To KATHERINE CHIPMAN BOYDEN

Wife, mother and friend

The Class of 1935

In profound admiration and loyal fellowship

Dedicates this book

Katherine Chipman Allen was born April 25, 1852. After graduating from the Bridgewater Normal School, she was married in 1877 to Arthur Clarke Boyden. During many years in which Dr. Boyden became teacher, principal, and president at Bridgewater, Mrs. Boyden established and maintained a home which not only furnished a background for a singularly devoted family life, but also figured largely in the thought and affection of the school.

We wish to express our loving recognition of Mrs. Boyden’s ever-keen interest in all our college activities.

"Who can find a virtuous woman? For her price is far above rubies. The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoil. She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life. . . . Her husband is known in the gates, when he sitteth among the elders of the land. . . . She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness. She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness. Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her. . . . Give her of the fruit of her hands; and let her own works praise her in the gates."—(from Proverbs 31.)
A LETTER FROM DR. EDWARD ALLEN BOYDEN

To the Graduating Class of the Bridgewater State Teachers College:

If this were not an especial occasion, I would still have responded to the invitation to write a few words for the Year Book—remembering the difficulties that once beset an editor of The Normal Offering, twenty-eight years ago. Out of those student days comes the memory of an anecdote about a certain "cullud gem'mun" who finally had to be exhorted by the companion of his choice, in these words: "Ike! Why don' yo' express yo'self!" And I judge the problem still remains, even in a co-educational school.

But this is an especial occasion, an opportunity to thank both the Editors of the Year Book for their gracious dedication of this volume to Mrs. Arthur C. Boyden, and the students and Faculty for the many kindly expressions of affection and esteem which have so enriched her life. I think it may be truly said that she has served this school faithfully for nearly sixty years. Indeed, no one who has not lived in an executive's family, can realize how completely an institution can dominate the life of a family; yet, it is characteristic of her that she has wished nothing in return but affection; and this you have given her in most generous measure.

As an alumnus of the School, I too have much to be grateful for. Its influence upon me began in the grades—in the very first grade—when, on one tardy occasion, Miss Stuart sorrowfully turned the picture of the soldier boy to the wall. From that moment on, I have had a strong aversion to being late. In the eighth grade, I came under the influence of another noble woman—Miss Burnell—whose uncompromising austerity, mingled with humor and a genius for reaching a boy's heart, eliminated much that was irrelevant to the career of a student.

In Normal School days (we had not then acquired the more pretentious label), there were many to whom I and my contemporaries owe a lasting debt of gratitude. But thinking of the period as a whole, I am impressed with two great capacities that it developed: First, it taught us how to work (a virtue that has grown no less significant after observing university students for thirty years); secondly, both its curricular and extra-curricular activities (athletics, debating, editorial work and social contacts) gave us an all-roundedness that has made life one great adventure, ever since.

In closing, I thought you might be interested in knowing how two great teachers—seen in the perspective of the years—appear to one who was a student of each. If I were to pick out only one characteristic, I should say that the outstanding quality in my grandfather was his ability to stir the conscience of a student, to open his eyes to the abundance of riches that lay ahead of him. The quality in my father that impressed me most was the acuity and sensitiveness of his mind. You recall the story of the little girl who was asked to describe the founding of England, and her brief summary of this event: "It was settled by the angles, the saxon and the jute. The acute angles went North and the obtuse angles, South." His mind belonged in the first category. It was ever sensitive to all contemporary thought. From each student and teacher, from every human contact, he was continually learning. Thus he grew in wisdom and in youthfulness, to the end. His education never stopped. If we were to return today, I think he would give you this message: "As you go out into life, keep the windows of your soul wide open, and the light of the gods that ye serve will ever shine in your faces."

This is a letter received from Edward Allen Boyden, class of 1907, in response to a request from the Editorial Board. Dr. Boyden is Professor of Anatomy in the University of Minnesota—an institution containing some 15,000 students in regular attendance. Its department of Anatomy is one of the largest and ablest in American Medical Schools. Dr. Boyden is "starred" in "American Men of Science" for his contributions to the knowledge of the structure and function of the human gall bladder. In addition to some fifty articles embodying scientific investigations, he has published "An Atlas of Embryology" which is widely used in Medical Schools. His work is threefold, consisting of teaching (Human Anatomy and Embryology), research and editorial work (as Managing Editor of The Anatomical Record, one of the research journals of the American Association of Anatomists).

This interpretation which Dr. Boyden has given us should not be left without some mention of Miss Ethel Boyden who with her fine musical talent served our school directly for some years after she graduated from it, and serves it still by preserving the beloved Boyden home. Thus both son and daughter have carried on the Boyden tradition of service.

History

Passing of years brings to us two general and opposite feelings: one of joy as we think of our contacts and accomplishments, and one of sorrow as we look back from our present plane of achievement and appreciate what might have been. We are glad to be alive and working in our modern changing world. We are glad to have attended Bridgewater Teachers College. We are proud to have selected as our institution of professional training one so rich in background, one with such fine opportunities for mental growth—for advancement in education and for education in education. We are pleased that we are privileged even in adverse economic conditions to attend college. We have grown intellectually and socially because of our contacts with the college, in regular curricula, in clubs, socials, athletics, and in personal contacts with our altruistic faculty.

Ought we to dwell on the sorrows—our keen realization that we as underclassmen, had we known what we know now as seniors, would not have let slip those unhappy remarks, would not have done those unkind deeds, would not have neglected those things which ought to have been done?

It was Horace Mann who, speaking of Bridgewater, said, "Coiled up in this institution, as in a spring, there is a vigor whose uncoiling may whirl the spheres!" It is interesting to conjecture how much our released vigor will exert whirling action after commencement.

Can we ever repay our administrative officers and our class officers for their never-ceasing efforts to help us to higher and nobler achievements and attitudes? We thank them here, and pledge our best to pass on to those with whom we come in contact, something of what they have given us.

Farewell to Bridgewater! We learned from thee to live our life so that every day we shall be of service.

John S. Bates.
MARY ANNE ADAMOWSKA

"The secret of success is constancy of purpose."

Mary is a sweet, obliging girl who goes quietly about her work. She often surprises us with her flashes of brilliant work in art. She is always very efficient—we're glad you come back to our fold far your four-year degree.

CONCEDEA CARMEL AMOROSO

"Let her speak, and whatever she says, Methinks I should like her the more."

Although petite, Connie is surely able to hold her own in arguing—especially in history classes. She has proven to be a capable and conscientious worker. Because of her professional and pleasant manner, we can prophecy that Connie will be a successful teacher.

MADELEINE ELIZABETH AMSDEN

River Street, Brookfield. Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Secretary 3. President 4. Library Club 2, 3, 4; Secretary 3. Chair 2, 4. Girl Scouts 1. W. A. A. 1.

"Sometimes serious—sometimes gay. How lovable a changeable way."

The keynote of Madeleine's personality is her apparent reserve, which once penetrated reveals a laughing friendliness and love of people. Music and bookbinding are her hobbies; poise, efficiency, frankness, and knowledge her characteristics.
RUTH PERRY ANDERSON

"Whose high endeavors are an inward light, That makes the path before her always bright."

"Ruth, did you take down my notice?" As chairman of the Bulletin Board Committee, Ruth expected this question at any time from individuals who just would forget rules and post notices with torn edges! To intimate friends she is known as a born teacher, a ready worker and sincere friend. Her pet pleasures are hiking, a good meal, and working in a certain "Candy Kitchen."

DORIS ESTELLE BALDWIN

"It's nice to be natural, When it's natural to be nice."

Doris has a naturalness and neatness which give her an individual charm. Her friends are numerous because of her quiet ways and cheerful smile. If commuting had not taken much of her time, she could also have shown much skill on the basketball floor.

DOROTHY WARDWELL BEARCE

"One smile can glorify a day, One word, true hope impart."

We should say that Dot is one of the most energetic, congenial, and enthusiastic girls in our class at B. T. C. Her abilities range from that of teaching in the first grade to that of leading a college club. Here's hoping that you'll have many happy years of teaching in that town of yours!
MARIAN JOSEPHINE BEHAN

"Her ways are ways of helpfulness,
Her paths are paths of friendliness."

Although Marion has lived her school years in what we call a "quiet manner," we have found her to be a staunch classmate. When others have failed us, we have always found her there to do her part. May you continue your good work out teaching, Marion.

VERONICA DOROTHY BINGLE

"A will to do, and a soul to dare,
Always ready, and always there."

A sunny disposition, a keen understanding, excellent leadership—because of these, Woodward upholds Von as a perfect house president.

MAE CHRISTABELLE BUELOW

Hardwick. W. A. A. 1, 2.

"What worry? And me so young!"

Every experience teaches her a lesson—one that she profits by. This undoubtedly accounts for her lack of qualms or worries, this girl whose hobby is bridge. If ever life deals her a hand of only one suit, you may be sure she won't bid "7 No Trump"—experience is the best teacher!
FLORENCE DUNHAM BURRILL

99 Fremont Street, Bridgewater. Associate Member of Dramatic Club 2, 3, 4. Poster Committee 2, 4.

"He that hath found a friend, hath found a treasure."

Careful about details—as is shown in her scholarship and art, Florence gains much in a quiet manner. Attractive and useful works are the results of her skillful hands. Once a friend, always a friend, sincere and true.

FRANCES WATSON BURRILL

99 Fremont Street, Bridgewater. Associate Member of Dramatic Club 2, 3, 4. Poster Committee 2, 4.

"All who would win joy must share it;
Happiness was born a twin."

It is so difficult to decide which twin is Frances and which is Florence! However, if you wish something done which is to be artistic and clever you can depend on one of the Burrill Twins.

"She is pretty to walk with
And witty to talk with
And pleasant too, to think on."

Jane’s versatility is welcome wherever she goes. Whether behind footlights or before the easel, she meets the situation with a flare of triumph that is envied by all. We are sure that with such qualities she will easily succeed in her chosen career.

"She is not shy
Or bold, but simply self-possessed.
Her independence adds a zest
Unto her speech."

‘Tis said that by the work one knows the workman, and this applies well to Arlene, for everything she undertakes is well done. Under her shell of quietness there lies a sincerity of purpose, and a pleasing personality.

"Buxom, blythe and debonair."

Anne’s pep and vitality have always impressed us. She has gained a "rep" for herself by refereeing basketball games in the gym. We wish the best of luck to a hoppy and willing worker, who is also full of seriousness and sincerity.
VIRGINIA COCHRANE
9 Edgemere Road, Quincy. Class Representative 1. Student Council 1. K. P. Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Treasurer 1; Secretary 2. Dramatic Club 2, 3, 4.

Sweet and sincere in her relations with others, always conscientious, unusually competent in the field of Dramatics, Jinny has made a place for herself in the hearts of many who feel that they have gained much just from knowing her.

CLAIRE AGNES COOK

"Responsibility walks hand in hand with power and ability."

Claire's skill, power, and ability are unexcelled, and she's ever willing to co-operate and share responsibility with fellow students or faculty too. Hidden behind her quiet outward self are some of the finest qualities ever found in an individual. It is these that have made her classmates think so highly of Claire.

MARION EATON CUSHMAN

"With malice toward none, and charity for all!"

Where would our college be without such obliging and accommodating people as our own Mary D? She is always ready to help others and is one of those rare persons who enjoy doing so. May your sunny disposition bring you much success!

EDNA MAE DELANEY
631 Brock Avenue, New Bedford.

"The knowledge of art is valuable to us, even though we follow another calling."

Edna is one of the jolly transfers who came to us from Gorham Normal School in Maine. While there she was very active in athletics and was a fine cheerleader—she has helped us in that capacity too. She always manages to find something humorous in any situation. If you don't think life is a succession of hearty laughs, ask Edna.
MARY DI BARTHOLOMEO
22 Massachusetts Avenue, Quincy. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Topics of the Day 2, 3, 4. Hobby Club 4.

