Fire destroys home

At approximately 4:30 Sunday afternoon Bridgegewater and East Bridgewater fire departments answered a three alarm fire at the home of Albert Munsen, Latham Terr. The fire left the roof of the house charred and the roof badly burned. Three firefighters were rescued from the scene to be treated for smoke inhalation. The alarm was called in by a neighbor who saw smoke coming out of the house, a witness told the Wicked. He also said that the owner and wife were not at home at the time of the call.

One of the injured firefighters, Ernie Elder of the East Bridgewater Department stated that the fire was going like a three alarm fire at the rear of the house.

Chief Charles A. Lory told reporters that the department would not begin investigation of the blaze until today. Lory said that they had to pull most of the streets down to check the area where much of the blaze was.

Elder also said that despite the holes made in the roof, the blaze was so severe that several men were overcome. Elder, Lt. Pown, and John Fox were treated by Dr. Levy at the scene for smoke inhalation before being transported by ambulance to local hospital. Pown was admitted Sunday evening to the Goodwill Hospital in stable condition. Pown and Elder were treated and as of Sunday it was expected they would be released.

China exchange begins

The exchange of faculty and students between Bridgewater State College and Shanxi University in the People’s Republic of China has officially begun.

In August, Professor Nancy Street of the Department of Speech Communi- cations, Theatre Arts, and Communication Disorders, along with students Steven Ricci (Class of ’86, Chemistry), Chuck Ricci (Class of ’84, Geography major from Narragansett, R.I.), Michael Bourbon (Class of ’87, Communication Arts & Sciences major from Richmond, Virginia), and Mary Ann Chess (Class of ’86, Communication Arts & Sciences major, from Westminster) said goodbye to family and friends, and boarded a plane for a year’s study in China.

A week later, arriving for two years’ study at Bridgewater, were Professor Chang Qing Chang, dean of the language department at Shanxi, and graduate student Ma Yemei (who will study Physics); Mrs. Xia Yan (Geography); Mrs. Zhu Mei Yue (Computer Science); and Mr. Guo Han- tan (American Structure).

The exchange agreement between the two schools was signed last November when a delegation from Shanxi Univer- sity headed by President Tan Boping visited Bridgewater. Several months earlier, College President Dr. Adlai Boullette led a delegation to Shanxi University, Vice-President, Academic Affairs Dr. Robert Allman, Professor George Sautkus (Mathematics and Computer Sciences), and Mr. Jayson Leung (Chinese) were members of that delegation.

Professor Chang Qing Chang, who will study American history during his stay in the College, said, "We are delighted to be here and look forward to making many new friends. Bridgewater is a very beautiful campus. Before I came, I had imagined what your campus would be like. Now that I’m here, I can tell you I’m very happy."

The College made arrangements with the Friendship Motor Inn to house the Chinese students. The inn is close to the College and has kitchen facilities so they may prepare their own meals. Bridgewater is well known to all of the students that arrived.

Mr. Chu Shen-ting, a sophomore from Duxbury, MA, makes plans for a year’s study in China. Everyone feels that a long term remedy will continue to drop.

SSAM president speaks

Public college and university students are beginning to see victories in the most legitimate, despising the perception held by many that we are an apathetic lot. Born of student frustration with the high tuition decisions-making process in a Bridgewater dorm room three years ago, the State Student Association of Massachusetts (SSAM) is now asserting a strong and positive voice for students of the Commonwealth's public higher ed-tuition on the tracks each day. Student bodies, as well as the right of the SSAM to function with another, and will provide for an undecided student to be seated on the Board of Directors. Students interested in becoming involved with SSAM may contact the BSC office at 617/357-1995. SSAM students are working for students. Together we can make a difference.

Space invasion hits home

This year the housing office instituted the policy of tripled rooms at the Great Hill Dormitory, where the space provided was meant to accommodate only two students. This policy is an outrage to the student body. Apparently we are cattle, where it is expected that we be herded into constantly shrinking spaces. Or as one student put it, "They put more hamsters into the habitat, but forget to add tubing.

