New Copy Center to be established at BSC

by Joanna Herr

A copy center is being established for the students at BSC. The location of the Copy Center is across from the snack bar, which is where the Student Union is. The mid-sized, heavy machine can print up to 75 copies per minute. A lack of adequate service for students or campus is what prompted the idea of a Copy Center. Also because of people who have been the Cultural Arts Editor for the semester break. And we also hope that it will be taken advantage of and used frequently by the students. The tentative hours of the Center will be in a storage room which is across from the snack bar.

It will be a walk in service and shall also supply more job opportunities for students. The other press shall be located there for perspective. However, high quality copies will be available to every student near. Multiple copies will be available to every student near. The location of the copying machine will be in a storage room which is across from the snack bar.

New Editor for Comment

Beginning next semester, there will be a new editor for The Comment. The position will be filled by Jean S. Andre. She has been the Editorial Director of the newspaper for approximately two years. Among her commitments to the newspaper, she is also the Cultural Arts Editor for the Student Union. Most copying machines cost $100, but this one is not always accessible to the students. Otherwise, high quality copies will be available at an inexpensive price,

Guiana Minister to Discuss People's Temple at BU

A high-ranking cabinet minister from Guyana will talk about the Peoples Temple located in his country this Thursday afternoon as part of the Third World Studies Series at Boston University. The event is sponsored by the Special Projects Committee (SPC), which is an organization that promotes and supports Third World studies at BU.

Dr. George Nascimento, 46, did his undergraduate work at the University of Brasilia and his graduate work at the University of Amsterdam. He is a high-ranking cabinet minister of state for Guyana. His appearance in the Boston area is one of the few that have been planned outside of Guyana.

The announcement of the lecture highlights the importance of the Peoples Temple issue in Guyana. The temple, which was founded by the Reverend Jim Jones in California, played a significant role in the country's political and social history. The temple's leader, Jones, was convicted of fraud and was sentenced to jail in 1978. He later committed suicide with his followers in Jonestown, Guyana.

The lecture will be held in the SPC Auditorium, 640 Commonwealth Ave., at 11 a.m., Monday, September 29, and is open to the public. Admission is free.

According to Professor Robert R. German, SPC faculty member and host of the series, Nascimento is the first member of the temple to speak in the Boston area. He is also the first member of the temple to speak in the United States or the United Kingdom.

Students Going Bald

Shark News, Inc.

An estimated 100,000 Bridgewater State College students went on a hair-eating binge, resulting in an uncountable number of Baldness victims who had to be readmitted to college. The Baldness epidemic, which started in the fall of 1978, affected students from all disciplines. The Baldness epidemic has been traced to the use of a new shampoo called "Aglee." The shampoo, which is marketed as a "hair growth accelerator," has been linked to baldness in numerous college campuses.

Several students who used the shampoo reported experiencing hair loss. The baldness epidemic has caused a great deal of concern among students and faculty. Some students have reported feeling isolated and stigmatized because of their baldness. The administration has advised students to seek medical attention and to stop using the shampoo. The college is investigating the cause of the baldness epidemic and will provide updates as more information becomes available.

Federal Job Openings

The United States Department of Commerce announced that there will be a limited number of vacant positions at the Adams National Historic Site for the year 1979. The positions are available to applicants who have some background in American history. Applicants must submit their applications by January 13, 1979. The positions are part-time and pay a salary of $10,000 per year. The job duties include providing educational programs for visitors and maintaining the site.

See Christmas in a different light

by Kathy Gould

Traditionally, Christmas is a time of giving gifts, parties, and gatherings. However, this year, Christmas is being redefined by the people who are involved in the celebration. Instead of focusing on material gifts, many people are choosing to donate to charitable organizations. This approach allows them to give back to others and make a positive impact on their community.

Crazy Diamond, Christmas Moon

Standing in the shadows on Christmas night, I watched the Christmas tree. The lights were reflecting off the snow, creating a magical scene. I couldn't help but feel the rush of excitement and joy that comes with the holidays. The holiday season is a time for family, friends, and love. I was grateful to be surrounded by the warmth of the season.

Students Going Bald

Navy News, Inc.

An estimated 700000 students, or roughly 14% of college and university students, suffer from male-pattern baldness. This number is expected to rise to 2 million by the year 2000. The condition is caused by a combination of heredity and stress.

To Mary, You're so cute. I know you think I'm adorable and I'll have to agree. Have a great Christmas!

To Mary. I showed you what real friendship is all about and Christmas see ya after vacation. I don't have an appointment but can I still come up to your room? Love Jim

T was the Night Before Christmas

'Twas the night before Christmas, and all through the house Not a creature was stirring not even a mouse. The stockings were hung by the chimney with care In hopes that St Nicholas soon would be there. The children were nestled all snug in their beds While visions of sugarplums danced in their heads. And mamma in her bonnet with snuggies so warm While father tucked up his old 78rpm records. When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter I sprang from the bed to see what was the matter.

