President Lyndon Johnson has recently signed into law the new Higher Education Act of 1965. This law is the end result of a group of laws dating back to the National Defense Education Act of 1958. What effect does this new law have on the college student? The law now allows all students at any college to qualify for undergraduate work. It makes possible a student to lend at low interest rates and thereby award the employment of work-study jobs to any student from families above the originally established low-income levels. The passage of the law on November 8, removed this restriction by inserting the words "preferably to" in the consideration for employment. The Financial Aid Officer will be more accurately assess the student's need and thereby award the student a work-study job. The greatest increase in jobs for 1966 is in general, and summer camps. The students have now been offered only for "Summer Employment Directors" and Summer theatres, National and Summer openings throughout the United States and Canada. College students are invited by employers listed to obtain detailed information on the auditorium by President Adrian Rondileau. Herodotus Club.

Today at 4 p.m., in the Horace Mann Auditorium, Edward M. Kennedy, junior senator from Massachusetts, will relate the experience of his recent trip to Vietnam to Bridgewater students, faculty and interested townspersons. A reception line formed on the main floor of Shoemaker Hall will greet the senator when he arrives. The guest will include the Academic Dean, Dean of Graduate Studies, Dean of Undergraduate Studies, Dean of Students, Chairman of Departments of History and Political Science, and President and Advisor of the Herodotus Club, President and Officer of the RSC, President of the United States, President and Advisor of the RSC, and President of the Student Council.

The Work-Study plan was established by the Federal Opportunity Act of 1964. Formerly, employers for this program were paid only to those students who were from low-income levels. The passage of the law on November 8, removed this restriction by inserting the words "preferably to" in the consideration for employment. Time To Act Not Just Complain Correctly stated by two movements on campus to combat apathy, although neither of these movements has succeeded in increasing the amount of that quality in its students. The Debate Club and a private enterprise initiated by Mr. David Englund and SCA representative Paul Allen came together to discuss ways to alleviate the problem as far as it is realistic to do so. CAMPUS COMMENT width is able to what ever way possible both organizations.

The response to the December editorial has been far less than has been disappointing. Although the Debate Club has just moved in its new quarters, a private enterprise initiated by Mr. David Englund and SCA representative Paul Allen are able to do something. That isn’t necessarily to be a present problem at Bridgewater. The Debate Club and a private enterprise initiated by Mr. David Englund and SCA representative Paul Allen are able to do something.

We regret the mistaken choice of the one word debate instead of discussion. We must leg confusion, but your second point, as our reporter approached a few members of the panel and received this statement.

We are going to harass or construct your remarks about people who are too young, too old, too immature, or too experienced to think of anything but the current manner of fighting the enemy.

The entire Bridgewater College community should thank the people of DSC for the services that they have performed. Mr. David P. Englund has been able to do his job. And in some cases, the recent actions such as the burning of the California basketball court, the Ongod basketball game of the 1965-66 season was only a part of the basketball team that is swept by Pitttspurg, but the basketball team that is swept by Pittsburg should be improved by such an...

Governments Offered

The Civil Service Commission has recently announced that it will hold a national examination for employment by government agencies. The examination is designed to assess the abilities of applicants and ensure that they are well qualified for the jobs they seek.

In addition to the federal government, many state and local governments also offer careers to qualified candidates. These opportunities can vary widely, including positions in law enforcement, education, health care, and social services.

In recent years, there has been a growing trend towards hiring more minority candidates. The government is committed to increasing diversity in its workforce, and encourages all qualified candidates to apply.

Government jobs offer benefits such as competitive salaries, health insurance, and retirement savings plans. They also provide opportunities for professional development and advancement.

Apply online at the Civil Service Commission’s website, or check your local government job boards for more information.

BSC EVEN
2 WINS 2 LOSSES

The Bears opened their 1965-66 basketball season on a positive note with an 83-75 win over Fitchburg State. A good sized crowd saw co-captain Ken Brennan score his 1000th career point, some hard action under the boards and a BSC team with enough height to win this season.

An outside shot by Phealan and a hoop by Brennan brought BSC to within one point, 18-17, in the second half. The score went back and forth for the rest of the game. A 9 point lead and two free shots by Brennan put the Bears in the lead 39-39. BSC went behind again until Fairbanks scored twice to tie the game at 50-50. In the final minutes BSC came within one point again, 61-60, but Westfield went on to take the ball game.
