The Comment, November 20, 1969

Bridgewater State College

Follow this and additional works at: https://vc.bridgew.edu/comment

Part of the Education Commons, and the Social History Commons

Volume 1
Number 11

Recommended Citation
Retrieved from: https://vc.bridgew.edu/comment/251

This item is available as part of Virtual Commons, the open-access institutional repository of Bridgewater State University, Bridgewater, Massachusetts.
Moratorium Observance

by Janice Indorato

Thursday, Nov. 13th and Friday, Nov. 14th, the Bridgewater Moratorium Committee sponsored the second moratorium observance. Thursday night, 40 people attended the Science Lecture Hall program. A short talk was given by Mrs. Christina Reardon, an instructor in our language department. Mrs. Reardon told the group that anyone interested in peace should be interested in the language and culture of all peoples.

An anti-war film, "Land Without Joy" was then shown. It detailed the senseless death and destruction in Vietnam. The film showed the contrast between the pompous, unconcerned actions of the military and the suffering of the people.

The candlelight procession was then formed outside the science lecture hall. About 75 people moved up Park Ave. to Summer St. and into the center park. There, co-chairman Janice Indorato and Bill Morse addressed the group. Miss Indorato told the small crowd, night vigil began. Handfuls of people drifted back and forth from the Coffeehouse to the church until 2:00 AM. Then, around 10 people kept the vigil until dawn.

Friday morning at 11:00 AM, Dr. Everett Mendelsohn, professor of History of Science at Harvard University, spoke at Horace Mann Auditorium to an unbelievable attendance of 50 people. Professor Mendelsohn went to Vietnam in January and February of 1968. He told of the South Vietnamese people's opposition to American presence. This is exemplified by the passive resistance of dock workers and domestic help.

Professor Mendelsohn also mentioned the advanced weaponry of the U.S. forces in comparison to the relatively primitive arms of the NLF. Professor Mendelsohn informed the nearly empty audience of the destitute conditions of the Vietnamese people. One doctor for a hospital equipped for 400 and handling 650 people.

After his speech, Dr. Mendelsohn was guest at a luncheon at Tilly, attended by Dean Harrington, Dean Dinardo, and members of the group. They told Miss Indorato to tell us what you want, but tell us something! By Greg McGrath

BRIDGEWATER. In a recent interview, Mary Ellen Donahue announced that at the next meeting of the SCA, she intended to present a petition before that body calling for an election for President and Vice-president.

Miss Donahue said that this move was being made for a variety of reasons. The chief reason being that she and other students felt that the recent decision to keep the present students as this would create a stronger student government. She also stated that since the qualities and abilities for student officers were different, it was not fair to have students accept a president without an election.

When asked to comment on Pres. Kocian's decision to call for a referendum, Miss Donahue stated that this would be ineffective since students would vote for him largely out of sympathy and hence no real objective conclusion could be drawn from it. She also stated by her that if, as rumored, there was another election and everyone on the Council resigned it would prove they lacked strength of character and the ability to take criticism, two qualities which an officer must possess in order to do a good job.

When asked about the reaction to her petition by students and SCA representatives, Miss Donahue stated that the S.C.A. would probably not be hostile to her, but neither would it be very receptive to her petition. She said that she would not campaign openly for a new election nor would she deliberately seek out students to sign the petition, but she hoped to get enough signatures in order to show the S.C.A. that there is a large number of students against their decision. This would probably consist of 1,000 or more signatures. She also hoped the petition would cause a movement to amend the S.C.A. Constitution so that the present situation will not cause any problems in the future.

S.C.A. NEWS

by Scott Douglas Bennett

Attorney General

Students involved in the petition drive calling for new elections in the S.C.A. are going to move to have the petition by the S.C.A. Council and not undermine their own student government. It is certainly an intelligent move worthy of praise and S.C.A. President Paul Kocian has it on the agenda for today's meeting at 4:15 PM.

This S.C.A. meeting will be an open one and a very important one, besides the petition of the Council is going to move to reconsider the Student Judiciary Constitution. The Student Judiciary reconsideration was informally announced and a large turnout is expected, so the meeting might have to be moved to larger quarters such as the Auditorium or the Demonstration Room.

