Study in Quebec!

Established in 1981, the exciting Quebec-New England Exchange Program is now in its third year of operation. Bridgewater State College was one of the original participating institutions, and the program is currently accepting applicants for the academic year 1984. If you are an outgoing freshman or sophomore, have a good academic record, and possess the initiative to experience a new and interesting cultural and academic life, then this program is for you. Apply immediately.

Students who choose to study in Quebec will find a diversity of life styles available to them. Quebec offers the thriving cosmopolitan city of Montreal, with its blend of cultures, the old world charm of Quebec City, the quebecois warmth and hospitality of other provincial towns. If you think you are ready for a new adventure, contact Professor John Myers, in the Canadian Studies Office, Tillinghast Hall or at extension 2288.

Application Deadline: February 15, 1984

Don't worry, Accept Another 2,000 Students... Bridgewater Sr. Admissions
Dear Miss Palmer:

Thank you very much for your letter regarding the Bridgewater State College Transit System. I appreciate your concern about the new transportation fee and would like to tell you in detail how in fact the transit service was not changed as you suggested to that "advantage of the students." The Bridgewater State College Transit System can be used to advantage by everyone who wants to use it.

The fact of the matter is that the Bridgewater State College Transit System runs between Bridgewater and Bridgewater State College during the morning and again in the late afternoon. The service between 7:00 a.m. and 7:45 a.m. will be continued to the Bridgewater State College Transit Office.

In the forthcoming weeks, there are some significant developments that will be of interest to students, faculty, and staff at Bridgewater State College.

In the past, the Comment has been unable to receive meaningful responses from the Athletic Fee Committee and the athletic department. This has been due to the lack of communication and the desire of the Athletic Fee Committee to improve services for students. In addition, the athletic department has been unable to provide the necessary funds to support the improvements.

Expressing your views is crucial in the success of the Bridgewater State College Transit System. The Comment welcomes your comments and suggestions, which will be used to improve the service.

the idea of not paying for someone else's ride is appealing.

This is a fair bill and I will tell you this: if you find it unfair, it is your responsibility to confront your peer about it. The idea of not paying for someone else's ride is appealing.

In the past, the Committee has not always had the authority to mandate action for Brooklyn students but it does seem that the school follows a trend with some of its peers. Most schools follow this trend and most students at Brooklyn have kept reading hoping to find something they like.

Chi Alpha Care

Chi Alpha wishes to welcome everyone back from Christmas break, and we would like to welcome all the new people as well by giving some information about our fellowship. Chi Alpha is an international charismatic Christian fellowship, and we meet every Thursday at 11:00 a.m. in the Plymouth County Room across from the Information Booth in the Student Union.

Chi Alpha (XA) is taken from Greek meaning ‘Alpha and Omega’, which means that we offer support and fellowship to all our brothers and sisters. We grow together, learning from each other in our pursuit of the Christian faith.

Throughout the semester we will be having many different events such as movies, fun nights, etc. You will be well informed, and we hope you will be glad at all of our events, but we hope you will not be waited for as our "Woes of the Week." We do hope to make new faces in the upcoming weeks, so please come to all of our meetings, in classes, in dorms, or just on campus. Good luck this semester, and we hope to see you all soon.

Campagne Letter

Hi! I’m Nadine Lucas. You probably remember me from when I was in your class and just recently for Attorneys. I’m running for president of Attorneys. I ran as a write-in candidate and received the most votes, a fact said to be impossible in my world. I had not been certified yet.

I think it’s a great idea if I had any questions.

S.G.A. SENATE VACANCIES

The following Senate positions are open:

Senator-at-Large

Cats, a musical revue not based on a book by T. S. Eliot's "Old Possum's Book of Practical Cats". The music by Andrew Lloyd Webber; written by Allan Ahlberg; lyrics by Tim Rice; directed by Trevor Nunn. At the Shubert Theatre, 265 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

By Matt Peter Donahoe

BOSTON - In the second act of the British-imported Broadway musical, Cats, which has begun an open-ended run at The Shubert Theatre, or seek similar.(Although this is not a traditional book-musical, rather, Eliot's poetry, Old Possum's Book of Practical Cats is used only as a vehicle for dazzling pyrotechnics.)

Toward the end of the musical, as if to justify the otherwise thin evening's fare, we're told, "You're seen enough to know that Cats are a lot like you, and you know how despairing we must have been to allow people to be made into musicals."

There is a reason to see Cats — in fact, there are two. First, the musical is thematically universal, dealing with life, death, love, heartbreak, and the fear of getting old. Second, the cast is awed.

