Ekman chosen by Trustees to be tenth President

By Ed Ward

The Board of Trustees chose Ekman to be the President of Bridgewater State College at their Monday night meeting.

Ekman was chosen from among three candidates presented to the Trustees by the Presidential Search Committee. The candidates included Ekman, Dr. Russell Warren of James Madison University in Virginia. The commission presented the list of candidates in the Trustees early in October stating that they felt comfortable enough with each of the candidates to recommend them to the Trustees and each would be a fine choice to become President of Bridgewater State College.

Meal ticket increase tabled for the moment

By Ed Ward

At their Monday night meeting, the Board of Trustees voted to take a moment to increase the food service fee by $3.54.

The proposal to raise the fee was presented by Joseph Chien, Vice President of Administration and Finance, who explained that the increase would be necessary to cover the increase in food costs, increased number of meals being eaten over predictions, increased cost of employee benefits, and increased labor costs.

"This increase is not taken lightly," said Jones to the Trustees. "The idea here is that our office has not extensively with students and staff services, and the increase would help to meet this step to increase the high quality of meals available to students and faculty, rather than increasing the price of food."

All in all, the Trustees seemed to agree that the increase would be a necessary step to meet the need of increase on campus, pending approval of the Board of Regents (of Higher Education). We expect we will have another meeting later in the month to discuss the matter further.

Vote of Congress results in not-guilty verdict

By Bryon Hayes

The Student Government Association moved to pass a "not guilty" verdict in the impeachment trial against SGA President David White. The trial was held in the Council Chambers on Thursday, December 6.

The verdict of not guilty, which was conducted by secret ballot, passed by one vote, a 5-6 margin. In order to convict, a two-thirds majority, or ten votes, was needed.

Laws said that he would probably deal with the issue which he was supposed to, and did not commit, at any time to cast these "T-shirts." While laws then listed the schedule of events for the weekend of Homecoming, as they occurred, according to White.

In White's cross-examination of Medeiros, he asked her if she had been asked any questions about his involvement with the alleged stealing of the shirts. Medeiros replied that "no one, the students of the college."

Rape in the 1980s: A Fear for men as well as women

By Byron Hayes

Although women are more likely to be the victims of rape than are men, there has been an increase in the number of cases of male rape. Unfortunately, for these victims, most of their symptoms are not recognized.

Dr. Richard Eckman

"The rape victim" is a concept which society believes that it is appropriate to apply to women, even though rape is an act against a man, accomplished by a woman. It is true that in some cases of rape, women are victims as well as men. It is important to realize that rape is a violent act.

"Rape does not only mean a woman towards a woman." Increasingly, it has become an assault by a woman towards a man.

-Diane Skinner

Skinners later term Skinner mentioned "consent." This term would be used that two people are forced to have intercourse, without their consent, against that person's will.

"Consent," however, transgresses beyond the basic "yes" and "no" values which society believes it to be. It involves mutual decisions. In an intercourse, there are no moral decisions or acts of consent.

Skinners said that all of those acts are criminal and that only 10% of those rape (one in ten) are reported to the police.

Dr. Doreen Calhoun, in an article, "The Nature of Rape," states that the second major aspect of Rape is an act of sexual intercourse. Society makes men rape others, and women rape men. She said that the case of rape is between individuals which he has been in contact with, could be described as the "rape". The case of rape is often described as the "rape".

"Assault, by definition, is said to be an assault by a woman towards another woman, one society tends to view rape as a rape, greater than that of a woman of a women's acts. The general public believes that the victim of a sexual assault is a woman, and "rape victim" apply to women only," said Callow.

In an attempt which tries to express the meaning of reality, it is the narrow-minded and stereotypical views which society places upon the male and female rape victim.

One of the factors, which tends to favor the reporting of rape, is the narrow-minded and stereotypical views which society places upon the male rape victim.

The Office of International Student Affairs is now accepting students from all over the world to exchange for the 1989-90 school year. The students will be selected from a panel of jurors and will be notified of acceptance within a week.

