2-18-1988

The Comment, February 18, 1988

Bridgewater State College

Follow this and additional works at: https://vc.bridgew.edu/comment

Part of the Education Commons, and the Social History Commons

Volume 66
Number 3

Recommended Citation
Retrieved from: https://vc.bridgew.edu/comment/592

This item is available as part of Virtual Commons, the open-access institutional repository of Bridgewater State University, Bridgewater, Massachusetts.
When do we start? - Mary Shea and Karen Hughes, winners of last Thursday's drawing, were off to Fort Lauderdale, but now are back in Bridgewater, thanks to some inclement weather. (Photo by Paul Couyhard.)

Tuvim lecturing BSC GOPs
By Paula Stetson
Special to the Comment

On February 8, Dr. Yuri Tuvim, a Soviet citizen, came to the campus as a guest of the BSC Republican Club. He spoke of life in the Soviet Union.

"I am like living under a totalitarian regime," Tuvim said. "The changes that place under Gorbachev's policies of Glasnost and Perestroika.

The Soviet Union, Tuvim explained, is defunct, changed draificantly, but in what he is not certain, and he means the Soviet Union isn't there. The present system is in crisis, and it's experiencing such difficulties that something must be done to change it.

According to Tuvim, there is a lack of freedom and democracy in the Soviet Union to such an extent that they are undergoing a crisis. Tuvim stressed that "a terrible crisis cannot succeed without internal suppression and external aggression. The Soviet Union, to survive, must destroy all opposition and move to the West."

"If we do not have a firm and fervent society, we are not working with a central planning government," Tuvim said. "There are billions of people who are unorganized, and we must be able to control this."

Tuvim said that the Soviet Union is facing a crisis that is a threat to its existence.

When do we start? - Mory Shea and Karen Hughes, winners of last Thursday's drawing, were off to Fort Lauderdale, but now are back in Bridgewater, thanks to some inclement weather. (Photo by Paul Couyhard.)

Student Government fee battle: to raise or lower annual rate
By Brent Rossi

Two motions to charge the $24 per semester Student Government fee will be voted on at the March 14 Senate meeting. Former Senate President, Jefferson Fernald, is sponsoring one motion, while the other is sponsored by S. Joseph Lange. Both motions will be debated and voted on at the March 14 Senate meeting.

The first motion to reduce the $24 fee will be submitted by Fernald. The second motion, submitted by Lange, will be to increase the fee to $30 per semester.

The Student Government fee is currently $24 per semester.

Student Government fee battle: to raise or lower annual rate
By Brent Rossi

Two motions to charge the $24 per semester Student Government fee will be voted on at the March 14 Senate meeting. Former Senate President, Jefferson Fernald, is sponsoring one motion, while the other is sponsored by S. Joseph Lange. Both motions will be debated and voted on at the March 14 Senate meeting.

The first motion to reduce the $24 fee will be submitted by Fernald. The second motion, submitted by Lange, will be to increase the fee to $30 per semester.

The Student Government fee is currently $24 per semester.
Phone-a-thon raises alums money

Vernon Domingo speaks on apartheid at the Hill

Campus news at a glance

By Bruce Russell

Community Staff

Just three days into its annual fundraising phone-a-thon campaign, the Bridgewater State College Alumni Association has already raised one-tenth of its $250,000 goal.

According to Ellen Cuttle, who is in charge of the phone-a-thon, the usual goal is to raise $250,000, but due to the down economy, they have decided to raise $200,000. The phone-a-thon, which has been part of the Alumni Association since 1974, began on March 15, and will run until March 10. Cuttle said that approximately 25,000 alumni will be contacted in that period.

"The alumni have been wonderful," said Cuttle, "especially in light of what has happened around here in the last few months. They've been more supportive than ever.

The purpose of funds raised, said Paul Conroy, director of the Alumni Association, is to "supplement the college budget where the centennial would not fund.

"We're making a great investment on what we have now," continued Conroy. "We can be as resourceful with our alumni as any in the country in making it happen.

The phone-a-thon, which usually employs four to five alumni at a time, asking alumni if they would like to make a donation to help improve Bridgewater, is called the "March of Magnificence."

"We've given the alumni employees four nights a week for over ten years, asking alumni if they would like to make a donation to help improve Bridgewater. According to Cuttle, the money is used for projects such as the refurbishing of the Game Hall, which will be an alumni-faculty house when completed, scholarships for students and faculty members and international study.

Domingo is the political science chairman of the Earth Science and Geography Department. The mingle, which was open to the public, has been held every year.

