Nader Speaks at BSC

by Doug Schorr

Ralph Nader appeared in the Student Union Ballroom on November 28th, to over 500 people.

Nader began his lecture by saying that the public is not well informed about the business world. He stated that the General Motors Corporation makes $13 million an hour, and he pointed out that the public has not been well informed about this.

Some of his recommendations have been generally supported, such as mandatory seat belts and expanded recall procedures. However, the public has not been well informed about the need for more consumer protection laws.

Nader also spoke about food, in general, and supermarkets in particular. He said that many supermarkets have been found to be shortchanging the consumer by understating weight and grossing up

The Imperial Majesty, the Shah of Shahs, Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, has been in New York for the past six months. In Tehran, America's hostages are held at the US embassy, awaiting the return of Bush to Washington, the midnight of a month as the final deadline for negotiations.

The Shah has always given the impression that the hostage crisis has been engineered by the Western world. To date, he has not been able to change the status of the hostages.

The Shah is the king of the West and the only person who has ever been able to welcome him to the White House. He has been welcomed by many presidents, and his speeches have been well received.

The Shah is a master of public relations. He has been able to maintain his popularity, even in the face of criticism.

Nader returned to the subject of automobiles and talked about the attitude of auto manufacturers and dealers towards the consumer. Ralph Nader stated that the cost of gas and oil has increased, but the attitude of the automobile

The suicide rate in the United States is increasing. In the college age group between 15 and 24, suicide is now the second most common cause of death. There is a definite need in this group for a suicide counseling organization.

There is a need for such an organization, but there is also a need for more research in the area of suicide. There is a definite need in this group for a suicide counseling organization.

by Per Randolf-Gomez

What is a college? A college is a place where those who have the knowledge to pass it on to others will do so. It is a place where knowledge is built upon knowledge. It is a place where the world is challenged, and new ideas are explored. It is a place where the students will have the opportunity to present their ideas to the professor and to the students.

There is a definite need in this group for a suicide counseling organization. There is a need for research and scholarship among college students, and there is a need for the cooperation of the Colleges in the United States.

Well, Thanksgiving has passed and in it, Christmas decorations are appearing in the store. So it is time to remind the Christmas shoppers of the importance of the Store of Tomorrow. As we all know, Christmas shopping is a very important part of the holiday season.

The holiday season is a time of giving, and the Store of Tomorrow is a place where we can give back to the community. The Store of Tomorrow is a place where we can support local businesses and help them succeed.

The Store of Tomorrow is a place where we can find unique and affordable gifts for everyone on our list. It is a place where we can find the perfect present for our loved ones, and it is a place where we can support the local economy.

So, let us all remember the importance of the Store of Tomorrow and support it this holiday season. Let us all give back to the community and help it succeed.

Thank you.
I wish they had a schedule of tutorial sessions. The Writing Center hours for the Fall semester are:

For the convenience of students, a notice is attached to the front door of the library indicating that the library is closed for the day. The notice is printed in large, bold letters that are easy to read from a short distance.

The library is located in the center of the campus, adjacent to the student center. The building is well-lit and has a spacious lobby area with comfortable seating.

GOOD EMPLOYMENT OUTLOOK

According to a nationwide survey of 1,800 employers conducted by the Conference Board, employment opportunities are expected to be as good or better than in the preceding year. The survey indicates that 56.4 percent of the employers plan to increase employment, while only 3.8 percent expect to decrease employment.

The Conference Board's survey, which is based on a sample of large and medium-sized businesses, suggests that the job market is improving for the remainder of 1979. Thirteen percent of respondents anticipate an increase in the number of new positions opened, and 17 percent expect to increase their workforce by more than 1 percent. The survey also indicates that 40 percent of respondents expect to increase their workforce by 1 percent or more.

The Conference Board's survey results are consistent with other economic indicators that suggest a rebound in the job market. The unemployment rate has been declining, and the number of new jobs created has been increasing. This positive trend is expected to continue into the remainder of 1979, providing good employment opportunities for those seeking work.

Also, Buckingham showed that the group could still rock with the best of them. During “The Way They Were,” the group’s new single, “Not That Funny” had Buckingham strutting and doing a heavy metal guitar climax.

Another three songs, “The Chain,” “Don’t Stop” and “Dreams,” were also played. At the end of the concert, Buckingham took a bow. He then got on bongo (the man actually left his drum kit and took center stage). “Go deflate the crickets.”

The next three songs, “Don’t Stop” and “Dreams,” highlighted “Rhiannon.” Christine McVie also showed that the group could still rock with the best of them. “Dreams” was followed by a strong “Second Hand News”. Now before you all come to the conclusion that I've got my head up my butt, I would like to express that there are only ONE比利 things I don't expect and one I can't believe. They are: 1) you, and 2) I just can't believe you." I also don't think you will ever be able to believe that I am still able to hold my tongue.

Once again, my thanks to the Bridgewater Fire Department for their fine performance during this time. And may the fine, fine game be delicious.

Bears Drop Cranberry Bowl

by Tony Costello

As it had been expected, the Massachusetts Maritime Bears defense could not allow a single point pass to the Bridgewater State Bears in the last seconds of the game. The Bears finished the season with a sixth place finish at the CA&T. The Bears, however, did allow 8-3 to the Mass. Maritime Bears in the annual Cranberry Bowl.

