The Good Old Days at BSC

By Katie Morse

The campus is buzzing. The History of Bridgehead State College, from the first certificate issued to the present day. The present day will be shown in the student's guide to the library next Monday and Tuesday. November 12 and 13. This side show, directed by the director of the Office of Information and Publications, is being presented to interested persons by the students themselves. The show begins at 7:30 P.M. and features about 50 people.

The first certificate issued will be the one to Mary Stine on December 6, 1965. It was known as the "Certificate of Appreciation," and it awarded Mary Stine for her services. The certificate was presented to Mary Stine by the president of the college.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts has taken a giant step forward in the area of certification. The campus has never been more vibrant. The construction of the Student Union and the new Library, the new Computer Center all started as a dream, but now the dream is becoming a reality. It is through the efforts of the students.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts has taken a giant step forward in the area of certification. The campus has never been more vibrant. The construction of the Student Union and the new Library, the new Computer Center all started as a dream, but now the dream is becoming a reality. It is through the efforts of the students.

On the Mid-East

Miss: Dr. Christiansen of the B.S.C., who is a member of the Board of Education, had some informative and enlightening talk on the East on June 19th on Tuesday, November 6, 1965. Sponsored by the Business Club, he cited the Arab-Israel conflict as a struggle between civilizations rather than a battle over land occupation. He stressed the importance of education and the need for an understanding of the Arab and the American viewpoint.

Up to the twentieth century, the two countries had lived together fairly harmoniously until the cord on page 7.

SA Against the asseverations of Educational Certificates and establishing a committee for the Division of Educational Personnel. The act changes the 32-year-old requirement for certification good for the rest of the career of the individual. He may however, re-apply.

J. F. Kennedy signed "An Act requiring the issuance of Educational Certificates and establishing a committee for the Division of Educational Personnel." A review of the act changes the 32-year-old requirement for certification good for the rest of the career of the individual. He may however, re-apply. This act is a step towards the improvement of Educational Personnel, and the Senate moved to pass this act. The act changes the 32-year-old requirement for certification good for the rest of the career of the individual. He may however, re-apply.

The Early Years

Many Thanks —
John, Dave, Bob, John, and Tom.
UP YOUR PAPER!

Each week since the beginning of the school year, the Comment has managed to scrape up enough to staff just a little bit of an edition. What we've managed to scrape out of the student is a lot of enthusiasm, but we've gotten a lot of your announcements, notices and what have you, and we've been able to copy them out of the paper and add them. But in the end all you're trying to get is the paper out.

What do you say to a plan for help? We can put together a list with a large staff, a little with a small staff, but nothing with only one or two people. If you were to put a good paper - you have to give the bare news because the lack of help makes it so. The paper is lousy because the lack of help makes it so. You can improve it, we're given all the time to try to get the paper out.

What happens? And what do you do next? We can do more. Now it's in your hands. But then, no matter in reading this article.

M.J.V.

CORE REQUIREMENTS:
A Student's Viewpoint
by Thomas Hickey

I am writing this article for two reasons, first to show my dismay over the turmoil at the divisional meetings concerning the liberal arts core, and secondly to seek some common ground in the General Education requirements and to expose my personal feelings about the General Education requirements and their place in the college curriculum. Let me start by a mild caution.

To date the UFW has held open meetings at a divisional basis in the fall of 1972, concerning the liberal arts core. The turnout of students was of two kinds, little and none. If one has attended the last few of these meetings, he can recognize his own kind of meeting. This meeting is extremely demanding. The students who attend these meetings are basically those who have not given up on the idea of having a voice in college decisions. They have taken on the job of fighting for the liberal arts core because they believe in the philosophy of the core. They believe that there is a need for the liberal arts core to be retained. They have a radical and clear thinking process, and in most students they have been given this opportunity, they blow it. They fail to show up at meetings. They act very immature in their demands and constantly prove their irresponsibility. This can only be done by the students who attend these meetings, the students who attend the divisional meetings concerning the General Education requirements, and their place in the college curriculum.

In an effort to explain things, I would like to express my ideas about the General Education requirements. It is in my philosophy that when a student leaves high school he or she should be able to make rational decisions concerning his or her future, uninfluenced by the past always the case. The core curriculum is an authentic and self-policing curriculum. As a person does not get participation in these kinds of decisions which are a necessary part of a mature adult, with this mind, I find that the general education core leaves the average student with a need for a higher education. He must then enter into the college system and make his own decision. Either he will attend a liberal arts college that is broader than this school, or he will go back to school and get a higher education. After this point, he will attend a liberal arts college or he will enter into the college system and make his own decision.

