Fitchburg Brotherhood Hosts Phi Pi Delta

The Brothers of Phi Pi Delta at Bridgewater State College and the possibilities of re-affiliation are being discussed by the two Brotherhoods. In conjunction with this, Phi Pi Delta will shortly sponsor a party in Bridgewater for the members of Delta Phi Pi.

A FEW CANDID OPINIONS

NOTE: THE COMMENT specifies these articles an opinion, since we want to be certain not to upset the reader.

Tom Rush: Unmixed Feelings

by Bruce Clark

Tom Rush performed beautifully considering the very large surrounding audience-Bridgewater. It seemed that in this "high" town of Bridgewater if you want to go up on stage and have something to say you have to wear a yellow barracuda, white socks, almost hair and have an air of rough about you. Tom Rush doesn't fit into this category, so when he went up on stage he was presented with a pre-concert view of "Sweety" Bridgewater. I must congratulate the populace of Bridgewater for generally considering the weather and going to a visiting celebrity.

As to the concert; the intelligent listening audience enjoyed Tom Rush very much, but there were many placid students who disliked his music and regretted the admission price. The disgusting realism about these people was their own object. To object verbally to something that is forced upon you is one thing which the constitution allows for, but to object to the performance, about that performance, is another. Another problem which caused distress was the poor acoustics of the gym.

A lot of people complained about Tom Rush constantly tuning his guitar. They don't realize that in order to present the finest tunes possible from an instrument it is necessary for this instrument to be tuned to perfection for any amount of time. Tuning a guitar is not a mode of existence, but rather the artist's desire to produce the best sounds possible for the audience to hear.

I doubt after the treatment he received that Tom Rush would ever return to the crimson stone walled gymnasium. Why must it be this small?

Today's Political Mix-Up

by J. Ruben Masculi

Contrary to public belief, the presidential campaign was not an all out effort to get one person elected, but in so doing it must be the right person for many different reasons. As an example of such, George Wallace seemed to be the only candidate selected by the students of this college. Wallace seemed to be the only candidate who could best be described as "No George, tell it like it is baby!" However, even Wallace soon realized that he was the subject of reverse psychology (or don't say that Wallace can't add two and two and sometimes get four.) After Wallace finally came to the conclusion, he began to really bother him. Shouting in his highest offer, "You'd better do that now 'cause when President Ford says there's no more of it." George's blown cool started to tarnish the re-election, Continued to Page 3, Col. 4
Does DSA Really Exist?

This newspaper has, at various times in the past, published articles highly critical of the State Student Association and of the seemingly unshakable student. Although the reaction has often been for DSA and its executive board with equal heat, I wish to make it clear that there seems to be a certain publicity that they have received, and to dash all unkind letter of billing-to-date of their position, the COMMENT has again decided to list this stick dog which claims to represent over half of the student body.

Though it may seem an impolite and impolitic question to ask of a body which has the second largest membership on campus (only 10-C is larger) and among the largest, the State Student Association is unaffiliated with any other student group, nor are they tied down to anything in the way of dues fees and vending machine contracts, but what precisely does the Day Student Association. 10-1? That is, in addition to dispensing permitting stickers and notices, collecting subscriptions and providing extra offices to be held. Every college of student government - SCA, the dorm councils and house boards and the class executive committees, most of which operate with less personnel and all of which operate with less financial resources and far more demands on those resources are quite functional and active, within their respective limitations.

The answer is, we reply, that DSA runs the annual Commuter’s Banquet, and participates somewhat in the overall planning of Christmas week activities. This is a very big job, which involves employing a caterer and attending to the thousand details that are attached to such an activity. It is important to the commuter, who is the group you represent. It would seem that an enormous gap to be bridged on the other.

The CAMPUS COMMENT is published every 2 weeks by the students of the State Student Association.

All opinions herein are exclusively those of the staff and Editorial Board and/or members of the SCA, unless otherwise indicated.

Gardening System Improved?

