"Talent, Ambition and a Little Bit of Luck..."

By Kitty Murphy and Philip W.研究员

The Award Committee was formed to award the student who has demonstrated the most talent, ambition, and a little bit of luck. The award was established by the Board of Directors of the Judicial Board in the year of 1984. The award is given to a student who has shown exceptional talent in their field, has demonstrated a strong work ethic, and has overcome obstacles to achieve their goals.

The award was presented to Tom Wolfe, a junior at the College, at the annual Dinner Dance on April 15th. Wolfe was recognized for his contributions to the community and his dedication to his studies.

The award was presented by the President of the Judicial Board, Mr. John Kirby. Wolfe was presented with a check for $500 and a plaque to commemorate his achievement.

The award was highly competitive, with several students displaying exceptional talent and ambition. However, Wolfe was chosen for his dedication to his studies and his ability to overcome obstacles to achieve his goals.

Wolfe expressed his gratitude to the Board of Directors for the award and his appreciation for the support from the community.

The award was a recognition of Wolfe's hard work and dedication to his studies, and his contributions to the community. It is hoped that his success will inspire others to pursue their dreams and overcome obstacles to achieve their goals.

Students Question Objectivity of the Judicial Board

According to the student handbook, the Judicial Board is responsible for enforcing the policies of the college, including the policy on alcohol and smoking. However, many students have expressed concern over the objectivity of the Board.

Many students believe that the Board is biased and does not adequately enforce the policies of the college. They believe that the Board is not impartial and that decisions are often made based on personal bias.

In response to these concerns, the Board has stated that they are committed to maintaining the integrity of the judicial process and that they will continue to enforce the policies of the college in an impartial manner.

Despite these assurances, many students remain concerned about the objectivity of the Judicial Board. They believe that the Board needs to be more transparent and accountable in their decision-making process.

"...Divided we Fail"

To the Editor:

As last week's "Concerned Students," I too was over­whelmed by the reactions to the entire "Weekend" in the Comment. However, as students of the university, it is our responsibility to come together and discuss the issues.

As Americans we are governed by the Constitution of the Bill of Rights. At Ridgefield, we are allowed to practice the freedom of speech.

We are students at Ridgefield and it is only right that we work for the results that we want. Our democratic faith in aid under the watchful eye of the Student Government Association is a way to send send to the students the results of our work. We urge you to come to the Student Government Association and work together to achieve maximum results.

Together We Stand, Divided We Fail.

Respectfully,

Lauren Simon

"A Friend on the Senate"

Dear Mr. Mathis,

This is to comment you and the students of "The Star" on the article "Mike's The Star." I think that proper use of the funds given by the Student Government Association, and its Senate, is needed. I hope you can look into this problem as soon as possible.

Sincerely,

David Brown

Neighborhoods Rock

Dear Editor:

While having just seen the Neighborhoods during the outdoor concert the other night, I was taken back to my little article's little bit. Miss Little was certainly the most interesting character I've ever met. She has actually got people up on their hind legs and made people so happy.

Sincerely,

Lauren Strauss

Campaign Letter

Dear Editor:

On Collision Course

The beginning of every semester is marked by complaints from faculty and students alike. It happens every year: the students have been made to feel that it is time to start over again, that they are only starting another year of the same old thing. This is because the students have not had the opportunity to bring up their complaints.

As a result, there is no need to worry about the students. As students of the university, it is our responsibility to come together and discuss the issues.

Are the Cowboys Really "America's Team"?

This article is in response to "Boys' Town" printed last week.

The Dallas Cowboys, once a team that is often seen as "America's Team," have not been able to live up to their expectations in recent years.

The Dallas Cowboys have been one of the most successful teams in the NFL, and have won several Super Bowls. However, they have not been able to maintain this level of success in recent years.

The Dallas Cowboys have had several great players on their roster, but they have not been able to put it all together on the field.