Everyone who wants to know what kind of people allocate the $67,000 in Student fees each year, should try to attend a few S.C.A. Council meetings. By Janice Indorato

There were many people who shared their feelings.

Mr. Morse then told the group that although Nixon refused to listen, he will have to listen. Mr. Morse also told the crowd of their responsibility to continue.

The group then moved down School St. and into the Methodist Church where the all S.C.A. NEWS

by Greg McGrath

BRIDGEWATER. The Menorah Club of Bridgewater State College invites all members of the entire college community-faculty, students, and administration—to its annual Chanukah Party to be held in the Tillinghast Reception Room on DECEMBER 9, Tuesday, third hour—10 AM. The Chanukah Party is an annual event which has proved in the past to be very successful. It is the highlight of the Menorah Club's social calendar, and is enjoyed by all who make an effort to attend. Traditional Chanukah refreshments are served during the program. The Menorah Club's members and officers: Pres. Hal Shainwald, V.P. Irv Wasserstein, Sec. Shari Pollock, and Tren. Susan Goldberg hope that all will share in this traditional event. The invitation is extended to you—come and see what Chanukah is all about.

Chanukah Party

around 10:30 PM, 16 people boarded a Washington-bound bus to join in the D.C. Moratorium march and rally.

PLEASE COME!

Thursday, Nov. 20, 1969 4:15pm
Seminar Room Ad Building
Judiciary to be reconsidered - Bring Ideas! Tell us what you want!

What you like! What you don't like!

But Tell Us Something!

NOVEMBER 20, 1969
BRIDGEWATER STATE COLLEGE
VOL. I No. XI

Mary Ellen Donahue To Present Petition To S.C.A.

by Janice Indorato

Chairman of Oct. 15 Rally on Boston Common

Janice Indorato, and Bill Morse, President Rondileau and Dick Brown, editor of the COMMENT, were unable to attend.

Around 10:30 PM, 16 people boarded a Washington-bound bus to join in the D.C. Moratorium march and rally.

Chanukah Party

BRIDGEWATER. The Menorah Club of Bridgewater State College invites all members of the entire college community-faculty, students, and administration—to its annual Chanukah Party to be held in the Tillinghast Reception Room on DECEMBER 9, Tuesday, third hour—10 AM. The Chanukah Party is an annual event which has proved in the past to be very successful. It is the highlight of the Menorah Club's social calendar, and is enjoyed by all who make an effort to attend. Traditional Chanukah refreshments are served during the program. The Menorah Club's members and officers: Pres. Hal Shainwald, V.P. Irv Wasserstein, Sec. Shari Pollock, and Tren. Susan Goldberg hope that all will share in this traditional event. The invitation is extended to you—come and see what Chanukah is all about.

Chanukah Party

by Greg McGrath

BRIDGEWATER. In a recent interview, Mary Ellen Donahue announced that at the next meeting of the S.C.A. she intended to present a petition before that body calling for an election for President and Vice-president.

Miss Donahue said that this move was being made for a variety of reasons. The chief reason being that she and other students felt that the recent decision to keep the present students as this would create a stronger student government. She also stated that since the qualities and abilities for student officers were different, it was not fair to have students accept a president without an election.

When asked to comment on Pres. Kocian's decision to call for a referendum, Miss Donahue stated that this would be ineffective since students would vote for him largely out of sympathy and hence no real objective conclusion could be drawn from it. She also stated by her that if, as rumored, there was another election and everyone on the Council resigned it would prove they lacked strength of character and the ability to take criticism, two qualities which an officer must possess in order to do a good job.

When asked about the reaction to her petition by students and SCA representatives, Miss Donahue stated that the S.C.A. would probably not be hostile to her, but neither would it be very receptive to her petition. She said that she would not campaign openly for a new election nor would she deliberately seek out students to sign the petition, but she hoped to get enough signatures in order to show the S.C.A. that there is a large number of students against their decision. This would probably consist of 1,000 or more signatures. She also hoped the petition would cause a movement to amend the S.C.A. Constitution so that the present situation will not cause any problems in the future.

