The six state universities, Lowell Technological Institute and, beginning with the 1973 academic year, Southeastern Mass. University, offer two and four-year undergraduate courses and Master's and Doctoral degrees in regional studies. Residents qualifying as regional students pay only in-state tuition and receive preferred admissions in out-of-region students.

Courses that are not available to a resident's home institution are offered as a regional program at the out-of-state institute. The two-year community colleges and vocational-technical colleges and institutes also offer courses to other New England residents if the out-of-state institutions offering the desired course is closer in distance to the student's residence office than the state office offering the same degree program.

Under their suggested calendar, the Academic Year would be stretched years, would permit the faculty delegate the approval of all student programs to panels of specialists. It was suggested that the performing arts. This would be The proposed calendar attempts to achieve many of the financial and educational benefits which the Board of Higher Education desires to adopt programs which would substantially lengthen the academic year.

Under their suggested calendar, the academic year would consist of two semester-long terms, the first beginning in early September, the last ending at the end of June. While most courses would be of a semester's duration, some might be stretched out for a half semester.

The extension of the academic year, coupled with the ability to complete the baccalaureate degree in two or more years, would permit Yale to admit and to graduate more students, as well as public libraries.

INDIVIDUAL STUDENT PROGRAMS:
MORE SUPERVISION, LESS COURSE OFFERINGS

New Haven, Conn.—(U.P.I.)—Like other universities, Yale is considering changes in undergraduate education, makes an effort to respond to the desire for independent student work which takes advantage of individual student interests and motivations, and at the same time to offer intensive and continuing supervision so that each student program is coherent and rigorous.

Tying the decentralization of Yale College through its residential colleges, the committee recommends that the faculty delegate the approval of student programs to panels of "mentors" in these 13 colleges. These faculty groups would work through a student's career in the design and monitoring of individual student programs, which knowledge has become so specialized, they argue, each student should be accountable to a group of "mentors," one from the student himself and one from the academic and one from the natural sciences.

To make this intensive supervision possible without endangering the autonomy, the committee also recommends a significant cut back in the number of courses offered. Thus a significant part of the faculty's teaching time would be released from the classroom to the "mentor" function.

Another significant administrative innovation is the introduction of "study groups" for every student expected to be assigned to include a core curriculum exposure to one or another of the creative and performing arts. This would be accomplished by drawing upon Yale's professional schools in music, drama, and art.

Taking advantage of the decentralization of Yale College through its residential colleges, the committee recommends that the faculty delegate the approval of student programs to panels of "mentors" in these 13 colleges. These faculty groups would work through a student's career in the design and monitoring of individual student programs, which knowledge has become so specialized, they argue, each student should be accountable to a group of "mentors," one from the student himself and one from the academic and one from the natural sciences.

To make this intensive supervision possible without endangering the autonomy, the committee also recommends a significant cut back in the number of courses offered. Thus a significant part of the faculty's teaching time would be released from the classroom to the "mentor" function.

Another significant administrative innovation is the introduction of "study groups" for every student expected to be assigned to include a core curriculum exposure to one or another of the creative and performing arts. This would be accomplished by drawing upon Yale's professional schools in music, drama, and art.

Taking advantage of the decentralization of Yale College through its residential colleges, the committee recommends that the faculty delegate the approval of student programs to panels of "mentors" in these 13 colleges. These faculty groups would work through a student's career in the design and monitoring of individual student programs, which knowledge has become so specialized, they argue, each student should be accountable to a group of "mentors," one from the student himself and one from the academic and one from the natural sciences.

To make this intensive supervision possible without endangering the autonomy, the committee also recommends a significant cut back in the number of courses offered. Thus a significant part of the faculty's teaching time would be released from the classroom to the "mentor" function.

Another significant administrative innovation is the introduction of "study groups" for every student expected to be assigned to include a core curriculum exposure to one or another of the creative and performing arts. This would be accomplished by drawing upon Yale's professional schools in music, drama, and art.

Tying the decentralization of Yale College through its residential colleges, the committee recommends that the faculty delegate the approval of student programs to panels of "mentors" in these 13 colleges. These faculty groups would work through a student's career in the design and monitoring of individual student programs, which knowledge has become so specialized, they argue, each student should be accountable to a group of "mentors," one from the student himself and one from the academic and one from the natural sciences.

To make this intensive supervision possible without endangering the autonomy, the committee also recommends a significant cut back in the number of courses offered. Thus a significant part of the faculty's teaching time would be released from the classroom to the "mentor" function.

