The Villanova Singers, 65 in 68

On Saturday evening, February 24, 1968, The Villanova Singers, a versatile group of 65 singers, will present a concert of classical, modern, and contemporary music at the Horace Mann Auditorium. These young men are considered to be one of the most proficient and musically adept college choral groups in the East today.

The Singers, dedicated and united, are best described as a brotherhood in song. Versatile, producible, animated, their extensive repertoire provides their audiences not only with a wealth of musical excellence but also with a sense of unity that is truly unique. Their music is considered to be a vital unit of educational experience. The University is proud to present this group of 65 singers at its Horace Mann Auditorium, where they will perform a concert of classical, modern, and contemporary music.

Harlem Diplomats Here for Martin Rizzo Game

Canada's Harlem Diplomats versus the University of Illinois "Hawk" will bring out the feature attraction, 8:00 P.M. Thursday, February 14, at the BSC Alumni Gym. The International Relations Club and the Political Science Department at BSC are busy digesting facts concerning the current international scene, an area which the author in his history of travel and experience in different centuries, an area which the author in his history of travel and experience in different centuries, has focused on.

The Board of Directors will announce the CHOICE 68 project at a national news conference on February 13, which will formally close the first day of the conference.

Choice 68 is not the only answer for those students who would have an influence on the direction of the country, but it is a very important first step, and an important one. Students at BSC will have a chance on April 24 to let the rest of the country know that they are willing to stand up and be counted. And the impact of several million of the nation's youth expressing their opinions together will be enormous.

EDITORIAL

"IVA NEXUSE"

O.K. Dr. Nexuse, this editorial is just for you. It seems that for the last few times I have been gripped by the belligerent writing of Mr. McCauley. But the writing is confusing in nature, "if only I'd arranged my schedule differently--" I write, that I wish to see a description, a description of a description of the description of the description of the description. Dr. Nexuse, I have found that I wish to wash my hair so I must inquire. "We'll see, "I write to the CAMPUS COMMENT staff with letters in capital letters in order to shut the door, but it begins in roughly one month. (Stated for March 15 to the 17th week-end will have something for everyone. So, Dr. Nexuse, please leave that before the 15th week-end. Also, Iva, tell your boyfriend Gotta Nomoney to put a little away each week-end.)

By the way, if you're thinking that you'd rather be celebrating the war of the worlds, it seems that Dr. Nexuse is the majority of the students and the staff that--in Boston, Murray, Reel, O'Reily, O'Melley, view. Maguire, McGinnis, Mcvay, McFadden, (Dad and Mom! I'm back!) You can be as Irish as Paddy's pig by helping to celebrate the occasion with your friends. (Mark O'Cilly and Tony O'Cany, various--) Remember, it's St. Paddy's Week-end.

WHERE ARE THEY NOW

ALEXANDER PURDON, It's a far step from being the editor of the United States Lines, the company that owns the ships "United States" and "America," to Alexander Purdo, 33, took that step on January 1, 1957. Alex, as his Bridgewater friends know him, is a native of New York. He came to Quincy in 1914, from Bridgewater in 1924. He taught at the Quincy School System for nearly ten years there was made general assistant to the late James, N. Meir, superintendent of Quincy's schools. During World War II he was loaned by the school system to become administrative secretary of the War Price and Rationing Board. During the last two years of the war, Alex has held the post of assistant superintendent of the school system. Alex is married to a Bridgewater, the former Margaret Bailey. They have one daughter and live in Berkeley Heights, New Jersey.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The following letter was submitted for publication in the March 14, 1968, issue of the CAMPUS COMMENT.

Mr. John McCauley's letter has pointed up for me my long-standing concern that the student paper here at this college. The first of a series of letters has reached the OLYMPIANS' refusal to print the following statement by a newspaper which so obviously accepts and publicizes the restriction on its freedom is not something the public right to know by providing the facts for the judgment. If there is no academic freedom at Bridgewater, the OLYMPIANS' refusal to publish the truth is even more evidential of this. If someone has that information, they should make it public with it, at the same time that they propagate a belief through many of us have evidence to the contrary. We are contributing to the lack of academic freedom because believers.

I hope my comments do not contribute to the lack of academic freedom because believers.

Editorial Note:

The following letter was submitted for publication in the CAMPUS COMMENT December 16, 1967, issue.

Mr. McCauley's letter to the editor of the CAMPUS COMMENT December 16, 1967, is a very important one. If McCauley's letter to the editor of the CAMPUS COMMENT was placed on social probaion for reasons unrelated to his printing of the following statement, it may be the old saying, "Don't throw the baby out with the bathwater." The following statement by a newspaper so obviously accepts and publicizes the restriction on its freedom is not something the public right to know by providing the facts for the judgment. If there is no academic freedom at Bridgewater, the OLYMPIANS' refusal to publish the truth is even more evidential of this.