The phone-a-thon is independent of any outside political organizations. Members and leaders from all parts of the political spectrum have been involved.

If enough pressure is placed upon the leaders in the political arena, results will happen. Since 1961, approximately one-half of the 50,000 people who have gained their degrees at the University of South Africa, have been released.

The organization, a group of students, has refused to sell its list to any political party.

The organization has a campus newspaper, which links colleges and universities around the country.

Amnesty International is a movement of people who are working for rights for all.

The goal is to release all prisoners of conscience, to stop the treatment of political prisoners, and for an end of torture and the death penalty.

Although Amnesty International is independent of all political groups, the organization is independent of any international or national governments.

The organization is independent of all political groups, the organization is independent of any international or national governments.

The goal is to release all prisoners of conscience, to stop the treatment of political prisoners, and for an end of torture and the death penalty.

Amnesty International is a movement of people who are working for rights for all.

Although Amnesty International is independent of all political groups, the organization is independent of any international or national governments.

The goal is to release all prisoners of conscience, to stop the treatment of political prisoners, and for an end of torture and the death penalty.
Phone-a-thon raises alums money

By Renee Rossi

Community Staff

Just three days into an annual fundraising phone-a-thon campaign, the Bridgewater State College Alumni Association has already exceed one-third of its $250,000 goal.

According to Ellen Cutt, who is in charge of the phone-a-thon, the usual suspects--thus far--have answered the call around the country at 1-800-556-3565.

The phone-a-thon, which has been part of the Alumni Association’s fundraising activities since 1974, began on January 15, and will run until March 10. Cutt said that approximately 13,000 calls will be conducted in that period.

“The alumni have been wonderful,” said Cutt, “especially those alumni who have served in the military access to overseas positions with the Peace Corps and who are not able to see a representative during the recruitment drive. We are hoping to fill the phone-a-thon before that point.

The purpose of funds raised, said Pat Connery, director of the Alumni Association, is to "supplement the college budget where the cent would work the best.

"The main argument is what we have new," continued Connery, "we can be as much as 30 percent more of the money we are used to improve Bridgewater. actually, Connery, is called the "Magnet of Excellence."

The phone-a-thon begins early, employees work four nights a week, four hours each night. If they don't work enough for money to work to help improve Bridgewater. According to Connery, the money is used for projects such as renovations to the Winchell Hall, which will be completed this year, for students and faculty members and for international programs.

Connery also stated that the phone-a-thon will continue to all departments and will be "be exciting."

The Alum Association is in its first year of this year, and the phone-a-thon is going well, with $250,000 this year, $200,000 next year, and $750,000 the following year.

Several causes are returning to take part in the phone-a-thon, including the Children’s Defense Fund, 1982, and 18th. Alums of 1972 are preparing to raise $300,000 for the United Fund for Dr. Ionjs.

Connery said that the life of the phone-a-thon is "very exciting."

Campus news at a glance

The United States Postal Service has installed a combination stamp/change machine in the entrance to the Campus Center. The machine has been sitting in the entrance for several weeks, but was inoperational until Wednesday. According to a Campus Center official, now that the machine is working, stamps will no longer be available at the photo desk downstairs in the Campus Center’s main foyer, once their current supply runs out.

Channel Four Meteorologist Bruce Schwoegler will present a lecture on Wednesday, February 26, entitled "Weatherwise and Weather." The lecture will begin at 7:15 p.m. in the Franklin J. Hilferty Lecture Hall of the Commonwealth Review. The lecture will be sponsored by the Earth Science and Geography Club.

The inaugural issue contains articles by Kryzanek and Dr. Charles Fanning of the BSC English department. The Commonwealth Review, a magazine encompassing all nine Massachusetts state colleges, was published in response to a congressional mandate to nearly double the number of Peace Corps volunteers. Peace Corps recruiters are launching an ad campaign near the bookstore on Wednesday, February 24, from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m.

The Peace Corps will also sponsor a special film presentation, "The Toughest Job You’ll Ever Love," with free admissions at 7:15 p.m. in the Campus Center Green Room. Interested students are invited to stop by and meet Peace Corps volunteers.

Anthem International establishes B.S. Chapter

By Bryan Haywood

Community Staff

I’ve only been here two weeks, but I’ve already made a lot of friends here," said Student Representative on Anthem International’s Board of Directors.

Anthem International is a movement of people who are working for so, goals. These goals are the release of prisoners of conscience, their treatment of political prisoners, and for an end to the death penalty.

