SGA attorney resigns his position

By Ed Ward

On Tuesday, October 28, 1987 Student Government Association President DeRosa DeSilva announced the resignation of SGA Attorney James R. Levine.

Levine was appointed to the position in May of 1986, and has served as the legal counsel to the Student Government for the past four years.

Shawn Oliver, SGA legislative coordinator, said that Levine's resignation 'puts us in a position where we need a new attorney.'

Levine said that the most significant change in his role had been the transition from a part-time position to a full-time position.

He added that he was looking forward to a new challenge.

Levine has been involved in many legal issues for the SGA, including the Pro-Tem system and the constitution.

He said that he was proud of his work for the SGA and that he would miss the students.

Levine's resignation is effective immediately.

Chairperson Marcia Madonna called the first meeting of the SGA on Thursday, October 26. After a long administrative report, President Deborah Meyers announced that the SGA would be leaving its position and that one of its associates would be taking its place.

Amidst questions from Congressperson Karen Reginelli, President Mahmoud informed the Congress that the company attorney Donald Hodge would be leaving his position and that one of the associates would be taking his place.

At the meeting, the Congress voted on a new business with the appointment of Christopher Asola and Marcia Madonna as associates. A motion that called for the resignation of the Bible Talk club followed, but it failed because no members of the club were present. The motion was voted on from the floor in the meeting when the club’s Vice President Tim Duffy arrived to speak on behalf of the group. Congressperson Paul Tucker asked whether the group was ready to vote on a second issue, but Duffy stated that he was ready to vote. The motion failed by a vote of 8-2-4. Before the meeting adjourned at 7:00 p.m., Congressperson Richard DeAbreau proposed to continue the use of SGA property for personal gain. In response, Duffy stated that in order to vote on a second issue, the SGA is out of order. The motion failed by a vote of 8-2-4. Catch that Homcoming spirit

Idiocy in the name of "school spirit"

To the Editor:

Homecoming has come and gone. Everyone had a great time again this year, or at least as much as they remember of it. People took the idea of Homcoming spirit to the limit again this year, going further than ever before.

It all began with the tailgating parties at the football game. Only true owners of the people at State Fair ever used the game. The rest began snarling at noon and many continued until they passed out. Actually, the tailgating began the last Thursday of October, States and New Yorks went off across the nation.

For example, people who made the mistake of using the Purcells. Purcell in the football game found themselves tipped on their sides. After the game many of the tailgaters proceeded to the Clinton's. As the police close the bar down the BSC students and alumni entreated the place, tipping over tables and breaking glasses.

And it continued on into the evening to the Metro stop.

The night was set up as an under - and over - night with a bar open off for them over 21. The problem was that some people showed up drunk and had to be shut off by the bartenders before they were even served a drink. Others went into her bar and remained there the entire evening, drunk, until it was asked to be closed. As a result, the entire her had to be shut down. The polls of wild animals then set in. The best and most popular result was

Will any action be taken?

Addison Repertory Center

Bridgeport State College's Theatre Department and Ennui are pleased to announce the premiere of "Lock Up Your Daughters", a musical that takes a satirical look at the way we live and the way we die. The performance will be held at the Addison Repertory Center, located on the campus of the college.

Paul Hayden, a BSC alumnus who has been working with the theatre since its inception, will direct the production. He is the founder of the New York-based company, Ennui, which has gained critical acclaim for its productions of avant-garde works.

Hayden's adaptation of "Lock Up Your Daughters" is a satirical look at the way we live and the way we die. The play follows the lives of several characters who are trapped in a murder mystery, and their choices will determine their fate.

The cast includes a diverse range of performers, including both seasoned actors and new talent. The production will be supported by the Bridgeport State College Theatre Department, which has a strong tradition of producing innovative and thought-provoking works.

The performance schedule is as follows:

- October 29, 31, 32 at 8 p.m.
- November 1 and 2 at 2 p.m.

All performances will be held at the Addison Repertory Center, located on the campus of Bridgeport State College. Tickets are on sale now and can be purchased online or at the box office.

"The saving grace for the die-hard Squeeze fan" is how the band's lead singer, Glenn Tilbrook, describes their latest album, "The Boys Knew Nothing." The album is a collection of 10 tracks that showcase the band's signature sound, with a mix of pop, rock, and folk influences.

Squeeze's latest release features a blend of introspective and uplifting songs, with themes ranging from love and heartbreak to social commentary. The album's title track, "The Boys Knew Nothing," is a powerful statement about the band's experiences and the challenges they faced while making the record.

Another standout track is "I Want You," which features a driving beat and catchy melody. The song's lyrics are a call to action, encouraging listeners to stand up for what they believe in.

Squeeze's music has always been characterized by its catchy hooks and memorable melodies. The band's latest album is no exception, with each song delivering a memorable musical experience.

"The Boys Knew Nothing" is a must-listen for any fan of Squeeze's signature sound. It's a testament to the band's enduring talent and their ability to deliver a timeless pop album.

Men's soccer team ties nationally ranked Salem State

By Damon Lenox

The Men's Soccer team scored a late goal to tie nationally ranked Salem State, 2-2. The game was played on Saturday, October 28th.