I believe that there should be a balance in college requirements, and that the core curriculum should be retained.

I believe that the core curriculum should be retained. The core curriculum should be retained and the liberal arts core should be retained.

I believe that the core curriculum should be retained. The core curriculum should be retained and the liberal arts core should be retained.

If you are interested in the development of an art major at Bridgewater State College, please be so kind to consider your questionnaires and present reasonable alternatives to the General Education requirements. Since core, if not for the core. For those who say that they have not come to BR or BRM to have supervisors in the core curriculum. We have also been exposed to the philosophy of the core. It is our philosophy to foster free speech and emphasize freedom of expression.
The new Era of Scarcity is coming faster than anybody thought, stimulated by the Arab-Israeli war. Your home and office may be five degrees cooler this winter because of the war, if the Arabs use their "oil weapons" as some predict. Very likely the Administration will be urged toward refueling, but if you think of how well they've handled other problems like the economy, inflation, the most serious and the biggest grain problem.

The Middle East war signifies graphically the need of the two systems, if we are to have this shrinking world, which populations have already outstripped, and threatens to outstrip basic raw materials. The well-healed United States is lucky, in some ways, but vulnerable in others. A disaster doesn't strike here, perhaps, but we have many of its resources already, and have thirty-three percent of its people. But the Middle East war is a clear threat when there is an oil shortage. The shortage seems a common situation to the President. At his press conference the other day he had to be heard warms the Arabs that "oil without a market doesn't do a country much good" and initialed them with the overtones of the late Moustapha Menoudagh, prime minister of Iraq, in 1967, after he nationalized western oil companies.

Ian Oppenheim on:

Voucher Checks

Ian S. Oppenheim is the lawyer briefed by the IGA last January for a possible legal defense. This is the first of a series of interviews planned with Ian Oppenheim on matters of a legal or political nature, as he believes it is the responsibility of the international community to deal with the international problem of the oil crisis. The interview will cover the following issues: 1. The international situation 2. The role of the United States in the international crisis 3. The role of non-governmental organizations 4. The role of the United Nations in the crisis 5. The role of the oil companies in the crisis 6. The role of governments in the crisis 7. The role of the private sector in the crisis 8. The role of the media in the crisis 9. The role of the media in the crisis 10. The role of the media in the crisis 11. The role of the media in the crisis 12. The role of the media in the crisis 13. The role of the media in the crisis 14. The role of the media in the crisis 15. The role of the media in the crisis 16. The role of the media in the crisis 17. The role of the media in the crisis 18. The role of the media in the crisis 19. The role of the media in the crisis 20. The role of the media in the crisis 21. The role of the media in the crisis 22. The role of the media in the crisis 23. The role of the media in the crisis 24. The role of the media in the crisis 25. The role of the media in the crisis 26. The role of the media in the crisis 27. The role of the media in the crisis 28. The role of the media in the crisis 29. The role of the media in the crisis 30. The role of the media in the crisis 31. The role of the media in the crisis 32. The role of the media in the crisis 33. The role of the media in the crisis 34. The role of the media in the crisis 35. The role of the media in the crisis 36. The role of the media in the crisis 37. The role of the media in the crisis 38. The role of the media in the crisis 39. The role of the media in the crisis 40. The role of the media in the crisis 41. The role of the media in the crisis 42. The role of the media in the crisis 43. The role of the media in the crisis 44. The role of the media in the crisis 45. The role of the media in the crisis 46. The role of the media in the crisis 47. The role of the media in the crisis 48. The role of the media in the crisis 49. The role of the media in the crisis 50. The role of the media in the crisis 51. The role of the media in the crisis 52. The role of the media in the crisis 53. The role of the media in the crisis 54. The role of the media in the crisis 55. The role of the media in the crisis 56. The role of the media in the crisis 57. The role of the media in the crisis 58. The role of the media in the crisis 59. The role of the media in the crisis 60. The role of the media in the crisis 61. The role of the media in the crisis 62. The role of the media in the crisis 63. The role of the media in the crisis 64. The role of the media in the crisis 65. The role of the media in the crisis 66. The role of the media in the crisis 67. The role of the media in the crisis 68. The role of the media in the crisis 69. The role of the media in the crisis 70. The role of the media in the crisis 71. The role of the media in the crisis 72. The role of the media in the crisis 73. The role of the media in the crisis 74. The role of the media in the crisis 75. The role of the media in the crisis 76. The role of the media in the crisis 77. The role of the media in the crisis 78. The role of the media in the crisis 79. The role of the media in the crisis 80. The role of the media in the crisis 81. The role of the media in the crisis 82. The role of the media in the crisis 83. The role of the media in the crisis 84. The role of the media in the crisis 85. The role of the media in the crisis 86. The role of the media in the crisis 87. The role of the media in the crisis 88. The role of the media in the crisis 89. The role of the media in the crisis 90. The role of the media in the crisis 91. The role of the media in the crisis 92. The role of the media in the crisis 93. The role of the media in the crisis 94. The role of the media in the crisis 95. The role of the media in the crisis 96. The role of the media in the crisis 97. The role of the media in the crisis 98. The role of the media in the crisis 99. The role of the media in the crisis 100. The role of the media in the crisis.
REVIEWS:

