Supplement to the 1987-1988 UNDERGRADUATE/GRADUATE CATALOGUE
POLICY ON NON-DISCRIMINATION AND AFFIRMATIVE ACTION

As part of the Massachusetts Public Higher Education System, Bridgewater State College is committed to a policy of non-discrimination and affirmative action in its educational programs, activities, and employment practices. It is the policy of the College not to discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national origin, age, religion, or handicap. In fulfillment of the requirements of Executive Orders 11246 and 11375, Titles IV, VI, VII, IX and X of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 as amended in 1972, and all pertinent Laws, Regulations, and Executive Directives of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and other applicable state and federal statutes. Inquiries concerning the College’s compliance with Affirmative Action programs may be addressed to Assistant to the President, Affirmative Action/Minority Affairs, Bridgewater State College, Bridgewater, MA 02325. Telephone (508) 697-1241, or write to the Office for Civil Rights, Washington, D.C.
Undergraduate Admissions

The information contained in the 1987-1988 Catalog is amended as follows:

Decision and Notification Dates

Early Decision:

If Bridgewater State College is your first choice for college study, you may apply for Early Decision. For the applicant, Early Decision eliminates several months of waiting for an admission decision. A student under the Early Decision Plan must agree to withdraw applications from all other colleges if admitted to Bridgewater. This program is only for Freshman applicants for the Fall semester.

Candidates for Early Decision should file their application and all supporting documents no later than November 15. You will receive a decision letter by December 15 and, if admitted, will have until January 15 to return your admission deposit.

Regular Decision:

Freshman applicants for the Fall semester must submit their completed application by March 1. Notification of the Admissions Committee’s decision will be mailed between April 1 and April 15.

A limited number of freshmen candidates are accepted for the Spring semester each year. The application deadline is December 1 and decisions are mailed by early January.

Interviews

Interviews are not required; however, any student wishing a personal interview may contact the Admissions Office for an appointment.

Intended Area of Study

As of the Fall of 1989, Undergraduate Programs leading to provisional certification in teaching at the Early Childhood, Elementary and Secondary levels will require students to declare a major in liberal arts and sciences or an appropriate interdisciplinary major, and to take a broad distribution of liberal arts courses. Forthcoming regulations will define the majors that are appropriate for prospective teachers.
The Graduate School

For detailed information regarding the catalogue changes indicated below, students are urged to contact the Graduate School Office or the appropriate department at the College. The Graduate Office is located in the Conant Science Building, Room 211, and is open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. The Office also may be reached by calling (508) 697-1300.

Teacher Certification

Certification of education personnel is no longer offered through post bachelor's non-degree certification programs. Liberal arts graduates who wish to be certified must be admitted by the Graduate School to an appropriate Master of Arts in Teaching or Master of Education program. Persons who have already earned a master's degree may pursue certification in certain areas through the Graduate School's Certification of Advanced Graduate Study (CAGS) in Education program.

In order to be eligible for institutional endorsement at Bridgewater State College, students must complete the program by May 1992. Students completing their certification program after May 1992 will have to complete any additional requirements under new guidelines for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Students interested in one of the following certificates should contact the Graduate School for admission information:

Classroom Teaching Certificates:
- Early Childhood Teacher (K-3)
- Elementary Teacher (1-6)
- Teacher of Art (5-12)
- Teacher of Behavioral Sciences (9-12)

Information on
New General Education Requirements

Students who are accepted for matriculation as freshman on or after September 1987 and transfer and readmitted students accepted on or after September 1989 will follow the new General Education Program outlined below. Specific courses which may be used to satisfy these requirements are listed. Please note that Introduction to Library Resources must be completed within the first 30 credits at Bridgewater; the Speaking requirement must be satisfied within the first 60 credits; and all GER’s should be completed within the first 90 credits taken at Bridgewater State College. In addition, all students must satisfy the state-mandated Constitution requirement and demonstrate proficiency in writing by successfully completing the College’s writing proficiency examination.

