Campus Comment, October 20, 1965

State College at Bridgewater

Follow this and additional works at: https://vc.bridgew.edu/comment

Part of the Education Commons, and the Social History Commons

Volume 40
Number 3

Recommended Citation
Retrieved from: https://vc.bridgew.edu/comment/205

This item is available as part of Virtual Commons, the open-access institutional repository of Bridgewater State University, Bridgewater, Massachusetts.
OPERATION MATCH

Does your steady give you too much stability? Do you dream of that tall, dark, and handsome Ph.D. candidate who'll throw himself at your feet? Don't worry. Operation Match is here to help you. For just three dollars, Operation Match will solve all your mating problems. No longer will you spend sleepless nights plotting means of securing a partner of the opposite sex. Now you can enjoy all the fruits of love without the hassle of finding a mate. The service is designed for college students and their dating habits. These test results are mailed to Cambridge and placed in the Operation Match IBM computer memory file. This scan of the qualification of every member is considered. Applicants must answer most of the questions. While in the men's dorm, groups of students play female who loves five-foot, shaggy-haired, cello players, Operation Match is welcome to apply. If you've been looking for a six-foot, red-headed, deep-voiced, football-player, Operation Match is the answer. If you're kooky and single -- Operation Match is for you. If you like variety -- Operation Match is the answer.

Chapbook Solicits Students’ Work

Contributions are now being solicited for the winter edition of CHAPBOOK, Bridgewater's literary magazine. Students are requested to submit short stories, poems, and essays by 5 p.m. November 11, 1965, in the English office. This essay may be in the fields of history, science, etc., as well as essays of general interest will be considered. All entries will be coded to avoid any chance of partiality. For this reason, students are asked to have only the titles of the manuscripts on each entry. Applicants must enclose name and address in a sealed envelope and write the title of the manuscript on the front. The CHAPBOOK editorial staff includes:

Executive Editor, Barbara Leonard; Fiction Editor, Allison Hood; Non-Fiction Editor, Armand Marchand; Literary Editor, Joseph Lentini; Secretary, Barbara Atwood; Business Manager, Joseph Lentini; Assistant Business Manager, Susan Williams; Publicity Chairman, Diane LCDRM.

DiNardo Appointed Director of Summer Session

President Adrian Rondileau has announced the appointment of Dr. V. James DiNardo as Director of the Summer Session at Rondileau. Dr. DiNardo, currently serving as Director of the Division of Professional Education and Director of Undergraduate Studies in the Education Department, has been appointed to succeed Professor Charles E. Foth.

Notice

CAMPUS COMMENT needs reporters who have written in high school or college publications. The paper is open to good writers who wish to work toward an editorial position. Anyone interested may learn more in the CAMPUS COMMENT office located in the lobby of Hooper Administration.

EVICITION NOTICE

At the height of the commuter day lower campus (left) is jammed with cars while the parking lot behind the gym where students are supposed to park (right) is deserted. (You should see it on extension night)
EDITORIAL

A Comment On Consistency

The Dean's List is a relatively young and prestigious institution at Bridgewater State College. It has been a point of contention and discussion among students and faculty. The criteria for selection have changed over the years, causing some confusion and discontent among the student body. The catalogue of Dean's List requirements does not detail the specific grades needed to qualify, and this has led to the question of whether the criteria have become impossible to explain or value in a simple manner.

Before many students pass something should be done to halt all the confusion and discontent on campus. A change in Dean's List requirements has caused confusion and discontent among the student body. The argument of double standard (sometimes impossible to explain or value in a simple manner? Do our marking system and degree program so complex that they are impossible to explain or value in a simple manner?)

Many Phi Pi brothers are on the campus in the Staton House on Summer Street because of its convenience. They use this house for their weekly meetings and often have social events at the Staton House. They also use the Staton House to plan and organize their social events.

The catalogue of Dean's List requirements does not detail the specific grades needed to qualify, and this has led to the question of whether the criteria have become impossible to explain or value in a simple manner. A change in Dean's List requirements has caused confusion and discontent among the student body. The argument of double standard (sometimes impossible to explain or value in a simple manner? Do our marking system and degree program so complex that they are impossible to explain or value in a simple manner?)