BLONDEL

by Skipper

They sent me all these records. No use of the letters. They're pretty bad. If you think you don't need to push in Blondel is the band's second studio album, featuring a mix of folk, rock, and pop influences. The band's sound is characterized by harmonious vocals and catchy melodies.

CARNIVAL A QUEBEC

This year Le Cirque Francais is returning a four-day and three-night trip to Quebec's winter carnival from February 14.

The band will have the campus Thursday, February 14, at 7:30 p.m. from the Catholic Center and will arrive Tuesday evening around 9 p.m. on campus. The price of the trip is $3 and we welcome anyone to sign up. For more information, see friends from other schools or the band Le Cirque Francais.

The food is very reasonable and includes a two-way pass to and from Quebec as well as meals and accommodations at the Hotel du Lac. There is no need to be fluent in French. If you have an interest in seeing scenic places such as Charlevoix, the Parc, or the Alouette, the changing of the guard, or the tour in the Palais de la Culture, you might enjoy this tour, which would include visits to other cities such as Quebec City and Montreal.

POETRY

With my poetry I have attempted to be a poet, but I am a person, and the poems should be read in this manner. They are not to be read in the way of a poem, but rather as a part of a poem.

Edgar Allan Poe

REVIEW:

GAY 90'S NIGHT

This year's homecoming activities got an extra boost thanks to the Gay 90's Night sponsored by the senior class. The only part of the night was the ball of male companionship for the numerous girls. If there was ever a chance to pick up a date for the Homecoming Ball, this was it.

In spite of my initial impressions, the band proved to be and to many everyone that the band was the band for a great time. They played in the band, which people thought they had been waiting for, but never saw again. This was one of the best nights of the year and it was a great night.

Pretty J. Proved Vice President

For Richard Steadman

This year's homecoming activities got an extra boost thanks to the Gay 90's Night sponsored by the senior class. The only part of the night was the ball of male companionship for the numerous girls. If there was ever a chance to pick up a date for the Homecoming Ball, this was it.

In spite of my initial impressions, the band proved to be and to many everyone that the band was the band for a great time. They played in the band, which people thought they had been waiting for, but never saw again. This was one of the best nights of the year and it was a great night.

Pretty J. Proved Vice President

For Richard Steadman
Supreme Court to Rule on Housing Ordinances

CPA - This spring the US Supreme Court will rule on the constitutionality of zoning ordinances that restrict the number of unrelated individuals that may be housed in a single dwelling.

The ruling will have a great impact on student and university communities across the nation because many areas have zoning ordinances which restrict student housing to family dwellings occupied by no more than two people unrelated by marriage, blood, or adoption. These ordinances often apply to the university areas although those not are not strenuously enforced because of student housing shortages and the land-market trends.

The court recently agreed to hear a case brought by three students at the University of California at Berkeley who sued the city of Berkeley alleging a zoning ordinance which restricts student housing to family dwellings occupied by no more than two people unrelated by marriage, blood, or adoption. The court is expected to rule this spring.

People's Bicentennial Commission Launches Tea Party Campaign

The National Office of the People's Bicentennial Commission is planning a campaign in Tea Party campaign that will focus on the new corporate republics that have sprung up across the land. In a statement released today, the commission said, "We are launching a campaign to educate the American people about the dangers that we face."

The commission will hold a series of events across the country, including a rally in New York City on Friday, April 17, 2015. The rally will feature speeches by prominent leaders and activists, as well as a march through the streets of Manhattan. The commission is also working with local organizations to hold events in their communities.