S.C.A. NEWS

by Scott Douglas Bennett

Attorney General

Students involved in the petition drive calling for new elections in the S.C.A. are going to move to have their petition to the S.C.A. Council and not undermine their own student government. It is certainly an intelligent move worthy of praise and S.C.A. President Paul Kocian has it on the agenda for today's meeting at 4:15 PM.

This S.C.A. meeting will be an open one and a very important one, besides the petition of the Council is going to move to have the Student Judiciary Constitution reconsidered, which would be stronger and more receptive to her petition. She said that she would not campaign openly for a new election nor would she deliberately seek out students to sign the petition, but she hoped to get enough signatures in order to show the S.C.A. that there is a large number of students against their decision. This would probably consist of 1,000 or more signatures. She also hoped the petition would cause a movement to amend the S.C.A. Constitution so that the present situation will not cause any problems in the future.

The other day was unusually pressing for me. I had a forty-five minute discussion with Dean Shea in her office. I learned many interesting things which I feel compelled to share with my fellow students. First Dean Shea has always been and will always be a major supporter of student government. In fact a large portion of the credit for making student government what it is today should go to her. Secondly the girls' dormitory government, specifically the Dorm Council, has been steadily changing the dorm rules in fact so much that the handbook must be revised each year. Thirdly, Dean Shea supports the Judiciary but she favors faculty members to be on the council herself. Forthly Dean Shea supports all students who want to know what kind of people allocate the $67,000 in Student fees each year, should try to attend a few S.C.A. Council meetings.

My last article in the S.C.A. was received warmly by the Office of Student Personnel. A couple of students in that beloved office have been giving me the books which Norm Neu used to get. This leads me to the assumption that I have finally made number one and now to the business of earning my status!

On the subject of her first remark I will say nothing. Fill in the following blank anyway you see fit, students,
Dear Editor,

Is the Moratorium the only way to get student participation? Are we to be a self-pitying newspaper one might think so. It is a way for the apathetic Bridgewater student to get involved. But what happens when a person feels just as strongly about an issue, who support it, with the same convictions and commitments? Is there no place for these people? How much longer is our newspaper going to perpetuate its one-sided views, in the name of "freedom of the press"?

As for caring, I urge those who care to show a little bit of research into all the aspects that surround this issue. But those who feel just as much trouble, it is much easier to sport blue lapel buttons and follow like sheep, than to be the "thing" this year on the college scene. To document my claims about the college "thing," I ask any of those who "care" to read a newspaper, or a magazine, or do a little more research, and just sit on their duffs and watch whoever is your favorite at 7:00 on a weekday night on the Shrewsbury auditorium, or the "Shoe-keen"-tude. What do they say, that the vast majority of participants in the Moratorium are college students or people connected with colleges such as professors, or maybe just some of those who care. Not research if it is not too much trouble, one will find the entire Moratorium movement as one-sided as done in this article. But the people who care, see this as too much trouble, they feel that it is one-sided views, in the name of "freedom of the press," and therefore they do not want to bother. Perhaps that is why the newspaper is going to perpetuate its one-sided views, in the name of "freedom of the press." And to do even more, perhaps that is why the newspaper is going to perpetuate its one-sided views, in the name of "freedom of the press.

Disgusted with a Moritorium Movement at its full force and with all its glareaour, but if you think I am kidding, try putting out a weekly newspaper - it's no fun.

I am not reprimanding anyone; I am pleading, I am begging for a little more participation. A few Thursdays ago I witnessed what was probably the biggest fracce of all time, and I am sure that I was almost ashamed to be associated with such an apathetic campus. Out of 1000 students, only 614 showed up, and 614 of these students have enough interest in the welfare of their school to get out and vote, and yet none of them got to be something wrong. But who is to blame? Not the Administration, not the Student Associations, certainly not the 614 who DID vote. Who then? It can only be blamed on the Silent Majority who probably don't know what SCA or WRA stand for, and it is the scary thing in turn frightening them is it they probably don't even give a damn!

Instead of asking people, may I ask what you have gained by not caring? I would really like to be interested in hearing, for I can only see what we, as a campus, have lost.

