R.E.S.
Dedication to a Friend

"I am not afraid of tomorrow for I have seen yesterday and I love today"

For members of the Class of 1985, Achille Joyal was a special person. The majority of us had him for a teacher (Philosophy General Education Requirement), and many of us came to know him as a friend. It is very seldom in the world of higher education that these two qualities are mixed, and it is for this reason that the 1985 Yearbook is being dedicated to our friend, A.J.

The Joyal secret to teaching is simple: "I don't teach a subject, I teach human beings." It is that philosophy that helped us learn our Philosophy. It is almost implied that in order to teach a subject one must teach human beings. However, that is hardly the case. Without mentioning any names, almost every student on campus has had a professor that teaches the subject without worrying about whether it is being learned. The instances at Bridgewater may be limited because of the size of the school, but in larger schools like the University of Massachusetts, professors teach subjects.

The Joyal secret of being a friend to the students was even simpler. "I loved Bridgewater," says A.J. "I lived for it and I had a hard time getting over the hump after leaving." During the 18 years of teaching at this college, Achille has kept in contact with his students that have graduated and in 178 instances, he has played the organ at former students' weddings. This would seem to indicate that Bridgewater was more than just a college. "It was an extension of my life; the students were my family."

A.J's academic and personal Many of us have seen A.J. in a relaxed atmosphere such as this. Scenes like this have made it easier to accept him as a friend.
along with all that teaching experience, he brought human experience to Bridgewater 18 years ago. From 1959-1962, he worked as an educational advisor in Cambodia at the invitation of the Unitarian Service Committee. Currently he serves on the Board of Directors of Old Colony Hospice, which was keyed by a lengthy illness to a member of his family. With so many years in the field of education, it is hard to imagine him not teaching. Since his retirement from Bridgewater, he has been substituting at Bridgewater-Raynham High School as a Latin teacher and auditing courses at many of the Boston-area colleges in order to keep up with his contemporaries. With such a desire to teach and to learn it is hard to understand why he left Bridgewater. According to a Brockton Enterprise article, he retired to allow “young blood” into the philosophy program.

The 1985 Yearbook staff would like to thank Professor Joyal for the opportunity to dedicate this yearbook to him. We wish him the best of luck in the future and hope that he realizes that he has touched all of our hearts.

Juliette D. Johnson, Headmistress of Brighton High School and alumna of the class of 1964, delivers the Annual Convocation Address.
The opening of the 145th B.S.C. academic year was observed by the Fall Convocation exercises held on Tuesday, September 18 at 11:00 am. For the first time in years it was held in the newly restored Horace Mann Auditorium located on the ground floor of Boyden Hall. The annual Convocation Address was presented by Mrs. Juliette D. Johnson, Head Mistress of Brighton High School and alumna of the Class of 1964.

Other highlights of the event featured the introduction of the senior class officers followed by an inspired speech from class president Jeffrey May. The Student Government members for the 1984-85 year were introduced next, and S.G.A. president Daniel Magoon spoke about the upcoming year.

In terms of attendance, this year’s Convocation turnout was average. Approximately 200 seniors half-filled the auditorium, with a good number of observers occupying the last few rows.
World News

In World happenings, no other story dominated the headlines as did the famine in Africa. The story proved to be so powerful because it shoved a sudden realization in our faces; humanity is still in a struggle to survive! In an age where the world sits on the brink of global nuclear war, the famine brought people together to help each other. With 150 million people in 25 African countries on the verge of destruction, there has been a concerted effort by many people to bring immediate relief.

For 1985, we will remember the effort given by musical performers to bring this tragedy to light and strive to make a difference. The Christmas season, 1984, brought about a song entitled, "Do They Know It's Christmas?" which was performed by a group of British superstars called Band Aid. Revenues from this album went to famine-relief, but more importantly, the severity of the crisis was put in its tragic perspective. Months later, the performers from the United States answered with a similar song entitled, "We are the World." The same principles are involved; these include purchasing of food, medicine, and other necessities for survival with the purchase of the merchandise distributed by USA for Africa. Through the help of these two organizations, aid is being distributed to the 25 needy African countries.