"She doth little kindnesses
Which most leave undone or despise
For naught that sets one's heart at ease
Or giveth happiness or peace
Is low esteemed in her eyes."

Mary is a conscientious, modest worker who is ready for any task which may come up. Cheering everyone with her happy smile and laughter, we are glad to call her "friend."

TERESA EDITH DOHERTY

"A loving heart is the beginning of all knowledge."

Teddy started in as a freshman to be one of those "still-waters-run-deep" persons, but we found her out for the good sport she really is!

ELLEN DUPUIS
Holland. W. A. A. 1, 2. T. C. 1, 2, 3, 4. French Club 3, 4; President 4. Dormitory Council 3. Treasurer of Tillinghost 3.

"Little deeds of kindness, little words of love,
Help to make earth happy like the heaven above."

Ellen's interested in art and may specialize in this work some day. Remember the beautiful wall canvases at Mardi Gras in 1934—mostly Ellen's work. She can always be counted upon to do a fine piece of work in any line. Sympathetic, generous, interesting to talk to—she has a good word for every one. And did you know—her favorite sport is horseback-riding.
BERTHA LOIS ELLIS

"She's equally ready for work or fun,
From early dawn to set of sun."

Bertha's infectious smile and sunny disposition have made her a needed part of Woodward and A.2. Find the "third floor gang" out for a celebration and you'll find her there too. Someone who always gets everything completely done on time; yet does not seem to work hard at it! We can verify her interests in Literature or Music and Glee Club by seeking her in the Library or Chair.

CAROLINE TUCK FEINDEL

26 Summer Street, Wakefield.  W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4.  Hobby Club 1, 2, 3; President 3.  T. C. 1, 2, 3.  Inter-Club Council 3.  Treasurer of Student Co-operative Association 4.  Bowling 1.

"Gaad, wise, and true.
A smile for everyone and
A frown for few."

Snapping brawny eyes, curling lashes, rosy complexion, sweet reserve—these typify Caroline, our efficient S. C. A. treasurer. Sparkling, witty, humorous, intelligent, poetic, friendly—these characterize "Carol" to her intimate friends.

MARY RITA FLYNN

"A vivacious, petite, and lovable sprite;
A being, 'tis said, rarely inclined to fight,
She's practical, resourceful, energetic, sincere,
Quite droll, by the way, but not perfect, don't fear!"

Flynnie, the girl with the charming personality, manner—a pal of pals. Those four years have been short ones, haven't they "Reet"? The best of luck in all you undertake!
ALMA ELIZABETH FOLEY

"With such a comrade, such a friend,
I fain would walk till journey's end."

B. T. C. was fortunate when Alma decided to enter as a Freshman with all her virtues of a studious, all-around good sportsman. She displayed these qualities in her work this past year with the day students. Her hobbies are knitting, handwork, and blushing. May she have a bright future and much success!

MILDRED MARY FORREST

"Let me laugh all care away,
Let mirth speed happy hours."

The chauffeur of a carload of fun hailing from the wilds of Middleboro! Altho' she was fated a White in that grand ole meet, we were indebted to her home town for that "Red Rooster" (?) She and Manie were "partners in crime" with a certain racket. A grand sport, a friend we'll not forget.

ELLEN MARGARET GILLIGAN

"A pleasing personality."

With twinkling eyes and merry feet, Ellen is known for her love of the aesthetic. Slim and graceful, her own self has wan her many dear friends at B. T. C. She has also a goodly share of brain power which she exhibits in the classroom. In her are combined many of the qualities needed for success.

DOROTHY CLAIRE GLEASON

"Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works."

Hyannis' lass became Bridgewater's gain when Dot with her wit, leadership, and skill joined us. We learned from her that "it matters not how long we live, but how!"
GRACE GRANT

"Virtue and genuine graces in themselves speak what no words can utter."

Always dependable and ready to do anything at any time, Grace has shown herself a true friend to those who know her. With her ability to organize and co-operate we think she has the qualities that make for the progressive teacher about whom we hear so much.

ALICE JOSEPHINE GUILMARTIN

"She taketh most delight in poetry."

Only those who have been under the spell of her interpretive reading can begin to understand quiet, dreamy Alice. Her appreciation of the aesthetic, and her sensitiveness to the beauty in words give her that power to enchant.

WILMAR COUZENS HARLOW
34 South Street, West Bridgewater. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3. Science Club 2, 3, 4. Scouts 4.

"All quiet persons are welcome everywhere."

Quietness is truly the word that personifies Wilmar. Yet unexpectedly, especially in Science Club, we catch a glimpse of the laughing, friendly spirit which all her friends enjoy and remember, a champion knitter and friend.
EVA DAVIS HASELGARD

"The heart to conceive, the understanding to direct, and the hand to execute."

Our efficient "federal agent" (with apologies to the Psychology department) is one of the most popular young ladies in college. Ever is she greeted by: "Have the checks come yet?" or "When are we going to get paid?" But to many of us Dave is more than a symbol of F. E. R. A., she is a cheerful companion, a good sport, and a loyal friend.

THELMA HASLETT
Brockton Avenue, Abington. Topics of the Day 4.

"What strength there lies in quiet, calm repose!"

A flaunt of irony that brings a subtle pagoncne to her remarks causes one to sit up and take notice of Thelma. She has tried all manner and means of transportation, invariably reaching Bridgewater, though often accompanying her arrival with "Yesterday, I took to-day off!" We must admire her for her woman's intuition—it does come in handy!

ESTHER MARION HIRTLE

"I chatter, chatter as I go."

Because of her pep and happy disposition, Esther has helped many of us to snap out of a "blue" mood. She is usually cheerful and because of her flashing smile and optimistic philosophy she's one of BrH20's most popular Seniors.
KATHLEEN MARIE HOFFERTY

85 River Street, Quincy. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3. Campus Comment 1, 2, 3, 4. Alpha Representative 1, 2, 3, 4. Library Club 4.

"Here is a girl of laughter and song. If you've ever seen her otherwise, there must be something wrong."

Where there is merriment, there is Kay. She can express herself in words too. Besides being eloquent and optimistic, she is vivacious, skillful in tennis, and a lover of suntan.

ESTHER ELIZABETH HOLBROOK

"Sport that wrinkled care derides, And laughter holding both his sides!"

Did you hear that laugh? It's only Esther's good nature bubbling over. Always pleasant, her sense of humor livens up many a class. She is a natural teacher, and willing to work hard, and she is sure to make a place for herself in the teaching profession.

ELEANOR MARGARET HOLMES

101 South Washington Street, Whitman. Day Student Council 1, 3, 4. Topics of the Day Club 2, 3, 4. Hobby Club 2, 3, 4. W. A. A. 1, 2. Interpretative Dancing 1, 2.

"Persuasive speech, and more persuasive sighs, Silence that spoke, and eloquence of eyes."

Eleanor is the girl who surprises everyone. She is steady and studious, accomplishing much, and always ready with same remark, unexpected but fitting. My, how she rolls her eyes when she hears an odd name or the mention of good food! Good luck, Eleanor.
OLIVE MAY HOSFORD

Merrimac. Dormitory Council 3, 4; Secretary 4. Class Secretary 3. Treasurer of Hobby Club 1, 2, 3, 4. T. C. 2, 3, 4. Library Club 4. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Board 3.

"The best reward of a kindly deed is the reward of having done it."

Olive has her own ideals, which she maintains in spite of the opinions of others. She is highly regarded for the numerous little duties which she performs without recognition. Whatever she undertakes, be it little or big, she does it with incomparable thoroughness.

HARRIETT MARTHA HULTSTROM

64 Eliot Street, Norwood. Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Vice-president 4. Chair 1, 2, 3, 4; Leader 4. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Board 3. Tenniquoit 1, 2, 3; Head 3. Volleyball 1, 2, 3. Student Council 4.

"Her music in my heart I bare, Lang after it was heard na more."

In spite of our sincere admiration and love for Harriett, how we hated to see her coming with those little white slips in her hand! We much preferred seeing her in the ranks of the chair. We wander who will da the honors with the baton next year? Harriett's standards of musical efficiency are envied, but admired by all.

GRACE ANGELA JACOBS

137 East Water Street, Rockland. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Treasurer 4; Head of Dancing 3. Topics of the Day 3, 4. Chair 2, 3, 4. Glee Club 4. Dance Group 1, 2, 3, 4.

"But O! She dances such a way Na sun upon an Easter day Is half so fine a sight!"

Grace will always be remembered for her voice—both in its musical quality and its fluency! An admirer of the aesthetic.
BERTHA CATHERINE JOSEPH

"To those who know thee, no words can paint! And those who know thee, know all words are faint."

Poise, a gentle dignity, and a quiet reserve characterizes one side of Bertha's nature. To those who penetrate this reserve, she is sparkling, vivacious, and gay. Such a charming combination of nature is seldom found in one person. She has the rare ability to work quickly without sacrificing quality or worth. May she make as many friends in future years as she has made here.

ARLENE AGNES KELLEHER
12 Eleventh Avenue, Haverhill. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Head of Tennis 3; President 4. Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4. Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4. Baseball 4. Track 2. Tennis 2, 3, 4. Dormitory Council 2, 3; Treasurer 3. Topics of the Day 2.

"She's athletic, enthusiastic, sociable, sincere. Quite droll, by the way, but not perfect, don't fear!"

Ever ready to give you the words of the latest popular song, to swing a tennis racket, or do a little dancing, Arlene certainly has lived up to the code of Sportsmanship, Scholarship, and Stability which she as president of W. A. A. has helped to establish.

MARIE CATHERINE KELLY
395 Nahatan Street, Norwood. Camero Club 2, 3, 4. President 4. Social Activities Committee 3; Secretary 3. Secretary of Woodward 4. Member of Dormitory Council and House Board 4. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4. Basketball 1, 2, 4. Baseball 1, 2, 4. Tennis 1, 2, 3, 4.

"Bright as the brightest, Merry as the merriest, Athletic, gay, and true."

You have seen Pat as the president of Camera Club, but do you remember her in her lively Freshman days? Well, she still has retained that gay spirit that endeared her to us all.
BESSIE IRENE KIDD

"With such a comrade, such a friend
I fain would walk till journey's end."

Two Irenes—ane the serious, efficient leader, accomplishing things; very often forgetting her own problems in her enthusiasm and eagerness to help others, . . . the other a laughing, happy-go-lucky Irene who is the life of the party. An ideal combination, don't you agree?

DEMETRA KITSON
58 Charles Street, Haverhill. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Tennis 1, 2, 3. Track 1, 2. Dancing 1, 2. Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4. Technique 3. Tennis 2, 3. Hockey 1, 2. Baseball 3. Science Club 2, 3. Topics of the Day 2, 3. Class Representative 2.

"The rule of my life is to make business a pleasure and pleasure my business."

Gay, spritely, vivacious—for four years Demie has been a constant source of pep. Be it at a dance, in the dorm, or a class, she is always there to start things going. In spite of her cheerful attitude, she does not neglect her work—especially when her Wednesday night guest teaches her "the mechanics of windows and doors." It certainly would be worthwhile to be a student of the "personality girl."

ENES LA GRECA

"From the crown of her head to the sole of her foot she is all mirth."

Enes has a personality which we admire. There’s never a dull moment when she’s around with her ready wit and permanent smile. If you can’t get along with Enes—well, you just can’t get along!
ELINOR STANWOOD LANE

60 Eastern Avenue, Gloucester. Hobby Club 1, 2, 3, 4. Kindergarten-Primary Club 1, 2, 3, 4. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Scouts 1. Dancing 3. Bowling 1, 2.

"Let such teach others who themselves excel, And censure freely who have written well."

