NEACSS Committee to Re-Evaluate Monday and Tuesday

A re-evaluation Committee of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools will visit Bridgewater May 9-11. This re-evaluation is part of the standard plan to re-evaluate every member institution once every decade.

On May 9, the NEACSS Committee will meet with administrative officials and the Bridgewater Re-evaluation Committee. The Bridgewater Re-evaluation Committee, appointed by Dr. Arthur Hazelred and chaired by Dr. Kenneth J. Rowe, has prepared a request for NEACSS. Eight copies of this report are on display in the college library and are available for student use.

A forum meeting was devoted to the discussion of the re-evaluation report, and on Friday, May 13, the Bridgewater Re-evaluation Committee will meet with student officers. On May 15, the Bridgewater Colleget will meet with the NEACSS Re-evaluation Committee. The Bridgewater NEACSS Re-evaluation Committee, of Mt. Holyoke College, and Dr. John Grant of the University of Chicago, will prepare a report for NEACSS.

Some topics covered were dormitory topics, attendance requirements, fraternities, and other related fields. Dr. Henry Steele Commager, a noted American historian and author, will lecture at BSC on Friday, May 14th during third hour. Classes scheduled for that hour will be held during third hour on Tuesday, May 11 so that everyone will be able to attend this Assembly.

It was decided that the most desirable way to celebrate the 125th Anniversary of the college was to plan a symposium of papers. The Director of the Division will be Chairman and the members of the faculty will be the committee for each symposium. The Division will plan its own program according to a general plan for all symposia. A tentative schedule is:

1. Convocation in September -- abstracts due.
2. Symposium: The Division of History and Political Science, October.
3. Symposium: The Division of Science and Mathematics, November.
5. Symposium: The Division of Humanities, April.
6. Honors Day. The concluding event.

For the first time in ten years, a woman has been elected to the presidency of the Student Co-operative Association, Linda Bergs, junior English major who has served as SCA delegate for the past two years, marks campus history by capturing that top office in last week's SCA final election.

Tom Bell, junior major who held the position of class president in both his freshman and sophomore years, won over opponents in the hotly-contested race for SCA Vice-President.

EDITORIAL

A College Community Relations Board has been proposed by president Rootless. It is to be composed of five students, five faculty members, and one administrator. The exact character, jurisdiction, and composition of the board have not been determined.

The board will suggest policy to the administration. Beyond this responsibility, mentioned by Mr. Rootless when he suggested the board to the students, it is unclear what the administration by Mr. Rootless, who brought the suggestion before the council, no other responsibilities have been agreed upon.

If previous decisions of the present administration are indicative of its attitude toward student voice and participation, the SCA President Bob Flynn when he brought the suggestion before the council, no other responsibilities have been agreed upon.

The primary function of the board will probably be to review and evaluate student grievances and concerns. The board will, for example, consider complaints of discrimination and unfair treatment of students by the administration. The board will also consider issues related to the quality of life at Bridgewater College. It is to be noted that this board is independent of the College Community Relations Board which will vary each year as personalities change. But, hopefully, the board will work for a more liberal and more equal college community, better integrated with the liberal arts work.

Comments on Viet Nam Policy

The favorite pastime of political writers and so-called experts across the land in the past few months has been to criticize our government policy in Viet Nam. This area until recently was not under the wing of American projection. But it’s not too late to fix essential questions: What is the nature of our policy? What are our goals? What are our responsibilities? What are the solutions? The writer does not intend to belabor the facts of the American policy in Viet Nam. No official statement of China’s policy is released so one has to go beyond the written word to gain an insight into it.

In a recent conversation with a reader who was highly successful in pursuing our education and information on the problem, and Mrs. Good, a housemother who virtually no representation has gone to this region because of the vacuum left by the French withdrawals, there is another reason for this, including the fact that they will not be equally appreciated as a leader in its field. Do you find that students are apathetic? And, if so, what improvements they thought should be made to improve the intellectual life at Bridgewater.

The system of distribution was inadequate, and the reasons for this, including the fact that they will not be equally appreciated as a leader in its field. Do you find that students are apathetic? The recent motion picture released by Warner Bros., starring Richard Burton, Elizabeth Taylor, and Robert Mitchum, seems to be an adventure-themed experience--a refreshing change from the light-hearted films of the winter season.

The most powerful film account is Otto Preminger's IN HARM'S WAY, starring John Wayne, Patricia Neal, Henry Fonda, and Hugh O'Brian. In a story about the events preceding the Pearl Harbor invasion.

MAJOR DONDEE featuring Charlton Heston and Richard Harris is an action-packed epic about hostilities in the southeast during the Civil War.

WINTER'S UTTERMOST is starring Max von Sydow and Jane Fonda as lovers in a story set in Manhattan during the early 1960s. The picture is a gripping tale of love and betrayal.

WAY, starring John Wayne, Patricia Neal, and Richard Harris, is about the events leading up to the Battle of the Alamo. The picture is a powerful drama that utilizes the enormous deserts of the Southwestern USA.

WAY THE WEST WAS WON, except for the scenes set in the desert, is considered by many to be the greatest western ever made. The picture's powerful conclusion is a testament to the skill of the director and the cast.

Modern Dancers Perform Spring Show

The interpretation of the symbol plays within the mind of the audience. Nationally known for their skill, the STF dancers have brought to the fore their understanding of the affairs of the state. Statesman.

The state government looks to the future with confidence. The young eyes of the state are filled with hope and promise. The students of the state are determined to make their voices heard. The voices of the students are the voices of the future.

In the spring of 1965, the STF dancers performed a spring show in the Horace Mann Auditorium. The show was entitled "Beyond." The dancers were dressed in costumes that ranged from modern to classical. The weather was warm and the audience was enthusiastic. The show was a resounding success.
