Bears Business

The Fall sports program is now underway. Unfortunately, it didn’t start off as well as it ended.

The Football Bears ended their “season” by besting the distinguished Cranberry Snoop in arch rival Massachusetts Maritime at the Hofstot Stadium, 19-10 loss in the ninth annual Gridiron Bowl.

Last Sunday, the 15th of November, the Equestrian team won two ribbons at the New School of Real Estate College. The Winning team was in their first class, in which she was required to walk, trot, and canter her horse. At the show held by Bunker College, Michael Aimez won sixth place, Rob and Frank Lentz won third place, and Scott and John téléchargé were sixth place ribbons. Members are still welcome to register, and the next show will be held on Thursday at 1:15 in the Student Union.

The reason this is being printed is that there is really no reason for it to be. Oh, this is not to say that nothing went as at BSC as well as it could have. Many things went on that I was not aware of, and probably many things that I will not find out about until I was too late to do anything about them. This is about is that I am tired.

We, as you have likely staff writers, editors, sports editors, music, art, and of course, give us our space for news and articles, and reports on events. Thanks to people like the Jack Morri, MASSPIRG, Jill Linshea, James Coffey, Steve O'Brien, Mike Shokey, and Soul Pitts, Boar’s Head and Dopey Diva were a good time. We have all had it.

We add up all the things that we’ve done this week—probable many articles, and highlights. This week’s article is about is that I am tired.

Tackle Student Committee Problems: Murphy, Lawrence, Jenney Lead The Way

By Gregory Marks
Staff Writer

Community issues have been long sought by Student Government members. The Community Coordinator, Mike Lawrence, explained that everyone has promised to do something about it, but nobody has actually done anything about it.

However, there is a ray of hope for community in the future. At last Tuesday’s (Nov. 13) SGA meeting, Senator Jenney Lawrence brought to the attention of the Student Government that the state had purchased a plot of land in the commuter parking lot. Lawrence was facing a problem with the current parking lot and was trying to find a way to get the state to help.

Mr. Lawrence has been in contact with members of the House of Representatives regarding this issue and has had some positive results. However, there is no local parking available for the parking lot, and there will be a joint session of the Committee on Government and the state and federal governments on funding and want to get the lot paved. "Parking would be available as soon as the project would finish," Lawrence explained.

Along with this project, Mr. Lawrence and the Student Government have established a Committee on Community. This committee is being organized by Murphy and Jenney, and they had planned to hold their first meeting today (Monday) at 3:30.

One of the possible programs that Lawrence discussed was the state's attempt to rescue the commuter parking lot. Lawrence had hired a consultant to look into purchasing a plot of land in the commuter parking lot. Lawrence was facing a problem with the current parking lot and was trying to find a way to get the state to help.

Dear Editor,

[Context]

Though the S.H.A.R.E. looks as if its days of existence are numbered, there is still a need for its help, and we should all respond accordingly. It is imperative that the student body realizes the importance of the S.H.A.R.E. and supports it in any way possible.

Reagan can't hide from the deficit

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON—Walted Reagan can't make the federal budget deficit disappear with a magic wand. If he tried to make the $11 billion deficit disappear, he would be in for the same argument again next year. Some call for a new Reagan administration to change the economy, but that is the wrong course.

The student budget deficit has been the subject of much discussion in recent months. In fact, the administration has been accused of hiding the budget deficit by not taking into account the interest payments on the national debt.

If a student is caught or suspected of breaking a dormitory rule, he is given the opportunity to appear in front of the J-Board. At least 24 hours before the hearing takes place, the student may submit a written statement outlining his case. The student may also submit a witness, who must be a member of the Student Senate. If a witness is submitted, the student must provide the name and address of the witness.

In a project of this sort we need all the help and support we can get. The Comment will continue to bring it to the complete and visible coverage than it received in the Announcements. Some students at Bridgewater State College have been subject to unfair criticism this semester, and frequently subject to revising and possible changes.

As a part of the Duralic Judicial Board, a reluctant student may request to be excused from the hearing if it is not in the best interest of the student, and the board may grant the request. The student may also request that the board review the decision of the J-Board, and the board may grant this request if it is in the best interest of the student.

The Student Judicial System is Fair

For example, on a recent Wednesday night, a student was handed a form by a police officer. The student was asked to sign the form, and was told that he would be called later to discuss the incident. However, the student was never called back, and the incident was never resolved.

