Annual Program Given
By Modern Dance Club

The Modern Dance Club presented their annual program to the college during chapel hour on Tuesday, May twenty-third.

The dance program was divided into two parts. Three ever-popular dances: “Scandalize My Name,” “Song of the Shining Star,” and “Greeting,” comprised the first act. The second portion of the program had for its theme, “Life at B.T.C.” Included in this were the following dances: “Initiation Dance;” “Greetings;” “Basketball Game;” “The Girls;” “Interlude” and “Graduation Day.”

The directing was done by the members themselves. Adela Cebula served as stage manager. Costumes were supervised by Ruth Alice Henderson, and scenery was under the direction of Carol Paul. Musical accompaniment was provided by Louise Tibbetts and Muriel Balthazar.

New Kappa Delta Pi Officers Installed
At Annual Banquet

Kappa Delta Pi held its annual banquet and installation of officers on May 10, 1950. The evening began at five-thirty in Tillinghast reception room with the candlelight installation of next year’s officers. At this time, Mr. Robert Rucker was installed as faculty adviser and was presented a tie pin and cuff-link set by Kappa Delta Pi.

Outstanding Freshmen Attend

Each year the club invites a group of freshmen holding the highest Q.P.R.'s in their respective divisions. This is done to encourage these worthy candidates to strive for acceptance into Kappa Delta Pi. The following were invited this year: from D1 George Weygand and Arthur Houseman, D2 Stanley Medum, D3 Jane Truworth and Lela Lymbert, D4 Barbara Fortier, and D5 Patricia Makin.

The faculty guests at the banquet included President and Mrs. John J. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Rucker, Miss S. E. Poppe, Mr. Paul Huffington, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Meier. Domenica was served in the reception room, followed by a short business meeting.

Ruth Cosgrove Addresses Club

At seven p.m., Miss Ruth Cosgrove, faculty member of Brockton High School and world-traveler addressed the group.

J. W. Powers To Speak
At Graduation Exercises

James Powers, foreign editor of the Boston Globe, is to be the guest speaker at commencement exercises for the graduating class of nineteen-hundred and fifty in the Horace Mann Auditorium at two o’clock on Sunday, June eleventh.

In the morning, the Baccalaureate Sermon will be given by Dr. Alfred H. Simpson of the Harvard University Graduate School. The senior luncheon will follow the sermon.

In the afternoon, the senior procession and Ivy March will take place following the awarding of degrees.

The week preceding graduation day will be a full one for the seniors. On June sixth, the senior class picnic will be held at Old Silver Beach in Falmouth. Each senior has the privilege of inviting a guest.

The Senior Dinner-Dance will be held at the Louis the Fourteenth Suite of the Hotel Somerset in Boston. Don Dudley’s orchestra will provide the music.

Co-Chairmen of the dance are Rhoda Beckman and Mrs. Robert W. Rucker.

William Zeuch To Give
Annual Organ Recital

The tenth Prince Memorial Organ Recital will be given Sunday afternoon, May 28 at 4 o’clock.

The organist is to be William Zeuch, who is distinguished for his recitals throughout the country.

Dorm Officers For Next Year Are Presented

Officers for Dormitory Council of Woodward and Tillinghast Dormitories were chosen in a recent election.

Next year’s council will have for its members: Theresa Mack as president, Ruth Alice Henderson as vice-president, Claire Pack as secretary, and Lorriose Ross as treasurer.

Dormitory Council is an administrative body which functions to enforce rules and decide upon matters concerning both dormitories.

President and Mrs. John J. Kelly
Shelley Pohoski

Woodward Dormitory held its annual elections of officers on Thursday, May eleventh.

As a result of the voting, the following offices were filled: president, Janet Dunwoody; vice president, Virginia Stetson; secretary, Maude Chase; and treasurer, Jean Cappelluzzo.

In Tillinghast, similar elections were held. Next years officers will be: president, Elizabeth Benz; vice president, Norene Dunn; secretary, Maria Donnelly; and treasurer, Virginia Carey.

The election methods in this college, excluding S.C.A., are in need of a radical change. Because an individual wins an election, it does not mean that he has the support of the majority. For example, in an election where three candidates are running and thirty-one votes are cast: A receives eleven, B, ten, and C, ten. A has won the election by a plurality of “one,” but has the support of only about one-third of the group.