Although Anthem International is a movement of people who are working for so, goals, the organization is independent of all other political parties or groups. Members are elected to the board of the organization and other officials, on the behalf of the prisoners. According to Do-

Anthem, “faster writing campaigns have been done, with letters being sent out to Romanians, Honduras, and Ethiopia.

If enough pressure is placed upon the governments that they should work to cover up the problems, eventually, results will happen. Since 1981, approximately 30,000 people have been granted amnesty by various governments.

Anthem International is a movement of people who are working for so, goals. These goals are the release of prisoners of conscience, their treatment of political prisoners, and for an end to the death penalty.

Although Anthem International is a movement of people who are working for so, goals, the organization is independent of all other political parties or groups. Members are elected to the board of the organization and other officials, on the behalf of the prisoners. According to Do-

Anthem, “faster writing campaigns have been done, with letters being sent out to Romanians, Honduras, and Ethiopia.

If enough pressure is placed upon the governments that they should work to cover up the problems, eventually, results will happen. Since 1981, approximately 30,000 people have been granted amnesty by various governments.

Anthem International is a movement of people who are working for so, goals. These goals are the release of prisoners of conscience, their treatment of political prisoners, and for an end to the death penalty.

Although Anthem International is a movement of people who are working for so, goals, the organization is independent of all other political parties or groups. Members are elected to the board of the organization and other officials, on the behalf of the prisoners. According to Do-

Anthem, “faster writing campaigns have been done, with letters being sent out to Romanians, Honduras, and Ethiopia.

If enough pressure is placed upon the governments that they should work to cover up the problems, eventually, results will happen. Since 1981, approximately 30,000 people have been granted amnesty by various governments.

Anthem International is a movement of people who are working for so, goals. These goals are the release of prisoners of conscience, their treatment of political prisoners, and for an end to the death penalty.

Although Anthem International is a movement of people who are working for so, goals, the organization is independent of all other political parties or groups. Members are elected to the board of the organization and other officials, on the behalf of the prisoners. According to Do-

Anthem, “faster writing campaigns have been done, with letters being sent out to Romanians, Honduras, and Ethiopia.

If enough pressure is placed upon the governments that they should work to cover up the problems, eventually, results will happen. Since 1981, approximately 30,000 people have been granted amnesty by various governments.

Anthem International is a movement of people who are working for so, goals. These goals are the release of prisoners of conscience, their treatment of political prisoners, and for an end to the death penalty.

Although Anthem International is a movement of people who are working for so, goals, the organization is independent of all other political parties or groups. Members are elected to the board of the organization and other officials, on the behalf of the prisoners. According to Do-

Anthem, “faster writing campaigns have been done, with letters being sent out to Romanians, Honduras, and Ethiopia.

If enough pressure is placed upon the governments that they should work to cover up the problems, eventually, results will happen. Since 1981, approximately 30,000 people have been granted amnesty by various governments.

Anthem International is a movement of people who are working for so, goals. These goals are the release of prisoners of conscience, their treatment of political prisoners, and for an end to the death penalty.

Although Anthem International is a movement of people who are working for so, goals, the organization is independent of all other political parties or groups. Members are elected to the board of the organization and other officials, on the behalf of the prisoners. According to Do-

Anthem, “faster writing campaigns have been done, with letters being sent out to Romanians, Honduras, and Ethiopia.

If enough pressure is placed upon the governments that they should work to cover up the problems, eventually, results will happen. Since 1981, approximately 30,000 people have been granted amnesty by various governments.

Anthem International is a movement of people who are working for so, goals. These goals are the release of prisoners of conscience, their treatment of political prisoners, and for an end to the death penalty.
Apathy abounds among Americans

By Christopher Penn

God's chosen people shall not kill

By the Editor

When is a bookstore not a bookstore?

By Bill bilboard

Newsworthy

Apathy abounds among Americans

By Christopher Penn

God’s chosen people shall not kill

By the Editor

When is a bookstore not a bookstore?

By Bill bilboard

Newsworthy
Apathy abounds among Americans

By Christopher Pena

A week ago I went to a lecture at Bridgewater State College. It was a small lecture hall, and the students were taken aback when I said, "Why don't we just leave the poor kid alone?"

Sunday afternoon, I was attending a meeting for students, for the last time in Bridgewater. I was informed that she had made the decision to resign, as she was supposed to stay the 500 rounds of the bullet that hit her. I was so happy for the kid to die. The police said they would investigate the case.

