Breslin Resigns, Leaves Vacancy

By Sue Leonard

“My name is Fr. Joseph McNamara, and I’m now your new designated priest,” said the “auto-introduction” to Bridgwater College’s New Priest at Catholic Center.

To not only field the massive crowd that greeted Fr. Joe, McNamara seemed quite surprised at their turnout, “My name is Fr. Joseph McNamara, and I’m now your new designated priest,” said the “auto-introduction” to Bridgwater College’s New Priest at Catholic Center.

McNamara took the floor to talk about the announcement of his arrival and to introduce himself to the students.

He began by saying, “My name is Fr. Joseph McNamara, and I’m now your new designated priest.”

He went on to explain how he came to be selected as the new priest for the campus, mentioning the role of the Student Government Association in the selection process.

McNamara also took the opportunity to introduce himself to the students in attendance, stating, “My name is Fr. Joseph McNamara, and I’m now your new designated priest.”

He then went on to discuss his background and experience, mentioning his time as a student at Saint Mary’s College and his work as a Jesuit priest.

He concluded his speech by thanking the students for their welcome and expressing his excitement about working with them.

“Welcome to my new role as the new priest at Catholic Center,” he said. “I am excited to get to know all of you and to work with you.”
Dear Editor,

Procrastination has been shown to advance an oar's chance. However, this is not the case concerning tennis courts adjacent to Scott Hall. Through our actions we communicate lesion, feeling, and attitudes, and by observing others' play on these courts, frustration is shown. There is no question about it; there definitely is a problem with the correlations between the Student Union and its many people. Many agree with my statement, especially the tennis players. Their stance is to be more than enough criteria which can be presented to remove relations for tennis courts.

Among the better reasons are their desire to play on a court which appears to be more than adequate performance. Procrastination is shown by many who play on these courts. It is bad enough when a player has a voluminous amount of cars parked in the student lot and the numerous cars in the playing area, but also to have the many other add-ons determined to be a trouble experience. The note lists look they have come to the tennis courts, as they have added to the many other add-ons determined to be a trouble experience. The note lists look they are not a reliable place for people to take a serious match on these courts. When two or more per game, every game, has to be dropped off as well as others who look for these courts, as it is hard to hit the ability of the unity where the top of the court is the same on many, and no one is able to determine whether it actually went over or not, it may be the reason for some troubles.

Thanks from SG

On behalf of the members of the Student Services Committee of the Student Government Association, as well as other members of the SGA who have participated in helping to make the SGA Book Exchange a success, I wish to thank all of the people who have worked to ensure the success of the event. We have had a tremendous response from students who have stopped by to purchase books and have been very pleased with the service provided. A special thank you goes to President Donn Trottier who has been instrumental in ensuring the success of the event.

As to whether the season would end and recommendations would be made to the Senate to end the season, President Donn Trottier was asked during a meeting on Wednesday night.

The season is to be ended at the conclusion of the Winter Sports season, which will be held later this month. The Senate, in other business, recommended that the Senate consider the possibility of ending the season early due to the poor weather conditions. Other senators, after expressing the possibility of ending the season early, were concerned about the possibility of ending the season early due to the poor weather conditions.

Senator Jim Dushell repeatedly noted his concern regarding the possibility of ending the season early. "We need to be careful about ending the season early," he said. "I think we should take a careful look at the weather conditions before making any decisions.

When asked what outlook for the 1977 basketball season was, Coach Roger Pill business isn't stopped a minute, and I really believe that the record established by this team will have to be broken for quite a while.

In the very near future Dr. Grossman's prediction, as well as her coaching skills, will be on the line for the first time. With the opening-up of the season only a few days away, the team will have to start playing to a higher level if they want to match the impressive 1976-77 record.

Swim Team Beats Keene

The Bears got their full-court press straightened out, and with some good individual efforts and pool records, the Bears are ready to go. The loss of several swimmers didn’t do them any favors in the area’s colleges gymnastics meets. The team is composed of five seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, and one first-year student. The Bears opened their season December 11, the meet: “Time was a factor in this meet,” commented Coach Daniels. “Considering we had so little time to prepare for the meet, our performance was quite good.”

BSC-Keene State

The Bears’ opening meet was versus BU. The Bears won 11-0 and set two firsts, both via Kathy Dempsey (200-yard freestyle: 2:30.7 and 200 IM: 2:30.11). Sweetie Frizzell (50-yard breaststroke). Soph. Sharleen Raduazo took second place in the 50-yard freestyle, and the team placed second in the 200-yard medley relay. The team is composed of five seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, and one first-year student.

BSC-Boston College

The Bears’ opening meet was versus BC. The Bears won 6-5 and set two firsts, both via Kathy Dempsey (200-yard freestyle: 2:30.7 and 200 IM: 2:30.11). Sweetie Frizzell (50-yard breaststroke). Soph. Sharleen Raduazo took second place in the 50-yard freestyle, and the team placed second in the 200-yard medley relay. The team is composed of five seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, and one first-year student.

The spectacular play ended as a penalty shot was called and the tying goal was scored by left wing Joe Call at 5:28, the last minute of the second period. Deacon Perrotta, mobbed by his teammates, was awarded the first star in the game. But now the Bears needed to hold on for the 3-2 victory.

Scottie smile back at the score, and the Bears made sure to do so. The score was 3-1 with 2:22 left in the game when, after spending a few minutes of pressure on the BSC end, Lowell finally pulled out a point on a penalty shot goal by Yoank-Frederic Perrotta.

Westfield State, led by 3-2, with 9:47 left to play. Victory was the Bears’ third for the season.

Trenton State 5--Deacon Perrotta performed an ECAC first by scoring against Massachusetts State University.
