MRUTON:

Critical of an Attica riot.

Tuesday, October 19th, Mr. Tom Murton spoke in the S. U. Ballroom. As usual, his speech was well received by the audience. Murton, a professor at the University of Minnesota, spoke about his experiences with the prison system and his thoughts on the future of prisons. He discussed the need for reform and emphasized the importance of rehabilitation over punishment.

Ernie Daghig, senior class treasurer, told The COMMENT that the meeting may not have been a financial success but the enthusiasm it created was worth the money.

Friday night 'The Rascals' appeared in the Student Union Auditorium. The large capacity audience and widespread popularity of the band, as well as the atmosphere generated by the band's performance, drew a large crowd to the event. The Rascals were one of the most popular bands of the 1960s and 1970s, and their music continues to be enjoyed by audiences today.

Musical performances were a central feature of Homecoming activities on campus. The S.U. Program Committee's 'Gay Nineties Night' provided an enjoyable evening for the attendees. The program included a variety of musical acts, including a band inspired by the music of the 1950s, a rock group, and a combination of traditional and contemporary music. The evening concluded with a fireworks display, which added to the festive atmosphere.

The kids were trapped for the Beer Blast which began at 5:40 and 6:50; and the weekends activities were culminated by the S.U. Program Committee's 'Gay Nineties Night'. The Ballroom was filled to capacity and were entertained by the lively music of the Rascals. Each person attending was provided with a straw hat and all the peanuts and pretzels he could eat to set the mood for the drinking.

The vital statistics for the evening: 500 people in attendance, 13 kegs of beer consumed as well as several fifths of whiskey, scotch, vodka, gin, 400 pounds of peanuts and 60 pounds of pretzels.

One of the comments about the evening was, 'If you had any four people up their playing banjos we would have had a good time with all that booze flowing!!'

The most successful Homecoming yet! We should have more times like it around here!' These are some of the comments that people were using to describe last weekend's Homecoming activities. The festivities began Thursday night with a capacity crowd eating and listening to the sounds of the Orphans at the All College Dinner.

The rally and fireworks came off smoothly and at time on Great Hill. The fireworks display was described by many as the best they have ever seen. The inconveniences arose however, when a slight breeze blew smoke and live embers from the display towards the spectators seated in front of the Great Hill Residence.

This college has seldom seen more enthusiasm than was generated by the Senior Class '1960's Hop'. The three hundred people attending took great pains in getting in the mood for the 'Hop'. Bell bottomed and knit hats were considered 'essential'. Rolled-up blue jeans, red lipstick, saddle shoes, tattoos, body socks and leather jackets were the fashionable attire for the evening. Several members of the S.U. football team appeared as a street gang. Music for the evening was provided by a group reminiscent of the '60's era. The 'bobby soxers' present provided additional effects by screaming for the rock n' roll idols of the 50's such as Elvis PAND FABIAN.
Financial Aid

Federally-sponsor programs of the Department of Education, U.S. Department of Education, U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. It was one of a group of such programs administered by the College on Tuesday, October 5, for page 1 of the program. For students who show an exceptional financial need, the Federal Comfort Loan Program offers a chance to borrow up to $2,000 for the current year. The need for financial aid may be met through a combination of federal, state, and institutional grants. Direct the need analysis to the Financial Aid Office of the College at the following address:

Student Union Board of Governors

What is it & How it functions?

It’s role in the college community

The Student Union Board of Governors is an elected student organization responsible for managing the activities of the Student Union. The Board is composed of 12 elected student representatives and is responsible for overseeing the budget, programming, and facilities of the Student Union. The Board meets regularly to discuss and approve the activities of the Student Union, including events, programming, and facilities. The Board also serves as a liaison between the Student Union and the College administration, and is responsible for ensuring that the Student Union meets the needs of the student body.

Additionally, the Student Union Board of Governors is responsible for ensuring the proper management and use of the Student Union facilities, including the Student Union building and the Student Union offices. The Board is also responsible for ensuring that the Student Union activities are consistent with the College's mission and values.