Bridgewater State College has contributed to the famine relief cause by donating funds to Oxfam America and S.H.A.R.E. We will remember these events because everyone made a difference. When Africa is restored to a functional level, the world can take pride in the fact that we came together to save lives. And remember... We are the World.

Ronald Reagan was re-elected by a wide margin over Walter Mondale in the 1984 Presidential Election.

Prince Charles and Lady Di gave birth to another heir to the throne in other World happenings.
Local News

At Bridgewater State College, we had our share of news. It seems however, that the news that stands out above all else is the sad. College is a stage of life that combines learning and friendships, and seldom are the two intertwined. So with this in mind, 1985 was a sad year because two professors who exemplify this rare mix chose to retire from the teaching ranks. For those of us graduating, we can appreciate the dedication of Professors Achille Joyal and Robert Barnett.

Professor Joyal, A.J. as he is known to the students who took his philosophy courses, retired in December of 1984 after 18 years of teaching at Bridgewater. His special relationship with the students of Bridgewater make him worthy of having this yearbook dedicated to him.

Professor Bob Barnett also retired after many fine years of teaching in the theatre department. Barnett was responsible for putting on most of the productions staged at the college over the past few decades.

For those of us that had the opportunity to learn from these men and become friends with them, we see our lives have become much better because of it. We are only sorry to see them leave because their influence will not be felt by the students who will be attending Bridgewater in the future.

For most of us, the four years that we spent at Bridgewater will have been happy ones. However, we do share in the grief. In 1984, the college community lost a dear friend in Bob Mello. Mello had graduated from Bridgewater only a year before when his life was claimed in a car accident. The college has remembered Bob with the Bob Mello Scholarship Fund, and those of us who knew this talented actor and fine young man will share in the grief of his death.

National News

As far as National events are concerned, 1984 will dominate the memories of our college days. In that year, the nation overwhelmingly re-elected Ronald Reagan as President and we were treated to an American Olympic extravaganza in Los Angeles. 1984 was also the year of Doug Flutie and Vanessa Williams.

Ronald Reagan and the 1984 Olympics went hand in hand to lift national pride to great heights. The country had been battling with its pride since Richard Nixon and Watergate. For the U.S., Reagan represented the conservatism that they needed to regain basic values. Never in the history of the Presidential Election system did a President win with such a landslide margin. Along with Mr. Reagan, the summer Olympics also raised the spirit of the country. Even though the U.S.S.R. boycotted the event, America transformed itself into a stage to perform and prove superiority, both athletically and culturally.

This year was also a mix up of ideals and a recognition of a hero. The prestigious Miss America title and all the ideals that accompany it were crushed when Penthouse Magazine published three separate portfolios of Vanessa Williams in the nude and indulging in overt sexual positions with another female. On the other hand, 1984 adopted a new hero: Doug Flutie. Flutie captured not only the hearts of Boston College affiliates, but those of the nation. His exciting football play won him the coveted Heisman Trophy and he led his team to their best finish in the national polls ever. Flutie does represent America's ideals of the underdog and hard worker. While Vanessa Williams was disrobing, Flutie was scrambling his way in to the hearts of America.

1985 was the year for Eddie Murphy and his smash hit movie Beverly Hills Cop.
“Love is the passionate and abiding desire on the part of two or more people to produce together conditions under which each can be, and spontaneously express, his real self; to produce together an intellectual soil, an emotional climate in which each can flourish far superior to what either can achieve alone.”

The 1984 Homecoming Weekend was one of the most successful events of the '84-'85 academic year. The weekend was organized by S.G.A. 2nd Vice President Jeff Nummelin while the annual parade was coordinated by Ralph Plotke.

