The purpose of a "State" college

The purpose of a state college is to provide a degree education for students that can't afford, or might otherwise be discouraged from attending four-year colleges. In addition, writing samples will be required of all applicants. All applicants will be forced to decide between BSC (should they be strong enough to try) and the "final all you can do" is the last, but in 2007, your future or your life.

As a student or a parent of a student, you should be aware of the following:

- Under President Heidbrink's direction, the BSC Administration has been a leader in the national campaign to combat drug abuse and to attend college.

The implementation of new, more stringent standards for incoming freshmen is a major step in raising the quality of its applicants will begin the cycle of improving the image of the school and its reputation by accepting only applicants with outstanding credentials, not just those who simply think they might want to go to college, and with a policy of not accepting any student who has not submitted an application. For the sake of the students and the institution itself, this policy is necessary to ensure that the College is not acting contrary to that purpose.

To the Editor:

I have been reading the comments of the students about the food service at Bridgewater State College, and I must say that I agree with them. The food is lackluster, and the meals are not as good as I expected. I have been disappointed with the variety of dishes offered, and the quality of the ingredients used.

I would like to suggest that the college administration consider hiring a professional chef to oversee the food service. This would ensure that the food is of the highest quality and that the meals are well-prepared. Additionally, I would like to see the institution offer more vegetarian options and accommodate dietary restrictions.

In conclusion, I believe that the college administration should take action to improve the food service at Bridgewater State College. It is a responsibility of the institution to provide a healthy and delicious meal for its students.

Sincerely,

BSC students head for China
By Misa R. McNamara

The poem, "The Path Not Taken" by Robert Frost, expresses change or which way to turn when faced with change. Also in the choice made, the correct one. Melissa Deans was a member of the class of 1986 in English and is facing just that choice. In one week she will be half way around the world, in China. Deans was one of two students who will be representing Bridgewater as an exchange student for a year. Deans was one of the first at the University of Science and Technology of China. Her father, Roland Deans a Bridge water alumnus, worked for the Department of Defense, so the family moved often.

The desire to keep moving was one of the reasons Deans has decided to go to China.

"It is time to move, I have lived on one place long enough and it is time for change."

Another reason that she chose China was because she has never been to Asia. She is a SpanishCommunications major with minors in Chinese and History. She hopes to one day go to graduate school in England. She feels that the experience in China will prepare her for this because, she said, "If I can survive Asia I can survive anywhere."

I can survive Asia I can survive anywhere.

Ensemble Theater by Jo Kennedy

Did you know that an Ensemble Theater group exists here at Bridgewater State College? Do you know what one is? Well, Ensemble Theater is a group of people interested in conducting theater related activities.

One misconception that BSC students have is that you have to be a theater major to be a theater student. This is, however, an incorrect assumption. Any Bridgewater student may participate in Ensemble Theater. There are no restrictions, just a desire to be involved in a community theater group near home, or a high school drama club. Not only will you have had a remote director, all of the plays on stage or anywhere else. In particular, several members of the group don't dream of performing in front of 3,000 spectators, an audience is a small group.

The important thing to note is that it doesn't matter if members want to be involved in a theater-related job after graduation. All that matters is whether people are interested in acting, dancing, or finding out what you are behind the curtains.

The next Ensemble Theater meeting will be Wednesday, October 14th at 3:00 p.m. They meet in the Green Room located in the Rondaley Campus Center. If you can't attend this meeting then visit the Theater Department on or around the green door of the Campus Center. Please ask about the Ensemble Theater organization for they are interested in you.

Greek Council

This year marks a new beginning for the Greek Council. We would like to make it fun and exciting, the best year possible. We intend to achieve this by doing the following.

First of all, the Greek Council would like to bring together all of the sororities and fraternities on campus.

Secondly, the Greek Council wishes to improve relations with the student body, the school administration, and the town of Bridgewater. And last, we would like to gain the respect of the Bridgewater community as a whole.

The important thing to note is that it doesn't matter if members want to be involved in a theater-related job after graduation. All that matters is whether people are interested in acting, dancing, or finding out what you are behind the curtains.

