Invigorating?!

To the Editor:

In the spirit of the advance of technology, I can attest that I agree with percentages of the new ideas that have been thought up. However, I believe that you should not term a percentage of the ideas "invigorating" to those who have been raped.

Women have finally succeded in convincing the populace that rape is a crime and not an act of love. Women have finally succeded in convincing the populace that rape is a crime and not an act of love. To some men rape is invigorating; to others, it is degrading.

To some men rape is invigorating; to others, it is degrading. I find the action of "invigorating" to be an act of love.

Imaginary Dreams

It is, in fact, the last week of the semester, the most visible mark of this particular period's historical desolation. "The Arts" in some nosily modern schools is a byword for a musical instead of a musical. It is not a surprise to note that the arts of the past are not the arts we love today. They are, after all, the arts we love today, and the arts of the past are the arts we love today.

A Lot of Responsibility

By: Pat Fico

The new SGA court had an informal meeting on Thursday, September 27th. It was a good example of how student government works. Members of the court are Brian Cotter, Sharon KENNEDY, John O'Day, Sandy Feldman, and Karen Peterson. At the meeting, the court discussed the rules for entering contests and selecting judges. Members also discussed whether or not the court should have a budget.

Revolutionary Vitamins

Following are excerpts of a town meeting at the Beatrix Tea Party in 1774 at the time when the colonists were protesting the Stamp Act and the number of their grievances.

Selections from Jeff Feingold, who was drowned at the age of 17. His parents strongly urged him to make a cash donation to the Student Court. This year, the court members have decided to set aside a portion of the funds raised to support the Student Court.

Rat Policy Changes

Due to the problems caused by our predecessors, we have had a very difficult time instructing halls to distribute huge amounts of SGA materials. But the strategy to give back on a TRIAL BASIS has made a very significant change in the number of complaints we receive. In the past, there was no student Court. During this time and whenever there were no complaints, the students conducted their own affairs. Because of these gaps, the Student Court has decided to implement a new policy.

The court will now be allowed to look into the complaints and determine the actions that need to be taken. This new policy will be in effect for the next four weeks, and then the court will be able to increase the number of complaints.

The court is looking to improve the services it provides to students. We plan to establish a new policy of looking into the complaints and determining the actions that need to be taken. This new policy will be in effect for the next four weeks, and then the court will be able to increase the number of complaints.

A Lot of Responsibility

By Pat Clark

The new SGA court had its preliminary meeting on Tuesday, 12:00 noon, in person. A section of the meeting was dedicated to the formalization of the court's role in the operation of the Student Union. It was decided that the SGA court will be responsible for overseeing the operation of the Student Union, including the management of the Student Union's finances.

The meeting also included the presentation of three new bills to the court. One bill proposed to increase the Student Union's budget by 50%, another bill sought to introduce a new fee for Student Union events, and the third bill asked for the creation of a new position within the Student Union to manage the union's social media accounts.

The court also discussed the possibility of establishing a new policy to govern the use of the Student Union's facilities by student organizations. It was decided that the policy should be submitted for review by the Student Union's board of directors.

Seniors

Due to the problems caused by our predecessors, we have had a very difficult time in securing halls in which to hold our COUNTDOWN PARTIES. Square Acres, for example, has been on trial basis and will have to be called a night if we don't get back in on a TRIAL BASIS. If any damage is done, the SGA court will be held responsible.

Having many this year, this notice is also for underclassmen. More than ever, you need to plan for next year.
