FOREWORD

Our past four years at Bridgewater have been but a brief period in this fast-moving era of space satellites, rocket ships, and technological giant-steps, but a period which may well have been the most memorable in our lives.

We have found ourselves swept along in the current of our rapid-pace times, ever striving to keep step with the latest world developments, ever thinking, questioning, and working lest we fall behind. As members of the teaching profession, parent of all other professions, we have made it our duty to seek the answers to the questions of life in our world today. In the scant space of four years we have learned much.

As we have moved forward in knowledge and confidence, Bridgewater has moved with us, challenging and guiding every step of the way. The college population has mushroomed, new buildings have sprouted, and the fields of study have been enlarged to admit aspirants to study in liberal arts as well as education.

We hope that our journey towards maturity and our search for certainty and the spirit of Bridgewater in action may be conveyed to the readers of this, the yearbook of the Class of 1964.
DEDICATION

With gratefulness and deep admiration we dedicate our 1964 ALPHA to Lee Harrington, whose amazing energy and fine teaching have certainly inspired all who have come in contact with him.

As Dean of Admissions, and more recently Dean of Studies, Mr. Harrington has striven tirelessly to improve Bridgewater. Through his unceasing efforts the college has made remarkable progress in the past four years.

Dean Harrington’s boundless enthusiasm has been contagious to many of us, and as we graduate we carry with us the abiding love and loyalty for Bridgewater instilled in us by this excellent teacher and wise administrator.
ADMINISTRATION
AND FACULTY
On the occasion of dedicating Bridgewater’s and the Nation’s first Normal School building, my most illustrious predecessor, Horace Mann, remarked that “Among all the lights and shadows that ever crossed my path, this day’s radiance is the brightest.” Bridgewater’s radiance has not diminished with age, but the flame has burned brighter with each passing year. For a century and a quarter its ever-widening circle of influence has been felt in this Commonwealth, throughout America, and on distant shores. But its influence, in the language of Emerson, stems from the lengthening shadow of great men and women who have been—and are—Bridgewater.

The class of 1964 enters the profession near the midpoint of a rather turbulent decade. Less well-trained students and those lacking inspiration might falter, lose their sense of mission, and become engulfed in the trappings of an affluent society. The Bridgewater spirit pivots on a total and continuing commitment to what is good and excellent, and it is this spirit which points the way. For those of us who were privileged to arrive on campus a few years earlier, we are confident that today’s graduates will serve the cause of education with distinction. The torch is in competent and willing hands. As you begin this new and challenging assignment, may your future be blessed abundantly with happiness and success.

June 7, 1964
Owen B. Kiernan
Commissioner of Education
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
President Rondileau

The tragic assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy Friday afternoon, November 22, reminds us most poignantly that life is a series of beginnings and endings. For several days the whole nation was caught up in sensing our national loss and in giving tribute to a gallant leader who lived and died for his country just as truly as if his life had been lost in action during a military campaign. Yet as we are taking the measure of our loss and this ending to one man’s career and one President’s leadership, we necessarily have to go forward and make a brave new beginning.

The experience of our entire nation has its counterpart many times in the life of each and every one of us. There are endings and there are beginnings. We lose a dear one—a parent, a brother, a sister, a grandparent, a very close friend, and some of us in later life a husband or wife or even a child. For a time it seems as though life has come to an-end and it is hard to find strength and courage to make the necessary new start. Yet it must be made; life must go on.

It is a curious fact that we have been so made biologically that we must sleep in order to maintain our health, vigor, or even life itself. Thus automatically our life consists of a series of beginnings when we wake up in the morning and endings when we go to sleep at night. This fact gives us not only biological recuperation, but just as important, psychological renewal. We have a chance to make a fresh start. The problems, real and fancied, momentous and trivial, assume a new perspective as we make a new beginning after we have of necessity through sleep withdrawn for a time from the pressure of the day’s worries and concerns.

In the same way, we face the significance and reality of beginnings and endings each semester, each school year, and indeed as an entering freshman and graduating senior from this college. The same is true with many events in our lives. Going to a new job, for instance, may involve leaving old friends and associations and making new ones. It is a rare person who has no qualms whatsoever about such endings and new beginnings. Yet it is helpful for us to know that this is the great inherent nature of life itself. If we are thoroughly prepared personally and professionally, and if we have an abiding faith, we can live triumphantly through tragic endings and challenging beginnings.

It is the honest hope and prayer of the faculty and administration of this college that every student may gain the knowledge and wisdom and deepen his faith through his experiences at Bridgewater so that he may acquit himself proudly in whatever challenging beginnings and poignant endings he may encounter at the college and throughout his life.