In the second issue of this year's COMMENT, Bob Bancini wrote an article on participation. Unfortunately, in reality, Bob was one of the most idealistic people I have known. Bob had faith in people, he could understand when things were rough and say, "Don't worry, things will turn out better." But Bob's idealism has been stolen from him. He worked more than was necessary to get people to respond, yet everything was met with the same lack of interest. Well, it's certainly not Bob's fault that the students could not be bothered, nor can he be blamed for finally getting tired. Bob was a fantastic president - he cared about each of the 3000 students, and he tried until he could try no more to dispel the apathy that was evident on this campus.

But now we lost "Bob the Idealist, President of SCA." Instead in the Presidential seat is a person who, like Bob, cares too, and he could do a lot for this school if we give him the chance, I am all for him.

Come on people, let's not lose Paul too. Don't allow another president to become disillusioned because of lack of student CO-OPERATION, SCA and BSC CO-OPERATIVE association. Instead of being patterned, a term that was evident on this campus.

Instead in the Presidential seat is a person who, like Bob, cares too, and he could do a lot for this school if we give him the chance, I am all for him.

Mrs. Sullivan
(588-4904)

Send questions to "Ask the COMMENT," Office Comment, State College, Bridgewater, Mass. 02324, or drop them off at the COMMENT office. "Ask the COMMENT" about Student activities, curriculum, or any other phase of college life.

Q. Where does that $1.00 fee go when a voter stays overnight in a dorm? I know it's supposed to be for linen, but few people bother. Should they still be obliged to pay (for sleeping in a bed that one is using anyway)? A. The fee is for linen and Dean Sheehan said that while it is in use, only few people bother. Would you still be obliged to pay for sleeping in a bed that one is using anyway? Q. If so, why? A. Inconceivable in a dorm and it is required by law. B. Smoking is allowed in all dorms. There is no known rule against burning incense. Candles are prohibited because of extreme fire hazards posed by an open flame.

Q. Why don't housemothers have to wait in line for meals like everyone else? If they are not physically able to stand in line, then they just ask someone else to pay for them. A. No one is going to pay for them. They don't have much time to eat, so I think you can afford to wait a few extra minutes for them to eat. The men's housemothers are not in line for reasons which were stated in a recent issue of the COMMENT.

Q. Would you please tell me who is accountable for any crime committed in the Lower Men's Dorm? I say the party who committed the crime is accountable. If someone else is accountable, please tell me why the original students are accountable, please tell me why the Sept. 17, 1969 open house policy is not yet in effect? A. Anyone who commits a crime is accountable but the Board of Trustees or their duly appointed representatives are accountable in any case where criminal negligence is involved and they can be charged with this...

ENGLISH MAJORS
Meet With Your Elected Representatives
To The English Department

Tuesday
Seniors: Rm B27
Nov. 25
10:00 A.M.
Juniors: Rm B27
Sophs: Rm B29

bring your criticisms, ideas and suggestions...

The College Center

by Dawn Hutchinson

ATT: Student Council

regarding this action at the last S.C.A. Council meeting, we members of the S.C.A., do not feel that the S.C.A. made a valid constitutional interpretation in electing a President, and we feel that this action is an infringement upon the rights of all the members of the Association.

Realizing the resignation of J. Robert Mancini as President of the S.C.A., and former President A. David Capella as Vice-President of the S.C.A., and further realization of the resignation of Gerald Brennan as Secretary to ascend to the presidency for "a non-extended period of time" as is stated in The Constitution of the S.C.A., we would like to receive the request for immediate elections, by the entire student body, to the office of President and Vice-President.

Since a special election to fill the vacated positions of Treasurer and Assistant Treasurer was held in September, and that election has been satisfactorily completed by 614 who DID vote. Who then?

Therefore, we will you not hold a special election, but as soon as possible, to fulfill our request by holding an election for President and Vice-President.

It is hereby proposed that an election be held on November 20th, for President and Vice-President.

