President

President's Message

All existence worthy of the name, and all victorious living are achieved in terms of the individual. The place to look for a better life, for better government and business, for peace among nations and harmony at home is inside the individual.

Inner integrity, courage, sense of humor, strength, and power—these we must have to stand up to life. The only way we can be strong enough to stand up to this business of living is by rebuilding from within until we have the sources of power and leadership and are capable of regulating ourselves.

The citadel of the fort is always in the center; and so it is with man. His personality, his individuality must come from inner control, from self-discipline, and from constant watchfulness of mind and spirit. Cynicism, fear, worry, low ideals, cowardice are enemies of success, spiritual strength, and vital living. When these are driven out, a finer personality is possible.

Philosophy is something more than a course in your school curriculum, to be passed and forgotten. It is something each of us has, whether we recognize it or not. It is the aggregate of our enthusiasm and prejudices. It is the moral code by which we live. It is the equipment we bring to life and the response we expect from life.

Now that you are about to be graduated from Bridgewater and to take a more direct part in American society, it may be well for you to take inventory of these many elements which determine your outlook as an individual. You owe that appraisal not only to yourself but to your fellowmen.

The strength of the nation rests primarily on the strength of its moral character. Upon the teachers rest the responsibility for the development of character, intelligence, and appreciations in the young people the world over, especially in America where the teachers still enjoy the right to think freely, to explore areas of human knowledge, and to develop power of judgment.

While it is true today, as ever, that teachers must be the masters of their subjects, the new and continuously emerging fact is that teachers are becoming more fully cognizant of the spiritual and moral character of the child. The teacher's opportunities are limitless. The oncoming generation must acquire those disciplines essential for individual and group living.

May I wish you success and happiness as you go forth with a song in your hearts, faith in yourself, and a courageous spirit to meet the challenge.

JOHN J. KELLY,
President

Bessie E. Goff

To Miss Bessie E. Goff, who has been more than a teacher and librarian to us. She has been a true friend—who understood our problems and guided us with all the interest and ability she possessed. For these and many other reasons we will long remember her.

Dedication

To the Class of 1949

Hearty congratulations on the successful completion of your course in preparation for your teaching careers. Members of this class have shown marked ability, and the Class of '49 from the State Teachers College at Bridgewater should make real contributions to the teaching profession.

As you step out "on your own" hold to your ideals and ever be ready, while holding to the old, to try the new. The old is good, the new should be better. Do your part to make it so.

May the Father of Us All grant you rich blessings in the years ahead.

BESSIE E. GOFF

RARELY do four years in a person's life bring such valued friends. May these pages keep alive for you the beginnings of our many friendships and associations.

CLASS HISTORY

September, 1945. Our freshman year.

WE REMEMBER: the newness, the strangeness of it all—taking physical examinations while we clutched and grabbed at angel robes which were the uniform of the day. We remember when the dreaded first day of initiation arrived. We sang, we danced, we duck-walked around the campus, we weeded tennis courts, in fact there was no limit to our abilities.

Everyone was considered potential talent by the terrifying sophomores. Then at long last, the final day of initiation arrived and we remember the party given us by the sophomores. With relieved and happy sighs we wearily untied our grotesque coiffures and laid our name-signs aside, and then concentrated on having a most enjoyable afternoon with our new friends, the sophomores.

That year we chose for our class officers: John Berry, president; Alice Holden, vice-president; Ann Venti, secretary; and Alan Bates, treasurer.

We achieved the distinction of being the first freshman class to include veteran students after the end of the war. John Berry and Walter Gibson were two of the first to enter and as the year continued, more men students joined our ranks, and at last Bridgewater showed promise of becoming a co-ed college once more.

In the spring of that year practically every member of the freshman class took part in the great musical extravaganza, FRESHMANIA, which was ably organized by Walter Gibson. The show was a huge success and we feel that it has provided us with many memories for years to come.

The memories of our freshman year are pleasant ones. We remember the W.A.A. Supper Hike where we sang around the campfires in the brisk fall evening; Mardi gras with Riviera scenes and brightly costumed dances, and finally the graduation exercises of the class of 1946 where we took our places in the ivy-march and felt that now we were really a part of the Bridgewater tradition.

September, 1946

We entered school as sophomores that fall and we were looking forward to a year of memories and achievements that we would hold dear in the future years.