The Bears were defeated on Homecoming day by Curry College. Curry came into the game undefeated while the Bears were at 2-2. This was the first loss that Bridgewater had suffered on Homecoming in five years.
The Bears took a 10-7 lead early in the third quarter. But Curry shut down the Bears offense and scored two touch-downs en route to a 21-10 victory.

The Class of 1985 might well have been the last class at Bridgewater State College to enjoy the friendly confines of the Rathskeller, better known as simply The Rat. Whether it be a band, DJ, a Celtics game or a much needed break from Tilly food, The Rat was a place for friends to gather. One word of advice from the graduates of 1985 if it is to stay open: Get more pitchers!”
“What? Bridgewater? We’re supposed to be at Salem State!”

“Hey, who is that guy in the back?”

The popcorn line forms on the right.
"Here's an old favorite by the Chipmunks!"

"Whose round is it anyway?"
Mary and a close friend show their Irish spirit at a Rat party.

"I still pick the Celtics in..."

"Isn't this a great movie?"

"I'm too numb to smile!"
"Let me tell you about that guy!"

The Bacchae was performed by the Bridgewater State College Laboratory Theater in December of 1984. The class gave three free performances at the Student Union Auditorium.

The play was different than any other performed at the college over the academic year. It was an exercise for the actors in which they wore masks, which is what was done when the play was performed in the Greek era.

Among the actors included Steven Andrews, Denis Lawrence, Mark Pimenta, and Ed Miller.

AIR BANDS were the craze in 1985. B.S.C. kept up with the fad by having their own competition. It was surprisingly good turnout, and the competition was tough, but in the end "The Time" won out.
The group was organized by Ronnie Andrews. They later went on to compete for a place on the show “Putting on the Hits” but came in a close second.
The Club Soda was a new and different type of event at the college. Its success was overwhelming with all age groups although the program was geared towards the under 20 students. The weekly event featured comedians and other types of entertainment and served the famous mocktail drinks. The scenes pictured above are some of the highlights of this year's event. With the response to Club Soda so overwhelming, look for it to be around the college for quite a few more years.

Honors Day at Bridgewater State College was held in the Student Union Ballroom on Sunday, May 5, 1985. Each recipient was congratulated by Dr. Adrian Rondileau, President of the College, as their profile was read by Dr. Robert Dillman, Vice President of Academic Affairs. Some 350 people gathered to watch the over fifty recipients receive their awards and/or scholarships. Also presented were Paul Revere Bowls to retiring faculty, and the V. James DiNardo Award for Excellence in Teaching.

Dr. Robert Bent was the recipient of the Dr. V. James DiNardo Award for Excellence in Teaching, presented annually to a member of the faculty by the Bridgewater State College Alumni Association.
Yes that's right. We just cancelled all of your courses because you owe the library 15¢.

I hope this guy doesn’t register for my course. He looks like a fungus.

I’m sorry but according to our records, you don’t exist.

The Class of 85 was glad they were here for us and BSC is sad to see them go. Best of luck to these fine educators.

BSC was also saddened by the loss of dedicated Professor Dr. Robert A. Larson. We are thankful for the time he had to spend with us. He will always be a part of our memories as we bid him farewell.

Dear Graduates,

This book has been a labor of love for myself and my staff. We stopped counting the number of hours we spent laying out page after page and coming up with witty captions and interesting copy. We feel it was well worth the effort and we hope you do too. My only regret is that as time went on our staff dwindled until it was a small group that did the majority of the work. The section editors that failed to pull their weight know who they are and it isn’t necessary to point fingers.

I would like to thank those people who were not on the staff but made great contributions in the production of “Reflections '85”. Roberta Bena was my savior and did more work than any single staff member. I feel that without her help this book would never have been completed. Mike Storey, the Sports Information Director, was a great help in the production of the athletics section. He provided both his photographic services and his end of the season summaries that really finished off that section. Dick Sweich was our representative from Hunter Publishers, and he was always there when we needed him. He gave us a lot of creative ideas and was extremely helpful and understanding. Mr. St. Onge, of Studio I, was also helpful. I made a lot of demands on him this year because of our increase in the number of color pages and he did his best to satisfy us.

