Money Ends Career

Steve Money and photojournalism John Greco represented the BSC men's tennis team at the 32nd Annual U.S. National Intercollegiate Racquetball Championships. They placed fourth in their division.

For Money, the month closed out his brilliant four-year excelling career here at BSC. He managed to win 39 of the 51 matches he played during his four-year career. Money's story of 39 in the individual matches established a new BSC record for the highest overall record at BSC, in 1978. Money, competing in both singles and doubles events, also aided in scoring a winning finished season in 1977 for the BSC men's tennis team.

In addition, BSC men's tennis head coach, Albert Silva, assisted in the Montana State University at Bozeman, the Montana State University at Billings, the Montana State University at Great Falls, and Montana State University at Great Falls. The men's tennis team at Montana State University at Great Falls has represented the Montana State University at Great Falls in the National Colloid Stick Karate Fishing Tournament. The date for the men's tennis team at Montana State University at Great Falls is March 10th, 1978.

On a sunny day in late April, John Silvani showed the BSC men's tennis team a new way to improve their game. After the match, the team had the most important practice session and got some valuable experience. In addition, the team was very excited and had a lot to say about the new practice.

The recipient of the award was Mike Boyer, "Mr. Money." Mr. Money, Michael's father and a former tennis player, is a BSC tennis coach. Mike Boyer received highest awards by his own hands, and Mr. Money has competed with some of the best in the world.

The team will be back on the court in the future, with their focus on improving their skills. In addition, Mike Boyer's father and a former tennis player, is a BSC tennis coach. Mike Boyer received highest awards by his own hands, and Mr. Money has competed with some of the best in the world.

I would, at this time, like to thank all those generous and cooperative people who helped to make this possible. I would also like to thank my assistant, Peter Taylor, for his help in putting together this list. I would especially like to thank all those who have contributed to the success of this project.

This year's list includes a larger number of names than ever before, and we hope that it will continue to grow in the future. We are grateful to all those who have helped to make this possible and look forward to continuing our efforts in the years to come.

Sincerely,

Class of '79

To the Editor:

I would like to take the opportunity to announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the class of 1979 student government board. I am a senior English major and have been involved in the student government for two years. I would like to support my re-election with the following points: I would like to represent the interests of the students and the college in any decision-making processes. I am dedicated to the idea of an open and accountable government and believe that the students should have a voice in the decisions that affect them.

Sincerely,

The American Motif

by Peter Taylor

The American Motif

The American Motif is a concept that has been discussed in various contexts, from art and literature to political and social movements. It refers to the idea of a distinctive style or set of values that is characteristic of a particular society or group. The concept has been used to describe a range of phenomena, from the habits and customs of a particular region to the cultural, intellectual, and social traditions that define a nation or community.

The American Motif has been a source of inspiration and inspiration for many artists, writers, and thinkers throughout history. It has been a driving force behind the creation of new forms of expression, and it has been a source of pride for those who identify with the values it stands for. However, the American Motif is not a static or unchanging concept. It has evolved over time, and it continues to be shaped by the experiences and aspirations of the people who live in the United States.

"Zoo Story" Review

On March 23, 1978, the Honolulu Zoo held a fund-raising event with the presentation of "Zoo Story." The play was directed by Steven Capron and starred two famed actors, Paul Healy and John Richards.

"Zoo Story" is a dramatic play that explores the theme of the Peter's character and his search for meaning in his life. The play is known for its powerful emotional impact and has been praised for its realistic and thought-provoking portrayal of human nature.

The play was set in a zoo, where Paul Healy's character, Peter, struggle to find purpose and direction in his life. He encounters John Richards' character, Jerry, who is an eccentric and somewhat unstable zookeeper. As they interact, Peter begins to question his own existence and the meaning of life.

The play's themes of identity, purpose, and the search for meaning are explored through the characters' interactions and the play's narrative. "Zoo Story" received critical acclaim and has remained a significant work in the realm of dramatic literature.

Art Club Meeting, Events

On Tuesday, March 7, the Art Club held a monthly meeting, with the focus being on the upcoming theme of "Cultural Diversity."

The club discussed various aspects of cultural diversity, including the importance of understanding and appreciating different cultures. The discussion was facilitated by a guest speaker from the local cultural center, who shared insights on the significance of cultural diversity in our society.

The club members also brainstormed ideas for an upcoming cultural diversity-themed event, which is scheduled to take place in the near future. The event will provide an opportunity for members to engage with different cultures and learn from one another.

Space Visitors Expected

Roundabout

by Gi Biia

Looking for a joy? There is a new species developing underground in the vicinity of our planet. Scientists call it "space visitors."

Dying in a watery wasteland, during the recent exploratory mission, a team of explorers stumbled upon a strange phenomenon. Among the debris, they discovered a device that appeared to be of extraterrestrial origin. It was unlike anything they had seen before.

