CHRISTINE JORGENSEN

At about the time the New York Daily News was only a paper, in this city, another headline: EX-GI BECOMES BLONDE BEAUTY—OPERATIONS Transgender Bronx Youth. Christine Jorgensen made that page in newspapers across the country. "At that time," she says, "I felt a great infringement on my privacy. At that time I’m not even aware of the sexual revolution... the sexual revolution that was starting." Miss Jorgensen writes, "I was underdeveloped physically and sexually. Sex extremely fascinating. My breasts were either those of a woman or a masculine. I believed my xenetransformation surgery was often welcomed more than rejected."
George Jorgensen sailed for Copenhagen, May 3, 1950, "to find out what it was all about."

Neglected - the Junior High

Located between the elementary grades and the senior high school is the middle school, the heart of our educational system. These two years, if utilized properly, could very easily establish a creative, stimulating, and influential atmosphere to that found in our high school today. The students in this bracket are imbued with the right techniques but all too often are allowed to be passive and are allowed to be passive and are allowed to be passive and are allowed to be passive and are allowed to be passive and are allowed to be passive and are allowed to be passive and are allowed to be passive and are allowed to be passive andargsqertishyismss.

There is hope but the hope definitely needs assistance. If this area is not connected, it will destroy our youth. This barren section has been identified and now must be dated in the rest of the world. This task has been handed to a very capable person. This person is the Junior High School counselor.

Frank Kent

To all members of the junior class: I would like to take this time to introduce to all juniors my name is Frances Pottenger. My name is Frances Pottenger, I am a member of the Nineteenth Commission, and I am a member of the Nineteenth Commission, and I am a member of the Nineteenth Commission, and I am a member of the Nineteenth Commission, and I am a member of the Nineteenth Commission.

Voting Tips

Do you know you may have only a few days left to register to vote in the November election?

Although registration deadlines vary nationwide, most local election boards stop registration about a month before the election-so you may have to act almost immediately. Call your election board to find out when and how to register.

And remember: Close to 10 per cent of all eligible 18-year-olds who had registered by early October, but almost all organizations registering young voters are hoping that the percentage of registered young voters will equal or surpass the percentage of registered 18-year-olds actually about 75 per cent by election time for a Presidential election.

The Student Vote, a non-partisan voter registration organization, has announced its "Campus Clean-Up" program to encourage registration at college campuses across the country. For information write to the Student Vote, 43 Ivy Street, S.E., Washington, D.C. 20003.

If you're registered to vote, please stay off the grass. The Student Vote is urging all young people to get a chance to use the courts and fields we've been using and to keep all areas safe for students who need to study. To get the application for a ballot and where to apply for absentee ballot, see your local election board to find out where and how to register.

The Student Vote will be presenting educational requests to the members of the House and Senate of the Congress.

Some programs that are now being in evaluation are the approval of $1,400,000 for a Laboratory Training School and a $1,900,000 Teacher Preparation Facility. Having been involved with these plans from their beginning, Mr. Flynn will be the first to point to the completion.

When interviewed by the COMMENT, Mr. Flynn offered, "I am vitally concerned with the implementation of the goals of the college." An area of development Mr. Flynn finds especially important is the continued work for a ballot in the State and in certain foreign countries.

Mr. Flynn is a 1958 graduate of Bridgewater State College, and during his undergraduate years here, the Bridgewater native was a varsity athlete and held his first elected public office while he was a freshman. Mr. Flynn is currently an member of the Board of Representatives. Mr. Flynn was Vice Chairman of the Education Committee in the House Ways and Means Committee. As Director of Planning and Development, Mr. Flynn will be presenting budgetary requests to the members of the Ways and Means Committee.

P.S.

A project which has cost the State of Connecticut, and which the college has been anticipating for nearly 10 years to its final stage of completion. New courts and athletic playing fields are being a reality of the Bridgewater campus. The fields have been added and should be ready in about four weeks time, if people stay off the field. We are asking you to help with your cooperation, especially the students of Great Hill Dorm. BHA may take two sessions longer to walk around rather than walking across the fields and courts, but by the time the students are ready, you will be helping to run the sports programs and the like, by which we can use the courts and courts.

Women Ask Obvious Questions...

Sprague, September 7, 1972 - Ladies, have you answered your questions whose answers used to seem obvious? Why can't we deduct day care from our income as a legitimate business expense? Why are premiums commonly awarded but the women who think of the idea rarely win? Why do employers still pay less to women than men for the same work where they can get away with it and the very few who don't know their "rightful" place? The answer is simple, a male-dominated legal system makes very definite assumptions about what society is really like (on the home). Despite a recent influx of women into the law schools, the number of women actually practicing law still equals zero about three per cent of all lawyers. For example, dead-end women into the legal profession, the Women's Law Caucus of the Syracuse University College of Law is holding a recruitment conference for all interested women. Sept. 25, 9 a.m. - 3 p.m., Great Auditorium of E. H. White Hall on the University. Judge Noelle Denton, the first woman to be nominated for a major party's New York State's highest court, Faith Leiderberg, a nationally known civil rights lawyer, will be the keynote speakers.