In reality, too.

Yes, Virginia, the unusual can occur.

On the last seconds of the Bridgewater State Bears defense did not allow a single point pass to the Bridgewater State Bears in the last seconds of the game. The Bears finished the season with a sixth place finish at the CA&T. The Bears, however, did allow 8-3 to the Mass. Maritime Bears in the annual Cranberry Bowl.

No, it can’t be! It could only have been the Bears who allowed 8-3 to the Mass. Maritime Bears in the annual Cranberry Bowl. What is even more puzzling is that despite a defensive “shutout”, the B.S.C. Bears still did not find victory as they dropped an unlikely 8-3 decision to the Mass. Maritime Buccaneers in the annual Cranberry Bowl.

In the second period the Bears were left convinced that this would not be any ordinary football game. The hitting was hard, the sky-high. Dave Lacey, Joe Vierra and emotions on both squads were chattering. The Bears down threat and took over at their own sixteen yard line. Immediately the Bears started to move as Mark MacIsaac hit receiver Jeff Finan for a hit with two long penalties and found themselves back to their own 10 yard line. On fourth down the Bears were forced to punt. Standing in his punt end-zone punter Dave Hickey could only watch helplessly as the snap sailed high overhead and into the end-zone for a safety! So at 8:31 the Buccaneers took a 2-0 lead.

On the ensuing kick, B.S.C. faked the punt as John Hooper ran to the M.M.A. 42. A MacIsaac to Ron McCarthy completion and a fine run by Al Colarusso gave the Buccaneers the first down at the M.M.A. 50. A MacIsaac run and a low snap on a field goal attempt left the Bears empty-handed.

In the first period of the game, the Bears had the opportunity to score three goals but failed to convert. In the last seconds of the first period the Bears had a chance to score but failed to convert.

In the final minute of the first half the Bears faked the punt and scored a second goal of the season on a 20 yard penalty shot. The two point conversion failed and Maritime led 8-3 at the half.

Hockey team is off and flying and jumped out to an early lead and their first three contests.

In the season opener, the Bears never looked back as they defeated Connecticut State 10-2. After winning their first two games, Fitchburg State and Keene State did win in overtime. Recently, the Bears were defeated by New Hampshire State 3-2. The B.S.C. lost number two to number four but their fifth game was a victory over number three. The Bears lost to Keene State 6-1, but followed up with a 5-2 win over Fitchburg State. The overall record is 7-4, Bears. B.S.C. won the regular season title in 1978-79.

In the season opener, B.S.C. got on the board first, scoring two goals to lead the Bears the frosh line of Bryan Jaeger. Paul that they would be a physical, hard-hitting team as B.S.C. spent twelve minutes keeping Framingham at bay. In the second period the game was all but over as B.S.C. took the lead for good on Jim Boduch's superb goaltending as the puck out of their own zone, but the Bears had a 3-1 lead in the final moments. The Bears responded only 33 seconds later, for a 4-1 lead. The Bears didn't let up, even when it came in the third period, and made the 5-2 score stand.

Bridgewater scored two quick goals by Deb McCallion and Tracy Lee. Those goals were scored on corners. On both incidents, Paula Jackson, who neatly stopped the ball with her hand right in front of the net. The Bears could have scored more, but they just couldn't get the ball in the net. The Bears didn't let up, even when it came in the third period, and made the 5-2 score stand.

In the second period the Bears had opportunities but were stopped on several occasions. B.S.C. attacked the net with everything from the corner to the power play to a breakaway, but they couldn't get the puck in the net. Finally, the Bears scored on a power play, when Deb McCallion scored on a second chance shot to make the score 5-3.

Nader Speaks at BSC

by Douglas Scher

Ralph Nader appeared in the Student Union Ballroom on November 19 to talk about his new book, "Ralph Nader Speaks at BSC." Nader began his talk by acknowledging that his book was dedicated to the students of Bridgewater State College, "for keeping the politicians honest." Nader also spoke about food in general, and supermarkets in particular. He said that many supermarkets had adopted a policy of "sale" on their merchandise, and that this policy was a way to keep prices high. Nader also talked about the negative impact of the automobile on the environment, and he argued that we need to find new ways to use our transportation systems.

A Look at the Shah

by Bill Beal

In Tanzania, America's hostages are held at the US embassy, and the return of Daniel Patrick Moynihan to Washington, the musing of an Iranian columnist about the Shah's resume, and the machine-gun shots heard last night are all in the headlines. And all this is because of the Iran-Iranian crisis.

A college is a place where ideas are exchanged, and where new knowledge is created. It is a place where students can develop their skills and their abilities. It is a place where students can learn about the world and about themselves.

Samaritans Offer Help

by Susan Hail

The suicide rate in the United States is increasing. In the college cycle between 15 and 25, suicide accounts for the second leading cause of death. There is a definite need in this country for better suicide-prevention programs. Many young people who are in despair cannot see reason and talk about what is troubling them. The Samaritans is a nonprofit organization whose service is based on the befriending of troubled people. It is an organization that was started in London in 1852 and is now an international service. The Samaritans has contacts in the United States and in various other countries around the world. It is a service that can be used by anyone who is feeling down or who is feeling that they are not able to cope with their problems.
