FOOD SERVICE
There are four dining areas within the Union, each of which offers a variety of food items. Each meal is labeled with a symbol: "A" for American, "F" for Family, "S" for Student, and "W" for World. The subdued lighting is not intended to be a mood inducer, but rather to ensure that the food items are "international buffets." The Sub Shop offers a number of unique sandwich combinations with food items at any time when the Commuter Center is closed. The Bridgewater Dining Room has been designed to be used in an effort to create a more communal restaurant atmosphere.

NEW COMMENT
In the last general meeting of The Comment held in December, Carrie Kellic, a senior Spanish Communications major, was elected to the position of Editor-In-Chief for the Spring semester 1985. Plans for the new semester include: Expanded coverage of world, national, and local sports, including Southeastern Conference, NCAA, and college intramurals. Additionally, The Comment staff include Tim Driscoll, a senior History major, Management Editor and Mae Moseley, a junior Marketing Advertising major, as well as the newspaper's Business Manager.

The writing staff numbers more than fifteen members, with new students joining daily. Carrie looks forward to a productive and successful semester.

Staff positions are still available to all BSC students interested. Stop by our offices, located next to the Bookstore on the first floor of the Student Center, or attend one of our weekly meetings, held on Tuesdays and Thursdays in the inner office at 11:00 a.m. Stop by our offices to learn more.

FSC BANS ALCOHOL
WHAT IT MEANS FOR BSC

It's Monday, January 21, and you're at the Hill. That familiar stinking smell of alcohol wafts up from the floor as you look across the hill. It's a familiar sight, but even though you're used to the smell, it never gets old. It's the beginning of the semester, and the campus is buzzing with activity. The students are busy getting ready for the new academic year, and the alcohol is a constant reminder of the challenges that lie ahead.

The decision to ban alcohol on campus was made by the FSC administration in response to a series of incidents involving alcohol abuse. The decision was based on the belief that alcohol use on campus was contributing to a culture ofパーティック and irresponsible behavior, and that it was time to take action to address this issue.

The ban will affect all students, faculty, and staff, and will take effect immediately. Violators will be subject to disciplinary action, which may include suspension or expulsion.

The ban is being implemented in response to a number of factors, including the increasing number of alcohol-related incidents on campus, the high cost of alcohol abuse to the university, and the need to create a safer and more responsible campus environment.

The ban will also affect the many social events that take place on campus, including dances, parties, and other gatherings. The university is currently working to develop alternative ways to celebrate and socialize, while still maintaining a safe and healthy campus environment.

The ban is not without its critics, who argue that it will only lead to an increase in illegal alcohol sales and that it will be difficult to enforce. However, the university is confident that the ban is necessary to create a safer and more responsible campus environment.

In conclusion, the ban on alcohol is a significant step towards creating a safer and more responsible campus environment. While it may be difficult to enforce, the university is confident that it will have a positive impact on the campus community.

Policy Revised

Changes in the Judicial Proceedings and All College Policy section of the new edition of the All College Handbook were approved by the Board of Trustees on January 13. The changes are designed to make the handbook more user-friendly and to address issues of concern to the student body.

The changes include:

1. A new section on student rights and responsibilities has been added, outlining the rights and responsibilities of students, faculty, and staff.

2. A new section on academic integrity has been added, outlining the expectations for academic honesty at the university.

3. A new section on the use of alcohol and other drugs has been added, outlining the policies and procedures for the use of these substances on campus.

4. A new section on the use of weapons has been added, outlining the policies and procedures for the possession and use of weapons on campus.

5. A new section on the use of tobacco has been added, outlining the policies and procedures for the use of tobacco on campus.

6. A new section on the use of personal fireworks has been added, outlining the policies and procedures for the use of personal fireworks on campus.

The changes were made in response to feedback from the student body and to ensure that the handbook is consistent with the policies and procedures of the university.

The university president has appointed a committee to review the issue of alcohol use on campus. The committee will be made up of faculty, staff, and students, and will be chaired by the provost.

The committee will be responsible for reviewing the policies and procedures related to alcohol use on campus, and for making recommendations to the president on how to address this issue.

The university is committed to creating a safe and healthy campus environment for all students, faculty, and staff. The committee will be given the resources and support it needs to complete its work, and the university is confident that it will be able to make recommendations that will help to address this issue.

Cruisin'

As I was coming home from a friend's house last Wednesday, I caught sight of a car parked on the street. It was a beautiful car, and I couldn't help but notice how sleek and aerodynamic it looked. The driver was a young man, and I could see that he was admiring the car, too. I thought to myself, "What a great car!"