What's Happening

At BSC

NOV. 20
7:30 Biology Club - Dr. Elwyn, Science Lecture Hall.
8:15 Taming of the Shoe Auditorium.
NOV. 21
8:15 Taming of the Shoe Auditorium.
NOV. 22
Christian Fellowship Center - Speaker: Dr. P. M. Shrewsbury, University of Minnesota.
8:15 Taming of the Shoe Auditorium.
NOV. 24
5:00 Faculty Council SB 217
5:00 S.A.C. Meeting
8:00 Junior Mixer
Amory Gym
NOV. 25
10:00 S.M.E.A. Meeting-Room SS 434
11:00 General Faculty Meeting Science Lecture Hall
12:00 S.M.E.A. Meeting-Science Lecture Hall
1:00 C.O.Vets Meeting
1:00 Lunch-Hilferly
6:45 Newman Mass
7:00 Christian Fellowship's Thanksgiving Church
NOV. 26 - NOV. 30
Thanksgiving recess

Biology Lecture Series

The first of a new bi-monthly lecture series in Biology, sponsored by the Biology Club, will be held on Thursday evening at 7:30 P.M. in the Science Lecture Hall. Dr. William W. Green will give a lecture on "The Use of Plant Technology at this college," which will speak on "Charles Darwin and the Origin of Species." The hope is to alternate between visiting and faculty speakers in the field of biology. The lecture series is open to the public and the college community is invited.

The Committee will then discuss and decide how office space will be utilized. Space decisions will be final and on a yearly basis. Hearings will be set up to appeal other committee decisions.

On Campus 2nd semester, there will be a Center Director. Professor Barnet explained that an Interior Decorator has been approved by the Committees. The S.C.A. can not only serve the students but also the whole community. The building will hold 2000 people and will present various cultural programs such as ballet, choral groups, and etc. According to Professor Barnet, Bridgewater should become the Cultural Center of the South Shore because the theater will be the best equipped gym in the east.

PLEASE HELP!!

BRIDGEWATER - Kathy, whose picture accompanies this story, is three years old now and needs help. Her help. You must be "patterned," a term becoming familiar to all people. We have been asked by her parents to call for Bridgewater students to help this sweet responsive girl! Kathy needs both regular and substitute patterners on Monday 7:00-10:30 A.M. Please call Mrs. Thrasher (376-2560) or Mrs. Sullivan (588-4904).

ASK THE COMMENT

Bring your questions to "Ask the COMMENT," Office Comment, State College, Bridgewater, Mass. 02324, or drop them off at the COMMENT office. "Ask the COMMENT" about Student activities, curriculum, or any other phase of college life.
MORATORIUM AT HOME! AND AWAY!!
by Jim Foley

WASHINGTON, Thursday evening, the 13th, Moratorium services began at 7:30 in the Science Lecture Hall, where a renowned group of 38 gathered to hear a talk given by Mrs. Reardon and to watch a War Movie entitled "Land Without Justice." The service began at 7:30 in the auditorium. We were arrived in Washington about 9:00 a.m. Saturday morning.

There was sunshine, cold air, and more buses than anyone had never seen. There were thousands and thousands of them, and that's not an exaggeration.

No one was really sure how many people were there, but it was Arlo Guthrie that said: "I've been to Woodstock, and I've seen a lot of people. There must be a million of you out there." Then after everyone joined Pete Seeger in singing "Give Peace a Chance," and stood there, swaying like so many blades of grass, some of the rally came to a close. Most everyone went to the buses after that. However, if you unlucky you went downtown. And when night fell you found out what an inarticulate tear and pepper gas- ping can do to people. It's a great tactic to confine you, especially when 91/10 of the streets are sectioned off and you don't know where you are or how to get out. Fortunately, with everyone helping everyone else, nothing drastic happened. I saw that about 10-30 we were on the bus, waiting to leave. One girl had been arrested from our bus, so we had to see that she'd be taken care of. Then we started home. We were tired, weary, and confused, and we knew that what we had done was good. There was hope in that.

UNION CLASS

Will have an ELECTION in December To fill the positions of:
- Vice President
- Social Chairman
- Policy Director

This is very important so PLEASE RESPONSE

ALL INTERESTED PLEASE PICK UP NOMINATION FORMS IN THE STUDENT PERSONAL OFFICE.