Another significant administrative innovation is the introduction of "study groups" for every student expected to be assigned to include a core curriculum exposure to one or another of the creative and performing arts. This would be accomplished by drawing upon Yale's professional schools in music, drama, and art.

Tying the decentralization of Yale College through its residential colleges, the committee recommends that the faculty delegate the approval of student programs to panels of "mentors" in these 13 colleges. These faculty groups would work through a student's career in the design and monitoring of individual student programs, which knowledge has become so specialized, they argue, each student should be accountable to a group of "mentors," one from the student himself and one from the academic and one from the natural sciences.

To make this intensive supervision possible without endangering the autonomy, the committee also recommends a significant cut back in the number of courses offered. Thus a significant part of the faculty's teaching time would be released from the classroom to the "mentor" function.

Another significant administrative innovation is the introduction of "study groups" for every student expected to be assigned to include a core curriculum exposure to one or another of the creative and performing arts. This would be accomplished by drawing upon Yale's professional schools in music, drama, and art.

Tying the decentralization of Yale College through its residential colleges, the committee recommends that the faculty delegate the approval of student programs to panels of "mentors" in these 13 colleges. These faculty groups would work through a student's career in the design and monitoring of individual student programs, which knowledge has become so specialized, they argue, each student should be accountable to a group of "mentors," one from the student himself and one from the academic and one from the natural sciences.

To make this intensive supervision possible without endangering the autonomy, the committee also recommends a significant cut back in the number of courses offered. Thus a significant part of the faculty's teaching time would be released from the classroom to the "mentor" function.

Another significant administrative innovation is the introduction of "study groups" for every student expected to be assigned to include a core curriculum exposure to one or another of the creative and performing arts. This would be accomplished by drawing upon Yale's professional schools in music, drama, and art.

Tying the decentralization of Yale College through its residential colleges, the committee recommends that the faculty delegate the approval of student programs to panels of "mentors" in these 13 colleges. These faculty groups would work through a student's career in the design and monitoring of individual student programs, which knowledge has become so specialized, they argue, each student should be accountable to a group of "mentors," one from the student himself and one from the academic and one from the natural sciences.

To make this intensive supervision possible without endangering the autonomy, the committee also recommends a significant cut back in the number of courses offered. Thus a significant part of the faculty's teaching time would be released from the classroom to the "mentor" function.

Another significant administrative innovation is the introduction of "study groups" for every student expected to be assigned to include a core curriculum exposure to one or another of the creative and performing arts. This would be accomplished by drawing upon Yale's professional schools in music, drama, and art.

Taking advantage of the decentralization of Yale College through its residential colleges, the committee recommends that the faculty delegate the approval of student programs to panels of "mentors" in these 13 colleges. These faculty groups would work through a student's career in the design and monitoring of individual student programs, which knowledge has become so specialized, they argue, each student should be accountable to a group of "mentors," one from the student himself and one from the academic and one from the natural sciences.

To make this intensive supervision possible without endangering the autonomy, the committee also recommends a significant cut back in the number of courses offered. Thus a significant part of the faculty's teaching time would be released from the classroom to the "mentor" function.

Another significant administrative innovation is the introduction of "study groups" for every student expected to be assigned to include a core curriculum exposure to one or another of the creative and performing arts. This would be accomplished by drawing upon Yale's professional schools in music, drama, and art.

Tying the decentralization of Yale College through its residential colleges, the committee recommends that the faculty delegate the approval of student programs to panels of "mentors" in these 13 colleges. These faculty groups would work through a student's career in the design and monitoring of individual student programs, which knowledge has become so specialized, they argue, each student should be accountable to a group of "mentors," one from the student himself and one from the academic and one from the natural sciences.

To make this intensive supervision possible without endangering the autonomy, the committee also recommends a significant cut back in the number of courses offered. Thus a significant part of the faculty's teaching time would be released from the classroom to the "mentor" function.

Another significant administrative innovation is the introduction of "study groups" for every student expected to be assigned to include a core curriculum exposure to one or another of the creative and performing arts. This would be accomplished by drawing upon Yale's professional schools in music, drama, and art.
The dates, time, and location of backs at a very cheap price.