Elinor’s success in the teaching profession has already been partially proven. She has been an efficient treasurer of K. P. Club and a capable secretary of Hobby Club. She is fond of interpretative dancing and dramatics, too. Elinor has little to say but we suspect that she is reserving her voice to use in her classroom.

RUTH MARY LAWTON

Old County Road, North Westport. Hobby Club 1, 2, 3, 4. T. C. 2, 3, 4. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Recording Secretary 4. Chairman of Elections Committee 4.

“A girl whose gentle charm of manner leaves a pleasant memory."

Ruth sets high standards for herself, and her conscience ever guides her towards these ideals. Her willing co-operation, calm temperament, and a quiet humor have endeared her to many.

ALICE LEMA

108 Standish Avenue, Plymouth. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3. Hockey 1, 2. Tenniquoit 1, 2. Basketball 1, 2, 3. Topics of the Day 2, 3, 4.

"Nature has given us two ears, two eyes, and but one tongue, to the end that we should hear and see more than we speak."

What would a history class be without our star? Her efficiency in many lines assures her of the success which we wish her!
ESTHER LEPPALA

61 Kent Street, Quincy. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Interpretative Dancing 1, 2, 3, 4. W. A. A. Board 3. Bicycling 4.

"Talent, like beauty, to be pardaned must be obscure and unostentatious."

Although Esther modestly tries to conceal her talents, they crop out now and then. We were always glad to view the fruit of her artistic taste in the decorated walls of the gymnasium at our social gatherings.

HELEN RITA LINEHAN

18 Lexington Avenue, Bradford. Hobby Club 1, 4. T. C. 1, 2, 3, 4. Topics of the Day 4. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Head of Bicycling 3, 4. Ping-pong 3.

"Nature and books belong to those who see them."

When we think of Helen, we shall remember her program so full of devotion to both nature and books. She goes "pedantic" with her sports program of hiking, biking, skating and skiing. As for her specialties in art—ask anyone where she got her good-looking Old English nameplates—neat and clever, so characteristic of Helen.

EILEEN WINNIFRED LLOYD

151 Chestnut Street, Fairhaven. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Board 3, 4. Hockey 1, 2, 4. Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4. Girl Scouts 1. Topics of the Day 2. Library Club 2, 3, 4. Campus Comment 2, 3, 4; Secretary 4.

"I'm on the sea! The open sea! I am where I would ever be!"

She claims she is a "sister serious" but her snappy eyes and grin make us wander! Her fondness for everything nautical has given her the title "Skipper." She has a true love of people, a keen interest in sports, a zest for anything new, and a passion for honesty and naturalness.
MARIETTA ELVA LOTHROP
11 Central Square, West Bridgewater. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4.

Topics of the Day 2, 3, 4.

"A maiden never bold;
Of spirit so still and quiet, that her motion
Blushed at herself."

Marietta's quiet attitude around the college has always been one of her outstanding characteristics. Although reserved, she has shown a high scholarship record and her helpfulness has revealed to her classmates her true worth. Math problems have proven to be fun for her—a consolation to her friends! Good luck in your chosen career!

RUTH MANNION
13 Hosmer Street, Everett. Student Council 1, 2, 3, 4.
Class Representative 1, 2, 3. Dormitory Council 1, 2, 3, 4;
Secretary 3; President 4. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Dramatic Club 2, 3, 4.

"Always a-grinning, always o-winning, always o-feeling fine."

A rare combination of dignity and frivolity—the ambition and ability to do things well; enthusiasm, persistency, achievement, . . . that's Ruthie.

CHRISTINE MARTIN
5 Branch Street, Mansfield. French Club 1, 2. Garden
Club 4; Leader of the Afternoon Group 4. Archery 1, 2.
Tenniquoit 1, 2, 3. Basketball 2, 3. Interpretative Dancing 2.
Volley Ball 2, 3.

"Here is a dear and true industrious friend."

When Christine's name is mentioned, there is only one picture that her classmates can imagine—that of a small, dark girl with eager, sparkling eyes, and the most friendly smile imaginable. We know that she will never have a dull moment, for she is interested in everything with which she comes in contact—a characteristic which accounts for her high scholastic standing.
ELIZABETH MARIE MAYNARD

"A personality that leaves its imprint,"

Beth's optimism and bubbling enthusiasm can never be forgotten. We regret that her time was so divided between us and her other duties, and we are anxiously awaiting the time when her book relating her personal experiences will appear. It should fill in the stories of her life which she did not have time to tell us. We wonder if it was in Denmark that she developed that unusual dramatic ability which she displayed in our Christmas play?

DOROTHY HELEN McCANN

122 Garfield Avenue, Chelsea. Day Student Council 4.

"For my part, getting up seems not so easy
By half as lying."

Dot is one of our champion commuters. When it comes to getting up at 5 A. M. to start for school, Dot's right there. The wonder of it is that it doesn't affect her disposition either, for we all know that she has a grand one! Speaking of patience—well, she knitted a boucle suit—need we say more?

HELEN JOSEPHINE McGINN

"Friend-making, everywhere friend-finding soul.
Fit for the sunshine, so it followed her,
A happy-tempered bringer of the best
Out of the worst."

Her numerous friends are some indication of the geniality, understanding, and wit of one to whose abilities may be added the ability to listen well.
MARY ELIZABETH McLAUGHLIN

"One who never undertakes anything ineffectually."

Mary is one of those rare individuals who carries on with a strict adherence to detail in all her work, without forsaking the more humorous side either.

CHERIDAH ADELAIDE PAQUIN
Main Street, P. O. Box 133, Middleboro. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Topics of the Day 3, 4.

"To those who know thee not
No words can paint!
And those who know thee
Know all words are faint."

This is our "Cherry" who tells us that she likes poetry. We hope she likes this stanza, and wish her all the success that is due her.

JEANETTE WELLS PARMENTER

"To her will come the finest things in life,
Because to life she gives her best."

Jeanette is the possessor of many desirable qualities. Among them are conscientiousness, literary ability, sympathy, perseverance, and co-operativeness.
ELISABETH THERESA PEBLER

"O eyes, with tears and laughter for all time."

Elizabeth, better known as "Pebbles," has a spontaneous and contagious laugh that makes her lovable. She has a flair for anything that smacks of danger. Among her favorite hobbies are skating and bicycling. Who could forget her dissertation in D4 Reading on "October's Bright Blue Weather"?

CECILIA THERESA PERKINS

121 Union Street, Franklin. Dorm Council 1, 2. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Bowling 1, 2. Hockey 1. Dramatic Club 2, 3, 4; Vice-president 3; President 4.

"Her voice, matian, and her smile,
Her wit, her voice, our hearts beguile."

For her dramatic talent she is known throughout the school. Dependable, carefree, and jolly is Perky.

ROSE PERRY

"She's equally ready for work or fun,
From early dawn to set of sun."

Rose with her pleasant and happy disposition has won many friends here at college. As student and classmate, she could always be relied upon to cooperate with her associates. She combines work and play in a way that the rest of us would like to do.
DOROTHEA ALICE PILOTE

"Why worry what tomorrow brings? To-day is here—and now's the time
For song and jest."

Here come the French with a bang! Mike, our ardent French lover is also our fun-maker. She is conscientious in her work, yet her smile shows one she also likes diversion from her studies. Her main hobbies are studying French, looking out for Mr. Denton, and reading "those French novels."

HARRIET HEMENWAY PORTMORE
2 Solon Street, Wellesley. Glee Club 2, 3, 4. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4.

"Smooth runs the water where the brook is deep."

Dignity and reserve—there is a certain smoothness and sophistication about Boots which we admire; but underneath this is a certain gaiety and jollity which we love. A student, yes, for the scholastic phase of her life—but an ardent devotee of dancing and such for the social side.

MYRTLE ELIZABETH PRAY

"She smiled and the shadows departed,
She shone and the snows were rain;
And they who were frozen-hearted
Bloomed up into love again."

Demure and modish is our Myrt. Her piquant smile and bonny blue eyes present a pleasing picture. A vivacious person, happy and independent, she has faithfully executed an important position on our college paper. Another side of her well-rounded character is seen in her keen wit and sense of humor. She's held in high esteem by her classmates.
HAZEL SABRA PRESCOTT

Curve Street, Carlisle. W. A. A. 1, 2. T. C. 1, 2. Glee Club 3, 4. Chair 3, 4. Campus Comment 2, 3, 4. Technician 3; Copy Editor 4. Dormitory Council 3, 4.

"Brightly smile and sweetly sing."

Who dares say that a girl cannot be merry and carefree, and still be efficient? We can't help but admire her neat, well-organized notebooks, and her blackboard sketches. Her interest in music is clearly shown by her faithful attendance in Glee Club and Choir. Her fine scholarship needs no comment, so all we can say is—keep up the good work.

BEATRICE RENZI

306 Rantoul Street, Beverly. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Head of Hockey 2; Head of Basketball 3; Vice-president 4. Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4. Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4. Soccer 2, 3. Baseball 1, 2, 4. Tennis 1, 2, 3, 4. Topics of the Day 1, 4. Garden Club 4. Bulletin Board Committee 4.

"Every inch a sport."

Begie's enthusiasm for athletics has been apparent since she entered B. T. C. as a Freshman, and W. A. A. has benefited greatly for four years from this spontaneous interest. Remember her as leader of the Abadabs, that Senior team which played any and everything! Geography? Questions pertaining to the products of the U. S. were her specialty! Whether or no you da decide to be a fireman, you'll be successful in your profession!

MARY ROBERTS

8 Center Street, Provincetown. Culture Fund Committee 3, 4; Chairman 4. Student Council 4.

"I awake one day and found myself famous!"

Her's is personality teeming with individuality. Subtly and secretly amused, she intrigues us with a glimpse of some "potentiality" hitherto hidden beneath her calm exterior. If life ever demands the utmost development of these traits, then we shall surely awake to find her famous.

"The joy of youth and health in her eyes displayed."

Some would call Edna an irresponsible genius, but when we know her we can see that she has her serious side along with her gaiety. She is forever seeking activity, whether it be hockey or basketball. She can certainly read excellent sociology reports, too!

MARY ANNE RYAN

"Good manners and soft words have brought many a difficult thing to pass."

You never hear very much from Mary, but she always manages to get things done. When it comes to psychology, Mary's paper is usually on tap. Maybe Mr. Hunt's idea of starting the alphabet in the rear of the room and bringing the R's down front had something to do with it. Are we right, Mary?

PHYLLIS MARIE RYDER

43 School Street, Stoughton. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Board 3, 4; Council 3. Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4. Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4. Tenniquoit 1, 2, 3, 4. Tennis 1, 2, 3, 4. Valley Ball 1, 2, 4. Baseball 2, 3, 4. Track 1, 2. Soccer 2, 3. W. A. A. Representative to Alpha 4. Class Representative 4. Class Editor on Alpha 3. Campus Comment Board 3, 4.

"There's only one proof of ability—action."

An efficient class "rep," a star athlete, and a star reporter! There isn't a thing that goes on at B. T. C. that Phyl doesn't know about, it being her business to inform the rest of the world through the columns of the Enterprise. Yes, good things do come in small packages.
ALICE ADELE SAVAGE

153 Elm Street, Quincy. Chairman of Christmas Card Committee 4. Class Officers Nominating Committee 1. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Basketball 1, 2. Interpretative Dancing 1, 2, 3, 4. Tap Dancing 3, 4. Soccer 2, 3.

"The thing that goes farthest toward making life worthwhile, That costs the least, and does the most, is just a pleasant smile."

Nothing ever goes wrong with Alice because her motto is "never trouble trouble until trouble troubles you!" One can always find her by looking for Arlene Carter. (They are inseparable.) Although she can giggle, she can also be quite serious as she showed us in psychology and sociology!