The next Ensemble Theater meeting will be Wednesday, October 14th at 3:00 p.m. They meet in the Green Room located in the Rondaley Campus Center. If you can't attend this meeting then visit the Theater Department on or around the green door of the Campus Center. Please ask about the Ensemble Theater organization for they are interested in you.

Greek Council

The Greek Council would like the Greek Associations to become a integral part of campus life. We are planning many events that are fun as well as beneficial to all people involved with Bridgewater State College. Some of the events may include dances, picnics, fund raisers and many other social events for Greek Council members.

BSC students head for China

By Mona M. McNally

The poem, "The Path Not Taken" by Robert Frost, expresses change or which way to turn when faced with change. Also in the choice makes the correct one? Melisa Dansereau a member of the class of 1989 is facing just that choice. In one week she will be halfway around the world, in China. Dansereau is one of two minors who will be representing Bridgewater as an exchange student for a year. Dansereau isn't part of the 100 women in Germany. Her father, Roland Dansereau a Bridgeport resident. worked for the Department of Defense, so the family moved often.

The desire to keep moving is one of the reasons Dansereau decided to go to China. She said: "It's time to move. I have lived in one place too long and it is time for a change."

Another reason that the choice as well was because she has never been to Asia. She is a Spanish Communications major with minors in Chinese and History. She hopes to open the door to future opportunities. She feels that the experience in China will prepare her for the future, she said, if "I can survive Asia I can survive anywhere." The important thing to note is that it doesn't matter if members want to be involved in a theater-related job after graduation. All that matters is whether people are interested in seeing plays, or finding out what goes on behind the curtains...

The next Ensemble Theater meeting will be Wednesday, October 14th at 3:00 pm. They will meet in the Green room located in the Rondileau Campus Center.

By Mike D. Hall

Dansereau feels that because she will be gone for a year the biggest problem will be loneliness. She said, "It's like going to senior year for me. I think China will be exciting, but there is only one other American coming with me so we will get through the year together..."

She plans to keep in touch with America. The other American is BSC Biology major Chris Bert, Bert is a member of the class of 1988 and will be doing a directed study in Biology. He hopes to attend Medical school in the future. Dansereau feels sure that this year in China will be a positive experience.

She said, "What I get creative is when I am in a low point in my life. This is an opportunity to look at change in my life in a different way. If I see it if is not what I had envisioned at first, then there will be good things about it." Dansereau will be taking classes while in China, and also working. She said, "I know that I won't be studying. I won't be sure and one thing that I will miss is the change and the learning." She is planning to take some mixture of modern dance and still life art as well.

"Personally I haven't been disappointed. They are trying very hard to give us more nutritional food and the salad bar is better. They give small portions of dinner and dessert because last year a lot of food went to waste." Pati Sweeney

"I think it's ten times worse than last year. They try and make it better than what college kids look for." C.J. Panna

"It's worse because I used to like to eat in the subs shop for dinner because I'm in sports, but now you can only eat up to $2.35 and everyday over that you pay more. Also it doesn't make sense that if Tilly they are charging $4.00 for all you can eat. You can't spend up to $5.00 at the subs shop."

"Ansel Adams: A Special Relationship" by Brian Hayes

Ansel Adams is a name that conjures up images of beautiful, redwood landscapes and a more serious approach to photography. Adams was one of America's greatest photographers—not because he showed as Yves Saint Laurent and The Grand Canyon, but because he showed us that... a new and interesting way. No other artist had the skill and ability of this great modern photographer.

Adams was one of the photography world's most curious to ask was if he had thought about Livingston Taylor is that he was more than just Livingston Taylor's brother, something of which I am very proud of. When people look for a chance to interview someone where they don't know you is that thing that I was thinking about. Mrs. Turner's muscle-bound, wall-to-wall, high-energy flair

Lost Boys—restore your faith!