In the past the administration has sometimes indicated displeasure with some of the changes in the catalog. This displeasure more likely arises because the students at the school are not fully aware of the changes. The latter's attitude: Is a change in Dean's List requirements that they are impossible to explain or value in a simple manner?

Dean's List? Are our marking system and degree program so complex that they are impossible to explain or value in a simple manner?

In the past the administration has sometimes indicated displeasure with some of the changes in the catalog. This displeasure more likely arises because the students at the school are not fully aware of the changes. The latter's attitude: Is a change in Dean's List requirements that they are impossible to explain or value in a simple manner?

The administration of Bridgewater State College has faced a number of problems in recent years. The college has been struggling to maintain its financial stability, and this has led to a number of changes in the administration's policies. One of these changes has been the decision to implement a new grading system, which has caused confusion and discontent among the student body. The argument of double standard (sometimes impossible to explain or value in a simple manner? Do our marking system and degree program so complex that they are impossible to explain or value in a simple manner?)

Dean's List? Are our marking system and degree program so complex that they are impossible to explain or value in a simple manner?

The administration of Bridgewater State College has faced a number of problems in recent years. The college has been struggling to maintain its financial stability, and this has led to a number of changes in the administration's policies. One of these changes has been the decision to implement a new grading system, which has caused confusion and discontent among the student body. The argument of double standard (sometimes impossible to explain or value in a simple manner? Do our marking system and degree program so complex that they are impossible to explain or value in a simple manner?)

Dean's List? Are our marking system and degree program so complex that they are impossible to explain or value in a simple manner?

The administration of Bridgewater State College has faced a number of problems in recent years. The college has been struggling to maintain its financial stability, and this has led to a number of changes in the administration's policies. One of these changes has been the decision to implement a new grading system, which has caused confusion and discontent among the student body. The argument of double standard (sometimes impossible to explain or value in a simple manner? Do our marking system and degree program so complex that they are impossible to explain or value in a simple manner?)

Dean's List? Are our marking system and degree program so complex that they are impossible to explain or value in a simple manner?
NEWS BRIEFS

Paul VI In The New World
by Chauncey Venner

The premier news story of this year is the visit of Pope Paul VI to the United Nations. One could not help but feel overwhelmed by the size of this humble Imito of Peace, this message, a call to all people of this world in a plea for peace and prosperity. His arms included all people in the land. Every youth, every brother of man. The only question that we are left with is that of the impact and success of his message.

The heavens were surprised to receive a package with a tin cup complete with pencil instead of their pay check, a message of hope and filling out a form. Why is the television newscaster always on the defensive? Because he doesn't want to be offensive. Mephistopheles, in rare, are too many Mephistopheles angels; much devilry is dues. Guises and columns were deleted in last week's issue.

The three thousand dignitaries were seen entering the barricades in 100,000, a gift I trust; I had thought.

Questions about the book were left in last week's issue.

To compensate students for the loss of library privileges it is necessary to hold classes Wednesday afternoon; otherwise we have the possibility, "Mad in America," announced Annecy Dean Lou Harp.

In view of the extensive number of children's cancellations because of the health of our last week's 'international', having been forced to cancel.

Guests are expected to remain there for six weeks.

Mr. Benjamin Spencer, who has been absent from the college for two years, was awarded a course for his Ph. D. at the University of Wisconsin.

The Hanover Insurance Company is financing the publication of "An Investment in the Community: Public Funds Under Law in Massachusetts," a six thousand word essay written last summer by Dr. Floren and Joyce Rodrigues a senior biology major and president of the Honors Club.

Senior-Faculty Colloque Hour was held in the Hall in Fall River. He is expected to remain there for six weeks.

Miss Barbara Shakespeare, residing on campus in the Dean of Women's office, is in charge of the Lost and Found Department.

The first Fey Club Social was held on October 5. The Reverend J. Richard Beach and Miss William Armstrong "The Frozen People." This gathering was in the Reciprocate Room of Tillinghast.

The dance scheduled for the characters laugh before you do, which is quite enjoyable.

The international cast does make up her mind to present in the direction of the play, which will go to Albert Sordi as Emilio in "Those Magnificent Men In Their Flying Machines" and the结果 is truly comical. However, in the light of the characters such as persons and the scenario, we are a safer choice. The story is a comical one -- the urgency of the characters themselves seem to be rather vaudeville. The play is not as good as a higher order if the characters look the most like the characters they are modelled on.