MARION AMY SCOTT

6 Mineral Street, Reading. Orchestra 1, 2, 3. W. A. A. 1, 2.

"Why worry what tomorrow brings? To-day is here—and now's the time For song and jest."

ELLEN MARIE SHEA

60 Pearl Street, East Bridgewater. Science Club 2, 3, 4; President 4. Campus Comment 1, 2, 3, 4. W. A. A. 2, 3, 4. Treasurer of Day Student Council 4.

MARY FIELDING SHEA

240 Centre Street, Groveland. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Dormitory Council 1. Topics of the Day 2. Campus Comment 4.

Mary is equally ready for work or fun; an integration of dignity, deep insight, determination, and joyous nature. These qualities are responsible for her keeping a host of friends.

CELIA HUMPHREY SMITH

190 North Main Street, Middleboro. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Council 4. T. C. 1, 2, 3, 4.

"I'd like to go traveling near and far
By train, or by plane to the furthest star."

Seatated behind the desk in the library we find Cel—always the pleasant librarian, ready to help us with our troublesome studies. We expect that after you have saved your "young fortune" from librarying you will enjoy traveling around, abroad, and afar. We know that with your quiet, friendly way you'll succeed in your undertakings, Celio.

HAZEL EVANGELINE SMITH

"She has the countenance of a cherubim, but she is a rogue of heart."

Hazel can always be found where there is something lively going on. Noontimes the gym is usually her retreat. In spite of all her social activities, there aren't many getting ahead of Hazel when it comes to scholastic record!
LEMIRA CAMPBELL SMITH

16 Courtland Street, Middleboro. Assistant Editor of Alpha 3; Editor 4. Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4. Chair 1, 2, 3, 4. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4. Basketball 1, 2, 4. Hackey 4. Soccer 1, 2, 3, 4. Head 3. Volleyball 1, 2, 3. T. C. 4. Scouts 1. Tenniquoit 1, 2, 3. Bowling 1, 2, 3.

"A bit of seriousness mixed with a dash of fun."

Full of fun, wit, and laughter—these characteristics make Lem one of our best-known members. Mixed with these joyful qualities we find seriousness, sincerity, ability, and good sportsmanship, making her a loyal and true friend. Lem's pet hobby is Mathematics—she's Mr. Durgin's assistant!

MARIE ELIZABETH SMITH

30 Exchange Street, Brockton.

"Hospitality sitting with gladness."

Marie, our charming colleague from Hyannis, has in the short time she has been with us made numerous friends. Although not often voicing her opinion at her own volition, she can give it when called for, and it always proves valuable and enlightening. When one is in danger of feeling bluer a glimpse of Marie's smile will guarantee a bit of cheer. In all, a combination of seriousness and glowing personality—that's Marie.

ALICE RITA SOUZA

"Oh, blest with temper whose unclouded ray/Can make tomorrow cheerful as today."

During her four years here at Bridgewater, Rita has made many friends who like her even-going manner. Always ready to lend her assistance, she has proven helpful to many. We hope you will always keep your cheerful disposition.

"My way is to begin at the beginning."

Methodical Esther! A most interesting person is our classmate with the extensive vocabulary, and a viewpoint all her own. If you want an interesting argument, just start Esther, and you're in for an hour's entertainment with no expenses attached. If teaching should bore you, Esther, by all means try law!

RUTH ANNA SULLIVAN

6 Harding Avenue, Bradford. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Hockey 1, 2. Topics of the Day 2. Library Club 2, 3, 4; President 4.

"As what she seemed to be, she was,
Alike to all, herself, sincere and true."

It is unusual to find gathered together in one personality such outstanding qualities as sincerity, charm, and brilliancy. Yet, where Ruth is concerned, we can also add without fear of contradiction, enthusiasm, gaiety, and good sportsmanship.

ANNA LOUISE TRIPP

Gifford Road, North Westport. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Hockey 1, 2. Baseball 1, 2. Basketball 1. Golf 1, 2; Head 2. Volleyball 1. Hobby Club 1, 2. T. C. 2, 3, 4; Treasurer 3; Vice-President 4. Library Club 4.

"He travels safely and not unpleasantly who is guided by love."

Anna first impresses us with her dark eyes, then we discover her pleasant friendliness, her reserve, and her willingness to do a good turn at any time. Here's to happiness for Anna in her ravels through life.
AUDREY LOUISE TRIPP

"Open, genial, friendship kind! Friends like these are hard to find."

Trippie is one of our athletic enthusiasts. As manager of the Abadabs she was the spirit behind the game! But there is more to Audrey than sport. She's a fine friend, whom we all regard as true-blue and an asset to our circle of friendships. In social affairs when there's anything to be done, Audrey knows how to do it and is there on the spot.

"It is nice to be natural, If you are naturally nice."

Arranging a tea-table, bulletin board, or a room! These are some of her chief joys. Adding to these a love of geography, and horseback-riding, we see the studious and athletic sides of Tut.

RUTH VAN CAMPEN

"I would be true, for there are those who trust me."

Sincere, loyal, squarest of the square—with courage to live up to her ideals, and a readiness to understand the ideals of others. No wonder acquaintances admire her and friends love her!
ESTHER MARIAN WARD
2 Willard Place, Plymouth.

"Well-timed silence hath more eloquence than words."

Esther came to us this year after several years in the teaching field. She has received her A.B. from Brown, where she was active on class committees and served as Vice-president of her class during her last two years there. She is a quiet and efficient worker and we hope she's enjoyed B. T. C. as much as we've enjoyed having her in our classes.

AUDREY ELIZABETH YEATON
22 Clarence Avenue, Bridgewater.

"Her air, her manner, all who saw admired."

Audrey came to us from Pembroke College in Brown University; from there she graduated in 1934. She was House President her Junior year and majored in English Literature there. Although she has been with us but a short time, we soon found friendly qualities beneath her quietness and poise and have learned to admire her very much for her choice in clothes and her scholarly ability.
JOHN SAYWARD BATES

284 Pratt Avenue, Somerset. Class Secretary 1, 2, 4; Camera Club 2, 3, 4; President 3. Men’s Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Secretary 2; Vice-president 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4.

Was there ever anything doing around the college in which “everyone’s boy friend” didn’t have a hand? John’s wit, humor, curiosity, and genuine ability all combined to make him one of the best-liked and most versatile of fellows. Who can forget his deep bass voice?

HAROLD HENRY BREWER

R. F. D. 3, Great Barrington. Alpha Advertising Manager 4. Manager of Soccer 3, 4. Men’s Club Play 1, 2, 3, 4. Dramatic Club Play 4. Men’s Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

Industry going pell-mell down the corridor; historian for Hollywood; direct descendant of Paul Revere; glamorous Kitty and deep-dyed villain; New England conscience wed to a flare for things ephemeral—our Harald!

CHARLES EDWARD CALLAHAN

91 Black Street, Abington. Class Representative 1, 2. N. A. A. Council 1, 2, 3, 4; Secretary 3. Tennis 1, 2, 3, 4; Manager 2, 3, 4; Coach 2. Basketball 1. Men’s Glee Club 1, 2. Men’s Club 1, 2, 3, 4. N. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4.

We can always depend on Cal to contribute some witty remark on any occasion. This “little fellow” has a captivating smile, but certainly does make a clever and tenacious opponent in a tennis match. If he carries over his tennis habits into life, his accomplishments should be many.
JAMES KENNETH CASTLE

Jim is well-liked because he is always ready to lend a willing hand or a kindly word—an all-round good sport. We are glad that he chose to live in Bridgewater during our Senior year. Jim proved to be an able speaker on chapel programs.

FRANCIS CYPRIEN CHAMPAGNE

Champ is always ready to give his own vigorous opinion. His tongue can be fiery; his sarcasm can be keenly penetrating; but he is honest in purpose and generous at heart. His knowledge of parliamentary procedure served us in good stead in those forums of '34.

RAYMOND FREEMAN COOK
11 Savery Avenue, Sagamore. Men's Club 1, 2, 3, 4; President 4; Secretary 2, 3. Men's Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4. Manager of Baseball 4; Assistant Manager 3. Student Council 4. A. 1, 2, 3, 4.

Our "irrepressible playboy"—seated atop Owen's piano, harmonizing with Dan—yet he was often seen in serious moods. "Bud" or "Min" served well in his capacity as the accepted leader in the men's social activities. His Onset team of tumblers!
KENNETH CARLTON COOMBS

95 Orange Street, Nantucket. Men's Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Treasurer 3. Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4. Soccer 1, 2, 3, 4. Basketball 1, 2. Men's Glee Club 1, 2, 3. Lyceum 1. N. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4.

Ken, with his dry humor, his friendly bits of sarcasm, his jovial good-fellowship has (despite his inclination to lengthen weekends) made himself universally popular. Underlying his vein of humor are traits of character that are certain to make him successful.

SAMUEL FRANCIS GREGORY

127 West High Street, Avon. Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4. Soccer 2. Men's Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Treasurer 2. Lyceum 2. Men's Club 1, 2, 3, 4. N. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4.

Benito has an abundance of ideas and ideals, and the ability to utilize them; he is a brilliant mathematician and an affable conversationalist. These qualities won him many friends, especially among the college-graduated transfers. Knute Rockne in a Ford!

ROBERT AUGUSTINE HANCOCK

Chestnut Street, Franklin. Lyceum 1, 2, 3. Men's Club 1, 2, 3, 4. N. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Men's Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4. Mixed Choir 4.

Good old Bob! He became A4's outstanding "chairman of hospitality committee." He does a great deal of serious thinking; yet, he can tell as good a joke as anyone. Bob can play a rugged game of soccer or basketball.
GEORGE EDWARD HIGGINS
368 Crescent Avenue, Chelsea. Alpha Business Manager 4. Male Quartet 1, 2, 3, 4. Men's Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4. Mixed Chair 4. Soccer 2, 3, 4. Science Club 2, 3, 4; Treasurer 3. Men's Club 1, 2, 3, 4. N. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4.

Gene's fine physique and appearance should give him a good start in life. To quote an admirer, "Gene's bright eyes and curly hair bring much joy to the ladies fair"—not to mention that melodious tenor voice of his!

PAUL DU BERTRAND HILL
Rahway Road, Burlington. Men's Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Vice-president 3. Soccer 1, 2, 3, 4. Assistant Manager of Basketball 3; Manager 4. Tennis 3, 4. Science Club 2, 3, 4; Treasurer 4. Lyceum 1. N. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Camera Club 2, 4.

Only superlative terms can describe Bunker, one of our most popular fellows. The prince of good scouts, versatile in his accomplishments, the most untiring of workers, Bridgewater's best basketball manager, indispensable to the soccer and tennis teams!

GEORGE HAUGSTED JACOBSEN
296 West Main Street, Avon. Class Representative 3, 4. Treasurer of Alpha 4. Campus Comment, Assistant Sports Editor 2; Sports Editor 4. Men's Glee Club 1, 2, 3; Secretary 2, 3. Lyceum 1, 2. Men's Club 1, 2, 3, 4. N. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4.

Jake . . . his northland complexian, his even-tempered disposition, his journalistic tendencies, his relishment of subtleties, his mystifying disappearance acts, his mercantile venture, his liberalism, his calm optimism . . . a keen observer upon life.
GEORGE ALFRED JONES

169 Hollis Avenue, Braintree. Campus Camment, Assistant Editor 3; Executive Editor 4. Culture Fund Committee 3, 4. Lyceum 2, 3; President 3. Class Representative to Alpha 3, 4. Men's Club 1, 2, 3, 4. N. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4.

With Deacon's name are associated character, leadership, inspiring addresses, Campus Camment, sly humor, black berets, a bialogy complex, an extensive weekend trail, a New England twang with a Manhattan veneer, Mystery Cruises—a rare personality!

CHARLES CLEMENT KELLEHER

"Doc" has a quiet good-nature, reserved demeanor, and an attractive personality which has won for him a warm reception in our ranks. He surely looked classy in the outfield snaring high flies!