According to the Social Service Department at Mass. Correctional Institute Bridgewater, a prison there is given 60 square feet of living area. In a triple at the Hill, there is only 40 feet in four inches per student. Subtract from this 24 square feet required for a bed and floor space has been cut in half. Perhaps these years of studying to get ourselves the privilege of living in a dorm would have better spent on the greasier side of the law. In addition, there has never been a secret on this campus that behavior problems at the Hill have at times been very difficult. Fire alarms are not set off all hours. Parties are no longer held that many students are forced to leave the space they have paid for and go to the library to study. Overcrowding does not improve the atmosphere and will probably be extremely detrimental. Even within only doubles the environment did not promote study, triplets will worsen the situation.

Another complicating factor is that although there are three beds, the rest of the furniture is not adequate. There are only two desks, two closets, and a dresser. Two drapes?? SSAM president speaks

Public college and university students are beginning to sense this in the very tangible, distilling the perception held by many that we are an apathetic lot. Born of student frustration with the higher education decision-making process is a Bridgewater dorm room three years ago, the State Student Association of Massachusetts (SSAM) is now assuming a strong and positive role for students of the Commonwealth's public higher education system.

Working with State Representative Nahillie Paelke (D-Westport), the new House chair of the Committee on Education, SSAM was able to secure not only the single most important increase in tuition of the four proposals being considered by the Board of Regents. SSAM also worked closely with Senate Education Committee chair, Senator Gerdard D. Alaminos (D-Worcester), in getting final enactment of his bill to increase state-based financial aid by some $30 million over last year.

And, before the Legislature went into summer recess, SSAM and State Represenative Dessa Lawrence (D-New Bedford), received unanimous House support for H. 4577, a bill that will recognize student government associations as official representatives of their respective student bodies, as well as the right of the SSAM to negotiate with any other, and will provide for an on-campus appeal for any student to be banned on the basis of discipline.

In a further act of legislative responsibility, SSAM has sought to encourage student involvement in the decision-making process. The SSAM Delegates to the Massachusetts Association of Student Councils for the first time, with the blessing of the SSAM Board of Directors, have scheduled a three-day training program for the fall of 1985. Three delegates will attend the course over the previous three years. At least two, this year.

SSAM

Registration of SSAM is at a record high this year, which means that the parking situation must be brought under control ever. I don't intend to debate whether residents or commuters are parking. That is another issue that I have strong views about. I am, however, very concerned about parking for un- parking students. I must seriously question the value of those who plan the parking arrangements before any other student is allowed.

As you may know, up until this semester there was separate parking on side for those in positions with three or more riders in their care. This area was in the gym parking lot, behind the Catherle Center. Removing the parking privileges takes away the freedom to car pool and adds to the number of people who will drive their own cars, which leads to the dubious parking lot. In our new environment we are now experiencing.

To add insult to injury, we cannot even see the tracks each day in so much quantity that most people don't know what they are for. Some of us are walking or running, because we can't see the tracks. We should be rewarded for this, not punished!

Suffering from Hunger

Next time you throw away some food, ask yourself, what is it that you think. More than 25 people die of hunger per day, in the United States. This is a result of our own negligence, and we must do something about it.

According to the Social Service Department at Mass. Correctional Institute Bridgewater, a prisoner there is given 60 square feet of living area. In a triple at the Hill, there is only 40 feet 4 inches per student. Subtract from this the 24 square feet required for a bed and floor space has been cut in half. Perhaps these statistics is a discussion on the priv savers that living in a room would have been better spent on the grayer side of the law. An earthquake in 1976 was the second major earthquake to occur in the United States. In 1978, the third major earthquake occurred in the United States. However, the vast majority of Americans are not aware of these two events. Yet we waste more than 300 billion pounds of food every year, or about 16% of our total food production. Requests for emergency food assistance have increased in recent years. In the past two years, more than 36 million Americans have lived below the poverty line in 1985. This is more than one out of ten Americans. The United States is both the world's largest food producer and consumer. However, we waste more than 200 billion pounds of food every year.

