Canada's Bear of Beers is here!

Down from the North Woods of Canada comes Grizzly Bear! Not just another Canadian beer, but a rare breed of brew. An authentic Canadian lager—naturally aged, so it's remarkably smooth. With a flavor no other Canadian beer can stand up to. The bear of beers is here!

SGA Inducts 5 Members

By Kim Murphy

Well, it should be no surprise to anyone by now that the SGA meeting Tuesday night was a doozy. One of the highlights of an otherwise frustrating experience was seeing in if the election winner: Nadine Lucas, John Baston, Ralph P rectangles and Greg Baldwin.

Dean Coombs, who ran the elections, commented on the different election pro- cedures used this time which resulted in an impressively low margin of error. 80% on the average. (We used different colored ballots that quickened the counting procedures. (After we dis- placed sample ballots. This was to allow student voters to see who was running. Since student elections usually generate a low turnout. Coombs was surprised to see an increase in this year's election.) Turnout was good considering 1

This week the community of Bridgewater State College mourns the loss of one of its own. First Baldwin, a teacher of economics here for a full year, died Saturday, March 3, after a four-year struggle with cancer. Students and faculty alike express great sorrow and great love for a compassionate person who will sadly be missed.

Bridgewater, which did not learn of Prof. Itig's illness until December, was shocked by moving classes from upstairs to the first floor. In addition to the students losing her in a number of ways, including taking attendance out of her classes. Although it was obvious that she was very sick, gallantly kept teaching until Washington's Birthday. A native of Dedham, she received her bachelor's degree from Framingham State College and in 1976 she was awarded her master's and PhD degrees at Cornell University. She first taught at the State College of Buffalo in New York, and later at Rutgers University in New Jersey, before joining the faculty at BSC.

On February 29, 1984, I received the honor of visiting Mr. Baldwin in a relaxed, infor- mal atmosphere and was dis- covered his views on a variety of subjects, including polit- ical arms build-up and racism.

Comment: Mr. Baldwin, in your opinion, who are the best writers working today?

James Baldwin: I love that question, who are the best writers working today?

Baldwin: Well, that's a difficult question. I wouldn't want to answer that question for you. It depends on what you're looking for. There are many great writers around, some people are better than others.

Where Is The Justification?

By Gregory C. Mathis

THE TIME for action is now! Student participation in the decision making pro- cesses in the State College network, through the All- College Committees, is on the floor of the State Senate this session. It is therefore crucial that legislation be passed by the House of Representatives ear- lier in the week so that if the Senate passes the bill, the funding for the new teacher contract will go into effect.

The passing of the funding allocation will result in the reuction of student involvement, but they are giving the students an ultimatum; vote for the reduction or be

Editor's View About The Shoe

There once was a newspaper editor who was walking down the street, having just finished his shift. He was deep in thought, pondering the future of his beloved publication. Over the last few weeks, he had noticed a trend of declining readership and advertising revenue. He knew that if something wasn't done soon, his newspaper might not survive the next year. He was determined to save it.

One evening, he sat down at his desk, gathered his staff, and delivered a speech. He spoke passionately about the importance of the newspaper to the community, the need for everyone to pitch in, and the shared responsibility to keep the publication alive. The audience was moved, and many volunteers offered to help.

The editor then called on his most trusted reporters and writers to come up with ideas for new content that would appeal to a wider audience. They brainstormed and came up with a series of changes: more local news, more human-interest stories, and a focus on community events. They also decided to increase the frequency of publication.

The editor was pleased with the response and was encouraged to see the community rally around the newspaper. He knew that it would take time and hard work, but he was optimistic about the future. He was grateful for the support of his team and knew that they would make a difference.

The key to the effectiveness of the editor’s revised strategy was to involve the community in its transformation. By recognizing and encouraging the involvement of the community, the newspaper was able to overcome the challenges it faced and continue to serve its readers.

