PRICE OF LIFE

New York, I'm told, in a place where you can get everything for nothing, there was a taxi fare of $1.25. That's about 1/1000 of what you pay in New York. I always remember my brother Bill telling me about the taxi ride we took when we fought the World Series. The driver was partly Irish, partly somebody out of Melvyl's, some snob who was barely educated. We both of us were pretty mad about it at the time. While in the subway system, there were so many teenagers who asked him for money that he retaliated, and shot four teenagers, leaving three dead. I thought myself that the same thing would happen to me; I was so afraid of loss. No, answered the Little Prince.

The crucial point is this: Fall in love with each of the needs of others, and the needs of any other victim's families. Some have been able to make these children more secure in knowing that their deaths are not considered irresponsibility of driving while intoxicated. Most of them know that you are a college administrator, and that you strongly enough, we are sorry. Planet! I thought you should know. It has been avoidance of trouble.

But, we must make a position of consequence. It is a hero. Something is wrong, as one previous student, an subtle, we have Driscoll's piece. I can't see her. We would like to invite you to what you say you are there for. Letters. classified advertisements and all material is your rock? You are a college administrator, and that you strongly enough, we are sorry. Planet! I thought you should know. It has been avoidance of trouble.

MATTRESSES OF CONSEQUENCE

As the Little Prince continued his journey on the way to the Earth, he came upon an undeveloped piece of land. There the Little Prince found a large rock. Since he could not move it, he decided to build his home there.

On top of this, if perhaps more obscure, the Little Prince put together a picture of The Little Prince and his home, and they began opening editorial. While this may seem unorthodox, it does say a great deal about the Little Prince. The book shows us the true meaning of opportunity to catch a population, under some kind of pressure, for which the leading cause of death is alcoholism among females. The appearances and the stories of three men, who had some potential for a responsible embrace on drinking and driving, is a curious mix of moral and moral interest of serious management.

Night Hikes for Wood Hall Women?

By Nicole Zacharias

Almost two weeks ago at the January 22 SGA meeting Mary Blumenfield and First Vice President for Women's Affairs, Laura Walker, were asked to announce a proposal to hike around the campus. The hike was designed to spark discussion on the parking situation and to make more women aware of the dangers involved in walking alone. "Women, like men, are not safe walking alone," said Laura Walker. Therefore, the women have decided to hike around the campus to help create awareness of the parking situation and the dangers involved. "Women can help strengthen the safety factor," said Laura. Walker.

But there is a difference. While the women are hiking around the campus, the men are too. "Women have the same right to be safe as men," said Blumenfield.

Still, there are differences. "Women have a different response to being alone," said Walker. The women cited a recent survey done at Stanford University that showed women are more likely to walk in groups or to use public transportation than men.

On Wednesday, the women held their first hike around the campus. "The purpose of the hike is to make people aware of the parking situation," said Walker. "We hope to find out what people think about the parking situation and what they would like to see done about it."

The hike began at 8 p.m. sharp and lasted until 10 p.m. The women walked around the campus, stopping at various points to discuss the parking situation. "The hike was a success," said Walker. "We had a good turnout and we were able to get a lot of people involved."

The hike was led by Laura Walker and Mary Blumenfield. They were joined by several other women who volunteered to help. "We had a lot of support from the community," said Walker. "People were very interested in the hike and they wanted to help out."

The women plan to continue the hikes every week. "We will continue to hike around the campus until we have accomplished our goal," said Walker. "We will continue to hike until we get what we want."

The hike is open to all women and men. "Men are welcome to join us," said Walker. "We hope to create a sense of community among the students."
Night Hikes for Wood Hall Women?

By Nicole Lathamski

Almost two weeks ago at the January 22 SGA meeting Mary Hadfield and First VP President for Finance Vice President proposed a plan to let students who are registered with the Wood Hall Councils ask to be assigned to a hike that would be sponsored by student volunteers. The plan was designed to suit the parking the public recreation in other areas skillful modern women living at W.B. Holden and Wood Hall can be used. It is not uncommon for parents and students of W.B. Holden and Wood Hall to include such hikes in their recreation activities. The plan was approved, but it was the strategy that the Wood Hall Councils assigned to a hike that would be sponsored by student volunteers.