Boston Celtics
Women's Double Cross Country Competition

For Women: 10K Rally Run - Compete in Boston Garden And Win Official NBA Basketball Game Tickets by entering the Women's Double Cross Country Competition. Register online at www.nba.com/crosscountry to be entered for a chance to win a pair of tickets to the Boston Celtics vs. Atlanta Hawks game on November 16, 2015. The winner will be announced at the game.

Comment Staff Meeting

Wednesday, November 16, 2015

The Comment Staff will meet on Wednesday, November 16, 2015, at 9:00 a.m. in the Horace Mann Auditorium. The meeting will include discussions on current news and events, including the upcoming Supreme Court ruling on housing ordinances. The meeting is open to the public and all members of the community are encouraged to attend.

The Comment is a student-run newspaper at the University of California at Berkeley. It is published weekly and covers local, national, and international news. The newspaper is produced by the students of the University of California at Berkeley and is supported by the students' fees and advertising revenue.

For more information, please visit the newspaper's website at www.thecomment.org or contact the editor-in-chief at editor@thecomment.org.
THE S.G.A. Fable - AMENDED!

By Michael Vieira

Long, long ago there was a little room in a little town called the BSC. And in the BSC's (S.G.A.) meetings were held.

But the S.G.A. was not a mere collection of people, no. It was a powerful horse-shoe in the middle, all the people who worked around it found themselves drawn to its power. The S.G.A. was a mighty force, a force to be reckoned with. It was a force that could move mountains, and it was a force that knew no limitations.

At this particular meeting, there was a discussion about the need for a new set of by-laws. The by-laws were old and out of date, and it was time for a change. The by-laws had been in use for many years, but it was clear that they were no longer sufficient to meet the needs of the present.

The discussion was heated, and there were many opinions expressed. Some felt that the by-laws should be changed to reflect the current realities of the university, while others felt that they should remain as they were.

In the end, it was decided that the by-laws should be changed, and a committee was formed to work on the new set of by-laws. The committee worked hard, and after much discussion and debate, a new set of by-laws was approved.

THE S.G.A. Fable - AMENDED!

The Amendment did not take long enough on a cute little bigger say. "Now to reward the motion from reading "under Educational Affairs" to read "under Rights and Freedoms of Legislative Affairs," which is a better title."

Amend it because the S.G.A. has never done that sort of thing before. The S.G.A. was a powerful force, and it was time for it to assert its authority.

The Amendment was passed, and the S.G.A. moved on to the next item on the agenda. The meeting continued, and new issues were discussed. But the Amendment had set the tone for the meeting, and it was clear that the S.G.A. was a force to be reckoned with.

And so it was, the S.G.A. continued to serve the university well, and its by-laws continued to be amended to reflect the current realities of the university. The S.G.A. was a force to be reckoned with, and it would continue to be so, for many years to come.
MERRY CHRISTMAS—maybe.

On Thursday, December 12, from 6 to 7 p.m., in the student center, a SNEA Meeting will be held. The Program Committee will sponsor its annual Christmas party for students. Children from St. Mary’s Orphanage will be invited to sing, “Away in a Manger,” in Full Hall. There will be approximately 25 children attending, but we need permission for any who may sign up to sponsor one of the children. If you are interested, contact SNEA at the Union Building.

Are you interested in the Spanish language? If so, come to the movie “Huirres,” sponsored by the Spanish Club, on Thursday, December 19 at 7:15 p.m. in the Library Lecture Hall. All are welcome. Free admission.

SNEA MEETING
with Dr. Dickinson, Dr. Harper, Dr. Baker
Nov. 27 10:00 a.m. S.U. Ballroom
Anyone is welcome to attend!
Come with questions you’d like to ask.

Project People
Training New Staff

Project People is a privately operated community agency allowing the services of a bilingual and drug drop clinic for training and retraining of Watts and Chicxulub residents. Our goals are to provide meaningful activities for people with special needs and to help them develop their skills so they can become self-sufficient and help others.

Our primary concern is the training of the volunteers. This training course is helping people develop the skills and attitudes that are needed to work as volunteers for Project People.

Our primary concern in each training course is identifying and overcoming the self-exclude, and everyone who can or will be present is welcome. For more information, please call 781-6695.

The next training course will be held on Thursday, November 29th at 7:00 p.m. There will be a placement meeting for volunteers who wish to learn of application and interview procedures, registration for Placement Office service, and other related matters.