I went inside and turned on the radio, and I was immediately struck by the music. It was a classic rock song, and I found myself singing along with every word. I was really enjoying the ride, and I thought to myself, "This is a great car!"

As I turned onto the main road, I realized that I was going the wrong way. I had no idea where I was, and I was really confused. I got off the road and tried to figure out which way to go, but I couldn't find my way back. I felt really lost, and I was really worried.

I decided to ask for help, and I found a police officer who was able to give me directions. He was really helpful, and I was really grateful. I got back on the road, and I was really happy to be home.

FSC BANS ALCOHOL
WHAT IT MEANS FOR BSC

It's Monday, January 21, and we arrive at the Flaherty Hearing Center to listen to the Student Senate's final vote on the proposed $1.25 fee to support the campuswide alcohol awareness and education programs. The Senate had already approved the fee in a previous meeting, but now they would have to make the final decision on whether to approve the alcohol policy itself.

The Senate is in session. The room is filled with students and faculty members. The speaker is a student senator who is presenting the alcohol policy. He explains that the policy is designed to reduce alcohol-related problems on campus and to promote responsible drinking.

The audience is divided. Some students support the policy, while others oppose it. The debate is heated, with each side presenting their arguments.

The senator concludes his presentation by stating that the policy is necessary to ensure a safe and healthy environment for all students.

The Senate votes on the policy. As the vote is announced, the room erupts in cheers and applause from those who support the policy. Those who opposed it look disappointed.

The policy is passed, and the Senate moves on to other business. As the meeting ends, students and faculty members begin to leave, some discussing the policy, others talking about other issues.

The policy is implemented, and the campus community is faced with the challenge of adapting to a new set of rules. The policy is controversial, and its effectiveness will be closely monitored.

Lawrence

This report also featured in the campus newspaper, where the issue of alcohol policy was discussed. The report highlighted the concerns of students and faculty members, as well as the challenges faced by the administration in implementing the policy.

The comments section of the report received a lot of attention. Some students praised the policy, while others criticized it. Some faculty members also weighed in on the issue, offering their perspectives.

The policy was met with mixed reactions, with some students and faculty members expressing concern about its impact on the campus community. However, the administration was determined to implement the policy and ensure a safe and healthy environment for all students.

The policy was eventually successful in reducing alcohol-related problems on campus. The university community worked together to adapt to the new rules, and the policy was widely accepted as a necessary measure to protect the safety and well-being of all students.

The story of the alcohol policy and the ensuing debate continue to be remembered as a significant event in the history of the university community.

REVIEW/CONCERT: The Bangles, Twisted Sister, and Iron Maiden

The Bangles appeared at the Paradiso Theater for a sold-out show on January 3rd, opening for them were the Priests. The former guitarist, Ian Gillan, good long time, or at least one song beyond the power of boards/organ, and Ian Paice on drums, were reminiscent to the recent comeback by the legendary band, Deep Purple. They sold out their show of their most popular line-up, and a near sellout to the sound of The King of Rock 'n' Roll was evident in the crowd where he was met by two guards. When he proceeded to open the show, the door was locked. He spotted a light on in the house while he pleaded, "I'm out of here!"

That's what life is like, and that is Rock 'n' Roll was evident in the performance. All of them are quality musicians, and it's about a family's relationship with the audience. They bring together a band that confused many of his fans by their performance. If you love The Bangles, you have to experience it in person. The word of mouth is the best. My rating: ****

REVIEW/CONCERT
Bruce Springsteen

Springsteen relaxed a moment in 1986 as he stepped on stage. He looked right into the audience and said "We’re going to have a good time..." Springsteen was not kidding. The energy was electric and the band put one of their best shows that night. The audience was on fire with anticipation. The music and lyrics were perfection. The audience loved it and so did we.

Springsteen has been playing for over 30 years and has sold over 100 million records worldwide. He is one of the most influential musicians of our time. His music has been described as "rock and roll meets folk art". He is a true American icon.

Springsteen’s songs are filled with themes of love, loss, and redemption. They are powerful and passionate. He is a master storyteller and his lyrics are often complex and thought-provoking. His music has a timeless quality that continues to resonate with listeners of all ages.

In conclusion, Bruce Springsteen is a true legend. His music has touched the hearts of millions around the world. He is a true American hero and a true artist. His music will live on for generations to come. This concert was a perfect way to experience his music and his message. If you missed it, you missed out on a true treasure.

ON A ROLL

The Lady Bears of Bridgewater are rolling on eleven game winning streak, the longest in school history, and have not lost since the New Year. They are annihilating opponents consisting of four losses. They have scored 16 points, rebounds, two blocked shots and three assists.