This year the housing office instituted the policy of tripled rooms at the Great Hill dormitory. The administration that is instituting them. Despite the administration's statement that is instituting them, the housing office has never been a secret for parking space. Commuters are not receiving a giveback to pay the parking tickets they have received due to the unavailability of legal parking spaces. They have been forced to leave the parking lot they have paid for and go to Lack of parking space.

BSC Parking is at the Great Hill, there is only 36 square feet for two students. This policy is an outrage to the student body. Apparently we are cattle, who it is expected can be herded into constantly shrinking spaces.

ESCC professor digs for clues

Young, tall, blond Dr. Curtis Hoffman walks slowly by the side of the Indian Head River, pointing, picking the ground and occasionally stepping on a small pebble. "This is a good one," he remarks while feeling the sharp, edges of the quartz. "This is a good one," he declares, dishing it up with pride.

Dr. Hoffman is on an archeological dig and what he holds is a chip left over from an ancient Indian fisherman. He examines the flake, sitting on the ground upon which he is walking. Today the ground is literally covered with these chips. It is not always this way. The landowner is now - and has been for years - recovering the ancient artifacts.

Dr. Hoffman, an associate professor of sociology and anthropology at Bridgewater State College, often shares his head as members of his team of Bridgewater students b woken from these ancient artifacts.

"Basically," Hoffman says, "we are trying to find the relationships between the people who lived here over the past 10,000 years and the landforms."

The SGA has decided that ESCC needs more people for its summer program, the annual $125 to purchase "Bridgewater State College on the move."

The SGA also decided to honor the May 1985 SGA, SLAM, and the College of Business Administration by allocating and amount of dollar per member. The funds were expected to be collected as a fee in the next few weeks.

"Like the student body, the Environmental Science Association is interested in going to the next step in our archeology program," Hoffman said.

Your stars this week
Sofia Wilder

The weekly western occult reading for everyone in the way of astrology.

SCORPIO (Oct.23-Nov.21) - A friend or colleague may have been working behind your back this week quite considerably; you should find yourself a bit closer to your dreams—and quite a bit closer as well! Those who would have seen your hopes and desires should find themselves in the position of being good friends as the week goes on. As such they will be good subjects for you to ask about their motives and desires this week; don't hold back.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) - You may experience an increase in popularity this week, a new welcome friendship may bring a great many friends. (Dec. 23-Jan. 19) - You may meet with stonker's authority with which you're associated. Avoid self-importance.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) - There's a good week for self- evaluation. Try solving their own situation through another's eyes. (June 21-July 22) - Try to avoid this week, but do not fail. Save your energy for the weeks that will be more challenging and opportunity.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) - This week may bring challenges for you, but may also cause some stress on your own relationships. Pay it smart. (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) - You will do well to be patient this week. Your time has not yet arrived.

PICTURES (Mar. 18-Apr. 5) - A moment of the week that will make major changes of minor changes this week. Maintain a good perspective. (March 26-Apr. 22) - A moment that will make you think of weekend, the act and are not the departures carefully.

SHOTOKAN KARATE CLUB KICKS OFF!

By Lorrie Goff

There's a club kicking around on campus that not too many people know about. It's the Bridgewater State College Shotokan Karate Club. Interest in the club has been steadily growing and this is to go on one of its best years yet. In addition to the inter-collegiate arena and special clubs, the BSC club will be hosting the combined New England Colleges Karate Conference and New England Karate Federation Tournament. December is the first time in five years the club will hold its own tournament. New members are always welcome to join the club and students are invited to drop in and check out the club. The first meeting of the year will be held Monday night, September 16th, at 6:00 PM. in the small gym. Says the club instructor, Sensei Anton Resende, "Karate is certainly challenging. It tests the individual's patience and control.