OWEN BURNS KIERNAN

34 Short Street, Randolph. N. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; President 4; Vice-president 3. Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Captain-coach 4. Student Director of Athletics 4. Glee Club 1, 2. Men's Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

Known and liked by all, versatile in athletics, dynamic as a coach, Vincent Lopez' rival at the ivory keys, usually seen with a contagious grin, social-minded and Winthrop-minded—a unique personality, the kind that stamps itself vividly upon our minds.
HAROLD JOSEPH MAHONEY

196 Spruce Street, North Abington. Class Representative to Alpha 1. Advertising Manager of Campus Comment 4. Men's Club Play 1, 3. Assistant Manager of Tennis 3. Chairman of Senior Prom 4. Men's Club 1, 2, 3, 4. N. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4.

Nothing ever appears to disturb "old smaahie," who is as colorful as O. O. McIntyre. His dapper nonchalance and appearance were instrumental in making him well known at the dormitories. A4 knew him as a fine scout—not a "griper."

HUGH WILLARD McLAUGHLIN

Mac came to Bridgewater as a Senior and will be remembered as the whimsical lover in "Big Hearted Herbert" and as an agreeable classroom conversant. He showed up as well in the scholastic field as he did in the sartorial!

DAVID MEYERS

56 Nelson Street, Dorchester. Campus Comment, Reporter 3, 4; Staff 4. Men's Club 1, 2, 3, 4. N. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4.

Dave's clarity of thought and expression, together with his understanding of politics, could make him a public figure of note. His nocturnal isolation within a Boston elevator failed to prevent his partaking of college life to a deep extent. And his penmanship!
GEORGE EDWARD MORRIS

663 Locust Street, Fall River. President of Class 1. Alpha Board 2, 3, 4; Photographic Editor 4. N. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Council 4. Soccer 1, 2, 3, 4; Captain-coach 4. Men’s Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

George has a frank, direct personality that reflects his experience in C. M. T. C. He was mathematics-minded and Woodward-minded for four whole years! The soccer team will surely miss his energetic leadership.

KENNETH FRANCIS MURPHY

A true son of the sea. The class of 1935 made no mistake in selecting Ken as its leader. His naturalness, vigor, sincerity, and numerous other good qualities made him outstanding. He was a bachelor for three years and one semester! Who remembers “Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde” as portrayed by Ken?

HAROLD GUNNAR OLSON

Coming to B. T. C. this year to learn methods, Harold fitted in well as a member of A4. While he is generous and good-natured, his clearcut explanations are made with neither fear nor fervor. While at Harvard he was admitted to Phi Beta Kappa.
JOSEPH JOHN ORLOSKY
Joe has been well known in athletic circles for his football prowess, and has shown himself to be quite serious in his work—being made an assistant in Dr. Arnold's department.

CARLETON FREDERICK ROSE
Carleton transferred from Fredericksburg Teachers College in Virginia during our sophomore year. He is as sturdy as the immemorial Plymouth Rock in the historic town whence he daily came. We hope that he tackles life just as strenuously as he tackles a history recitation. Who can resist his amiability outside class? Good luck, Carl.

DONALD ELMO ROSS
54 Townsend Avenue, Braintree. Science Club 2, 3, 4. Lyceum 1, 2, 3. Men's Club 1, 2, 3, 4. N. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4.
Donald proved to be a fiery debater both on the platform and in the classroom, and also a valuable member of Science Club. We all admire those wavy locks and ivory-white teeth. His jovial chuckle is well in keeping with his build.
DONALD THOMAS WELCH

5 Crowell Street, Middleboro. N. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; President 3. Men's Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Vice-president 2; President 3, 4. Dramatic Club Plays 4. Male Quartet, 1, 2, 3, 4. Mixed Choir 4. Men's Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

Don, famed for his rich baritone voice, is also noted for finesse in conducting song groups. He is so constituted that even his frown is genial. We admire Jane's taste! Don looked swell that day in Newport, R. I.

STANLEY LLOYD HUNT

Stanley became a regular visitor at Tillinghast, where his mustached blondness met with favor. He appeared to prefer tennis to recitation, but his scholarship was high too.
CLASS ODE—1935

Alma Mater, Alma Mater, as the sunset rays must fall
On our college days now over, fondest mem'ries we recall.
Thoughts of friendship, joy and sorrow, triumph songs of battles won—
Spur us on to new endeavor to make real the dreams we've spun.

Chorus
May thy beacon forward guide us
Ever onward lead the way.
May our lives reflect its splendor
Lighted by its shining ray.

Though new doors to us are opened, 'tis with sorrow that we part,
But we'll strive to keep thy motto ever foremost in each heart.
In thy honor may we ever keep our standards high and true;
Hear us as we pay our homage, singing our farewell to you.

Caroline Feindel.
History

Father Time must be developing "stream-line" these days. Three short years since Bridge-water was an entire future; one year until it becomes a happy past. And now we are Juniors!

This Junior year is an old story, we know, to everyone—except Juniors. For us—aside from being born, married, buried, or going to Europe—it is the event of a lifetime. Why, you ask? The answer is simple. But only those who have tucked their lessons and courage in brief cases, and gone out to face the unsympathetic world, a strange school system, and various assortments of America's younger generation will fully understand. We are—(whisper the word)—training!

The new plan of having two semesters instead of three has affected Juniors. Now instead of three practice teaching periods, we have four, and, just incidentally, of course, nine weeks in a period in place of the usual twelve. Nine weeks, however, is quite long enough to discover those qualities of a good teacher in which we are deficient. Three weeks more and we would all have inferiority complexes!

Our outstanding contribution to the social season this year has been the Sophomore-Junior Prom, the dance of the New Year which was such a social success.

The Junior year—it's a year that is different. Vivid memories for the Seniors, hopes and apprehensions for the Sophomores, ideals (so we fondly believe!) for the Freshman, and new experiences and standards for us Juniors.

We look forward to the time when the entire class of 1936 will be together again, to that momentous day of caps and gowns, when we, too, shall become Seniors!

Barbara Albret,
Secretary.
RUTH VANNAH BUMPUS

156 Clifton Avenue, Brockton. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3. Orchestra 1, 2, 3. Kindergarten-Primary Club 1. Secretary of Class 1. Alpha Representative 1, 2. Assistant Editor of Alpha 3. Campus Comment 1, 2.

"She has two eyes so soft and blue,
And she has hair of a golden hue."

A talented young lady is Ruth—faithful to our orchestra and Alpha board; freely contributing her artistic abilities to all she undertakes. Above all she has that ability to be interested in other people, a quality which few possess.

CATHERINE COLLIER

South Street, Foxboro. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3. Kindergarten-Primary Club 3.

"In spite of all life's hurts, while you survive,
You tell the world 'tis sweet to be alive."

Are you looking for a ride downtown to mail a letter or to buy a package of gum? Just step down to the commuters' room and page Catherine. She is always ready and willing to help her college friends out of their difficulties.

ANNA MARIE CRUICE

19 Farrington Street, Brockton. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3. Kindergarten-Primary Club 1, 3. Campus Comment 3.

"She is calm because she is the mistress of her subject; the secret of self-possession."

Anna is quiet but reliable. She makes no vague promises, but does each task thoroughly and well. She will certainly be a good example to her pupils. One knows Anna is off to a good start when she says, "Well ah—"
GERTRUDE ELIZABETH DEIGHTON
85 Lawell Street, Brockton.
"She's equally ready for work or fun
From early dawn to set of sun."
To see our Gert is to like her immediately, and recognize her as a good all-around sport.

THELMA HARRIET GUNDERSON
"A friend you'll admit who's always jolly,
Never down in despair or melancholy."
When Gunny is the subject we really need more space. Peppy, obliging, dependable, and popular—these are only a few of the many words needed to describe her.

HARRIET HALL
Hospital Road, Concord. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3; Council 3. Glee Club 2, 3. Kindergarten-Primary Club 1, 2, 3; President 3; Secretary 2. Topics of the Day 1. Culture Fund Committee 3.
"Whatever she did was done with so much ease,
In her alone 'twas natural to please."
In direct contrast to Hat's fiery hair is her calmness and poise. Many and many are the committees of which Harriet has been the able chairman, for her interests are varied, and one of her outstanding characteristics is leadership, coupled with a pleasing personality.
FLORENCE ELLEN KEATING
42 Hillberg Avenue, Brockton.  W. A. A. 3.

"Happy am I; from care I'm free!
Why aren't they all contented like me?"

An excellent disposition, ever sociable and always ready to laugh. B4 wouldn't be complete without this transfer from Hyannis!

PHYLLIS IONE KENNEDY
South Lakeville.  W. A. A. 1, 2, 3.  Hobby Club 2, 3.

"With such a comrade, such a friend
I fain would walk 'til Jauney's end."

Phyl's business-like manner of presenting her statements comes as quite a shock to those who know her only slightly. One would never guess that such efficiency lay beneath that melting glance of hers. Those who know her well are aware of her dancing ability and talent as a "blues" singer.

ARLINE CONSTANCE KOSMALER
25 Nelson Street, Webster.  W. A. A. 1, 2, 3.  Glee Club 1, 2, 3; Orchestra 1, 2, 3; Librarian 3.  Chair 1, 2, 3.  Dormitory Council 3.

"So well to know
Her own, that what she wills to do or say
Seems wisest, virtuousest, discreetest, and best."

In Arline we find a good student, a conscientious worker, and a good sport. Moreover her talent in both drama and music are admired and envied by us all.
ZYLPHA ODYSELLE MAPP
74 Littlefield Street, Avon. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3. Glee Club
3. Kindergarten-Primary Club 1, 2, 3.

"Why worry what tomorrow brings?
Ta-day is here—and naw's the time far sang and jest."

Jolly—that describes the Zylpha we know best. She has her serious moments, however, and then she is "efficiency plus."
Zylpha is truly a loyal member of our class.

ISABELLE MARENTZ
19 Main Street, Quincy. W. A. A. 1, 2,

"With courage, humor; these indeed
Your sustenance and birthright are."

Isabelle may have heard the word "procrastination," but we are positive she has never heard the word applied to her.
Thorough, efficient, and energetic is she, and these same qualities will characterize her teaching.

GLADYS GERTRUDE MATTOS
74 Liberty Street, East Taunton. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3.

"In spite of all life's hurts, while you survive,
You tell the world 'tis sweet to be alive."

Gladys' eyes are the index to her disposition and outlook on life... sparkling and clear. Baseball is one of her chief interests, and we can always depend on her when we want a home-run.
CONSTANCE NASH
19 West Street, South Weymouth. W. A. A. 2, 3; Board 3. Gardening Club 2, 3. Library Club 3. Alpha Representative 3.

"God bless the heart of sunshine
That smiles the clouds away."

If you're looking for a good time, page Connie. Coming to us from Pembroke in her sophomore year, Connie soon endeared herself to all of us. She is one of the most popular girls on our campus—a good sport, friendly, sincere, and blessed with a keen sense of humor—how could she help but succeed?

RUTH ARLINE NOYES
10 Summer Street, Groveland. W. A. A. 1, 2. Gardening Club 1, 2.

"Forward and frolic glee was there,
The will to do, the soul to dare."

Tell me, is it personal magnetism that makes her "draw" so well? Most often we see her full of life, laughing, and friendly. But underneath these characteristics we find an unselfish, true friend. May success and happiness be yours!

ERNESTINE WALKER REYNOLDS
41 Columbus Avenue, Northampton. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3. Glee Club 1, 2. Kindergarten-Primary Club 1, 2; Vice-President 3. Scouts 1, 2. Vice-President 2. Dormitory Council 1, 3. Student Council 2, 3.

"Of all the girls that e'er were seen,
There's none so fine as Ernestine."

