First Parish Collection Administrative History

The First Parish Unitarian Universalist Church of Bridgewater started in what was called the “South Parish” of Bridgewater. In 1717, John Washburn deeded two acres of land “to the inhabitants of the southern part of Bridgewater to build them a meeting house” and to use part of the land for a burial ground.

The first meeting house, built in 1717, was enlarged in 1741. A second meeting house was built in 1760 (see Volume 1 for Parish meeting to build). Some sources indicate the second meeting house was built around the first one; and, when completed, the first building was removed. This second meeting house was enlarged in 1810. The Revere & Son bell was purchased in 1811, (see Volume 1 for original receipt) and was moved to the new Church, built in 1845 in its current location and still in use today. In 1954, Hurricane “Carol” toppled the steeple and the bell was in storage until 1960, when it was sold. The E. and G. G. Hook organ was installed in this building in 1852 and the organ loft reinforced in a renovation project in 1989. This organ is still in use.

The Church and Bridgewater State University have a long history of working together. The first Principal [President] of the Bridgewater Normal School was Nicholas Tillinghast, who held the position from 1840-1853. He was also a Deacon and member of the Church. Through this connection, the Bridgewater Alumni Association, formed in 1842, held part of its annual meeting at the Church through the rest of the 19th century. Through efforts of Albert G. Boyden, the Bridgewater Normal School acquired land owned by the Church in the early 1900s, which is where the gymnasium was built in 1904. Today, it is known as the Art Center.

“South Parish” has been served by 37 ministers in the last three centuries (from 1717 to the present, 2017). The records also show a great many “Supply” or guest ministers. A list of ministers is located at the end of this finding aid.

First Parish Collection Scope and Content Note

The collection consists of 26 boxes and 18 volumes. There are some volumes included within document boxes, the 16 volumes in Series 1 have been individually boxed for additional protection. Many of the documents fit into multiple series, for example “Pulpit supply receipts” were added to Series 4: Ministers instead of with other payment receipts in Series 3: Financials. Early “Bridging” newsletters from 1977-1996 were sent to Church members as legal-sized folded flyers, and are together in a legal-sized box within Series 5, other years of the newsletter are mixed in with the other publications.

Documents found in the collection include annual reports, Parish Committee meeting minutes and reports to the Committee, Orders of Service and “Bridging” newsletters, receipts, financial transactions, personnel documentation and renovation projects. The bulk of the materials date from the mid-19th to mid-20th centuries, with sporadic documents before and after.

Oversized items: blueprints belonging in Series 2 and other Church-related items are located in flat-file storage.