Mar-Mar-How 'bout a game of "Rummie"? By the way, "Hi" see I say it! You're g'd'l people. Did you put out a paper you can be proud of--keep it up. I'm g'ma go down to the dorm. Do you have any new members for The Club? I'll have to agree. Have a great Christmas! Love ya-Demet, Bean, Catb, Micki. Robbs, and my life would not be complete without you. Whether it is a friendship to special person or even just a friend. I know you love me and I can see the love in your eyes. Now let's talk about New Year's... There are so many things we could do. I just hope you don't give up. It's a new year. I'm looking forward to it. Love you. Yes, you are still very special to me. Christmas is ...

Christmas... truly a special time of year for almost everyone-and to everyone the emotions it provokes are unique, the memories it stirs different.

Christmas is...

Sharing love with friends, braving the storm to find that "special" tree, picking out the runt of the litter but transforming it into something beautiful, Christmas concert, finding hidden presents, building a snowman and kissing under the mistletoe. Christmas is buying a "different" kind of tree ornament-and giving it a special place on the tree. Christmas is hanging the first bulb, the warm greetings of strangers, eggnog and Christmas cookies. Christmas is opening presents on the night before with someone you care for, having the family come home for the holidays, a cold nose and a warm heart. Christmas is a warm fire and frost on the windows, a piece of cake for Santa and Rudolph on a plate near the tree, a home-made stockt and a time for reflection. Christmas is carols sung the night before, thoughts of the Christ child and having a snowball fight. Christmas is tobogganing with friends, finding just what you want under the tree and making "angels" with your arms in the snow. Christmas, most of all, means love.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19) You should have been spending your time snowboarding to the beach to hang with your fellow students. By the time you get a ticket, you will have been dropped from all competition. All you have to do is show up in the right place at the right time, you say you can make the same mistakes as everyone else. Who said you didn't know? AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18) Good idea to be on the alert over the day you were born. That, or be on the alert over the day you aren't. (Or both!) Leo, by the way, your birthday is over the weekend side you only plan to be at the party, so don't show up. Good luck anyway. The only reason you show up is because you like the fun. You're way ahead of me. Other than that, you have me mixed up. Pisces (February 19-March 20) Your date for the time being is a great date. You'll have fun at the party, and you'll have nothing to worry about. You have your tights on. Whenever you want to read them, you won't have to worry about it. April 20-May 21) That's right. You're on the island and it's your time. Once you get past that time, you'll have more fun. The time duration of 2:45 - 11:15 p.m. for 20 hours per week during the time schedule can be altered until you finally look at your students. You're a good person to have around. Since 1795 we've gathered our Blue Magueres for Cuervo Gold the gentle way. It's the old way. And the best.

At Cuervo we know that there is only one way to make Cuervo Gold perfect. The way we've been doing it for more than 180 years. That's why we still tartarise our fields of Blue Magueres. And why we are still to use those precious grains for our distillery. For tradition is still the most importatnt ingredient in Cuervo Gold. This is what makes Cuervo Gold truly special. The next, the weather, with a splash of soda, in a perfect Quarter or Margarita, Cuervo Gold will bring you back to a time when quality ruled the world.

I was in the store, you know, that day. The store was unerected. It was made of wood. The wood was red. And the red was beautiful. And the beautiful was so beautiful that I couldn't help but feel that you were looking at something truly special.

My third reason for being Christmas is that the domain of the holiday season is a place where people can be themselves, even if only for a moment or two. It's a place where people can be accepted for who they are, even if those who annoy others try to impose their will on the world.

My fourth reason for being Christmas is that it's a time when we can all be part of something greater than ourselves. It's a time when we can come together to celebrate the spirit of giving.

My fifth reason for being Christmas is that it's a time when we can all be part of something greater than ourselves. It's a time when we can come together to celebrate the spirit of giving.

My sixth reason for being Christmas is that it's a time when we can all be part of something greater than ourselves. It's a time when we can come together to celebrate the spirit of giving.

My seventh reason for being Christmas is that it's a time when we can all be part of something greater than ourselves. It's a time when we can come together to celebrate the spirit of giving.

My eighth reason for being Christmas is that it's a time when we can all be part of something greater than ourselves. It's a time when we can come together to celebrate the spirit of giving.

So, what are your reasons for being Christmas? What makes this time of year special to you?

Happy Holidays, everyone!

The Arts

"Pure" is a Success

by Karen Tubbs

I attended the Sunday matinee of "Pure," a new musical play that probably deserves much more attention. The play was performed at the Queens Theatre in the Arts.

The story is about two sisters, one who is a nun and the other who is a folk singer. The nun is played by Jane Windham, and the folk singer is played by Emily Reid. Both actresses gave wonderful performances.

The music is by Tom Holloway and the lyrics are by John Kander. The score is very catchy, and the songs are well-written.

The set design is by Andrew Lippa and the costumes are by David C. Woolard. Both elements contribute to the overall success of the production.

