This was proven by the extremely successful, annual formal ball, and the rollicking success of “Kappa Kapers”.

The prime project for the next year, 1947, was the rebuilding of the social room on the third floor, which had been badly gutted by the fire in 1943. This room soon became the center of campus social life.

The year of 1948 was truly a success. It began with a faculty tea, at which Mrs. Wallace Maon presented us with a mantle clock for our social room. The rushing season was an overwhelming success with thirty-one men pledged. However, only thirty completed their three degrees, because Brother Edward L. Reynolds was taken by sudden death before he could take the last degree. Nevertheless, we of Gamma consider “Eddie” a full-fledged Gamma man.

It was also during that year that Brother Harry Preston retired from active teaching. Brother Preston had been our housefather since 1929.

Because our membership is large, Gamma Chapter is successful again this school year. The highlight of the first semester was the Gamma Barn Dance. Besides the school activities, we are redecorating our house. This was greatly aided by the furnishing of our livingroom by Brother Simmens, our housefather.

Gamma, like all other chapters, is looking forward to a larger and better fraternity, both in our chapter progress and in that of the National Body.

DELTA CHAPTER

Raccoon coats, Model "A"s, and flappers, a-painted and a-plenty; these formed the settings for college days in the era of the raucous "Roaring Twenties!" Enthusiasm? Unlimited! A ceiling? Yes, the sky!! Yet, from this background, at Boston University School of Education, that home of staid walls and ivy-covered professors, the need for "advancement" of another type, a professional educational fraternity, was voiced.

Conception took place in the mind of Franklin C. Roberts, now a full professor at Boston University School of Education. Like all good mothers, he was beset with the labor pains of bringing into the cruel world his brain-child. The birth of his idea, a Delta Chapter of the National Fraternity of Kappa Delta Phi, occurred on the evening of November 8, 1926. Here was the original Delta Chapter, a handful of brothers, eager but untried, a pioneering group of embryo savants!

There ensued then a bustling of activity which agitated even the venerable rafters of that architectural triumph, the School of Education. The fraternally-minded sponsors were energetic, unspiring of time and effort, examples for following generations of Delta Men.

And then one day just before the close of the year came the news from the General Council that breathed official life into the Boston University Chapter of Kappa Delta Phi! A step had been taken with a high-minded goal ahead.

"Dear Brother Roberts:

At a meeting of the executive committee on Tuesday, the 7th of December, it was moved and seconded to include the Kent State College and Boston University among its constituency. Our action will be ratified by the fraternity at the meeting next held. You are, hereby, empowered to act in full capacity in organizing a chapter in the above school . . . "

And act he did! A meeting of the charter members, among them, Brothers Brooks, Wheaton, Doucette, Taylor, Makechnie, Sala, and Pasquantonio was held, and Brother Roberts of the Beta Chapter explained the purposes of the fraternity. A constitution was drawn up, and the Delta Chapter was under full sail on the seas of fraternity.

"... To perpetuate the finest elements of social and fraternal fellowship" was the lesson preached by founding Brother Roberts at this first meeting, and it remains as the keystone upon which the fraternity rests.

On January 6, 1927, the day of reckoning came. Formal initiation of the charter members into the National Fraternity took place in the celebrated "due form". The significance of those few words is apparent to all members.

In the following "baker’s dozen of years", the initial enthusiasm was matched by the talents of the Brothers in social activities, scholastic recognition, and professional integrity in the teaching field.

The "Terrible Thirties" dawned on the Boston scene with all the grimness of poverty and the despair of shattered fortunes. But not so for Delta Brothers! There were no fortunes to be lost! Delta Brothers, in keeping with the highest ideals of the teaching profession, strictly adhered to the philosophy of "Genteel Poverty". Truly, in retrospect, they were versatile in their ideas. In April, 1930, the fraternity voted to award a cup to the senior in the School of Education who ranked foremost in scholastic achievement. This custom continued until 1940. Significantly, the report of November 3, 1930, records the human touch:

"It was voted that the fraternity expend fifty cents for the purchase of five ash trays for the convenience of the members." Economy was the watchword for Delta men. Yet, depressions are only temporary, and we find the records of 1934 and 1935 revealing an even fuller social program than enjoyed pre-1929.