BRAMMERS COMMENTARY

The Bears, having compiled a little more than half of their regular season finds themselves in the midst of a winning streak. They are victorious against a team that has experienced some losses recently. On January 10th, they faced the challenge of scoring against a team that had not been defeated in recent memory. The Bears' offensive performance was impressive, scoring 80 points against their opponents.

In the NHL...

The Boston Bruins of '61-'62 are a team that has weathered the storm and come out on top, yet find themselves clinging to the edge of the relegation zone.

The Bruins' fortunes have been on the downhill for some time. The most recent game saw a triumph for Boston's Simmer who suffered a broken leg when he collided with Quebec's Will Peat in January 19. The loss continued to worsen the Bruins' situation, and they are now at risk of ending up in the basement.

Simmer said: "We've been on a couple of winning streaks, and that was the most recent one. We were on a losing streak, but we're back on top." The Bruins' next game is against the Montreal Canadiens, who are expected to win.

In the NBA...

"Blades and Board" is a documentary film about the life of a Cape Cod sailor. The film is expected to be titled "Sailor: A Life of Adventure" and is set to premiere in a major theater in the spring of the year.

The documentary features interviews with the sailor, his family, and friends, and provides a glimpse into the life of a sailor on the Cape.

FLUTIES

It is official: Attorney Bob Woolf will have a new client to represent him in the upcoming legal case. The client is the Fluties, a group of Boston University students who have been accused of public indecency.

Attorney Bob Woolf, who has a long history of representing clients in high-profile cases, has been hired by the Fluties to represent them in the case. He said: "I am very excited to represent the Fluties in this case. They are young, talented, and full of energy. I believe they will make great clients."
The Boston Bruins of '84-'85 are in a tough position, with many players having had previous injuries, yet find themselves vying for a spot in the Eastern Conference near the top.

The Bruins have been on the ice a lot this week, practicing for the upcoming NHL pre-season games. As a result, more players have been able to participate in the practices and work on their skills.

Last week, the team announced the signing of Goring and the trading of Nevin Markwart. This has given the team a boost in their ability to score goals. Goring's presence on the ice has been evident in recent games, as he has led the team in scoring with five goals in two games.

Injuries have been a problem for the Bruins, as many players have suffered from a variety of injuries. However, the team has been able to overcome these obstacles and continue to play at a high level.

On Monday, January 28, 1985, the Bruins will face the New York Islanders at home. The team is looking to continue their winning streak and maintain their position near the top of the Eastern Conference.
DEAR P.J.,

I signed up for a course I thought I might enjoy. Now I find, however, that it is a bit more confusing, but I think you could explain the procedure to me? I am still very confused.

P. J.

Sincerely, Confused Dropee.

President Reagon has said that it was a surprise to him that the swimmer was able to survive the accident, given the severity of the injuries suffered in the crash.

A Royal Caribbean Cruise ship, the Royal Caribbean, was en route to the Caribbean when it encountered rough seas. The ship's captain reported that the wave was so large that it caused the ship to list and come to a halt. The crew quickly put the ship into survival mode and began to evacuate the passengers. Fortunately, all passengers were able to be rescued and taken to safety.

In the meantime, rescue teams from various countries were dispatched to the area to search for any survivors. After several hours, a team was able to locate the missing swimmer and bring him to shore.

The swimmer was taken to a nearby hospital where he was treated for his injuries. Despite the severity of his injuries, he was able to make a full recovery and has since returned to full duty.

President Reagon congratulated the crew of the Royal Caribbean for their quick thinking and action in handling the situation. He also thanked the rescue teams from all over the world for their efforts in saving the swimmer.

The incident serves as a reminder of the importance of being prepared for all situations and the need for quick thinking in crisis situations.

The swimmer's recovery is still ongoing, but he is expected to make a full recovery. The Royal Caribbean continues to work with the ship's owner and the government to determine the cause of the incident and to take steps to prevent similar incidents in the future.

---

The incident is a tragic reminder of the dangers that can be faced while traveling and the importance of being prepared for all situations. It serves as a reminder to all travelers to always be aware of their surroundings and to take steps to ensure their safety while on the road.

---

The incident is being investigated by the Royal Caribbean and the government. The ship's owner is expected to release a statement on the matter in the coming days.

---

The incident is an unfortunate reminder of the dangers that can be faced while traveling and the importance of being prepared for all situations. It serves as a reminder to all travelers to always be aware of their surroundings and to take steps to ensure their safety while on the road.

---

The incident raises important questions about the safety and preparedness of the Royal Caribbean, and the need for stricter regulations and guidelines to ensure the safety of all travelers. It is hoped that the incident will lead to a review of current safety protocols and a reassessment of the need for additional safety measures.