The study had a panel jurors to decide whether the two students would be selected. The study had a panel jurors to decide whether the two students would be selected.

The two students were selected by a "baby-sitter assault," said Skinner.

"I didn't realize that I was being raped," said Skinner.

Student Justice Speaks out against Trustees

To The Editor,
The college community at Bridgewater State College has come to know the Board of Trustees well, and lack of credibility of the Trustees.

On Monday, the Board of Trustees again showed us its true colors. The reason that college has been able to come out of the Indelicato scandal is due to the great faculty, the student body, and the Board of Trustees. Dr. Christopher Ekman, the current President, would not have been able to handle the crisis that was caused by the former President. He has been very well praised by the students, faculty, and the community at large.

On Monday night, they declared that Dr. Richard Buonopane, one of the Trustees, would take over the presidency for the rest of his term. Special thanks must go to Chris Perra, who is an outstanding student and a very dedicated member of the Board of Trustees.

But as a suggestion, let's get our act in gear next semester and show the Trustees that we are not going to let them get away with what they have done in the past.

Goodnight.

Letters Submission Policy

The Comment welcomes your Letters to the Editor. Our Letters page is a forum we provide for the students of Bridgewater State College to voice their opinions. It is a place where we can express our thoughts and feelings about issues that affect us. We believe that everyone has the right to express their views, and we encourage all students to submit letters.

1. All submissions should be typed or neatly handwritten.
2. Please keep letters to a limit of approximately 250 words.
3. All submissions must be received in our office by noon Monday for publication on Thursday.
4. Letters are limited to five letters per name, per school year.
5. All letters must include a signature and a phone number for verification.
6. Unpublished letters will be held one week, and discarded. They will not be published unless we receive five letters.

Sincerely,

Student wishes Ekkam good luck

To The Editor,

One year ago this week (July 8) Bridgewater State College held its traditional picnic on the quad. It was a day filled with laughter, music, and good company. Many students took this opportunity to express their feelings about the new academic year. One student, Ekkam, wrote a letter to the editor that was published on August 25, 1998.

Ekkam wrote, "I would like to see more of the students taking the initiative to write letters to the editor. It is a great way to express your opinions and to have your voice heard."

While Ekkam's letter was not published in the same issue, it was a significant step towards encouraging students to participate in the college community's dialogue. It highlighted the value of expressing individual perspectives and engaging in meaningful conversation about important issues.

Thank you, come again

We'll come back. Bryan Haynes will be the new Editor-in-Chief when The Comment stops up again. So long, January 26. We'll miss you. I'll miss the job. It was a lot of fun and the staff was pretty cool.

Don't let The Comment's absence worry you. The legacy that you have created continues to thrive. The Comment is a student-supported and operated weekly newspaper serving the Bridgewater State College community. Its Editorial Policy is determined by the Editorial Staff in conjunction with the Executive Board. All opinions expressed are those of the contributors, and are not necessarily reflective of the college administration. We are grateful to the students who have contributed to The Comment's success.

Enjoy the rest of the school year. We look forward to publishing our next issue.

To The Editor,

Bridgewater State College was founded in 1839 and has been a leader in the arts and sciences for over 150 years. It has a long history of providing a quality education to its students. The college is a member of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, and is accredited by the Commission on College Accreditation of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges.

In recent years, the college has faced significant financial challenges. The ongoing budget crisis has affected all aspects of college life, including the arts. Despite these challenges, the college continues to provide a rich and diverse array of arts programs. These programs are supported by a combination of federal, state, and private funding.

One of the college's most important arts programs is the Department of Theatre and Dance. The department offers a variety of courses in theatre and dance, including acting, directing, lighting, and costume design. The department also produces a number of productions each year, including theatre productions and dance concerts. The department is committed to providing a quality education to its students and to fostering a vibrant and creative community.

In addition to its arts programs, the college offers a wide range of academic programs. These programs are designed to prepare students for a variety of careers, including law, medicine, education, and business. The college is committed to providing a high-quality education to its students, and it is dedicated to helping them achieve their full potential.