I would especially like to thank the Student Government Association and S.G.A. President Denis Lawrence. They gave us a sizeable budget increase and were very supportive of our decisions. Last year’s editor, Barbara Condon, gave us a lot of helpful suggestions, and the entire Community Services office proved to be extremely helpful. I would also like to thank my special friend Cathy, because she was always supportive and acted as a constant source of inspiration.

It is our hope that his book will bring you many pleasant memories in the years to come. The average picture is taken at one hundredth of a second so the actual amount of time represented in this book is approximately three minutes. We hope you were captured on film in that short period of time.

Good luck in all that you do, and remember...

“Go often to the house of Thy Friend
For weeds choke up the unused path.”

Sincerely,

Ralph E. Sinclair

The annual Comment Senior Leadership Award was shared this year by two members who contributed greatly to the growing success of The Comment. Stuart Gardner and Gregory Mathis (pictured below) were the two recipients for 1985. Stuart was involved with the paper for his four year duration at Bridgewater and held every key position on the paper including Editor-In-Chief, Managing Editor and Business Manager. Greg was a member of the paper for three years and held the position of Editor-In-Chief and Sports Editor. Both Stuart and Greg gave a lot not only to the newspaper, but to the college.

There were many members of the Class of 1985 that contributed greatly to the success of The Comment. Among them were Debbie Santheson, Nancy DuPont, Donna Schofield, Carrie Kulick, Kim Murphy, Tim Driscoll, Cisco Meneses, Ed Donahue, Audrey Little, Jack Murray, Steve O'Brien, Patricia Boyden, Dave Carriero and Russ Dougherty.

Good luck to all the graduating seniors that worked on The Comment!

A little more than two years after The Comment headlines read "Heads Roll at WBIM", WBIM rolled into its most successful year to date. A new music format replaced the "free form, anything goes" feeling of the past, allowing for DJ freedom and a balance of rock, funk, heavy metal, punk, reggae, jazz and blues. A four hour all-request show spring boarded into a more serious audience research plan. Ticket giveaways began with school events, then included Boston's The Channel and Providence's The Living Room.

Interviews broadcast include The Violent Femmes; The Neighborhoods; The Nails; New Models; Face to Face; Digney Figurs; author Tom Wolfe; The Bongos; Til Tuesday; Run D.M.C.; Grandmaster Flash; the Eurogliders and the Blind Dates.

After attending the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System Convention in Washington, Station Manager Russell Dougherty, Program Director David Spuria, future Program Director Mark Puria, News Director Maureen Kelley, future Assistant Music Director Mary MacNeil; Music Director Suzanne Lavigne; and future Music Director Christine LeFebvre worked together to make WBIM more professional. Changes in the hierarchy gave people jobs that mirrored major stations. The news department was further strengthened, including on-campus stories. Technology improved broadcasts of years and Lady Bears games.

For their efforts exposing people in the twenty-six towns reached by WBIM, recommendations were received by Atlantic records, MCA, RCA, CBS, and Elektra.
The Midnight Sail

Gently and quietly we departed,
Our sneakers soft on the hull,
We crept into corners and huddled.
Fisherman's yarn adorned the warmth
And the cap was just the night.
Reassuring placid waters
Lapping at the wood
Alarmed no one.
Babies were asleep.
We drifted into fragments of lunar slivers and drank the grapes of Paris.
Singing to the cheers.
Rolling and swaying,
The path led us away.
We reached for a hand so Together we would blush and
Each moment fell to the next
And the ripeness grew full,
and gently and quietly,
we fell.

Growing Up

There was a time when dreams were few
When wanting was something we never knew
And all that we had was enough to get by Because mommy and daddy were there to provide
Then as the years passed we started to see
That life went beyond just family
And it was scary to find that outside our home
There would be choices to make, sorrows
To feel, smiles to fake and hurts to conceal
But the joys we would find and the love of a friend
They're all that would matter to us in the end
Because they’re the best remedy for all of life’s pair.
The source of sincere love
That always remains.

