Men's Rugby ends with a victory

By Angela Comacchio Staff

The Men's Rugby team can hang up their cleats and season on a high note after their 17-6 shutout over Worcester Polytechnic University. The Worcester game up in the repetition with this game having its share of hard tackles, screeching forward passing, and even a Few minutes of action after the whistle. The Worcester came on feet and were able to get in to the first few plays on the conversion kick. Shortly after, a penalty called against Worcester allowed the Vikings a penalty kick. Cooney's kick was good for more than three and the halftime score of 13-0.

Plymouth wins New England conference

The men's and women's cross-country teams wrapped up their 1988 season with the NCAAs qualifiers this past weekend at SMU. No one qualified for the nationals, to be held in St. Louis, Missouri but a host of the runners turned in good performances.

For the men, senior Norm Jones placed 11th in a field of approximately 210. Next for BSC was junior Mitchell Greene who placed 46th, the highest in number. Their times were 25:49 and 26:53 respectively.

For the women, Mike Washburn placed 5th in a field of over 300. Other than that was Mike Anton, Greg Smith, Dean Williams, Paul Boudreau and Jeff Canova.

In the women's division, both sneaker Lavae and Lauren Trottius had respectable times. Both also competed, as did all collegiate were just imaging from an injury.(cont. on p. 11)

Pats slip past Jets

By Tom Magee Contributing

Sunday afternoon the Patriots held an impromptu trip over the New York Jets, the final score was 16-13. There was a lack of consistency on the part of the two teams except for the Patriots defense which was the deciding factor in the game. Both offenses struggled throughout the game, the game largely dependent on their defense to keep the other team from scoring.

The first half was particularly weak with the only score coming on a Pats field goal halfway through the second quarter. The score at the half was 3-0 and the game was going very well we could have been the winning score if the Patriots offense did not start playing much better or have a little luck. The defense provided the necessary chemistry for the Patriots defense to slip past the Jets defense. (cont. on p. 2)

Students beware when planning a trip to Montreal. This past weekend a group of students went to Montreal for the Fall Break and are disappointed with the plans made by Dynamic Destinations.

The trip was to be held on October 23-30. The students were supposed to be picked up in Boston at 8:30 am and arrive in Montreal at 4:30 pm. They were supposed to return on October 30 at 4:30 pm. The students were disappointed with the plans made by the group and are advising other students to use endorsed agencies for travel plans.

Other students who didn't have their travel confirmation did not check the local hotel or travel agencies. They found that the travel plans made by Dynamic Destinations were not reliable and other students are now planning to use endorsed agencies for travel plans.

New food system started

The new food service computer system, which is currently in effect in the residence halls, is now expanding to services to encompass commuters as well.

This computer meal ticket system is accessible, and will work in all of the dining facilities in the Adele Roosevelt Campus Center.

Commuters can purchase tickets to the "points system." Points are the equivalent of cash, and are used in such the buying food.

The Jostens representative for Alpha Upsilon is able to buy into the system with a minimum account deposit of $5.00. For this deposit, they will receive $5.00 worth of points.

Students can also add to their balance of points. The purchases of $50.00, $200.00 and $500.00, students can increase their points total by $22.50.

Celebrating Geography Awareness Week at BSC

By Angela Carmichael

Geography Awareness Week is underway at Bridgewater State College, and across the nation, a geography project to get people to be aware of the country and its resources, as well as other countries.

In a joint resolution issued by the United States Congress, it was stated that statistics show, "significant number of Americans could not find the United States on a world map."

Geography classes offer an offer to favor that one is seen in the U.S. secondary school children, across the nation. In most other com-

The meeting took place, reportedly remained in closed session for over two hours. As a result of the meeting the trustees failed to release any information to the public.

The Boston Globe reported that the secretary of the Board of Trustees said on November 30 that the trustees will meet in open session on December 20 to discuss the new food service computer system, which is currently in effect for all resident hall students, is now expanding its services to encompass commuters as well.

This commuter meal ticket system is accessible, and will work in all of the dining facilities in the Adrian Rondileau Campus Center.

Commuters can purchase into the "point system." Points are the equivalent of cash, and are used as such in the buying of food.

What we should be thankful for today

On November 24, millions of people across America will celebrate a holiday--Thanksgiving. Thanksgiving is not only a day to eat turkey, watch football games and visit relatives. It is also a time to be thankful for what we have.