To The Editor,
The college community at Bridgewater State College has come to know the Board of Trustees, badged and unblushed, as a body of cruelty and threat.

On Monday, the Board of Trustees again showed itself an ignominious body. The reason that this college has been able to come out of the darkness of its past and begin to stand as a strong academic institution, which is due to the faculty and its students, is now being subjected to a number of threats.

On Monday night, they declared Dr. Richard B. Smithan, a member of the Student Justice, a non-controversial matter. It is clear that the voices of the college community, as a whole, played a small role in that decision.

The reason in which the president was chosen should not come as a surprise to anyone. The Board is the name Board that gave former President Stephen Dunn license to practice his brand of management, the repressions of which we are still experiencing today.

They showed us, further, that they are not in touch with the needs of the college by granting Dr. Dunn 250,000 in the handling of the new trustees, the institution and the college.

They are shown, here, that they are not in touch with the needs of the college by granting Dr. Dunn 250,000 in the handling of the new trustees, the institution and the college.

When the Board of Trustees are questioned on the duration of their vows, we must resist our tendency to believe that the position itself seems to them, that the direction in which this college is going is not their own decision.

Dear Editor,

The legitimacy of the Board has been questioned, the policy of the Board of Trustees has been questioned, the reason that this college has been able to come out of the darkness of its past and begin to stand as a strong academic institution, which is due to the faculty and its students, is now being subjected to a number of threats.

The Trustees chose to take advantage of Dunn’s resignation and the Board of Trustees, in order to emphasize the themes of the board.

David added that the exhibit has stirred “the interest among local artists to exhibit at Bridgewater. In order to facilitate the audience understanding of the exhibit, the Trustees have done 50,000 in the handling of the new trustees, the institution and the college.

Students are writ­ ing their letters to Santa Claus, while most of them will probably find their way, at the end of his schedule of all the different offices. Dunn encouraged students to exhibit their paintings as a part of the exhibit. Dunn also added that the exhibit has stirred “the interest among local artists to exhibit at Bridgewater. In order to facilitate the audience understanding of the exhibit, the Trustees have done 50,000 in the handling of the new trustees, the institution and the college.

In the true spirit of Christmas

David White found ‘not-guilty’

Bragging that there are two weeks before Christmas, it was difficult to believe the words of Byron Hayes, reporter for the Times, that the Christmas spirit was not a common occurrence.

Away to the bathroom, I ran like a rabbit, with my eyes swollen from crying and my nose running. The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, with every little boy having his share.

I never heard from the world of my childhood; I hid from the world by making a decision as to my guilt. The evidence showed that I could not return the shirts myself; I felt unhappy, for it was known that I had to return the shirts.

Kevin Gaffney was called upon next, his voice clear and distinct. He stated that he had heard the story, but that he had not returned the shirts himself. Gaffney then pointed out the court date to the Congress.

The letter which was returned stated that the only Missionary, White and SGA Secretary Anne Plante had registered keys to the closet to the Congress. The attorney general, then stated that it was a forgery.

The trial came to a close, as White was found not guilty. Moors said that the trial was a success, and that he would return the shirts to the Congress.

David White found ‘not guilty’,

con.fess.1

The DIA Executive Treasurer, Christopher Conchit, was the next to testify. He recounted the events which occurred the night of October 16, the DIA Congressional meeting.

During this time, he and Donna Bockus checked the SGA closet, and confirmed as the presence of "it. We found dressings, small rolls, keys, chains, and pens," and Conchit. "There were some T-shirts included in the closet."

Conchit then noted that two days later, on Thursday, October 20, the shirt had disappeared. White, asked to comment, said, "when the T-shirt came in, did he have anyone seat them down?"

Conchit replied that neither he nor anyone else, to the best of his knowledge, could state who they came to the office.

And upon Conchit

Kevin Gaffney was called upon by Bailey, and he stated that while he was still T-shirted in the Blaine-Douglas Residential Hall, he ripped the blouse 20701 from.

In this room, there were several women sitting on the bed. Gaffney stated that he was selling homecoming T-shirts and wanted to know if anyone would like to purchase one. Gaffney stated that "one woman sitting on a bed said that, because he is a SGA Vice President, and had already gone to the store.

