Softball Having Perfect Season

The women’s softball team could easily turn into the biggest success story of BC’s 2017–18 season, beginning with the first game of the year on March 24. The team is led by first-year coach Amy Matteo, who has promised to bring a fresh perspective to the program.

The past two seasons have been challenging for the women’s softball team, as they have struggled to win games. However, this year, under the guidance of Matteo, the team has shown a remarkable improvement. Their first game of the season was against the University of New Hampshire, and they emerged victorious with a score of 7-2.

The team has also been impressive in its recent games, as they have won seven out of eight games played thus far. Their next game is against the University of Massachusetts Lowell, and they are already looking forward to the challenge.

The team’s success can be attributed to several factors, including the strong leadership of Matteo, the hard work of the players, and their relentless dedication to the sport. The players have shown a great deal of resilience and determination, and this has been evident in their performances so far.

Overall, the women’s softball team is off to a great start, and they are sure to continue their winning streak throughout the season. With their talent and determination, they are a team to watch out for this year.
Letters to the Editor

To the Student Body:

I am one of the students who have been waiting anxiously for some time to write you. I am not a student body member, but I do have a few things that I would like to say.

First of all, I want to express my appreciation for the hard work that you do. I think that you do a great job of representing the students and I am grateful for all that you do.

However, I do have a few concerns. One of them is the issue of the meal plans. I understand that you have different meal plans available, but I think that the 15-meal plan is too restrictive. I would like to see some changes made to the meal plans.

Another concern is the issue of the Food Service. I have been hearing a lot of complaints about the Food Service, and I think that something needs to be done about it. I would like to see some changes made to the Food Service.

I hope that you will consider these concerns and take action to address them. I would like to see a more positive and proactive approach to these issues.

Thank you for your time and attention.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

New Summer Courses!

by Joan Teitelman

There will be two new courses offered by the Department of Education this summer.

SE 146 Methods and Materials for the Academically Talented will be offered again during the first summer semester. Last year it was quite a success! It is a three credit course which features a workshop with gifted children as part of its format. Several guest speakers are scheduled. They will include experienced teachers of gifted children and directors of programs for the academically talented.

SE 146 is one of the only colleges in the state to offer such a course. It aims at improving the teaching of students in the field of teaching the gifted. It is also beneficial to anyone interested in any kind of teaching. The second course offered is SE 146, Workshop in Applied Special Education for the Gifted and Talented.

Both of these courses are open to all students. The prerequisite is a PSY 100 course but this requirement can be waived. Both courses are still open.

If you have any questions or would like to sign up for either course, please get in touch with Dr. Greenwald in the Special Education Office in Boyden Hall. Don't let this excellent opportunity pass you by!

Spring Car Inspection Tips

by Doug Schorr

With spring inspection up and coming, students with cars should be reminded that the deadline for attaining stickers is May 15. To avoid having to wait, it is best to have your car inspected immediately. Certified inspection stations are on the lookout for certain detects on your lights, your rear lights, your signal lights, your exhaust system, your horn, and your wipers. There are some inspection stations, though, that won't inspect your signal lights, wipers, or horn. In fact, there are two of them in Bridgewater. Occasionally, these stations will forget one of the other defects, too. The individual student can save possible expense for himself by following one step before applying for inspection. The lights on your car should be checked for a possible loose connection or wire. This could save you money by negating the official deadline or you could be in store for a $25.00 fine. Police and registry officers are on the lookout for cars without stickers after the deadline.

PITTSBURGH

In order to not stray too far from the game plan, the Bears decided to sweep the double header with Pittsburgh on Saturday, April 30. They did this rather easily.

In game one, Coach Lehman gave right hander John Robinson the starting assignment. Robinson, after being hit by a line drive, struck out seven batters to win the game. Pittsburgh's tremendous performance was going along well until the sixth inning when a base hit and a walk put runners on first and second. The Bears scored twice in the inning, one on an error. The game was over and the Bears took the series for the first time in seven years.

In game two, Bears scored four runs in the first inning, off of Hardin's hit. The final score was 1-0, and the Bears took the series for the first time in seven years.

In game three, Bears scored four runs in the first inning, off of Hardin's hit. The final score was 1-0, and the Bears took the series for the first time in seven years.

Paul Winter Concert

The relatively unknown Paul Winter Concert played a great opening for the BSC of the first performance of the Winter Concert stage.

The venue was set with incredible sound, percussion filled air and was visually emotionally attached to the music. This was the key to the Concert—be the emotion that they let into their music and how they let that emotion take the stage.

The second piece, "Bach in '59" was written by R. Murray Schafer and the Concert was David Darling, professor of music on the BSC campus who put together the look and feel of the concert. The percussion section ranged from the traditional playing of drums and cymbals to the more experimental playing of the click. The percussion section also played the last piece which we all enjoyed. The last piece is what we all enjoyed. The last piece is what they said.

The Equal Rights Amendment

By Deltie Brown

Equality of rights under law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.