Andrew Lloyd Webber (Jesus Christ Superstar, Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat, and Evita) has composed a score which incorporates various musical idioms — everything from Wallis and Hoffnung to Gilbert & Sullivan, and the "Grollwright's Last Testament" sequence, a tribute to the "British film language" is too depressed to date with the "golden age of American theater" — to create a pattern.

Jonathan Swift, 35 Lafayette St., 617-438-1998 — Jonathan Richman and the Modern Lovers are back! I guess this is the prediction we made about four years ago when people were playing rock and roll and being anti-television. Swift, however, was the first to point out that Swift was creating the prototype for the punk/new wave/new romantic thing that has been called everything from the Clash to the Talking Heads. As I wrote in 1978, this new sound that has now been called "punk rock" was clearly going to be a major influence on the music of the future. Swift, who has been a solo artist since 1973, has been using his own voice and image to create a fresh and original sound. Swift's music is not only innovative, but it is also a reflection of his personal experiences and struggles, which make it relatable to a wide audience. It is a testament to the power of music to transcend time and place, and to connect us all as human beings.

The Tempest, 35 Lafayette St., 617-438-1998 — The Tempest is a play by William Shakespeare, written in 1611. It is a retelling of the story of Prospero and his daughter Miranda, who are stranded on a remote island after being banished from their rightful positions by a power-hungry cousin, Caliban. The play explores themes of power, magic, and family, and is known for its music and poetic language. The Tempest has been adapted into various forms of media, including films, operas, and musicals, and it continues to be a popular choice for productions in theaters today. Whether you are a Shakespeare enthusiast or a newcomer to his works, The Tempest is a must-see production that is sure to leave youtransported.

Sudden Impact — Clint Eastwood has brought to the screen the character of Detective "Dirty Harry" Callahan, from his full-length film, "The Enforcer." The film is set in San Francisco, and the main character is a detective who is determined to catch the serial killer that has been terrorizing the city. The film is a thriller, and the audience is kept on the edge of their seats throughout the entire movie. Eastwood's performance is outstanding, and he manages to keep the audience guessing until the very end. "Sudden Impact" is a must-see for fans of the "Dirty Harry" series, and for anyone who enjoys a good mystery and suspense thriller. For those who missed the previous film, "The Enforcer," it is a great starting point to begin the series, and for those who have already seen it, "Sudden Impact" is a welcome addition to the series.

B.S.C. Children's Theatre — The Children's Theatre, directed by Mark Pimentel, is located in Boston's Back Bay. The theater is housed in the historic Seamen's Church Institute, which was built in 1872. The Children's Theatre produces a variety of plays, including classics, contemporary works, and original productions. The theater is dedicated to providing young audiences with high-quality, professional productions that are both entertaining and educational. The Children's Theatre is committed to creating a welcoming and inclusive environment for all children, and it offers a range of programs and activities to help foster a love of reading, writing, and performing. Whether you are a parent, educator, or simply a lover of theater, the Children's Theatre is a must-see destination for anyone looking for a truly exceptional theatrical experience.
Jonathan Smith, 30 Lafayette St., 867-8875 - Jonathan Richmond and the Modern Men are here to tell us. The group has been together for years but has only played a few gigs. They are inspired by the music of the 1960s and 1970s, and their sound is a mix of rock and roll with some folk influences. They have a strong following at local clubs and are building a reputation as a live act.

SGA Profile of the Week

Father Joe: BSC’s Man of Peace

By Bill Mage

I had never before heard of Bridgewater, were the words of Father Joseph McCarthy, O.S.B., as he addressed the assembly in the Catholic Center yesterday. Father Joe, as he is best known, has been a part of the Bridgewater campus for more than 30 years. It is surprising that he has not been more of a presence on the campus in Cambridge and Boston. He is known to be a quiet, unassuming man, and he didn’t show himself yesterday.

Father Joe, said, “I was here. It is my gift to Bridgewater, and for the last three years, I have been here in the position of a retreat director. I have had the opportunity to meet a lot of people, and I have made a lot of friends.”

He went on to say that he was the retreat director for the last three years, and he has been very active in the Catholic Center. He has taught many courses in the Center, and he has been very successful in his work.

Postcards to Reagan

A group called “Citizens Against Nuclear Arms” based in North Branch, N.J. is organizing a nationwide postcard blitz to the White House. The group is asking people to write to President Reagan to show their opposition to the nuclear weapons, and to express their desire for peace.

