Letters To The Editor

Dear Mr. Prince,

I appreciate your concern regarding the issue of humor and its role in society. However, I believe that humor is a powerful tool that can be used to address serious issues and promote positive change.

Sincerely,

By Jim Nyman

Rebuttal to March 31 Commentary

As a member of the club who have been discussing this issue, I would like to respond to Mr. Nyman's comments. Firstly, I would like to clarify that the club is not a monolithic entity and that there are diverse opinions within its ranks. I would also like to point out that Mr. Nyman's interpretation of our discussions is inaccurate.

Sincerely,

Rebuttal to March 31 Commentary

By Jim Nymen

The article on the BSC Aviation Program Trouble has many inaccuracies and outright lies.

The article was rife with false statements and had very little constructiveness, as did the previous one. There is no evidence that the author made any suggestions, and in fact, none were made.

BSC should own up to their mistakes and give the best service at the lowest possible cost. It is possible that BSC has not been reasonably priced and therefore cannot be trusted.

The article also criticized the student body for its insularity and rubber stamping. It is not surprising that students have approached these problems with a lack of leadership. Since then, BSC may have given in to 40,000 student members at eleven campuses in Massachusetts, and the largest and most effective public interest group in the state.

Once the petition drive is completed and a majority of students vote in favor of guaranteed free speech, the groundwork for establishing and funding BSC PIRG will be laid. A tax of $0.00 for PIRG will be levied on all students. Most student body officers, who are paid by the students, will not be able to pay. To do this, every student PIRG committee in the state should organize to gather support for student tax and the student meals tax.

The above information is an excerpt from the audition sheet for the play, EQUUS.

The question, "How do you feel the nudity in EQUUS plays an important part in the production?" was asked to each potential cast member during auditions for the production of EQUUS. (The above questions were asked on April 24-26 and May 5-6, in the SU Auditorium.) What is different, however, are the questions regarding the actor willing to perform nude on stage. Many rumors and questions are buzzing about in the campus as to whether director Dr. Stephen Levine will decide to keep the nudity in EQUUS.

Friday night (April 25 in SU Auditorium.) A group of actors and actresses gathered early to await the results of the auditions for the play, EQUUS. The above information is an excerpt from the audition sheet for the play, EQUUS.

For the first time in 75 years, Peter Shaffer in 1973 heard from a friend that a high school in England who had a great school choir only asked the students if they wanted to imagine to create EQUUS. The show is about an around a stable boy in England who was crippled from birth only then asked the school choir if they wanted to imagine to create EQUUS. The plan is to ask the cast to study between a director and his patient trying to decipher this world the director is attempting to present. An EQUUS opened in Repertory at the National Theatre in London on Tuesday, April 24, 1973. The theatre is a small theater that must be removed on Wednesday, April 25, 1973. The first performance of EQUUS in 1973 was intended by the author of the show, Shaffer, to be the Tony Award for Best Play. It is now at Bridgewater State College.

At the time of the show, Shaffer managed to be in the local area before performance. Both productions contain nudity, but as it was previously intended by the author of EQUUS, which was intended only then asked the students if they wanted to imagine to create EQUUS. The week of April 10-16 has been declared as Bridgeport's Jobs Week by the Town Selectmen of Bridgeport. Governor Mandell was also announced this week as a representative of the Jobs With Peace program. The program is being sponsored by the Town Selectmen of Bridgeport.

In New Haven, the Women's Center is currently offering a series of workshops on job searching. The workshops, which are led by professional career counselors, cover topics such as resume writing and interview skills.

In southern Connecticut, the Norwalk Community College is offering a course on military history and the impact on the local economy. The course is taught by Professor Thomas Riddell and is open to the public.

The First National Women's Trade Union Convention was held in Washington, D.C., in 1912 and later the convention moved to New York City. The First National Women's Trade Union Convention was a significant event in the history of women's rights, as it brought together trade unionists from across the country to discuss issues related to women in the workforce.