A Child's World

Magic sparks the world where elves and fairies
dance on sunny roses,
dreams and imagination
changes reality to a world of knights and dragons which are battled with broomstick swords.
Somewhere becomes here
as castles are built out of blankets, tables, and dreams
one enemy dies but time
it passes quickly,
the towers and castles
disappear with the dragons
as quickly as a sunset.
The magic dream put away
the elves and fairies
no longer exist
it was only child's play which disappeared in time.

Thinking of You

Thinking of you is a way
Of saying lots of things
It can be a warm hello,
Or a wish for every happiness
It can be a way of saying
How much someone cares,
And it can even tell people
They're special...very special.

The Writing Secret

When writing a poem
Don't set a time or a date.
And when you get the flow
Don't let it escape.
Don't ever push it
or make up words,
To finish a poem
That'll never be heard.
Just let it rest
for a day or two,
And the flow will come
With no problem for you.
Try it once, try it twice,
try it again,
Until it comes out right.
After you get the flow of your pen.
You won't have to Stutter for words again.

The 1984 season was disappointing one for the Bears. They started the season with two strong victories but they went on to lose their last seven straight, many of which were close and could have gone either way. Defensively, the Bears were one of the toughest in the East, and they led the nation in pass defense. Unfortunately, the offense never did get on track, and scored less than ten points a year.

There were four players that received honors for the Bears. Gary Camarillo, brother of Patriots kicker Rich Camarillo, was named All-NEFC punter. Bob Fries was given honorable mention for the All-NEFC squad and ECAC “player of the week” on Sept. 22. Doug Barnard and Jim Schindler were named to the ECAC Honor Roll. There was a total of 66 participants and 39 lettermen on the squad.

The Lady Bears Field Hockey Team had an outstanding season under the direction of Coach Mary Thimas. They were 10-2-4 overall and went undefeated in their division. Their outstanding record allowed them to be selected to the ECAC division tournament for the third consecutive year. The team was outstanding defensively the entire season, but their goal production tailed off towards the end of the season.

There were three players noted for their outstanding play amongst a team of very talented athletes. Denise Davis was named All Conference as well as Coaches All American. Marcia Good and Lynne Bennett were both named All Conference. There was a total of 29 team members on a squad that should be strong for years to come.

Coach Brian Maxfield took the Bears Soccer team to a 3-12-2 overall record. This was his first year as coach and he had very little time to get the program organized and no time to recruit.

There were also injuries to several key players during the season. A total of 18 players participated in a rebuilding year for the bears.

The men's squad had a solid rebuilding year in 1985 with a 12-14 overall record and a 5-7 conference record. Team Captain Mark Dias had a good season, and Captain Mark Anderson fought off injuries to put in a solid performance. They had nine players on the squad for the first time, and as the season progressed the team became consistently better. They lost six games by three points or less. They won the Babson Invitational Tournament and gave the top teams in the conference a good fight. Captain Mark Dias was the only team member recognized for his performance. Mark was named to the ECAC All Star Team and the MASCAC All Conference team.

The Lady Bears Basketball squad had another awesome season! Coach Bo Ruggiero and Captain Cathy Baker led the squad to the best season ever at Bridgewater State. Highlighting the season was a 25 game winning streak and an ongoing 27 game winning streak at home in the Kelley Gymnasium. They finished with a record of 26-2 overall and 12-0 in their conference. That incredible record earned them the MASCAC Championship and a berth into the tournament.

Making it to the final round of the tournament before losing a close and controversial game, they were ranked #1 in New England and #4 in the nation.

The team had two members singled out for their outstanding performances. Cathy Baker was named ECAC player of the year for 1985 as well as the All Conference Team, NEWBA Coaches’ ALL Star Team. Cathy was also recognized for her outstanding play in the tournament. JoAnn Runge also had an incredible season. She made the ECAC All Star Team, the All Conference Team, and the Coaches’ All Star Team. Cathy Baker is the only player to graduate from the team. It looks like a dynasty in the making for the Lady Bears.