Retirements

Mr. George H. Durgin
- The Class of 1964 wishes Mr. George H. Durgin, Chairman of the Mathematics Department, all the rich and bountiful pleasures of retirement. His unquestioned wisdom will be sorely missed on the Bridgewater campus; his humanity will long be remembered.

Miss Rose H. O'Connell
- Ever mindful of the enthusiasm she has engendered among her students for sociology and of her years of dedication to that field of study, we salute on her retirement Miss Rose H. O'Connell, Department Chairman. We shall remain indebted to her for her firm and knowledgeable guidance.

Class Officers

- There are four factors that give impetus to a class and guide that class in its striving toward the ultimate goals of stability, citizenship and unity of purpose and spirit. This spirit of the class of 1964 is personified in our officers. Each has given unselfishly of his time and ideas to promote the success of class activities.

ORGANIZATIONS
- The Student Cooperative Association embodies the entire college. Elected class representatives work closely with the Executive Council's four major officers to uphold high standards of thought and action on the Bridgewater campus. Student activity is further guided through the Council's communication with other student leaders across the nation, thus broadening the outlook of the college.

P. Fuchs, Vice-President; J. Henry, President; D. Messaline, Assistant Treasurer.

E. Pearlman, Treasurer; C. Morris, Secretary.
Day Student Council

- Working to promote better social conditions for the commuting student, is the Day Student Council at Bridgewater. The members consist of elected officers and class representatives who meet regularly to discuss current problems and create a strong fellowship among the commuting students.
Dormitory Council

- Dormitory Council, comprised of four major officers and each dormitory house-board, was organized to provide comfortable and harmonious living conditions on campus. Its goals are realized through careful planning and consideration for the needs and interests of the college dormitory student.

G. Appiani, President; M. Walejko, Vice-President; M. Watson, Treasurer; B. Burgo, Secretary.
Dormitory Officers

B. Harriman, Treasurer; M. Zamarchi, Secretary; E. Peterson, Vice-President; B. Goodale, President: Tillinghast Hall.

W. Bell, Secretary; C. Brown, Vice-President; R. Geary, Treasurer. ABSENT: R. Calzini, President: Men's Dormitory.

- Serving the four campus dormitories, officers are elected on their ability to lead and work for the interest of the dormitory student. The officers, by working closely with their respective houseboards, help to further the aims of each dormitory and extend the Bridgewater spirit to all.

H. Burbank, President: Pope Hall.
Men's Athletic Association

- The Men's Athletic Association is comprised of all the men on the Bridgewater campus. The prime responsibility of the organization is to support the men's athletic program of intramural and varsity sports. Through these activities the association aims to further the spirit of cooperation among the men of the college.

Women's Recreation Association

- The Women's Recreation Association, comprised of all the women of the college, is the second largest organization on the campus. The sole purpose of the organization is to serve the women of the college by providing opportunities for physical recreation. Participants are recognized at an annual banquet, where awards are presented to those who have been active in the organization.
Newman Club
- Newman Club brings together Catholic students on campus in a program of spiritual, intellectual, and social activities. Following principles established by John Henry Cardinal Newman, the members organize daily Masses, theology courses, and visits from guest speakers. Much time has been dedicated to the planning of a center and chapel. Through the guidance of Father Everett Vierra, Chaplain, and Dr. William J. Wall, completion of this project is scheduled in 1965.

Menorah Club
- Menorah Club joins students of the Jewish faith on campus for religious and social purposes. Offering discussions, worship services, and fund raising activities, the club under the direction of faculty advisor, Dr. Miriam Reinhart, reflects meaning of Judaism in life of the college student.

Christian Fellowship
- Christian Fellowship unites Protestants on campus through a program of worship, study, and action. Under the leadership of faculty advisor, Dr. George A. Weygand, and Chaplain Rev. Rep Merritt, the organization seeks to provide for the spiritual, educational, and social needs of the student. The center, a convenient place to study or chat, is the location of informative discussions and activities.
• We, the Alpha staff of 1964, have worked to provide the college with a memorable account of life on the Bridgewater campus. Our memories, though varied, will bind us together always as the class of 1964, yet for each individual Bridgewater holds a special meaning. We look forward to the future with mixed emotions. Though we may wander far and wide, a part of Bridgewater will always remain within our hearts. To the underclassmen, we wish you the virtue of perseverance, for it is not until the end, when all the parts are assembled, that you will fully realize the greatness of Bridgewater.
Junior Alpha

- Working during the past year with senior editors, the Junior Alpha staff has gained the knowledge and skill necessary for a successful publication of the 1965 Alpha. We of the 1964 Alpha staff wish them best of luck in the coming year.