Eventually, however, F.D.R. and the New Deal were part of the American picture, and the Brethren began to shake the cobwebs of poverty from about Ye Young Chapter. Plans were drawn up for the acquisition of a house to serve as a residence for the capitalistic few and a focal point for fraternity socials and meetings. In 1939, the long drawn-out quest materialized and the Delta Chapter House was located at 845 Boylston Street, near the School of Education.

This brings to light the major problem that has plagued the chapter since its inception in 1926. Boston University is composed largely of commuting students, "subway scholars", in which category many of the Brothers fall. Relatively few members reside in the Hub which raises the problem of operating a financially successful house. Other brothers are wary of a cuisine conducive to the terrors of ptomaine poisoning.

So, the problem of a house for Delta is not a new one. It existed in the Twenties, Thirties, and again in the Fifties. A committee of enthusiasts is at present combing the streets of the Back Bay area for a modest penthouse or vacant closet in which to set up housekeeping. Anticipation runs high again!

In summary, the Delta Chapter of Kappa Delta Phi has led a normal, healthy career. It has had its banquets, its parties, its socials, its open house meetings, and its outings. While the house existed, pre-war, its doors were never closed upon sound entertainment. The Chapter has always welcomed into its ranks the calibre of student who valued the closer, convival associations, the social and professional contacts afforded by our fraternity life.

The early "Forties" saw the rise of war and hatred among the peoples of the world and the resultant holocaust. During the war years our Chapter lapsed of a necessity, and it was a tragedy to this historian as also the Fraternity that records of this period went A.W.O.L.! Today, however, the existing records are kept in a central location.
Again, in 1947, the need for a professional fraternity was felt. This time the Chapter was brought to life through the efforts of two alumni Brethren, Hal Kedian and Bill Welton. To these men we are sincerely indebted, for it was as a result of their efforts that the Chapter lives again. This beginning again was hampered by the lack of a house once more and the meetings were held at the School of Education and the sacrosanct Harvard Club lounge!

An that’s our history, sketchy perhaps, possibly even exaggerated, in an attempt to lend color to a factual chronicle. But the spirit of Delta can never be interpreted in data or statistics. It is the spirit of Kappa-Kinship, Delta-Duty, and Phi-Philanthropy; the crux of our fraternity.

NOTE: Dates within parentheses show dates of admittance to the fraternity. These roll calls were made as of January, 1950.
The urge to band together has been one of the most predominant known to man. It was especially strong at Rhode Island College of Education in April of 1927, and, as a result, a few of the men at the College formed what is today known as Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Delta Phi.

Prior to the time that Carl Porter-Shirley, then a graduate student at the college, organized Epsilon, the men at the institution had been united in a local organization known as Delta Pi. Realizing the importance of belonging to a national group, however, the local unit was disbanded, and another Teachers College added its name to the roster of Kappa Delta Phi.

Because of circumstances beyond its control, the newly formed arm of the national body was forced to operate "sub rosa" for the first nineteen years of its existence. Meetings were held, but that was about all the brothers could do.
During the second World War, Epsilon saw her sons go off to take their places in the various branches of the armed forces. Of course, with all the members in the service, the chapter was abandoned.

The year 1946 found the male students returning to the college. With the return of the men, also came the urge for fraternizing. The old records, such as they were, were located, and Epsilon underwent a rebirth.

The stimulating effect of the new blood was just what was needed to make Kappa Delta Phi one of the outstanding organizations at Rhode Island College of Education. From a unit of less than ten members, Epsilon has grown to a membership of almost four times that number. In view of the rapid growth, one might question whether Epsilon has let down any of its barriers. Quality, not quantity, is still the watchword of the men in the organization.

In 1948, two years after reactivation, Epsilon Chapter made its first major move towards becoming a recognized member of student body organizations. This move came in the form of a Christmas party of eighty state-wards. To say that the affair was a tremendous success would be a gross understatement. The faculty and student body were quite impressed by our move. “Kadelphians” were in!

After successfully sponsoring the Christmas party, the Greek Letter Men, never content to rest on their laurels, immediately started to institute plans for Epsilon’s first hazing week. The candidates for the fraternity went through their paces. Costumes, quite unlike any ever worn by pedagogical spirits, were worn to all classes for a period of one week. The unshaven upper lip was the method of identifying the potential “Kadelphian” during the second week of his orientation. All went over beautifully. There were no complaints from the faculty, and the student body welcomed the change in routine. Epsilon had climbed to the second rung of the ladder.

