CENTENNIAL CELEBRATED; GRADUATION ANTICIPATED

Senior Affairs Crown 4 years

A dinner dance at the Statler Salle Moderne on Wednesday, May 29, will be the first event of Senior Week. The invited guests will include President and Mrs. John J. Kelly, Miss S. Elizabeth Pope, and Mr. and Mrs. Balfour Tyndall. The class prophecy will be read by Eunice Kohler; the class will by Mabel Mason; and the class history, written by Berniss Mazer, will be read by Barbara MacKenzie. After the readings, Chappy Arnold and his orchestra will provide music for dancing. As favors, the girls will be presented with bracelets and the men with tie clips. The Toast Mistress for the evening will be Esther Rosenblatt. The chairman in charge of the banquet is Elinor Klimm, assisted by Barbara MacKenzie and Joseph Horsley.

Clam Bake Planned

On Friday, May 31, the seniors have planned an all-day clam bake to be held at Camp Howes. A program of sports and entertainment is being planned by the members of the banquet committee.

Faculty Give Reception

A reception for the seniors will be given by the members of the faculty on June 1 in the Albert Gardner Boyden Gymnasium. Miss Iva Lutz, chairman of the faculty committee will be assisted by Miss S. Elizabeth Pope, Miss Grace Smith, Miss Helen Sleeper, Miss Evelyn Lindquist, Mr. Frederick Meier, Mr. Charles Foth, Mr. John Arends, and Mr. Robert Rucker. The banquet will be followed by the im-

Bridgewater Host To Graduates

The 1946 Reunion of all alumni at Bridgewater on May 25 will celebrate the 100th Anniversary of the erection of the first Normal School Building in America. This was a small wooden two-story structure containing a large schoolroom, two recitation rooms in the upper story, a Model School room, a chemical room, and two anterooms on the lower floor.

Veterans Welcomed Back

The Bridgewater Alumni Association, in order to show its pride and appreciation for the services rendered during World War II, will welcome back to Bridgewater, as its guests, approximately three hundred and fifty graduates and undergraduates, now returning from some fifty different types of services and from every front. This being the only military reunion in the history of the Bridgewater Alumni, all those who have participated in World War II have been requested to return to the campus in uniform.

In commemoration of the centennial of the first normal school building, the alumni have contributed to a fund to be used to beautify the grounds or buildings of Bridgewater State Teachers College.

Original Pageant Presented

A pageant dealing with the establishment of the first normal school building, written and directed by Berniss Mazer, will be given by students of the college for the alumni on May 25 at 2:15. Faculty who are assisting in the production of the play include President John J. Kelly, Dr. Clement Maxwell, Mr. Jack Arends, Mr. John Davoren, Miss Katherine Hill, Miss Frieda Rand, Miss Mary Crowley, Miss Charlotte Thompson, and Miss Evelyn Lindquist. Much credit should be extended to Mr. John Davoren for his work with the group.

The pageant will be given in four scenes. The scene directors are: scene 1, Barbara MacKenzie; scene 2, Betty Hamlett; scene 3, Shirley Gallagher; and scene 4, Dorothy Brooks.

EDITORIALS

"Good Luck" From Editor

May we extend our congratulations to the new Campus Comment board for the success of their first issue. We know that it is an indication of the grand work they will surely accomplish in the forthcoming year. A bigger and a better college publication is the sincere ambition of us all.

Many thanks to all the members of the old staff for their loyalty and cooperation during the past. Much that we had hoped to do this year has failed to materialize—often due to factors beyond our control. Nevertheless, we have done our best and have had a great deal of fun in so doing. We feel certain that the new staff will manage to carry through to completion many of the innovations that we all desire.

Credit is due also to the members of the student body for their support, their suggestions and their criticisms. This is your paper and we will always need you behind us.

In conclusion, we wish to thank Miss Olive Lovett, our faculty adviser, for her advice and guidance in all that we have undertaken.

Good luck and best wishes for a grand year and a superior Campus Comment—from the old staff to the new!