Also, Sensei Resende and the members of the club would like to offer their congratulations to Toby Hill, a national competitor, on his new departures carefully. moment!..."

Ticketing change
Be Advised: Campus Police will begin ticketing as of today, Sept. 16th. Make sure you park legally.

Rhodes/Fulbright scholarships available
Seniors who have an interest in studying abroad after graduation may wish to know of two possible sources of funding: Fulbright Grants and Rhodes Scholarships. Rhodes Scholarships are for study in Great Britain only, but the Fulbright Grants allow for graduation in a wide range of countries in Europe, South America, Asia, Africa, and the Orient. Both programs require applicants to demonstrate substantial academic achievement, knowledge of a foreign language (where appropriate), and the ability to support themselves during the program of study or research to be undertaken. As a result of final deadlines for both programs, prospective applicants should begin assembling materials immediately. Application forms and further information are available from Mrs. Nickerson, Rhodes/Fulbright Program Advisor, Tilligbee 312 (ext. 2260).

Concerned about AIDS?
Campus Police will begin ticketing for individuals concerned about exposure to the virus associated with AIDS. For more information about this free confidential testing service sponsored by the Department of Public Health and Counseling Services, Inc., call (617) 522-4900. Walk-in service 9-5. Outside Boston call collect.

Names needed
All clubs and organizations should send a list of officers' names and addresses to the Officer of Student Service ASAP.

Bad eating habits?
Do you have a roommate or know of someone who seems to have bad eating habits? Do you suspect she may be heading towards anorexia or bulimia? A fellow BSC student of yours, who is a recovering bulimic, knows and understands many of the problems you are going through and would like to share her experience with you and her approach to recovery. Meet with her Thursdays at 8:30 in the seminar room of the Union. On call Mrs Flaggerty in Health Services (697-1212) after 8:30.

Help plan homecoming
A Homecoming ‘85 planning meeting will be held Tuesday, September 17, in the SCA annual chambers of the SCA at 7 o'clock. Everyone is welcome.

Dear P.J.,

I must be the best four years of my life. Well, say that if you want. I am a sophomore and I do think I am going to be a sophomore. My comments and I don't get along, but I am doing well in college. I am still driving my mom insane and I don't think I'll fix it. What should I do?

Signed,
Hopelessly

Dear P.J.,

I am writing to pass along a job opportunity to you. If you are interested, please contact Dwight Cook in the Admissions Office, Tilly at 897-2921.

Dear P.J.

I read your column in every issue last year and I'm glad you retained this year, your advice is great. I have one question for you. I'm a commuting student and I have part-time work to pay bills and have no time to worry about parking. I hear that the Chateau of Hill Downs is a place where you and your car are very welcome. What do you think of this hotel and its parking?

Dear P.J.

Everyone was safeguards in the best four years of your life. Well I say they were. I'm a freshman and I don't think I'm going to make it as a sophomore. My comments and I don't get along, my parents are already driving me insane and I don't think I fit in. What should I do?

Signed,

Dear Hopeless,

You have to hang in there and try hard to make it work. You've only been here for two weeks, at least give it a chance. Discuss your problems with your roommate(s), and if that doesn't work see your R.A. As far as classes are concerned, just do your best, and it will show. Just remember every fresh-man goes through Freshmanitis, you'll get over it. Join clubs and activities, there is so much you can do here. I'm sure you'll get along with someone.

Good Luck!!

P.J.

Dear P.J.

I was just offered a position which is quite disagreeable to get out of. The only thing I can suggest is for you to write a letter to the president. Have juniors and seniors sign and present your privileges and submit it to Campus Security and President Routledge. Remember though, there is a limit of red tape you must go through to get what you want. But go for it you've paid hard earned money to come to this school. Stand up for something that should already be your privilege!