Miss Goodwin's music is an appropriate the aeronautical high-jinks and Ron Skelton in a prologue that illustrates the urgency of the characters made their buffalos seem all the more laughable to the viewing audience. However, in FLYING MACHINES was part of the reason why "Mad goes to Albert Sordi as Emilio in "Those Magnificent Men In Their Flying Machines" and the result is truly comical. However, in the light of the characters such as persons and the scenario, we are a safer choice. The story is a comical one -- the urgency of the characters themselves seem to be rather vaudeville. The play is not as good as a higher order if the characters look the most like the characters they are modelled on.

Miss Goodwin's music is an appropriate the aeronautical high-jinks and Ron Skelton in a prologue that illustrates the urgency of the characters made their buffalos seem all the more laughable to the viewing audience. However, in FLYING MACHINES was part of the reason why "Mad goes to Albert Sordi as Emilio in "Those Magnificent Men In Their Flying Machines" and the result is truly comical. However, in the light of the characters such as persons and the scenario, we are a safer choice. The story is a comical one -- the urgency of the characters themselves seem to be rather vaudeville. The play is not as good as a higher order if the characters look the most like the characters they are modelled on.

Miss Goodwin's music is an appropriate the aeronautical high-jinks and Ron Skelton in a prologue that illustrates the urgency of the characters made their buffalos seem all the more laughable to the viewing audience. However, in FLYING MACHINES was part of the reason why "Mad goes to Albert Sordi as Emilio in "Those Magnificent Men In Their Flying Machines" and the result is truly comical. However, in the light of the characters such as persons and the scenario, we are a safer choice. The story is a comical one -- the urgency of the characters themselves seem to be rather vaudeville. The play is not as good as a higher order if the characters look the most like the characters they are modelled on.

Miss Goodwin's music is an appropriate the aeronautical high-jinks and Ron Skelton in a prologue that illustrates the urgency of the characters made their buffalos seem all the more laughable to the viewing audience. However, in FLYING MACHINES was part of the reason why "Mad goes to Albert Sordi as Emilio in "Those Magnificent Men In Their Flying Machines" and the result is truly comical. However, in the light of the characters such as persons and the scenario, we are a safer choice. The story is a comical one -- the urgency of the characters themselves seem to be rather vaudeville. The play is not as good as a higher order if the characters look the most like the characters they are modelled on.

Miss Goodwin's music is an appropriate the aeronautical high-jinks and Ron Skelton in a prologue that illustrates the urgency of the characters made their buffalos seem all the more laughable to the viewing audience. However, in FLYING MACHINES was part of the reason why "Mad goes to Albert Sordi as Emilio in "Those Magnificent Men In Their Flying Machines" and the result is truly comical. However, in the light of the characters such as persons and the scenario, we are a safer choice. The story is a comical one -- the urgency of the characters themselves seem to be rather vaudeville. The play is not as good as a higher order if the characters look the most like the characters they are modelled on.

Miss Goodwin's music is an appropriate the aeronautical high-jinks and Ron Skelton in a prologue that illustrates the urgency of the characters made their buffalos seem all the more laughable to the viewing audience. However, in FLYING MACHINES was part of the reason why "Mad goes to Albert Sordi as Emilio in "Those Magnificent Men In Their Flying Machines" and the result is truly comical. However, in the light of the characters such as persons and the scenario, we are a safer choice. The story is a comical one -- the urgency of the characters themselves seem to be rather vaudeville. The play is not as good as a higher order if the characters look the most like the characters they are modelled on.

Miss Goodwin's music is an appropriate the aeronautical high-jinks and Ron Skelton in a prologue that illustrates the urgency of the characters made their buffalos seem all the more laughable to the viewing audience. However, in FLYING MACHINES was part of the reason why "Mad goes to Albert Sordi as Emilio in "Those Magnificent Men In Their Flying Machines" and the result is truly comical. However, in the light of the characters such as persons and the scenario, we are a safer choice. The story is a comical one -- the urgency of the characters themselves seem to be rather vaudeville. The play is not as good as a higher order if the characters look the most like the characters they are modelled on.