Our country, like most others, was founded on the idea that the English, the Pilgrims, who set sail in 1620, came to America to be free from religious persecution. This freedom is what we should be thankful for today.

All too often, the American public forgets that many of the rights that we take for granted, such as freedom of speech and religion, are not enjoyed by people all across the world.

Although we are thankful, this holiday season is nothing compared to the problems that face many people in this country. There are people who are homeless and starving. Too often, students and Americans believe that they are living in a country where every student is healthy and that we are not starving. However, this is not the case.

We should all be grateful that we are living in a country where the spirit of freedom -- not only in this country, but in countries elsewhere, is alive and well.

Everyone can make a difference. What we should be thankful for today is that we have the ability to make a change.

The citizens of America should be more thankful for the success that we have had. Although we are grateful, this spirit of freedom is not always given to all of the persons in our lives who have taken the time to care for us.

Aside from being thankful for the success that we have had, we should also be thankful for the ability to be friends to others.

The students of Bridgewater are luckier than many other people who do not experience the warmth of family and the happiness which comes with it. It is important to remember that the people we have met, that we have taken a look at ourselves, and that we have taken a look at ourselves, and that we have taken a look at ourselves.

This happens, the all people are living in a country where there are no limits to the amount of available student monies.

Although we are grateful, this spirit of freedom is not always given to all of the persons in our lives who have taken the time to care for us.

What we should be thankful for this Thanksgiving

On November 24, millions of people across America will celebrate Thanksgiving. Thanksgiving is not only a day to eat turkey, watch football games and visit relatives. It is also a time to be thankful for what we have.

Originally, this day was "set aside" as a celebration for the Pilgrim's survival in a new and foreign land, and in honor of the first harvest. There are, however, several suggestions as to why this day is celebrated this holiday. What do Americans and residents of Bridgewater State College think of this day? Students should be thankful that they can attend college. With the increase of tuition and numerous cutbacks regarding the amount of available student services, students of Bridgewater are luckier than most of the population on this day. We have this to be thankful for.

Also, as a nation, we have overcome various wars to unite in the spirit of freedom, not only in this country, but in countries around the world. Too often, the American public believe that they, as a collective whole, are responsible for the earth suffering events which occur. If we were not for this nation's friends in Europe and elsewhere, America would not be as strong as it is.

This is also a holiday to recognize and appreciate all the groundwork our Founding Fathers accomplished, so that we could grow, not only in the educational sense, but in the individual sense, as well. We should all be grateful that we are all healthy and that we are not starving. Too often, students and Americans take it for granted that there are people who are homeless and starving. Although we are grateful, this problem should not be overlooked. Everyone can make a difference.

The citizens of America should be thankful that they are living in one of the wealthiest countries in the world. America has an surplus of food and grain which sits in supply towers rotting and spoiling. This happens, the whole people are dying of malnutrition in foreign lands. Americans should also, never forget that there are those less fortunate in their own country. From their being grateful for the freedom we have, we have taken a look at ourselves and better understand what kind of people we are. As students, we can understand that there are other people who care, aside from members of their families.

Another thank of thanks should be given to all of the persons in our lives who have made this clear us up on those "bad days," and helped us through the tough times, as well as the bad ones. They were not for such caring and friendly people, most of us would have given up on our long range goals and dreams.

The students coming back from Thanksgiving, they can be grateful for being able to have three weeks of school to survive before Winter Break.

But most of all, everyone can be thankful that they are alive, and that there are members of their families who care about them. If it were not for the love we have for them, this holiday would not be a special one to them. We should never forget, however, that there are those people who do not experience the warmth and love that most of us do, during the holiday season.

This report should, all the more, encourage everyone to be more appreciative of these. It is nice to always be on the winning end, but consolation helps, too. It is nice to always be on the winning end, but consolation helps, too.

Visigogs grab another shut out

Paul Canigan pitched in as center half in the first half, going the ball smoothly in the box. For the Visigogs, Joe Flugiana ran down towards the box, before going tackled it and passed it off to Ken Hendel who scored the ball in the box. Goal! Scconfirmed the winning conversion kick. (For those who missed the game F.J. did play.)

The leading scorer for the season was Psychology, Cozy, Salin and Cdy, who also won the team championship of the AEC league.