One of the scientists, Dr. Schwartz, was particularly fascinated by the device. He spent several hours analyzing it, trying to understand its purpose and origins. His colleagues were skeptical, but Schwartz was determined to investigate further.

The device was small, about the size of a basketball, and had a complex array of buttons and dials. It appeared to be a communication device, possibly a way for the space visitors to contact us. However, the explorers were unable to decipher the language or message.

Scientists have tagged the device with "Space Visitors Expected" and have set up a monitoring station nearby. They hope to learn more about these mysterious creatures and their intentions.

Ensemble Theatre:

will present Fitchburg State College's production of "Godspell" on Sunday, April 2 at 8:00 p.m. in Horace Mann Auditorium at Fitchburg State College.

The musical will be directed and choreographed by John F. Ludlum, chairman of the Department of Dramatic Arts.

Tickets will go on sale Monday, March 7 at 10:00 a.m. for students and $2.50 for all others.

NYC Trip

The Bridgewater State College Art Center will present a trip to New York City to attend a musical "Annie" on Saturday, April 8.

The show is based on the comic strip "Little Orphan Annie." The musical includes the hit song "Tomorrow" and the bus fare is $12.00. The bus will leave at 6 a.m. from the front of the Brockton Art Center, and the show will begin at 8:00 p.m. The bus will return by 6 a.m. on Sunday, April 9.

The show is being done in the Boston area today. The best painting and sculpture selections were made during visits to the artists' studios or to Boston area art galleries.

The exhibition will be hung with" Boston 78" if they live or work and establish a tradition of presenting an invitational basis. With this year's first major painting invitational, the Art Center intends to stimulate membership in the Brockton Art Center's Town Council to the artists' studios or to Boston area art galleries.

The exhibition will remain on view through May 28, 1978. Non-members of the Brockton Art Center will have the opportunity to exhibit their own work to the public, and perhaps sell it. The exhibition should give the Art Center the opportunity to build their membership.

The exhibition will be open to the public through May 28, 1978.

The exhibition will be hung with new works of art from the museums, galleries, and other organizations.

The exhibition will be open to the public through May 28, 1978.

Jim St. Aubin - Athletic Cheif - "No way, as far as we are concerned there are approximately 175 students feasting on the menu of Freeport Hall yesterday to protest the expected dinner to be served. The rules, scheduled for 5 pm, begin shortly thereafter with a games of two minutes to 1 pm on the course, Dr. Adrian Randell, the outdoor Randell's just that it was going to be up there, he would have a healthy amount of higher education. Response to this statement was even more of a random acceptance. Only 15 people questioned the reliability of the Authority's ferry for individuals to be transported up by $50 per person. She claimed that the least increase at Hood Hall was a major problem. Unfortunately, there were no complaints from those who were forced to leave. Why? Randell's response: "Good question." He went on to explain that the ferry was needed in order to meet the maximum capacity for the event.

"Why are you going to be the same when you are down?" he asked. "Why do you think we are going to stop?" No one knows. "It's not in our power to stop this," he added, "it's in our power to do it."

One of the key performances of the meet was that of Dan Gallo, who went on to secure the title of Meet Referee for NCAA Division II Swimming and Diving Championships which have been rescheduled from Clarion State College team, then Springfield, Bowdoin, Southern Connecticut, and Tufts.

Not only were Mike Cheney and Doug Daniels in the mix for NCAA titles, but Ray Schimpf, Sr. and Scott Loeffler, also finished with career high scores. The final scores were 15-0 for Central Connecticut. For Bridgewater this tallying a super 6.85. once again high performer with a 7.9 routine. Also scoring high for her performance. Also scoring high for her performance were Nora Kenny (7.3), Lynne Scott (6.7), and Cathy Spillane (6.4).

TO SPORTS EDITOR

I am writing this letter concerning two basketball players, and also friends of mine, Jim Billings and Mike Weisman. They played for the Bridgewater basketball team, this year, which had a lot of talent and was very successful. Unfortunately, they didn't play much and without any complaints. They were good at their respective roles. Mike played an important role.

It was when many starters were injured and couldn't play. Mike was their finest meet of the season totaling a career high of no. 7 points. The final scores were 15-0 for Central Connecticut. For Bridgewater this tallying a super 6.85. once again high performer with a 7.9 routine.

Now let us reflect on the future, with ten to go and six of them will be in the final round. For those of you who have watched the competition this year, the team would like to thank the following organizations for their contribution and support.

Steve Greene represented the BSC men's swim team the 200 yard breaststroke, the 200 yard individual medley, and the 100 yard backstroke. He competed in these events and set the meet record, breaking Mike Arsenault's old standard of 2:08.6, set in 1974. Greene, from Pawtucket, Rhode Island, attended the University of Maine-Orono.

On the floor exercise, Sue Ganley was their finest meet of the season totaling a career high of no.7 points. The final scores were 15-0 for Central Connecticut. For Bridgewater this tallying a super 6.85. once again high performer with a 7.9 routine.