They will be selling used paper, and primarily only selling next price reduction to the student. Also, this amount was allocated by the limited amount of each text to be SU Auditorium of $1700 in capital to begin. The Exchange will purchase a of the Student Services Ballroom) and should be larger sufficient interest is increased of 25 cents per week in his demonstrated the lighting of the temple at all times. The Jews days.

enough to burn one day, but quickly put away their lamps to begin again. The

enough to burn one day, but

as a miracle by lighting candles each night for eight nights. This is a

enough to burn one day, but

as a miracle by lighting candles each night for eight nights. This is a

enough to burn one day, but

as a miracle by lighting candles each night for eight nights. This is a

enough to burn one day, but

as a miracle by lighting candles each night for eight nights. This is a

enough to burn one day, but

as a miracle by lighting candles each night for eight nights. This is a

enough to burn one day, but

as a miracle by lighting candles each night for eight nights. This is a

enough to burn one day, but

as a miracle by lighting candles each night for eight nights. This is a

enough to burn one day, but

as a miracle by lighting candles each night for eight nights. This is a

enough to burn one day, but

as a miracle by lighting candles each night for eight nights. This is a

enough to burn one day, but

as a miracle by lighting candles each night for eight nights. This is a

enough to burn one day, but

as a miracle by lighting candles each night for eight nights. This is a

enough to burn one day, but

as a miracle by lighting candles each night for eight nights. This is a

enough to burn one day, but

as a miracle by lighting candles each night for eight nights. This is a

enough to burn one day, but

as a miracle by lighting candles each night for eight nights. This is a

enough to burn one day, but

as a miracle by lighting candles each night for eight nights. This is a

enough to burn one day, but

as a miracle by lighting candles each night for eight nights. This is a LETTERS:

I am a student from Bridgewater Community College who attended the lectures by Sander Vanocoeur. I was, needless to say, surprised and disappointed at the turnout. I can think of no legitimate excuse. The weather didn’t stop 100 students from going up to the Central Square. Why should I be so disturbed. First, I am from a college which does not have outside speakers. Carolines are not being set up however, to perform the same function as your Student Film Program Committee. As of yet, we’ve had no speakers and I fail to see the logic of a crew of 201 people being interested in a man of Vanocoeur’s caliber. It only proves where our priorities lie. I just can’t understand how the student body can take these things for granted.

Secondly, I was embarrassed when Mr. Vanocoeur walked in and I was not even from the audience! I had never met any of the members of the committee till I with more was known about the trouble these people go thru and the time they give up to them all comes to be in the school. Maybe, then, they are appreciated. They don’t ask for your money just your interest and moral support. After all you’re the reason they are formed.

Linda Dlugosinski
Brandywni Community College

I was wondering why Bridgewater doesn’t have a scholarship fund for its students. If it is the time of the semester, naturally of course, I realize that President Plunkett has several others and aren’t the states this state but I feel that we should receive some and then somewhere. Don’t misunderstand me, I know we are not up with the likes of Notre Dame and V.A.C. but why doesn’t the Alumni organization do some dough. I don’t think V.A.C. will have much of its academic standing by helping out but a few jocks who would like to come to a small college like B.C. but can’t without financial assistance. The fund set up could be the incentive for students to stay in college because then with good marks we would be able to do good sports contests.

I’ve seen all the teams down here and out doing their best. They always seem to lack that one player. If Mark Holt wanted to go to Boston and couldn’t afford it, would someone help? That’s what I think students would do. The C.A. Rick wanted baseball would contribute help him? If Poland wanted this school would anyone give a damn in this state but I feel that could help the sports team.

Sincerely,

James D. MacLaughlin

FROM RECORDS TO RADIOS!

It’s from you the push for change is from you the push for change is from you the push for change. Petition forms are distributed and reviewed as will be elected during this meeting. If unable to attend there will be a sign-up sheet in Rm. 207 of Science Building to sign up for the next four years with all the number of alumni this school has produced andlobby at the State House. As a member of the group members will endeavor to discuss the workings of CAPES (Computer Assisted Processing of Teacher Applications) which is a consortium of teachers.

There will be a second meeting on Tuesday, December 12, at 10:00 A.M. in Conference Room 1, Student Union, for any seniors who missed the one held on November 21 at that time. A list of suggestions will be made and those who are interested in helping will sign up. The meeting will be open to the public.

The ASCUS Annual which carries many suggestions for placement activity and information on many school systems throughout the country is expected at the Treasurer’s office. Office income this month and will be available without charge.

ANNOUNCE MENTS:

The French Club will have a Christmas Party Friday, December 4, at 7:30 p.m. at the Jockey’s Den on Mt. Hope Ave. in Bridgewater. Everyone is invited.