The Student Union Board of Governors is an important part of the college community, providing a voice for students and ensuring that their needs are met. The Board is an important component of the college's democratic process, allowing students to participate in the decision-making process and ensuring that their voices are heard.

THE COMMENT

Bridgewater State College

October 26, 1971
The Student Union Board of Governors was established in order to increase the participation and influence of the college community. The Student Union Board of Governors is an effort to acquaint the students with the college community.

The Student Union Board of Governors is composed of students selected by the Student Government Association (S.G.A.) and faculty members selected by the faculty at large. The Board of Governors is a new and unique institution in the college community, and is composed of students selected by the S.G.A. and faculty members selected by the faculty at large.

The Board of Governors meets weekly on Mondays at 4 p.m. Participation in and the development of a program are encouraged, but must be limited to the size of the board. Participation in the Board of Governors requires the commitment of a student to attend meetings and participate in the development of a program. The Board of Governors has the responsibility for fulfilling this two-fold purpose at Bridgewater State College.

The purpose of the Student Union Board of Governors is to serve as a central and cooperative factor in the college community. The Board of Governors is responsible for the Student Union and its activities, and for the development of programs and activities that are meaningful to the college community.

It is past time for women to gain control of their own bodies.

Shirley Wheeler has been arrested in Florida and her trial is about to begin for manslaughter.

Shirley Wheeler is a middle-aged woman who has spent the last two years in prison for the murder of her daughter. She was arrested after her daughter was found dead in an abortion clinic in Florida.

Shirley is a prominent figure in the women's rights movement and has been actively involved in the struggle for women's rights for over 20 years.

Shirley's trial is expected to draw national attention and is likely to set a precedent for future cases involving women's rights.

The case has sparked a heated debate about the role of government in regulating abortion and the rights of women to make their own reproductive decisions.

Shirley's lawyers have been working tirelessly to prepare her defense, and the trial is expected to be a watershed moment in the women's rights movement.
It Is Past Time For Women To Gain Control Of Their Own Bodies

By Penny Travers

So far, most experienced women say they're not concerned about the threat of abortion. In fact, the majority of the women surveyed said they feel confident of their rights to abortion and contraceptive care. But a recent study by the National Institutes of Health found that nearly one out of five women had been denied an abortion on the basis of sexual orientation. The study, which was conducted by the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development, found that almost half of the women surveyed said they had been denied an abortion because they were gay or lesbian. The study also found that women were more likely to be denied an abortion if they were of a minority race or had a history of pregnancy complications. The study, which was funded by the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development, will be released later this year. The results of the study will be presented at the annual meeting of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists. The study will be the first of its kind to examine the impact of discrimination on women's access to abortion care. The study will also examine the impact of discrimination on women's ability to make informed decisions about their reproductive health. Supreme Menelik II was for the time to allow Italy to control Ethiopia. The Italians saw easy with Ethiopia for hunting always with other foreign powers in the world. The war of the Afar (the Afar). The Italian Army of Italy was the only army to defend Ethiopia in such a country as Italy. The Italian Army of Italy decided to invade Ethiopia and protect its colonial interests. Menelik asked the people of Ethiopia to defeat the invasion of Italy. The war was trained and equipped with the weapons and trained the people of Ethiopia who had previously brought back from Italy along with other arms bought from Europe.

Menelik moved his army north where another Italian victory at Amba Alage and Makale. The Italian Army decided to make another attack on Adowa, but they were not aware that Menelik had the same army that he had previously brought back from Italy along with other arms bought from Europe.