Courses fulfilling the new General Education Requirements:

1. Writing

   EN 101-102 Writing I, Writing II

2. Speaking

   CC 130 Human Communications Skills

3. Philosophy/Religion

New Course Offerings*

Department of Art (Page 81)

AR 338/339 Honors Tutorial in Art (3 crs.)
Special topics in art. Open to All-College and Departmental Honors students. Three hourly meetings weekly. (Prerequisite: Consent of Departmental Honors Committee)

AR 485 Honors Thesis in Art (3 crs.)
This course is open to All-College and Departmental Honors students. One-hour weekly meetings with the thesis director will culminate in a thesis comprising both artworks and a written corollary. With the consent of the Departmental Honors committee and the thesis director, this course may be extended into a second semester for three additional credits depending upon the scope of the project. Whether the final version of the thesis qualifies the student to graduate with honors will be determined by the Departmental Honors Committee, who will review the results as presented by the student. (Prerequisites: AR 338, and consent of the Departmental Honors Committee)

Department of Biological Sciences (Page 87)

BI 506 Advanced Cell Biology (3 crs.)
This course will focus on various aspects of cellular regulation. Topics will include: Control of transcription in procaryotic and eucaryotic cells, mechanisms of protein synthesis and degradation, cellular responses to external factors. The approach will involve examination of these and other areas of cellular physiology at the molecular level. (Prerequisites: BI 200, BI 321, BI 341, CH 344, CH 461 (recommended), or consent of Instructor)

BI 508 Advanced Population Biology (3 crs.)
This course offers an advanced coverage of population biology. Population biology encompasses all investigations above the level of the individual. Population biology is the study of the structure, integration and evolution of groups of organisms belonging to one or more species. Included are considerations of intrapopulational phenomena, interactions between populations and community and ecosystem interactions. Population genetics and population ecology will be considered in detail. In the development of a unified theory of populations considerations will be given to other disciplines such as ethology, paleontology, environmental physiology, demography, and systematics. Two lectures and one two-hour laboratory per week.

BI 509 Advanced Physiology (3 crs.)
A more detailed covering of basic physiological principles such as enzyme function, movement in cells: Amoeboid, Ciliary, Muscular, Cellular Communication; Synaptic, Hormonal, Growth and Aging. Extensive use of the literature such as reporting on papers in each area will be performed by each student. Two hours of lecture and one two-hour laboratory per week. (Prerequisites: BI 100, CH 131 & 132, BI 200 and a Physiology course)

BI 510 Mechanisms in Development (3 crs.)
The student will come to understand in this course what is currently known about the major processes that occur when a single-cell zygote develops into a complex organism. Cell differentiation, differential gene expression and cell interaction are major topics in the course. (Prerequisites: BI 100, BI 321, CH 131 & 132)

BI 521 Advanced Cellular and Molecular Techniques (3 crs.)
This course provides in depth laboratory experience along with background theory for selected techniques such as: transformation with plasmid; isolation, purification and assay of macromolecules; tissue and cell culture; and radioisotopic technique. One lecture and four hours of laboratory weekly. (Prerequisites: BI 200, BI 321, BI 373, CH 344 or consent of Instructor)

*Page numbers following course titles correspond with the departmental listings in the 1987-88 College Catalogue.
BL 532 Ultrastructure (3 crs.)
A comparison of representative plant, animal and fungal cellular ultrastructure. After fixation, embedding, sectioning and staining of sections from each group, students will be expected to obtain photographs exhibiting cellular organelles, mitotic and meiotic events, and tissue structures showing major features of each. Literature study of methods and interpretation of micrographs. (Prerequisites: BI 200 and/or BI 433)

BL 551 Advanced Mycology (3 crs.)
Aspects of growth, physiology, morphogenesis and genetics of representative fungi as related to fungal evolution and ecology. Two lectures and one two-to-four hour laboratory period weekly. (Prerequisites: BI 200, BI 321, BI 344, BI 428 or consent of Instructor)

BL 573 Advanced Vertebrate Biology (3 crs.)
This course covers the major vertebrate classes. Emphasis is placed on the systematics, distribution, behavior, reproduction, growth and development, natural history and ecology of vertebrates. Primary literature in Vertebrate biology will be covered and students will research a topic of their choice. This course will combine topics from the fields of Ichthyology, Herpetology, and Mammalogy. Two hours of lecture and one two-hour laboratory per week. (Prerequisites: An undergraduate course in vertebrate biology, animal morphology or comparative vertebrate anatomy)