The cast is excellent, and the direction is by John Rando. The production is produced by Scott Frankel and Jeff Caliendo.

I highly recommend "Pure" to anyone who enjoys musical theatre. It's a wonderful production that should not be missed.

Wrestlers Second in Meet

The Bridgewater State Wrestling Team began its season with an impressive 3-1 record in the Maritime Classic. The Bears finished second behind the University of Massachusetts-Dartmouth, who defeated the Bears 35-18, and tied with the University of Maine for the third place. The Bears were led by Coach Ken Levine, who is heading into his second season with the team. The Bears won two of their three matches, including a 28-23 victory over the University of Maine for the Paul Bunyan Classic. The Bears had a record of 2-1 in the conference, with their only loss coming to the University of Massachusetts-Dartmouth.

The Bridgewater Equestrian Team had an impressive start to their season. The Bears won their opening meet against Salem State, 24-0, and followed it up with a 23-4 victory over the University of Massachusetts-Dartmouth. The team's performance was led by Samantha Warren, who won both the 500 and 2000 meter races. The Bears look ready to justify Knudson's optimism.

Men's-Women's Swim Seasons Underway

Varsity Men

The varsity men's swim season is underway, with the Bears swimming fast and hard. Coach Ken Levine is especially gratified by the performance of his team. The Bears have a reputation for themselves in the Mass State College Athletic Conference (MSCAC), and you can believe it isn't that of "pushover". The Bears have a record of 2-1 in the conference, with their only loss coming to the University of Massachusetts-Dartmouth. The Bears look ready to justify Knudson's optimism.

Varsity Women

The varsity women's swim team is under the leadership of head coach, Ken Levine. The Bears are looking to improve on their strong season last year. Levine is joined by assistant coach of the girls swimming team, who is responsible for the swim sessions. The Bears are heading towards the Paul Bunyan Classic where they hope to improve on their third place finish last year. Levine is an assistant coach of the girls swimming team, and is looking to build on the success of the previous season. The Bears hope to improve on their strong season last year.

Equestrian Team Looks Good In First Meet

By Betsy Lane

The Bridgewater Equestrian Team, under the guidance of Betsy Lane, had a successful first semester. The team competed in several regional and national events, demonstrating their talent and dedication. Although this falls season was unfortunately cut short, the club was able to receive two firsts, two thirds, and two placers, receiving a good outcome for a team's first event.

Men's-Women's Swim Seasons Underway

By Jeff Schilling, a freestyler from Wakefield.

This will be a tough season," admitted Coach Yeskewicz, who competes the New England Intercollegiate Swimming Association. "But BSC will be a competitive team, and we'll have some exciting races. We'll have to work hard, and we'll see how it goes."

Varsity Women

The varsity women's swim team under the leadership of head coach, Ken Levine, are looking forward to a strong season here at Bridgewater. Levine, in his first year as head coach of the women's team, along with the support of Coach Curran and Denise Ronan, is hopeful that this fall will bring the team success and many victories.

New Copy Center to be established at BSC

Vol. LI No. 19
Bridgewater State College
December 7, 1978

by Joanie Hurst

A copy center is being established for students at BSC. The machine, model 2255, is manufactured by Xerox Corp. and has a built-in high-quality copier. The machine is capable of producing 25 copies per minute. A set ofovariables nonsuch for students or campus is what prompted the idea of a Copy Center for the student body. A lack of high-quality copies at an inexpensive price, said Rich Veen, Director of the Student Union.

It will be a walk-in service and students will also be able to use it in person. A number of students will be available to help students at any time. The location of the copy center will be in the Student Union.

New Editor for Comment

Beginning next semester, there will be a new editor for The Comment. Karen Tolles will be replacing the Smith's incumbent editor, Karen Tolles. Tolles has been a Comment writer since her freshman year, has been the cultural arts editor for two years, and has been the arts editor for the past two years. Along with her commitment to the Student Union, she is the daughter of the arts editors, and is a member of the creative writing association. Tolles has been an active member of the creative writing association and her future direction. She stated, "I feel the paper has improved greatly under her leadership, and I really think the newspaper is going to improve greatly under her leadership."

And in we come with eager smiling face. Soon with welcome gifts, you will be gone, but you will have been a part of our lives. We will miss you, but we will respect your decision. We will continue to use our time together to learn and grow. And we will always remember the time we spent together. We are grateful for the time we had. We will always cherish the memories we made. And we will always look back on the time we had with you with a smile. We will always remember you and the time we spent together.

“The Children”

by Marie L. D’Alesio

This semester, I have had the privilege of being a counselor to the Children’s Physical Development Clinic at BSC. The clinic, which was directed by Dr. Joseph native, offers an opportunity to students who are interested in working with special needs children to participate in a unique and challenging environment.

The environment in which the special needs children, the most I realized the profound effect that they have had on my growth. This following poem was written about the children in the clinic and I would like to dedicate it to Dr. Joseph native and all of the other counselors. I would like to say a special thanks to the parents for inspiring me to become involved in the special needs field.