The first degree ceremonies for that pioneer group of candidates were performed with all the pomp and ceremony possible. The senior brothers sponsored a buffet supper for the new members and a few invited guests.

After the ice had been broken, things were a little less rough for Epsilon. “Co-operate with the frat” seemed to be the cry from the students at R. I. C. E.

In 1949 and 1950, the alumni body was reorganized. The strength of this group is not, as yet, at its peak. The older brothers, however, are working endlessly to bring all the stray lambs to the fold. Perhaps 1951 will see all Epsilon men returning to the warmth of the fraternal circle.

Although Epsilon is still in the creeping stage, we at the Rhode Island College of Education pray that she will continue to suffer "growing pains". Yes, "growing pains" cause some little suffering, but true "Kadelphians" are willing to bear it as long as it is for the good of Kappa Delta Phi.

NOTE: Dates within parentheses show dates of admittance to the fraternity. These roll calls were made as of January, 1950.
The first information available concerning the beginning of Zeta Chapter, Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity, Farmington Normal School, goes back to 1930. The fraternity up to this time was called Sigma Omicron Sigma. It was usually known by S.O.S. and it flourished greater than ever during the year 1930. It was founded several years before that date by the young men of the school for the purpose of promoting greater interest among and especially along the music line and entertainments. Each year this group put on an entertainment and planned many other types of get-togethers. The membership was limited to fifteen active members and the initiations afforded much amusement to the student body. During the same year a petition was sent to Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity for admittance.

In 1931, the Sigma Omicron Sigma Fraternity of Farmington Normal School was accepted by the National Executive Committee to Kappa Delta Phi. This chapter received the letter designation of Zeta. Reginald Ingalls of Bar Harbor served as the first president of Zeta. There is little in the records to show that the fraternity was very active for the first few years; perhaps this was due to the fact that the fraternity members were scattered over the town as there was no men's dormitory at that time. It should be stated that the new library of Farmington State Normal School had reason to rejoice about the middle of March, 1933, when Charles Towle, an outstanding member of Kappa Delta Phi, marched gravely up the aisle of Merrill Hall, the assembly hall of F.S.N.S., and presented Miss Mantor, the sponsor of the library, with a check for fifty dollars. The money had been raised by means of a minstrel which the Zeta Brothers had spent much time and energy preparing. The minstrel was ably coached by Charles Towle, and it was one of the outstanding successes of the school year — from the opening announcement by Neale Howard, the president, who acted as announcer and interlocutor, to the closing strains of the aisles in gales of laughter. Outstanding among the performers were Harry Mickalide, Kenneth Gross, Romolo Lorenzi, Al Willette, Harry Britt, Julian Thompson, and Bill Webber, whose inspired clowning brought down Holbrook and Isabelle Bennett, without whom the show could not have been a success. “Doc” Howard, the president, announced that he was being succeeded by Jack Harriman, a well-liked second year man. Other officers elected were Bill Webber, Pete Gattrell, and Dick Hall.

In 1934, due to the increased enrollment of men, The Lodge, a former girls' dormitory, was converted into a men's dormitory. It might be possible that this may have had something to do with the fact that Zeta began to increase its activities.

Wilbur Clark served as president during the year 1935-1936. During the next two years several dances and a grammar school tournament for all the grammar schools of Franklin County were sponsored. These proved so popular that they became annual events.

During the year 1936-1937, Gwilym Roberts, National President of Kappa Delta Phi in 1947-1948, served as chapter president with Bernard LaBergo, Vice President; Joseph Fox, Secretary; Flin Taylor, Treasurer; Harvery Kelley, Chaplain. Although the fraternity was still handicapped by lack of a place to hold their meetings, many other activities were added.

