Parking Lot Expansion Approved

By Paul Fester

Commutes will have more parking spaces to choose from in the near future. The college's Board of Trustees approved $38,000 dollars at their October 12th meeting for the expansion of the Great Hill commuter parking lot, included in the budget for $3,500 dollars for lighting fixtures.

The expansion will take place at the south end of the current parking lot along the railroad tracks in a rectangular shape. The Associate Director of Planning and Development said that about 70 new parking spots, nine feet wide and 18 feet long, will be created. Design and preparation work is under way now and is being done by the college's facilities staff, added Perry. The work will be done on a day by day basis and should be completed next week. The weather conditions will be the key factor in the completion of the project under the supervision of Perry.

Construction will start on the last day of classes, which is a Tuesday or a Thursday. Perry. This is when parking in the lot is the lightest and all the costs can be paid for out of the current parking area. If everything goes smoothly, Perry said work could be finished in three or four weeks.

Alarming News at Hill

By Janet Coffey

One of the problems that students at Bridgewater State College face is the constant threat of fire. According to Fire Chief C.A. Levy of the Bridgewater Fire Department, students are responsible for many of the fire alarms that are triggered.

The fire alarm system at the Hill was installed four years ago. It is designed to alert the building if there is a fire. However, the system has been causing problems for students who live in the buildings.

The system is operated by a computer that controls all the alarms. If there is a fire alarm, the system will sound a siren and alert the building. If there is no fire, the system will sound the siren again.

The system has been causing problems for students who live in the buildings. The system is not always reliable, and students have been frustrated by the frequent false alarms.

The system is designed to protect the students and their belongings. However, the system has been causing problems for students who live in the buildings. The system is not always reliable, and students have been frustrated by the frequent false alarms.

In the future, the system will be improved to reduce the number of false alarms.

Yes, It's Still 20

On Wednesday, October 12th, the Massachusetts Senate overwhelmingly rejected the proposed bill to raise the Commonwealth's drinking age from 21 to 20 by a vote of 7 to 27.

On Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, hundreds of students from colleges and universities around the state were affected by the bill. The students were protesting the decision to raise the drinking age from 21 to 20.

The bill was introduced by the Massachusetts Senate and was passed by a vote of 7 to 27. However, the bill was rejected by the Massachusetts Senate on Wednesday.

The bill would have allowed students who are 20 years old or older to drink alcohol in public places in the state. However, the bill was rejected by the Massachusetts Senate on Wednesday.

The students were protesting the decision to raise the drinking age from 21 to 20. They were concerned that the decision would lead to an increase in alcohol-related accidents and crimes.

Dear Editor,
I was more than pleased to see the cover story on Buck A Tuck (under the Habitat headline) last week's Comment. I found the story of how the club is combating the degrading and embarrassing Conduct Code (any female in her first year of college is a single woman, not a girl as the author implies) to be a welcome relief. I believe the act is exhibitionism.

The image of the woman as an 'other' and a 'thing' is displayed on little boys who need to be taught a lesson. The stereotypes so deeply ingrained in them are the product of a society that regards women as sexual objects, as mere possessions of their male counterparts.

Beyond that, however, I am also concerned about the possibility that there are few exits which look at the college as a whole and not at a reality clouded by individualistic gandas. It is difficult for one to separate the image of the woman as 'mother' and the men as 'children' that is perpetuated in our society. Mothers are not, as the book suggests, the same as their children. Webster's Thesaurus defines 'mother' as: 'a woman having the responsibility, care, and companionship of rearing children.'

Another, on the other hand, is the possibility that the authorities are trying to control the enterprise of the BSC and its Buck-A-Tuck. To me, the enterprise of the BSC and its Buck-A-Tuck seems to involve more than just the entertainment of the male customers.

I urge you to call her [Ms. Scroggs] and to explain to her the situation that has been misrepresented in this article. It is not true that Ms. Scroggs' letter responded to an article that would but would have made a definite and objective statement.

I urge you to consider this situation in light of the recent developments in the area of women's rights, the world of work, and career implementation.

Sincerely yours,
[Curtis Kelly]

"A Pat on the Back"

Dear Editor,
I am writing in regards to the upcoming Homecoming weekend. I want to emphasize the importance of effort into the planning and actual implementation of all events. Just as you do, I know that you appreciate even a little bit of planning that goes into the execution of these events. I am writing this letter to bring to your attention the need for more students to get involved.

I believe that the students who put in the time and effort into planning and executing these events are the ones who truly benefit. They get to see the fruits of their labor and feel a sense of accomplishment. These events also provide opportunities for students to develop leadership skills and gain valuable experience.