BERNISS MAZER

To the Graduates:

Does it seem unbelievable to you that June 2 will mark the termination of a four year course at Bridgewater? Upon that Sunday you will be graduated after receiving a bachelor of science degree in education—your passport to the teaching profession. To look forward four years into the future seems like an eternity, but to gaze back in retrospect, an antithetic feeling is experienced. Four years comprised of the freshman adjustment period, the sophomore terms when one begins to find oneself, the junior milestone when the horror of uncertainty is slightly less pronounced, and finally the last year when the end is visible and prospective instructors of the country face the reality of commencing the task for which they have prepared.

Is It Worthwhile?

Is a degree a great enough compensation for eight semesters of studies, lectures, committee meetings, training periods, physical activities, and the much dreaded exams? Is it worth the nights spent in mental anxiety preparing for brief quizzes the next morning? You, yourself, can answer this. The degree is the goal for which the preparation here at Bridgewater has entitled you to. True, it is only a piece of parchment but its representative value is immeasurable. It is a notice to the world that higher education has been attained. Whether you teach or not the experiences undergone here will not be wasted. This may be a man's world but women still form the backbone of the nation. To them fall the responsibility of bearing children and training them during pre-school years. The seniors who marry will be well qualified to assume the management of American homes from the training gained here.

The world is in dire need of more education and better education in this era of converting to peace. To the educators falls the gigantic undertaking of molding the characters of the future citizens of the world. The responsibility of this is vouchsafed to you. A peace-anxious world is watching you; you can not fail.

Miss Berniss Mazer

Campus Comment has known Berny Mazer as its editor-in-chief for the year 1945-46. Those of us who have worked and traveled with her know her for a most interesting and talented individual. Nothing was too tremendous for her to launch and nothing was too minute to overlook in the process of publishing an edition. Berny served as head of this publication untiringly and faithfully; she as its leader carried it through a most successful year and was an inspiration and ideal to her staff and reporters.

We wish to thank you at this time, Berny, for honestly being our guiding light through the dark and trying hours this year. Campus Comment members were most fortunate to have known you as its editor. We wish you every success in the future.

pressive Senior Serenade on the steps of the Administration Building, at which the underclassmen will serenade the graduating class. The Senior Ode, which was composed by Dorothy Christofori and Betty Sheehan, will be sung as a farewell tribute to the college. Jean Douglas, Roberta Burham, and Elsie Packer have composed the new songs for the underclassmen.

On Sunday, June 2, the graduating class will attend the Baccalaureate Mass at St. Thomas Aquinas Church. At 11:30 Baccalaureate exercises will be conducted in the Horace Mann Auditorium with James Powers, correspondent for the Boston Globe, as guest speaker. The Glee Club will sing "Like As A Hart," "Panis Angelicus," and "Hark, Hark, My Love."

Governor To Attend Exercises

Graduation exercises will be held on Sunday afternoon at 2:15. Degrees will be given by John J. Desmond, Commissioner of Education. Governor Maurice J. Tobin will be present at the exercises. The Woodward Sextet will sing "Sanctus," arranged by Schubert; "Lift Thine Eyes," arranged by Bartholde; "Linden Tree," arranged by Schubert; and "The Westwind Song," arranged by deLully.

The traditional Ivy March, which includes the planting of the ivy and the presentation of the trowel to the next Senior Class President, will follow the commencement exercises

Miss Vivian Lovell, a member of the class of '46, died at the Quincy Hospital on May 9. She leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Lovell, of 28 Stanley Street, North Weymouth, and sister, Ruth Lovell, a student at Boston University. While at Bridgewater, Miss Lovell was a social studies major, and active in Newman Club, Topics-of-the-Day Club and Day Student Council. The funeral took place at St. Jerome Church, North Weymouth. Members of the senior class attended the services. The burial was at St. Paul's Cemetery, Hingham. The members of the class of '46 have dedicated their yearbook, Alpha, to the memory of their classmate, Miss Vivian Lovell.