This situation is becoming more frequent, and students are beginning to feel that the judicial system is failing them. Some students have even begun to question the effectiveness of the Judicial System.
Reagan can't hide from the deficit

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON— Was Bill Clinton right last week when he said that the Reagan administration had no plan for the budget deficit? The answer to that question is going to depend on who you ask. Some Republicans within the Reagan administration are now looking for a budget-cutting formula that is on the way—and they're looking for something that will help to fund the continuing budget deficits and the slated tax increases. The prediction that the recession could come as soon as next year. When Markets begins to make it more likely, then down the road, the Republicans will probably argue that the end of the recession is just a matter of time and they will have to do something about the deficit. The problem is that the recession may not be enough to solve the problem. But even if it is, the Republicans have a lot of other things to do before the deficit can be addressed.

The Reagan administration has made it clear that they do not want to address the deficit. However, they do want to avoid the recession. The administration has been pushing for a budget-cutting formula that will be effective. But they have not been able to find a formula that works.

Now that Frankie Goes to Hollywood is the new phenomenon in America, just as they are in Britain, it's time for some of America's own pop stars to catch the eye of the world. The New York Times, Variety, and Billboard have all praised Frankie's music and the band's performances, and there's no doubt they are going to be a major force in the music industry.

The band's latest album, "The Pleasure Dome," is a critical and commercial success, topping the charts in both the U.S. and the UK. The title track, "The Pleasure Dome," has become a anthem of sorts, with its catchy melody and powerful lyrics. The band's other hit songs, "Ties That Bind," "Two Tribes," and "I'm in Love," have also been well-received by fans and critics alike.

Frankie Goes to Hollywood's live performances are also a highlight of their success. Their energetic stage presence and ability to connect with their audience has earned them a devoted fanbase. Their concerts are known for their elaborate production values and high-octane energy.

As Frankie Goes to Hollywood continues to rise in popularity, they are looking to bring their unique sound and style to new audiences. With a mix of electronic beats, catchy melodies, and thought-provoking lyrics, Frankie's music has the power to captivate listeners and inspire change.

In conclusion, Frankie Goes to Hollywood is a band with a bright future. Their music and performances are a testament to their talent and dedication, and they are sure to continue making waves in the music industry for years to come. So, if you haven't already, make sure to check out their latest album and join in on the fun.

Culture Club Wakes Up with the House on Fire

By Audry Little

Culture Club continues to churn out album of pop songs, as their third album, Waking Up with the House on Fire, approaches. Although musically a little lightweight compared to their previous albums, it is still a decent effort. It opens with the perky lead-off single, "Mannequin," which is a fun, upbeat tune.

By the way, Culture Club will be in Worcester on November 20 and 21. I'm sure it will be a very interesting show, and hopefully Boy George's cold will be gone.

Culture Club continues to choose enjoyable music for students to enjoy. The group plays a variety of pop, rock, and rap songs, as their third album, "Turning Pages," attests. At the behest of a recent lament for Flowerpots, although materially a little light shine, compared with last year's Culture By Number (replaced 1. I think it's been kept, but it's all above), and Boy George promises he's got a line a little deeper than the song he sings is horribly beautiful, not a lot of good learning here.

Take One opens with "Dangerous Man," a cool, kind of R&B ditty, which is the current hit, followed. Helen Ferris vocals really shine this tune. (Unfortunately, she has no voice left in the group. "Inferno Thing" is a really nifty tune, featuring good horn sounds.)

WBIM Profile of the Week

NAME: Suzanne Lacapre
AGE: 21
HOME:--- Brockton
SHIFT: DJ Monday and Friday 12-3 p.m.

Suzanne, a Speech Communications major with the class of 1985, currently has the duties of Assistant Music Director, as well as being a member of the local board. While interested in the field of media and listening to other DJ's and air personalities, Suzanne loves Crew-cuttery singing and going on cranie rides. She also likes it when people have positive attitude and communicate well. The only turn-off Suzanne has is people smoking. "I've completely turned off talking with students that smoke."

Suzanne has been a part of the Student Television Program since her Freshman year, and she has been a part of the SEEM (Social Endowment for Community Events) for two years. Suzanne has a passion for community service and has dedicated her life to helping others. She is a hard worker and always strives to do her best in everything she does.

BSC Laboratory Theatre to present "THE BACCHAE"

The Laboratory Theatre at Bridgewater State College will present a Greek tragedy, "THE BACCHAE" with masked performers, costumes, and a chorus group. The tragedy tells the story of the god Dionysus and his people. The Laboratory Theatre has been producing student productions for over two years. The cast and crew have been working hard to prepare for this production.