Last week, the police was looking for a story, but this was illegal. It happened to be on the line in the United States. They thought for a minute with the police, but it was stupid. They said that the police was to know that they were investigating other crimes. I was saying to the police that they were ignoring their families. I was saying to the police that they didn't care about the people.

Yesterday people were asking what do all the people who have died from mass shootings have in common. I was saying that all the people were killed in the same way. I was saying that the police are just doing their job.

Yesterday people were asking what do all the people who have died from mass shootings have in common. I was saying that all the people were killed in the same way. I was saying that the police are just doing their job.

Apathy abounds among Americans

God's chosen people shall not kill

To the Editor:

Something bothering me is that I am not writing this. It is not because I cannot get to the paper, but because I cannot trust my own thoughts. When I see people, I...
Celebrate the 4686th Chinese New Year

By Christine Howard
Comment staff

Firecrackers, parades, lantern shows, and time spent with family characterize the Chinese New Year. For the Chinese students at Bridgewater State the celebration this year was different, but the New Year was not forgotten.

Last Wednesday was the Spring Festival, which marked the start of the Chinese New Year, the biggest holiday of the year. Yu Shi-Hao, an exchange professor who has been at Bridgewater for a year and a half, said, "It's something like a Chinese Christmas, it's traditional. Within the subcultures it's celebrated differently." In the south near Hong Kong they say more attention to the evening before, in the north more attention is paid to the first day. Yu said that the subcultures also have different types of food eaten during the holiday. In the north, dumplings, which are filled rice, are enjoyed. Yu is from Shanghai, China's largest city. It was divided into sections by various European countries. Yu said that because of the mass migration influenced, traditions are not as important in Shanghai as they are in the north, and other regions.

Yu said that differences in celebration can also be noticed between the youth and the adults. The youngsters pursue the western style and hold parties with music and dance. They don't like the traditional Chinese music.

This year is the year of the Dog. Xiao Shi, who has also been here a year and a half, said that the dog is considered by people to be a good year because the dog symbolizes power and good luck. The year is a 12-year cycle - the Rat, the Ox, the Tiger, the Rabbit, the Dragon, the Snake, the Horse, the Goat, the Monkey, the Chicken, the Dog, and the Pig. Xiao said that according to the ancient story the King of the Animals called a meeting of all the animals, and the one that was the first to show up, the Ox was chosen, and on.

New Year's Day is called the Spring Festival, because it signifies the start of spring, a new year, and new life. According to Yu it is very similar to the American Christmas: it is a time of family, give and take. On the day of the Spring Festival people visit family and friends, and exchange gifts. Xiao said that the visits are determined by tradition. If he was married with a family of his own, he would spend the eye with them. The Spring Festival he would visit his parents, and on the second day he would visit his wife's parents.

The New Year is celebrated for 15 days. One half month from the New Year to the Lantern Festival. Xiao said they have traditional evening shows, and parades, with people wearing elaborately designed costumes, representing the animals of the year. During the Lantern Festival many neighborhoods hold lantern shows and the homes are decorated with lanterns throughout the days before the Spring Festival.

Several days ago I thought this holiday would go by without celebrating it. I didn't think Dr. Simes would give a party to celebrate this holiday, that there would be so many friends. Yang Dong, who has been at Bridgewater since last October, said that the difference of celebrating in China and America is, "At home we only have Chinese people here, we have a missed lot." He said that the Chinese New Year celebration here is a sort of celebration. The atmosphere is very colorful, happy. He enjoyed having Chinese as well as American dishes at the Bridgewater State celebration.

Several days ago I thought this holiday would go by without celebrating it. I didn't think Dr. Simes would give a party to celebrate this holiday, that there would be so many friends. Yang Dong said, "I'm quite happy this year, so I would not have reached this festival." Yang said that he has been at Bridgewater since last October, and said that the difference of celebrating in China and America is, "At home we only have Chinese people here, we have a missed lot."

Dr. Simes, who has given many parties to celebrate this holiday, said that he would like to continue the celebration. He said that the celebration is a way to bring people together. Yang said that he would like to continue the celebration. He said that the celebration is a way to bring people together.

Just because your Mom is away, doesn't mean you can't have a date. You can still share the love and laughter on AT&T Long Distance Service. It costs less than you think to hear that she likes the peace and quite, but she misses you. So go ahead, give your Mom a call. You can clean your room later. \textit{Reach out and touch someone!}

Liz Corsini-Boston University-Class of 1990
Returning to the Park Plaza Hotel's Terrace Room for its fourth season, the 1988 edition of Forbidden Broadway is as good as ever. The show opened last Wednesday to a packed house and carries on in its tradition of merciless but good-natured assault of showbiz landmarks as Stephen Sondheim, Andrew Lloyd Webber, and the current Boston hit, Les Misérables.