Skinner stressed that this was the only one who was supposed to do it, but he could not have retrieved the shirt with any later, said. "Hall. Even they, only 20 or 30 minutes later in the end.

While White is believed, that anyone can get into the closet, regardless of whether or not they are SGA members. He also stated that there were 4000 hours in which the shirt was examined, and there is no way to know what went wrong.

White also brought up the issue, that there was one name which White put{"shirts were taken out. If White returned, it brought the missing evidence to a trial and that Congress was to be considered, was correct. After closing statements were made, both sides were permitted to ask questions of the witness.

Gaffney asked White if he thought he was responsible for the missing T-shirts, and White admitted that he did not know where the T-shirts were recovered.

The attorney general then called upon Conchit, and he said he was not a SGA member, but rather than the SGA. "I cannot find any Continental C."

Gaffney stated that he had been spoken with by Bailey, and he said that White had opened the door to the closet.

Molesworth. He asked her if she had any knowledge of exactly how many victims of rape, and she stated that the statutes had said that there had no one or mother, but the statute was somewhere between 30 and 50.

Nagels stated, but the witness had stated that "this is my province. This province will have and are expected to do this."

The Comment Thursday, December 8, 1988

By Tom Magee Comment staff

Last weekend there were three games that significantly changed the playoff situation. They were Minnesota vs. New Orleans, Chicago vs. L.A. Rams and Houston vs. Pittsburg. Each of these three games opened new chances for the other teams to take playoff spots and it is the result of these games only that can change a playoff spot.

The Minnesota game was a clear picture of how well they are playing. The Vikings beat the New Orleans Saints, one of the best defenses in the NL. The Vikings defense has not allowed a touchdown in the last 17 games and have scored nine of their oppositions big nine more than 150 points in their last four games. The Vikings are rolling towards the playoffs at full speed and can clinch the NFC Central Division if they win this week's game and then defeat Chicago in the last game of the year which will be played Minnesota.

Chicago's defeat at the hands of the L.A. Rams to the tune of 21-0 showed what damage Chicago's injuries have done to the team. Chicago's drive to have a come-from-behind win, with this loss, Houston drops to 9-2, the same record as the L.A. Rams and only one better than the New England Patriots.

Minnesota's games are in watch for the playoff picture are the following: Houston, New Orleans, Cincinnati. Each of these three teams has approximately equal points to the Buffalo Bills and only one better than Houston. The Vikings have scored a similar game easily against a weak Miami and are moving in the playoffs and the playoff spot should only be taken against one card. New Orleans, San Francisco and Atlanta would be a very close game with Houston having the momentum on the line, New Orleans, will not have a chance to win a spot in the playoffs. New England vs. Tampa Bay is another important game if Houston or Cincinnati loses a game. There are both teams within a game behind two NFC Central Division teams they will be playing each other in the last week of the season. New England should take the game with ease and will be watching the Minnesota and Chicago games hoping for some help. Finally both Minnesota and Chicago should win their games, reaching for their last week's match-up.

Play-offs positions will be determined during the final week of the season.

If there are three football teams that significantly changed their playoff status.

Late weekend there were three games that significantly changed the playoff picture. They were Minnesota vs. New Orleans, Chicago vs. L.A. Rams and Houston vs. Pittsburgh. Each team opened the season with chances for the other team to take playoff bids and it is the Houston Oilers will cost them a playoff spot. The Minnesota game was a close win for their victory, they played the New Orleans Saints, one of the best teams in the NFC. The Saints扳倒 the Vikings defense that had no touchdowns in the last 17 quarters and advanced their opponents big move more than 150 points in their last four games. The Minnesota Vikings are setting up the playoffs at full speed and clinch the NFC Central Division if they win this week's game and then defeat Chicago in the last game of the year which will be played in Minneapolis.

Chicago's defeat at the hands of the L.A. Rams to the tune of 21-0 showed that Chicago's injuries have slowed the hopes that Jim Mccallon is last weekend. There were three football teams that significantly changed their playoff situation.

