CONVOCATION: A TIME FOR REASSESSMENT.

The opening session of the Academic Year was marked on September 18th, by a ceremonial assembly at a campus location. A large group of students, faculty, and alums gathered in the gymnasium to begin the Fall semester.

Mr. Oppenheim was at the opening session, speaking on the importance of "improving higher learning standards." He stressed that "excellence in education is the goal." Mr. Oppenheim's remarks were well received by the audience.

NEW PARKING PROPOSAL

Kidding a two week "wait and see policy," The Traffic Control Committee met at 11 a.m. to discuss solutions to alleviate this problem. Chairperson Dr. Deep, the meeting began with Tom Hickey asking for the previous estimate of 196.0. He stated, "We have had the problem in the past, but it has been dealt with in a more efficient manner."

Dr. Oppenheim proposed an additional solution to the problem. He stated, "Parking spaces have been requested. The solution is to be discussed." The meeting adjourned at 11:30 a.m.

S.G.A. HIRES LAWYER

By Richard Pachuck and Nancy Dolber

The Student Government Association has retained the services of a legal counsel for the first time in its existence. Mr. L. S. Oppenheim is now available for counseling to all students representing the S.G.A. This move was a necessity, as the S.G.A. president defined the need for S.G.A. representation as being "absolutely essential..."

Mr. Oppenheim was hired for his legal expertise and his experience in counseling students. He has stated that he will be available to the S.G.A. in the future.

Mr. Oppenheim's services are now available on a per hour basis. His fees are reasonable, and he has stated that he will be available to the S.G.A. in the future.

INNER SPACE

by Carole Lattin

Available classroom space is limited at Bridgewater State. The problem is a difficult one to solve. The present solution is to add new classes to meet the needs of the students.

The inner space problem is one that is manageable. The S.G.A. has taken steps to increase the available space, but it is not enough. The S.G.A. has been forced to wait until December 23, in order to meet the demands of the students.

The S.G.A. has been forced to find new solutions to the inner space problem. The S.G.A. has stated that they will continue to work on this problem until a solution is found.

Mr. Oppenheim will be at the Student Union this week to discuss solutions to the inner space problem. He has stated that he will be available to the S.G.A. in the future.

SHRINKS AND LUNATICS II

In this office at Charity Hospital in New Orleans the patient is a bright young woman who is caught in a bind. She is a beautiful, intelligent, and ambitious young woman who has just been released from a mental institution after a long hospital stay. She is eager to start her new life and is determined to prove herself to the world.

The woman is admitted to the hospital with a diagnosis of bipolar disorder, severe depression, and anxiety. She is a kleptomaniac and has a history of stealing. She has a history of self-harm and has attempted suicide several times. She is also a drug addict and has a history of substance abuse.

The woman is treated with medication and psychotherapy. She is also given therapy to address her kleptomania and self-harm.

The woman is discharged from the hospital after several weeks of treatment. She is given a prescription for medication and is referred to a support group for kleptomaniacs.

The woman returns to her home city and begins her new life. She is determined to stay away from drugs and to avoid self-harm. She visits her support group regularly and is doing well.

The woman is living in a safe and supportive environment and is receiving the help she needs to overcome her challenges.

The woman is grateful for the help she received at Charity Hospital and is determined to stay on the right path. She is determined to make a new life for herself and to overcome her challenges.

The woman is a shining example of resilience and determination. She is determined to make the best of her life and to overcome her challenges.

The story of this woman is one of hope and resilience. It is a story of survival and determination. It is a story of how one person can overcome overwhelming challenges with the right help and support.

The woman is a brave and inspiring individual who is determined to make the best of her life. She is a shining example of resilience and determination. She is a true inspiration to others who are facing similar challenges.
ON EDUCATION.

Philip Hartfelt

Paul Song of the United Fund gave permission to the Student Government Association for the use of a picture he created for the cover of his book, "The Heart of Education." Based on the picture is the quote: "Your education has been sadly neglected. That picture and your degree mean nothing to me any more.

I believe it was Ezra Pound who once asked American education..."

"Ali, Ali," Scared the crowd when the 113-pounder began, and Ali came out again dancing and giving Norton a lecture with jabs, hooks, two-hand combinations, and right-hand bombs.

I saw the fight on closed-circuit television at the Boston Garden.
 Ali dominated the first four rounds. I'd say it was pretty much even for the next six rounds, with the exceptions of the sixth which was Ali's. Ali certainly had the eleventh and twelfth.

Both fighters were in exceptionally good condition. Ali weighed in at 113, and Norton at 116. Ali did a lot of dancing around Norton as much as himself in later rounds. They both threw and took a lot of hard punches. It was surprising that neither went down or was ever really in danger of being knocked out. Ali bled from the nose, but was never seriously hurt. He seemed to have tired out Norton in the eleventh, after Norton put in a good punch in the twelfth. Norton was Ali's. Ali certainly had the exception of the sixth which was Norton's.

Ali was hit by some very good punches by Norton in the sixth. His face was a mess. He

Bears To Host Providence College

Bridgewater - With the first two games of the season now in the record books, and the Bridgewater State College football team at 1-0, it is apparent to head coach Mark Jones that his team has high quality wins this season behind them, such as a 28-6 loss to Harvard and a 9-0 win at Bates.

Bridgewater has completed the first week of the 1973-74 intramural sports season. The 3-2 victory over Western New England State College was the Bears' second straight win and brought their record to 2-1 for the season.

This Saturday night at 7:30, the Bears will host Providence College at home under the lights at Legion Field.