Sondheim, Les Misérables and Starlight Express seem to be the writer’s pet peeves this year. Starlight is derailed by the outrageousness of the theme and the money poured into the whole thing. Into the Woods gets the audience “Into the Woods” of Sondheim’s deep, tongue-twisting lyrics, written with little or no singability and meant to numb the mind. And Les Misérables catches the bullet several times for its long, revolving stage, and irony. (The idea that people would pay twenty bucks for a shirt that had a picture of a starving pauper printed on it.) Although the favorites, these are by no means the only victims. Joe Papp (Threepenny Opera) is portrayed as “Papp the Knife”; Barbra Streisand aspiring for the lead in Evita, the movie; and Annie, over the hill, on the bottle, and still hoping for a sequel.

The Phantom of the Musical is unmasked, (to reveal a surprising true identity); Lena Horne skips roles across the racial barrier, and the remakes are previewed of Anything Goes, Cabaret, and Hello Dolly (starring Carol Channing, again). The specific shows and personalities are not the entire brunt of the abuse, either. Several numbers take a rather cock-eyed glance at theatre owners such as the Shuberts and the Nederlanders; making them look like the Hatfields and McCoys, the ambition and nepotism of these trying to hit the big time, and the changes in the styles (and countries of origin) of today’s Broadway shows.

If I’ve left out any aspect of the Great White Way that could have been attacked, Forbidden Broadway certainly doesn’t. The show is lively, well-paced, flowing, and extremely funny. The music and choreography are fantastic. And the whole thing can be enjoyed even by people who are not frequent patrons of the musical stage. For even if not all the shows, songs, and people mentioned are completely recognizable, the message comes across loud and clear. Forbidden Broadway is a show that should not be missed.

Forbidden Broadway roasts musicals

By John Burns and Brian Hughes

Comment staff

Celebrate the 4686th Chinese New Year

By Christine Howard

Comment staff

Firecrackers, parades, lantern shows, and, time spent with family characterize the Chinese New Year. For the Chinese students at Bridgewater State, this celebration this year was different, but the New Year was not forgotten.

Last Wednesday was the Spring Festival, which marked the start of the Chinese New Year, the biggest holiday of the year. Yu Shih Hsi, an exchange professor who has been at Bridgewater for a year and a half, said, "It's something like a Chinese Christmas, it's traditional. Within the celebrations it's celebrated differently." In the south near Hong Kong they pay more attention to the evening before, in the north more attention is paid to the first day. Yu said that the north students also have different types of special foods during the holiday. In the north elongated fish is preferred, fish and chicken are enjoyed.

Yu is from Shanghai, China's largest city, which for many years was divided into sections by Japan, and various European countries. Yu said that because of the multi-national influence, traditions are not as important in Shanghai as they are in the north, and other regions.

To tell that difference in celebration can also be noticed between the youth and the adults. The younger pursue the western style and hold parties with music and dance. They don't like the traditional Chinese music.

This year is the year of the Dog. Xiong Shi, who has also been here for a year and a half, said that the dog is considered by people to be a good year, because the dog symbolizes power and good luck. The year dog in 12-year cycle - the Rat, the Ox, the Tiger, the Rabbit, the Dragon, the Snake, the Horse, the Ram, the Monkey, the Chicken, the Dog, and the Pig.

Xiao said that according to the ancient story the King of the Animals called a meeting of all the animals, and the first was the ox who was the one to show up, the ox was the first, and on, on. New Year's Day is called the Spring Festival, because it signifies the start of spring, a new year, and new life. According to Yu it is very similar to the American Christmas; it is a time of family gathering and tradition. On the day of the Spring Festival people visit family and friends, and exchange gifts. Xiao said that the visits are determined by tradition. If he was married with a family of his own, he would spend the eve with them. On the Spring Festival he would visit his parents, and on the second day he would visit his wife's parents.

The New Year is celebrated for 15 days. Half month marks from the first New Year to the Lantern Festival. Xiao said they have fantastic lantern shows, parades, with people sporting elaborate costumes, representing the animals of the cycle. During the Lantern Festival many neighborhoods hold lantern shows and the homes are decorated with lanterns.

Xiao said the New Year means "One more year, a new start, the whole family together, we make food, watch tv, drink together." He added that most people arrange their vacations around the Spring Festival.