Furthermore, under the present system, the nominating committee can FIX an election by putting up a strong candidate and the majority of the nominating committee consisted of the members running two others who will split the vote. The cards are on the table.

It doesn’t happen here! You’re wrong! In a recent election, the majority of the nominating committee consisted of the members of the clique who won the election. The only way they won the election was that the members of the clique who were nominated, received the plurality, and the remaining votes were evenly split. Is this a fair election?

Does the previous challenge hit home? It should! In any election, whether it be club, class, or dormitory, part of the election has been fixed. The cards are on the table.

If you are content with a system that has been patterned after the S.C.A. method, each candidate filing nomination papers, there will be much more satisfaction with the results of the elections.

Your new campus pulse-checker, this month, feels that all students of B.T.C. who will be lucky enough to return in September would appreciate a peep on the other side of the fence at what the poor souls who are “near alumni” have to say in parting. I have, therefore, traversed the hallowed halls armed with a newly-opened box of Kleenex, with the question, “What do you, as one about to descend the gangplank, have to say in evaluation of your years at Bridgewater?”

“Do you have a job?” —DELA CREBULA

“Remember that bliss and burn!” —BARBARA BAIR

Details, details: “I’ve gotten everything I wanted from B.T.C., except what I came for—a job!” —RITA LOUGHLIN

“We’re With You...” —BARBARA REYNOLDS

“Are you a guide-post for the future? A principle is something which is lightly accepted but to minister unto.” —MARIAN TYRRELL

A Noise for Business (?) —FRED GUSTAPSON

“Advice for handling wayward students: A pat on the back is most effective when ministered often enough, hard enough, and low enough.” —BETTY OPÉE
Variety Of Activities Chosen For Summer

The students at B.T.C. are really going to enjoy themselves this summer. Whether they’re working, traveling, or studying, they’ll be sure to get twenty-four hours of worthwhile living out of every day. Some of our students and their summer plans include:

Arthur George—work in a hotel at Nantucket.

Diane Heynor and Mary Lou Wilkins—hitting the trail for Texas.

Thelma Rubin—Revere Beach—swimming and loafing.

Joe Meren—life guard in Weymouth.

Frances Bishop—office work and bookkeeping.

Marilyn Clark—taking advantage of her twenty-one years.

Maureen Hall—life guard at Montello Pool.

Kitty Stevens—making up for last time.

Jean Bentley—spending another mad summer with Mary Joan.

Andrew Dietlin—adding to his income via the dog track.

Mary Silva—moving to California.

Marie Reilly—going LIVE.

Rita Lyons, Louise Mariani, and Pat Sanborn, playground instructors in their home town.

Rodel Sokol—camp counselor in upstate New York.

Mildred Crowley—preparing for next year (studying?).

Alice Owen—ice cream parlor—West Brewster.

Rita O'Neil—learning some new jokes.

Jean Maloney, Fran McGroty, restaurants—camps.

Liz Salini—going to school.

Kay Yoros and Janene Ferro—Howard Johnsons—Harwichport.

Peggy O'Neil—Marine Reserve—Quantico, Virginia.

That should give you an idea of what some of us have in store for the summer months. To these people, and to everyone here at Bridgewater, we wish a happy summer.

Dads Hear Myers, Horn; Enjoy Sports Banquet

The annual M.A.A. Father and Son Day was held on Saturday, May twenty-sixth. A banquet in the evening topped off a day of activities which included a ball game with Stonehill College and a softball game in the afternoon. B.T.C. wallopped Stonehill in the morning with a 9-2 win. The afternoon saw an intramural softball game played on lower campus.

Highlighting the banquet were guest speakers Denny Myers, head coach of football at Boston College, and Jerry Horn, head of the sports’ department of the Boston Post. In addition, Mr. Meier handed out awards and certificates to worthy seniors.

ALUMNI NEWS

The Alumni of Bridgewater hold a general reunion at this college on May 20, 1950. The classes held special class reunions under the direction of active alumni.

The officers of the Bridgewater Alumni are: president, Donald T. Welch; vice president, Madeline E. Bartlett, treasurer, Edward A. Lincoln; corresponding secretary, Flora M. Stuart; recording secretary, Jennie W. Carroll; auditor, Thomas Stetson; and ex-officio, President John J. Kelly.

