Climate and Warfare

Dr. Van Valkenburg began his talk with a quotation from Sophocles, "We are like drops of water: all of us join together to form the sea."

He emphasized the importance of understanding the influence of weather upon warfare. He noted that the Greeks had come close to winning the Trojan War by building a fleet to sail into the Aegean Sea, but they ran aground in a storm. The contemporary example he cited was the 1940 Dunkirk evacuation, where the British fleet was able to evacuate troops and POWs from the beaches of France because the weather was clear and calm.

Dr. Van Valkenburg also discussed how climate can influence political decisions. For example, he mentioned that the decision to invade Ethiopia by the Italian army in 1935 was influenced by the climate. The rainy season in Somalia, where the invasion took place, was unfavorable for military operations, which led to the failure of the invasion.

In conclusion, Dr. Van Valkenburg stated that "Climate does not always work hand and hand with military strategy, but it definitely has an influence."

Random Observations

Throughout the country, college students are being given the opportunity to work with faculty and administration on community service projects. The new emphasis on community service is beginning to be an important figure in many colleges and universities. At Bridgewater College, for example, students will now sit with local citizens and board members on the Selective Service Bulletin Board.

President Glenn Leggitt of Cornell College, after a careful and lengthy study during which students and faculty were consulted, has abolished the college's "hourly" system. In its place, the Teach-In has been replaced with a"categorical" system of college courses. The college, however, by the college or by an individual, is a matter of security with the women's residences without the necessity of the college's maintaining an arbitrary "hourly" system.

At the University of Iowa, members of the Student Assembly have been given the chance to work with some of the faculty and administration committees. Will they, however, be as successful as some of their fellow students across the country? Will the single student on a faculty committee really be able to make his voice heard? The change in the attendance office would seem to indicate that the students may well have a voice in the making of policy at Bridgewater. The thrill of being heard is one unless the student uses it and actively. Your representatives have the power to make themselves heard, make sure they use it.

For Auld Lang Syne

How much security is there in grasping a paper cup? Paper cups have no personality, no individuality, no form.

All of you who remember the Good Old Days of open-air baths and board and batten flaps are shaking their heads...the days when you could go to work and come home and find something to eat. The overcrowded wastebaskets today tell us the long psychological affects of the untrustable "snack" produced when a paper cup is not carefully placed on a table. You are tired of being frisked by snappy cup cards, if you want to. But if you like to be in the good old days, there's something you can do to it. You can cut out your local D.A.R., represent and tell him about it. What will he be.cssing or glassy paper? It's up to you.

Veterans, Organize

Bob Flynn has announced that group of veterans are being made for a veteran's organization on campus. The group is interested in the charter and the final ramifications of establishing a veteran's club.

Although it ran for only eight years, its role was significant. Founded in 1950 by Mrs. Mark DeWolfe Howe, the theater was housed in the basement of the old Brattleboro Free Public Library, and its original board of directors included many of the leading figures of the Boston theater scene.

Something Special

For those of you whose interests range beyond the confines of S.N.U.'s campus, I would like to suggest that you reserve Wednesday evening November 1st, 1967. Dr. Agrippina MacNeil, professor of geography at S.N.U., will be giving a lecture on "THE RUSSIAN LANDSCAPE AS VIEWED BY AN AMERICAN GEOGRAPHER." Dr. MacNeil recently returned from a trip through Russia, and will have a library of many colorful slides that Dr. MacNeil has succeeded in capturing a part of Russia and Russian life that is seldom seen by western eyes.

If you would like to spend an evening which promises to be both interesting and enjoyable, be in the Science Lecture Hall at 7:30 on November 1. DON'T MISS IT.

Change is an integral part of our social system. It is the change in industry, education and communication that is currently allowing the tapping of the society. It is within the realm of the possible to see our society change in only one year. New ideas will be born and new knowledge will be gained. The changes that will occur will change the way we see the world.