The Bears, who are now 2-5, were able to hold off the powerful Salem State team for most of the game. Salem State is currently ranked 15th in the nation.

The Bears took an early lead in the first half when Tim Flocchino scored on a penalty kick. Salem State, however, tied the game back up later in the first half on a goal by a player from Salem State.

In the second half, the Bears continued to press and finally scored the winning goal on a penalty kick from Bill Butts.

The Bears will look to build on this win as they prepare for their next game against Eastern New England College on Thursday, November 2nd.

Sports Short: Women's Soccer

Bridgewater State University women's soccer team remained unbeaten, 6-0, after a 3-0 victory over Fitchburg State.

The Bears, who are currently ranked 25th in the nation, scored three goals in the first half of the game. The goals were scored by Kerri Bonanno, Tina Kaczynski, and Karina Richardson.

The Bears will look to continue their winning streak as they prepare for their next game against Fitchburg State on Thursday, October 31st.

Women's Soccer Player of the Week

Kerri Bonanno was named Women's Soccer Player of the Week for her performance in the game against Fitchburg State.

Bonanno scored three goals in the game, including the game winner, which gave the Bears a 3-0 lead. She was also named Player of the Game.

Bonanno's performance helped lead the Bears to a 6-0 victory and put them in a good position for the upcoming games.

Sports Short: Men's Soccer

The Men's Soccer team continued their strong performance with a 2-1 victory over Fitchburg State.

The Bears scored two goals in the first half of the game, one on a penalty kick from Bill Butts and the other on a pass from Tim Flocchino.

In the second half, Fitchburg State came close to tying the game, but the Bears were able to hold on for the 2-1 victory. The Bears are now 3-0-1 on the season.

The Bears will look to continue their winning streak as they prepare for their next game against Fitchburg State on Thursday, November 2nd.

Irvig L. Levine speaks on economy

By Byron Slawi

The Bridgewater State College Lecture series presented its second guest speaker this fall, Irving L. Levine, Professor Emeritus of Economics at the New York University School of Law. Levine began the discussion by speaking on the economy, especially Wall Street and factors which affect it. The focal point was the degree and moderating the federal deficit.

"Today, October 29, the President held the second meeting on the budget process: reducing the deficit. The current deficit is $2.00.

"The economy is getting us high signals, and depending on whether you put the emphasis, one will find conflicting and positive signs," Levine said, adding that the nation’s gross national product, rising high and maintaining its status, and that "the recession is a temporary recession."

Levine next spoke on the federal deficit and possible ways to reduce it. Upon the topic of the press conference, Levine has given his free-car attic to the Bridgewater Chorale, which has provided a wonderful musical experience, and also a fun way to meet some new people. You can earn a credit while having a great time. We meet Monday and Wednesdays from 3:00 to 4:15, and the only requirement is that you show up to your concerts!

SAO attorney resigns his position

By Bill Blaha

On Tuesday, October 27, 1987, Student Government Association President Donald Bader announced that he had informed the SAO Congress that Donald Bader would be resigning his position as SAO Attorney. "The Executive Board made a unanimous decision that changes had to be made due to some complaints by students and some things in the concern that he could not cope with." Bader has been providing free legal counsel and advice to students for four years. But, Blaha said, "This new student administration does not understand and does not cooperate with the services I provide for the students. It has sought to challenge my work and create a climate of distrust. I'm here to help keep students safe.

Bader has been providing free legal counseling to students for four years. But, he said, "This new administration does not understand and does not cooperate with the services I provide for the students. I'm here to help keep students safe."

"The challenge of the SAO is a never-ending and very, very large one. It is in the interest of the student to maintain a relationship of trust," Blaha said.

Because the SAO is a never-ending and very, very large one, it is in the interest of the student to maintain a relationship of trust, Blaha explained that last year he was mandated by President John Myers to suspend the SAO’s activities. He suspended the SAO for six months. He explained that the SAO has been receiving complaints from members of the SAO Congress, and that the SAO Congress was in violation of the constitutional by-laws of the SAO Congregate Pro-Tec system.

The court filed a unanimous decision to uphold the system on October 22. The ruling stated that the court does not have jurisdiction over the SAO. The Pro-Tec system is within the parameters of the constitutional by-laws. The decision was based on Robert Robin’s Report of Order, which states that you can be made by pod in legal annual meetings.

According to Robert Robin’s Report of Order, "a penny is a power of attorney given by an officer to another person to vote in his stead."

DeRosa loses court case

By John Burns

Lawrence Marquardt, chief of the SAO, announced that the SAO Congress was in violation of the current SAO organization. The reason for suspending the SAO was the apparent conflict between the current SAO organization and another branch of the SAO Congress, which was also in violation of the current SAO organization. The suspension of the SAO Congress was based on a motion by the SAO Congress to dissolve the SAO Congress and reorganize it.

Defessa has claimed that the system now being used and the SAO Congress was in violation of the current SAO organization. The reason for suspending the SAO Congress was based on a motion by the SAO Congress to dissolve the SAO Congress and reorganize it.
