Mountaineering is a skill of time and space, not time. The wrong time in the wrong place, the wrong method, can ruin your mountain. The day we choose to go on a mountain the wrong way, it is appropriate to quickly destroy the mountain before we climb it. Celebrations of all kinds, on both expected and unexpected opportunities to test your mountaineering skills. Yes, there is a mountain.

The hassle for a parking space

Dear Editor,

What must one do to get a decent parking space at Bridgewater State? Does BSC operate like a public lot or what? I often have to wait.

I tried competing to get the parking space and designating my student identification card to one of the few students who do not need parking. The results have not been successful.

I must walk a considerable distance to get to my classes. I do not want to inconvenience my friends and neighbors by walking further than necessary.

I call for a regulation of the parking space and a schedule for students to maintain it.

Sincerely,

Dear Editor,

I have yet to find a good parking space since entering the University. The parking space has been extended past the deadline, and it is difficult to find a spot. I have been waiting in line for about an hour. I have to make sure I have enough time to get to my class on time.

I have tried other methods to get a parking space, such as bargaining with other students. However, these methods have not been successful.

I would like to recommend that BSC provide a better parking system and make it more efficient for students.

Sincerely,

Dear Editor,

Parking space availability is a major issue at the university. It is difficult to find a spot, especially during peak hours. I have had to park far away from my classes, which takes up valuable time.

I have tried other methods to get a parking space, such as bargaining with other students. However, these methods have not been successful. I would like to recommend that BSC provide a better parking system and make it more efficient for students.

The hassle for a parking space

Dear Editor:

What must one do to get a decent parking spot at Bridgwell Hall? Does BSC operate on a first come first serve policy? If so, why is this necessary?

I could comprehend our parking difficulties as well as any illustration regarding the BSC parking controversy. Recently, a group of students gathered at the Student Union Building to discuss work to resolve the parking issues. Tom B. in the Student Union Building added, "It is time for the students to get involved. The stress and frustration is too great."

In the past, I have seen problems of parking and I am willing to suggest a couple of solutions for the problem. First, some kind of time limit for parking in the designated spaces would be a good idea. Second, the parking area in front of BSC could be made into a "parking lot" for students, which would eliminate some of the congestion in the building itself. I am sure that if this were done, the problem would be resolved.

Sincerely,

Mary Ann's of men who have responded, but there is a new police officer on the Bridgewater Campus Police force.

She feels that one reason is sufficient for the small apartment and she recognized it as such work. The student worker will be a valuable asset to the police department as long as she does the job for the love of it and not to make a problem with the PCP. It is felt that it is easier for them to get along with the PCP because they have a problem, and it provides equal placements on our campus.

John Robinson: Candid and Interesting

In an effort to remove some of "the glory that is Brown," the Brown Daily Herald, in its latest issue, has introduced a new feature called "The Arts," which is aimed at showcasing the various artistic endeavors taking place on campus. This issue features an article on the "Yellow Submarine," a popular art exhibit currently on display in the University of New Hampshire auditorium. The article provides an in-depth analysis of the exhibit, highlighting the use of color and light to create a sense of movement and motion. The exhibit is sponsored by the B.S.C. Homecoming Committee and is open to the public from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays.

Frankly speaking, I would have to say that this is the season of visions, and I would agree that the arts of '78, of the arts, of the arts has brought forth, to bring the question "What's it all mean?". But, certain other things about the new season better be in a great deal of mind, and that is to say that, starting in a month, some of the activities in this season that particular piece next week, Wary, a plethora of other projects that generate a full-blown response to the question of what, How can we make diabetes after three viewings.

Since 1795 we've gathered our Blue Magneys for Cuervo Gold the gentle way. It's the old way. And still the best.
Dylan at the Providence Civic Center recently was superb, the late, others just hung around. No one ever says it, the crowd.

Dylan, however, was great. The concert opened with an instrumental version of "My Back Pages" performed by his backup band. On the second song, "Like a Rolling Stone," Dylan made his entrance. Dressed in black leather and sans guitar, he looked quite different from the Dylan of recent years.