The group believes that the nuclear arms race is a major threat to world peace, and that the United States should work for a world without nuclear weapons. They are asking people to write to the White House to express their support for this goal.

The library is now offering a special event, “A Special Evening with Professor Francis Beary.”

Dr. Beary is a noted authority on the history of the American Revolution, and he will be discussing the importance of the Revolutionary War to the United States.

Professor Beary will talk and sing at the regular meeting of the BSC. He will discuss the importance of the Revolutionary War to the United States, and he will also talk about the dangers that are facing our country today.

The program is open to all members of the BSC, and it is free of charge. It will be held in Room L-11.

Airplane Rides

Flying with SGA, a student organization, you can ride an airplane over Bridgewater campus and Collegiate Village for a nominal fee.

SGA is offering a unique opportunity for students to fly in an airplane over the campus. The flights will be offered on a first-come, first-served basis, and there is a limited number of seats available.

For $35, you can take a twenty-minute flight over the campus. The flight will be offered on Wednesday, March 1, at 11:00 a.m.

To reserve your seat, please contact Mr. John Smith at SGA headquarters.

Postcards to Reagan

A group called "Citizens Against Nuclear Arms" based in North Branch, N.J. is organizing a nationwide postcard blitz to the White House. The group is asking people to make a personal commitment to write a postcard to Reagan once a week for one year. The cost of a postcard is one cent, or a total of $35 for one year. Postcards will be delivered to the White House and are intended to be delivered in the first year of Reagan's term in office.

Pete Seeger to perform in Boston

Pete Seeger, folk singer,充电 millions of Americans with "The Battle of New Hampshire," will perform in Boston on November 6. Seeger's performance will be part of a nationwide tour of the United States. The tour is being sponsored by the "Citizens Against Nuclear Arms" organization.

Tax Forms

Come to the Bridgewater State Library for your federal tax forms! The Internal Revenue Service has provided the following information for distribution to the public: in the past, there has been a $5 fee for reproducing tax forms on the library's photocopier machine at 10 a.m. per page, several cases concern the availability of tax forms and how to obtain them.

Fairs for the evening

The Children's Literature Fair will be held on November 15, 1984, from 6 to 9 p.m. at the Bridgewater State College. The fair is open to the public and all persons interested in children's literature are invited to attend.

Interview with former News Director Larry Richardson

By Kevin Roberts

This past semester (Fall 1983) the Bridgewater State College radio station WBIM FM 91 has been plagued with problems and conflicting interests. Dr. Richard Veno is the current General Manager and Director of the Student Union. Various actions were taken in an attempt to correct these problems.

After becoming News Director in May of 1983, sophomore Larry Richardson replaced the previous personnel responsible for the station. Richardson, who was a sophomore at Bridgewater College and is now associate professor at the University of Southern California, pursued a career in broadcast journalism, primarily in television.

While leaving WBIM, Larry Richardson spoke openly and candidly to the Comment about his experiences at WBIM and his future plans.

What were your objectives while you were a News Director?

"During my first year at WBIM I increased a lot of important things. I tried to get a better understanding of what was going on at the station. I also tried to bring in new ideas and improve the quality of the station."

What was your greatest problem as News Director?

"It was difficult to make the right decisions because I was inexperienced. I also had to deal with a lot of political issues, which I found very challenging."

How did you deal with these problems?

"I tried to communicate effectively with the station's staff and the station's parents. I also tried to involve the students in the decision-making process."

What do you think the station needs to improve?

"The station needs more diversity in programming and more involvement from the students. It also needs to improve its financial management."

What does the future hold for WBIM?

"I think the station will continue to grow and become more successful. It has a great potential for growth and development."

Additional comments:

"I want to thank all the students who worked at WBIM during my tenure. I also want to thank the station's parents for their support."

Additional Information:

- Larry Richardson states another reason for his departure was that he felt the station needed more diversity in programming and more involvement from the students.
- The station needs to improve its financial management.
- The station's future is看好 and has potential for growth and development.

Interview with News Director Larry Richardson

By Ken Roberts

This past semester (fall '83) the Bridgewater State College radio station within FM 91 has been plagued with problems and controversy. The station, which at one time was a valuable learning tool for students and faculty, is now in a state of disarray. The problems include lack of funding, management, and equipment. The station's new head, Larry Richardson, has been trying to turn the station around.

Richardson is a native of Southern California. He went to U.C.S.C. and was a major in Communications. After graduating, he went to work for NBC. Richardson states that the old equipment had been ripped out over the summer fall term and the new equipment was to be produced, but due to delays the equipment was not be ready in January when the station was suppose to begin its fall semester.

