Committee to handle Self Study

Bridgewater President Adrian H. Rondileau has designated this year, 1971-1972, as 'Self-Study Year'. President Rondileau's action came on the recommendation of the General Faculty at their September meeting.

The Self-Study Committee, organized last spring on recommendation of the Faculty Council, is made up of the major elements and functions of the College. It consists of three students selected by the Student Government; six faculty members, one from each academic division, appointed by the Faculty Council; a representative of the Graduate School; and an alumnus selected by the Alumni Association, the Dean of Students, and the Head Librarian.

The function of the committee is to organize and supervise a study by the college of its educational goals and programs, and to report to the college community the results of the investigation carried out in this direction,' stated President Joseph Doffa, Chairman of the Committee.

The Self-Study project is being designed to involve the entire community in a year-long re-examination of the college's educational enterprise. The Committee was given no deadline for the completion of its work, and it will be necessary, continue until 1972, but it aims to complete the bulk of its work by May of 1972.

Professor Doffa stated that no definite plans have been formulated, as yet, for the conduct of the self-study since the Committee has only recently been organized. To date the Committee has had four meetings and a number of proposals are under consideration.

The Committee intends to organize a series of meetings by various groups of students as their continuance in the College's life may become under scrutiny,' Dr. Doffa stated. He added that, in writing, "it is important, if the study is not to fall into confusion, of concerns about small details, for all one's energy in the program to keep its central objective in mind, and that objective may be suggested by this question: What do we need to do at Bridgewater State College to make our educational programs most useful and effective for the students who will be engaged in them and for the larger society that the College serves?"

In summarizing for the Committee, Professor Doffa stated, 'The College may arrive at one of the following conclusions: the Committee believes the very process of self-examination will be valuable in and of itself. It will turn our attention to concerns we have expressed previously, but not as isolated elements, but as parts of a larger whole. It will also turn our attention to fundamental questions about education, and the most effective means of achieving them."

In response to the Board of Governors' request for two months last year dealing with the subject of Rock Concerts, as a result of an S.A.C. Concert featuring Canned Heat, one motion stated that no rock concerts could be held in the Student Union Auditorium. The second motion defined a rock concert as being a show in which the audience may be excited into an enunciation of the facilities."

S.G.A. President Weissman approached Phil Conroy, Chairman of the Program Committee, last Tuesday making a formal request for the Program Committee to accept the Homecoming Concert, a proposal to elicit the views of the S.G.A.

Mr. Weissman stated that he, in the absence of a 9:30 P.M. has been trying to book a group for Homecoming since July but due to a number of factors, mostly concerning artist availability, and the policy of no rock concerts in the auditorium was made to do so.

The threatened Homecoming without the traditional concert passed by this week when S.G.A. President Joel Weissman asked the Student Union Program Committee to accept the responsibility for the concert until the Program Committee's action at their meeting Monday.

Several members of the Program Committee expressed doubts as to whether or not they could present a good Homecoming Concert on such short notice.

President Weissman, at the meeting at the request of Chairman Phil Conroy, expressed his doubts as to whether they would be a Homecoming Concert at all if the Program Committee did not accept the responsibility. Mr. Weissman felt S.G.A. would not be able to handle the situation and asked that the decision be made before the last day of the concert.

Mr. Weissman felt that, while the organization of the Program Committee and the Student Union, they would be more successful in booking a group in the short amount of time left. The S.G.A., traditional sponsor of the Homecoming Concert, was leaderless until yesterday's S.G.A. election and has not met yet this year; S.G.A. President Weissman accepted the complete responsibility for the concert until the Program Committee's action at their meeting Monday.

Student Managers at Food Service

Great Hill students are operating again this year, purveying an expanded menu of nutritious delicacies. The student managers found added thrust, for a food service charge was initiated on the September 14th. There are a number of reasons for this change, such as the desire to support the student managers, provide a more efficient service for students, and reduce the administrative burden on the dining hall staff. The student managers are excited about this new opportunity to take on a more significant role in the running of the dining hall, and they are looking forward to the challenge of providing a high-quality food service to the student body.

In other news, the S.U. Life has announced the return of the annual fall football game, which will take place on October 1st. This game is a tradition at the university and always draws a large crowd of students, alumni, and faculty. The student managers are planning to offer a variety of food and beverage options for the game, including hot dogs, pretzels, and soft drinks. They are also working on a number of promotions to encourage student attendance, such as a special student ticket price and a raffle for a chance to win a season pass to future games.

The S.U. Life is also proud to announce the return of the annual fall dance, which will be held on October 15th. This dance is a popular event on campus and is open to all students. The student managers are working hard to plan a fun and memorable evening for all attendees, with music, food, and drinks available throughout the night.

In addition to these events, the student managers are also planning to hold a number of smaller events throughout the fall semester, including a weekly trivia night, a movie night, and a fall festival. They are always looking for new ideas and suggestions from students, so please feel free to contact them if you have any thoughts on how to improve the service or what new events you would like to see.