The concert was divided into two parts. The first set was a very slow, of tempo and was only about half an hour long. The second set opened with "All Along the Watchtower," had power for days, and covered a wide variety of songs from his career. Dylan could have played all night and would have left the crowd wanting more. The entire time Dylan and the band performed, the crowd and the performers were on their feet.

The second set opened with "Like a Rolling Stone," which has become a staple of Dylan's repertoire. Following "Like a Rolling Stone," Dylan played his most famous songs, including "Like a Rolling Stone," "Like a Rolling Stone," "Like a Rolling Stone," and "Like a Rolling Stone." These songs were performed a cappella, with Dylan playing his keyboard. His playing was powerful and emotional, and he ended the set with a medley of songs including "Like a Rolling Stone," "Like a Rolling Stone," and "Like a Rolling Stone."

The concert closed with a rousing version of "Like a Rolling Stone," which had the crowd cheering and singing along. Dylan ended the concert with "Like a Rolling Stone," which brought the audience to their feet. The crowd had come to see one of the most devastating musical forces of all time and although he has changed over the years, Dylan and the band were still able to bring out the best in each other.

Since 1795 we've gathered our Blue Magueys for Cuervo Gold the gentle way.

It's the old way. And still the best.

At Cuervo we know that there is only one way to make Cuervo Gold perfect. The way we've been doing it for more than 200 years.

That's why people still nurture our fields of Blue Maguey plants. And why we are still used to bring these precious plants to our distillery. For tradition is still the most important ingredient in Cuervo Gold.

This is what makes Cuervo Gold truly special. Now, we drink it with a splash of soda, in a perfect Sunrise or Margarita. Cuervo Gold will bring you back to a time when quality ruled the world.

Private Lightning and Homecoming!

by Ed Muthenholtz

Private Lightning will appear at The Comment October 24th. Seen October 26th from 8:30 p.m. in the Great Hall, the band consists of an extremely competent guitarist, Paul Vartanian, bassist Stan Keith, guitarist and harmonica player Paul Vartanian (Paul's twin sister in the Vartanian family), keyboardist Mike Shuman, the lead vocalist. Their music is a welcome sound and most of their numbers are original. The band sound varies from soft rock to a hand, strong, twangy style of "Run Home Nick" and "Dance to Be Quick" (interestingly enough the band's original name was Quick). Throughout all the material, the band depicts a quality for quality appearing this month:

Hearings are taking place now in the State regarding proposed changes in the special education program to a master's program. Presently, a student interested in special education is required to do four years of college, the first two years being the first two years of elementary education or secondary education and the third year of professional education or a certificate in both. This program will be cut back to three years and the requirements. This includes three years of major experience and one full semester of student teaching. A pre-professional is a career experiece where for example, the student may work in a clinic or hospital. The teaching methods actually change at the age of a class. The student would receive one certificate for two years and the second in the third year. The new program may be a diploma program. The current problem in the issue of quality of the beginning teacher through more field experience was a Dr. W. Rosenman, a special education professor. "The lack of education department will serve to make improvement professions in special education. The program is a test of what every teacher should know. There will be new requirements."

Private Lightning will appear on WBIM 91.5 FM on Saturday, October 28th, at 8-12 p.m. Admission $2.50. This Good is sure to go public!

WHAT WOULD SOCRATES THINK OF O'KEEFE?

If you question long enough and deep enough, certain truths about O'Keeffe become evident. Ask a hearty, full-bodied flavor.

It's too good to gulp.

Special Education Program Changes

By Sue Asci

Private Lightning is a group—which does not rely on cover versions. Their songs appear to be written enough to have success soon.

Bears Soccer Coming On Strong

Stale Now at 3-3

The year's points, after a dismal start, have come on strong with two consecutive victories. The Bears have improved their conference record to 5-2, and are sitting third in the New England College Conference.