In spring of 1937, some discussion was carried on concerning the purchase of a fraternity house. A committee was appointed to investigate the possibilities, but on report of committee, the action was deferred. Charles Wright of Clinton, Maine, was elected president for 1937-1938, and was to serve as chairman of the investigating committee. During the summer he arranged for the purchase of the Abbott School dormitory, subject to the approval of the chapter. Harland Abbott served as Vice-President during the same year with Norman MacWilliams as Secretary, and Woodrow Marcier as Treasurer. In the fall of 1937, negotiations were made, and quite a few men moved into the newly purchased building and started work on it immediately. A new heating plant was installed along with other building repairs. In order to legally own the property and conduct business in an orderly way, Zeta was incorporated in October, 1937. In February, 1938, Mrs. Alice Whitecomb assumed the position as Hostess of the fraternity. The following letter, written by a member of the class of 1940, seems very appropriate for this history: "The Class of 1940, of which the writer is a member, was so fortunate as to have an actual part in starting the fraternity on a new basis — that of owning and living in a fraternity house, largely through the efforts of Charles Wright (President 1937-1938). Zeta Chapter with something less than two dollars in the treasury, in the spring of 1937, decided to purchase a fraternity house. Several properties were investigated and finally the dormitory of the defunct Abbott School, famous in the annals of the Abbott family and the town of Farmington, was hit upon. The location proved ideal although the building was in sad repair. Work of repairing was started in the summer of 1937, but when classes reconvened in September very little progress had been noted. A few hardy souls, however, moved into the house — thus began the powerful regime of the Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity at Farmington State Normal School. As the Fall progressed more repairs were made and more juniors and seniors moved into the house. The freshmen that year were taken in exceedingly early to assist in putting the fraternity 'on its feet', to speak figuratively, initiation starting a week prior to October 31. (Freshmen were permitted to attend the Halloween barn dance at Alumni Gym, although they had to wear their doughnuts if they had spoken tonight)."

The year 1938-1939 brought Harland Abbott as President of Zeta Chapter. His other officers were Arthur Cooper, Vice President; Wendy Eaton, Secretary; Clayton Reed, Treasurer. It was learned during this year that Zeta had 75 active under-graduated members. The boys continued repairing the house which they knew would take a lot of hard work for several years.

Arthur Cooper was elected President for the year 1939-1940, with James Dow as Vice President, Harold Blood as Secretary, and Raymond Brennick as Treasurer. Zeta had fifty-eight men under its roof which probably was the greatest number of men ever accommodated in the building during its history as a dormitory. As an educational fraternity, some of the features of its work have been: the establishment of a library in the house, the organization of a chorus within the group, and the creation of a tutoring system for the benefit of underclassmen. The fraternity’s efforts have constantly been directed toward furthering and sponsoring activities which would be helpful to the community. The only reward that was asked by this group was the opportunity to serve society still further.

Entering its twelfth year with Raymond Brennick as president, Zeta Chapter admitted into its membership eight new members. The other officers who aided in directing the affairs of the fraternity house were Gordon Smith, vice president; Thornton Moore, treasurer; and Lewis Scott, secretary. In endeavoring to carry out its aims, the fraternity sponsored many social events and contributed to charity. The most outstanding event was Fraternity Week. This included a Mother’s Day Program, fraternity elections, and the annual banquet and dance which successfully climaxed the activities of the year.

Contributing greatly to the activities of the school, Zeta Chapter elected Henry Cameron as its President during the year 1941-1942, with Harold Scott as Vice President, Bernard DeCourcy as Secretary, and Thornton Moore as Treasurer. With the smallest number of men ever to live at the Fraternity house, Zeta carried on its activities both for the school and the community. The fraternity library grew immensely and became the proud possessor of an honor roll of Zeta men enlisted in the service of their country.