D. Chateunauf, Secretary; T. Stolarz, Editor; C. Ryone, Treasurer.
Campus Comment

- Undergoing reorganization, this year Campus Comment has tried to cover more news more accurately and to appear more frequently than ever before. Not only does the paper cover the news, but it has a number of feature columns, such as Exchange, Curtain-up, Mephistopheles. Topical editorials and coverage of B.S.C.'s sports events also go to make up Campus Comment. The paper looks forward to continued expansion and improvement of its coverage in the years to come.
Drama Club

- In the past Bridgewater State College's Drama Club has produced or sponsored such productions as Kiss Me Kate, Blithe Spirit, and Hit the Deck. The club has attempted such mildly contemporary plays as Stage Door and Call Me Madam. Clinging to its objective of variety of performance, classical and contemporary dramas continue to be the face of BSC's Drama Club, with each striving to be an improvement over the last one.

In addition to its own productions, Drama Club also offers such opportunities as theatre parties and workshops in the dramatic arts to further its aim of bringing a cultural enrichment to all students.

M. Beard, Secretary; H. McPeck, President; L. Hill, Vice-President. ABSENT: R. Macomber, Treasurer.
The Women's and Men's Glee Clubs under the enthusiastic direction of Miss Dorothy R. Ferry have grown during the past year. Membership in the two clubs consist of students who combine their singing abilities and musical interests in the presentation of choral works for the college. Highlights of the school year are the annual Christmas and Spring Concerts presented with the combined efforts of both Glee Clubs.
Orchestra

- Now in its fourth successful year, the orchestra under the direction of Vincent H. Gannon, provides the music for many of the college social functions. Through its activities it has contributed to a broadening of college interests and a new development of student abilities.

Organ Club

- The Organ Club, open to all students who are interested in organ music, sponsors a concert by a student or guest organist annually. Playing the organ is not a prerequisite for membership, but an appreciation of organ music.
Aquabrytes

- Aquabrytes is a club of girls organized to further the development of synchronized swimming. Each year the efforts of the club are displayed at a winter and a spring show. This gives the club members an opportunity to create and direct group swimming styles.
Modern Dance

- Modern Dance Club is designed for the purpose of self-expression through movement. Dance instructors and professors of dance are invited for master dance classes, demonstrating and teaching techniques to members. The year culminates with a unique performance.

J. Dwyer, President; J. Hopwood, Vice-President; T. Stolarz, Secretary; K. Arnold, Treasurer; N. Seablom, Publicity Director.

The Upsilon Iota Branch of Kappa Delta Pi, an international honor society, sponsors many lectures during the year. Members, qualifying in scholastic achievement are notified in their junior or senior year. A scholarship is awarded annually to a deserving senior.

Debate Club

- Open to all interested students, the Debate Club provides training and practice in debate techniques. To fulfill its purpose of stimulating progress and furthering interest in intercollegiate speech activities, the debate club sponsors assemblies before the student body, and participates in debate tournaments outside the college.

A. Ohlen, President. ABSENT: M. Waring, Treasurer; R. Massoud, Vice-President; L. Rosendahl, Historian; L. Barnett, Secretary.

M. Simmons, Vice-President; P. Kruger, President; D. Burke, Treasurer. ABSENT: E. Hill, Secretary.
Association For Childhood Education

- The Association for Childhood Education, in its thirty-second successful year on the Bridgewater campus, works under the able guidance of Mary L. Marks. Interest in the elementary pupil is broadened through guest speakers, workshops, and social functions.

Biology Club

- The Biology Club is designed to enrich the life of the Biology Majors. Lectures from guest speakers and field trips help to further their expanding interest in science.

PEM Club

- PEM Club, comprised of Physical Education Majors, helps to broaden interest in health, physical education, and recreation. Through interclass competition, workshops, and socials, the members of the club become united, thus developing a lasting pride in their profession.
Library Committee

- The Library Committee serves to select and purchase books for the Clement C. Maxwell Library and present interesting speakers.

S. Zaslona, Treasurer; M. Mulcahy, Vice-President; ABSENT: M. Waring, President; J. Libby, Secretary.

- The Assembly Committee brings to the campus programs designed to entertain and to develop students educationally and culturally. This year the committee sponsored such people as John Mason Brown, an editor of Saturday Review, and the Hamden Trio.

Audio-Visual Club

- The Audio-Visual Club, a campus service organization, trains the college men in the operations of audio-visual equipment. Its members work to make films, filmstrips, tapes, and recordings available to the students and staff of the college.

French Club

- The French Club, open to all, endeavors to provide educational and cultural opportunities for its members. Through films, speakers, and its spectacular Mardi Gras, the club furthers interest in France, its culture and language.

Visual Arts Club

- Now in its second successful year, the Visual Arts Club under the direction of Miss Doris Tebbetts provides the college with a public loan service and a Spring Arts Festival.

