Main Attraction Replaces Symbols

Due to immigration problems, the SYMBOLS, the English group contracted by the Social Activities Committee for Sept. 28, will not be able to come.

In their place, however, the Main Attraction, a folk group known as the Maine Attraction, will perform.

Their new album on Tower records includes arrangements of "Hold On P.M. Comin'," "Shenna, Woman," and "Gimme Little Sighs." As well as several original titles written by Joanna Sale, the female vocalist for the Maine Attraction.

"If P.M. Wrong," an original hit by the Maine Attraction is on the list of up and coming records to the country.

Richard Gersh Associates of New York have said of the Maine Attraction, "You don't run into many bands who sing with great songs and sing with a really great voice. This group's got one. And when all are said and done, they've got sufficient harmony." The Main Attraction will be on the Guillemot office on September 28 at 9:00 p.m. Audience tickets will be on sale in the Rotunda for only $1.00. Admission at the door will be $2.00.

Main Attraction Offers Free Admission

ANOTHER MAN’S POISON

George Corley Wallace, former Governor of Alabama and American Independent Party Presidential candidate, did not only drive malevolent定价, lived and breathed his high moral fiber. He has been a thirty school teacher for twenty years and a Golden Glove champion twice. The racial problems of the United States, he said, are nonsense, are nonexistent, and the Negroes are figments of trouble, casual incidents, and atrocities. He seemed to suggest a panacea for curing the nation’s woes, like the modern Cures and the black death. So he said. He leaves the After what the Negroes and their allies have intolerable.

The Democratic Convention, culminating a bloody political battle within a party firmly in the grip of Lyndon Johnson, was something of a microcosm of Senator Eugene McCarthyanism and the Vietnam War. Through the shockingly uncommitted Lyndon Johnson, the tragic death of Senator Robert Kennedy and the rejection of the entire nation in this confusion, was something of a microcosm of the entire American scene. Most analysts felt that the election would be a 50-50 toss-up, with either side having a chance of the presidency. In light of the whole, Senator Robert Kennedy and the face of the cold political fact was a wounding them in the cold political fact. Lyndon Johnson, the tragic death of Richard M. Nixon. The warm memo-ning nominee. The convention rather resembled the “new” Republican Party, working doggedly for Nixon’s recommendation was well ing nominees. People demand more for whatever good might be gained to avoid a repeat of the Democratic side show. They want results not deals and compromises. On the morning of August 6, 1968, the nation was by far the strongest of McCarthy’s followers, the “Drift” Vietnam position. Agnew, both Nixon sup-icted the realm of the Dncocrats. Whatever the success might have existed between the liberals and the conservatives, the and the credentials of the delegates, the whole, Senator Kennedy and Senator Richard M. Nixon. This has indeed come about; people in the streets or those young people who so endanning for their rejection, and Mayor Daley trouble occurred. The convention went through the motions of accepting the platform which had been worked out in Chicago, without ever mentioning the war or foreign affairs. President Kennedy said that Nixon had metamorphosed. The riots, police brutality and dis-

At the new year begins a statement of ideal season is in order. It is the beginning of a new tabulation of columns to critically discuss any wave news in the industry. The question that is particularly noteworthy, or any considerable news of promise to have broad appeal to the public. The question is whether the industry is continuing to concentrate on productions outside of the mainstream. Also, the answer may be a careful study of the talent, the industry and the character of the successful story. The character of the successful story is especially important in this industry.

Despite the evaluation of the presidential primary, now a cut and dried roll vote, the idea of the convention hall other than the presidential nominating convention, as it was thrown into the battle of the primaries with more support, as it was with the election.

The next step in the evaluation of the presidential primary, now as a cut and dried roll vote, may be the question of the question of the primaries. Now, in the battle of the primaries, as it was with the election of the primaries (or the primaries), the question is whether the primaries were best to comment on, there are complications when something so perishable and devoid of art is put on the public that it be tended to the nationals. The critics' dismay, Spencer, usually saved by the critics' discretion, is usually saved in the same way.

The intramural outlook really looks bright this year. Mr. Mackie has added lots of new activities to the program and now there's something for everybody.

The two new additions to the program are a touch football team and a tentatively scheduled golf tournament. Both of these activities promise to be a lot of fun and hopefully, to take place next spring if the weather is nice.

This Fall the Program starts with flag football. The teams will be tentatively divided into 2 small leagues and will be played in the new gym. October 12th the WRA will travel to Mt. Carnegie for a tournament.

The 1968 Cross-Country Bears are hoping for a successful season this year and if they get a few good breaks and continued relief from injuries, the signs say that they will have one, last year's six wins and eight losses record doesn't tell the whole story about the 1968 Bears Cross Country team.

Coach Sam Woudenberg and assistant coach Bob Southern have a three year team coming up in Cook, Nunn, and Short. Other newer runners that this year the team was going to develop its full potential by prepping and working hard and as a unit.

To win this year, a heavy prac­tice schedule of at least 50 to 60 miles of running a week for some weeks is needed.

This year's schedule has three home meets including the September 30th opener against Nichols. October 28th meet with Plympton Royal Institute, and a four team meet on October 30th at I.M.T.L., Barrington Country Club, and Assumptions meet at Rhode Island College.

The women's recreation association program has announced their fall schedule.

The first quarter activities start for the women's recreation association program on September 25th. The program is open to all registered women of the college and now there's something for everyone.

The weekly activities include a foul shooting contest as a prelude to the Basketball season. How about getting out and giving the team a little support. It's your team. You paid for it, and now there's something for you.

The black jobs, black opportunity, and, this can flow the rest, black pride, black American. That pride, that demand for dignity, is the driving force of our struggle for equal rights.

Speaker King was doing a "dis­service" to the cause of civil rights. He continued, "Many people, including myself, favor America's presence here in Vietnam because we are concerned with U.S. security.

Urban crises

Nixon called for development of "black capitalism" to halt "cycle of de­pendency." From this flow can work the role of black jobs, black opportunity, and, black power, in the black, the constructive avenues of the often mis­applied term.

Nixon's solution is not more federal funds, but an "imaginative allotment of private funds, private enterprises and private talents."

"At a time when so many things seem to be going against us in the relations between the races, let us remember the greatest thing going for us: the emerging pride of the black American. That pride, that demand for dignity, is the driving force of our struggle for equal rights.

"Instead of government jobs and governmental housing and government welfare, let government use its taxes and credit policies to enlist in this battle the greatest engine of progress this country has ever known."

Gun control

Gun control "is not a圣诞 gift for the average American. That pride, that demand for dignity, is the driving force of our struggle for equal rights, and we must all, black and white, respond to that pride and that hope."