Education Majors and Minors The C.S.N.A. is sponsoring a program for early class room experience for the teacher. If you are a freshman or sophomore who would like to gain some teaching experience sign up in the S.N.E.A. office across from the Rathskeller.

CAMPUS PLAZA
RTE. 18
Bridgewater

SATURDAY DECEMBER 9
10% off EVERYTHING AT OUR STORE

From Toys To Toiletries!
From Records To Radios!
From Pins To Pool Tabs

Shop This Saturday Don’t Pay Monday’s Prices!!

SHOP EARLY!!
SHOP GRANTS!!

SANE DRUGS?

Many would think that the drug laws right now are liberal, yet the people can still be sent to jail for up to two years for simply growing marijuana. Legislation has been filed in the state legislature to decriminalize marijuana but in order two pass it we need your help. You are the people right now backing these laws is from you the path for change must come.

The time for a Basic Drug Policy would be the likeminded see and next semester to organize local campaigns, work in defense offices, draft letters petitions, and lobby at the State House. Drug reform is an issue which concerns you directly and one that must come.

Can’t something be done? Why doesn’t the illustrator RFC start a fund raiser? After all, when he speaks, he’s the word of God! Mr. President, if you were to replace the rules and regulations by that of Divine Right, he could end all the good right and get all of us some desent something rolling. A fellow follower who likes a victory occasionally.

GRANTS

Page 3
The Verse Choir presents on Monday, December 11th
I AM NINETY-NINE CENTS WORTH OF ........

This will take place at 8:00 p.m. in the Lecture Hall of the New Library. This will be free of charge at an evening hour. This is the usual "Winter Production." The program will include:

I Am I (Concrete Poem) —— Verse Choir

Lazaropappas, Mark Rosenberg, Janie Stephen, Karen Stringham,
Harold Taylor

I Am the Thread in a Tapestry

Lila Cooper, Nancy Smith, Karen Stahl, Alva Wharton

I Am the Seed

Karen Stahl

I Am the White Rose

Harold Taylor

Wassailed with Seemly Songs —— Robert Crofoot

Roger Carvoun

Theme for English B

Theodore Lassinger

When You Love —— Keith Tyler

St. Peter Relates an Incident —— Jason Wakens Johnson

Karen Stahl

I Am Ninety-Nine Cents Worth of

Theodore Lassinger

Today is Sunday in Sparta

Valerie Villers

A Nonexistent Painted Pilot —— Walt Whitman

Eilbe Winkler, Linda Cohen

Sympathy —— Paul Lawrence Dunbar

Judith Valdez

My Mother

Harold Taylor

I Want to be Young Again —— Harold Taylor, Eilbe Winkler

I Am the Most Important Man in —— Anon.

the Community

Lara Pogues

I Am the Boss

Eilbe Winkler, Linda Cohen

Linda Cohen

I Am a Clown

Valerie Villers

I Am a Link in a Living Chain

The Secret Life of Walter Mitty —— Jerome Warner

Verse Choir

Unless otherwise indicated, the lyrics are written by Keith Tyler.

The program is directed by Mr. Mark Rosenberg.

Interpretation in the Department of Speech and Theatre.

Everyone is welcome. A selection from the Verse Choir program will be broadcast over WLIB, FM, 103.1 on Monday, December 11th.

The COMMENT

COME SEE THE BUS COMPANY

The Bus Company of the National Theatre Institute will begin its fifth tour of college and university theatres at December 11th.

The student troupe will be performing a theatre piece with music presently being intensively rehearsed at the Institute's home in Waterford, Connecticut. OLYMPIAN GAMES, written by Ronald Gourley (formerly adapted by David Oppenheimer and composed by Barbara Dubois, will be directed by Institute Director Larry Aronin. Originally produced by the creative team of Cavender, Rosenberg, and Dornbluth for the Yale Repertory Theatre, the current version has an additional story created especially for the Bus Company.

Under Mr. Aronin's direction, the 21 member company will portray a wide variety of techniques, including acting, mime, song, dance, translation, and imagination. The piece is accompanied by洪水, Bulpax and Drs. Diby and Louis. The show will be directed by E. K. Horne, Terence and Francis, Breslin and Thomas, and the new piece, Kristheetson.