D. Paul, President; B. Bushnell, Publicity; J. Bichel, Secretary; R. Lima, Treasurer; R. Paradis, Vice-President.
Alpha Upsilon

- The largest fraternity on campus, Alpha Upsilon, prepares each brother for a successful professional life. Uniting together in one effort, the Brotherhood strives to attain the goals of the fraternity, college, and each member.

T. LaGrasta, Attorney; T. Norton, Secretary; J. Henry, 2nd Vice-President; D. Messaline, Treasurer; D. Morwick, 1st Vice-President; R. Fay, President.

Kappa Delta Phi

- The first national educational fraternity in America, Kappa Delta Phi, seeks to inform students and faculty through its newspaper, The Olympian. With a positive approach, the Alpha Chapter joins together to develop its brothers professionally, academically, and socially.
Phi Pi Delta

- Now in its second year on campus, Phi Pi Delta was organized to assist the college in social services. The willingness of this club to further Bridgewater is commendable.

M. Perna, Treasurer; G. Goodfellow, Recording Secretary; K. Coutinho, Corresponding Secretary; B. Coan, President; R. Lambert, Vice-President.

Beta Sigma Chi

- Beta Sigma Chi is the newest fraternity at Bridgewater. It is a local fraternity and was founded in March, 1963. Through various social and service projects, the brothers seek to serve the college, the community and the student body.

L. Moniz, Secretary; D. Harris, Executive Board; G. Joseph, Vice-President; J. Fitta, Chaplain; Absent: F. Doll, Treasurer; L. Rhude, President.
• "I realize the position of the seniors. Next year will be my last homecoming game. I will want a victory. So tomorrow, the juniors are going out to win the game for the seniors."

• The cold, rainy day of November 9, 1963 will be forever embedded in our minds and hearts. On this day, in an effort to spring a teammate loose on a punt return, Marty Rizzo lowered his shoulder and threw a fine block and, as a result, fell to the ground seriously injured. For nine weeks, Marty struggled valiantly; he died on January 11, 1964. His foremost element for success was to give of himself one hundred and one percent. He gave exactly that on the gridiron and from his hospital bed. His victory was that of a lasting spirit. Marty's love of life, his aggressive attitude, and his pleasant smile are but a few of his endowments left for his fellow students. His coaches, teammates, and classmates will always recall the quality of leadership, the will to win, and the desire to excel that Marty possessed. To the final seconds of his life, Marty exemplified an ideal: He never knew what it was to quit.
Enthusiasm, sportsmanship, and a high degree of determination marked the Bears’ fourth season in the small college ranks. The team faced seven opponents during the 1963 season, compiling a record of 2 wins and 5 losses. Because of his consistently excellent play during the season, co-captain Bob Lane was voted the most valuable player. The Bridgewater eleven met defeat at the hands of Frostburg State College (Maryland), Maine Maritime, Central Connecticut State, Bridgeport University, and Brockport State of New York. Victories over Nichols College and the Quonset Airbees rounded out the schedule.

* A much better team than their record indicates, the 1964 basketball squad lost only five games by less than ten points. These five victories would have given us a winning season. With the return of five freshmen and three sophomores to the team, however, the Bears should do well next year. Coach Dave Deep has executed his job admirably, and with a little height up front from the incoming athletic crop, he and all of us expect some promising activity by the “Big Reds.”

Baseball

- As the yearbook goes to press, the 1964 baseball team begins its first work-out sessions. Coach Harry Lehman has the problem of filling the vacancies created by the loss of starters from last year's team, but the initial turnout looks promising. Among the returning lettermen are pitchers Ralph Ricci and Fred Lachapelle who accounted for four of Bridgewater's six wins last season. In the hitting department, Captain Phil Curry and third sacker Marty Orlando are looking forward to a good season. Other capable players include Charlie Elliott, Tom Collard, Bob Williston, and Bob Mendes.

At the present time, the 1964 track team, under the leadership of Captain Terry Weddleton is making preparations for the 1964 track season. Each member of the team will participate in two or possibly three events in a schedule of meets which includes opponents such as Southern Connecticut and Central Connecticut.

With a strong nucleus returning from last year's second-place finisher, the 1964 tennis season may mark the first time that the men's varsity squad will become champions of the southern New England conference. Holdovers include four year veteran Hilly Forman, juniors Bob Flynn, Skip Cross, Ted Davis; sophomores Dennis Maguire, Pete Griffin, Paul Vital, and Dan Dobson. The Bears will play eight matches against such formidable opponents as Durfee Tech, Stonehill, Rhode Island College, and New Bedford Tech who, according to Dr. Rosen, is the team to beat.