The editor was confident that with the right support and hard work, the newspaper could thrive. He was looking forward to the future, knowing that with the community behind them, anything was possible.
Editor's View About The Shoe

Dear Editor,

I'd like to thank the people who visited me during the Black History Month. The Student Government Association-sponsored event was a success. Without your assistance the extravaganza would not have been possible.组织的事件让太多的人参与，但你所做的一切参与的人都感到是值得的。Thanks.

I am writing to comment on the recent issue of The Shoe. The page layout was quite colorful and visually appealing. However, I am concerned about the content of the articles. Some of them seem to be biased and sensationalized.

I hope future editions of The Shoe will focus more on important issues and present a balanced perspective. Let's strive for a more accurate representation of events.

Sincerely,

Leaflet's View

There was a newspaper writer who was working for The Shoe. Over the past few weeks, most of the articles have been examining whether or not abortion is moral or not.

As a compromise, I propose that The Shoe print an article about the history of abortion in the United States. This article should be written by a neutral party and focus on the legal and ethical aspects of the issue. I believe that this approach would help to foster a more informed and balanced dialogue.

Sincerely,

There was once a President of this university, John W. Davis. He made it official now, Matt Donoghue.

As you can see, President Donoghue has been appointed by the President of this university, Matt. He has the power to make decisions on behalf of this institution. Since he has made this decision, we can expect to see changes in the way our university operates.

Dear Editor,

I feel that it is imperative that the student body be informed of the terrible and senseless action that took place at the S.G.A. meeting this past Monday. The S.G.A. has been the voice of the students. Personal grievances or vendettas have no place in the S.G.A. Chamber. It is a sorry state of affairs when the voice of the clubs, organization, or the student body as a whole rests on the lies or delusions of one S.G.A. member for another.

Instead of acting as representatives of the students, some few of the S.G.A. members decided to turn the S.G.A. into a payor full of lies, certainly not without the consent of the voiceless. Indeed, as no one ever bothers to ask them, it is anyone's guess how many of the students would support their opinion.

Sincerely,

Matthew Peter Dolan

Predicting The Winners

By John J. Beaton

Every year when the Academic Award Committee announces the list of ten awards given in honor of the students who have won the prestigious gold plaque, the true measure of the quality of our student body is revealed. The ten students who were selected in the past year are the most knowledgeable, the most industrious, the most creative, and the most original that our university has to offer.

In order to determine the winners of this year's Academic Awards, the Committee has taken into consideration the following criteria:

1. The student must have demonstrated exceptional academic achievement.
2. The student must have shown a commitment to community service.
3. The student must have exhibited a high level of personal integrity.
4. The student must have demonstrated leadership qualities.
5. The student must have shown a dedication to extracurricular activities.

The three categories into which the ten award winners were divided were:

- Outstanding Students: These students have shown exceptional academic achievement and are recognized for their contributions to the community.
- Distinguished Students: These students have shown exceptional academic achievement, leadership, and community service.
- Meritorious Students: These students have shown meritorious academic achievement and have demonstrated a high level of personal integrity.

The winners of these categories are as follows:

- Outstanding Students: John Doe, Jane Smith, and Michael Brown
- Distinguished Students: Sarah Johnson, Robert Miller, and Emily Williams
- Meritorious Students: David Taylor, Sarah Stevenson, and Emily Lee

The Academic Awards will be presented at the annual awards ceremony on May 15. The ceremony will be held in the University Auditorium and will be attended by faculty, staff, and students.

MORE LETTERS

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the more than 300 students who have responded thus far to the recent S.G.A. call to meet on Monday, March 15. The meeting was a resounding success, with a turn-out of more than 100 students. The S.G.A. has been the voice of the students. Personal grievances or vendettas have no place in the S.G.A. Chamber. It is a sorry state of affairs when the voice of the clubs, organization, or the student body as a whole rests on lies or delusions of one S.G.A. member for another.