Richardson believes that the radio station is not being used to its full potential. He feels that the station is a valuable learning tool, and that the students who remain are very strong people. However, he feels that the station is not being used to its full potential.

Bears Business

By Mike Storey

Back for another semester, the UMass-Boston Bears are ready to hit the court once again. This time, they are looking to build off their past season's success.

The Bears have been working hard throughout the summer, preparing for the upcoming season. With a new coach at the helm, the team is ready to take on the competition.

The Bears are scheduled to play their first game on September 28th against the Hillsdale Chargers. This game will be an excellent opportunity for the team to showcase their skills and build confidence.

Overall, the Bears are looking forward to a successful season. With a strong roster and a committed coaching staff, they are ready to take on the challenge of the upcoming season.

LA Raiders Skins 38-9

By Douglas Benson

Washington was King of the Hill until the Catalina Bears last week. But the Bears still have a shot in the third game of CFC and ECC play which only took one day out of the eighteen Super Bowl Down in Tampa Bay, Florida.

In getting here, Washington damaged half of L.A. by beating the Rams 41-17 and then just barely surviving the Saints 30-24 in the eighth game.

In the future, the Bears will be looking for ways to improve and build on their success.

BSC Drowns SMU

By Douglas Benson

The BSC Men's swimming team defeated SMU to claim the overall championship in the annual meet. The Bears took home the overall championship in the meet.

In the meet, the Bears took home the title with 187 points, while SMU finished second with 112 points. The Bears had a strong showing in the diving competition, with two athletes finishing in the top three.

The meet featured a range of events, with the Bears taking home the overall championship in both the 100 backstroke and 200 breaststroke.

Second Annual Ladies Night

By John Marcoline

The Bridgewater State College women's basketball team is hosting a Second Annual Ladies Night to support the team's fundraising efforts.

The event will take place on November 14th, with games starting at 6:00 p.m. The team will be featuring a variety of games, including basketball, frisbee, and volleyball.

Tickets for the event are $5 per person, and all proceeds will go towards the team's scholarship fund. There will be a cash bar available for those 21 and over.

The team is looking forward to seeing all of their supporters come out to support the team and have a fun night together.

Hoop Dynasty at Bridgewater

By Douglas Benson

Bridgewater State College is back in the spotlight. The Bears' basketball team has made their mark, as they continue their winning streak.

In the latest game, the Bears faced off against a tough opponent. Despite some initial struggles, the team managed to pull ahead, showcasing their skills on the court.

The success of the Bears is not a surprise to those who follow college basketball closely. The team has a strong history of success, and it seems that they are only getting stronger.

While the game was competitive, the Bears emerged victorious, demonstrating their ability to maintain a high level of play throughout the game.

Pieces Missing in B-Ball Puzzle

By Douglas Benson

Basketball is a game of pieces. Missing a few pieces can throw off the entire puzzle. This game is no different.

The Bears' basketball team is facing a few challenges this season. Despite their successes, they are missing some key pieces that could elevate them to the top of their conference.

The good news is that the team is aware of these gaps and is working hard to fill them. They have identified areas where they need improvement and are actively seeking solutions.

As the season progresses, the Bears' ability to adapt and adjust will be crucial. They need to find a way to bring in the right pieces to make their puzzle complete.

The team's success depends on their ability to fill these gaps and create a cohesive, well-rounded unit. It won't be easy, but it's certainly possible with hard work and dedication.

BSC Drowns SMU

The B.S.C. Men's swimming teams determined Saturday at the New England Championships at R.I. College in a pools meet at the University of Rhode Island. They came out strong with a 150-120 victory. The Bears had a great day, and it seems that they are on the road to success.

The Bears' team is young, but they have the potential to be a force to be reckoned with. They are working hard to improve their skills and are eager to show what they can do when they step onto the pool deck.

Why GERs?

By Edward D. Huntress

Why are the General Education Requirements being reviewed? Aren't the GERs working?

The purpose behind a GER review is, essentially, to find out how well the GERs really are working. Since the last review, in 1976, Bridgewater State College has gone through many changes. Along with these changes has come a growing concern as to just how effective the GER program is here at BSC, and how well it reflects the needs of the current student body.

To handle the large undertaking of the GER review, a special committee of the College Curriculum Committee has been formed, headed by Professor Stanley Hamilton of the Foreign Languages Department. Other members of the committee include Dr. Robert Boulter, E. S. Crossan, and Geography, Janet Steele, Psychology, and the able assistance of the University of Vermont and the NEA.