Harold Scott was elected President, with James Riordan as Treasurer for the year 1942-1943. The year presented a struggle to Zeta Chapter — a struggle to save the fraternity house which the members occupied six years ago, and to the improvement of which they gave countless hours of labor. Starting the year with five members, Zeta initiated four freshmen as new members. As the year progressed, however, one after another of these fellows was called into the service. Harold Scott, the President, was inducted in February, and William Lane served as President until he, too, soon joined the many other Zeta men in the service. Realizing the problems of the active chapter, the 153 alumni members, of whom 103 were in the armed services, responded with contributions of several hundreds of dollars to help save the house. These generous gifts provides an impressive example of the strength and loyalty of the alumni group. In spite of handicaps, the house maintained itself successfully throughout the year, under the guidance of Gwilym Roberts, in the temporary absence of Mother Whitcomb. In the years before Pearl Harbor, Zeta Chapter usually had about fifty members in residence. With the beginning of war, the number gradually decreased as more and more fellows entered the service of their country. Then from 1943-1946 there was no active chapter. The alumni members of the fraternity were scattered all over the world. These were the fellows who had spent many hours in decorating the fraternity house with colorful autumn leaves and fragrant pine for the dances that meant so much, in singing around the fireplace on cold winter evenings, in listening by the hour to the latest swing records, in playing softball in the shadow of "Little Blue", and in walking the paths by Abbott Pond in the beautiful warm evenings of spring. Where were they then? On very battle-front of the world — flying bombers over Northern Europe, and fighters over Italy — in Australia, and in the Jungles of New Guinea — in disease-ridden India, and sweltering Persia — in Africa, and at isolated weather stations in Greenland — fighting over mountains in Italy, and through swamps of the Pacific islands — they were serving wherever the enemy was to be found. Two gave their lives in 1944. One was missing in action and still another “sweated out” the war in a German prison camp. Many were in posts of extreme danger. In the room where once they danced and sang, a service flag hung in tribute — a tribute to the once carefree boys who then, with others like them, were the men upon whom the world depended. The house, and the flag, awaited their return to the things for which they fought. A few of the fraternity men did reopen the house in 1946 — thus entering its first postwar year. Arthur Cooper was President, and Raymond Brennick was Secretary-Treasurer. There were three new men admitted into its membership.

The house was finally put into shape when the class of 1946-1947 came. Water pipes were broken, windows were broken, and the house was really in bad shape, but for the next few years the men worked hard to make a home for themselves. Back interest on the mortgages had to be worked out. All in all, there were many headaches, but the fellows worked hard and finally showed that the house meant a great deal to both the active members and to the alumni. These men felt that they must do their best because the alumni had contributed approximately $1,400.00 during the war in order to keep the house. Wilfred Morin was President, William Lane as Vice President, Roland Decoteau as Secretary, and Clarence Benson as Treasurer.

The year 1947-1948 brought Wilfred Eldredge into office of President with Lawrence Poulin, Vice President; Jerome Audet, Secretary; and Edward Daley, Treasurer. Eldredge saved the fraternity a great deal of money during the year because of his ability to do most anything that needed fixing around the house. Fire escapes were put up, and the entire cost was approximately $1,200.00. The house really began to get into shape during this period, with the enrollment approximately 57 men.

Clifton Burton served as President during the year 1948-1949. Alvas Rand was elected Vice President, and George Goforth was made Treasurer. Louis Paquin became Secretary, but at the end of the first semester he left and Robert Carter assumed the post of Secretary. During this period of time the floors in the living room, front hall, and library were sanded and varnished. New rugs were purchased for the living room, and the entire first floor looked like new. During the initiation of the freshmen, the front steps to the fraternity house were repaired. This again made the house seem like a place where the men were bound to make a home for themselves during their stay at Farmington State Teachers College.

This brings us to the year of 1949-1950. Robert Carter was elected President, and his fellow officers, Maurice Clukey as Vice President, Richard Bartlett as Secretary, and Verne Byers as Treasurer, helped to improve the house as much as possible under the limits permitted by the finances. We started off the year with 61 men living in the house which we believe to be a record number. All of the men, both members and freshmen, seem to have a great deal of interest for the fraternity. We believe that all the new men will join the fraternity, if invited, because no one seems to have any desire to live elsewhere, even under the crowded conditions to which we have subjected ourselves.

ETA CHAPTER

On December 6, 1931, the Alpha Delta Sigma Society of Washington State Normal School was granted a charter to the National Fraternity of Kappa Delta Phi. Since that time this chapter has been known as the Eta Chapter of Kappa Delta Phi.

It has been and still is the outstanding organization in the school. The aim of the chapter professionally is to support and perpetuate the highest educational ideals and traditions. The social aim is to strengthen and preserve the bonds of fellowship which should unite men working for a common cause.

It has been the custom of the chapter to hold each year a formal Fraternity Ball as well as a number of events which have proved to be both interesting and worthwhile.

We have attempted this year to gain a closer contact with the National Headquarters. We have been most successful in this venture which has done a great deal to strengthen the “spirit de corp” and morale of our members.