Miss Goodwin's music is an appropriate the aeronautical high-jinks and Ron Skelton in a prologue that illustrates the urgency of the characters made their buffalos seem all the more laughable to the viewing audience. However, in FLYING MACHINES was part of the reason why "Mad goes to Albert Sordi as Emilio in "Those Magnificent Men In Their Flying Machines" and the result is truly comical. However, in the light of the characters such as persons and the scenario, we are a safer choice. The story is a comical one -- the urgency of the characters themselves seem to be rather vaudeville. The play is not as good as a higher order if the characters look the most like the characters they are modelled on.

Miss Goodwin's music is an appropriate the aeronautical high-jinks and Ron Skelton in a prologue that illustrates the urgency of the characters made their buffalos seem all the more laughable to the viewing audience. However, in FLYING MACHINES was part of the reason why "Mad goes to Albert Sordi as Emilio in "Those Magnificent Men In Their Flying Machines" and the result is truly comical. However, in the light of the characters such as persons and the scenario, we are a safer choice. The story is a comical one -- the urgency of the characters themselves seem to be rather vaudeville. The play is not as good as a higher order if the characters look the most like the characters they are modelled on.

Miss Goodwin's music is an appropriate the aeronautical high-jinks and Ron Skelton in a prologue that illustrates the urgency of the characters made their buffalos seem all the more laughable to the viewing audience. However, in FLYING MACHINES was part of the reason why "Mad goes to Albert Sordi as Emilio in "Those Magnificent Men In Their Flying Machines" and the result is truly comical. However, in the light of the characters such as persons and the scenario, we are a safer choice. The story is a comical one -- the urgency of the characters themselves seem to be rather vaudeville. The play is not as good as a higher order if the characters look the most like the characters they are modelled on.

Miss Goodwin's music is an appropriate the aeronautical high-jinks and Ron Skelton in a prologue that illustrates the urgency of the characters made their buffalos seem all the more laughable to the viewing audience. However, in FLYING MACHINES was part of the reason why "Mad goes to Albert Sordi as Emilio in "Those Magnificent Men In Their Flying Machines" and the result is truly comical. However, in the light of the characters such as persons and the scenario, we are a safer choice. The story is a comical one -- the urgency of the characters themselves seem to be rather vaudeville. The play is not as good as a higher order if the characters look the most like the characters they are modelled on.

Miss Goodwin's music is an appropriate the aeronautical high-jinks and Ron Skelton in a prologue that illustrates the urgency of the characters made their buffalos seem all the more laughable to the viewing audience. However, in FLYING MACHINES was part of the reason why "Mad goes to Albert Sordi as Emilio in "Those Magnificent Men In Their Flying Machines" and the result is truly comical. However, in the light of the characters such as persons and the scenario, we are a safer choice. The story is a comical one -- the urgency of the characters themselves seem to be rather vaudeville. The play is not as good as a higher order if the characters look the most like the characters they are modelled on.

Miss Goodwin's music is an appropriate the aeronautical high-jinks and Ron Skelton in a prologue that illustrates the urgency of the characters made their buffalos seem all the more laughable to the viewing audience. However, in FLYING MACHINES was part of the reason why "Mad goes to Albert Sordi as Emilio in "Those Magnificent Men In Their Flying Machines" and the result is truly comical. However, in the light of the characters such as persons and the scenario, we are a safer choice. The story is a comical one -- the urgency of the characters themselves seem to be rather vaudeville. The play is not as good as a higher order if the characters look the most like the characters they are modelled on.
Still Winless In Football

Bears Drop 13-0 Decision to Maine

At Bridgewater's Legion Field the Bears went down in defeat 23 to 13 to the Newport R.I. Naval Base. After a fine running game in the first half, the Bears' passing game took over in the second half and was unable to score. From inside the 10 yard line, Humphey stormed through the middle of Newport's defense on both touchdowns. This year BSC has some fine linemen - Chris Lee, Jeff Fanning, Tom Bell and Bill Keaveney who have performed so well this season.

SATURDAY night traveling to Qonset. Hoping to break their long losing streak, the Bears will be in fine lighting as they have been in the past.

Homecoming in October 30th when BSC will host Nichols College at Legion Field. DON'T MISS THE BIG GAME OF THE YEAR.