Quiet, unobtrusive and competent, Ernie illustrates the rule that "Still waters run deep." She has been the class "Rep." for two years displaying unusual powers of leadership and cooperation.
BARBARA JOSEPHINE RITTERSHAUS
64 Canterbury Street, Hingham. W. A. A. 1, 2. Kindergarten-Primary Club 1.

"Her hair was black as night,
And her eyes were starry bright."

A newcomer to B4 this year. Barb commutes every day in her car. A competent driver but—warning—don't talk to the driver when she's turning a corner!

MARY ADELAIDE SANTOS
19 Center Street, Provincetown. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3. Campus Comment 2.

"There would be no great ones
If there were no little ones."

They say that all good things come in little packages. Just why Mary appears so quiet and retiring in class is really a mystery to her friends because she is just full of clever, witty sayings. That twinkle in her dark eyes betrays a mischievous spirit within.

ALTHEA PEENE SAWYER

"Accomplished? She says not; but who can tell?
She does all things, and does them well."

One of the nicest things about Althea is that she is always the same—smiling and ready for a joke. Leadership, scholarship, efficiency, and sociability, all fit into her genial personality. Need we say more?
CLASSES

ANNAH SCIBNER
36 Jeanette Avenue, Belmont. W. A. A. 3.

"A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance."

Here's to Ann—wha accepts everything with perfect composure and infallible good nature. She is welcome wherever she goes.

ANNE VERA SMOLSKI

"She's not noisy, loud or gay,
But enjoys life in a sweet quiet way."

There is a phrase which describes Annie better than we could attempt to: "Still waters run deep." Those who know her realize that beneath her quiet manner is a heart of gold. Annie has proved to us that she knows what it is to be a true friend.

SADYE STEIN
61 Verchild Street, Quincy. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3. Topics of the Day 2.

"And true she is as she hath proved herself,
And therefore, like herself, wise, fair, and true."

Sadye is a girl of strong likes and dislikes, and she thoroughly enjoys a good argument. Her originality and her witty flashes of humor combined with a cheerful, infectious grin make her an excellent companion.
ELIZABETH WASSERMAN
23 Fobyon Street, Dorchester. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3. Library Club 1.

"Life is a game that must be played;
This truth at least, good friends, we know;
So live and laugh, nor be dismayed,
As one by one the phantoms go."

A fine friend—Betty. She is always willing, even anxious, to help one out in any way. A person with opinions of her own about subjects that are interesting to us.

DOROTHY ELEANOR WOODWARD

"Thou hast no sorrow in thy song,
No Winter in thy year."

Petite—but oh my! We're all so glad you preferred B. T. C. and came back to us instead of transferring elsewhere. Your friendly ways and cheerful manner will surely mean a lot towards your success in life, and we all wish you lots of it.

MARJORIE ELSIE SMITH
143 Pacific Street, Rockland. W. A. A. 1, 2, 3. Garden Club 1. Kindergarten-Primary Club 1, 2, 3.

"What's worth doing is worth doing well."

Margy can be counted upon as a loyal and a dependable friend. She has a wide range of interests and her artistic talent has been revealed to us by her many attractive posters we have seen about the college. Her sincere interest in younger children is one of the many qualities that will make her a fine teacher.

History

The class of '37 entered B. T. C. as submissive Freshmen prepared for anything. We nobly survived initiation days with bibs, ribbons and ties, Blue Romper Day, and the sack rush, and soon settled down to business and social activities. The success of the Freshman party and banquet proved to us that the "Sophs" really were good sports after all. After the amusing demonstration here of the ability of proposed class officers, elections followed. Then came the biggest social event of the year—our Yacht Party, with our new president at the helm. It was a novel idea and successful both socially and financially. We shall always remember how impressed we were with graduation, and the privilege we may enjoy but once of holding branches for the illustrious Seniors.

Returning as Sophomores we felt every inch of our importance as we dictated initiation rules to the Freshmen. Mixed classes proved a new experiment for us and a challenge of competition for both men and women. In the fall we held a soccer social. Of course the Sophomore men were represented on the soccer as well as other athletic teams. In fact we held our own very well in athletics. The gala event of our social career proved to be the Sophomore-Junior prom—our first formal, held in January. As the year draws to a close and we realize that we've all survived Training School, we whisper that perhaps we were meant to be teachers and anxiously look forward to two more glorious years as upperclassmen.

FRESHMEN

President .......................... Lawrence Hanlon
Vice-President ....................... Florence Kuchmeister
Secretary ............................ Eleanor Campbell
Treasurer ............................. Magda Borgatti

History

September, 1934, ushered into B. T. C. many baffled and bashful students-to-be in bonnes and rattles (that were never known to help a teacher’s disposition); also floppy green ties, and maroon and white caps, that failed to add to the Freshman dignity.

For two weeks the Freshmen expected almost anything from the Sophomores. At the end of the second week an initiation party rewarded the virtuous Freshmen who had done as the Sophomores had ordered; the rest of us were duly punished and continued to wear our bonnets until we were entirely submissive to the upperclassmen.

Next came the Sophomore-Freshmen sack rush. As ever, the Sophomores were victorious; but our athletes proved to be real competitors.

The class boasts that three of its men—“Cush” Cushman, “Eddie” Skahill and “Lanky” Nash—played on the varsity basketball team.

The social life began with the successful teas given by the girls with the help of Miss Pope.

Before the election of officers, the candidates spoke at the Freshman banquet. The acquaintance social was the first social gathering of Freshmen and upperclassmen.

After the first week of January, President Hanlon took charge of class meetings, previously in charge of Ruth Lawton. The year passed very smoothly, providing an opportunity for the Freshmen to manage a successful social in the Spring.

So ends the first year of college, with the Freshmen an active part of B. T. C., looking forward to the next three years.

Eleanor Campbell,
Secretary.

STUDENT COUNCIL

YEARLY REPORT

In every college there is, or should be, an organization which operates as a basis for all phases of student activity. The Student Co-operative Association, with every member in the college included in its enrollment, acts in this capacity here in the State Teachers College at Bridgewater. This organization, with the Student Council as a governing body, gives the foundation for all activities, and furnishes leadership for all the changes which come about through the co-operation of student body and faculty. In looking back over this year, can we find proof that this council has upheld its aim to work for the benefit of the students and the college? Let us look back into the year a bit—at the work of the standing committees. Our Bulletin Board Committee, by means of its new system of arranging notices, has succeeded in making the majority of us more "bulletin board conscious." Again we all realize and appreciate the success of the Chapel Committee in arranging a schedule which has proven most satisfactory during the year. Thank you, Miss Rand, for the great part you had in making our chapel exercises so enjoyable. Another group, the Library Committee, through its faithfulness in collecting fines, was able to add several new books to the shelves of our library, and make repairs on many others.

Let us turn to another phase of work carried on by the Council. As business manager of certain student funds this body is invaluable. It is responsible for the planning of the budget, and for the allocation of funds to each unit in the school, assuring to each its share of financial support. Perhaps the biggest venture in the business field during 1934-5 was the taking over of the college store. This transfer from private to student-body ownership for the purpose of offering school supplies at reduced rates is a splendid example of the type of assistance which the council strives to give to the students. Manager Stephen Lovett, his assistant Raymond Cook, and bookkeeper Alice Carr, should be congratulated for their fine work with the store. Soon this undertaking should be entirely self-supporting.
The influence of Student Council has been felt in other fields of activity on the campus. Our new basketball song which has added so much enthusiasm and spirit to our games this winter was selected by a committee appointed by Student Council. In April, for the entertainment of the students and to increase the auditorium equipment fund, the Council sponsored the play "The Prince's Secret," given by the Clare Tree Major Players of New York. Many school children from neighboring towns accepted our invitation to attend this worthwhile performance. At Christmas time, although the fund was not as large as we had hoped it might be, Student Council was able to bring a little happiness and cheer to many of the needy in Bridgewater. In a note of appreciation to the council for the glasses which were purchased for her, one of the Training School children has written, "Thank you very much for my glasses. They help me in my school work and I do not have the wicked headaches I used to have." Perhaps we should all say "Thank you" to the council in recognition of their fulfillment of the aims of the Student Co-operative Association during the past year.

HISTORY

Dormitory Council has had a very successful year.

In spite of the rainy weather, “Open House,” perhaps the greatest event on our social calendar, was well attended by many parents and friends.

Alumni Weekend brought back many of our graduates, whom we were happy to have with us again.

Throughout the year weekly sales of such things as ice cream, cookies, and hot dogs have been run successfully.

During the Christmas season a sale of handkerchiefs and stationery was conducted with profitable results.

Probably the outstanding accomplishment of this year’s Council was the extension of “ten-fifteen” permissions. Seniors still enjoy the customary one a week, graduating Juniors are now allowed three a month, other Juniors two a month, and Sophomores one a month. Freshmen are allowed one late permission a month provided it is used to return from home on a Sunday night.

We hope that the Dormitory Council to whom we are leaving our problems will be able to progress even further than we have. We leave them our best wishes for success.

Olive Hosford,
Secretary.
Day Student Council began its duties this year under its efficient officers. The commuters have joined enthusiastically, not only in the intellectual opportunities of the college, but in the social privileges as well. We have participated in many outside activities, as evidenced by our members on the athletic teams, and on club executive boards.

New curtains, which greeted us on our arrival this fall, have added greatly to the appearance of the commuters' room. We hope to have the domestic science room for a social room next year. Plans are being made to replace the domestic science equipment with comfortable furniture.

Our social was held in January. We travelled to an ancient Persian garden via Albert Gardner Boyden Gymnasium. The refreshments and music enhanced the good time enjoyed by the group who attended.

We are looking forward to an even more interesting year in 1936, in which many things, now just ideas, will materialize, and help in the development of the college.

Anna Anderson, Secretary.
Social Activities Committee is composed of the vice-presidents of the organizations in the college. Its primary function is to draft and enforce an efficient schedule of social affairs for the year. To begin the social season, the committee sponsored the annual Acquaintance Social, and followed with another social in October. The Alumni Tea Dance was also sponsored by the committee and was a highlight of Alumni Weekend.

The supervision of noon-hour, Wednesday evening, and after-basketball-game dancing was another phase of the committee's work. After-the-game dancing was one of the innovations initiated by this group.

We have enjoyed a very happy year, and hope that the efforts of the 1936 committee will meet with as much success.

John E. Nolan,
Secretary.
Culture Fund Committee endeavors to broaden and encourage the students along cultural lines. It brings to the college outstanding representatives from the fields of art, science, music, or from any field which may contribute to the enrichment of the intellectual life of the students. This means that the year’s program generally includes a variety of subjects in order to satisfy the largest possible number of students.

Our first speaker this year was to have been John Haynes Holmes, well qualified to give us a glimpse of the most serious social problems of the world. The engagement had to be cancelled but is to be fulfilled later.
ORGANIZATIONS

Although we all have the desire to travel extensively, not many of us have been able to do so. Bronson De Cou, through his beautiful dream pictures, comments, and music, enabled us to take a Mediterranean cruise. With the breath of the south in our nostrils, we renewed our vows for a wanderer's life.

The Clare Tree Major Players are not strangers to us and we were more than eager to welcome them back in "Pocahontas." Not the least thrilling part of the excellent performance was the chance to meet and question the players after the play. In fact, so strong was the spell cast by the winsome Pocahontas and the stalwart John Smith that some romantic students could hardly be lured away to classes.

Cornelia Stratton Parker was the final speaker of the first semester. Her topic, "Travel versus a College Education" is still the subject of much discussion pro and con. The majority felt that the lecture had little bearing on us, now, but that the faculty might have been spurred on to greater heights by Mrs. Parker's strictly impersonal, yet scathing general criticisms of college courses.

With John Enskine, the noted author, Dr. Holmes' lecture, and other worthwhile programs looming in the near future, Culture Fund Committee's work for 1934-35 draws to a close.