The Bears Wrestling squad had a tough season, finishing with a 7-9 record under the guidance of Coach Jack Johnson.

Team Captain Greg Wilson led them to an eighth place finish in the New Englands which was their highest finish ever. Despite losing some key personnel at mid-semester, they peaked at the end of the season with their best finish, as well as having three team members named All New England. Brian Mills, Greg Wilson, and Jeff Numellin were named to the All New England team.

The Lady Bears Volleyball team placed second in their conference for the 1985-85 season. They finished with a 16-20 record overall and lost only one time in their conference. The team was off to a slow start when they rebounded back and turned their season around by winning nine of their last ten matches. Unfortunately it wasn't quite enough and the team just missed being selected to the tournament. The team was coached by Kimberly Phillips and had honors bestowed upon two of their team members. Cara LaConti and Chris Thomson were both named to the All Conference squad.
Women's Gymnastics 1984-1985

Front Row: (Tri-Captains) Gina Gallerani, Chris Anderson, Ellen Chevalier.
Second Row: Lori Shippole, Jan Sousa, Deb Long, Joy Fessler, Sharon Heraty.
Third Row: Scott Johnson (Trainer), Lynn Damaria (Head Coach), Lori Torbin, Beth Jennings, Pam Watkins, Deb Barlow, Rheta McNamara, Marjorie Judge, Susan Jakub, Sue Courchesue (Trainer).
The Lady Bears Gymnastic Team had their best season in several years. Coach Lynn DeMaria and captains Chris Gallerani and Ellen Chevalier led the team to a 7-2 record and qualified them for the ECAC championships. This was the first time qualifying, and they performed very respectably. They scored consistently higher this season and were always well supported at home meets. The two team members recognized for their performance were Tony Fessler and Rheta MacNamara. They were both named as all around NCAA championship alternates. They are a young squad and should to well for years to come.
Women's Swimming 1984-1985

Back Row: Jeanette Spina (Asst Coach), Sue Kerr (Intern Coach), Tammy Robichaud, Jean Bailey, Kristine Szatek, Robin Lataille, Cara Rintala, Maura O’Neil.
The Men's and Women's Swimming Teams are coached by Joe Yeskewicz. The men finished 4-6 and the ladies finished 2-8. Mark Hayes was the men's team captain and Carol Newcomb was the captain of the Lady Bears. It was a disappointing season for both squads as lack of depth hurt the men and inconsistent swimming caused the women's downfall. The teams both had their share of injuries as well. (Due to an oversight, no men's team picture was available. Sorry!)
Baseball 1985

Second Row: Mike Grable, Arnie Petrosky, Joe Scibilia, Matt Smith, Shawn Barry, Glenn Chatterton (Head Coach).
Third Row: Tim Finnegan, Jim Porter, Steve Hoffses, Roger Martorana, Paul Palermo.
Fourth Row: Liz Shortsleeve (Trainer), Gary Corshia, Paul Cosgrove, Gary Allen, Tom Nash (Trainer).
The Bears Baseball team doubled their number of wins from the previous season under the supervision of Coach Glenn Chatterton and team Captains Mike Beliveau and Rick Penney. They finished the season with a 14-20 overall record and 5-9 in the Conference. 1985 was a rebuilding year for the Bears and they had a very young pitching staff. Tim Finnegan was named to the MASCAC All-Conference Team.
Women's Lacrosse 1985

This was probably the most improved team at B.S.C. this Spring.

Coach Mary Lou Thimas, and team captains, Ruth DeBesse and Pam Kelley rallied the team to 4-8-1 record after winning only 1 game. Many of their losses were very close contests. The improvement of this squad was really a credit to its coaches and players.
Men's and Women's Track & Field - 1985

Sitting (l-r) Aggie Messina (Asst. Coach), Pat Cronin, Wendy Holbrook, Michelle Thompson, Julie Rose, Carol Jackson, Cindy Lindh, Cheryl Corbett, Doreen Cahill, Marjorie Judge.