We elected as officers to lead us through our second year at Bridgewater: Ann Venti, president; Rita Fiorentini, vice-president; Alice Holden, secretary; and Marie Vincent, treasurer.

That year we participated in the biennial Gym Jam where we swung our partners, whirled and dosey-dosed, exhibiting our abilities as square-dancers and folk dancers before our friends and relatives. We will never forget the confusion when the electricity failed.

And this year found many men back in college. They were for the most part veterans; some of them returning to Bridgewater for a second time and others entering for their first year. It was truly fine to see them on campus.

The spring of our sophomore year found us making plans for another musical show. Our sophomore show was called S-CAPADES, and we hoped that it would even surpass the success of FRESHMANIA. Our hopes were fulfilled and everyone pronounced it a grand performance.

We remember taking our turn at initiating the freshmen, struggling through sophomore geography and physical science, the Christmas banquet and party, carol singing in the rain, the National Grouping sophomore test that we took for long hours in the auditorium.

Again it was the end of May with final exams and graduation swiftly approaching. One graduation day as we stood with our oak boughs raised high in honor of the class of 1947 we remembered that this had been a wonderful year of memories for us at Bridgewater.

September, 1947

We again returned to Bridgewater as upperclassmen. We felt certain that this was to be a well-remembered year. Our thoughts, and perhaps in many cases fears, were centered about Training School. This year we were to leave our studies to actually lead a class. At the end of our eight weeks training period we found that many of our fears had been ridiculous but there had also been problems that we had never thought of. As we left training school most of us felt that we had gained a valuable experience.

We elected Jean Gillette as president of our class. Her capable assistants were Marjorie Knight, vice-president; Alice Holden, secretary; and Claire Danis, treasurer.

The most important social event of the year for the junior class was the junior weekend which we held in the spring of 1948. Who will forget what fun we had at the midnight supper and dance; at the hot dog roast the next day; and at the barn dance with which we ended the weekend festivities?

WE REMEMBER: Training School and silk stockings; the liberal 2.30 permission after the junior dance; playing baseball at the picnic; Mardi gras, and now the campus looked on the beautiful breezy day that was graduation day for the class of 1948.

Yes, it was time for graduation again and this year we marched in the daisy chain. As we marched many of us paused to remember that the next graduation would be ours. It seemed unbelievable but we were looking forward to next September when we would return to Bridgewater in the enviable position of seniors.

September, 1948

At long last we were seniors! Although we were excited and joyful we were also a bit sad for this our last year at Bridgewater; the last year for gathering college memories.

For the second time Jean Gillette became our class president and Marjorie Knight was elected vice-president for a second year. Marie McNeill served as secretary, and Jack Kelly was our treasurer.

Now we were in the midst of hectic planning for graduation and its festivities. Class meetings, committee meetings, arguments, suggestions, and discussions were a result of this planning, but emerging from this chaos we feel there will be a memorable round of graduation activities.

Memories for our senior year include: Arranging the new short hair cuts under a graduation cap; three courses with Dr. McMullen; interviews with superintendents; senior training period; the excellent coffee served by Miss Pope; and finally, our senior banquet and prom, which will be one of the most lasting of our senior memories.

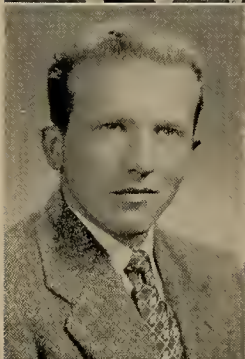

And as the most important graduation day—our graduation day draws near, many of us are looking forward to a new way of life, new horizons to be gained, but we will always be able to look back and we'll remember—Bridgewater!

Appreciation

To our advisors, Miss S. Elizabeth Pope, Miss Bessie Goff, Miss Mary Crowley, and Doctor Clement C. Maxwell for their genuine interest and advice. We also thank Mr. Walter Leach of Roberts Engraving Company and Miss Emma L. Branch of Warren Press for their patient service; Jacqueline Killen, Ann Venti, Marshall Laforet, and Walter Morrison for the help they have given us; and the senior class for its sympathetic understanding of our problems.

THE year-round sports program at Bridgewater has held a large part of our interest. Our best to the men and women who made it possible.