This chapter had the added distinction this year of having elected to high offices in the Kappa Delta Phi two of its Alumni members. Philip Hallowell ’31 was elected as National President and Hector LeMaire ’35 was made a member of the Executive Board.

We feel that at present our chapter is decidedly on the up-grade and we are looking forward to the formulation of a much broader program than has characterized our organization in the past.

NOTE: Dates within parentheses show dates of admittance to the fraternity.
These roll calls were made as of January, 1950.
In 1938, Beta Xi, an organization native to the Edinboro State Teachers College Campus, was dissolved and its members, under the sponsorship of Mr. Aimee Doucette, became brothers of Kappa Delta Phi. These were members of the original group whose brotherhood was preserved by the charter as Theta Chapter of our organization.

Since the inauguration of Theta, World War II, with its resultant effect upon male enrollment on all college campuses, and other prevailing factors, the Chapter has not been as active as its members may have wished. Thus, detailed records of a pertinent nature are, for the most part, unavailable.

Beginning with the period of heavier enrollments and pledgings, following the return of the veterans, the ranks of Theta have grown proportionately and thus have its activities. The years 1946 and 1947 saw a heartening increase in enrollment.

It was with pride that Theta Chapter, on May 14, 1948, sent five representatives to the National Convention in Boston. The chief reason was that Mr. Aimee Doucette was unanimously nominated to the national presidency by the assembled group.

DECEASED ALUMNI

Church, John (1947)
Kaufman, Robert (1939)

NOTE: Dates within parentheses show dates of admittance to the fraternity. These roll calls were made as of January, 1950.
Early in the spring of 1938, the brothers of Lambda Pi Sigma Fraternity of Gorham Normal School applied for membership in the National Fraternity of Kappa Delta Phi. Their application was accepted and on May 7, 1938, the small organization at Gorham became Iota Chapter of Kappa Delta Phi. The dedication exercises were held at the Portland Boys Club. The charter was presented to President Carlton Landry of Cape Porpoise, Maine, by brothers from Gamma and Zeta Chapters, who were instrumental in the formation of Iota. There were thirty-nine brothers who signed the charter, thus becoming charter members.

Iota Chapter had a fine start as a fraternity because of the fact that it was a local fraternity for nearly fifteen years before becoming a member of the National Organization. With the change-over at Gorham, from a Normal School to a Teachers College, and the increased male enrollment, Iota grew into one of the strongest fraternities on the campus. The first four years, for the most part, were exceedingly busy ones, highlighted by annual outings and parties. The outings are still continued as an annual affair. In 1939, Iota Chapter was instrumental in forming an Inter-Fraternity Council on the Gorham campus. The brothers, in order to raise those very necessary funds, decided to present a minstrel show. They organized, wrote, and presented the most successful minstrel ever given on the campus. Encouraged by the favorable acceptance of the show, the brothers decided to make it a yearly affair. Iota Chapter also presented a cabaret in 1939 and has followed this custom through the years.

In 1942, Iota found itself in the same general situation as the rest of the country; that is, the war was calling the brothers into active service. The draft necessitated two elections of officers in that year. On May 25, 1943, a special meeting was called to order by President Ray Knight and the three remaining brothers were present. It was decided that the chapter be disbanded for the duration of the war. The records were carefully laid away in safe keeping until such time that reorganization would be possible.

On March 15, 1946, when nine of the brothers had returned from the war, reorganization took place. Although this occurred late in the year, the annual outing was held just the same.

The newly reorganized chapter grew rapidly back into the leading position on campus and has maintained that standing. The years 1947 and 1948 were full ones with presentation of the "Kappa Minstrels" and the "Kappa Kabaret".

In 1948, forty-three brothers of Iota went to the Annual Convention in Boston to win the President’s Cup. The "baby" chapter had started to grow up.

Hampered by the lack of a fraternity house, the brothers decided to hold their meetings in one of the local halls, which they hire monthly.

One of the outstanding projects of 1948-1949 was the starting of a scholarship, which pays the entire tuition of a deserving male upper classman for one year.

At the Convention in Boston the brothers of our Chapter gave a repeat performance and won the President’s Cup for the second consecutive year.

We are already making plans for this, the Golden Anniversary Year, and are in hopes of bringing back the Cup once again.