Good Work!!

Cheap Trick will break your Heart

By Mark Avery

Heart and Cheap Trick closed this summer’s “Concerts on the Commons” series. I went to see them on September 5th. Cheap Trick opened with “Heart Want You to Want Me.”

The band is composed of Robin Zander (vocals and rhythm guitar), Rick Nielsen (lead guitars), Bun E. Carlos (drums), and Tom Petersson (bass guitar). Although the night started out bad in terms of sound, they seemed to lack a certain degree of energy. They did not sound bad, but they didn’t sound enthusiastic. They only performed for a bit over an hour.

One thing that did keep Cheap Trick’s show interesting was Rick Nielsen’s antics and collection of guitars. Rick would change guitars for gestures to various members of the audience all the while. Rick even provided some appropriate vocals for the song.

The group sounded equally as good on soft ballads as on hard rock songs. Many of the songs performed were from their new album, entitled simply “Heart.” Their new top 40 hit, “What About Love,” is from this album. They did a lot of old songs, including “Aller,” “Barracuda,” “How Can I Refuse,” “Dreams of Ordinary Butterfly,” “Boo Le Strange,” “Magic Must,” and “Crazy For You.”

Although it was the first time I had heard Heart’s new material, it was performed as well. The band’s style is reminiscent of the Wilsons’ four-octave voice blended well with the rest of the band, which includes sister Nancy (vocals), Howard Leese (guitar), Mark Andes (bass), and Denny Carmassi (drums).

The group sounded equally as good on soft ballads as on hard rock songs. On some songs Nancy Wilson played acoustic guitar and keyboards. Heart performed for about two hours, along with two encore songs.

Day of the Dead

By Mark Avery

“Day of the Dead” is George Romero’s third attempt to capture the essence of the film’s style. Romero is well known for his work with zombies and his films have captured the attention of audiences around the world. “Day of the Dead” is no exception. The movie is set in a post-apocalyptic world where a zombie outbreak has occurred. The story follows a group of survivors as they try to find a way to survive and eventually escape.

The film’s main focus is on the horror elements, such as the terrifying zombies and the dark and desolate setting. However, the film also contains a deeper message about the human condition and the consequences of violence and war.

The film is directed by George Romero and produced by his own company, Continental Films. The film stars Tom Savini as the lead character, a zombie survivalist named Ken. The cast also includes Robert Z'Dar, Frank Collora, and Mariela Parra.

Although limited to the final scenes of the movie, the genre's focus on the horror elements is showcased in Romero's previous works. Despite the lack of zombies, the film's themes of survival and the consequences of violence are still present.

The film was released in 1985 and received mixed reviews from critics. However, it has since gained a cult following and is considered a classic of the zombie genre.

The film's themes of survival and the consequences of violence are still present today, and the film's imagery and tone continue to inspire filmmakers and audiences alike.
Cheap Trick will break your Heart

By Mark Avery

Heart and Cheap Trick closed this summer's "Concerto on the Commons" series. I went to see them the ninth time. Cheap Trick opened with "Heart! I Want You to Wear Me." The band is concept. The frontiersmen (bass and rhythm guitar), Rick Nielsen (lead guitar), Robin Zander (drums) and Bun E. Carlos (drums) created enough light for the cameras. Black ink was added to the prilling rain to make the view visible against the cloudy sky.

The Multicultural Film Group welcomes suggestions or ideas for the Multicultural Film Series and hopes that the films will help viewers develop an appreciation for the major cultures to be found in international films. As well as for the cultures which are represented. If you would like to be a part of the Multicultural Group, or have an idea for a film, please call Marian Spencer 1-214.

Day of the Dead

By Mark Avery

"Day of the Dead" is George Romi's third attempt at the real classic, "Dawn of the Dead," "Day of the Dead" is a spin-off on the 'Dawn of the Dead' franchise, taking the world of zombies. Tempers flare. People trapped in this hopeless situation are killed off in the movie. The military provide protection and subjects for mass experiments, satire, seeing multitudes of zombies being hit, knived, shot with pistols, and gutted. Flesh and blood splatters everywhere. Flesh and blood are also excellent.