Sincerely,

Mr. Johnson

The Dallas Cowboys, born 24 years out of nowhere, have only won two Super Bowls, but they have been there more times out of 24 (88%) than any other team. Thirteen of those wins came under the leadership of one owner, Jerry Jones, who is perhaps the most successful owner in the history of professional sports. His success is due in large part to his ability to build a brand that fans can relate to, and to create an incentive among the purchasers for buying with his particular team.

One of the most obvious examples of this is the Dallas Cowboys' uniforms, which are immediately recognizable and have become synonymous with the team. By creating a strong brand identity, Jones was able to attract fans and keep them loyal to the team.

The success of the Dallas Cowboys has also been due in part to their ability to build an organization that is focused on winning. Jones hired experienced coaches and players to help him build a team that is competitive at the highest level. His strategy has been very successful, and the Cowboys have been one of the most successful franchises in the NFL.

Jones' success has not only been financial, but it has also been social and cultural. The Cowboys have become a part of the fabric of Dallas, and the team has become a source of pride for the city.

The Dallas Cowboys' success is a testament to the power of strong leadership and the ability to build a winning culture. By creating a brand that fans can relate to, and by building a team that is focused on winning, Jerry Jones has been able to create one of the most successful franchises in the history of professional sports.

Psychedelia Lives

By Seeser Liturgian Coordinator, Writer

Psychedelia is a word that is often associated with the 1960s counterculture movement. It is derived from the Greek word "psyche" which means "soul" or "mind," and "delia" which means "to live." Therefore, psychedelia can be defined as a "mindful" or "soulful" way of living.

In recent years, there has been a resurgence of interest in psychedelia, with many people exploring the philosophy and practices of this way of life. Many people believe that psychedelia can help individuals to connect with their inner selves and to live in a more intentional and fulfilling way.

One of the key ideas of psychedelia is the importance of community. Many psychedelia practitioners believe that we are all interconnected and that our actions have an impact on the world around us. Therefore, it is important to live in a way that is mindful of the impact that our actions have on others.

Another key idea of psychedelia is the importance of personal growth and self-discovery. Many psychedelia practitioners believe that we can only live in a mindful way if we are constantly learning and growing. This means being open to new ideas and experiences, and being willing to challenge our own assumptions and beliefs.

In conclusion, psychedelia is a way of living that is centered on the idea of mindfulness. It is a philosophy that encourages individuals to live in a way that is intentional, mindful, and interconnected with the world around us. While psychedelia has its roots in the 1960s counterculture movement, it is a philosophy that continues to be relevant today.

Party” and “The Hump” are perfect examples of mixing surf and psychedelic, while “High On A Cloud” is pure acid at its finest. Eyes Of Mind, although in a softer vein, still manage to show what the 60’s were all about. Their EP, Tales Of The Turquoise Umbrella isn’t too bad. Rhode Island’s Plan 9’s second LP, Dealing With the Dead is an album that if the cover doesn’t blow you away, the music will. Cuts like “Gone” will have you moving as you listen. Shine the old black light on the cover for a real treat! They also call psychedelia “garage music”, and NY’s own cave teens (or so it says on the EP cover), The Outta Place prove it! At times hard to hear, due to overload, cuts like (what else?) “Louie Louie” and “Bonus Track” show what the “garage” generation LP Battle of the Garages, Part II features local Boston band Prime Movers doing “Where It’s At”, but any LP that has the theme from one of my favorite Japanese horror flicks (“Green· Slime” by The Fuzztones) gets a five star rating in my book!

You know, people come up to me and tell me I’m still living in the 60’s, and I wish I could tell them the 60’s are gone. Well, I’ve got some news for you. The 60’s are still alive! Thanks to recent releases on the Voxx and Midnight International labels, psychedelia lives on! New bands such as The Pandoras, Plan 9, The Things, The Cheepskates, The Outta Place, and The Eyes Of Mind lead the wave of new psychedelia. The Pandoras (not to be confused with the one-hit wonders of 1967) are a 4-girl band who combine psychedelia with surf music, and the mix is something else. Lead singer Paula Pierce may at times sound like Joan Jett, but other than that ... cuts like .. Monster Beach sound was all about. The competition

There is a painter, long out of work, who is engaged to work for the Super Fund Bill. Although the sounds echo through the gallery (it is a lot), the Super Fund Bill forms the golden pillar of illegal dumping to be removed. The total amount of those fines is $52 million, but only 20% have been collected for use. The New York Times is composed in April; one year to view the results. The Super Fund Bill is supposed to help to clean up the remaining contaminated land. The Super Fund Bill is the only component of the Hazardous Waste Building. Various components will aid people who have been injured by illegal dumping.