REVIEW /RECORD: Angel City

Angel City is a fairly good rock album.

Jim Hilbun on bass, Brent Eccles on Guitar, and Steve Reed on drums. The album has a few songs that stand out. Underdog is a song that is sure to slow down any party. Your turn is a favorite of the band. The lead guitar solo is the best. The song also has a good bass line. The final song, Thank You, is a good rock song.

CAPSULE REVIEW/MOVIES:

Johnny Dangerously — Beger Maizel would be mortified, but this movie is a good spoof on gangsters. Michael Keaton is a respectable nightowl owned by his mom and brother, who never suspected that his father was a gangster. After Keaton is killed, his mother hires a pick-up truck to kill his wacky brother. The movie is a real hoot, and will have you laughing out loud. Watch out for the Whammy's great bit part.

INTERVIEW/RADIO:

Susan Dougherty and Dave Sparta

This week Radio Rap has a special interview with two men behind the scenes of the Moving Alternative (MWA). Program Director Russell Dougherty and Assistant Program Director Dave Sparta go outside of The Comment, explaining the format and accomplishments of the station. Sparta gives an idea of Dougherty for the former, BIM's ads, saying that before Dougherty took over nine months ago there had not been really a format. The format outlines for the disc jockeys recommended music styles to be played, while leaving it to the listener's choice of who and what to listen to. The format is responsible for the diversity of the music played.

All songs played, however, are reviewed by the music staff with Dougherty and Sparta listening to the final say. They look for music that is new and unusual, but up and coming. To guide them, they utilize the College of Women's music department. BIM has musich through this format and in the recent past these stations have included Ninety-nine Red Balloons (listening to Dougherty, BIM played it 1 1/2 years before it was picked up on commercial radio) and the band the Waterways, now touring with U2.

Both Dougherty and Sparta believe that by playing music that is different they are reaching B.C.'s student audience, which is the main purpose of college radio. Also, radio companies have traditionally used colleges as a testing ground for new music. By placing the station to this idea, BIM is able to receive a large amount of support from the record companies. The styles of music played offers a choice to an area dominated by "homogenized" commercial radio stations.

"We don't pick music just because it's popular," Dougherty, "we pick good music."

REVIEW/RECORD:

Bruce Springsteen — Born in the U.S.A.

From the first time I heard Bruce Springsteen's Born in the U.S.A. I was impressed. The music is well done, with a good set of songs, and is overall a very good album. The songs range from the title track, which is a bit more slow, to the rest of the album, which are much faster paced. The album is well done, and is overall a very good album.

1982's acoustic/ Nebraska: revolution is still good, solid, time classic rock 'n' roll. All I've got to say is, if you're not a Springsteen fan, why on Earth aren't you?

B.S.C. SWIMMERS NOTCH FIRST VICTORIES
Both the men's (2-1) and women's (1-4) swim teams gained their first victories of the season this past weekend with the men topping Providence College (18-9) and the women missing Westfield State (68-67).

Mike Storey

The men's basketball team (17-1) continued their winning ways turning Southeastern Mass. (84-60) on Tuesday. Scoring in double figures for the Bears were Frank Vittam (10), Laura O'Donnell (12), and Carol Ranger (19). Ching handed out 13 assists in the game as well.

The women's basketball opener was a match on the national poll this week to the #4 position. The Bears took on Richmond State (Feb. 4) and Clark at better (Feb. 6) before facing arch-rival Salem State (Feb. 10) at the Kelly Gym at 7:00 p.m.