The course schedules (horizons) are due to be available on or about April 10. The program will begin April 11. Students will be notified of the time and place of their classes by their respective professors. The program will run through May 26.

The course will cover a wide range of topics,
including the history of the American labor movement,
the role of women in the workforce, and the impact of industrialization on the economy.

The Women's Center is the home of President
Gilman and the Women's Center is the official source of information on women in the workforce.

The course will be taught by Professor
Thomas Riddell and is open to the public.

The program will run through May 26.

In order to highlight the need for women's rights, the program will feature a series of guest speakers, including Professor Thomas Riddell and Professor John Williams.

The program will be held on the campus of the Connecticut College of Women, located at 1660 Eliot Street
in New Haven.

The program will run from April 10 to May 26.

In order to register for the program,
students should contact the Women's

Samaritans at BSC

By Liz Cornell
The Women’s Center is very happy to announce the return of the Samaritans to Bridgegate State College. They will be presenting a film and luncheon on Saturday, April 16, beginning at 11:00 a.m., in the Masssoc Library Lecture Hall. The seminar is open to all free of charge.

Samaritans is a group that may not touch our daily lives but certainly does for some. The purpose of the Samaritans is to eliminate suicide in the community. The group is made of 9 volunteers who are often given out by one volunteer who is talking about the group and what we can do to help that person understand that this is not a state of desperation there is help out there for you what we can do to prevent it.

The Women’s Center is also sponsoring a clothing drive for nearby women’s shelters. If you have any clothes hanging around, not being used, please bring them to mind. The proceeds from the sale of these items will be donated to the Women’s Center.

The last Saturday of the month is the Volunteer’s Day at the hospital. Please call 426-6666 to sign up.

Sports Bear’s Business

By Mike Storey
Bears spring sports are all in action at this time. The women baseball team has had a winning streak last season, unfortunately they lost to Central Daed and Eastern Chris on April 6, 8, and 9. They played against them again on April 12, 13, and 14. The baseball team was rapped out of their opener against B.U. on Tuesday. They play back into the swing of things this Saturday with a doubleheader at Curry.

The intramural street hockey and softball leagues got underway this week. All schedules are available in the intramural office. Hockey will be first this week.

Tickets available ($3.00) in the Art Gallery today and Thursday, April 14 at 10:30am and in 228 and 518 Shea.

Vonnegut To Speak At BSC

by Robert Flynn

Kurt Vonnegut, one of the world's most celebrated and influential authors, will address the campus audience this Thursday evening in the S.C. Union Ballroom.

Vonnegut's latest novel, "Slaughterhouse-Five," has been a bestseller and has been adapted into a popular film. His works have been widely praised for their unique perspectives on war, love, and human nature.

The S.G.A. wishes to extend its warmest welcome to Mr. Vonnegut and to all those who will attend this special event.

Aviation Head Claims "Outside Agency" Instigated Controversy

By Robert Flynn and Brett Berntsen

An "outside agency" was behind a recent controversy over the S.C. Aviation Program, according to Professor John Deluca, Coordinator of the program.

"I believe," the professor said, "that there has been an attempt to create a rift between the students and the faculty.

The "outside agency" claims to have evidence of this, but I have not seen it.

This could be a serious problem, because it could disrupt the work of the program.

SGA hires New Lawyer

By Brett Berntsen

After a long period of legal wrangling, the S.G.A. has hired an attorney to fill the position of legal counsel for the organization.

This is a major development for the S.G.A., as it will now have an attorney to represent its interests in court.

Smokestack Ruins Cars

By Robert Flynn

Many motorists returned to their cars last night to find that they had been damaged by the recent smokestack explosion.

The damage appeared to be random, with cars being affected over a wide area. This is a concern for all drivers, as it could lead to further accidents in the future.

The S.G.A. hopes to work with the cars owners to resolve any damage claims.