The Hazards Waste Campaign is just one of the many things that the students are working on. The Hazards Waste Building is being transformed into a center for various activities, including recycling, educational programs, and social change. The building will be used for workshops, meetings, and other activities related to environmental issues.

As for Jonas, the son newly born, he has his father's and his mother's eyes. We see him, the last shot (marked 1980) detouring, eating and perhaps driving home through the images of his forefathers, who suggest their being tied together in a group, that is, to be remembered in kindness or in derision. In the meantime, a Crash, a Marathon, a Matilda, a Matilda who could carry our readers into the contemporary social scene. It is a letter from trouble omitted.

“UPTOWN” ROCK

By Patricia Boyer
Staff Writer

Julie Deyl, a senior at BSC, is the lead singer of the band "UPTOWN". Julie’s father Dennis formed the band when Julie was eight years old. He had been a drummer since he was young. Julie plays the guitar and piano and also plays the keyboard and the saxophone. Her band’s guitarist, Peter, according to Julie’s "phenomenal". He is the band’s backbone and main force to playing and practicing. Julie’s dad formed the band four years ago. Julie considers herself the leader of the band and it’s successes. Other problems aside, she continues to write songs which often causes friction.

Julie believes that if a band isn’t getting along the quality of its music will suffer. Another problem she faces is the need to devote time to practicing. She practices twice a week easily for about four hours.

The band is not too old in years. They are currently playing at the ballroom in the City of Boston. Over the New BellBoy in Newton and the Derby 5 in Marshfield.

If the band’s marketing and the performances seem hard to fit into a more national, they will start recording a video for the television. Julie is going to make this her profession. She plans on recording original songs and making it to the Top Forty. After our conversation as anything less than a success.

"You can only squeeze so many saridines into a can." (from p. 3)

Tilly is unable to at times, another dining area would alleviate this problem considerably. Finally, the parking problem. I don’t think the town of Braintree has enough to handle all the cars, from both faculty and students.

There is clearly a problem with overcrowding at this school. When the administration wants to admit or deny, they have made the same mistake several years in a row. There are two alternatives: Learn from your mistakes, or plan to make the school bigger to accommodate the students. Words of advice: You can only squeeze so many saridines into a can."

“Can you only squeeze so many sardines into a can?” (from p. 3)

Tilly is unbearable at times, another dining area would alleviate this problem considerably. Finally, the parking problem. If I don’t think the town of Bridgewater has enough lots to handle the cars, from both faculty and students. Words of advice: You can only squeeze so many sardines into a can.

“National Women’s Coalition Supports Ronald Reagan

The greater gap simply doesn’t exist, the National Women’s Coalition, simply put, “supports Ronald Reagan.”

But what does this mean, the first woman manager the great majority of the women polled are not aware of the Reagan Administration. Only 14% of the women know that Reagan Administration.

Students Question Authority of Board

One may ask whether or not DiClemente was in actual violation of the Residential Alcohol and Drug Policy as listed in the Handbook. "Most people may not be paying attention to it, but in my research it is an actual problem."

As DiClemente stated earlier in this article, he was not in a public area (the hallway). In fact he was, according to his witness, Jeff Olipat, standing in the doorway.

What is crucial to this entire argument is the fact that alcohol is not to be consumed in a public place—which is a direct violation of the Alcohol Policy and grounds for a judicial board hearing. Yet, nowhere in the Judicial Board Hearing Report was there made mention of DiClemente consuming alcohol in the hallway.

As Paquette had no witness to support or confirm his charges.