WHAT'S AHEAD
by Anthony Ganguz

BRIDGEWATER, I recently spoke to Mr. Werner, assistant to the President, on some topics of interest.

I asked Mr. Werner when the foot bridge would be built and approximately how much it would cost.

He answered: "The planned footbridge will cost $110,000.00. It is being designed by Break Engineering Co. There will be a meeting on Monday 17 November in the Basement, the designer, from Harvard, B.U. and B.C. were off to Washington.

The following two weeks we were fortunate to have Dr. Everett Mendelson, a professor of history at Harvard, give a lecture on "The Modern Dance Club put on a superb dance program on Nov. 13th and 14th in the Kelly Gymnasium under the direction of Mrs. Wells, the club advisor, began the show with an explanation of modern dance. The members presented 13 numbers including very light ones—Oh Happy Day by Anne Gross—and very serious ones—Message from a Black Man by Leah Fletcher. The program concluded with Percussion Pompous. The Modern Dance Show was certainly a well done show. It showed originality and creativity in expression. Congratulations to the Modern Dance Club.

The C.I.A. Version Of The Didactic

Hark! The CIA prophage of extremism, I, Jean Tom, am again running rampant with realistic realm. Thus the Campus Intrigue Agency is again abasing the world with its insidiously candid humor. Contrary to recent scuttlebutt that the CIA is a savage horde of ruthless hooligans, nothing else, nothing drastic happened.

The CIAH is the planned target date. Unfortunately, in order for the CIAH to go through, it has to go through the state legislature for approval. The state legislature will hold a hearing next week on the CIAH and vote on whether or not to approve it.

Wide the CIAH will refrain from reporting any further observations of such for now. These thought provoking paradoxes may well be too instinctively creative to gain merit from anyone with an open mind. Prestige demands that the old facade remain intact and that the educational "frontyard" maintain its wholesome and unimpeachable image.

However, we college students are, of course, advanced beyond that stage of life so as to be able to make the didactic insult become directed at those who teach. Instead of taking everything with a grain of salt and thus developing choleric trouble, let these classic idiocyns motivate your ability to get things done.

1) From a girl foisting a Park Avenue Puddle; if I was a college administrator I'd think up a better way to arrange for my students to have local swimming facilities available.

2) From a freshman calling her lawyer: Definitely damaged sir, my eyes were perfect 20-20's until I took my first hour health exam in Bridgewater's Horace Mann Auditorium. They wouldn't even push the button beside to let the sun in, in a health class.

3) From a girl in her maxi-coat: Isn't it obvious that BSCI is really with it. Most of my male friends don't wear white coats anymore.

Well the CIAH will refrain from reporting any further observations of such for now. These thought provoking paradoxes may well be too instinctively creative to gain merit from anyone with an open mind. Prestige demands that the old facade remain intact and that the educational "frontyard" maintain its wholesome and unimpeachable image.

But the CIAH is the planned target date. Unfortunately, in order for the CIAH to go through, it has to go through the state legislature for approval. The state legislature will hold a hearing next week on the CIAH and vote on whether or not to approve it.

Hark! Again! I, Jean Tom, am running rampant with realistic realm. Thus the Campus Intrigue Agency is again abasing the world with its insidiously candid humor. Contrary to recent scuttlebutt that the CIA is a savage horde of ruthless hooligans, nothing else, nothing drastic happened.

Well the CIAH will refrain from reporting any further observations of such for now. These thought provoking paradoxes may well be too instinctively creative to gain merit from anyone with an open mind. Prestige demands that the old facade remain intact and that the educational "frontyard" maintain its wholesome and unimpeachable image.

However, we college students are, of course, advanced beyond that stage of life so as to be able to make the didactic insult become directed at those who teach. Instead of taking everything with a grain of salt and thus developing choleric trouble, let these classic idiocyns motivate your ability to get things done.

1) From a girl foisting a Park Avenue Puddle; if I was a college administrator I'd think up a better way to arrange for my students to have local swimming facilities available.

2) From a freshman calling her lawyer: Definitely damaged sir, my eyes were perfect 20-20's until I took my first hour health exam in Bridgewater's Horace Mann Auditorium. They wouldn't even push the button beside to let the sun in, in a health class.