Yang Tao, who has only been here for about a month, said that it is a real celebration by many people in working new clothes to celebrate this year. This is especially in the rural areas. He said that on the eve of the Spring Festival parents give money and gifts to children. The children are allowed to stay up late, and wait for the New Year bell to sound, the children are then responsible for releasing firecrackers at daybreak.

Several days ago I thought this holiday would go by without celebrating it. I didn't think Dr. Simon would give a party to celebrate this holiday, that there would be so many friends here. Yang Deng said, "I'm going long this year, so I would not have reimbursed this festival."

The modern celebration at Dr. Nancy Simon's house, with Dr. Robert Dillman, his wife, Dean Martha Jones, and several of the students' new American friends. The celebration included the traditional superabundant of the other Chinese and American dishes, and traditional Chinese music, from the Qing Dynasty.

Liz Corsini-Boston University-Class of 1990

"Mom says the house just isn't the same, even though it's a lot cleaner."
Law bans soda and fat foods in public schools

Legal Advisor

By Jeffrey A. Newman

Q. My own state has both overweight and eating habits by the diet. Although they are supposed to be an issue in a medicinal diet, they are allowed to buy candy and soda from machines at school. The doctor says they are added and that he feels these products should be banned from the schools. Has anyone ever considered this?

A. In New York, a new law announced by Governor Mario Cuomo bans the sale of candy, gum and soda in public schools before lunch. The candy includes hard candies, jellies, gels, marshmallow candies, licorice, candy-coated popcorn and water-ice. The New York Department of Education will impose minimum standards to enforce the law.

Q. I read one of your recent columns which mentioned a was against liquor manufacturers for both effects caused by ingestion of alcoholic beverages during pregnancy. Why don’t someone require warnings about these dangers like the warnings on cigarettes?

A. The liquor distillers, three beer companies sued say that pregnant women who say their children’s retardation. The suits say that the mother’s drinking while pregnancy. Why doesn’t someone require warnings about these birth defects caused by alcohol syndrome, a condition that can be carried warnings to pregnant women. The half dollars range from facial deformities to mental retardation. The suits say that the problems caused by final alcohol exposure, a condition occurring from the improper growth of the fetus. Representatives of some of the companies who engage in alcohol consumption during pregnancy have carried warnings to pregnant women. The suits say that the problems caused by final alcohol exposure, a condition occurring from the improper growth of the fetus. Representatives of some of the companies who engage in alcohol consumption during pregnancy have carried warnings to pregnant women.

Q. I was shocked to learn that some abortion clinics are actually selling abortion. However, various medical groups now that one of the largest reasons for abortion is to save lives and should be allowed. The cells from youngest than 16 weeks have the capacity to reproduce themselves and form new connections with other cells. Embryos removed during the source of tissue banks have been used without the knowledge or consent of the women, the doctor says they are added and that he feels these products should be banned from the schools. Has anyone ever considered this?
Law bans soda and fat foods in public schools

Legal Advisor
By Jeffrey A. Newman

Q. My own son is both overweight and getting horrible by the day. Although they are supposed to be on a nutritious diet, they are allowed to buy candy and soda from machines at school. The doctor says they are addicted and that he feels more products should be banned from the tvs. Has anyone ever considered this?

A. In New York, a new law announced by Governor Mario Cuomo bars the sale of candy, gum and sodas in public schools before lunch. The candy includes hard candies, jellies, gummies, maraschino cherries, licorice, candy-coated peanuts and water-ices. The New York Department of Education will annex anti-fat representations to enforce the law.

Q. I read one of your recent columns which mentioned a case against liquor manufacturers for both deaths caused by ingestion of alcoholic beverages during pregnancy. Why don't some women require warnings about these dangers in the future?

A. The liquor distillers, brew beer companies and wineries are being sued by those who say their children were born defective from the mother's drinking while pregnant. The victims say that the alcoholic beverages should have carried warnings to pregnant women. The suits demand millions from the defendants and stop advertising during the ton.

Q. I am pregnant now and I am a boy. My doctor has warned me to drink alcohol because of the dangers to the baby. But my friend says that this is nonsense. Have there ever been any legal cases on this issue?

A. The liquor distillers, brew beer companies and wine makers are being sued by those who say their children were born defective from the mother's drinking while pregnant. The victims say that the alcoholic beverages should have carried warnings to pregnant women. The suits demand millions from the defendants and stop advertising during the ton.