Sports

SPARKLES FROM THE DIAMOND

By IZZY GREENBURG and MARSH LAFORET

Owing to the necessity of going to press before the inception of the baseball season, the 1949 ALPHA carries the analysis of the previous campaign.

Faced with the usual obstacles of few veterans and a slim rank of new candidates, Coach Knute H. Andersson did a magnificent job of molding together an aggressive squad of baseballers, who gave a creditable account of themselves on the field.

Lusty doubles from the bats of Bill Ford and Dick Grimley gave local followers a chance to cheer, as the Teachers threw a scare into the highly touted Suffolk University array, in a tight opening battle in Waltham. . . . Filled with revenge after scoring one-sided wins over Tufts and M.I.T., the Suffolk nine invaded Bridgewater's Legion Field the following week; but for the first seven innings were subdued by the skillful twirling of Sargent Smith. An unfortunate fielding lapse ruined the fine efforts of Ricky Sargent and Happy Mazukina; and Smitty's twirling stint went to naught as the invading lads eked out a 3-2 victory. . . . The two other games that were played netted losses due to too many errors.

Despite their losses, the local nine displayed a determined, aggressive spirit accented by good sportsmanship of the field. Playing against more highly organized opposition failed to dim the sparkling brilliance of several of the Bridgewater performers, including such highlights as: Sargent Smith's pitching, Ricky Sargent's fielding gems, the fine peppy catching of Al Mazukina, the nimble pickups of short-stop Bill Ford, and Johnny Hugh's miracle-man catches in centerfield.

Considering the fine showing of the 1948 squad we are confident that the 1949 array, inspired by the return of Coach Frederick Meier, will splash frequently into the win column.

The 1948 Squad: Pitchers Sargent Smith, Ray Lanthier, Robert Teahan, Warren Thuotte, and Phil Cleary; infielders James Flanagan, Joe Kudara, Bill Ford, Malcolm Dillon, and Bob Lemos; catchers Alfred Mazukina and Chester Smolski; outfielders John Hughes, Erick Sargent, Al Walsh, James Topham, Bob Firing and Frank Hennessy. Managers Walter Gibson and Henry Hicks.

SOCCER GLIMPSES

Although struggling hard in many a contest, it proved of no avail as the locals emerged with no wins.

B.T.C. succumbed 5-2 to Fitchburg on October 5 on opposition territory. Pappas and Salley captured honors for the day. . . . Durfee barely tripped up the Maroon and White by 2-1, October 11, at home. George Pappas netted our only tally. The strong defensive work of Ricky Sargent, Al Mazukina, and Walt Morrison staved off a greater edge. . . . Boston witnessed the Suffolk eleven deliver a 2-0 knockout blow October 21. Ricky Sargent and Paul Salley led the defensive, thus preventing a further shellacking. . . . Bridgewater suffered another setback when New Bedford surmounted all barriers to claim victory by 6-1, November 1, at New Bedford. Bernie Miller featured the only goal. Other limelighters were Mazukina, Pappas, Morrison, and Sweeney. . . . Walt Morrison, Paul Salley, and Bill Sides tried to bolster up the home morale by leading the warriors with their aggressiveness; but again the Teachers registered a 4-0 loss against a powerful Durfee group on November 3, at Fall River. Joe Gregg, Chet Smolski, and Joe Emord proved capable subs. . . . November 6 drew the curtains on an unsuccessful soccer season as wins go, but truly eventful as was demonstrated when Bridgewater gave everything in their last battle with Suffolk on lower campus.

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL ACTIVITIES

Despite the efforts of Mother Nature, Director Walter Gibson managed to put on an extensive intramural football program which found a total of thirty-eight lads participating. An aggressive "Packers" group, paced by Captain Warren Thuotte and Sam Gomes, subdued Captain Johnny Hughes' "Rockets" and acting Captain Mal Dillon's "Bears" to cop the imaginary crown. Highlights of the season were the amazing "Rocket" passing combine of Ricky Sargent to Bob Lemos and the brilliant broken field running of the two "Bear" stars, Bill Ford and Joe Gregg. Dan Cagnina proved an experienced and capable arbiter by keeping the games running smoothly at a rapid pace.

Encouraged by the excellent results produced by appointing a Director of Intramural Activities, President Marshall Laforet and the M.A.A. Board authorized permanent appointments for Director Gibson and his assistant George Pappas. This move guarantees a uniform and permanent system of intramurals, thus allowing more men to participate in the athletic program. Plans for a complete round of interclass basketball and softball games have been put into effect.

