Table of Contents, Vol. 30, No. 2, December 2011
On the cover Fall Foliage – Breaking Storm Photograph by Frank Gorga
This photograph is another example of luck – being in the right place at the right time. My wife and I headed down the lake (towards where our car was parked) in our canoe as a storm abated. I noticed the “interesting” light developing and we paddled faster. As we arrived on the far shore I went running off to this beaver swamp knowing that the light would be dramatic on the autumn foliage but that it might not last. I had time to press the shutter twice before the magic was gone.

Inside front and back covers and pages 14-18
Photographs by Frank Gorga

2 Editor’s Notebook
William C. Levin

4 How to Catch a Fish: The Weir Fishermen’s Control of the Sardine Herring, 1876-1903
Brian Payne

10 Mexico Through the Russian Gaze: Olga Costa in Guanajuato
Yulia Stakhnevich

14 Landscape and Wildlife Photographs
Frank Gorga

19 The Art of Japanese Noh Theatre in Akira Kurosawa’s Throne of Blood
Minae Yamamoto Sasa

24 Disenfractioned: How a Blind Spot for Fractions May Be a Hindrance to Democracy
Matt Salomone

28 Older Immigrants in the United States: The New Old Face of Immigration
Jing Tan

31 Yuck!
Sarah Wu (Mrs. Q), Fed Up with Lunch (Chronicle Books, 2011)
Charles Angell