I urge you to consider the impact that these events have on the college community. They are a reflection of the efforts of everyone involved, and it is important that we recognize and appreciate those efforts.

Sincerely yours,
[Curtis Kelly]

"Pat on the Back"

Dear Mr. Linehan,
I am writing to congratulate you for your recent article, "A Pat on the Back." Your article was well-written and informative. You are to be commended for your hard work in researching and writing up the program description. I enjoyed reading about "A Pat on the Back" and look forward to seeing the event take place.

Sincerely yours,
[Mrs. Pauline Harrington]

Learning Aids for Children

The Bridgewater Lions Club has presented the Children's Room of the Bridgewater Public Library with two learning aids developed by two math skills. "Spice & Dash" will help students build spelling skills for grades 1-3. "Spice & Math" will improve math skills for grades 1-6. These taking devices present students with various problems, activities and games that can make learning fun. They give praise when a correct answer is given and other encouragement and guidance when an answer is incorrect. Both learning aids are special Braille editions which can be read by visually impaired children and those who are blind or have low vision. They may be used in the library, or taken home.

A special Communications Kit, purchased with LSCA funds administered through the Massachusetts Board of Libraries, is also available for loan. The kit, designed by the International Association of Parents of the Deaf, includes language cards, pamphlets and instructions for the deaf, and various instruction games such as stacking toys, alphabet cards for stacking and pegs through again. All of these learning aids may be borrowed by children's collection. Come to the library and check one out!

In a landmark decision on January 22, 1973, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that women could not be discriminated against in pregnancy, the decision to have children, and health care. This decision was made to protect women and their physicians. The court ruled that a State may impose the requirement that the abortion be performed by physicians licensed in that State. In the second trimester, the court held the States may impose increasingly stringent restrictions.

Theater is a visual medium. This is an old polemic, but it’s worth repeating. A picture is worth a thousand words, which is why a few photos or graphics accompanying this column would be valuable. You might find some inspiration about the newEssence Theater production, Chicago, directed by John Kander and Ebb.

But photographs and these few words aren’t going to tell you the story behind Chicago, a satirical comedy of the same title, produced in Broadway in 1975. The original, playwritten and directed by Bob Fosse, also featured music by John Kander and Ebb. It’s a movie musical based on a story by Robert Anderson.

Now, some fifty-odd years later, the community seems to have lost none of its intrigue. It’s seen television shows and movies, and no one seems to care. The woman who is the chorus-mane- ner, who is the street-woman, who is the woman who is the city, kid, a flash-in-the-pan, who is the woman who is the city, kid, a flash-in-the-pan. Homecoming Victory for Bears

By Gregory Mathes

BRIDGEWATER-The Bridgewater State College football team thrilled an enthusiastic home crowd on Saturday, as the beat Curry College on Homecoming Day, 34-12. Winning the Homecoming game meant a lot to these players, said Bears Head Coach Peter Mazzaferro, "it was one of the few times when all of the students stay at school for homecoming events, and alot of the alumni came back too. I think this game really means alot to the seniors especially, as they never lost a game.

The Bears didn't let the 1500 plus people at Shawmut Field went away pleased with their team performance. Bridgewater was facing a tough Curry squad that featured the number one quarterback in the New England Football Conference in freshman Bob Barrett and the number one wide receiver in sophomore Mark Blau, who came into the game with 24 receptions, just two behind the second leading receiver, Steve Hughes. Defensively, the Curry Colonels led the NEFC in pass defense, but were last in rushing, therefore the Bears knew they had to run the ball. Bridgewater did this well, as they put 284 yards on the clock, and scored their second touchdown of the game, on a 70 yard run by Dave Buckley, and a Ambrose conversion to Scott Johnson set up a first and goal situation on the one yard line. Ambrose then called his number one running back and scored his first touchdown of the season. That TD came at 1:17, just 38 seconds after the first. Bridgewater wasn't through yet. On the ensuing kickoff, Curry fumbled and the Bears took over on the 15 yard line. Ambrose hit Proia for 28 yard gain, and a Ambrose conversion left the score at 14-0. Ambrose then found Tight End Proia for a 10 yard gain, and a Ambrose conversion made it 21-0. Fullback Brian Mahoney took the next kickoff off and rushed through the line for a 15 yard pick up, leaving it 1st and goal on the 2 yard line. Buckley then got the ball to start the drive, but they had a penalty that would move the ball back to the 22. The Bears were able to score on the next play and drive and scored their third touchdown of the game, on a 2 yard run by Buckley, and a Ambrose conversion to Mitchell Degere. That TD came at 11:07, just 2:48 seconds after the first. Bridgewater's potent offensive line again held tough forcing the Curry defense. The again missed a field goal attempt, thus going up 27-0. The fourth quarter opened with a big defensive stand by the Bears. To a kick off, Curry fumbled and the Bears took over on the Curry 46 yard line. Two plays later they were inside the 5 yard line, but they were unable to score, as they were facing a 2nd and 4th. Curry got the ball back and scored their second touchdown of the game, on a one yard run after a strong defensive effort by the Bears. The Bears scored 2 more touchdowns before the game was over, as Ambrose returned with just 1:20 remaining in the game for the Bears, rushing for 82 yards. Ambrose was named the most valuable player of the game for the Bears, rushing for 82 yards.