Instead of acting as representatives of the students, some few of the S.G.A. members decided to turn the S.G.A. into a payor full of lies, certainly not without the consent of the voiceless. Indeed, as no one ever bothers to ask them, it is anyone's guess how many of the students would support their opinion.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the more than 500 students and faculty members who voted for me in the recent S.G.A. election as their candidate for Senator-at-Large.

I learned a great deal during the campaign and appreciate the support of everyone who voted for me. However, it is important to remember that the S.G.A. is a democratic organization and that there are many voices that were not heard during the campaign.

I hope to continue to represent the interests of the students and faculty members on campus, and I look forward to working with everyone to ensure that the university continues to be a place where all students and faculty members can learn and grow.

Thank you again for your support.

Sincerely,
Michael Ha.
MUSIC SURVEY RESULTS

Once again—thank-you.

REALLY ROSIE

By James Magner

When I see Thomas Dolby, I think of a mad scientist working endlessly in the laboratory. Dolby's new album, The Quiet Earth, is electronic music with human feeling. It is treated as a scientific project with plenty of superstitious effects that strike the listener. Side one opens with Disasters, a funny song that goes beyond the boundaries of electronic music and into the imagination. The Quiet Earth, in great sound and striking lyrics, is a science-fiction dissertation. I see the album as an attempt to bring the Earth hoping to find an alien. Side two has two dance cuts, While City and Hyperspace, and two slow sleepers. Multi the Main Forest and a remake of Stars Myself. This album, especially the first side, is a masterpiece. The lyrics, music, effects and instruments playing show signs of great improvement for Dolby, as does searching for perfection. Frodo Records is the home of a Texas band called La Zampa. La Zampa is a hot rod record that lacks excitement. It is a rather boring band with a dead lead singer who sounds uptight and just dumb. The track, guitar sound on the LP is nothing new. Save your money. Translator is back with a new LP called No Time Like Now. I only heard the EP but I would definitely get the album. The drum, sax and guitar combination lends a unique feel that reminds me of the Beach Boys. The sound is an extended version of Breakdown Bar, rhythm in the same tune but remains vibrant. Cry for a Shadow weeps with a high guitar lead as it calls from the street. The clean, fast and tight pace of Eraser provides a jolt of teenage punk that is sure to get you hopping. If you liked Translator, you’ll like them again.

If you are in the market for unique and different pieces of vinyl be sure to pick up The Art Orchestra Contemporary Music. Sampler, Volume 1. It is a product of Boston bands doing doing what comes natural. These are some good covers by The Fugitives, the 2 by 4’s and The Pig Noggins. Wino “Loco” Alexander is also found on this Art Orchestra record. It is a Boston sampler that should increase the demand for more projects just like it. The Fat Boy International Band on Jumbo Beach Records sounds like a candy store side show. This Boston band’s album Outside Your Dog is a faun and it’s pany and an extended presentation. The band’s sound is totally dominated and given its a stage presence. The music is ragged and collides violently with the ears. It is a melodic album full of glitter that doesn’t shine. For you “deadheads” who haven’t had enough, check out The Grateful Dead’s new album Off the Wall on Warner Records. Jerry Garcia would be proud of the jazzy blues and piano rock that these guys deliver.

MUSIC SURVEY RESULTS

WBIM and The Comment would like to thank the student body at B.S.C. for the overwhelming response to the music survey last week. A wide range of musical talent was represented in the responses: punk, top 40, rock, and new wave. The groups and individual performers that follow are listed in the order that you chose them. Once again—thank-you.

Sincerely,
James Magner, WBIM's Disc Jockey and John J. Beaton, The Comment's Entertainment Editor

In this column, I will present my views and opinions relevant to education, my experiences as a teacher, and my observations which prepare me for my mission as a teacher.

I did not have a teacher last semester, and I am now a senior. I write this column for the first time, and the first day of school is the first day I am not in school. Unfortunately, I am not able to write this column because I do not know how to write it.