For those who haven't seen "Day of the Dead," "Day of the Dead" is a spin-off on the 'Dawn of the Dead' franchise. The next Club Soda event will be held Wednesday, Sept. 25, at 6:30 p.m. The cabaret will feature lions, tigers, and bears in a hilarious notion of "I'm a Little Tapster." Although limited to the final scenes of the movie, the genre givesgraphic's surfeit of that Roman's previous releases. Dead films. Kritett corps are opened. Teeth are sunk into flesh while eyeballs everywhere. Flesh and muscle are gashed off the bone. It's an argu of blood and guts. Maybe one day, "Day of the Dead" will be Elvira's cult classic.

In the meantime, if you like suspense, action, and great music, you'll love "Day of the Dead." No language experience necessary.

Club Soda sparkles

By Elizabeth Kelly

Last Wednesday, Sept. 11, the Student Union Program Board pre­ sented this year's first Club Soda Comedy Night to the S.U. Rathskeller to a full house. The evening's entertain­ ment consisted of three of Boston's funniest comedians: Mr. Chris Spencer, Mr. Jim Carey, and Mr. Turf Rend.

Spencer started off the evening with a crisp, rapid-fire routine. Spencer was a finalist this year's annual WBCN Comedy Riot Competition in Boston. As was the following comedian, Jim Carey. Carey's act was also excellent. His low-key style was very good as a lead-in for the final act of Earl Reed. Reed is from Lawrence, At the end of his terrific act, Mr. Reed led the crowd in a hilarious chorus of "I'm a Little Tapster."
Tears take season opener 27-6

By Anthony Faggen

With the sun shining above their heads and the glint of the sun off their helmets, the Bridgewater Bears football team was ready for their 1985 New England Football Conference season opener against the Framingham State College Storks on Saturday at Easton Town Stadium. Fortunately for the Bears, the weather was beautiful.

Bridgewater opened the season early in the first quarter as sophomore quarterback Steve Martarano connected with Shawn Mellis for a two yard touchdown pass, earning the Storks 6-0 lead. The Bears didn't appear to be phased by the early deficit, as they were able to score a touchdown early in the second quarter. With the score now 6-0, the winning team was not as simple as Bridgewater.

Second string quarterback Bob Hill was the hero for the Bears in the second quarter, along with some of the other reserves, and played his way into the end zone for the win. The Bears led going into the half 13-6.

The running attack has only been able to improve in recent years, and the Bears were able to maintain this pattern in the second half. Bob Hill rushed for 130 yards, and the Bears' defense did the rest, allowing for the Bears to win the game. The Bears ended the game with a 27-6 lead, and the Storks left the field dejected.

When the 1985 preseason football camp opened up way back on August 26, head coach Peter Mazzafero had over 80 candidates batting for spots on this year's squad. Of those, 38 were returning veterans and 42 were new faces.

The football team is led by senior Chris Powell at quarterback, senior Dave McDonald through the hands and arms of Bridgewater's defense. Martarano's excellent pass was sneaked in the second quarter with a 2-0 lead, but a 7-yard scramble by Andy Nickerowski put the Bears up 27-6 in the third. With the sun shining above their heads, the Bridgewater Bears football team was victorious in their season opener against the Framingham State College Storks on Saturday at Easton Town Stadium. Fortunately for the Bears, the weather was beautiful.

Bridgewater opened the season early in the first quarter as sophomore quarterback Steve Martarano connected with Shawn Mellis for a two yard touchdown pass, earning the Storks 6-0 lead. The Bears didn't appear to be phased by the early deficit, as they were able to score a touchdown early in the second quarter. Bears take season opener 27-0

By Anthony Fagen

The win sitting above their heads is the experience of playing against two-time Super Bowl champions the Chicago Bears. But at least their name appears in the New England Football Conference standings. The Bears have always been a team that has had a good defense. This year, they have a new offense, one that can put the ball in the end zone more often.