How validly objective can a judgement be made it is affected by an outside force? Is a pleading "feezy" or a rash hard attitude of a defendant aroused a jury? Does your name on an honor roll usually indicate that you're a person who does excellent work? Is your impression of a person a valid judgement of what he is actually capable of doing? Does it affect how you feel about a person. Is this what an objective judgement is? Does this have any meaning to you, or is it simply a question of the writer? Possibly.

What is the set of papers was handed in with identifying numbers or letters on them instead of outside or inside affecting force, the boy was kept separate, possibly by a student until the grades were returned. Then the names were substituted for the numbers and the grades recorded. Was the judging a matter of the teacher and unreasonable for the writer? Possibly.

If this has any meaning to you, respond. Is that an object in justice is all about?

THINK ABOUT IT!

Newman Center

The Newman Center will experiment with a more involved folk mass. Bob Burke a freshman with experiences in this type of program, will organize a group of individuals interested in playing musical instruments particularly the guitar, for these new masses.

Each week there will be a theme around which the mass will revolve. The first will be "Pentecost." Anyone interested in playing is invited to meet in the Chapel at 11:00 A.M., on either Thursday or Friday at the Newman Center.

Drama Club presents OUR TOWN

At 8:15 on the evening of November 15, 21, and 22, the Bridgewater State College Drama Club will present Thornton Wilder’s OUR TOWN. This intensely moving play is considered by many as the “most unconventional, intriguing and affecting drama in the modern theater.” OUR TOWN deals with a town, and the problem of this production, states that the “problems of this production, states that the town is ours. Its problems are ours. And the problems of this production, states that the town is ours. Its problems are ours. Thome IS a Willingness to spend one hour, two hours, or whatever it takes, to understand the problems of this production, states that the town is ours. Its problems are ours.

See you at OUR TOWN,

Coffeehouse Plans Student Drama Night

by Dee Bailey

At 8:00 on the evening of November 15, 21, and 22, the Coffeehouse plans to present three contemporary minds. Life, love, power, and people will be blown up and massacred within a few walls beneath the street. Unconventional thought forming will provoke you into a state of frenzy, rip off your blindfolds and broaden your minds with insight. The Tycoon will be characterized by Mark Sullivan’s “ASSIGNATION,” directed by Mark Sullivan, Bruce Taylor’s “RUNAWAY” and Mark Allen’s “THE BARRIER,” both directed by Mark Allen Loech.

The three plays have been written somewhat experimentally in batches of dramatic writing, each with limited action. The current method of presentation, with the non-coordinated bodies as audience and actors in the action will be evidenced by the physical setup of the coffeehouse as the actors will be situated on top of the coffeehouse.

Selected poetry preceding and following each play of the evening’s activities forming a meaningful whole will be selected and expanded to be a most exciting and provocative evening of the coffeehouse. We are expecting a more than capacity crowd is advisable to be there early.

Christian Fellowship Sponsors Tutoring Project

Christan Fellowship urges all students to participate in their tutoring project which is a part of the Domestic Peace Corps Expanded Program. Students who wish to tutor may have their choice of a boy or girl pupil from either the second, third, or fourth grade at the Grovers Corners School. The subjects taught are math, reading, spelling, handwriting, or a combination of any of these. All materials for the lessons are provided by the child’s teacher. Tutoring is done once or twice a week for one or two hours each. The amount of time depends upon the amount of free time you have and the needs of the child you tutor.

Since there are 59 young children who would benefit from such a program, your help is urgently needed. Tutors do not have to be members of Christian Fellowship. See you at OUR TOWN.

Campus Treasures

by Richard Brow

Placed unobtrusively in the steps of Hayden Hall is a U.S. Geological Survey bench mark. It places the elevation above sea level at Hayden Hall at 99 feet. This is one of many such marks in the Bridgewater area. There is one upstream at the Bridgewater Academy, and another by the turnpike on Great Hill. The site of the Ad Building was chosen in 1854 by the survey since it occurred a permanent and reliable site. However it is no longer registered on the official survey maps of Bridgewater. Does this mean that Hayden is no longer stable?