The student managers are committed to providing a high-quality food service and a fun and exciting range of events throughout the fall semester. Please support them by taking advantage of the new food service, attending the events, and offering your feedback. We look forward to seeing you at the fall football game, dance, and other events!
EDITORIAL

The Massachusetts Advisory Council on Education (M.A.C.E.) recently released the results of a survey conducted while the students are of the various colleges very busy, the attitude of the faculty and administrators while being highly rated. The findings of this group, the M.A.C.E., that the designating of this academic year as a year of self-study, is to play a major role in changing the present negative attitude toward the College System in general and the own campus in particular.

The M.A.C.E. members of the students who have been critical of educational programs at the Colleges, will take the time to evaluate programs of the College faculty and honesty, offering viable suggestions.

The M.A.C.E. agrees with the move of the accrediting services of the Self-Study program will depend on both the quality and the ability of the students. The proper apathy exhibited during the program, that is, with a real dedication to the cause of improved education is necessary results of which will be of the utmost value.

ON THE TOWN: "Fiddler on the Roof" TO BE PRESENTED IN OCTOBER

The revival is directed and produced by Jerry Zaks, who is also responsible for the revival's choreography. The revival is scheduled to open on October 26, 1971, at the Shubert Theatre in New York City. The show will run for a limited engagement until February 5, 1972. The cast includes Chaim Topol, who will play Tevye, and Marika Kilius, who will play Golde. The production is sponsored by the Shubert Organization, and the play is being performed as part of their 1971-72 season. The revival of "Fiddler on the Roof" is expected to attract a large audience, as it is a classic musical that has been performed worldwide and has won numerous awards. The show is based on the novel "Fiddler on the Roof" by Sholem Aleichem, and it has been adapted for the stage by Joseph S. Fields and Jack Lawrence. The music and lyrics are by Jerry Bock and HarryOffline content not loaded.
DAVID REA

One of David Rea's first memories is of his mother playing fiddle riffs. This was during the time with Ian and Sylvia that David began to simplify. vocal technique provide a fine influence on David's music. Gary Davis asked, "David, why don't you go and play the fiddle?" Davis was d4ring the time with Ian and Sylvia that David began to consider a career as a solo artist.

In 1963, when he was seventeen, David left Ian and Sylvia to produce his first album; by this time David was eighteen. David was hired to sing and play on their first album, "Sylvia." Lately he has appeared on the new album on Capitol. Its David's reached a mellow 24 year-old, and finally he joined Felix Pappalardi, who had exerted his own influence on David's music. Yet, both his songs and he began to consider a career as a solo artist.

Weekend Sports

By Dave Petrick

The National Football League (NFL) action this weekend is for the most part exciting, with some thrilling games to look forward to. One of the most anticipated matchups is between the Dallas Cowboys and the New York Giants. The Cowboys, led by quarterback Roger Staubach, are on a roll and looking for their third straight win. The Giants, coached by Steven Spurrier, are also playing well and will be a tough opponent. The game is expected to be high-scoring and will feature some of the best quarterbacks in the league. The New England Patriots and the Miami Dolphins will also be playing, with the Patriots looking to keep their winning streak going. The Dolphins, on the other hand, will be looking to gain some momentum after a recent loss. The game promises to be a close one, with both teams playing hard to get the win.

Field Hockey Interview with Miss Hurst

I'm sure that many people on the campus are familiar with the B.S.C. women's basketball team. Team members include Gretchen Osborne, who had a standout season last year, and Jill Pulos, who is a returning starter for the engine. The team's head coach is Miss Hurst, who has been coaching the team for several years. She has a strong background in the game and brings a wealth of experience to the team. We had the opportunity to speak with Miss Hurst and discuss the team's goals and expectations for the season. She shared some insights on the team's strengths and weaknesses, as well as her expectations for the upcoming season. The team is looking forward to a challenging season and is ready to take on any opponent that comes their way.

W.R.A. Activities

One of the Women's Recreation Association's (W.R.A.) main events this semester is the Annual Dog Show at Bridgewater College. The show is open to all dogs and will feature various breeds, sizes, and colors. There will be judges to evaluate the dogs based on their appearance and temperament. The evening will also feature music and refreshments. The proceeds from the event will go towards the local animal shelter and will help support their efforts in helping animals find forever homes. The event is open to the public and is sure to be a fun and exciting night for everyone involved.
The COM.

The Bears are now 1-0 for the season, and will look to continue their winning ways next weekend when they host the Bears of Westfield State College.

Field Hockey Interview with Miss Hurst

I'm sure that many people on the campus realize that B.S.C. Field Hockey is a first rate sport. Miss Hurst, who presently is coaching the team for her second year, is optimistic about this year's team and is looking forward to a successful season. Many of last year's veterans are returning to the squad along with a good group of promising freshmen to make up the 1973 B.S.C. Field Hockey team.

W.R.A. Activities

The Winter Recreation Association (W.R.A.) is an organization that provides a variety of activities for all women of the college. This also includes activities that are just for the W.R.A. Thus, it is an all inclusive program. Together they are a great group of girls that enjoy each other's company and have a lot of fun.