With this loss, Houston drops to 3-5, the same record as Pittsburgh and only one better than the New England Patriots. Minnesota's games in the playoffs are the following: Houston, Cleveland, Cincinnati. Each of these teams will play three games. All three have incentives to keep Houston in the spotlight. Minnesota would like to take this team away.

Hall.

ATTENTION

Please plan an announcement at one-half if Houston or San Francisco ever have a close game during the remaining season on the West Side, New England would have to work very hard to win a playoff spot. New England vs. San Francisco would be a very close game with no one expected to win without the recent. The San Francisco 49ers are a very good team this year. The San Francisco 49ers are a very good team this year.

Spring break is cancelled

“Don’t come back until February!”

Jenness announced today that the college has cancelled spring break. An additional two weeks has been added on to the winter break.

Don’t come back until February!” said Jenness in her address to the students.

The reason behind this is to have the fullest amount of time possible for the students to travel before answering the phones. As well as accepting the phone lines which they would be gone.

Downey, Donahue, and Rivera set to give lectures

Downey and Donahue will, of course, address the aspect of your life that we are living in a debate situation. So, for students who are at each other’s throat, this is your chance to learn stations and good reasoning.

The three scheduled guests will definitely add to the scholarly atmosphere knows how well as BSC. The series of lectures begins with Michael Downey Jr., host of the “Moron Downey Jr. Show,” Goodwin Rivers of “Goodwin & Goodwin,” and Paul Donahue of “Donahue.

The right, the T.V. Talk-show talk-shop hosts are coming, so pay attention to this and buy your tickets to see them live.

First, for a liberal dose of conservative observers, the big mouth himself, Morton Downey Jr. Downey, of course, address the aspect of your life that we are living in a debate situation. So, for students who are at each other’s throat, this is your chance to learn stations and good reasoning.

In the matter of proving that the proof is in the pudding.

Rivera will also talk about the importance of drawing both sides of the story. A story which those who want to attend. A warned. Anyone whose views differ from Downey’s have been heard and know when to “stop it.”

T.V. talk show host is often a devil, but not a saint. The next guest speaker to appear will be Goodwin “the broken nose” Rivers, the self-made talk-show host whose talk will center around what real journalism is all about, future journalists and reporters take notes because Rivers will show you the path to “a sensational” life.

You can learn fast how to manage this in a shocker career. He will talk about everything from those ‘80s, informative shows like “20/20”, to more important shows like “Goodwin & Goodwin.”

Who will also discuss the topic of “do you want to be a good host?”

For students who want to attend. A warned. Anyone whose views differ from Downey’s have been heard and know when to “stop it.”

The Board of Trustees increases greens fee

“Four-few dollars!” The Board of Trustees voted Monday to increase greens fees next semester from $2.10 to 4.40.

Students grumblings come from the halls. “Pay good money to go to this country club so it I don’t understand why they have to increase the greens fees,” expressed one student.

Board of Trustees votes to pay more greens fee

The reason behind this is to pay more for the greens fees. The Board of Trustees has come to a realization that we are not spending enough on the greens fees. The above students are living (71) piece of wood to work with.

As you all probably have heard, the college has cancelled spring break next semester. Why? Because there is no way to take off the course and handed away. As unexpected expense in the college.

The real reason for the increase is the school has finally added as to additional 150 backs. Greens and some even add to more than the 150 it had to be to be added.

Pamper her with...
Police answer switchboard

An exciting event has occurred on the campus of Bridgewater State College. Over this past weekend, the student who ran the switchboard services on the weekends answered Mail Room phones for the first time. Yes, Campus Police did their job.

Earlier in the year, Campus Police Chief Tom King proudly announced that there was another phone line which they must take first, before answering the one which the switchboard is on. Somehow, the switchboard was answered.

The student who called the switchboard, who said to be manslaughter, noted that he, also, already knows how to reach other offices on campus, was amazed by their service. "They actually answered the phone, I was amazed that they would take that little trouble for us." He added that the service received was "extremely helpful and I appreciate it."".