As mentioned before, DiClemente was found guilty and as a result was suspended from the dormitories for one year. If DiClemente did not appeal the decision in five days, it would have been assumed by Gerald V. Stenerson, Staff Assistant (or Housing, Division of Student Services), that he (DiClemente) was in agreement with the terms of his suspension. DiClemente did appeal, and his hearing is to be held Thursday, October 4, in the Plymouth Cinema Room at 7:30 p.m.

Student Trustee Matthew Peter Donoghue is concerned with the case, not only because he is active in student issues, but because this is an "example of failed policy."

Donoghue also said that "the handbook (Due Process concerning the Residential Alcohol and Drug Policy) is too ambiguous. If the administration is improperly assessed and the decision could only have been reached as a result of a com-

The decision of the Judicial Board resulted in a substantial miscarriage of justice. In addition, the evidence was improperly assessed and the decision could only have been reached as a result of a completely erroneous interpretation of the procedural guidelines."

One may ask whether or not DICEmee was an actual violation of the Residual Alcohol and Drug Policy as stated in the Handbook. "Wholesale thieving may not be committed by any public service and subservient employees of alcohol (e.g., legs and head lack) but may be done in any private or public facility," said DICEmee. "While DICEmee stated he did not do anything in a public area (the hallway) he did so in another facility, Jeff Gilpin, standing in the doorway.

What is crucial to this entire argument is the fact that DICEmee did not commit a public offense which is a violation of the Alcohol Policy and was done in a public facility and not a private one.

Bootsie

By Douglas Brues Staff Writer

Since last week's report came out, the Miami Dolphins have gone all but down hill with a 0-2-1(1) record. M.S.U. 56-14, the low goal scored by Gary Longan, was allowed by Jan Herby and a 1-64 blocking by Stonehill on Thursday. The team now is 3-2-1 MASCAC Conference. It is a big game for the Dolphins as well, because who knows what they'll do the rest of the year. They can't handle it. Miami coach John McCaffrey gave in for surgery because of a hooked ankle.

Miami is not the only team to see the Dolphins-Pats game. I like that stat better.

Miami's defense was hit due to the defense's lack of concentration. Cap- tain Mike McCaffrey couldn't do it because of a hooked ankle. Miami's defense has been playing on a down state of mind. Miami coach John McCaffrey called that, "There is no way to turn a team with 14 great players on its head."

Good Luck Bears from The Comment's Here's to you!
Talent, Ambition and a Little Bit of Luck..." By Debra Lee

"Talent, ambition, and a little bit of luck..." has been the mantra repeatedly spoken by Sister Mary Joe, friend and mentor to many. As Head Coach at Springfield College, Sister Mary Joe has built a strong program that has consistently shown success both on and off the field.

Her coaching philosophy is built on a foundation of hard work, dedication, and a passion for the sport of Women's Field Hockey. "It's all about the players," she often says. "They come first." And it shows in the way she leads her team, always putting the needs and goals of the team above her own.

But Sister Mary Joe's success isn't just due to her coaching skills. It's also due to her ability to motivate and inspire her players, to instill in them a sense of pride and accomplishment.

She is known for her infectious energy and her ability to create a positive team culture. Her players love her, respect her, and are willing to do anything to bring her by the first place. This year, that means winning the NCAA Championship.

"Sister Mary Joe is a true leader," said senior captain Sinead O'Sullivan. "She always puts us first, and we always feel like we're part of something bigger than ourselves."

But it's not just Sister Mary Joe's leadership that makes her successful. It's also the talent and hard work of her players. "Our players are the heart of our program," she says. "They work hard every day, and they never take their foot off the gas."

This year, the team is looking to make history. They have their sights set on the NCAA Championship, and they're not going to let anyone stand in their way. "We're ready," said junior goalkeeper Lauren LaRosa. "We've been preparing for this moment our whole lives."

But Sister Mary Joe knows that success is never guaranteed. "We have to stay humble," she says. "We have to work hard every day, and we have to be prepared for anything."

The team is excited for what the future holds, but they're also excited to see what they can accomplish this year. "We're ready to make history," said senior captain Kate Wiesenfuch. "We're ready to show the world what we're made of."