Music Week Observed

The New Bedford Chamber Music Society, with Mr. Harry W. Johnston conducting, presented a concert in celebration of Music Week on Wednesday evening, May 8, in the Horace Mann Auditorium. Phyllis Schmidt, a member of the college orchestra, sponsored the program. She is also a member of The New Bedford Music Society. Miss Virginia Zimmerlin, thirteen year old pianist, was the guest soloist.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

This is in reply to the letter of a junior sent in to you in the last issue of Campus Comment concerning the college pendant. This junior is suffering from some misunderstanding that I should like to clear up. The Student Council had nothing to do with the sale of college pendants. The sale of this merchandise was taken on by the school store.

The Student Council, however, did have charge of selling college seals. These were put on sale last year for $1.50, and since they were not all sold, they were sold again this year. So you see the Student Council is not making any profit on pendants, since it had nothing to do with selling them. Even the sale of college seals has brought no financial gains to Student Council.

Mary Kennedy,
Secretary of S. C. A.

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to answer the Apoplectic Business Manager in the last issue of Campus Comment. As Assistant Treasurer of S. C. A., I am sorry if any organizations have been inconvenienced because their S. C. A. allotments were delayed in transfer.

We will do our utmost in the future to remedy this situation. If all the students will cooperate by paying their S. C. A. fees during the week of registration next September, instead of neglecting this financial obligation until they are hounded by their S. C. A. representatives and yours truly, this state of affairs need not occur again.

Dear Editor:

In reply to the letter to the editor written by a "group of seniors" in last month's issue I should like to state that most every student on the campus is whole-heartedly agreed that chapel programs should be more interesting. However, I do not think more interesting programs is the answer to perfect attendance during these two periods a week. What would solve the problem is a better spirit topped off with a touch of adult responsibility from the student body.

I do not wish to condone the action of the chapel committee this year and it is not necessary to relate the obstructions met in the course of this past year. That is behind us but one item that is too potent to overlook is the matter of money. You can't get good speakers without paying for them. Chapel committee has ample money at its disposal but I repeat you can't secure inspiring speakers without paying for them. The S. C. A. meeting May 7 discussed this problem and for a first hand report see your division representative.

Chairman of Chapel

Letter Answered

We should like at this time to reply to the accusations made upon Edna Lahti concerning her signed article that appeared in the last issue of Campus Comment. The reference is the book Language by Leonard Bloomfield, professor of Germanic Philology in the University of Chicago.

"Our unfortunate attitude toward matters of standard and non-standard speech ('correct English') is largely kept up by our schools. Their attitude is authoritarian; fanciful dogmas as to what is 'good English' are handed down by educational authorities and individual teachers who are utterly ignorant of what is involved — dogmas such as the SHALL-and-WILL rules or the alleged 'incorrectness' of well-established locutions (I'VE GOT IT) or constructions (THE HOUSE HE LIVED IN). Meanwhile the differences between standard and prevalent non-standard forms (such as I SAW IT: I SEEN IT) are made the subject not so much of rational drill as of preachment about 'ignorance,' 'carelessness,' and 'bad association.'"

Sign Your Letters

Campus Comment welcomes all criticisms and corrections referring to the articles it prints, however, the staff and reporters are agreed that all letters to the editor and contributors must be signed. As long as the editorial board knows the sender it will not be deemed necessary to print the signatures with the letters in Campus Comment; a pen name will be sufficient.

Dance Club Progresses

The Modern Dance Club, infant club of all clubs at Bridgewater, has done some tall stepping since its birth and organization in September of this college year. Organized by a group of girls, for the purpose of providing an opportunity for anyone interested in growing physically, mentally, socially, and spiritually, the club has rooted its foundations through realization of its objectives, into the framework of the other college clubs.

Director Retires

Retiring director, Esther Rosenblatt, expressed her sincere appreciation for having had the opportunity to lay the groundwork for such a fine organization and wished Virginia Perkins, newly-elected Director of the club, success in carrying out the standards embodied in the constitution during the coming year.

Fraternity Dines

A banquet was held in the Tillinghast Dining Hall by the members of Alpha Si Omega Monday, May 20. Following the banquet the initiation of new members and installation of officers took place in the Plymouth County Room. The new officers were: director, Gloria Olson; assistant director, Eldon Lawson; business manager, Jack Herman; Scribe, Walter Forrid.