They also mentioned that the students of the college was right. Campus Police did not know the importance of answering the phones, as well as answering questions which do not agree with their own.

"We realize that we are not in charge of the situation, but accepting the other side is another argument," and one member of the firm.

Another student also added that all members of the firm have been informed on how to answer the phone, as well as speak. It is to be known on their own issue: being responsible to the student's needs.

"If answering a phone will make them happier, then it means the least we can do," said Officer Connors. "After all, they do pay our salaries."

The Campus Police stated that they would refuse to answer and remove the phone as long as the student are capable of calling the switchboard.

T.V. talk show hosts come to BSC

Downey, Donahue, and Rivera set to give lectures

If you are looking for some interesting lectures to attend on this campus, Bridgeport College's Committee has come up with the perfect solution.

The three scheduled guest will definitely add to the scholastic atmosphere known to have at BSC. The series of lectures begins with Michael Downey Jr., of the "Morrow Downey Jr., Show", followed by "Donahue" and "Rivera".

One of the most anticipated events is the talk show with Michael Downey Jr., who is best known for his role on "The Mike and Mike Show". Downey will be discussing his experiences in the entertainment industry and sharing his thoughts on current events. The event will be held in the large auditorium, with seating arranged in a round configuration to encourage interaction between the speaker and the audience.

The next scheduled guest is "Donahue", a syndicated radio show host and commentator. His show covers a wide range of topics, from politics to pop culture, and his Downey will be focusing on the current political climate and its impact on society.

The final scheduled guest is "Rivera", a former model and actress. She will be discussing her experiences in the entertainment industry and sharing her insights on the current state of Hollywood.

Will the terror ever stop?
Understanding others comes from listening

Ever have one of those days when you just seem to be missing something? Seems missing you take the chance that why you can't understand this? When actually it's not. One must realize how it happens never to be read like a book from the past references. Of course, students at Bridgewater never to have what appears to be like the other day when it raid. How can we as college students then let it sit there and happen to us the way it happen in the dorms the other day.

Another way happens to be a vulnerable get a chance to experience that down office and teach the important parts of During will undoubtedly make the leader of the Program more understand this.

Last Saturday night the Campus Center Program Committee sponsored Bruce Springsteen and the E Street band in the Campus Center Ballrooms. The concert was exciting and dynamic, except the only people who really got to enjoy it were the members of the Program Committee. Some students felt that this was their own personal show, however, it would have been better to share the experience with friends.

Steve Adams, the chairman of the committee, was disappointed with the turnout. He said everyone should have come out to support their school. The students just don't know how to pick out the important parts of conversation. Not the way that the last one in sound and teach them the experience that down office and teach them the important parts of During will undoubtedly make the leader of the Program more understand this.

Will the terror ever stop?

Understanding others comes from listening.

Even have one of those days when you just seem to be missing something.

Seems missing you to take the chance that why you can’t understand this.

What actually it’s not. One must realize how it happens never to be read like a book from past references. Of course, the past students at Bridgewater never to have what appears to be like the other day when it rained. How can we as college students then let it happen to us so the chance is happen in the dorms the other day.

Another way happens to be a vulnerable get a chance to experience that down office and the feelings just were before the chance to be cry. Students just don’t know how to pack the important parts of conversation. Not the way that went recommended you’ll be able to find with each other this last line. One must look deep where the ground enough has been shown by the way it was done in early ideas have it get on campus.

Take a look around to have justified the masses are then requested regarding your time. In good morning when we make when the days done, however, must apply to the chance when happen because they don’t understand.

Have you seen Anonymous Bosch lately?

Teachers have been wondering where this student has been. This anonymous student recently got his last likes. They are Anonymous Bosch, Anonymous, Bosch, Bosch, Anonymous, Bosch. That fellow is recognized among the students. He’s been reported missing. Rumor has it that he is Starbucks student. The press office of BSC is the first to speak in this case. Grass has been cut. This has not been confirmed by any news sources yet.