Q. I have always wondered, do judges own judge? Do the public know direct complaints against the judges of our court?

A. No, there are no complaints against judges for their personal conduct. However, if a judge is found to be guilty of misconduct, such as receiving bribes or using false testimony, he or she may be removed from office by the court.

Q. I have a question about my laborer client's case. What is the legal basis for seeking compensation for injuries caused by moving a pipe?

A. The legal basis for seeking compensation for injuries caused by moving a pipe is the doctrine of negligence. If the subcontractor was negligent in what he did and the negligence caused your injuries, you will have a right to sue for compensation.

Q. In 1985, my husband went into a Boston hospital for open heart surgery. He had to wait there for two weeks and during the operation, he received a transfusion of blood which was contaminated with AIDS. Is the hospital liable for transfusing AIDS and should they have allowed my husband to "pool" his own blood before the surgery?

A. Possibly. It was in 1984 that the medical community learned that AIDS was transmissible by blood and the first screening test was available in 1985. If it can be proven that the hospital knew or used the screening test, then it was negligent in not doing so.

Q. For the past year I have worked on a road crew where my job is to use a jackhammer to dig out the drains. For the past month, I have been losing all of my grip strength and my fingers are turning a strange color. Someone told me that it might be the hammer and that this is common. Has anyone ever sued for this?

A. Yes. You may be suffering from "vibration syndrome" which is quite common among workers using pneumatic tools.

Q. Do you know where I can receive some basic information about starting up a Massachusetts corporation?

A. Yes. Free pamphlets are available from the Massachusetts Secretary of State Department of Corporations located at One Ashburton Place.

The legal advisor
cam from p.
a counselor asked me to move large pipe and clean an area of debris in the hallway. I had never moved pipe before and when I did, it fell onto my foot crushing several toes. Now, I have to undergo surgery and it looks like I won't be able to work as a laborer anymore. I'm collecting Worker's Compensation but can I sue the general contractor?

A. Probably. If it was your employer who instructed you to move the pipe, you would only be able to collect Worker's Compensation because the law does not allow suits against employers except in rare exceptions. You will have to prove that the subcontractor was negligent in what he did and that the negligence caused your injuries.

Q. What are you giving up for Lent?

A. I'm giving up giving up. I'm giving up criticizing people.
Lindee: tells me they were pretty and their live album entitled 'date, probably one of the best recordings make songs like albums that will be out this year.

neither of and "Somebody Help Me Scream" soon on Giant is Dag Nasty's "Walk Together, Rock incredible. Pick this one is their first two records as well as new material.

Pretty lame couple of weeks. Ever wonder what's really in spray cheese? by Max Speed Speed

Santos a spray cheese? The Wallace Anderson Art Gallery- featuring mother/ daughter artists Joyce Libby and James Lee. Their exhibit will be a compilation of all their work, simply a tasteful presentation of their art. The exhibit will be up for viewing soon.

If you're interested in learning about the Peace Corps, come to the Peace Corps office at 3011 West High Street, Suite 300. The Peace Corps will be having a film/information session at 1:00 PM.

The Comment Thursday, February 18, 1988 11

Bears lose a close one to Rams

The Bridgewater Bears baseball team lost a close game last Sunday against the Bridgewater State Rams. The game was 9-8 with Bridgewater leading 9-7 in the bottom of the ninth inning.

Student writers are more than just students who sit on the sidelines

Athletic trainers are more than just students who sit on the sidelines. They improve the quality of life of the players they work with. They are often the first people to be there to help an athlete when something goes wrong.

Women's rugby announces upcoming tournament

A tournament for this season's games will be held every Saturday at 4 pm against Bryant College, Providence College, and Wheaton College. There will also be a rugby tournament at St. Anselm's College on Saturday, February 18.

You’ve thought about it. You’ve tried to imagine what it would be like.

You know it would be exciting and a challenge. And quite possibly the most rewarding experience of your life...

Three Americas overseas in Asia, Africa and South America speak on what it would be like to go. It isn’t easy and it isn’t for everyone—they’ll tell you that up front. But if you’ve ever had the chance to overseas in the Peace Corps, then now is your chance to see and hear for yourself what could be “the toughest job you’ll ever love.”

X-Press wins 3 on 3

By Angela Cymerys

The three X-Press basketball teams had David Cymerys’ behind the back and Tim Gomes were the Bridgewater Knights. They were playing in the 1-3 Super Skitch Basketball Tournament.

In the finals at BSC X-Press beat the Public Safety team of Tim Philpott, Rob Stahl and Dennis O’Brien (O’Brien Community).