They were not aware that Menelik had the same army that he had previously brought back from Italy along with other arms bought from Europe.
It was a great disaster for the Italian army for about 6,000 men were killed. The Italian army fled toward Eritrea, and, if Menelik had not called back troops for the night, they might have pursued the Italians and killed many more of them. The Italian defeat at the Battle of Adowa was one of the greatest victories in the history of Ethiopia. Adowa became a long remembered symbol of the love of freedom of the people of Ethiopia. The Italians signed a peace treaty which finished the Treaty of Ucciali, established the boundary of Ethiopia and Eritrea, and recognized that Ethiopia was a sovereign state. The great victory at Adowa put Ethiopia on the map. Now the whole world realized that here was an African country that could not be easily colonized. Representatives from many countries came to sign treaties with King Menelik. The artist attempted to portray this battle in a painting, depicting the events and battles identified by the national language of Ethiopia, Amharic. Purchased after much trading this very old painting may be priceless and one of its kind. It tells the story of that great historic victory with pride and intricate, artistic workmanship.
MUSIC: TODAY'S SOUNDS

Phil Jones, now fully established as Crabby Appleton's master, began playing in the group on a tour that started with the legendary "Greatest Hits" LP which was released in 1972. Jones, who was also a member of the influential jazz band "The Incredible String Band," contributed significantly to the sound and feel of the band. He was known for his ability to blend disparate musical styles into a cohesive whole.

"What's Going On" by Dizzy Gillespie is one of the most influential jazz albums of all time. It introduced new sounds and techniques to the genre, setting the stage for future developments. The album featured Gillespie's unique trumpet playing and the innovative arrangements of the band. It remains a classic and is still admired by musicians and listeners alike.

The Incredible String Band's "Terminal Dog" album is a testament to their talent and ingenuity. They were able to blend elements of folk, rock, and classical music into a unique sound that was both novel and captivating. The album features the band's signature sound, characterized by its intricate arrangements and improvisational style.

The Incredible String Band's "Catch the Wind" is a landmark album in the band's discography. It introduced a new generation of listeners to the band's unique sound and helped establish their reputation as one of the most innovative groups of the time. The album features some of the band's most beloved songs, including "Cucumber Girl" and "Catch the Wind."

DRUG PREVENTION

For the first time in Massachusetts State College, and in all the nation, the first time in the United States, a Massachusetts State College has organized a teaching program on drug prevention. The program is designed to educate students and faculty about the dangers of drug use and to promote alternatives to drug use.

The program is coordinated by Dr. Adrian Brandt, Professor of Psychology at the college. It is sponsored by the Massachusetts State College Student Council and is funded by a grant from the Massachusetts State College Foundation.

Dr. Brandt has been involved in the development of the program and is an active participant in its implementation. He is a well-known expert on the topic of drug use and has written extensively on the subject.

Young Lawyers and Student Power

by M. Howard Ollendorf

(CPS) As the student power movement shifts in the United States, young lawyers are finding new ways to join the battle for justice. With a focus on social and economic issues, a new generation of lawyers is working to bring about systemic change. This essay examines the role of young lawyers in the fight for social change.

The struggle for justice has always been at the heart of the legal profession. From the civil rights movement to the feminist movement, lawyers have played a crucial role in advancing the cause of social justice. Today, young lawyers are leading the charge, using their legal knowledge and skills to fight for a more just society.

One of the key issues that young lawyers are tackling is education. Many young lawyers are working to ensure that all students have access to high-quality education, regardless of their race or socioeconomic status. They are challenging the policies that perpetuate educational disparities and advocating for systemic change.

Another area where young lawyers are making a difference is environmental justice. With the urgent need to address climate change, young lawyers are working to ensure that all communities are protected from the worst impacts of climate change. They are advocating for policies that prioritize the needs of marginalized communities and are challenging industries that contribute to environmental injustice.

In addition to these issues, young lawyers are also working to combat the scourge of mass incarceration. They are challenging the policies that have led to the over-incarceration of marginalized communities and are advocating for systemic change that will reduce the number of people locked up and ensure that those who are incarcerated are treated with dignity and respect.

Overall, young lawyers are playing a crucial role in advancing social justice. They are using their legal knowledge and skills to challenge the systems that perpetuate inequality and are advocating for a more just society. As the fight for justice continues, young lawyers will be at the forefront of the struggle, using their legal expertise to bring about systemic change.
