Massachusetts Reading Association Administrative History

The Massachusetts Reading Association, or the MRA, is a professional non-profit organization of individuals whose primary purpose is to improve the quality and level of literacy in the state of Massachusetts. The MRA is an affiliate of the International Reading Association, a worldwide literacy organization with a network of 300,000 educators in 99 countries. The MRA promotes literacy for all learners through professional development, research, publications, and advocacy for the literacy community. Some of the ways advocacy is met is through an annual state conference; disseminating best literacy practices to educators and parents; advocating for literacy issues through legislation, and through collaboration with other organizations with similar goals.

The MRA was officially chartered in 1969. The organization consists of a Board of Directors and elected officials. The organization's main publication, the Massachusetts Primer, is published twice yearly and is aimed at promoting and advocating literacy.

Scope and Content Note

This is an open collection that will periodically be added to. The collection is broken down into six different series based on subject. Due to being an open collection, the box numbers for each series begin with box 1. As of 2016 there were 12 boxes of records in the collection.

Series Descriptions

Series 1: Governance and Administration, 1 box

Contains MRA constitutions, by-laws, meeting minutes, membership information, and strategic planning material.

Series 2: General Publications, 3 boxes

Nearly all this series consists of the MRA publication the Massachusetts Primer, published twice yearly.

Series 3: Conferences and Workshops, 1 box

This series contains information and collected material for the MRA's annual conference going back to 1971. Programs, photographs, scrapbooks, anniversary events, and other related material of the conferences are included.

Series 4: Advocacy, Committees, and Individuals, 2 boxes

Ephemera, MRA historical information, and information on specific individuals involved with the organization make up this series. The last two folders of the series contain photographs.

Series 5: Related Organizations, 1 box

Contains material about other organizations that deal with literacy awareness, such as the International Reading Association and the New England Reading Association.

Series 6: Awards and Items, 4 boxes

This four box series is made up of three flat file boxes containing a group charter, numerous awards and state proclamations, and promotional items such as tote bags and tee-shirts. One box contains folders of awards that were paper and not framed or oversize. All the awards were presented to the MRA.
