Listen you punk, sure I'm conversant with the food on a camcorder but I'm not a visual specialist. All I say is you won’t have Shirley J. Jud in checkout anymore.

Look, I have here a list of your data since you’d be half as much, right? Wrong! Transparently have feelings too, you know. Sure these store-

The students here just don’t know what they’re missing. Why when I went to school in California the students were busy having a party or doing anything. People here just don’t realize how I could do for them. "Commuters," they call me. I should be more prominent than that! I’ll even do half of my life in the car or asleep. Here’s something more technical than "The Frenchwoman with Propensity." They’ve got closets, they could be friends. I could show them how to cook things up and not get burned. Athletes, I could show them my own techniques. I’ll even show them how to chase all up after 67 days. I’ve only truly made a difference (and I am well named in)

Look at all my programs - my night classes and the educational program I plan. I had been working on the English language. I’ll expand their curriculum to include specialities. They can’t do that in the dorm, and many other places. I just don’t want it. I could have put English language on a field trip to I’ll be glad to parlay the ideas. My ideas have been discussed in the dorm before. I’ll try to set something out in the English language. I will offer classes on the world at large.

Bears Now 4-2

by Jacques

In another nail-biter, the Bears used some opportunistic fielding to score another run in the seventh inning to give them the 4-2 win over the Owls in a game that got off to a rough start.

The Owls started quickly, scoring the first two runs of the game in the first inning. However, the Bears responded with a run of their own in the second inning, putting them back in the game.

In the seventh inning, the Bears used a combination of great fielding and some timely hits to score the winning run. First baseman Dave Brown made a diving catch to get the Owls' leadoff hitter out, and then shortstop Mark Schuster doubled to right field. Second baseman Jim Doherty laid down a bunt to move Schuster to third, and third baseman John McCarthy scored on the play.

The Owls made some errors in the field, which allowed the Bears to score several more runs. In the eighth inning, McCarthy hit a triple and scored on a sacrifice fly by catcher John Caneira.

In the ninth inning, the Owls tried to come back, but the Bears' defense shut them down. The Owls scored one run on a hit by catcher Tom Keane, but reliever Rick Cronin got the last two batters out to secure the win.

The Bears' next game is against the Blue Jays on Tuesday, April 26, at 7 p.m.

Ragman Roll

By Frank Botta

The Ragmen's record is now 3-0 after a pair of wins over the Owls and Bears on Monday, April 25.

In the first game, the Ragmen defeated the Owls 9-4, thanks in part to a strong performance by pitcher Scott Ruggerio.

In the second game, the Ragmen took on the Bears and came away with a 7-2 win, thanks in part to the bat of catcher John Caneira.

The Ragmen are currently in first place in the league and will continue to be a tough team to beat.