INFORMAL DINNER HELD

An informal banquet was held by the members of the Campus Comment Staff at Snow Lodge on Tuesday evening, May 7 at 7 o'clock. A business meeting was held directly after the dinner. Plans were completed for the opening of the new Campus Comment Office and suggestions were made to give members of the staff class credit for their work next year.

Members of the faculty who attended were Dr. John J. Kelly, Miss S. Elizabeth Pope, and Miss Olive Lovett.

GALA WAA BANQUET

The annual W. A. A. Banquet was held in the Tillinghast Dining Hall on May 15, 1946. The theme of the banquet was the 4-S award which is the highest award presented at the college. It stands for sportsmanship, stability, scholarship, and service. The speaker for the evening was Mrs. Herbert French of Braintree, past president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Awards Made

The W. A. A. emblems and plaque were presented by Miss Mary Caldwell. The plaque was awarded to the class of '47. W. A. A. pins were awarded by Miss Doris Brooks to Dorothy Brooks, Mildred Downton, Shirley Gallagher, Virginia Godfrey, Edith Matthews, Barbara Muther, Esther Rosenblatt, Jane Russell, Marge Sisson, Alice Sullivan. The 4-S awards were presented by Miss Lois Decker to Dorothy Brooks, Edith Matthews, and Marjorie Sisson.

President Kelly opened the occasion with an address of welcome. The installation of next year's officers by Miss Decker followed. General singing was under the direction of Esther Rosenblatt. The tables were decorated with maroon and white flowers and the programs represented the color scheme of the classes.

The following girls served as heads of the various committees: hospitality, Edith Matthews; decorations, Marjorie Sisson; table arrangement, Altana Mann; programs, Rita Custeau; publicity, Dorothy Mackin; and tickets, Lenore Kelly.

We wish, it being spring, we could include just the sunshine and fancies on love, such as with Ginny Chamberlain and Fred; moonlight sails with Louise B. and Warren; bike riding for Harriet C. and Bill Langway; and calls each day for Pat S. from Teddy, but alas, even this season has its bitter tragedies. To Janice B., Gloria O., and Marion S., may you have comfort in the fact that you're not alone. "Rosey," we suggest you learn to make something aside from sox, or you will be. Perhaps the acquisition of the new car will push up that wedding date, "Jackie;" and don't worry, "Clay" would probably be glad to share her apartment. Eileen Sheehan's campaign was a failure, but this has its brighter side. Larry is getting better all the time.

Carousal or Orgy

All the same thing to the Bacchus fan clubs, celebrating at South Yarmouth and Hyannis. The Jones sisters find similar weekends indeed profitable. Was the punch worth it, Pat F. and Pepsi? Some of us appreciate independent minds, anyhow. Slow down, M. Burke, Wickles, and Gralton, it'll all catch up on you. You too, Lee R. after all what comes first, Geography or Marines? "Bobbie" B. and Anne D. sing praises for blind dates. Goodly, eh wot? How's "Curt," Connie M.? How embarrassing. "Bernie" blushed too; don't mention baths to her.

It's not just the faculty

Grace T. and Jean D. each got stopped for one-arm driving. Lets hope no one was going too fast. It's all or nothing with "Midge" G., as she now contends with Tufts, Ohio Univ., and B. C.; and Janice B., do you run an agency? Shirley G. announces that she has two extra men for sale. Forget your Persian prince, Bernie, this is indeed an opportunity. Jane MacGowan has that all taken care of with Walter Gibson.

Is it wanderlust or middle-aged Jim, that gives Pat Froio wild dreams of California. How did ViVenzio and Costello enjoy their trip to Brockton? We can't keep up with Jean Peck and her weekends at Weston. Marion G. was certainly enthralled with the Ziegfeld Follies. Omit details. Who is the mysterious John Dale, Ruth Cushing? We can't find him in the records. Our biggest mystery concerns Lu Paquette and the little known Prof. Archie. Doesn't he think the Bridgewater P.O. carries three-cent stamps? For a price Joan Bull and Elinor W. will show us a picture. "Sully" and Ardys have in their room, an exhibit worth seeing. They must have been depressed. Milly L. rejoices, she has found her fountain pen. Betty Hamlett bagged a "goodly" bracelet from China, Betty Conners wears a frat pin, and Marge MacLenon now walks on air. John Berry's music appreciation has certainly developed. We'd have liked to have been in on that house party, J. Perkins, M. Duffy, L. Kiezulas, Belcher, Horsley, and Wojnar. Special