OFFICIAL CHECKS PUJIP during Newport-Bridgewater night game at Legion Field.

BSC Harriers Triumph

Cross country at Bridgewater State may enjoy its most successful season despite the loss of Coach Bob Marum, who inspired and led the team for three years. Although a coach could not be acquired, a team has been assembled by the boys themselves. Three freshmen and a running manager constitute the entire team. Although small in number, the team will be respected by the most formidable opponents in the weeks to come.

Two meets have been held thus far. The BSC record is 2 wins and 0 losses. The next meet will be against Barrington College on Wednesday, October 13. The Bears complete three meets this year and will be well equipped for the big meet at Middlesex.

Homecoming First on Agenda

The first senior class meeting of the year was held on Tuesday, Sept. 28. Subjects discussed were Homecoming, class gifts, Christmas cards, and the Senior Prom. The Homecoming Dance, the only social function run for profit by the senior class, will be held in the large gym on Saturday, October 30.

Cross-Country Track Schedule

Wednesday, September 29
Saturday, October 9
Wednesday, October 13
Saturday, October 16
Wednesday, October 20
Saturday, October 30
Thursday, November 5
Saturday, November 6

BSC 33 Barrington College 32
BSC 31 New Hampshire College 27
BSC 34 Nichols College 22
Barrington College 32
Assumption College 2:00 p.m.
Saint Anselms College 2:00 p.m.
Nicolle College 3:00 p.m.
Barrington College 3:30 p.m.

ATHLETIC BSC WOMEN BUSY

ATHLETIC BSC WOMEN BUSY

The first round of the WRA teams tournament was set up by student director, senior Sandy Sturko. In the beginning divisions, matches also slated were: Joanne Segrave vs. Barbara Nide, Linda Oly vs. Susan Walsh, Janet Brown vs. Jan Olson.

Miss Mary Lou Ruggs, physical education instructor, has introduced Danish gymnastics to the club. These weekly meetings begin in the last week of October, and report to the gym on Wednesdays.

Also on Wednesdays, the girls have been practicing lively Softball behind the gym at 4:30. Besides playing the games of touch football, the girls form a few basic fundamentals enabling them to understand the game fully.

The WRA hockey team is making plans to send the team to Wamsley Field on Sat. Oct. 16 for a sports day. Also the team is planning a schedule of games with surrounding colleges.

BSC Earth Science Department On Move

Some college professors are "going public" while others lecture and have a minute after class. An attorney is preparing for an exchange of ideas. This is just a sample. The BSC Earth Science Department at Bridgewater is definitely in the front category.

Dr. Donald A. Moiser, chairman of the department, and his colleagues have arranged a year of invitational lectures on earth science and related fields. Their first lecture, given by Mr. Thomas Holland, chairman of earth sciences departments, was last Wednesday, October 12, and was as poorly attended as the first lecture of last year. Two more lectures, November 9 and December 7, are planned for the semester.

Geomaneumns, Inc., is a firm in the earth sciences dealing with geological activities for industrial purposes, and room and building construction, among other things. Mr. Holland spokes on "Practical Applications of Earth Science:"

Mr. Holland, as the arbiter who spoke to a larger audience and those scheduled to speak this year, came to Bridgewater "as a matter of good will," according to Dr. Moiser. The lecture series speakers are not paid. He added that if the lecture series "proves successful and we run out of friends willing to give up their time, I hope our college will make available a speakers' fund."

But the series is not successful, at least if attendance is a standard. Although the lectures are excellent and so interesting to the layman as well as the geologist, students don't take advantage of one of the few opportunities at BSC to hear outstanding men in this field on our soil.

Dr. Moiser stated that his department was "trying to raise the level of informal intellectual activity at Bridgewater," but their efforts seem to fail. They are now attempting to interest potential Bridgewater students in the earth sciences program by publishing a lecture-pamphlet on the staff and courses of the department.

Dr. Moiser believes that Bridgewater is the only college in the New­ england area with an earth science department on the undergraduate level. However, although the department has a unique and good program, its small faculty members can only talk their heads against the wall of student indifference.

LEGAN'S APOTHECARY

The Modern Drug Store

OW 74076

TANNING

WEARY HARRIERS after first loss - to Nichols - with whom BSC will clash in football October 30, Homecoming, at Legion Field.