The second half saw much more contact between the two teams as the Visigoths spent most of the time deep in Wentworth territory. The B game had just run the ball down the field. The Jets had a successful last time out to get the ball out quickly to the scrummers. The team got fast breakaways and Flutie passing infrequently is working even though it is much maligned by writers and observers alike. Regardless of conditions, the Patriots game was an excellent one with good running often and Flutie passing frequently is what counts. Men's Rugby ends with a victory

By Angela Cornacchioli

The Men's Rugby team can hang up their cleats for the season on a high note after their 17-0 shut out over Wentworth Institute.

The Visigoths lived up to their reputation with this game having its share of hard tackles, swift running, fancy passing, and even a few extra punches after the whistle.

The Visigoths came out on fire and were able to get Marc Mespelli in the try zone for 4 points.

Midway in the half, Gary Parziale broke through four tackles to score a try. Danny Coady added another two points on the conversion kick.

Shortly after, a penalty called against Wentworth allowed the Visigoths a penalty kick. Coady's kick was good for three more points and the halftime score of 13-0.

Pats slip past Jets

By Tom Magee

Sunday afternoon the Patriots had an unimpressive win over the New York Jets, the final score was 14-13. There was a lack of consistency on the part of both teams except for the Patriots defense which was the deciding factor in the game. Both offenses sputtered throughout the game depending on their defenses to stop the other team from scoring.

The first half was particularly weak with the only score coming on a Pat Leahy, New York field goal halfway through the second quarter. The score at the half was 3-0 and the way the game was going, it very well could have been the winning score if the Patriots offense did not start playing much better or get very lucky.

The defense provided the necessary chance for the Patriots offense when they picked off Ken O'Brien's first pass of the third quarter. Lawrence McGrew made the interception on the N.Y. 25 yard line and returned it 5 yards. Doug Flutie and the offense came on the field and promptly scored a touchdown with Flutie completing a perfect 19 yard pass to Stanley Morgan. The extra point was good and the Patriots were up on the Jets 7-3.

The Jets next two drives were good but stopped at crucial points by the strong N.E. defense. The first drive was stopped at the New England 15 yard line when Brent Williams stripped N.Y. running back Roger Vick of the ball allowing Johnny Rembert, N.E. linebacker to recover the ball. New York came back strong on the next drive but Andre Tippett's sack on Ken O'Brien, for a loss of fourteen yards, forced Pat Leahy to kick a 48 yard field goal to make the score 6-7.

The final test on the defense was in the third quarter when a Jets interception of a Flutie pass gave the Jets the ball in New England territory. Fred Marion made the interception and returned it 65 yards for the go-ahead touchdown.

Disappointed travel plans lead to official statement

By Angela Cornacchioli

Students were warned that their travel plans may be affected due to the recent events in the Middle East. The巴基斯 Lakhs had no idea that their travel plans would be affected.

The students were worried about the safety of their friends and family in Pakistan. They were also worried about the safety of their money and belongings.

Other students who didn't have their travel plans affected had to cancel the flights to see their loved ones. Many students had no room reserved and had to call Dynamic Destinations for help. There were also students who had rooms for only one night.

According to one participant on the trip, Maressa Cornacchioli, students from ISC were up to different hosts. We hardly saw anyone from Bridgewater do what we wanted. We also disappointed about their housing location, "Eat Hall. The Pats, was in the Comitip Zone."

Another student on the trip was also upset about the housing situation. His roommate had moved in and had her packers stolen.

As an article in the Boston Herald, on November 13, reported that the Attorney General's office has received over 30 complaints against Dynamic Destinations since this weekend and is investigating the company.

Alpago returns to Greek Council on probation

By David Planarchy

The Greek Council, at its meeting November 15, decided in favor of allowing the Alpha Upsilon fraternity back on probation. Alpha Upsilon had two members suspended for a probationary period, and received a fine as part of their probation.

At the meeting, the Greek Council President, Todd Hefferman, called the meeting to order and then the Rogers, who was the chair of the council, made the announcement.

The fraternity will have to pay a fine of $500 and will have to perform 25 hours of community service. They will also have to attend two meetings of the Greek Council each month.

The fraternity will now have to work on their probation activities for the spring semester and then in the following fall and spring semesters.