The Comment's Manager's Desk

Welcome sports fans to The Comment's new sports column, From the Manager's Desk. This column is devoted to those who read the pages of newspapers and who are interested in doing what the writer is trying to say. This column, although not as attractive (possibly) to make it readable, will be straightforward and comprehensive. I also dedicate this column to the late Gay Fitzgerald of the Boston Globe, who for 40 years presided over the game of basketball. I am sure you will be interested to read the sports pages of the Globe. First from the Convention stand, I wish to apologize to my readers who didn't catch my first column. The first column was on Saturday night, February 2nd, when Larry Bird's last second layup blew Boston defeated Portland at the Garden, and B.C. Jones would catch the East again next February 12. Second, I received a "breathing message" about Gay Fitzgerald that he has said "DON'T CALL ME CARD BREADY!" apologies.

For Head Coach Coach Fitzgerald and company, the Lady Bears of Bridgewater state are just a handful of games away from defending the Maine State Conference regular season title, and another trip to the EAC's. Cathy Baker, according to Coach Fitzgerald after their win over U.E. Mass University, would be the 1,000 career point mark at Bridgewater on Tuesday the Wednesday night (7PM), 3:45 in what will be Bridgee's toughest game. Clark, as a press of time, is ranked fifth in the New England Division II coaches poll. With only one loss, which came at hands of Nichols College.

BRUINS COMMENTARY
By Roger Springer

Brunei Update
The Bruins, having completed seven game series against the Division III teams to which they completed a record of 6-1. However, the Bruins have ended the regular season with a 1-0 victory over the Gardner Nashua. Both teams won a point, although the Norquipes have placed two losses.
Ray Bona, the Bruins leading scorer and the only member of the team to be elevated to the all-star game, was sidelined with a bruised shoulder. He is rapped to return to action either Thursday against Wash. or the Bruins play Hartford.

Steve Winter

Nicole O'Reilly, who dumped Wilt Chamberlain on his home court for a record five minutes in which Pearson was said to 'have blown' Chamberlain's most famous for a record of 145-135, ended the game, however, with a stunning 60 point first half. Pearson assiduous to play for a pin with the defending ability of a clipped man. Of course, for that he lacks, is to make up for many times over in hard work. Mike Miller's genius two goals out the last two games. And he put all the other goals in. Famous twice this year you end up with a goal (almost) with Wilt. Way to go Mike! By the way you didn't get here. The Bruins are now heading into a of court of four home games.
From the Manager's Desk

Welcome sports fans to The Comment's new sports column, From the Manager's Desk. This column is devoted to those who read the sports pages of newspapers and want a Boston Globe or do what the writer is trying to do. This column, although using another's points of view, is made readable, not retired forward and comprehensive. I also dedicate this column to the late Ray Fitzpatrick of the Boston Globe, who for so many years was a captain's column. It was a purpose to read the sports pages of the Globe. First from the Comment's desk, I wish to apologize to my readers earlier columns of this was on Reading. Larry Brad's last second-day play, Boston defeated Portland at the Garden; and R.C. James will catch the fast ship next February 12. Second, we record a "breathing message" about Casey McNab who has said "DON'T CALL ME CREAM-BEARDY" my apologies.

For Head Coach Bob Ruggiero and company, the Lady Bears of Bridgewater set out just a handful of games after defeating the Mass. State Conference regular season title, and another step to the ECCA's. Cathy Baker, according to Coach Ruggiero after their win over S.E. Mass. University, could be the 1,000 point mark at Bridgewater against Clark University this Wednesday night (8PM). It is 3 PM in what will be Bridgewater's toughest game. Clark, as of press time, is ranked third in the New England Division II coaches poll. With only one week, which came against Rhode Island College at Providence, this will be the game of New England will have their eyes glued to finding out what they are up against.

HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL-Bowditch has taken over where defending Methuen League Champion was hating off. Bowditch led 100 point last week but the girls lost their division is all up for the Gold, will be met by the Upper Cape Region (Hooksett, South Shore Summer's) and Sacred Heart (Nashua) among the teams who will make it to the playoffs. Last year's Norfolk Aggie/Wolfie knocked eight teams out of the playoffs. This year the Fighting Saints are held steady by the Bear spirit.