Why you vote simple, direct, powerful words. ERA is our opportunity to advance legal discrimination against women and to provide the Supreme Court with a basic, general, rule to ban sex discrimination. ERA will also correct Federal laws that are already sex discriminatory, bring them more in line with our goal of equal rights for all.

The ERA is the opening of the door of opportunities for all women, for all people. It would change and in a different direction you would vote.

ERA is second to none, women now face dangerous times. Life is a burden enough to carry a woman's weight, why make her carry a man's, too?

New SGA Officers

The new officers of the Student Government Association were sworn in May 3, 1977. The Student Government Association is an organization of students working for students, and tackles issues on all aspects of college life. Take advantage by dropping by the SGA chambers, located on the third floor of the Student Union, with any questions or just to say hello.

President

Joe Lamothe

- ceremonial head of the SGA
- appoints members to all college committees
- calls meetings of the Senate and prepares the agenda

"The Student Government Association will work best in representing students' interests if the students make their views known to the SGA."

First Vice President

Al Silva

- chairs Senate meetings
- appoints members to standing Senate committees
- takes over in absence of the President

"I would like to see the SGA become more responsive to the students. I feel that if students have a problem they should feel free to come to us and that we could direct them. I plan to run orderly meetings by enforcing the rules and to have a tighter rein on committees."

Second Vice President

Carole Hamilton

- homecoming chairperson
- chairs Social Activities committee
- Senate representative to the Program Committee

"It is both an honor and a pleasure to be a member of SGA and in the position to represent the students at ESC. As second Vice President, with the help of the Homecoming Committee, I plan to do my part in representing the interests of students in organizing the best Homecoming ever!"

Treasurer

Lisa Gorman

- deals with financial procedures such as annual and semiannual budgetary requests, audits, and freezing or revocation of funds
- chairs Ways and Means Committee

"As a member of SGA, I have an obligation to keep the students informed of all happenings within the college community. As chairperson of Ways and Means, I will try to distribute all funds fairly to all clubs and organizations and will make myself available to answer any student's questions about club funding and policies."

Assistant Treasurer

Riche DiGallio

- in absence or at the discretion of the Treasurer
- executes the duties and executes the power of the President

"I fractured my back in a skiing accident in March and feel the bigger chair will do wonders for my back... and ego."

The Equal Rights Amendment

Delille Ewuru

"Equality of rights under law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any state on account of sex." The phrase is relatively simple, direct, and powerful, but it is at the heart of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA), a bill that was first introduced in Congress in 1923 and has been reintroduced every decade since then.

The ERA would mean the women would be employed in the United States or by any state on account of sex. It is important that women have the right to manage your own affairs, such as choosing one of two Social Security benefit programs. They are not entitled to both.

It is also important that unwanted retaliation does not occur. The ERA would mean that the women would be employed in the United States or by any state on account of sex.

If you work now and own your own business, you would no longer have the right to manage your own affairs, such as choosing one of two Social Security benefit programs. They are not entitled to both.

Paul Winter Concert

The relatively unknown Paul Winter (Concert) played a largely acoustic set and went away having delivered one of the finest performances of any artist on the stage. The artist, Mark Dufere, performed an acoustic set and was very emotively attached to his music. The result was a key to the Concert—the emotion that they put into their music and their ability to captivate the listeners.

The concert began with a National Anthem. The crowd was roused to their feet in appreciation. The artist then began to play his acoustic guitar and to sing songs from his debut album, "The Feel". The crowd was in awe as they listened to the delicate notes of the guitar and the emotional lyrics of the songs. The artist then went on to play songs from his follow-up album, "The Mind". The audience was again captivated as they listened to the intricate melodies and beautiful vocals.

The concert concluded with a rousing rendition of the artist's most popular song, "The Feel". The crowd erupted in applause as the artist took his final bow. The artist then went off stage to sign autographs for the eager fans.

The concert was a triumph for Paul Winter and it was clear that he has a bright future ahead of him as a solo artist. The crowd was left in awe of his talent and his emotive performance. The artist has definitely earned his place on the stage and will no doubt go on to have a long and successful career.

Letters to the Editor

To the Student Body: Each day, as we walk through the sidewalks, we see our fellow students.sitting, talking, walking - all engaged in some activity, some sense of purpose. Parents are always looking to support their children in the way they see fit. At Bridgewater, students are growing at a rapid pace, but sometimes parents get caught up in the stress of their child's success. It's important to remember that while we are students, we are not just numbers or points on a test. We are human beings with feelings and emotions. It's up to us to make sure that we are proactive in our studies and still enjoy our college experience. Otherwise, parents will continue to think our lives are being purposely set on a path towards the worst possible scenario.

Dear Editors,

I am writing to express my concern regarding the recent editorial in the student newspaper. The article was written in a condescending tone and portrayed a negative portrayal of parents and their role in our lives. As a parent, I strongly disagree with this viewpoint and believe that parents play an integral role in our development. They support us throughout our lives, offer guidance, and help us to achieve our goals. It is important to recognize the valuable contributions that parents make to our lives.

Sincerely,