BL 582 Neurobiology (3 crs.)
An in depth study of the neuron, its structure and function in the nervous systems of invertebrates and vertebrates. Synaptic mechanisms, membrane potentials, sensory physiology, motor functions, reflex mechanisms limbic or emotional brain, learning and memory and central functions are some of the topics to be covered. (Prerequisites: BI 100, CH 131 & 132 and a Physiology course or consent of Instructor)

BL 584 Ethology (3 crs.)
Behavioral adaptations of animals to their environment and way of life. Introduction to the objective analysis of behavior patterns and the use of patterns of behavior in clarifying evolutionary relationships. Students will carry out an independent investigation in ethology. Two hours of lecture and one two-hour laboratory per week. (Prerequisites: Undergraduate background in Biology and graduate status)

Department of Earth Sciences & Geography (Page 107)

GE 474 Quantitative Geography (2 crs.)
The use of statistical techniques, and computer and model building methodology to analyze various spatial phenomena. (Prerequisite: MA 110 or consent of the Instructor)

Department of Educational Leadership and Administration (Page 116)

SA 515 Contract Administration for Educational Leaders (3 crs.)
Combining theory with practice, this course introduces labor relations in the public sector and provides potential and veteran administrators with opportunities to attain and/or update managerial skills relating to the administration of negotiated agreements. Topics include the historical, political, and legal context of labor relations; contract administration and grievance arbitration as methods of conflict resolution; situational leadership grievances; arbitration hearings; rules of construction commonly utilized by arbitrators governing such matters as timeliness, discipline, evaluation, seniority and the like. (Prerequisite: SA 510 or ED 570, or the consent of the Instructor)
Department of Elementary and Early Childhood Education

EE 592 Practicum - Elementary Education (12 crs.)
This graduate level practicum involves supervised experiences in classroom activities. Experiences gained in teaching techniques, individual differences and classroom management. Opportunities available in a variety of instructional environments. Supervision by the cooperating teacher and college supervisor. Full time for either one quarter or a full semester. Either semester (Prerequisite: Acceptance and good standing in Teacher Preparation Program)

EE 593 Internship - Elementary Education (6 crs.)
In this graduate level internship, a minimum of 30 clock hours will be required in grades 1-6 setting as an elementary teacher. Internship must be less than full time but at least 1/5 time employment as an elementary school teacher. Request for this course must be made to the Professional Education Office. (Prerequisite: Consent of the Department)

EE 596 Practicum - Early Childhood Education (12 crs.)
This graduate level practicum involves an eight or fifteen week field experience at the K-2 level under the guidance of a cooperating teacher and a college supervisor. Opportunities for participation in pupil observation, program planning and utilization of contemporary teaching strategies. Either semester (Prerequisite: Acceptance and good standing in Teacher Preparation Program)

EE 597 Practicum - Preschool (6 crs.)
This graduate level practicum involves supervised student teaching experience in a preschool setting with children, infancy through age five. Emphasis on development, implementation and evaluation of innovative preschool programs. The student participates in a total program, five days a week for eight weeks in either Day Care Center, Nursery School or Head Start Program. Either semester (Prerequisite: Acceptance and good standing in Teacher Preparation Program)

EE 598 Internship - Early Childhood Education (6 crs.)
This graduate level internship involves a minimum of 300 clock hours in a N-3 grade setting as an early childhood teacher. Internship must be less than full time but at least 1/5 time employment as an early childhood teacher. Request for this course must be made to the Professional Education Office. (Prerequisite: Consent of the Department)

Department of Foreign Languages

FL 324 Applied Linguistics in the Teaching of Foreign Languages (3 crs.)
The course will treat first, second and foreign language learning in home and educational settings. Emphasis is placed on differences between linguistic and pedagogical grammars, strong versus weak contrastive hypotheses and on the notion transitional competence. Research techniques are analyzed. (Prerequisite: A minimum of 18 credits in the foreign language in which certification is sought.)

Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation

PE/CT 156 Movement and Dance for Actors (3 crs.)

With the consent of the Departmental Honors Committee and the thesis director, this course may be extended into a second semester for three additional credits depending upon the scope of the project. Whether the final version of the thesis qualifies the student to graduate with Honors will be determined by the Departmental Honors Committee. (Prerequisite: Consent of the department) Either semester

Department of Social Work (Page 242)

SW 150 Introduction to Social Work (3 crs.)
This course is specifically designed to provide non-majors with a pragmatic introduction to the activities, responsibilities and roles which are characteristic in the field of social work. In the classroom, learners will have an opportunity to meet a number of experienced practitioners who will serve as guest lecturers and who will provide information on a broad variety of contemporary social work modalities. In addition, field visits to social service facilities, both public and private, will be included in the course plan. Students will become familiar with the client population and the range of client needs currently prevalent in Southeastern Massachusetts, and they will make first-hand observation of the ways in which human services are being delivered to meet those needs.