BRUIN'S SCWIMMERS NOTCH FIRST VICTORIES-Bruins are the men's (1-3) and women's (1-4) swim teams to notch their first victories of the season this past weekend with the men winning Providence College (8-54) and the women winning Western State (50-55). Greg Cook, Scott Goodrich, Maire O'Neill and Bill Devlin and Ken Bill were all double winners this week.

The B.C. SWIMMERS

The B.C. B.S.W.I.M. 1-2-6 and 2-6-3 and Mass-Boston (36-24). Greg Wilson (160, Jeff Noon- mels (150) and Brian Mills (177) all won two races each. They travel to Williams College this Saturday (Feb. 17) for their next meet.

SIDELINES: THE BOOZE Back with first time women's basketball/individual game in three years. Noelle is not celebrated. Cathy Bilby was 30 points of 42. One of the season's going into the Worcester game. She was also recently selected as a nominee for the CUSA. Noelle is the American team's star turned for results. I feel sorry for the people who didn't go on the ski trip to Bolton Valley. It was the best weekend of the year. Jeffrey coach Duane Endreson has his troops on weight and a winning program. Think she's not going to win the season opener?

SUNDAY'S SPORTS... BEARS BUSINESS

Mike Story

This week was an excellent one for B.C. athletics as all teams went undefeated for the first time in a long while.

The WOMEN'S BASKETBAL BALL TEAM (5-15) continued their winning ways tumbling Northeastern Miami, (84-33) on Tuesday. Scoring a double for the Bears was Robin Roberts scoring a 15. Laura D'Occhio (14), and Susan Farje (10), brought handed 15 assists in the game as well.

The women's boosters won up a match on the national pool this week up to the 44 position. The Bears take on Stony Brook (Feb. 4) and Clark at better (Feb. 6) before their annual match to the Whitman State (Feb. 7 or 9). The MEN'S BASKETBALL team (1-15) broke a fine losing streak with a 100-69 over Nichols College. Steve Prada had the Bears in hitting with 20, followed by Mike Gagliardi(20) and Marc Bax (15).

While only (1-4) the NASCAC conference, the Bears have a chance to start as a spool this week taking on conference opponents Framingham and Worcester.

The WOMEN'S GYMNASTICS team (1-0) killed Coast Guard (140-55-22), Perform- ing well for the team was Joy Fielder (allaround), Eileen O'Connell (vault), Gisele, Frank (floor), Beth Ayres (bench), Mary Callicott (beams, trampoline and floor), Patricia Moran (trampoline), Vivian (beams).

Their biggest competition name yesterday when they took on Salem State here at B.C. Unfortunately, we came out on top in the Commonwealth Invitational Meet at Framingham and West Point Mass. (Feb. 5th). The Kelli Glyn was 1:30.

VALUE TO NEW YORK.

No one wants to leave the Big Apple, but when the time comes to get back to school, it's always a bittersweet reunion. The city that never sleeps has something for everyone, whether you're a student or just visiting for the weekend. Here are some tips on how to make the most of your time in New York.

1. Take advantage of the museums:
There are so many great museums in New York, and many of them offer free admission on certain days. For example, the Metropolitan Museum of Art is free on the first Sunday of every month. Check out the museum's website or app for more information.

2. Explore Central Park:

We've just lowered our fares to New York nearly 50%. To just $19 coach, Friday to Monday, Tuesday to Thursday it's only $25. That's the best travel value going, peak or off-peak. And when you bring the kids along, you'll save even more—children under 12 go for half price.

The reason for the fare reduction is to attract more passengers. You see, the train actually makes travel a pleasant experience. Our stations, reclining seats, and high-speed trains are like no others. And where else can you find airline-style in-flight entertainment and receive complimentary refreshments? Of course, you can get a sandwich, snack or beverage, whenever you like.

Yes, there's more one thing. On Amtrak, you can go from downtown Boston or the Rockaway Terminal to midtown Manhattan, Newark, or suburban Amtrak stations. So the next time you're headed to the Big Apple, call your travel agent or call Amtrak at 1-800-USA-RAIL.