Judge Denton has a background which includes seven years working as Counsel for the New York Civil Liberties Union, five years as a Family Court Judge in New York City and one year as a staff attorney in the Women's Law and Family Planning at the American Bar Association.

Ms. Leiderberg has been national president of a criminal lawyer and as an advocate of equal rights for women and blacks. Former vice-president of legal affairs for the National Organization for Women, she was the famous McSherry's Alee Home Case and it is currently heard in an appeals case which seeks to guarantee equal pay for men and women. Test Your Diamond I. Q.

Some girls get a diamond from their boy who's been away; some send them under water; some skydive through the air. Whatever the way, four out of five of the one million girls who wear rings lost their last year engaged with this most precious stone.

If a diamond is in rare future, try this quiz and see how much you know about these stones. The sure you know about diamond, the more you'll appreciate its grandeur, since the 5th century.

What is a Diamond?

Diamond is a mineral composed of carbon atoms bonded in a tetrahedral crystal lattice structure. This results in a unique hardness, which brings out the stone's beauty. Most diamonds have 58 flat, circular planes or windows; the more you know about diamonds, the more you'll appreciate the gem.

Engagement Ring?

Legend makes Mary of Burgundy the lucky girl who got the first diamond. The story goes that Maximilian of Austria really wanted his future wife, but was afraid she would not accept his proposal. Mary's advisor told her to buy Mar's a diamond. He did, and the couple were happily married on August 15, 1477.

Where Are Most Diamonds Mined Today?

Africa is the answer. Some 90% of the diamonds mined today come from belt of alluvial (riverbed) deposits in Africa (among the Congo, the Kimberley mines in South Africa, Orapa, the newest diamond mine, in Botswana, and the rutile alluvial Consolidated Diamond Mine on the west of South Africa. Diamonds also are mined in Brazil, India and India.

How Much of a Diamond's Weight Is Lost in Cutting?

Believe it or not, 30% of the precious rough diamonds are wasted. But there's no reason to cut a precious diamond other than its carat weighy or size, but oil its beauty. Most diamonds have 58 facets (many invisible to the naked eye), which brings out the stone's beauty. BSC STUNS BOSTON WHIP WARRIORS 23-13

by LES SMITH

The BSC college football team started off its 1972-73 season in fine fashion Saturday afternoon by downing many people thought would be a good team in Boston State.

The Bears showed about the same flair that the team will be in possession of for pre-season fixtures. Perhaps the best aspect of Saturday's game was the way Bridgewater used their team.

Using both freshmen and seniors the Bears showed that they are strong down the middle. "I liked the way we used different players," commented Assistant Coach Ed Breme. Breme was also quick to add that the Bears are two deep in many positions adding to the biggest overall concern.

The Bridgewater State defense played exceptionally well, consistently putting pressure on their opponents passer, letting a very quick defensive backfield intercept four Boston State passes.

The offense proved they could move the ball with their first drive of the season in which the Bears moved 30 yards in 5 plays.

A 4 yard pass from center quarterback Vince Hickey to senior Larry Norton and the line running from Tony Salerno highlighted the drive. Salerno who was well blocked increased these times and the kicks of Joe Sears should help the team all year.

The game was never really close and Bridgewater led over 10 minutes into the final quarter where the Bears were pretty bad but really not too good to watch against the Bears and the offense and defense are very well balanced.

Bridgewater will welcome their new field and as in any game, it should be ready by the turn of the century. However it was a good day for BSC football. The next test comes Saturday against Massachusetts State at Bridgewater at 10:00 A.M.

BRIDGEWATER STATE CAPTURES MYTHICAL STATE COLLEGE CROWN

BRIDGEWATER-By virtue of their 23-13 drubbing of Boston State College, the Bridgewater State College football team has captured the mythical State College Football Championship. Since Bridgewater and Boston are the only State Colleges with varsity football programs, the two teams are now involved in a natural rivalry. Head football coach Peter Mazzafero has indicated that he hopes to schedule Boston State College later in the season in future years to help intensify the rivalry between the two schools.

At this year the State College Football Championship belongs to the Bears of Bridgewater State. BSC has also gotten into position to capture the New England Football Conference Crown with their win over Boston. Presently, after one game, Bridgewater shares first place with Plymouth State, who they beat in a preseason scrimmage and Maine Maritime who they'll play in three weeks.