News From Oldest Living Grad

The oldest living graduate from Bridgewater is Mrs. Maria J. Austin, a graduate of the class of 1871. She celebrated her ninety-eighth birthday on February 26, 1950. She now makes her home at Corvallis, Oregon.

Mr. Edward P. Pitts, Mansfield, Massachusetts is the oldest male graduate of Bridgewater. He is 97 years old.

The class of 1899 held their 50th reunion at Bridgewater on May 1949. About a dozen members were present. At the reunion Ralph Benedict read the scriptures to his class.

Alumni Day Last Weekend

At the program on May 20, 1950, greetings were given by Dr. John J. Kelly, president and by Commissioner John J. Desmond. The speakers of the morning were: William A. Rich, president of State Teachers Colleges Alumni Federation; and John J. Balfe '25, past president of State Teachers College Alumni Federation. A business meeting, a recessional, and luncheon followed.

The guest speaker of the day was Professor H. Alexander McGoun, president of Human Relations Inc., who spoke on “Hearts Not Just Heads in Education.” The day ended with motion pictures on activities at Bridgewater State Teachers College.

Sportlight On Baseball At B. T. C.

The Bridgewater Teachers’ baseball nine opened its season auspiciously with an easy 9-3 win over Curry College at Bridgewater’s Legion Field on May third.

Don Morey was on the mound for the Teachers, and was in complete command all the way giving up but seven hits while fanning eleven of the enemy hitters.

Le Vaussier Leads Hitting

The home forces scored three times in the opening stanza, added one in the second, two in the fourth, and then sewed up the game with a three-run outburst in the sixth. Le Vaussier led the hitters with two hits, and Al Walsh scored three of the Bridgewater runs.

Win Over Durfee Tech

The Teachers’ nine won their second consecutive game by defeating Durfee Tech 7-5 at Fall River, on Thursday, May fourth.

In the first inning, four bases on balls, a hit batsman, a fielder’s choice and two hits gave the Teachers a four-run lead, but Durfee countered with a run in the second and three more in the third to tie it up.

Bridgewater took the lead again in the fourth when Ford singled, stole second and came home on Morey’s single to left. Durfee came back with a run in the sixth to tie up the game again, but the Teachers broke the game wide open in the top of the ninth. Ford reached on an error. Then “Red” Nolan came through with a mighty triple to deep center. Morey laid down a perfect bunt to “squeeze” Red home with the final run.

McCaulery went the distance for Bridgewater allowing six hits. Fielding gems were displayed by Nolan, “Ford” and Bielecki.

Errors Prove Costly

After struggling to overcome a 1-1 deficit, Bridgewater dropped a 12-11 decision to Durfee in a loosely played game at Legion Field, on Saturday, May sixth.

Thuotte started on the mound for the home team, but was driven to cover in the second stanza after allowing six runs. Morey took over the pitching duties and was the victim of sloppy fielding on the part of his mates.

Trailing 1-11 going into the fifth inning, B.T.C. scored five runs. Then in a wild sixth inning the Teachers came up with five more to knot the count, only to have Durfee go ahead in the final inning.

Bridgewater threatened in their half of the seventh. Morey was hit by a pitched ball and Douthart singled but Ryan, the opposing hurler, bore down to get Bielecki and Dillon to end the game.

Teachers Lose Close Game

B.T.C. went down to its second consecutive defeat by a 2-0 count at the hands of New Bedford Textile at Legion Field, Friday, May twelfth.

New Bedford scored its runs in the first inning on hits by Lake, Carboneau and Poitras. Thereafter, McCaulery allowed only three hits, but the damage had been done as Sinis, in top notch form, allowed the Teachers only two hits.

Le Vaussier, with a double and a triple, was the only Teacher who could solve him of at least a double, and the ball game was over.

Bridgewater’s infield played sparkling defensive ball with two double plays and great individual efforts by Douthart and Morey.

An Era Is Ending—Hall’s El Is Leaving

Absorbing a five-run outburst by the Quigleys in the second inning, the seniors’s El team bounced back to tie the score and then push across four more runs to win the W.A.A. softball title by the score of 9-5.

In a glorious finish to their college career, the seniors capped the title for the second time in three playoffs. The butts room conversationists in later years will remember the hard fought battles between the present juniors and seniors.