Members of the acting company are Charles Halid/Sackett Institute of Technology, NTD, Sherry Brown (Clark), Rachel Butler (University of Penn.), Susan Butler (Timothy), Dolly Dorn (Trinity), Mark Dull (Brandeis University), isabella Parcelli (Brandeis), Sarah Riddell (Bennett), David Freeman, Alan Gansberg (Bowdoin), David Goodman, Brendan J., Susan Butler (Timothy), Jeri How (Columbia), Laza Jacobson (Trinity), Terry Baker (GALLAGHER), Merya Lewis (Wellesley), Jack Mearkle (Drake), Molly McKennon (McMillen), Lilis Paris (Hunter), Eric Peterson (Northeast), Ray Riesnathy (Mitchell), Michel Sellgang (Sam Houston State University), Philip Saunders (Barnard), Richard Steiner (Brandeis), Bonnie Stock (University of Hartford), E. Stuart Smith (Drake), Alex Wagner (Barnhill), and Mary White (Trinity). Designers are Jeff Doelle, Stephen Doelle, and Charles Halid. The production will be stage managed by Jeff Sollors, assisted by Mark Ball and the company will be managed by Alex Wagner, assisted by Mary White.

Prior to the rehearsal period, the students have had two weeks of instruction in a studio form with professional staff and guest artist at the Eugene O'Neill Theatre Center in Waterford, Connecticut.

Theatre at the tour include Williams College, Brandeis College, Wellesley College, Miss Ruth Grossman, Connecticut College, Brandeis Community College, and Waterford High School.

The programme for the tour include:

EXPRESSIONS:

December 17, 1973

SIGHT ...

Beginning Dec. 1, as exciting speakers and photographers. His photographic exhibit of the work of famed Israeli Architect Studio in New York, where his students at the Leib Druma Center, Galore, Arthur Miller and Ted. Sponsored jointly by the Leib and the Goethe Institute Boston, this a Berlin in the film, preview show will come directly form the Leib Druma Center. The Institute, New York and Leipzig, will exhibit a rich Christmas.

The exhibition, documenting the 30-year history of an important work of the Berlin School stage director, Max Reinhardt, mounted last April at the Breitling St. Cambridge, is now touring the United States. Produced specially for the, known in the history for its revolutionary staging, to call on.

DANCE ...

The Modern Dance Club of BSC and four members of the Dance Survey Class will present Two the Burnell Elementary School on Wednesday and Thursday, December 11th and 12th. The programs will include participation for children, 1) many movement techniques, 2) dances using drums, tambourines, African Finger Harp, cymbals, and triangles. The closing dance with lighted results will be accompanied by recorder played by Marcia Anderson, English Faculty.

The programs will be directed by C. Miller Wells, theatre and Physical Education Faculty, and Advisor of the Modern Dance Club.

Bridgewater State College Choral Society will be presenting its annual Christmas Concert, Tuesday December 12 at 8:00 PM in the Student Union Auditorium. The Choral, Women's Choral Club, and the Magdalan will be presenting the Christmas long program. The church will become festive to the Conservatory of Music, December, 1973.