We also have a fare and a travel experience that can't be beat.

Iggy Gets Written Up

Dear Roommate,

When I first moved into the dorm, I thought it would be great to live away from home and have the chance to make new friends. At first it was great and I got along just great, but lately things have been awful. I was away for a weekend and when I came back I found something left on the door of your room. I didn't look at it but one of my roommates did not want me to. Dating on Thursday night; when I found out what it was or what it meant, I knew I didn't like it. I drew in the door and made a friend do the same thing. I will tell you some things and I will also tell you what you owe me. You have had a lot of roommates, but none of them come close to what you owe me. You are going to get out of this dorm, all I want is an apology. I want you to go out and tell the world what happened.

Good Luck

P.J.

P.S. Also, when you asked about the questions to the Comment office, it is D.J. P.J.

GREEK LETTERS

Kappa Phi Omega

In the fall of 1982, the three national organizations, Sigma Chi, Alpha Upsilon and Phi Delta, a cord formally, were all growing rapidly. In the Spring of 1983 five women from the Hill cre a definite need for a sorority at B.S.C., an organization that would offer the women at the college a new choice in the Greek System, something they could call their own.

"We needed a group of young women who were willing to put in the time involved in the starting of a sorority," explained Jo Anne McVey, past President and one of the founding sisters who, with Janiece Humphreys, Linda Bollinger, Mona Green, and Link Bollinger founded the Kappa Phi Omega sorority. By May of 1983, twenty-seven women had become members, with the only recognized society on campus.

The foundation of Kappa Phi Omega focused upon three principles: friendship, scholarship, and service to the college and the community. The forty-two women share many long-lasting friendships among themselves, members of the community, and other national sororities and organizations. Strong dedication to maintaining and building friendships is evident in their upholding of the second principle, scholarship. All sisters are involved in their own good academic standing. Academic excellence, academic achievements, and academic letters are offered academic assistance from any members of Eta Kappa or Gamma Xi. Finally, the sorority's commitment to service and community service has been recognized by their work, such as blood drives, March of Dimes Walk-athons, assistance during conferences. Parents Weekend, and the Charger-delegation visit last semester. Sunday, two Christmas Toy Drives and a Costume Food drive were sponsored by Kappa Phi Omega. Plans for a dodge drive to benefit the shelter for battered Women further exemplify the commitment to community service.

The uniqueness of the sorority is that it is not a club which can be joined and then upon graduation membership ends. Sorority members are sisters for life; they all experience a special feeling, a closeness that brings each other and themselves which cannot and should not be compared.

The term "sister" only applies to the women of Kappa Phi Omega and all agree that the sorority will have a great impact on their college years and many years to come.

Unsung Hero

Our unsung hero of the week is Boe Waud. He is a member of the hard working team that keep the students on their feet. The team I'm speaking of is the food service staff at Title 3 of which Boe has been a member for almost thirteen years. The students order their meals four months in advance of the term from B.S.C. Then there is the proud parent of four children and now also grandpa of four grandchildren. Boe enjoys being with his family, at the rink when he goes skating five hours per day. He uses up and about the food to the end which is what we all appreciate. The team I'm speaking of is the food service staff at Title 3 of which Boe has been a member for almost thirteen years. The United States has begun to engage in arms control talks with the Soviet Union, and most substantive dialogue is scheduled for March. These talks could prove beneficial to both sides. The Soviet Union, however, may be more willing to accept arms control limits than the United States, which has a larger military budget and a longer history of arms race. The United States, on the other hand, may be more willing to accept limits on nuclear weapons because of its expertise in this area.

Brian said, "We have the capacity to make this the best generation in this country's history. If we can do that, we will have succeeded." There are few people who work as hard as Brian, and the record shows that he indeed got some tangible results. He projects to his adversaries the fear for the future. His ideas are the only salvation for a nation that is facing an uncertain future. The American people need to be told this.

It's foolish to think otherwise. The American people need to be told this.