Spanish Entertainers tour USA

South Shore theater giants will have an opportunity to see one of Spain's most famous dance and song - and dance companies when they join the 100-seat show in the 104-seat Red Lion in the Shore Theater on November 4, 1967 at 8:15 p.m. in the second offering in the Celebrity Series at the Bridgewater State College.

The handsome young company of Spanish dancers, singers, and instrumentalists came together in 1962. The group, which played the opening night at the U.S. State Department in Madrid, has been touring the world ever since.

The handsome young group of Spanish dances, singers and instrumentalists consists of songs and dances from all of the Spanish provinces. From the great Spanish operas and ballets, from the Spanish great composers, there are even some works by non-Spanish composers, such as Devi and Stravinsky. The group was organized in Madrid by Spain's most famous directors and are comprised of 10,000,000.

Spanish Entertainers will be presented here under the auspices of the Bridgewater State College. The show will be labeled) in the front row, and be excused from student teaching. The show's greatest merit is, however, the concentration on important questions such as: What is being done to keep pace with the needs of man's changing society? How can we keep pace with the needs of society? How can we keep pace with society? How can we avoid the mistakes of the past? How can we avoid the mistakes of the future? How can we avoid the mistakes of the present? How can we avoid the mistakes of the past?

Bears Maul Curry 27-6 by Burl Betsy

Bridgewater State posted its record to 2-1 and won last Saturday, October 7, by rolling over Curry College in a stunning 27-6 victory. Paul Stella and William Verseckes both scored as over-powering attack, while BSC’s defense frustrated Curry’s offense.

Curry really didn’t have that much trouble moving the ball as long as they stayed on the same side of the field. However, they couldn’t cross into Bridgewater territory, and they usually didn’t stay very long. When their running game bogged down they attempted to go to the air, and that wasn’t too successful. In 16 attempts they had but 2 completions in 12 attempts. In its efforts to deceive the defense, Curry was more than that out the Bears jumped on a fumble and picked up 2 first downs, one of them coming on Curry’s 1 yard return.

When the defensive unit came on it was near perfection. During one TD drive Stella hit 4 straight passes culminating with a 20 yard strike from Stella to Matheson and a 20 yard jaunt by Paul Stella.

Chameleon Host Hipsies

by Yvonne Tarrall

On Friday night October 6 the Chameleon opened to a capacity crowd who wanted to know what the hippie movement is all about from Tobey and Colleen Carey, a sincere young couple who live it.

Tobey began by asking those who would like to participate in a light interview through which we were supposed to gain a deeper awareness of the energy within our bodies and with our universe. After this quieting exercises we sat down and opened the session. "Hippy is dead," said Colleen. She followed with ideas treasured to her opening sentence. Tobey and Al Carey, her brother, added some observations of their own, and we never found out what really meant. In fact, the communication wave between the hippies and our audience seemed to be freixed in the wrong ways, because of the vague notions of the hippies’ ideas and their expectations in presenting them. However, we did gain some expression of the hobby and potentialities of their philosophy.

Bears Run Record to 3-2 by Bruce Nelson

Following a loss to a powerful Barrington College, the Bridgewater hardwoods had consecutive victories over Fitchburg State and Nichols College.

On Wednesday, October 4, the Bears hosted and were surprised by a young, strong Barrington squad. BSC managed to split the first 10 places with Barrington, but after the Student Skaters had captured the first three spots there was little doubt as to the winner. On the plus side for Bridge­water was the appearance of first year freshman, Bruce Kell, who had the first BSC pass to finish, Kelly was followed by Millikan and Dave Layton who turned in another fine performance. When the pots were totaled, Bridgewater came out on the wrong end of a 21-34 score.

Three days later the Bears traveled to Fitchburg to inaugurate their sister college’s first venture with a cross country team. Fitchburg pro­vided a good test as a team that year as that was the only team here. The team was then led by Coach Kell, Who finished third in line for BSC men were.