3) From a girl in her maxi-coat: Isn't it obvious that BSCI is really with it. Most of my male friends don't wear white coats anymore.

Well the CIAH will refrain from reporting any further observations of such for now. These thought provoking paradoxes may well be too instinctively creative to gain merit from anyone with an open mind. Prestige demands that the old facade remain intact and that the educational "frontyard" maintain its wholesome and unimpeachable image.

However, we college students are, of course, advanced beyond that stage of life so as to be able to make the didactic insult become directed at those who teach. Instead of taking everything with a grain of salt and thus developing choleric trouble, let these classic idiocyns motivate your ability to get things done.

1) From a girl foisting a Park Avenue Puddle; if I was a college administrator I'd think up a better way to arrange for my students to have local swimming facilities available.

2) From a freshman calling her lawyer: Definitely damaged sir, my eyes were perfect 20-20's until I took my first hour health exam in Bridgewater's Horace Mann Auditorium. They wouldn't even push the button beside to let the sun in, in a health class.

3) From a girl in her maxi-coat: Isn't it obvious that BSCI is really with it. Most of my male friends don't wear white coats anymore.

Well the CIAH will refrain from reporting any further observations of such for now. These thought provoking paradoxes may well be too instinctively creative to gain merit from anyone with an open mind. Prestige demands that the old facade remain intact and that the educational "frontyard" maintain its wholesome and unimpeachable image.

However, we college students are, of course, advanced beyond that stage of life so as to be able to make the didactic insult become directed at those who teach. Instead of taking everything with a grain of salt and thus developing choleric trouble, let these classic idiocyns motivate your ability to get things done.

1) From a girl foisting a Park Avenue Puddle; if I was a college administrator I'd think up a better way to arrange for my students to have local swimming facilities available.

2) From a freshman calling her lawyer: Definitely damaged sir, my eyes were perfect 20-20's until I took my first hour health exam in Bridgewater's Horace Mann Auditorium. They wouldn't even push the button beside to let the sun in, in a health class.

3) From a girl in her maxi-coat: Isn't it obvious that BSCI is really with it. Most of my male friends don't wear white coats anymore.

Well the CIAH will refrain from reporting any further observations of such for now. These thought provoking paradoxes may well be too instinctively creative to gain merit from anyone with an open mind. Prestige demands that the old facade remain intact and that the educational "frontyard" maintain its wholesome and unimpeachable image.

However, we college students are, of course, advanced beyond that stage of life so as to be able to make the didactic insult become directed at those who teach. Instead of taking everything with a grain of salt and thus developing choleric trouble, let these classic idiocyns motivate your ability to get things done.

1) From a girl foisting a Park Avenue Puddle; if I was a college administrator I'd think up a better way to arrange for my students to have local swimming facilities available.

2) From a freshman calling her lawyer: Definitely damaged sir, my eyes were perfect 20-20's until I took my first hour health exam in Bridgewater's Horace Mann Auditorium. They wouldn't even push the button beside to let the sun in, in a health class.

3) From a girl in her maxi-coat: Isn't it obvious that BSCI is really with it. Most of my male friends don't wear white coats anymore.
Trenton State broke the ice midway through the first quarter when they were awarded a safety on Frederico's fumble attempt. On fourth down, Jim Frederico was about to kick from the Bears' 7-yard line operating completely dominate the contest. Trenton State broke the ice midway through the first quarter when they were awarded a safety on Frederico's fumble attempt. On fourth down, Jim Frederico was about to kick from the Bears' 7-yard line operating completely dominate the contest.

Bears Bow In Final

The Bridgewater State basketball team will sponsor a clinic for high-school players this Saturday, November 22 at the Kelly Gym on campus. The clinic will include: Vince Carezza, former head coach of the Pittsburg Pipers; Jack Lebeau, Brockton High coach; and Tom Knudson, Bear's head coach. The clinic is designed for the high-school players and coaches, and discussions and demonstrations will include individual and team drills. College students are welcome to attend free of charge. The entire staff will be covered: man to man defense; individual offensive techniques; and fundamentals. A film of basketball highlights of 1969-70 will be shown.

Bridgewater State.