Dorothy Fitzpatrick, Freshman P. E., told a certain Coast Guardsman this "ditti," "Lots of love in the ocean and loads of "S.P." at Bridgewater". For shame Dorothy. (O.K. Groton?). Back to the lower regions; there there's always more dirt, or "Subway Sue," alias "Rosey."

The senior men outdo even the navy in regard to initiations. We don't believe the recipients will ever forget the night of May 14, or the house-mother of Wood either. Let's see—just where IS Chicago?

Reminiscences By Seniors

Undoubtedly all of our graduating seniors have many things to remember and to look back on from their four years at B.T.C. Among these we find . . .

Betty Hamlett remembers. . . Miss Henderson pitching coke bottles in the room at 12 o'clock at night.

Phyllis Simpson, Miss Rand and her AC and DC current, plus the faculty.

Mildred Hacking, the bareness of the room when we stepped in as freshmen.

Roberta Sullivan remembers the Christmas banquets. That I'm sure all of us do.

Elinor Klimm, the campus in the spring time.

Betty Cate remembers while a freshman, the friendliness of everyone, also the rainy weather at Bridgewater.

Betty Conners looks back on Miss Haggart and her little tea parties.

Elaine Jackson remembers the food.

Eileen Sheehan. . . dressing for dinner on Wednesday night.

Connie Macomber . . . having to remember 10:15's.

Barbara Muther . . . the first-floor windows.

Dot Brooks remembers the Butt Room and special delivery hamburgers.

Berniss Mazer can't forget the night watchman. (that goes for all of us who've had the opportunities to get really acquainted.)

Jane Russell remembers the Sophomore Sophistries, and "Will you girls please be quiet."

Shirley Gallagher has a special place in her heart for the evenings at Jenkins'.

Esther Rosenblatt remembers the exceptionally good class spirit when most needed.

Midge Guzzi recalls the everlasting pinching of pennies.

Mable Mason, with all of us, remembers the friendliness of B. T. C. students.

Agnes Ellison . . . A place where there's a lot of college spirit.

Helen Sanford remembers the whole college.

Eunice Chatterton recalls the things the gang did during study hour.

Candice Gleason. . . Miss Condon standing at the door saying, "You're late."

Pat Froio remembers the Beveragio in Spanish Class contributed by one Senorita Dolores Spagnolo.

Eunice Kohler remembers the scrap paper.

Profile of Your SCA President

"She's got a well-developed personality."

As the poet wrote these words he must have had in mind a certain young lady from BTC. Yes, you know her as Betty Roper, president of S.C.A. for 1946-47.

Betty is very conscientious, as those of us who are lucky enough to be in her classes know. Whenever she undertakes a responsibility, it is carried out to the very best of her ability. Betty always does her share and a little more. She willingly lends a helping hand when one is needed and has a kind word for all with whom she comes in contact.

Betty is very active in all kinds of sports but hockey, softball, basketball, and swimming are her favorites. However, she not only excels in sports, but also in scholastic ability.

Outside of school, Betty is an active member in Brockton's Rockne Association.

She is a friend worth having and your friendship list will never be complete until you have added the name of Betty Roper.

Sinforosa Acebo. . . Dr. Maxwell.

Frances Burns remembers the long ride to get to B.T.C.

Elinor O'Byrne. . . how silly we got.

Phyllis Clayman. . . the "nightly" bridge games, and suppers in the kitchenette.

Betty Sheehan can't forget Spanish Class.

Mario Regini remembers Men's Paradise.

Joe Horsley. . . dances we used to have in the Gym on Friday nights.

Bill Campbell. . . "I remember the things no one else remembers."

Alice "Sull" Sullivan expressed that which I'm sure every student really feels. She remembers the good times she's had, not the bad ones.