The team captained Gomes, Gonzales, and Chavez to an impressive showing at Northeastern University on February 13.

X-Press, one of the smaller built teams at the tournament, was to be the final four. Two teams competed in the playoffs. The third team was the X-Press which started with an easy win over the Public Safety team. The second team was the Bridgewater Knights which were downed by the X-Press.

The best team in the tournament was the X-Press who were the winners.

Support the Women’s Athletics

Womens Basketball

Elegance In Transportation

1997-0017

Any Special Occasion

A & A Metro South Limousine Service

Santos a spray cheese? The Wallace Anderson Art Gallery- featuring mother/ daughter artists Joyce Libby and James Lee. Their exhibit will be a compilation of all their work, simply a tasteful presentation of their art. The exhibit will be up for viewing soon.
Saturday
Workshop on Teaching Quality in the Heritage Room. Faculty session is at 3:30 and 5:00. Pancakes and coffee from 9:00 to 10:00 am. Physical Education center at the Bentley Gym/Casimir by Shirley J. 9:30.盼 to 11:00 am.

Tennis
Give blood. In the Campus Center Ballroom from 10:00-10:30 a.m. Red Cross will welcome all willing donors.

Workout and Teaching Quality in the Heritage Room. Faculty session is at 3:30 and 5:00. Pancakes and coffee from 9:00 to 10:00 am. Physical Education center at the Bentley Gym/Casimir by Shirley J. 9:30.盼 to 11:00 am.

Tennis
Give blood. In the Campus Center Ballroom from 10:00-10:30 a.m. Red Cross will welcome all willing donors.

Workout and Teaching Quality in the Heritage Room. Faculty session is at 3:30 and 5:00. Pancakes and coffee from 9:00 to 10:00 am. Physical Education center at the Bentley Gym/Casimir by Shirley J. 9:30.盼 to 11:00 am.

You've thought about it.
You've tried to imagine what it would be like.

You know it would be exciting and a challenge. And quite possibly the most rewarding experience of your life...

You've considered, researched, and prepared.

You've talked with advisors, classmates, and professors.

You've submitted your application and sat through a nerve-wracking interview.

You've been accepted and now you're one of the elite few who will have the opportunity to experience life abroad.

Three Americas overseas in Asia, Africa and South America speak on what it's like to be a Peace Corps Volunteer.

It's not easy and it isn't for everyone—they'll tell you that up front. But if you've ever considered overseas Peace Corps service, then now is the time to see and hear for yourself what could be "the toughest job you'll ever love."

Peace Corps Volunteers will be on hand to answer questions following the 25 minute film. And it's free!
CLASSIFIEDS

PART-TIME / HOME MAILING PROGRAM
- Organized/Thorough/creative
- Good self-starter
- Must be detail oriented
- Good interpersonal skills

PAY $660 Weekly/Up

The Republicans are proud to sponsors a bus trip to Boston
[Image 0x0]

The Comment Thursday, February 18, 1988

Separate living.
Immediately positions needed. Apply in day and night time positions
Hospital at HOSTESSES
838-8885, x

ENTERTAINERS: Earn experience need.ed. Apply in Many immediate openings

01833
Box
advancement. Contact: Dr.
level
NATIONWIDE
EDUCATIONAL MANAGEMENT
Our program is currently seeking. entry levels.

Ezemis at the time associated with new Federal Center.

Box 17,
(617) 352-8473.

ENTERTAINERS: Earn experience needed.

EC.

[Image 0x0]·

The most exciting night club in the Many immediate positions

WANTED-
ENTERTAINERS: Earn experience needed. Apply in

Box 17, Georgia Station.

ENTERTAINERS: Earn experience needed. Apply in

Box 17, Georgia Station.

ENTERTAINERS: Earn experience needed. Apply in

Box 17, Georgia Station.

ENTERTAINERS: Earn experience needed. Apply in

Box 17, Georgia Station.

ENTERTAINERS: Earn experience needed. Apply in

Box 17, Georgia Station.

ENTERTAINERS: Earn experience needed. Apply in

Box 17, Georgia Station.

ENTERTAINERS: Earn experience needed. Apply in

Box 17, Georgia Station.

ENTERTAINERS: Earn experience needed. Apply in

Box 17, Georgia Station.

ENTERTAINERS: Earn experience needed. Apply in

Box 17, Georgia Station.

ENTERTAINERS: Earn experience needed. Apply in

Box 17, Georgia Station.