Hill Undergoes Changes

by David Bobbeldag

An unusually high dropout rate and a search for a new president to revitalize the atmosphere prompted major structural changes at the Great Hill community this year. Along with new and more tightly focused programs, the Hill residence halls have become a more open space for the students. No longer is the dormitory a place for the students, but rather a complete classroom and even a recreational facility in order to provide a more natural surrounding.