By Mike O'Connor

This is definitely one of the heavier albums to come out of San Francisco in a long time. "The Big Chill," "Dancing in the Dark," "Seven Days," all songs that are really heavy, the type of songs that I really enjoy. The lyrics of this album definitely are a little more soft and tender, the type of songs that I really enjoy.

Livingston Taylor thrills audience at Campus Center

By Debra Willis

As I walked down the hall toward Livingston Taylor's dressing room, I wanted to get a good seat and run. It was my first interview and I guess I wanted to stay. I have been nervous if a man I admire the most is the brother of James Taylor's, he is his own person. When I walked into the dressing room and introduced myself and my two moral suspenders, his first thing: "I'm not your old man, just me."

By Mike O'Conner

This is definitely one of the better albums to come out in a while. Unlike the Big Chill, or Fiction Factory, this album is original. The album kicks off with a strong, rocking tone. "Good Time" by JINX and Jimmy Ruffin is one of the great songs on this album with male vocals. This tone is followed by another strong track called "Linda Lou." The song is written by former Singer Louie Lane. The lyrics of this song definitely should be placed in a book called "Linda Lou," the most memorable song in the film.

Loverboy's Rick Wilson follows with his answer to Elvis's "Love Me Tender." This album is a great album for theロックファン. All of these kids really understood the music. "Happy Flowers" by T.J. and "Helter Skelter" was another great song on this album.

By Kent Leach

Get to the country's roots and you'll find Gregorian Masses, the old-time harmony, the unpretentious lyrics and careless music in the images, at least they should.

Livingston Taylor that is. he's James Taylor's brother, and think that's a lot better than Frank Zappa's gate.

The first song of the album is "Let Your Love." The album is about 33 minutes long and is a lot harder to listen to.

The second song on the album is "Mama's Brand New Bag." This album is about 33 minutes long and is a lot harder to listen to.

The use of the school paper. Then he got people jamming with his music. He played songs about Kerouac in Connecticut and his other songs about how she didn't want to know the love, and another about putting his blue jeans in the washing machine and turning it on.

What would you expect from a band that puts a "heavenly" album, titles like "Covers My Body is a great acid." "Mom, I'm older". "If I Win the Lottery". "Satan's Reckoning", "I Love My Stripes". "I'm a Stranger in the Land", founder of the Clarence Kennedy Gallery, Cambridge, will feature over 250 photographs, portraits both by Adams, and many examples of his correspondence with Dr. Poland, (1948 and 1983). The Clarence Kennedy Gallery is open to the public with no admission charge.

Water Polo takes opener

The BSC Water Polo team got off to a quick start last Saturday, winning their season opener 11-7 over “Lively Dog” Westfield University at Kelly Gym. Last week’s birthday boy with a beard and his fourth birthday, the game did only cost the Colonels two goals, and the Colonels won the game with a 1-3-1-3 goal spread.

This season’s Tri-Captains are returning club members Martha Smith, Donna Morland, and newcomer Nancy Powers. The Colonels are looking forward to playing MACAC Games.

Coach Kathy Bouchard and the team are excited about their varsity status. The women put in a lot of hard work practicing in double and triple sessions. The team won at the presessional jamboree at Wheaton College where they finished with an impressive 3-1-3 record.

In the Westfield State game, Terri Millen coached a goal in the first half and Jamie DiGiammarino scored second half. Unfortunately for the Colonels, their Colonels were beaten by a determined Colonels in the Westfield State game.

Mr. Mister’s newest should “go away”

By Dave Sparta
I don’t know what to say. My mom told me that I didn’t have anything good to say. I didn’t say anything. Yet, I have to review this album. Oh, hell, boy.

Mr. Mister breaks the score with their track “Brother Wongs” and “It’s Love.” Their sound album “Welcome to the Real World” has an original pop-flavoured touch that makes the band unique. But why now with the Batman’s album “Drama?” That album is the name of Mr. Mister’s track. It should be with the Batman’s because the band should take their reputations and vacation from anywhere and everywhere.

This track is downright hilarious. It is about as funny as it can be.

The band seems to have a theme song. It’s about Mr. Mister’s love affair with the Batman.