The win was a huge boost for the Bears, who were looking to improve their record. The Bears are now 3-2 on the season and are looking to improve their record further. The Bears will be looking to improve their record further in their next game, as they take on the number one team in the New England Football Conference, the number one team in the nation, and the holders of the number one team in the nation, the number one team in the nation.

Bears Business

By Mike Storey

Did everybody have a nice, relaxing Homecoming weke nd? For The Comment, we certainly did, with our bears, the Curry Colonials, dominating at the polls.

Yes, the bears earned their record at (3-1) by trouncing the Curry Colonials (34-12). The Bears capitalized on three Curry turnovers in the second quarter,取得了 an unassu mulable and completely unexpected lead. It was the bears' first one unanswered points in a mere two minutes of the first half.

After a Colonial fumble was recovered by the Bears in the Colonials' half, the Bears capitalized on a short field goal by kick specialist Joe Roulo, who was the Bears' top scorer.

The Bears continued to manhandle the Colonials during the first half, with a Bears' touchdown in the second quarter. The Bears' defense was excellent, shutting down the Colonials' running game and forcing turnovers.

Parking Lot Expansion Approved

By Paul Foster

Commuters will have more parking spaces to choose from in the near future. The college's Board of Trustees approved $38,000 dollars of their October 12 meeting for the expansion of the Great Hill commuter parking lot, included in the future. This will add $5,000 dollars for lighting fixtures. The expansion will take place at the south end of the current parking lot along the railroad tracks in a rectangular area from the Associate Director of Planning and Development said that about 100 new parking stalls, nine feet wide and 18 feet long, will be created.

BAT Buses at Bridgewater

By Joe Gouveia

Due to recent growth in the enrollment of students at Bridgewater State College the demand on the current commuter parking lot has increased. Problems concerning parking facilities and transportation have arisen. Roughly 76% of the college population are commuters or off-campus students. When you come to find where a car or a pair of jeans are to be found, you get down to the campus. Problems here have been brought to the attention of the administration.

Alarming News at Hill

By Janet Coffey

At 5:15 a.m. you're a napping student and all of a sudden the alarm goes off. You jump out of bed and salir full speed to get to class. You then run down the stairs, making your way towards the front door. Does this sound familiar? If it did, you are or have lived at Shrewsbury Hall. The first alarm situation here has been a growing concern among the student body. Having several fire alarms during a week is causing the dorm a lot of money. Two hundred dollars for each alarm. These alarms are also a threat to the safety of the town department. They could be injuries during an emergency situation instead of saving lives.

To get a better understanding of the problems concerning the fire alarm at the Hill. The Comment had the opportunity to speak with Fire Chief C.A. Levy of the Bridgewater Fire Department. The Comment that part of this problem with the fire alarm is due to the fact that students lie in the fault of the students. They are damaging the fire equipment by breaking the glass doors, and any fire alarms that were replaced this year. The Chief recommends that students keep watch and anyone who may be tampering with fire equipment.

The other side of the fire alarm department deals with the system itself. "It's a new alarm system," Chief Levy told The Comment. The system hasn't yet been approved by the state because a final inspection has not been done to see if there are any deficiencies in the system that need to be corrected. Chief Levy believes that the system is operating adequately.

Yes, It's Still 20

By Beth Ward

On Wednesday, October 26, the Massachusetts Senate overwhelmingly rejected the proposed bill to raise the Commonwealth's drinking age from 20 to 21 by a vote of 7 to 27. On Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, hundreds of students from colleges and universities around the state were "stealing" liquor in Bridgewater, reducing the overall profit by a large amount. Judging by the wide margin in the final vote defeating the measure, the likelihood of this bill being patented in legislative future sessions does not appear good.