Helen Pitched Well

Although there were no individual standouts, Helen Kudlic held the juniors in check after the second inning to pitch the Teachers to the win before a large and enthusiastic rooting section.

The seniors will long be remembered for their excellence in sports. More important, the hearts of all, will always remember their good sportsmanship.

Graduation Exercises

Leonard and Paul Salley. Part of the program of the evening will be the Class Ode, written by Elinor Leemon and the Class Prophecy, written by Margaret O’Neil.

The faculty reception for the seniors will take place in Albert Gardner Boyden Gymnasium, Saturday, June tenth.

W. A. A. Banquet Closes Successful Season

The curtain has closed on the W.A.A. program with a grand climax for the successful season of “49-50.” The date, May twenty-fourth; the setting, the dining hall; and the occasion of enjoyment was the annual W.A.A. banquet.

After the dinner, President Kelly gave a short talk. The retiring president of W.A.A., Rita Laughlin, addressed the group, and introduced Virginia Smith, newly elected president for the “50-51” season.

Next Year’s Officers

The welcome mat was put out for Ginger with a pledge for cooperation in all her future endeavors. Also welcomed as next year’s officers were: Mary Cummings, the first vice-president; Jean Caprelluzzo, second vice-president; Louise Mariani, treasurer; Mary Alice Carr, assistant treasurer; Louise Tibbetts, publicity; Helen Boucher, recording secretary; and Marjorie Simmons, corresponding secretary.

Guest speaker was Miss Marine Lehand, head of the French Department at Smith College, whose talk “Physical Education—Past and Present” was entertaining and interesting.

In the auditorium Four-S awards were presented to those senior girls who were outstanding in Scholarship, Service and sportsmanship.

A WELCOME CHANGE

There comes a time in the life of every person when a touch of praise or recognition is appreciated. In order to survive and become successful in our democracy, it is necessary that we love, respect, and honor our fellow beings. A little kindness, a little consideration, and a little cooperation on the part of each individual will contribute universally to the goal we are seeking—one world, free from strife and desolation.

Here at Bridgewater, a method of giving recognition to those persons who have shown the above qualities by word, thought, or action, is exemplified via the 4-S award. This award is made to senior girls who have been outstanding in scholarship, service, stability and sportsmanship.

Great progress is being made toward the first three qualities; but the latter—sportsmanship—seems to be an eddy in the tide.

Everyone realizes the role competition plays in our country. It is truly a dangerous weapon if it is used incorrectly. W.A.A., too, has a competitive scheme. By the use of class intramurals, just enough competition is fostered. Sometimes, during the heat of a game, when participants least expect it, the wrong side of competition has revealed itself. Some, realizing this, have seen the light, and are putting unsportsmanlike attitudes in the past; others still have a long way to go.

In the recent softball play-offs, sportsmanship, we hope, came into its own. There have been few times when two groups have played so well under such tension. The honesty and teamwork was indeed a triumph to W.A.A.

Keep up the good work, and let’s see if everyone can strive for the qualities which the 4-S exemplifies.

BILL, SAM, JIM AND JOHNNY, THE HELPERS BEHIND THE HELPLESS

The day doesn’t pass without Sam scurrying hither and yon carrying out many steps, Sam doesn’t mind. “Got my various duties. This busy friend of the students came to us sixteen years ago. Though his job requires a great many steps, Sam doesn’t mind. “Got my various duties. This busy friend of the students came to us sixteen years ago. Though his job requires a great many steps, Sam doesn’t mind.”

James Howard Butler, known as Jim, is the maintenance man of the campus. He drives out the dust with his broom, and he is also a master of the snow plow, keeps heads when William comes roaring down the campus with the lawn-mower. Bill is a student who helps to keep the campus clean and safe for all of us to go to school each winter.

Scurrying hither and yon carrying out many steps, Sam doesn’t mind. “Got my training in 1918 as an infantry man in the Argonne, St. Michel, and Chateaux Thierry. He’d be good for a 4.0 in a French geography class. Our food and papers are so. Thanks to J aIm, this fine palace of den Gym; at least the phys. edders think as you would have it, is as spotless as the delicate opera­tion performed by the doctors of Modern Medicine, which takes place in the Boyden Gym, of course. He glides over the ballroom smoothly as Fred Astaire.