Lillain Arnet, Susan Butler, David Freeman, Alan Gansberg (Middlebury), Lill Paris (Hunter), Barbara Gansberg (Sam Houston State University), Stuart Lake, Sue Carol Moran, Barbara Gansberg (Mitchell), Jeffrey Restrepo (Middlebury), Lill Paris (Hunter), Barbara Gansberg (Sam Houston State University), Stuart Lake, Sue Carol Moran, Barbara Gansberg (Mitchell), Jeffrey Restrepo (Middlebury), Lill Paris (Hunter), Barbara Gansberg (Sam Houston State University), Stuart Lake, Sue Carol Moran, Barbara Gansberg (Mitchell), Jeffrey Restrepo (Middlebury), Lill Paris (Hunter), Barbara Gansberg (Sam Houston State University), Stuart Lake, Sue Carol Moran, Barbara Gansberg (Mitchell), Jeffrey Restrepo (Middlebury), Lill Paris (Hunter), Barbara Gansberg (Sam Houston State University), Stuart Lake, Sue Carol Moran, Barbara Gansberg (Mitchell), Jeffrey Restrepo (Middlebury), Lill Paris (Hunter), Barbara Gansberg (Sam Houston State University), Stuart Lake, Sue Carol Moran, Barbara Gansberg (Mitchell), Jeffrey Restrepo (Middlebury), Lill Paris (Hunter), Barbara Gansberg (Sam Houston State University), Stuart Lake, Sue Carol Moran, Barbara Gansberg (Mitchell), Jeffrey Restrepo (Middlebury), Lill Paris (Hunter), Barbara Gansberg (Sam Houston State University), Stuart Lake, Sue Carol Moran, Barbara Gansberg (Mitchell), Jeffrey Restrepo (Middlebury), Lill Paris (Hunter), Barbara Gansberg (Sam Houston State University), Stuart Lake, Sue Carol Moran, Barbara Gansberg (Mitchell), Jeffrey Restrepo (Middlebury), Lill Paris (Hunter), Barbara Gansberg (Sam Houston State University), Stuart Lake, Sue Carol Moran, Barbara Gansberg (Mitchell), Jeffrey Restrepo (Middlebury), Lill Paris (Hunter), Barbara Gansberg (Sam Houston State University), Stuart Lake, Sue Carol Moran, Barbara Gansberg (Mitchell), Jeffrey Restrepo (Middlebury), Lill Paris (Hunter), Barbara Gansberg (Sam Houston State University), Stuart Lake, Sue Carol Moran, Barbara Gansberg (Mitchell), Jeffrey Restrepo (Middlebury), Lill Paris (Hunter), Barbara Gansberg (Sam Houston State University), Stuart Lake, Sue Carol Moran, Barbara Gansberg (Mitchell), Jeffrey Restrepo (Middlebury), Lill Paris (Hunter), Barbara Gansberg (Sam Houston State University), Stuart Lake, Sue Carol Moran, Barbara Gansberg (Mitchell), Jeffrey Restrepo (Middlebury), Lill Paris (Hunter), Barbara Gansberg (Sam Houston State University), Stuart Lake, Sue Carol Moran, Barbara Gansberg (Mitchell), Jeffrey Restrepo (Middlebury), Lill Paris (Hunter), Barbara Gansberg (Sam Houston State University), Stuart Lake, Sue Carol Moran, Barbara Gansberg (Mitchell), Jeffrey Restrepo (Middlebury), Lill Paris (Hunter), Barbara Gansberg (Sam Houston State University), Stuart Lake, Sue Carol Moran, Barbara Gansberg (Mitchell), Jeffrey Restrepo (Middlebury), Lill Paris (Hunter), Barbara Gansberg (Sam Houston State University), Stuart Lake, Sue Carol Moran, Barbara Gansberg (Mitchell), Jeffrey Restrepo (Middlebury), Lill Paris (Hunter), Barbara Gansberg (Sam Houston State University), Stuart Lake, Sue Carol Moran, Barb
Art Show at BSC
DeFAZIO WINS FOR CHIEFS

TONITE AT 8:00 pm

THE SWIMMING BEARS DROWN URI FOR THIRTEENTH STRAIGHT WIN

The Swimming Bears, who are rated by many as the best in the nation, had no trouble in their latest dual meet championship victory.

The Bears defeated the Rhode Island University 130-0, to increase their record to 13-0 on the season. URI was defeated by the Bears in every event.

The Bears scored points in the following events: 400 freestyle relay, 200 medley relay, 200 freestyle, 200 backstroke, 200 breaststroke, 200 individual medley, 100 freestyle, 100 backstroke, 100 breaststroke, 100 individual medley, 200 freestyle relay, 200 medley relay, 200 backstroke, 200 breaststroke, 200 individual medley, 100 freestyle, 100 backstroke, 100 breaststroke, 100 individual medley, 200 freestyle relay, 200 medley relay, 200 backstroke, 200 breaststroke, 200 individual medley, 100 freestyle, 100 backstroke, 100 breaststroke, 100 individual medley, 200 freestyle relay, 200 medley relay, 200 backstroke, 200 breaststroke, 200 individual medley, 100 freestyle, 100 backstroke, 100 breaststroke, 100 individual medley.

The Bears were led by a strong performance in the 200 medley relay, where they set a new NCAA record with a time of 1:34.50.

The Bears also had strong performances in the 100 freestyle, 100 backstroke, and 100 breaststroke events, all of which were won by NCAA record times.

The Bears' dominance in the swimming events continued in the diving competition, where they defeated URI with a total of 180 points. URI scored 40 points in the diving event.

The Bears will next compete against the University of Pennsylvania on December 20th.

The University of Pennsylvania is currently ranked second in the nation and is expected to provide a tough challenge for the Bears.

The Bears' next meet will be their final home meet of the season, and it is expected to be a highly competitive event.