SW 328 Women and Social Services (3 crs.)
This course will focus on women in social services, both the clients and the workers. It will deal with issues and services particularly pertinent to women such as women's health care, shelters for battered women, rape-crisis centers, women's centers, and women's studies.

SW 334 Intervention with Family Systems (3 crs.)
Students will learn to conceptualize personal and interpersonal phenomena from a family systems perspective, to think in terms of circular rather than linear causality, and to recognize patterns and sequences. Major theoretical family systems approaches will be presented, as well as basic intervention techniques.

SW 335 School Social Work - History, Theory & Issues (3 crs.)
The course will begin by examining the school as an ecological unit created to educate and socialize children, within which unit are various subsystems. The evolution of school social work within this system will be traced from its inception in 1906 to the present. The three traditional models of school social work will be explored: home/school linkage, direct service provider, and team member. Issues of confidentiality, team building and assessment and referral will be discussed. The student will acquire an understanding of the application of the social work methods of casework, groupwork, and community organization as practiced in the school with well children in crisis and with special populations and problems (Chapter 766, Chapter I, truancy, minorities, substance abuse, destructive behavior, adolescent pregnancy). (Prerequisites: SW 250 and SW 311 for Social Work majors; SW 250 and Instructor's permission for non-majors)

AN 208 Anthropology of Women (3 crs.)
This course will investigate the relative status of women cross-culturally in a range of non-western settings, including hunter-gatherer bands, horticultural societies, peasantry, nomadic pastoralists as well as contemporary industrial societies. Women will be examined as they relate to economic resources, political power and authority, kin and non-kin and in religion, myth and lore. Students will analyze conceptually and through cross-cultural data what is meant by sex roles, how they vary cross culturally and how they are negotiated and maintained.

AN 400 Anthropological Theory (3 crs.)
This course is a survey of the foundations of cultural and archaeological theory, including cultural evolutionism, structuralism, American historical-particularis, British functionalism and structional-functionalism, French Structuralism, and current directions in American, European and Third World Anthropological thought. Theories of Archaeology will also be examined, including traditional evolutionary perspectives; the New Archaeology, and contemporary critiques, drawing upon social systems analysis. (Prerequisites: AN 100 and AN 101 or AN 103)

SO 217 East Asian Societies: China & Japan (3 crs.)
This course examines the cultural and social structure of traditional and modern China and Japan. The course will focus on topics such as work and economy, rural-urban contrasts, family and kinship, the position of women, and the relationships between state and society. The course will conclude with an assessment of the positions of these two societies in the contemporary world. (Prerequisite: SO 102 or AN 100)

SO 333 Sociology of Conflict Resolution (3 crs.)
The course is designed to study the structure and process of social conflict, and to analyze the primary dispute resolution processes, including negotiation and mediation, and other institutionalized modes of conflict resolution such as the ombudsman. The role of the mediator will be examined in depth. Sociological theory and methods will provide the foundation while specific problem-solving approaches are addressed.

SO 385 Victimology: Sociology of Victims (3 cr.)
This course is organized to address the significant questions of the victimologist perspective: who are victims in specific types of crimes, and how do they become victims? What role do victims play in their own victimization? Are there victimless crimes? How are victims treated by the police, the courts and related agencies? What can the criminal justice system do for the victims? Should victims participate in the sentencing process? Should victims be compensated and, if so, by whom? (Prerequisites: SO 102 and SO 328)

SO 403 Social Data Analysis (3 crs.)
This course introduces students to computer-based, quantitative data analysis. The course focuses on the major statistical techniques used in sociology and anthropology and will emphasize data analysis in the context of substantive research problems. Topics covered include: microcomputer-based data analysis packages, choosing appropriate statistics, interpreting statistical results, and presenting research findings. (Prerequisites: Either SO 102 and SO 402 or AN 100 and AN 103)

Department of Special Education (Page 254)