BASKETBALL ON PARADE

Coach Frederick A. Meier picked up where he left off, after a year's absence, by molding B.T.C.'s basketball team into dynamic form for the coming season. A preliminary tournament between the Alumni and the Teachers showed the mettle of the latter. Hopes for a successful season were seen in the shining performances of such veteran players of last year's squad as Bob Teahan, Ricky Sargent, Sargent Smith, Jim Flanagan, Joe Kuder, Marsh Douthart, and Al Mazukina. Harold Bodle, a newcomer to Bridgewater, but not to basketball is promising first string material. Experienced J.V. material is aptly demonstrated in George Pappas, Marsh Laforet, Mal Dillon, Chet Smolski, Will Ford, and Bob Firing. Candidates Sam Gomes, Dick Stokinger, Don Bates, Paul Kelley, Don Morey, Bob Carter, Michael Sullivan, Jim McCarthy, and Ray Lemieux round out the squad. Several of the previous mentioned may prove to make good varsity material; Sam Gomes and Dick Stokinger look especially promising.

Alumni Succumbs

The Red and White claimed a victory in their first encounter when the Alumni were forced to acquiesce. 47-35 on November 20. Judging from the smooth clicking teamwork and veteran experience shown, Bridgewater can look forward to a good season.

An early deadline permits ALPHA little but to mention the schedule for the season, including eight home games and seven contests away, one held in the Boston Garden against Westfield Teachers, January 11, 1949. The opponents included: Durfee, Salem, Bryant, Fitchburg, Suffolk, New Bedford, Westfield, Curry, and Worcester.

Frederick A. Meier

COACH MEIER—GREETINGS

A fine example to the men in his high ideals of sportsmanship, Coach Frederick A. Meier has made a welcome return to B.T.C., after completing graduate work for a doctor's degree in health education at the University of Indiana.

Active in all varsity sports at Boston College, his Alma Mater, he also participated in semi-pro baseball and football. A man of wide experience and numerous accomplishments, Mr. Meier has instructed (just to mention a few) football, basketball, baseball, tennis, and track.

A chance to travel was made opportune when our coach went overseas in 1942 and acquired seven battle stars by the time of his discharge Christmas Day, 1945. He now holds the rank of major in the Reserve.

When allowed to squeeze out some spare time from being Dean of Men, science professor, and Athletic Director, Fred Meier likes to indulge in sailing.

BASKETBALL INTRAMURALS

Intramural basketball got off to a good start this year with a grouping of six teams organized along a divisional basis. Fred Nolan captained the senior team, the "Bombers." The juniors boasted of the powerful "Steamrollers" under Paul Salley and the aggressive "Celtics" led by Warren Cooke. Dan Cagnina and Warren Thuotte kept the sophomores in the league with their "Capitols" and "Knickerbockers." The sole freshman team was skillfully handled by Bill Sullivan, whose "Bullets" put up a good fight.

The program was handled by capable referees Al Mazukina, Joe Kudara, Bill Gault, and Marsh Laforet. Basketball, one of the "Big Three" in intramurals (the others being football and softball), provided copious fun, exercise, and relaxation for those individuals who lacked the time to participate in varsity athletics.

ATHLETIC AWARDS

An impressive ceremony was held on "Sports Night" in May, when President John J. Kelly, assisted by Athletic Director Frederick Meier, presented charms and award certificates to those members of the senior class who had qualified. This presentation marked the initial use of the new policy inaugurated by President Marshall Laforet and the M.A.A. Board. Under the new standardized system of award, a charm will be presented to those athletes who have accrued four varsity credits, and a certificate will be issued for each varsity credit received. Those seniors who have qualified as we go to press include:

Recipients of Charms

Erick Sargent—Soccer, Basketball and Baseball
Walter Gibson—Manager of Soccer, Basketball, and Baseball
Bob Teahan—Basketball and Baseball
Bill Gault—Soccer and Basketball
Bill Sides—Soccer
Fred Nolan—Soccer and Basketball

Recipients of Certificates

John Berry—Soccer and Tennis
Jack Kelly—Tennis
Sargent Smith—Basketball and Baseball
Howard Solomon—Soccer
Edward Sweeney—Soccer and Basketball