The Bears' next meet will be on December 20th against the University of Pennsylvania. The team is expected to perform well in this meet, but it remains to be seen how they will fare against such a strong opponent.

BSC WRESTLERS

FLOOR BRANDS IN INFORMAL MEET

The BSC Wrestling team hosted a floor brands tournament this weekend. The event was held in the BSC gym and featured competition from several local schools.

The tournament was divided into two weight classes: 135 pounds and over 180 pounds. The tournament was won by John Smith from the University of Rhode Island.

The BSC Wrestling team is currently ranked third in the nation and is looking to improve their standing in the upcoming season.

Intramural Basketball

Bridgewater State College basketball teams have been busy this season, with the men's team tied for first place and the women's team also having a strong season.

The men's team recently defeated Brandeis University in a close game, with a final score of 72-67. This game was the first home game of the season for the Bears and was a big win for the team.

The women's team has also been performing well, with a current record of 9-1. They recently won a game against Boston College, with a final score of 93-80.

The Intramural Basketball season continues this week, with several games scheduled for this weekend.

The BSC women's basketball team will play against the University of Massachusetts at 7:00 pm on Friday night. The men's team will play against the University of New England at 9:00 pm on Saturday night.

BASKETBALL TILL PRESS TIME

At the beginning of the season Coach Tom Knudson predicted that the Bears would stand as two of the toughest teams the Bears would face this season. His prediction was well-founded.

This past week the Bears played three games, all of which were against good competition. The Bears won two of these games, with a final score of 84-78 against Brandeis University.

The Bears played well in these games, with several players having standout performances. Bob Johnson had a career-high 32 points against Brandeis University, while Tom Gristi had 23 points.

The Bears will play their next game against the University of New Hampshire on Friday night. This game is expected to be a tough one, but the Bears are looking forward to it.

In the game against Curry College, the Bears had a strong outing, with a final score of 88-74. Bob Johnson scored 30 points in this game, while Tom Gristi had 22 points.

The Bears are currently 6-1 for the season, with a head-to-head record of 5-0. The Bears are looking to continue their winning streak as they head into the rest of the season.
Hockey: Preview

By Bob Wisecarver

With the coming of the north wind, the turning of the leaves comes the flying of the puck. The Bears have had all begun and last week Bridgewater's hockey team continued with its 7-3-7 record. The Bears dropped the opener 7-1 to a surprisingly hard hitting Maine Maritime, but the potential of the Bridgewater roster revealed until the 3rd period of its second game and (2) its second with Framingham and 3rd period of Thursday's game with Newhaven. The Bears have come out of hibernation.

DIABOLO- Murder Thriller

Director: HenriGeorges Clouzot

Based on the 1955 novel by Paul Courier, the film starred Elisha Cook Jr. and Friedrich Segers, and Clouzot's wife, Vera Clouzot.

In the opening period, Jim McKeon of Bridgewater scored his first of four goals for the Bears. Then Bridgewater tuck away the opening goal after the BSC goalie had an unearned, then Foley had two more on the seemingly washed up. The Bears have come out of hibernation.

DIABOLIQUE

Produced by the S.U. Auditorium on Tuesday Dec. 12 at 8:00 p.m. (Diabolique will be seen in the S.U. Auditorium on Tuesday Dec. 12 at 6:30 p.m.)

Director: HenriGeorges Clouzot

Based on the 1955 novel by Paul Courier, the film starred Elisha Cook Jr. and Friedrich Segers, and Clouzot's wife, Vera Clouzot.

In the second period, Jim McKeon hit again this time a deflected puck lay in the crease and the goalie didn't see it.

VS. FRAMINGHAM

Bridgewater State Beat Framingham State College 9-7 in second contest as in many games, Saturday night in a 72-73 contest, Framingham State College. Jim McKeon and Ernie Sanborn had 4, 2 for each team, but for well played game by both teams, but in the last period, Framingham State College, Jim McKeon hit again his fourth goal that left Bridgewater in a goal shy of 9. But Framingham clinched it all at 12-9 on a goal by McKeon and the game ended 12-9. At the start of the last period, Framingham was up 9-7. Bridgewater travels to New Haven Tuesday night to face New Haven College.

Dusty & Sweets: Dope Culture

A group of extraordinary young people, all drug users, all drug dealers, describe their own lives and put out their own experiences in "Dusty & Sweets." Written by Bob Wisecarver, the film was screened to a packed house.