This meeting will be held in the Haverford mixer.
SPORS

B.S.C. Bears Could Tie
School Record

The Bears of Bridgewater State College could not be called the school ranked for most games won in a season this Saturday as they travel to Framingham for their last game of the year.

Currently 4-4, after last weekend's tough loss in Curry at Homecoming, the Bears could wind up with a .500 season if they beat Framingham, which is 6-2-0 so far.

The 500's under football players, this is their final contest, and with this weekend will make up for some of the disappointment of the Curry loss.

In that match the Bears managed Curry on the ground 213 yards to 175 yards, but fumbles and a determined Colonial defense wouldn't permit a BSC score even though the Bears managed to come class several times.

Coach Pete Mazzaferro will play gasoline to one of his seniors, John Egan, and two sophomores, Jim Mackinnon and Tony Perry.

John Irving, Jim Taube, Jim Frisell, and Mike Hane.

As for Framingham, Coach Mazzaferro sees a clear path ahead. He said, "They have two outstanding running backs that we'll have to contain, Bill Henry and Bill Benson. Benson is a real threat on kick-off returns, and punt returns - we will have to key him especially. This is the last time we will play Framingham outside the Conference, as they enter it next year. We want this win.

If trying to beat week's Curry is our number one goal, the each Pallout at First String for outstanding defensive performance on being made. And even though the game was lost, there were some very promising performances by several players who will be back next season toanchor the Bears.

These include Tony Maxwell, a hard-running fullback who gained 100 yards last week, and Jim Johnson, another solid runner who has left part of this season due to injuries.

"If we are returning next year with some of our "collective" that have gained valuable experience, and with some of our program, we are really very good," said Coach Mazzaferro.

At the moment, however, the Coach and his players are concentrating hard on Framingham, and this last, important contest which will spell the difference between a losing and break-even season.

Kick-off is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. in Framingham.

Is B.S.C. a Dead-Beat Campus?

by Pat Krahe, .
and Carol Flitton

There is no sports write-up on the Homecoming game with Curry because there is no sports writer.

Attention! For those of you who continuously claim that there is nothing to do on the Bridgewater Campus at Bridgewater State College. Ha, ha, you're wrong! Absolutely no-never, even but an ounce of athletics should be able to make it down to the Kelly Gymnasium. And once there, if you open your bloodshot eyes enough to look around, you will find a new world of entertainment. Whether you are out to beat the world, release yourself of your frustrations, or just have a good time, there are activities designed to entertain everyone's interests and passions.

If you have managed to read this far, you might be interested in one of the following activities, beginning as November 5:

Wednesday: Monday - Wednesday, 4:30 P.M., Bridgeport Bowling Alley.

Phone Softball, Wednesday, 6:30 P.M., Large gym. Open tournament. Thursday, 6:30 P.M. Small gym. Phone Hockey. Thursday, 6:30 P.M. Small gym.

For those of you who think that watching the games, talking about your neighbor, or just generally complaining, get you body into gym and head for the Kelly Gym.

VILLAGE EAST LOUNGE

6 NIGHTS

LIVE ENTERTAINMENT

96 Ames St. Brockton off N. Main or Montello St.
588-2356

PROPER DRESS PLEASE

SWIM TEAM

Bridgewater. The Bridgewater State College Swimming Team will formally open its 1973-74 season with the Second Annual "Red & White" Intramural swimming Meet this Thursday, November 8th at 1:30 P.M.

The program will feature scholastic events, in which the squad will be split into two relatively equal teams. In addition, special competitions of the events will be furnished by Coach Joe Vedone, in order to familiarize the spectators with the sport of competitive swimming. Assistant coach George Pelati will serve as referee and starter. The meet promises to be exciting, as there is a nucleus of new freshmen and transfer student talent on the squad this year.

Last year's meet ended in a 4-4 tie, having been called due to weather before the final event.

RESEARCH

Thousands of Topics $2.75 per page

Weekly publication, Tel. 631-3910, mail order catalog. Online 10:00 to 5:00 Monday through Thursday. Non-institutional orders welcome. All sales in California. RESEARCH ASSISTANCE, INC. 200 ARTHUR AVENUE, SUITE 740 LOS ANGELES, CALIF. 90028 Please add $7.50 for research material sold for personal use.

Appearing now:

Jimmy Vee and The Common People

Weehawken presents B.S.C. I.D.

Admission $1.00

Wednesday is Ladies Night

(Reduced rates on Ladies' drinks)