NOTE: Dates within parentheses show dates of admittance to the fraternity. These roll calls were made as of January, 1950.
On March 3, 1950, the Executive Committee of the National Fraternity, Kappa Delta Phi, and members from Alpha Chapter at Bridgewater State Teachers College installed the charter members of Kappa Chapter at the State Teachers College in New Haven, Connecticut. These members were junior and senior men who signified their desire to join at a meeting on February 6, 1950.

The New Haven State Teachers College Chapter of Kappa Delta Phi is the first one in Connecticut and the first educational fraternity at the college. It came at a time when the New Haven State Teachers College was contemplating construction at a new location.

Connecticut was one of the first states to recognize the value of special preparation for elementary teachers, and in 1893, an act of the legislature established a State Normal School at New Haven. Under the terms of the act, the New Haven City School District was required to furnish suitable buildings as practice schools in connection with the teachers-training department of the Normal School.

Until 1930, a two-year curriculum leading to a diploma and temporary teaching certificate was offered, but in that year, a three-year elementary curriculum was inaugurated. In 1937, the state legislature established the New Haven State Teachers College as a four-year college, granting the degree of Bachelor of Science.

In 1946, four new programs, leading to a Bachelor of Science Degree, were added to the curricula of the New Haven State Teachers College. These include the following: the preparation of teachers in the elementary and secondary schools in art and physical education; the training for school and public librarians; and a special curriculum for nurses.

A program of graduate study leading to the degree of Master of Arts in Education was initiated in 1947, under the cooperative administration of the Department of Education, Yale University, and the New Haven State Teachers College.

In 1947, the State Legislature passed a bill for the purchase of thirty-seven acres of land as a new campus for New Haven State Teachers College. The new campus will ultimately accommodate 1,850 students. Actual construction began in the Spring of 1950.

Kappa Chapter of Kappa Delta Phi was the outgrowth of several years of effort on behalf of the men in the class of 1950. In 1949 this group formed a men's club but expressed their desire to join a fraternity which had already been established in the field of education. The selection of Kappa Delta Phi came after many months of correspondence to various fraternities in the field by Richard G. Rausch and Donald Rogers.

In October of 1949, the Student Council at New Haven State Teachers College unanimously passed a resolution introduced by Richard Rausch, President of the Student Council, to establish a chapter of Kappa Delta Phi on the campus. A planning committee drew up a constitution which was strengthened by the guidance of Mr. L. Franklin Moore, professor of social science at the college, and Mr. Leonard Joll, professor of Education and a life member of Kappa Delta Phi, Delta Chapter. The Faculty-Student Affairs Committee took the matter of establishing the fraternity under study and in January 1950 this committee approved the new organization.

On February 5, 1950, Richard Rausch, Donald Rogers, and Eugene Sivek traveled to Boston to meet with the Executive Committee of Kappa Delta Phi. The committee welcomed the admission of New Haven State Teachers College and was especially impressed with the local constitution which is a guarantee against all discrimination. All junior and senior men with a "C" average are given a bid for membership.

Kappa Chapter was given the "go ahead" signal on February 6, 1950, when Dr. Samuel M. Brownell, President of the College, approved the creation of the fraternity. The next day Donald Rogers was elected president of the chapter; Michael Nicefaro, vice-president; Mark Carlucci, corresponding secretary; Ernest Marzullo, recording secretary; Eugene Sivek, treasurer; Frank Gentile, marshal; and Richard Rausch, Chapter representative. Mr. Leonard Joll was elected faculty advisor of Kappa Chapter and Mr. L. Franklin Moore, Mr. Joseph B. Hoyt, Mr. Marcellus N. Brown and Mr. Warren G. Hill were elected honorary members of the Chapter.

IN ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This publication would not have been possible without the cooperation of many people.

Mr. Frank J. Licher, L. G. Balfour Co., was responsible for Chapter Two.

The art work was done by William Lafferrandre.

The pictures were reproduced by Joseph Oakey.

Dr. Edward A. Lincoln prepared Chapter Five.

Chapter histories were compiled by the brothers of the individual chapters.

The National Secretary, Paul E. Bridges, has been invaluable in collecting much data for this publication.

Finally, the grand job of printing and binding was done by Edward L. Presby, proprietor of the Ammonoosuc Press, Box 98, Lisbon, New Hampshire.