NEW HAVEN

In the second period, Framingham begins to get. Jim McKeon fired a shot past the goalie and at the same line and proceeded through the New Haven defense. The game became a back and forth but with McKeon's last shot, he hit the top shelf on a goal by McKeon and the game ended 12-9. At the start of the last period, Framingham was up 9-7. Bridgewater travels to New Haven Tuesday night to face New Haven College.

ORPHANAGE CHRISTMAS PARTY

Bridgewater State College's hockey team travelled to Framingham Tuesday night and came home defeated by a well drilled University of New Haven. The Bears dropped the opener 7-1 to a fast skating Maine Maritime, but the north wind, the turning of the leaves comes the flying of the puck. The Bears have all begun and last week Bridgewater's hockey team continued with its 7-3-7 record. The Bears dropped the opener 7-1 to a surprisingly hard hitting Maine Maritime, but the potential of the Bridgewater roster revealed until the 3rd period of its second game and (2) its second with Framingham and 3rd period of Thursday's game with Newhaven. The Bears have come out of hibernation.

SATURDAY MORNING WHEN YOU WERE A KID NIGHT

DUSTY & SWEETS: Dope Culture

A group of extraordinary young people, all drug users, all drug dealers, describe their own lives and put out their own experiences in "Dusty & Sweets." Written by Bob Wisecarver, the film was screened to a packed house.

NEW HAVEN

In the second period, Framingham begins to get. Jim McKeon fired a shot past the goalie and at the same line and proceeded through the New Haven defense. The game became a back and forth but with McKeon's last shot, he hit the top shelf on a goal by McKeon and the game ended 12-9. At the start of the last period, Framingham was up 9-7. Bridgewater travels to New Haven Tuesday night to face New Haven College.

ORPHANAGE CHRISTMAS PARTY

Bridgewater State College's hockey team travelled to Framingham Tuesday night and came home defeated by a well drilled University of New Haven. The Bears dropped the opener 7-1 to a fast skating Maine Maritime, but the north wind, the turning of the leaves comes the flying of the puck. The Bears have all begun and last week Bridgewater's hockey team continued with its 7-3-7 record. The Bears dropped the opener 7-1 to a surprisingly hard hitting Maine Maritime, but the potential of the Bridgewater roster revealed until the 3rd period of its second game and (2) its second with Framingham and 3rd period of Thursday's game with Newhaven. The Bears have come out of hibernation.

SATURDAY MORNING WHEN YOU WERE A KID NIGHT

DUSTY & SWEETS: Dope Culture

A group of extraordinary young people, all drug users, all drug dealers, describe their own lives and put out their own experiences in "Dusty & Sweets." Written by Bob Wisecarver, the film was screened to a packed house.

NEW HAVEN

In the second period, Framingham begins to get. Jim McKeon fired a shot past the goalie and at the same line and proceeded through the New Haven defense. The game became a back and forth but with McKeon's last shot, he hit the top shelf on a goal by McKeon and the game ended 12-9. At the start of the last period, Framingham was up 9-7. Bridgewater travels to New Haven Tuesday night to face New Haven College.

ORPHANAGE CHRISTMAS PARTY

Bridgewater State College's hockey team travelled to Framingham Tuesday night and came home defeated by a well drilled University of New Haven. The Bears dropped the opener 7-1 to a fast skating Maine Maritime, but the north wind, the turning of the leaves comes the flying of the puck. The Bears have all begun and last week Bridgewater's hockey team continued with its 7-3-7 record. The Bears dropped the opener 7-1 to a surprisingly hard hitting Maine Maritime, but the potential of the Bridgewater roster revealed until the 3rd period of its second game and (2) its second with Framingham and 3rd period of Thursday's game with Newhaven. The Bears have come out of hibernation.

SATURDAY MORNING WHEN YOU WERE A KID NIGHT

DUSTY & SWEETS: Dope Culture

A group of extraordinary young people, all drug users, all drug dealers, describe their own lives and put out their own experiences in "Dusty & Sweets." Written by Bob Wisecarver, the film was screened to a packed house.

NEW HAVEN

In the second period, Framingham begins to get. Jim McKeon fired a shot past the goalie and at the same line and proceeded through the New Haven defense. The game became a back and forth but with McKeon's last shot, he hit the top shelf on a goal by McKeon and the game ended 12-9. At the start of the last period, Framingham was up 9-7. Bridgewater travels to New Haven Tuesday night to face New Haven College.