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

By ANN VENTI

The women of Bridgewater are an active and athletic group. W.A.A. records prove this. When fall rolls around and college commences, the townfolk of Bridgewater see a familiar sight. Students weighted down with suitcases and tennis racquets and other sport equipment come back for another year of study with some time out for recreation and fun. Let's take a look at lower campus some sunny, fall afternoon. Does that hockey field look small? It really isn't. Just ask the teams that finished playing that fast game. "Midge" Knight did a fine job as director and does as fine a job playing on the field. Some outstanding wielders of the hockey stick are Ruth Anderson, Louise Mariani, Jean Legg, Beverly Pottorn, Helen Kudlic, Jane Cliggott, and Claire Murphy. Our college sent a team to participate in a play-day at Wellesley. Jean Campbell was picked to be on the Second All Boston Team, position, right halfback.

Pauline Pifko, better known as "Pif", kept beginners and advanced players in tennis busy on the courts. Honor credits in this sport went to Irene Bouley, Dot Petrie, Jean Cappaluzzo, Helen Kudlic, Rhoda Leonard, and Virginia Smith.

Even though archery is an old sport, it is still popular and has many followers. Marion Higgins hit the bullseye with the fine job she did on the range as director. It may look easy to shoot an arrow and hit the target, but believe me, those who participate know it requires skill and calm, steady nerves. Dot Szafer, Sally D'Amelio, Carolyn Lorman, Adele Cebula, Barbara Rosenblatt and Marjorie Simmons are our feminine Robin Hoods.

It was good to see that volleyball had a large following this year. This has been one sport which hasn't been too popular with the girls in the past years for no apparent reason. Its success this year we attribute to the wise and careful planning of Gloria Gifford, the director.

The annual fall Supper Hike is looked forward to each year. Girls in their dungarees and sport shirts usually hike to the sand pits for an outdoor "weenie" roast, for talking, laughing, singing, and entertainment. This year, because of the threat of fires, the Supper Hike was held in the gym. This didn't dampen any spirits and a most wonderful time was had by all who attended. Mary Tarlian deserves a large share of the credit for making the affair a success.

When the second eight weeks of college rolls around lower campus looks deserted and the gym is bustling with activities. Basketball, modern dance, social dancing, and folk dancing occupy the most time.

Basketball enrolls the greatest number of students during the winter months. It takes a good eye to sink those shots, but W.A.A. teams have many girls who can do it.

Modern dance is taught to beginners and advanced by Claire Klein. Ruth Alice Henderson capably taught the first group of dancers while Training School kept Claire busy.

There is also a Modern Dance Club in the college that picks its members from the W.A.A. group.

Some of the other activities offered are swimming at the Y.W.C.A. in Brockton, bowling and miscellaneous sports, which include shuffleboard and ping-pong.

In addition to a varied sports program, W.A.A. offers some social affairs to its members. At the time of this writing a Barn Dance in conjunction with M.A.A. was being planned.

Votes of praise go to Jean Grant and "Ginger" Smith, both of the W.A.A. board. Jean and her committee quickly and efficiently organized tryouts for cheerleaders. Those chosen for 1948-49 were Joan Bull, Kay Sala, Ruth Alice Henderson, Virginia Knight, Ruth Anderson, Marion Murphy, and Marie Mulcahy.

Many students who stay at college over the week ends wish that the gym could be opened and used. If this use of the gym does come about the large share of the credit would go to Ginger who suggested the idea and who worked on the committee to help bring it about.

The year 1948 was the Silver Jubilee Year at our college for W.A.A. One of the highlights which helped celebrate it was the Women's Athletic Conference. Delegates from all Massachusetts State Teachers Colleges were on campus to have a wonderful week end, thanks to the grand co-operation of both the men and women students of Bridgewater.

Comes spring and the big event is the annual W.A.A. banquet. This is really a wonderful affair. Unity is felt everywhere, for every woman student in the college is a member of W.A.A., and everyone who possibly can attends the banquet. Freshmen, sophomores, and juniors have more banquets toward which they may look forward. For seniors its their last, but they leave with many happy thoughts and memories of the games they've played, and the wonderful times they've had with their best friends.

Rickey and Joan

THE warmth of our college depends on our undergraduates. Here is a record of those who are maintaining its life and standards.
