NEWS BRIEFS

Mississippi's Democratic Senator John Stennis is attempting to get legislation passed that will force the President to use Congressionally approved approval after sending troops into an area during an emergency. President Nixon is against such legislation.

Senator Edward M. Kennedy is currently $300,000 in debt to support campaign expenses. He hopes to receive promises valuing as much as $1 million from supporters before January 1. He anticipates a $12 million expenditure in winning the Democratic Presidential nomination.

Democratic Party professionals are beginning a movement to ban microphones and TV cameras from the convention floor during next summer's Miami convention. They feel that such close coverage during '68 helped add to the chaos of that convention.

Iowa's Democrats are attempting to create a pro-Kennedy bloc among their 46 Democratic convention delegates. In support of this Kennedy for President movement are such notables as the State Senate Democratic leader and the local head of the United Auto Workers Union.

"Some types of disability appear to be more socially acceptable than others," says a new magazine, Human Behavior. It reports the study of 455 respondents by a University of Kentucky psychologist. Users are more socially to most people than is heart trouble. Cancer ranks lower, but is above old age and tuberculosis. Lack of money even lower. These terms in social acceptance are in the order of disability.

Nearly 500 youths between the ages of 12 and 17 were surveyed nationally by four Columbia University researchers who reported that 15% have smoked marijuana. The scale ranged from 0% for ages 12 and 13, to 28% for ages 16 and 17. Girls about equal boys in number. Another 19% of the kids want to try pot. PC had already tried LSD and 1% had tried heroin.

A 23-year-old veteran told New York court that after he became addicted to heroin while in the Army in Vietnam, where he was twice wounded, he joined the Marines for a hitch so he could be sent back: the habit that cost him $15 a day in Brooklyn. After his hitch in the Marines ended he was arrested in New York for purse snatching.

For ten years George Gallup has been sampling the breath of Middle America with the question: "Which country do you think is a greater threat to world peace, Russia or China?" Naturally, the wind has been in the direction contrived by the Republican party line and our kept press. China is now down to 56% from 71% in the last poll, with Russia having inched up from 43% to 27% during the decade, but China is now the biggest threat. When will Gallup ask Americans to rate America as a threat to world peace?

Another Gallup poll reports that for the first time in 7 years the Vietnam war has slipped from American consciousness as the nation's most pressing problem, replaced this summer by Nixon's worried economic troubles.

Problems of poverty and race relations finished the way down to last.

What is the spirit of the hour? It is no longer the cry of "Killed" during a taekwondo drill. The new Army training manual encourages instructors to drop this "indiscipline" slogan in favor of something like "good taste," like "Blood".

This year, according to Mr. Breslin of the Registrar's Office, about 685 seniors will be graduating from BSC. This figure does not include the 25 or 30 who will be graduating from the Continuing Studies Program. The COMMENT, in an attempt to discover where these seniors are headed and what the trend in education at BSC is, interviewed both Dean Harrington and Mr. Baker, the Placement Director.

BSC's Placement Office attempts to place students interested in educational placement. This summer and fall it polled last year's class in an attempt to determine the current status of last year's graduates: 41.5% of the Class of '71 never replied. Of the 58% who did reply, 39% indicated that they were good teaching positions, 29% had non-teaching positions, and 8% were in graduate work. Mr. Baker suggested that the 41% that did not reply could be interpreted two ways: either the majority have jobs and are too busy to reply, or, as the job market is difficult today, perhaps the majority don't have jobs and are embarrassed at no finding teaching employment. Mr. Baker favored the first possibility, pointing out that if the majority were without jobs, they would probably respond to the Placement Office, perhaps hoping for some help.

When asked to comment on the condition of this year's class, Mr. Baker said he could not as yet predict how many graduates of the Class of '72 will be placed in teaching positions or even how many will desire teaching positions. Judging by the number of student teachers in his class, however, he guessed that between 350 and 500 of BSC's graduates this year will be certified to teach.

The Placement Office is, of course, aware of the current teacher-employment problem. Just recently BSC was represented at a Massachusetts State College Placement meeting. There is further cooperation in placing students in the relatively newly formed ASCUS organization. ASCUS is designed to help graduates nationwide. It publishes jobs for teaching jobs and offers reciprocal placement services for all graduates. The value of this is that a teacher can seek a job in bidistant state and be provided with a local tie in that area.

The COMMENT then interviewed Dean Harrington to discern the current trend in BSC's educational operation. BSC, Harrington explained, plans its growth for every few years. "The current plan is to increase by 250 students this year; it actually would have preferred the smaller figure of 240. Already, 120 students have left the school, leaving a total of 3422 students. The actual distribution among the classes of these students closely matches the desired distribution which is 29% seniors, 20% juniors, 20% sophomores, 35% freshmen.