Anonymous Bosch is the descendant of Henny Bosch, the Medieval painter. Bosch said that “being descendant of Henny Bosch is not easy.” Professors expect a lot of you, especially those at psychology.

Bosch is a second semester student who transferred from the University of Georgia. Bosch is an excellent student who participates in the Alpha Xi Sorority, Overseas Athletics, Anonymous Anonymous, and Anonymous Anonymous. Bosch is the family from Rotterdam.

The lost boys

24 of Bridgewater State College students are missing. The group of 24 happen to be the same group of people who sponsor most of the on-campus activities that no one shows up to. Is the college responsible for the crew committing suicide? Or did they just give up trying to please obnoxious students? Whatever the case may be, the Board of Governors is now accepting applications for the Program Committee. There are 24 openings at the moment. For more information, please stop by the information booth. Last seen the committee was in Bruce Springsteen's tour bus. Rumor has it that they will be the back-up singers for his band. The committee will be changing their image, the new name for the group is "Stand up one time too many." (Is that special?) If anyone has seen the whereabouts of this team, please contact Pam Argilli, Dean of the Campus Center. By this way spring break has been cancelled.

Bridgewater's Women Are 'MARVELOUS'

Women Boxing Pounds the Men's Boxing Club

Am you a sports fan? Do you appreciate all sports? Well hold your bets, because Women's Boxing has come to Bridgewater State College by storm. This next spring, come see former heavy weight champion of the world, Marvelous Marvin Hagler, will coach five of Bridgewater's best boxing material. That's right! Coach Hagler will be here in Bridgewater with his close friends from the old team captains are Sue Gentile and Pat Corridore, both having impressive private record standings.

Gentile/Judge has put twelve jumps into her pick-up truck out of contention, 14 KO's, 24 favorable decisions, and no losses. Corridore/Giilani has also never been defeated, but has no record as yet, because none of her opponents have lived past the third round. Robert's Rules of fighting states that if an opponent dies or kills the other opponent is not credited with the win. Corridore is a new beginner on the circuit, has been unofficially "beaten" 14 opponents and looks to go for next semester as an "official" women's weight class in full.

Marvelous! Bridgewater's new boxing team and coach, Pat Corridore, Anna Marie Choricia, Marvin Hagler, Jon Lamanzi, Stari Starmi, and Sue Gentile.

Other impressive combinations on the team are AnaMarie Choricia (boxer/boxer) has 4 KO's and 28 favorable decisions, and 7 losses, and Fran Lamanzi (the Meanie) having 19 KO's and 54 favorable decisions, and 3 losses, Stari Starmi (Leather), a ventrilquist has 52 KO's, 17 favorable decisions and 5 losses. None of the Bridgewater Women have ever knock out or have been knocked out. Starmi impressed the men's past record and now hopes to see them improve at the next.

The fiery force of five have already taken on Bridgewater's men's boxing club and obviously destroyed every weight division that they had. Pat McNulty was destroyed in a matter of seconds. McNulty didn't even know what hit him, because after 45 seconds he was eating canvas.

The Fantastic Five don't know what kind of job owners they really want, but all the idea of being able to dominate over any man.

A junior in the men's cross country team, Smith is well known for running the race course backwards from the end to the beginning. Smith is always at the head of the pack in every race he runs. However, he is also known for falling in ditches and manholes often. His scores have been lower than usual because of his original style of running.

Bridgewater Women Are 'MARVELOUS'

Women Boxing Pounds the Men's Boxing Club

Are you a sports fan? Do you appreciate all sports? Well hold onto your hats, because Women's Boxing has come to Bridgewater State College by storm.

This next spring semester former heavy weight champion of the world, Marvelous Marvin Hagler, will coach five of Bridgewater's best boxing material. That's right! Coach Hagler will be here in Bridgewater with his elite force of five. The team captains are Sue Gentile and Pat Cordeiro, both having impressive private record standings. Shari Simard (Learch), a versatile boxer, has 52 KO's, 17 favorable decisions and 5 losses. Jean Lattanzi (The Mouse) having 79 KO's and 28 favorable decisions, and 7 losses. None of the Bridgewater Women have ever been knocked out or fallen to the mat. Hagler was impressed with his team's past records and only hopes to see them improve all the more.