Catherine M. Ross,
Secretary.

ENLIGHTENMENT

A glowing golden jewel
With five points twinkling,
Set in blueness soft and cool,
Tiny beams sprinkling
Through the solitude of space.

Yet they say:
Stars are stones, aglow at night
On earth cold and gray;
Heat waves cause their sparkling light,
Which so far away
Resembles twinkling points.

They kill each dream I cherish,
Tear points off my stars.
Hurled to earth both perish.
Daylight shows they are
Only flat lifeless stones.

Woodward Hall

During the past year the changes which took place throughout the life of the college were in evidence in Woodward Hall.

September found the housing conditions much changed, with some girls living alone and many empty rooms. However, these vacant rooms have proved advantageous, since they have provided the day students with the opportunity of remaining overnight when affairs are being held at the college, and also for those who wished to live in the dormitory while in Training School.

The "dorm store" proved to be a very successful undertaking, being a convenience to the girls in the dormitory, and also giving them a chance to earn some money working there.

The girls have enjoyed many afternoons painting chairs, sewing curtains, and washing windows so that the recreation room might be put in the best possible condition.

Many new pieces of furniture have been added here and there in the dormitory. Also the traditional venetian blinds have been replaced by window shades.

Woodward was pleased with the enthusiasm which was shown at its second "College Dance" early in the year.

This is the first year that the girls in Woodward Dormitory have not had the advantage of having our dean, Miss S. Elizabeth Pope, living with them in the dormitory.

With this record we close the year and hope that future residents of Woodward Hall will spend as many happy hours as have the girls in 1935.

Marie Kelly,
Secretary.

Tillinghast Hall

As June, 1935, brings to a close another year in the annals of dormitory life, we at Tillinghast agree that for us it has been a happy and eventful one.

A tea given early in October by our housemother, Miss Gassett, opened for us this year which will long be remembered by members of all classes.

Early in November, Tillinghast, dressed in its best from reception room to third floor, presented a pretty sight to its many guests on that memorable day of "Open House." It proved indeed to be a pleasant haven from the storm.

Through the efforts of the girls on third floor, a very attractive "radio room" was arranged which proved to be very successful and very much appreciated. It was in this cozy little room that you found your friends during idle moments.

Last but not least, what a change was marked in this hall when the landings were decorated so as to give them a more home-like appearance!

For us time literally flew by, and it is with pleasant recollections that we look back upon this year.

To the seniors now leaving us, we wish all happiness and success in future years and hope that they will hold Tillinghast Hall among their dearest memories.

Madeline Connell,
Secretary.
EXPLANATION OF THE ART WORK

The decorative elements in Alpha carry out the theme chosen for this year—that of the past contrasted with the present. The plate representing Student Co-operative Association, for instance, contrasts the past with the present in dancing, and that representing organizations contrasts the past with the present in activities as represented by the various clubs. The representation in the borders can easily be interpreted with the possible exception of the organizations border with its gavel for the past and its swastika in honor of the newly formed German Club, and the literature border with its complex representation of the old, flowery manner of writing and the new, dynamic manner.

In concluding this explanation attention must be drawn to the special feature of the art work—the picture of Boyden Hall in the front of the book—the contribution of Joseph Chicetti who made the block from which it was printed.

APPRECIATION

The Editorial Board of Alpha for 1935 wishes to acknowledge the generous aid given by Miss Davis, Miss Nye, Miss Pope, and Mr. Kelly, our faculty advisers. We wish also to extend our thanks to those members of our college who have helped us in the publishing of this book.

Campus Comment, the college newspaper, written and edited by students, has continued this year to serve as a unifying element of school activities. It has made itself an outlet for students with tendencies toward journalistic ventures by publishing news stories, interviews, sports, editorials, and social notes.

In addition, it has had for the 1934-35 season three objectives: improvement of appearance, a better written paper, and a more efficiently organized staff. To realize these aims our editor has supervised the consequent changes.

The paper has been cut down to a more attractive size; title plates have been changed; and the white space increased by the omission of down rules to improve its appearance. That the paper may contain better written articles, the journalism class has coached reporters in news writing, and four delegates went to the Convention of Eastern Colleges of the Scholastic Press Association. The change in staff organization has been made so that a more equal division of work results—a necessity felt strongly in accomplishing the added work of biweekly publications.

It was logical that these changes should entail expenses and they did. These Campus Comment managed successfully by sponsoring the first social of the year, and a rally, the first in the history of Bridgewater sport life.

The Dramatic Club has had a very successful year in many ways. For the first time in our history the men of the college have been invited to take part in our plays. For our fall play we presented "Big-Hearted Herbert" by Sophie Kerr and Anna Steese Richardson. The cast for the play was as follows:

- Herbert Kalness
- Robert Kalness
- Elizabeth Kalness
- Martha
- Herbert Kalness, Jr.
- Alice Kalness
- Andrew Goodrich
- Amy Lawrence
- Jim Lawrence
- Mr. Goodrich

The play proved to be a great success in every way, and won approbation from everyone.

The club attended a production of "Big-Hearted Herbert" in Boston before presenting it at the college. We also attended a Shakespearian play, "Julius Caesar," given in Brockton by a travelling company of players. In November the club was invited to see "Penrod" given by Junior High students in New Bedford under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Foster, an alumna of Bridgewater and its Dramatic Club. It was given in an excellent manner and we realized how significant a part dramatics may play in school life.

We departed from tradition and presented a novel chapel program in November in the form of slides showing characteristic poses of the cast for "Big-Hearted Herbert." The President made appropriate remarks as each character was flashed on the screen.

For our Christmas play, given in chapel, we presented "Why the Chimes Rang" by Alden. This play interprets the true spirit of Christmas in a beautiful and moving scene. The cast was as follows:
Ten dollars was given to the Training School as a Christmas gift with which library books were purchased.

Most of our meetings have been held at Miss Moffitt’s home where we have spent many enjoyable evenings. The girls feel indebted to Miss Moffitt for her inspiration and help in dramatic work.

For our annual spring play the club presented “Mid-summer Night’s Dream” by William Shakespeare. Some of the parts of rustics were taken by men of the college.

The club has voted to have a regular standing art committee to meet with them and take complete charge of the stage management.

We wish much success to the future Dramatic Clubs of Bridgewater Teachers College!

Elsa Johnson,
Secretary.
This year the Library Club has been very successful under the presidency of Ruth Sullivan. Twenty new members have been taken into the club making a quota of thirty-four members. This reveals a decided interest in good books among the students.

It is the aim of the club to present, not only to its members but to the entire school, an opportunity to learn what is going on in the world of literature. During the past year, we have contributed to the school library the following books: Van Loon's "Geography of the World," "Brazilian Adventure," and "Return of the Native." The lending library maintained by the club has been moved to a more prominent place in the main library and has proven to be very popular with the entire student body.

In November, the Library Club was fortunate in having Mrs. Louise Andrews Kent as a speaker for its chapel program. She spoke on the subject "The Stay-at-Home Author." The talk not only served as an inspiration, but gave the listener a feeling of greater intimacy with the author.

One of the most outstanding events of the year was a trip to Boston to see Eva Le Galliene in "L'Aiglon."

The members of the club have endeavored to plan for each meeting a definite program which would be both entertaining and cultural. They usually took the form of book reviews, oral readings, or a general discussion of authors and their works.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

President ........................................... Dorothea Pilote
Vice-President ...................................... Belle Barsky
Secretary ............................................. Winifred Goodell
Treasurer ............................................. Marjorie Whitney

From our first meeting at which we discussed “the strike situation,” Topics of the Day Club has endeavored to exemplify its object: “the mutual improvement of its members through a study of the vital topics of the day.”

The executive board, comprised of the officers of the club and a representative from each class, has met between meetings and has planned such interesting programs as the following: talks by various club members, explanation of current cartoons, debates, and outside speakers.

Besides having such programs at our regular Tuesday afternoon meetings, we continued working toward our aim in having Miss La Fevre talk to us on “Foreign Affairs” for our chapel program.

Through the help of our faculty adviser, and the co-operation of the club members with the executive board, the end of this year sees the attainment of our goal, and we feel that we do know the high lights of this year’s topics of the day.

The year's activities started off with the banquet given by the Men's Club for the purpose of promoting a better spirit between the men of the college and the members of the faculty. Dr. Scott, Dean Kelly, members of the faculty, and superintendents of surrounding towns were our guests. Dr. Scott was the principal speaker. The frivolous freshmen provided a varied assortment of tricks which were officially called "entertainment."

Men’s Club Amateur Night was presented as usual in the Horace Mann Auditorium. It consisted of two playlets: "The District School," and "The Sweet Family." All due credit should be given Miss Moffitt who was in charge of the production.

We then sponsored a movie benefit, "The Count of Monte Christo," shown at the Princess Theater.

Our play this year was entitled "The Charming Pretender." For the first time in the history of the Men's Club, women were invited to take part. We believe that this helped make our play the best ever produced by the club.

President Cook has expressed his satisfaction at the large turn-out of men at our meetings. To add to the interest of the meetings, several excellent speakers have addressed us. Some of these speakers were Mr. Jenney, principal of Howard Junior High School of Brockton, Hon. James Warren, Superintendent of the State Farm at Bridgewater, and Dr. Scott, president of our college.

The men of the college seem to be taking a greater interest in their club than ever before. This is an encouraging sign! But, it will take more than four officers to make our club take its proper place in the college. It will take the support of one hundred per cent of the men enrolled. Let's all strive to make the Men's Club an active part of B. T. C.!

Secretary.
I stood beside the waves, beneath a storry light,
A claudless sky, a placid sea with ne'er a sail in sight.
My searching eyes not with material things content
Saw all of nature, from the woods to mountains' height,
That seemed ta question in perplexed accents light—
The dark sea waves, the storry breadth of firmament.

Meanwhile the infinite storry hosts of gold that shane,
And voices soft, that later rang with depths at tane,
The answer spoke, the while their crowns at fire were bent;
While waves so blue which nothing gavemed or could best,
Said too, the while they tossed the foam up on each crest:
"It is the Lord, the God of Earth and Firmoment."

Science Club is the oldest club in Bridgewater State Teachers College. It was first organized in 1885 by Frederick W. Atkinson and Dr. Arthur C. Boyden.

To-day the club is working to accomplish the following objectives:

(1) To aid in promoting an active interest in the study of Science.
(2) To co-operate in all possible ways with the science department of the college.
(3) To develop a better basis for the scientific training of teachers.

Science Club restricts its membership to students having high scholarship and an active interest in science, as well as worthy school citizenship.

Meetings are held weekly on Tuesday evenings at 6:45 P. M. in the biology room. For the most part, two types of meetings are alternated: one for transacting routine business and for the presentation of programs, and the other for interest group study in subjects in which the members desire to further their knowledge. The interest groups this year center around the following subjects: astronomy, geology, micrology, salt-water biology, birds, economic plants, and the teaching of science.

At the beginning of the year a picnic supper was held at Pinehurst Beach in the cottage of Ellen Shea.

Speakers at Science Club meetings this year were the following: Mr. George Jones, of the senior class, who told of his studies at the American Museum of Natural History in New York; and Mr. Edwin Whitmore, bacteriologist of the A. R. Parker Dairy Company, who spoke on "The Science Behind Dairy Products."

Other club programs which have been presented are the following: a lecture by Mr. Ross on "Science in Child Education"; a Christmas program on the subject of plants associated with Christmas; and films on the topics "Seashore Animals" and "Luther Burbank."

Secretary.
A THOUGHT—

Splashing, dashing—
Here, there, everywhere.
Catching the sunshine
Against scintillating fins—
Playing with it,
Tossing it back to the world.
Idly swimming through stone castles.
Nibbling—
Rooting the pebbles
Clinking them against the glass.
Nothing of sadness,
All is pleasure.
Futile existence?
For man, perhaps—
But not for Goldfish.

