Canada Inspires Interest

by Professor Harold Babin

When Canadian embassies in the United States opened in the 19th century by spurring out the country from American embassies personnel from under the masses of British officials, the United States was forced to concede that Canada was more than moose, snow, hockey, passive political, and brave people in the west and the beak of the United States. Mary, Canada, have been accorded in the past. An American has been pouring from Canada, making those who want to see the United States know the existence of a so-called "Canadian miracle," and should remember that the nation's role in the world is not a mere diplomatic position.

‘Senseless’ Act

Dear Editor,

I am a member of the S.O.A. group at my school. My personal concern is this: with the arrival of the new President of Canada, I feel that he will be a very important part of our lives. I want to express my own feelings about the new President.

I am against the new President. I believe that he is a dangerous man for our country.

Sincerely,

It is an irony proper for many college students the same with the Presidential Forum on March 1 is that the year that these students are learning to vote is the year that they have to decide on who their candidate of choice. They too must choose which one they consider, for the sake of the country and the world itself.

Voting is a right. It is a privilege which comes many responsibilities. Many people believe that we have the right to vote. Yes, we do. But our responsibilities also come with this right. Staying informed is one thing, understanding who is at the top of your list is another. Knowing that they are out there planning their future while you are out spending your education is a whole lot different. There is a whole host of problems that are happening around the world, and this country as a whole. It is the combined effort of a people as a nation, that improvements, new ideas, and changes both good and bad, come into our world.

It is important that we learn to make informed decisions. It is important that we learn to decide whether to vote or not to vote. We need to choose who we are going to vote for. We need to decide what the right thing to do is. This is the decision you are about to make. You must exercise your own knowledge and apply principles of a political candidate who speaks well. The major task of the voter is to do a job to inform himself, and then the voter must choose by his election the right candidate for the office he will hold.

Today, we cannot afford to pass up a single opportunity. We are speaking about the situation of the candidate of these times. We are speaking about the responsibility of the people of today who are going to vote. We must do our part to help to prepare for the future.

"Dear Editor,

In this letter I am addressing the issue of the S.A.G.A. and the presidential election. I am very disappointed with the way the S.A.G.A. has handled the election process. The students in the S.A.G.A. have not shown any leadership in the election process.

As we are nearing the end of the semester, I would like to explain why I am writing this letter. The S.A.G.A. has not given the students a fair choice of candidates. The candidates that are running for office do not represent the students. The S.A.G.A. has not given the students a way to express their opinions.

This week, let’s take a look at the bands that helped change the sound of music in this country. John Lennon is often remembered for his music, but he was also a man who changed the way people thought about the world. By using his music to speak out against war and racism, he showed that music could be a powerful tool for change. He wanted to use his music to make a difference in the world, and he succeeded.

LITTLE RICHARD—ruling the world how beautiful he was, this self-proclaimed “King of Rock & Roll,” Done Good Billy Idol,” he has his own turn back again Chicago.

MEL TILTON—his band included Muddy Waters, Otis Redding, and Howlin’ Wolf. They were the “Godfathers of Chicago Blues.”

BETTE MIDLER—when Bette’s on stage, anything is possible. Her stage acts have included trashy language, erotic dancing and costumes that lose their tops.

JANIS JOPLIN—this girl from Texas helped reinterprete the concept of the female vocalist. With the actions and the clothes of Janis Joplin, it was possible to express oneself in a way that was previously unseen.

JERRY LEE LEWIS—possibly the most exciting performer next to Elvis. This early rock star created a furor when, at the age of 22, he married his 13 year old cousin.

Petty Arguing

Dear Editor,

After having attended classes and participating in social activities such as the SGA, I have come to realize that the political environment is often confusing and frustrating. I was particularly intrigued by the recent debate between Senator Kennedy and Senator Carter, and I would like to express my own views on the matter.

Senator Kennedy's approach to the campaign seems more focused on issues and ideas, while Senator Carter's emphasis is more on personality. However, Senator Kennedy's stance on issues is often more radical, which could be a concern for some voters. Senator Carter, on the other hand, seems to have a more moderate stance on issues, which could be more appealing to a wider range of voters.

As for the candidates themselves, Senator Kennedy's charisma and energy are undeniable, and his ability to connect with voters is impressive. Senator Carter, while not as charismatic, has a certain appeal due to his personality and likability.

Overall, I believe that Senator Kennedy has a strong chance of winning the nomination, but it will be a close race. The outcome will depend on how each candidate can mobilize their base and appeal to undecided voters.

possible Impairment 'Unjust'

Dear Editor,

As a student representative, I have noticed an increase in the number of accidents involving students on campus. One of the primary causes is the use of the dial "911" service for non-emergencies. This practice is not only dangerous, but it also wastes valuable resources.

The "911" system is designed for emergencies only, and it should not be used for other purposes. Students should be encouraged to use alternative methods to report non-emergency situations, such as calling the student affairs office or the campus police.

I believe that the use of the dial "911" service for non-emergencies is a matter of public safety and should be addressed by the university administration.

Sincerely,

Dear Editor,

After having been appointed as a president of SGA, I have received many official and student responses about the presidency. One of the most common questions I receive is why I accepted the position. I have been asked this question on numerous occasions, and I want to address it here. I have been told by many people, including faculty and students, that the presidency is a difficult and challenging role. I have also been told that the presidency is a position that requires a lot of time and effort. However, I have decided to accept the presidency because I strongly believe that the presidency is an important position in our college. The BSC Bears overcome early foul trouble, a nagging 50.0 U.M.P.D. average and playing in a tough rhythm to claim a 70-69 victory over the Cornhuskers.

The BSC men's basketball team faces the University of Nebraska on Feb. 22, 1980, in Lincoln. The game is a crucial one for both teams as the Huskers are currently ranked 18th in the nation, while the Bears are sitting at 22. A win for either team would greatly improve their chances of making the NCAA tournament.

Despite their recent struggles, the Bears are not counting themselves out of the tournament. "We're not done yet," said head coach John Gendreau. "We still have four games left and anything can happen in college basketball.

The team has been working on its defense, which has been a problem in recent games. They hope to shut down the Huskers' high-scoring offense and come away with a much-needed victory.

"We need to step up our defense and limit their scoring opportunities," said senior guard Mike Robinson. "We can't give up easy baskets on the other end.

The Hershel was quiet in the early going, but came to life late in the game, scoring 16 points in the final six minutes. The Bears will be hoping for a similar performance from their star player.

The game is set for a 7:00 PM start and will be broadcast live on ESPN. Fans are encouraged to come out and support the Bears as they take on their fierce rivals.

The BSC Bears overcome early tide troubles, a nagging S.M.U. defense, and a poor shooting night to earn their second straight 83-66 victory over the Bears.

The contest was a hard-fought battle between two conference rivals. S.M.U., led by their star forward, managed to hold the Bears to a low 39% shooting percentage. However, the Bears, led by their experienced guards, were able to find the basket frequently, shooting at a solid 52% clip.

In the second half, both teams came out firing on all cylinders. The Bears, led by their veteran forwards, outscored S.M.U. 49-23 in the second half. Three minutes into the half, S.M.U. was still down by 4 points, but the Bears quickly pulled away and were able to maintain their lead throughout the rest of the game.

The Bears' win improves their conference record to 12-2, while S.M.U. falls to 9-5. The Bears will look to continue their winning streak as they prepare to host their next conference game this Saturday.