V-Ball Wins Two

The Bears volleyball team rebounded from a thorough stomping by UConn to squeeze out victories over a thorough stomping by UConn to squeeze at will. U Conn won the second game 15-7, lost the third game 12-2, and won the fourth game 15-13.

Women's V-Ball Victories

The Bears have continued their winning streak by defeating a tough New Hampshire team. The Bears breezed past the Wildcats, winning 15-2, 15-1, and 15-8.

ARTS FOR ALL

The Bears are getting ready for their next home game against North Adams. The Bears have trouble getting their offense in. In the first half, the Bears defense held the high-powered offensive North Adams to only 3 points. In the second half, the Bears offense took over and scored a total of 15 points.

On the move--Taillack Al Colaruso follows the blocks of Frank Munno and Scott Armstrong in action against New Haven. Game took place on Parent's Day at BSC. Bears lost, 13-6.

Canisius Beats BSC, 33-16

Bridgewater Head Coach Pete Magorides and his team took a trip to New York last weekend and returned with a 33-16 victory over Canisius. The Bears scored on a 6-yard shot past the Canisius goalie, and set the Bears as well as the Canisius bench into hyperventilation.

Bears Defeat Sprink in Illinois

Every time the Bears have won, they have beaten Illinois. Illinois has been losing in recent games.

WRC News

The weekend of September 30th and October 1st was a busy one for WRC News. A group of thirty students spent the weekend volunteering. After a day spent as a staff member, the group went on to volunteer at the local soup kitchen. Volunteers were needed to help serve meals and distribute food to the homeless. The group also spent time at the local animal shelter, helping to care for animals and providing transportation to local animal shelters.

WBIM 91.5 FM

The station is currently playing a variety of music, including rock, pop, and indie. A local band, The Band from Space, is currently playing on the station. The band's next album is set to release in the coming months. The station is also featuring a variety of talk shows, including a show hosted by a local radio personality.

BSC Tennis Falls To Salem

The Bears have lost their last three matches, including a 6-1 defeat against Salem. In each of the matches, the Bears have struggled with their defense, allowing their opponents to score multiple goals. The Bears will look to regroup and find their form as they travel to the next match against a tough team in the conference.
The Bears suffered their first loss of the season Saturday night, October 28, as the powerful New Haven Bears fell to the East Coast College Bears, 27-6. Although the Bears entered the contest as the number one ranked team in the Northeast, their offense was locked down by the East Coast defense. New Haven, on the other hand, was able to click on all cylinders, scoring touchdowns on every possession.

The game was held in Bridgewater's Alumni Stadium, but the Bears were unable to find a rhythm against their visitors. New Haven quarterback John sophomore Patrick O'Brien completed 19 of 30 passes for 265 yards and three touchdowns, while Bridgewater quarterback Scott Armstrong completed just 10 of 18 for 110 yards and an interception. The Bears' defense was also outplayed, allowing the East Coast defense to amass 278 yards on the ground.

Bears running back Tony Boys was held in check to just 37 yards on 14 carries, while New Haven running back Bob Johnson racked up 149 yards on 18 carries. The Bears' offense was hindered by penalties and turnovers, and they were unable to sustain drives against the East Coast defense.

The Bears' defense was also outmatched, as they allowed New Haven to score three touchdowns in the game. The first came on a 13-yard run by Johnson in the first quarter, and the second came on a 40-yard pass from O'Brien to wide receiver Mike Harris in the second quarter. The final touchdown came on a 6-yard run by Johnson in the third quarter.

The loss drops the Bears to 4-1 for the season and could be a turning point in their season. Coach Benninger has said that the team needs to regroup and focus on their next game against the University of New York.

In other WRA sports news, Intramurals has begun, and students must register early to ensure a spot. In volleyball, the Bears are looking at a strong showing, while in men's touch football, the Bears have several strong candidates for the starting lineup.

On the move-Tailback Al Colarusso follows the blocks of Fran Muccio and Day at the point. The Bridgewater Bear offense had an early lead, but New Haven's defense held them to just seven points in the first half.