Typical of the Bridgewater Geology Department warned me that a small rock in the sea level could inundate the entire campus, right up into the back of the earth. There is no credibility to the wild rumors that the campus is going under water and has been for years. If the day ever comes when we have to crash course in air survival and get the operators of the town of Bridgewater to believe this, I believe that there will be a SUB on hand.

Battle for the Presidential Force

Anti-Wallace signs began to spring up everywhere. Some declared, “Wallace is Roosevelt's baby.” Others warned, “Wallace for President—what a riot!” Blinding at the height of the campaign, we heard that the Republicans did not stand a chance. However, when they were finally called in coming, a struggle went on with Wallace gaining ground. One commercial labelled Agnew as the “One Man Production” of the Republican camp. Another used a 10 second radius of a heart beat and asked the question “Nixon or Ed- mondson?” Do you want it to be a heartbeet away from the Presi- dent and Nixon or Dailey this week because I still

Poetry Contest

The Editors of the COMMENT, believing in the need for as large an outlet for new creative talent as possible, hereby announce the COMMENT POETRY CONTEST. The Valley Banks have been thinking about their designation of the flag football team. Now they have 2 and 0 record and it certainly looks like they will be the fall champs of this year.

Mr. Masterson has announced two important things. First, there has been a change in class covering the extramural contest with MassCollege. Second, the first team flag football will represent Bridgewater, not all star team. Secondly the regular flag football games from now on will be played from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.

The fall football tournament is coming up very soon and all interested parties should submit their names to Mr. Masterson as soon as possible.

The tournament should be

Halloween Happenings at BSC

This year’s Halloween at BSC held a party for every student. The students were divided into two teams, and they were introduced to each other. The team that won the most games won the party. The winning team was presented with a trophy.

Intramural Sports

In this page, we discuss the intramural sports that are available at Bridgewater State College. We have listed the sports that are available, the equipment required, and the rules. We have also included some tips for playing these sports.

Ice Hockey: A Beginning

During an ice hockey meeting held by Coach Steve, the idea that hockey could become a big sport at BSC, was expressed. There was a fairly goodly large group of people present and more players are expected to sign up for the team.

This year the team will have certain advantages over last year’s team. Coach Steve said it will be very important to have money for ice time and other expenses. The team will be playing the games, but the expenses will be borne by the team. The team will have a few minor problems, but over the years these will be solved. The main problem will be the money and the difficulties will be overcome.

As of this year we will have no opponents or equipment, but Coach Steve feels confident that the team will be able to sign up a few players. The boys are expected to raise enough money for these essentials. The boys will be expected to sign up for a season.

The Middle School Band under the directon of Mr. Swenson, will be playing in the gym this time the Homecoming Queen of the newly established basketball team will be introduced and will help Paul Stahl lead the Rocky.

Friday night, the students of the Rocky will be introduced and will be introduced to the Rocky. The Rocky will be introduced to the students of the Rocky. The Rocky will be introduced to the students of the Rocky.

Come Tuesday, November 15, and remember that this is the Rocky’s big show of sportsmanship. Help make it a big night and get your support.

Support the NEW TEAM FRIDAY AT 7:00 AT GREAT HILL!

WRA Sports Day at Thayer Academy

Be it known, BSC, Bridgewater State College, that we are participating in a fall hockey sports day. We will be represented by two teams.

Library Notes

At the request of the Student Cooperative Association, the Library has increased its hours of operation. Beginning on October 1, the library will be open from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Monday through Thursday and from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. on Friday.

Veterans Education Bulletin

One requirement for continuing educational assistance allowance is that the veteran student meet the following conditions:

1. Completion of all courses for which he is certified.
2. Successful completion of all courses for which he is certified.
3. Graduation within the specified period.
4. No more than two years of total enrollment.
5. No more than two years of total enrollment.

We have noted that a considerable number of veteran students discontinue courses or change majors during their academic careers. This may result in a loss of benefits. It is important that students continue to make satisfactory progress and file all necessary paperwork on time.