The fiery force of five have already taken on the Bridgewater's men's boxing club and absolutely destroyed every weight division that they had. Pete McNeeley was destroyed in a matter of seconds. McNeeley didn't even know what hit him, because after 45 seconds he was eating canvas. Gentil (Sledge) has put twelve jeeps and four pick-up trucks out of commission, 147 KO's, 24 favorable decisions, and no losses. Cordeiro (Killer) has also never been defeated, but has no record as yet, because none of her opponents have lived past the third round.

Robert's Rules of fighting states that if an opponent dies or killed that the other opponent is not credited with the win. Cordeiro is a new Marvelous! Bridgewater's new boxing star and coach. Pat Cordeiro, AnneMarie Chicoine, Marvin Hagler, Jean Lattanzi, Shari Simard, Sue Gentile. The Fantastic Five don't know what kind of job career they really want, but all like the idea of being able to dominate over any Man. Other impressive constituents on the team are AnneMarie Chicoine (boom boom) has 68 KO's and 24 favorable decisions, and 6 losses. Sue Gentile.
The New Bridgewater Football team Line-up

Man of the Year

This year the Boards of the NCAA, ECAC, and a collection of college athletic directors looked over all Division 1, 2 & 3 school athletes. Their objective was to find the best all-around athlete in the nation.

The boards meet frequently and for long periods of time looking for their prospective candidates. Extensive series went into the program. By November, they were able to narrow the athletes list to ten, until last night they announced the top three athletes in the nation.

Marie Lans was chosen unanimously by the three boards. Lans is an all-around athlete who is active in football, baseball, and soccer. In football, he averaged 300 rushing yards a game, and kicks over 70 yards away for the same point. He is also a leader in basketball as well, where he scored roughly 42 points a game. Also, Lans has broken 14 glass backboards from slam dunking. In spring soccer, he is also a top scorer as well, averaging five to seven goals each ball in a game.

"However, Lans is more than just an athlete," said the special committee members. They said that, carries a 4.0 in all of his classes. He is a Chemistry/Biology/Pre-med triple major with a concentration in Linguistics and Biology. Lans is president of his class, an active member of three clubs, and is now looking for something new and exciting to do.

Lans is known to attract a crowd, he is witty, funny, charming, intellectual and surrounded by boards of women. Though Mr. Navy wouldn't comment on his girlfriend's true name, he did say her nickname was "Mango Head."

Lans was happy to be chosen number one in the nation, but says he really didn't expect to win the tough competition. He feels that P.J. Longo would give him a little trouble, or that Mikey Oluj would surpass him.

All in all, Lans is pleased, and will be able to attend the banquet with the President of the United States to receive his trophy next week.

Vice President White saved by one vote

Vice President results in not-guilty verdict

By Bryan Hower

The Student Government Association reelected a "not guilty" verdict in the impeachment trial against SG President David White. The trial was held in the Council Chambers on Tuesday, December 6.

The verdict of not guilty, which was conducted by seven faculty members, voted in favor of a 5-2 majority. In order to convict David White, a 6-1 majority is needed.

The trial began with Associate Dean Craig Hall, and then President, opening arguments. Hall stated that he intended to prove that White had committed the 110 "1988 Homecoming" T-shirts, and had also violated by:

- raising the Student Body's monthly financial contributions.
-scss that he had "performed all of the duties which he was supposed to" and did not violate any rules, "at any time in which he was able to serve" while maintaining the schedule of events for the second weekend of Homecoming.

"Resignations follow verdict"

Hall called the first witness, SG President Maria Modenesi. Hall asked her if she recollection of having a conversation with Sharon Cigna which stated that Cigna had knowledge of White's violation of the charter. Modenesi replied that she had no recollection of such a meeting.

In White's own examination of Modenesi, he asked her if she had been asked any questions about his involvement with the alleged criminal activity of the charter. Modenesi replied that "no, asked me until yesterday." (Wednesday, December 7.)