GARDEN CLUB

Another successful and pleasurable year for the Garden Club has been concluded.
Garden Club is better known as T. C. What do these letters mean? That is a deep, dark secret known only to its members!

The aims of the club have varied, as has also the name of our school. At first the club was "to promote interest in and increase the knowledge of horticulture and agriculture in the State Normal School at Bridgewater"—now in addition, T. C. "provides opportunities for work in the greenhouse, such as making cuttings, and other different phases of gardening."

In view of the fact that a large number of the students became interested in this club, it was necessary that two groups be formed: an afternoon group, and an evening group. At present, T. C. represents one of the largest, best-known, and most delightful clubs in our college.

A noted accomplishment, the wild flower garden, was started this year. As time goes on, this collection is to be added to and preserved by future members.

Besides the regular meetings, our club has promoted several other activities such as trips to the Arnold Arboretum, the T. C. Social, bonfire suppers, and several other smaller social gatherings for its members.

From an educational standpoint, this is a very beneficial club for numerous reasons. One's knowledge of gardening is greatly increased through experiences in the greenhouse; then too, enlightening talks on different phases of nature are frequently given by Mr. Stearns or some club member.

The prominence and success of T. C. is due to the faithful and devoted work of Mr. Stearns. The members have broadened their interests and understanding by enjoyable hours spent under his guidance and supervision.

Wilma Quinn,
Secretary.

President Roosevelt, King George, and Queen Wilhelmina all have hobbies. Have you one? Here is one way you can keep up with the royalty. Get yourself a hobby or a half-dozen hobbies and enjoy yourself! Come to Hobby Club and enjoy the hobbies of others!

As usual, the club extended a hearty welcome to the new members who survived the ordeals of initiation.

This year the club has tried to carry on worthwhile group projects, gaining new knowledge and having fun at the same time. The project of attiring dolls in the quaint costumes of foreign countries has been carried on from last year.

How much do you know about the making of a pencil? If you had been in Hobby Club this year you could have gathered some interesting ideas concerning the life history of a common pencil.

What does a button mean to you? Nothing but a convenient fastener? Members of our club know the personality of buttons—cloth buttons, glass buttons, pearl buttons, metal buttons, and queer buttons! Many of these have been wired on large cardboards for display. Stamps, coins, and pencils were also attractively mounted.

Another interesting event of this year was our trip to Horticultural Hall to see the Hobby Show. An inspiration to any hobbyless individual!

Some of the hobbies of our members included interest in handicrafts, radio, quotations, horses, patchwork, poetry, postcards, stamps, and sports.

Seniors! Be sure to reserve time for some hobby. Don’t forget to build up a Hobby Club in your classroom!

Camera Club, this year under the guidance of a new adviser, Mr. Reynolds, has finished an interesting and profitable year. A systematic program with definite requirements for each month has been maintained. Consequently, every member has learned how to develop and print a film, how to take a successful indoor picture, how to make a satisfactory enlargement, slide, or blueprint, and how to color the enlargement. We hope that as a result of our year's work every member has, plus an interest in photography, a good working knowledge of its fundamentals.

Members this year have been particularly interested in modern photography, perhaps on account of Mr. Reynolds' enthusiasm for that phase of camera work. Different pictures taken from unusual places, the height, or the depths, or those taken with the camera at odd angles have intrigued us. We have tried to get unusual views of the campus and buildings instead of the common front and side views.

The social side of club life has not been neglected as we have enjoyed several evenings at the home of Mr. Reynolds; one was in the form of an initiation party for the new members which we are sure that they will never forget, another just before Christmas when we all fell victim to the current craze and played "Beano" for a whole evening! This was when we first began to appreciate our little freshman member, Joe Chicetti.

The club this year admitted eleven new members, thus increasing total membership to twenty. We have been using Miss Graves' room for printing and developing as it has the necessary dark curtains at the windows. Meetings are held the first, second, and fourth Thursday of every month.

Camera Club was sorry to lose the patient, genial guardianship of Mr. Huffington, who gave so generously of his time and interest. We are very grateful to Mr. Reynolds for adding us to his other worries, and hope that we can match his vigor and enthusiasm, and live up to his ideals!

Girl Scouts—when one hears those two words one usually thinks of many interesting, uniformed girls busily passing tests in nature, first aid, signalling, crafts or music. Girl Scout Club at Bridgewater—these words have a different meaning. They apply to a group of girls who have formerly taken an active part in Scouting, and who are still interested in it even though they are past the scouting age. Their program includes training for leadership and service in scouting.

At the first meeting in October, plans for the year were made. They included suggestions for a campcraft course, a Christmas sale, and a leadership training course.

In November, the new members were initiated into the club, after having complied with the entrance requirements of passing the tenderfoot test.

Taking part in the campcraft course sponsored by W. A. A. was enjoyed by most of the members, who thus laid a foundation for future hiking programs.

Christmas of 1934 will not be forgotten by this club when we think of our very successful sale. Practically everything that was sold was made by the girls. At meetings one would have seen us Scouts sawing amberol pendants, fringing and embroidering kerchiefs, knitting pocketbooks, or crocheting collars and cuffs. The co-operation shown by the college in purchasing these gifts was greatly appreciated.

Another financial aid was the movie benefit, "The Girl of the Limberlost."

Early in January two of the members represented the group at a banquet and business meeting of the Older Girl Scouts held at the headquarters in Boston. The purpose of the meeting was to acquaint the club with what others of the same age and interests were doing in Scouting. Since there is no organization for these older girls this movement has started with the hope that a more suitable name can be found, and an interesting program can be offered them. These delegates reported to our club at the supper served in Woodward kitchenette later in the month.

Among the last semester’s activities was a leadership training course introduced by Mrs. Fred W. Wormelle, the Brockton district captain.

The aim of Kindergarten-Primary Club this year was to raise funds to send delegates to the National A.C.E. Convention which is being held this June at Swampscott. Eyes of all educators will be turned that way, and interesting developments in education are expected to result. One of our aims is to keep in touch with the latest developments in Nursery, Kindergarten, and Primary education, and we hope through this convention to have something worthwhile brought back to the college.

At the beginning of the year a great many new members were taken into the club to fill the gaps left by the girls who graduated last year.

In October, a delegate was sent to Swampscott to bring back the plans for the convention, and interest the girls in raising funds to send a representative in June.

In November, Mr. Philbrook gave a very interesting nature talk which was illustrated with colored slides.

No club year would be complete without the annual Christmas party. It is at this time that one of our greatest services should be to children, and we collected gifts to be distributed to the needy of Bridgewater.

At the January meeting Miss Marks was our speaker, and gave us some very useful suggestions on "Play Materials." In February, we had an interesting speaker, Miss Hackebart, who is chairman of the student group for the convention. She gave us additional information of the latest developments in convention plans.

The March and April meetings were devoted to raising funds, and also at these meetings brief histories were given of the founders of the kindergarten. In May the annual banquet was held to close the club year.

Secretary.

LIFE

Life is a drama—an anonymous play,
A song which is sung in the course of a day.
Life is a book of advancing years,
A series of pages enscribed with tears.
Life is a treasure of ancient worth
Which adds beauty and meaning to Mother Earth.
Life is a brook, a bubbling stream,
Where the soul of man is left to dream.
Life is a highway of unknown design,
But the only road to our home divine.

The German club is the newest club in Bridgewater, but it is also one of the most active. Under the leadership of Miss Bradford, the club has made a fine start and we see a very good future in prospect. Our aim is a better and more idiomatic use of German as it is spoken, and an understanding of German art, literature, and music. Although the aim is an ambitious one, German Club has no doubt that it will be realized, with the aid of its loyal supporters.

The choir is one of the integral parts of the extra-curricular activities of the college. The girls are all members of the Women's Glee Club who volunteer to do this work because they are interested in furthering good music at the college. This group proves a worthwhile organization by sharing its talents with the student body every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, when it furnishes responses for the chapel exercises.

The Glee Club began its year's activities soon after the usual fall try-outs. Forty new members having been admitted, the enrollment became the largest in the club history. In order to facilitate attendance for day student members, a plan was devised whereby the Tuesday rehearsals were held alternately in the afternoon and evening.

As in former years, we assisted in the singing of Christmas carols at the Faculty dinner during the holiday season.

With much enthusiasm we were soon in the midst of preparations for our spring concert. With Alfred Zighera, who played the viola de gamba, and Bernard Zighera, who played the harp, assisting, the program proved inspirational as well as entertaining. With plans of graduation, came active rehearsing of music for Baccalaureate and Commencement services.

The Glee Club owes much of its success to the able leadership and untiring efforts of Miss Rand. Although regretful for the loss of our graduating members, we are looking forward to another year of enjoyment in music.

The Orchestra welcomed nine new members at the beginning of the season. One of the greatest additions perhaps, was that of four cellists.

This year there have been two aims: the first, a successful concert with Doric Allviano as guest artist; the second, the addition of a set of tympani to the fine collection of instruments already owned by the club.

No account of the year’s work would be complete without mention of the name of Miss Rand, conductor, to whom we all owe our deep and sincere appreciation for her leadership.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

Director: Miss Frieda Rand
President: Donald Welch
Vice-President: John Bates
Secretary: Clarence Blair
Librarian: Harold Brewer

The Men's Glee Club is not the possessor of a historical background of prestige and tradition, for it has been active only four years.

Each of the men's classes has its quota of musically talented members; the class of 1935 is particularly blessed with harmonious voices. The quartet, made up of members of this class, is one which represents the club most admirably.

This year the Club sang for the first time in its history at the Plymouth County Teachers' convention.

The men have assisted in chapel programs by combining with some of the young women of the other glee club and forming a mixed choir.

We believe that some of the success of our club may be attributed to the hearty support received from the student body.

Clarence Blair,
Secretary.
OUR ATTIC

Just a stairway leading upwards
A pathway to the skies,
The home of trunks and cupboards,
'Twas a childhood Paradise.

Remember Grandma's dresses
We took from dusty drawers?
And clothes, from linen presses?
We "dressed up" far hours.

The games that Mother used to play
A corn-husk doll or two.
Same wooden blocks, made any way,
Brightened our lives anew.

The spinning wheel is packed away
Hidden by the churn,
The boot-jack, old, a dusty grey,
Are "Spoils" of great concern.

On rainy days, that have no end,
The folks are doing batik
I steal away with book or friend
To the comfort of our attic.

1935 ALPHA
ORGANIZATIONS

For W. A. A., this has been a year of great forward strides and many improvements. In the fall we had a very successful supper-hike at the sand pit. Under the able leadership of Virginia Prario a new menu, called Venetian Egg, was introduced. This dish was enjoyed by over one hundred students and faculty.

The Athletic Conference of the Massachusetts State Teachers Colleges was held at Fitchburg this year. Many important subjects were discussed, including the point system, automatic membership, mass participation vs. participation for skill, etc. Our W. A. A. was represented by Arlene Kelleher, Barbara Greenwood, Harriett Robinson, and our faculty directors, Miss Decker and Miss Caldwell. The delegates extended an invitation for all members of the convention to meet in Bridgewater for their next meeting. Committees have been planning for the convention in hope that it will be the most successful and profitable of all conferences.

Miss Elizabeth Leavens of Boston gave a short Campcraft Course to about forty enthusiastic members of our club. The course included the building of fires, the cooking of food, and the making of beds for overnight trips.

Deck sports are being added this year through the work of a committee. The duties of the committee are to refinish a section of Woodward basement for shuffleboard, paddle tennis, and ping-pong, and to promote interest in these sports.

As many W. A. A.’s have found it profitable to divide their members into teams for competition, we initiated this scheme and every member was made either a “Red” or a “White.”

Barbara Greenwood, Corresponding Secretary.