He doesn’t mind if you slash your way through the music of the kids, but he stays awake to watch the dance. The topography of the gym is no barrier to John. There isn’t a mole­cule of dust that is safe no matter where it’s in business. He drives out the dust just as he helped to drive the Germans out of Africa and Italy while working for Uncle Sam during the war.

John Considine

One of the most important educa­tional plants in Bridgewater is the Boy­den Gym; at least the plays, odors think so. Thanks to John, the palace of mental growth or physical development, as you would have it, is as spotless as an operation room. Well, that it is, for have you ever seen the delicate operation performed by the doctors of Modern Dance. The topography of the gym is no barrier to John. There isn’t a mole­cule of dust that is safe no matter where it’s in business. He drives out the dust just as he helped to drive the Germans out of Africa and Italy while working for Uncle Sam during the war.

John is present at our “night life,” which takes place in the Boyden Gym, of course. He glides over the ballroom floor to the strains of a Strauss waltz as smoothly as Fred Astaire. If you happen to be around after the dance you’ll soon discover that he plays the piano well and has a melodious voice.

Bill Frawley

As the college year comes to a sad end, many of our friends bow out of the college ranks and slip quietly into the pages of Bridgewater's history. We come across a man who has made history at B.T.C. for ten years and won’t bow out for a good many years.

Who is this fortunate soul? His name is Bill Frawley and he can be seen driving around in a truck marked B.S.T.C. for ten years and won’t bow out for a good many years. He glides over the ballroom smoothly as Fred Astaire.

In his off hours he sketches the landscape of our beautiful Cape Cod with the natural touch of an artist. Mr. But­ler is also an accomplished pianist, going in for the classical stuff. He has a flair for sentimental music, especially "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes." If you happen to be flying low when Jim is swinging his broom, you’ll get "Dust In Your Eyes." If you happen to be flying low when Jim is swinging his broom, you’ll get "Dust In Your Eyes."

According to Jim, "Education will transcend the bounds of nature when the students of B.T.C. are in the field." His parting advice to the seniors is "Hard work will never hurt you, just kill you."
Spotlight On Rita

When President Kelly announced Rita Laughlin as the winner of the senior All-American girl, the story of an outstanding girl was told. The college was not the first to appreciate Rita’s abilities, for she was elected captain of the basketball team at St. Patrick’s high school in Watertown. Member of Many Clubs

Since her entrance into Bridgewater less than four years ago, she has kept up a rapid fire of activities. Her junior year found Rita as the first vice-president of W.A.A., and senior year, president. In addition, she is treasurer of Tillinghast, and has been a member of Newman and Kindergarten-Primary clubs for four years.

Shooting baskets, hitting home runs, and smashing tennis balls are Rita’s favorites on the list of sports activities. A good personality has often been described as an indefinable asset to the make-up of an individual. Rita’s unfailing friendliness keep her high on the list of popularity.

It has been said that to have a friend, one must be a friend. This statement in itself gives the answer to Rita’s popularity and success.

Seniors Lead Men’s Softball League
In the newly formed Intramural softball league, the seniors reign in undisputed possession of first place. The juniors are second with a one win and one loss. The sophomores are third with a one and two record and the frosh are in last place with a nothing and one record.

In the first game, the seniors turned in some slick fielding and timely hitting and easily knocked off the juniors.

The second game saw the freshmen get off to a five run lead in the first inning against the sophomores, but the sophomores kept fighting and came out ahead seven to five. Ed Nevennasakas and Ray Prasieke hit home runs for the two year men to lead their attack.

Juniors Win 12-11

In the third game of the season the juniors came from behind in the last inning to tie victory away from the sophomores, by a score of twelve to eleven. The sophomores took the game away, as bad throws marred an otherwise creditable fielding performance. However, the seniors capitalized on these miscues and pulled out a victory when Tony Costa singled with the bases loaded in the last inning to bring victory to the juniors. Boxes of “White Owls” went to Roy Prasieke, Ed Nevennasakas, and Tom Daley.

Good Fielding Aids Senior
The next game saw the sophomores make two errors of omission and lose to the seniors eight to three. Paul Salley proved very effective on the mound for the seniors but plenty of fielding gems by his outfield pulled him out of many tight jams. Ernie Remondinelli who pitched for the sophomores was wild, but two bad errors with the bases loaded allowed six unearned runs and that was the ballgame. Walt Morrison hit a homer for the winners.