Harrington indicated that BSC would like to admit 1100 freshmen in September, 1972. The COMMENT then asked Harrington about the trend in the students; are those entering planning on a teaching career? According to Harrington, 320 of this year's freshmen are Elementary Education majors - basically the same percentage as in the past. Harrington pointed out that since 1965 when Bridgewater first introduced Liberal Arts programs, the number of Liberal Arts majors has been increasing. During the first years of BSC's B.A. Program, all B.A. majors were required to minor in education. This requirement has since been dropped. In the class of '72, 64% of the B.A. majors had education minors and the percentage of those with other than education minors is increasing as BSC becomes more Liberal Arts oriented. Harrington feels that this increase in non-education minors may be due to the condition of the current teacher job market.

A list has been made showing the number of the different B.A. majors among the junior class; the percentage in each major that is not enrolling in education is also given.

The President, Mr. BORNSTINE, moted (with the concurrence of the Clerk) the following resolutions. The motion was seconded and the resolutions were adopted. Mr. BORNSTINE after speaking on the resolutions, moved that the same be referred to the Executive Board for further action. The motion was seconded and adopted. Mr. BORNSTINE then announced the adjournment of the meeting.

P.E. Workshop

On December 15th, President of the Project Management Committee of the Student Union, Mr. BORNSTINE, held a workshop on "P.E. Workshops." The workshop was held in the Student Union and was attended by approximately 50 students. The purpose of the workshop was to discuss the possibilities of holding P.E. workshops on campus. The workshop was conducted by Mr. BORNSTINE and he presented a questionnaire to the students to determine their interest in P.E. workshops. The results of the questionnaire were discussed and a plan for holding P.E. workshops was developed.

Bridgewater's first Christmas display is to be the purpose of being arced at the Quadrangle, it will mark the first time since 1973 that the tree will have a full complement of decorations. The display has been arranged by the Department of Lodging and the Office of Student Activities and will be on view until December 24th.

In other news, the second tradition, that of the Christmas Carol, is currently in progress at Bridgewater. The Carol-singing tradition has been a part of the college community since the early 1950s and has become a popular event among students, faculty, and staff.

FELLINI CLOTHES HIS WAY TO GREAT FILM

by Michael Goodwin

Fellini's first Hollywood feature, "La Dolce Vita," was released last week and has already received critical acclaim. The film tells the story of a young man in Rome who becomes involved in the world of high fashion and the film industry.

Fellini is known for his unique style and his use of color and light, which he uses to create a sense of surrealism in his films. In "La Dolce Vita," he uses this style to great effect, creating a dreamlike world that is both beautiful and haunting.

Fellini's use of color and light is not the only thing that makes "La Dolce Vita" a great film. The film also explores important themes such as the search for meaning in life, the nature of beauty, and the importance of love.

"La Dolce Vita" is a film that will appeal to anyone who loves cinema. If you are a fan of Fellini's work, you will not want to miss this film. Even if you are not a fan of Fellini, you will still find the film to be a moving and thought-provoking experience.

Fellini is a master of his craft, and "La Dolce Vita" is a testament to his talent. It is a film that will stay with you long after you have left the theater, and it is a film that you will want to see again and again.

The Problem of Freedom

I would like to discuss with you the problem of freedom. It is certainly a complex problem, which has been much talked about in many books and articles. What does it mean to have a free life? Some people would say: to have a life in which we can do what we please. But this is not necessarily what I mean by free life. I believe that freedom means having the power to do what we want to, not what we please. This is a more complex issue than it may seem at first glance, but I think it is important for us to consider.

Win 3 of 4

The BSC hockey squad has been a very talented group all season long. Several key players have been "shut down," forcing four other men, and eventually six players to step up to the plate. The Bears second encounter of the season with St. John's on Oct. 31st, left_updated in all regards, was the last of the series. However, the Bears managed to go 3-1-0 overall, giving them a share of the championship title.

We are going to continue our season strong, as we are looking forward to a successful conference season.

Students and politicians display great interest in the increasing causes of pollution of our earth and sea.

There should be a much greater public awareness of the fact that pollution, which has been an increasing problem, is of serious concern to our well being. For instance, it is reported that in some parts of the country, the concerned officials believe that our declining health is due to pollution. This is because pollution is not only affecting the environment but also the human body. The concern is growing in all aspects of public health, including respiratory diseases, cancer, and heart disease. These are all caused by pollution, which is also leading to a decrease in the quality of our life.

Therefore, it is important to take steps to reduce pollution. This can be done by implementing stricter regulations on industries and businesses, reducing the use of single-use plastics, and increasing public awareness of the negative effects of pollution. The government should also invest in cleaner technologies and develop renewable energy sources to replace fossil fuels.

It is crucial for everyone to take responsibility for reducing their carbon footprint and making small changes in their daily lives, such as using public transportation, recycling, and conserving water. By working together, we can make a significant impact on reducing pollution and improving the quality of our lives.