Men's Tennis 1985

The Women's Tennis Team was the "sleeper" of the Fall sports program. The team finished the season with a 9-4 overall record under the coaching of Jeanette Spina. Team captains Jessica Sullivan and Judy Yukna rallied the team to win their last eight matches of the season; two of which were against Division II teams.

This was quite an accomplishment for a team that was nonexistent in 1983.
Women's Softball 1985

Standing: Ann LaDuke, Peg Hanlon, Claudia Hamm, Jamie Strom, Chris Russell, Darlene Dusseault, Ann Pelrine, Carolyn Parsley, Jody Whyte, Michelle Currie, Sheila Maloney, Laurie O'Connell, Jeanne Gately, Mike Frawley (trainer).
It was another solid season for B.S.C. Softball. The team finished the season at 21-11 overall and 8-4 in the conference under the coaching of Debe Enabenter. It was a 50-50 start for the team, but the leadership of team captains, Deb Carreiro and Jill Barres, helped the team to really come in strong toward the end of the season. They lost a key doubleheader on the last day of the season to Salem State and that cost them the MASCAE Championship, and a trip to the NCAA's.

They were selected to the ECAC Division III Championship where they lost in the finale to Plymouth State. Team Captain Deb Carreiro, was named NCAA Division III All American (first team's), and MASCAC All Conference Team. Captain, Jill Barres, as well as teammate Chris Russell were also named to the MASCAC ALL Conference Team.
Intramural Sports Coordinator, Mike Storey, gives the thumbs up to the annual road race.

Gina Gallerani led a very successful aerobics class.

Sigma Chi I.M. Football Champs
Intense competition was the earmark of I.M. Volleyball at B.S.C.

New rules cleaned up the I.M. Hockey League and proved to be entertaining for all who watched.

The grand finale happens today
As graduates we walk away
Tears swell to escape many eyes
But is it nostalgia that makes us cry?
One moment ecstatic to lunge ahead
Yet lingering to turn tassels on our caps
We must face goodbyes
Or at least see you...
But when is later?
days, months, years?

AH time reveals the relation of tears and hesitation
four years of building, sharing Must forge ahead, be daring - caring -
It seemed like never, the hectic:
work, play, study - life would end
Never reliving,
past revelations again

the sky looks like the sand;
clouds with ripples
lie still and quiet —
sounds of a breeze stir
the coolness of the air
while the ocean
waves over the shore disturbing little if at all the intensity of the calm passes through me
leaving me changed
in my dreams I float
high above reality

It is the duty of every man to endeavor that something may be added by his industry to the hereditary aggregate of knowledge and happiness. To add much can indeed be the lot of few, but to add something, however little, everyone may hope; and of every honest endeavor it is certain that, however unsuccessful, it will be at last rewarded.

-Samuel Johnson

In My Life

There are places I remember, all my life,
Though some have changed,
Some forever, not for better,
Some have gone and some remain.

All these places had their moments
With lovers and friends I still can recall.
Some are dead and some are living.
In my life I've loved them all.

Though I know I'll never lose affection
For people and things that went before.
I know I'll often stop and think about them,
In my life I've loved them all.

-Lennon and McCartney
Staring into the mirror
I see a face;
an adult face streaked with tears,
a face ready to enter the “real world”,
diploma in hand,
memories in heart.
Reflecting back over the years
I can see so many images-
one of laughter,
of tears,
of sharing,
of caring,
and, most of all, of loving and learning.
I did most of my growing up here;
along with all of you,
and now we part,
to venture forth.

As Commencement Day draws to a close,
we hug, kiss and cry
wishing each other luck
expressing our love for one another;
and yet we hold back-
hold back screaming in sorrow,
as we walk away;
Remember
we will always be together at heart.
And as you enter your new life,
you will not be alone-
we will all be with you smiling with pride
from this day forth.