Judicial Board Update

Vice President Deep had previously talked with the SGA, the Student Union Board of Governors, and the Resident Hall Judicial Board to discuss the possibility of bringing in outside groups to help with the noise issue. After the discussion, it was decided that the Resident Hall Judicial Board would be the best choice for handling the issue.

Vice President Deep had also met with representatives from various organizations on campus to discuss the issue. The representatives from these organizations were then asked to present their ideas to the Judicial Board.

The Judicial Board then discussed the ideas presented by the organizations and decided on a plan of action. The plan of action included the following:

1. The Judicial Board will meet with the representatives from each organization to discuss their ideas in more detail.
2. The Judicial Board will vote on the final plan of action.
3. The Judicial Board will present the plan of action to the President of the Student Union Board of Governors.

The Judicial Board is currently working on the plan of action and hopes to have a solution in place soon.

Go Hire Yourself an Employer

Wednesday, November 28, 1984

Go Hire Yourself an Employer at 7:00 p.m. in the Student Union Ballroom. Sponsored by the Student Union Program Committee.

Richard Irish is the vice president and founder of Trans Century Corporation, an international management and consulting firm in the U.S. This firm specializes in international executive search, exit management, and job counseling. For ten years, Irish has conducted job clubs at ten prominent universities, including M.I.T., Georgetown, Johns Hopkins, and the University of California. The result of this club is that more unemployed people are finding better jobs faster because they are looking together.

Richard Irish has been featured on nationwide television including the Today Show and Tomorrow. Appeared on the CBS News with Dan Rather.

Come and hear Irish discuss his dynamic approach to carrying out an effective job search. He will also give you effective techniques for writing resumes and cover letters, tell you what to expect from an interview, and how to prepare yourself for it.

We won! We even won big! For over the kids were decided to give the race one more try in the quarter finals. Trying behind 7-0, before easily putting away the Obi and locking Buffalo Bills 16-14. The funny thing about the win was in the stats where the Bills only gained 295 yards in total offense. QB Bowden was 2 of 14 for 217. Ohio State didn't score in the last time Tony had two interceptions in a game. The Bills only had 86 yards of running offense, led by Craig Jones 23 rushes for 55 yards. The Bills had three turnovers.

The Bills only had 86 yards of total offense. Ferguson was held to 175 yeards three times and the Bills fumbled twice for three total turnovers. The Browns' defense repeatedly returned interceptions and forced two Bills punt returns. The Ohio State defense had six sacks and forced three turnovers for a 15-7 average, including a 1-yard punt. Only 435.33 yards showed up at Fricko to equal the Wolverines' total offense. The Pass saw 7-4 and when this issue is published we will know where the Bills stand after their game with the Indianapolis Colts at the Hoosier Dome.

Speaking of the Colts, the are coming off a surprisingly exciting, well-played, emotional, split-ending 9-9 (2 overtime) victory over the powerful New York Jets in the Meadowlands. They actually showed great on national television and what was even more amazing was that 3:00 actually showed up to see this game in driving snow.

Two of the biggest items in professional sports continue on their merry way toward their eventual duel in the AFC Championship game. As the Miami Dolphins and the Denver Broncos pointed yet another victory. The Broncos pulled another victory out of the jaws of defeat in a 28-23 win over the San Diego Chargers in San Diego. Denver scored 10 fourth quarter points, and, Burt Reynolds' game winning 46-yard field goal in the last seconds. The Dolphins, who have played up to par so well, just away at the 3-4 record. In 24-25 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles 18-11. The Eagles, who fell 36-2 in the second quarter. scored a game tying extra point with 2:52 left in the game. This game was used by the New York Post. The New York Post will report on all the big time stuff here at BSC.:

Bears Business

By Mike Stores Staff Writer

The Fall sports program is now officially over. Unfortunately, it didn’t end as well as it could have. The Fall season ended a “long” season by surrendering the prestigious Cranberry Scoop to arch-rivals Mass. Mar., token by a hard-fought (5-3) loss in the sixth annual Cranberry Cup.

On the very same day the Fall sports program officially ended, the Bear harriers could have made a trip to Franklin Park with high hopes of making a mark in the annual MASCAC Championship. However, that was not to be. Once again Mass. Mar., token by a hard-fought (5-3) loss in the sixth annual Cranberry Cup.