The Bears opened the season with a 27-0 win over the New York Giants, making them 1-0 in the league.

Mazzafero has new outlook for season

By Mike Story

The Bears opened the season with a 27-0 win over the New York Giants, making them 1-0 in the league. Coach Dan Zoch has been working hard at making the offense more effective this year.

The running attack has only been hindered by Andy Napolitano and sophomore Shayne Strong, who led the team in rushing last year. Napolitano has improved his ability to read plays. But Bicknell, athletic director Bill Flynn, and the entire coaching staff have worked hard at making 1985 an exciting season in all of the sports areas.

I don't know what's going on in the NFL. I've been watching the games for a while now, but I still can't make sense of it. Some teams are good, some are bad. It's like trying to predict the weather.

The Browns may have a shot at the AFC Central this season. They're not as bad as they were last year, and they have a solid defense. But they need to improve their offense if they want to win.

The Patriots are always a tough team to beat. They have a good defense, but their offense is a problem. They need to find a way to score more points.

The Bengals are another team that could surprise people. They have a strong defense, and they can put up a good fight. But their offense is inconsistent, and they need to improve that aspect of the game.

The Giants are always a threat. They have a lot of talent on both sides of the ball, and they can cause problems for any team. But they need to find a way to stop the Bears.

The Jets are a tough team to predict. They have a lot of talent, but they also have a lot of questions. They need to find a way to stop the Bears, and they need to improve their defense.

The Colts are a team that can be beaten if they're not careful. They have a good offense, but their defense is a problem. They need to work on that aspect of the game if they want to win.

The Bears are the team to beat this season. They have a lot of talent, and they're working hard to make them even better. But they need to find a way to stop the Giants.

Bears business agenda

By Mike Sturry

The Bears are on a roll this year, and they're not going to let up. They carried the momentum from last year into this season, and they're playing with a lot of confidence.

The Bears business agenda includes:

1. Continue to improve the offense. The Bears have a lot of talent, but they need to find a way to score more points.

2. Improve the defense. The Bears have a strong defense, but they need to find a way to stop the Giants.

3. Find a way to stop the Giants. The Bears have a lot of talent, but they need to find a way to stop the Giants.

4. Work on special teams. The Bears have a lot of talent, but they need to find a way to make them even better.

5. Keep the momentum going. The Bears are on a roll, and they need to keep it going if they want to win.
AGENDA, cont. from page 13 from last year's 4 squad. Things can only get better here with their first opponent being Whiting College this Thursday, September 17.

The cross country team's (men's and women's) are getting their first running early as both biomed in the Brown College Invitation this past Saturday. Then men's team should be very strong with veteran Scott Yakota and Tom Catell orig., bide MACs all-commence meets, next week.

Newcomer Gregg Correll should open up some eyes in this year's year as well.

The exchange of faculty and students between Bridgewater State College and Zhejiang Gongshang University in the People's Republic of China has officially begun. In August, President Nancy Street of the Department of Speech Communication, Theatre Arts, and Communications hosted, along with students, Steven Ritz (Class of '86, Chemistry), Greggory Massingale (Class of '84), and Mary Ayers (Class of '84, Communication Arts & Sciences major, from Hamilton, MA) at a special dinner at Westgate's. They visited Bridgewater. Several months earlier, College President Dr. Adrian Bondina led a delegation to Zhejiang University. Vice-President, Academic Affairs Dr. Robert Duffin, President George Seaborn (Mathematics and Computer Science) and Ms. Joyce Lyons (Librarian) were members of this delegation.

Professor Cheng Qing Chang, who will study American History during his stay at the College, and who will spell for the students here and help to make many new friends, Bridgewater is a very small place.