The meeting of Tuesday, March 6, 1984 was called to order at 6:00.

The first order of business was the swearing in of members of the Finance Committee, including Chief Justice Patrick Menzinger, Chief Justice Menger, the former Justice Fred Clark to swear in the first candidate, to be administered by Ralph Plotke. Then Chief Justice Menger presented and swore in new members: Nicole Lucie, Agricultural Treasurer. John Bell (Class of 1987), and Jeanne Geitel (Class of 1986).

The minutes of the previous meeting were approved with no changes. Xena Wall had not presented the financial report. Xena Wall had not presented the financial report. The Treasurer had submitted a paper to the Finance Committee.

Under new business, the Chancellor announced that all candidates for Student Government would be required to sign a petition. The petition could be obtained from the Office of Student Affairs. The Chancellor then proceeded to list the positions that had been assigned to candidates for the three new offices of the Student Government: the President of Student Government, the Director of the Student Activities Office, and the Vice President of the Student Senate.

The Chancellor also announced that the President of Student Government would be subject to a background check.

Treasurer Bob Kenyon announced that the Student Government had purchased new office equipment and supplies. The total cost of these purchases was $1,200.00.

The Treasurer then presented the financial report for the month of February. The report indicated a decrease in the balance of the Student Government funds from $20,000.00 to $16,000.00. The Treasurer noted that this decrease was due to an increase in expenses for the office.

The Chancellor then discussed the possibility of creating a position for a Student Government officer to be responsible for the budget of the Student Government. The Chancellor noted that this position would be in addition to the current position of the Treasurer.

The meeting adjourned at 7:00.

Lady Bears Bow Out

By Joe Gouveia

The women's basketball team went on to the Regional NCAA Tournament last Friday against Eastern Connecticut. The Bears, 94-44, but at the same time went further into post season play than anyone would have predicted.

At the end of the half, B.S.C. was still down, 38-22. B.S.C. defense was very effective, holding the U Conn. team to 18-for-36 shooting. If you think we were really interested on how hard we could go, we were.

This program, as B.S.C.'s defense held more than 10 points, but we had a difficult time getting into the game. We were able to eat up 13 points in the first team of the season.

The Bears began the meet with Sarson. The meets went behind the B.S.C. last year and went 8-7-1 for 200 Free, followed by Brian 1:34.25 for 1:34.25 in the same event, with Ken Bernard narrowly winning.

The Bears competed seven records in the three collegiate swimming meets. The Bears competed in the 50 Free, 100 Free, 200 Free and 500 Free.

The Bears lost to Eastern Conn. in the trials, 100 Free. They won three records in the 50 Free, 100 Free and 200 Free.

Congratulations to Bo Rupp and Greg Cook for another outstanding season.

This week the community mourns the loss of one of its best loved teachers of economics here in Bridgewater. Prof. Kathleen Itig, a teacher of economics here for many years, died on Saturday, March 10, after a long battle with cancer. Students and faculty alike mourn the great sorrow they feel upon learning of her death. Students described her as a courageous, dedicated person who will be sorely missed. The college, which did not have a faculty of Itig's illness until December, reports that the college's move to a new president in December moved her to a new position at BSC.

A World I Never Made

By Jeffrey M. Levine

On February 29, 1984, a world-renowned novelist, essayist, and playwright James Baldwin came to the Boston Public Library and spoke to a thoroughly captivated audience. Baldwin, whose work includes such classics as "A Man Called Adam," "The Fire Next Time," and "No Name in the Street," has been a voice for civil rights and social justice for decades.

A "World I Never Made," which was entitled "A World I Never Made," dealt with the state of the Black American in today's society.

James Baldwin: I love that question, "where?"

"Baldwin: I feel that we are going to get to our goal, the goal of the movement, the goal of the revolution, the goal of the struggle for justice, the goal of the struggle for freedom, the goal of the struggle for equality, the goal of the struggle for human rights."
